Peterborough was somewhere between the two extremes on the west coast, with a night low of one below, and a high Wednesday of 15 above. For Friday, the weatherman calls his shot this way:

Cloudy, milder. Snowflurries may occur around Haliburton, but there seems to be little hope for district skiers.

Peterborough Girl Applies To Attend Coronation

Miss Betty McCausland, 268 Hunter St., is Peterborough's only applicant to attend the coronation under the auspices of the Commonwealth Youth Movement. The movement in co-operation with the Overseas Education League of Canada is making arrangements for approximately 116 Canadian boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 20 to attend the coronation.

It is expected that the young people among this group will represent such organizations as the IODE, Girl Guides, the Girls' Auxiliary of the Church of England, CGIT, Tuxis and Trail Rangers and the Salvation Army.

STUDENT NURSE.

Miss McCausland, who is a student nurse at the Civic hospital has qualified as an applicant representing the Girls' Auxiliary of the Church of England. She has not yet been informed whether or not her application has been accepted.

If her application is accepted, she will sail from Montreal on May 15 on the Empress of Scotland. She will spend from May 21 to June 30 in Scotland and England and will return to Canada July 7.

Truck Operators Prepared To Go To Work

MONTREAL (CP) — Private operators of trucks hired by the city for garbage and snow removal are willing to go back to work Friday provided they get "impartial arbitration" and certain other concessions.

The announcement was made today following a general meeting Wednesday night of the truck owners who went on strike Monday for increased wages.

The meeting requested that Judge Georges Heoc of magistrates court, who has considerable success in bringing about settlement of labor disputes, act as arbitrator.

It was also decided to accept a 10-cent increase over the last city offer of $2.25 an hour. There should also be respect of seniority rights and no discrimination against the strikers.

Truckers were getting $1.80 an hour. They asked for $2.75 and the city countered with $2.25.

The first effects of the strike were felt Wednesday as there was no garbage collection Tuesday — Feast of the Epiphany. Police arrested 25 men and seized a truck loaded with sticks and stones as violence threatened.

Those arrested were charged with intimidation and illegal assembly. All pleaded innocent and were released on $50 bail. They are scheduled to come up for trial next Wednesday.

Scouts To Hold Paper Drive

Peterborough Boy Scouts are holding a paper drive tonight starting at 6:15.

Until the last half of last year, regular paper drives were one of the chief sources of income for the many troups in the city. But in the early fall, the price of scrap paper fell to a point that dealers were not interested in buying it. It cost almost as much to ship it as it was sold for.

Now apparently the price has risen enough to make it profitable for the Scouts to scour the city looking for scrap paper.

Citizens who tie up their old newspapers in handy bundles and put them out for the boys will be doing their good deed for the day.

Man Breaks Thigh Trapped In Truck After Accident

Ralph Empey, 24, of Eldorado is in Belleville General Hospital with a broken left thighbone after a collision Wednesday on a Hastings county road that imprisoned him in his damaged truck for about 10 minutes.

Passersby had to use a hacksaw to cut off the steering wheel which had him pinned to the drivers' seat.

His half-ton pickup truck sideswiped a large stake-body truck when it skidded on the slippery gravel road at Malone, six miles north of Marmora. Empey was travelling toward Eldorado at the time and the larger truck, driven by Kenneth Casselman of Madoc was going toward Marmora.

CRUSHED DASHBOAD

The pickup slewed into the left side of the stake-body and the platform of the larger truck caught it on the left side, smashing the hood and the windshield. The impact crushed the dashboard and crumpled the steering wheel so that Empey was trapped in his seat.

Empey lay there helpless for about 10 minutes until somebody produced a hacksaw and cut off the steering wheel. He was given first aid by Dr. H. T. Parkin of Marmora and taken by car to Belleville hospital.

His condition today is described as good.

OPP Constable R. J. Devey of Madoc investigated the accident.

Urges Farmers To Keep Land In Shape

TORONTO (CP)—No real farmer ever let his land run down, retiring Ontario Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy said Wednesday.

"A real farmer takes up a handful of his soil and looks at it and says, 'I must add something to it.' He will never let it run down," Mr. Kennedy said.

A farmer himself for 53 years, he said in addressing the Ontario Cheese Producers Association, no farmer ever made a profit on the land but every year "he has some money saved by doing without."

"We who live in the open air have to live with reality. We have to depend on the elements for a good crop, but we love the soil and that way of life."

He said nippy cheese was on the way out but "I hope the day of nippy cheese is not over until I am put in a box." Nippy cheese, he said, is one of the main ingredients of his lunch — cheese, honey, brown bread and tea.

"There's nothing like a lunch like that."

Township Gets Grants Illegally

NORTH BAY (CP) — Widdifield township has been collecting taxes and receiving government grants for some 67 years, but apparently has never had the legal right to do so.

Clerk Arthur Carmichael of this second-largest township in the district of Nipissing told a council meeting recently that the department of municipal affairs has no record that Widdifield was ever incorporated.

Mr. Carmichael said township records go back to 1885, and that a judge's order incorporating the township in the early days probably never reached provincial authorities.

The township has been asked to proceed with incorporation as soon as possible.

Only 2 TV Aerials So Far In Sudbury

SUDBURY (CP)—Only two television aerials have been put up in this northern Ontario city so far but civic officials are preparing for the day when it may become necessary to regulate installation of the antennae.

The Sudbury Hydro Commission recommended to city council this week that the council draw up a bylaw governing erection of the aerials.

The nearest TV stations to this nickel-mining community are in Toronto, Buffalo and Detroit.

25 Homes Built In N. Monaghan $383,025 Total

North Monaghan building permits, with dwellings making up most of the value, total $383,025, township clerk Bruce Johnston said today. This amount is considerable higher than last year, he added.

Twenty-five homes are being built, with a total estimated value of $246,000. Individual values range from $6,500 to $18,000, with the majority running about $8,000.

MOUNT ST. JOSEPH

Largest single permit issued was for the living quarters being constructed at Mount St. Joseph; value of this building has been set at $100,000. This amount makes up roughly three-quarters of the miscellaneous permit list, which totals $137,025.

Second largest item on the miscellaneous list is a permit for Stinson's service station of $12,000. A showroom being built by the Armstrong Lumber Co. is valued at $7,000.

Ten garages are included in the miscellaneous list, one of which is a combination boiler house and garage. Value of these is set at $8,650.

Three of the 25 homes are being built on a part of the Dobbin line, that had formerly been vacant. The remainder are scattered through the western part of the township from Highway 7A north to Middleton Drive, near Jackson Park.

Believes Castle Must Be Destroyed

TORONTO (CP)—Building commissioner Kenneth Gillies said Wednesday night the time is coming when Casa Loma, an English-type castle in north-central Toronto, will have to be demolished.

He told a meeting of the property committee he thought the work should begin at once. Demolition could be carried out over a 10-year-period.

Casa Loma was built by the late Sir Henry Pellet as a private residence and several years ago was taken over by the city for lack of taxes. It is one of the principal tourist attractions here.

Mr. Gillies said artificial stone used in the structure is crumbling and the walls in the main building are out of plumb. A large cable is holding one section together.

Property commissioner J. H. Woods said it would cost about $75,000 to restore the place.

Gen. Simonds Denies Stories Low Morale Among Troops

"Statements about low morale among Canadian troops in Germany and Korea are simply not true," Lt.-Gen. Guy G. Simonds, Chief of the Canadian Army General Staff, told The Examiner on Wednesday night. Lt.-Gen. Simonds was in Peterborough to address a dinner meeting of the United Services Institute at the Empress Hotel. About 175 members heard the address which was confidential and not available to the public.

"We are in touch with the situation all the time," said Lt.-Gen. Simonds. "I was overseas myself during the summer and found morale satisfactory. The vice-chief of staff has just returned and senior officers are constantly visiting the troops."

FEW GROUSERS

"There are a few grousers in every army—you can expect that.

"The situation has been badly distorted. For example I recently saw a newspaper heading telling of dissatisfaction among Korean troops. A group of more than 50 had returned from Korea and of those interviewed only one had a complaint. He said the food wasn't too good sometimes in the front line."

The Canadian Chief of Staff is a tall slim man with sharp features, black hair and black bushy eyebrows, and a small moustache. He speaks with the care and fluency of a university professor who is handicapped by the fact only a small portion of his specialty can be discussed openly.

In a sense Lt.-Gen. Simonds could be considered a professor—a top instructor in military science. Until he became Chief of Staff in 1951 he headed the National Defence College in Kingston.

He commanded the 1st Canadian Division in Sicily and Italy until late in 1943. The following year, after promotion, he commanded the 2nd Canadian Corps in northwest Europe, and was eventually head of the Canadian forces in the Netherlands.

ARMOURED CARRIER

Lt.-Gen. Simonds was the originator of the "Armoured Infantry Carrier" first used in attack south of Caen on the night of Aug. 7, 1944. From 1946 to 1949 he was chief instructor at the Imperial Defence College in London.

He was once before in Peterborough. That was more than two years ago at the inaugural meeting of the United Services Institute.

At that time he gave his military listeners a picture of the world strategic situation from the military point of view. And Wednesday night he was bringing them up-to-date on developments.

He told the Examiner that to his knowledge the Petawawa scandal has not discouraged recruiting. Latest figures show that recruiting is holding up, he said, but there is a heavy wastage of trained men coming back after overseas service who take their discharge.

"Fortunately there is a higher percentage staying on now—particularly married men—than formerly," he said.

The Chief of Staff contended that a major contribution by Canada has been the experimenting with vehicles, clothing, weapons and the holding of tactical manoeuvres in very cold weather. Tests are continuing.

East Germans Purge Officials

BERLIN (AP) — The Liberal Democratic party today announced removal of six leading officials for opposing the East German party's pro-Communist course.

A party statement said the officials, who included the deputy chairman for the Dresden district and several county leaders, had "defamed progressive functionaries" and tried to remove them from their positions.

In addition, it said the six had formed "illegal groups" within the party and some had publicly opposed rearmament of the East zone.

Karl Hamann, former co-chairman of the party, was dismissed from the East zone cabinet last December on charges of "sabotage." He was placed under arrest and may be tried soon as a scapegoat for East-zone food shortages.

The removal appeared to be the first step in a major house-cleaning announced Wednesday by Hans Loch, the party chairman.

Police Seek Missing Navy Chief's Secretary

LONDON (Reuters) — Police throughout Britain today began searching for the secretary to the assistant chief of the Royal Navy staff who has been missing for three days.

Lt.-Cmdr. William George Marshall, 31, disappeared after leaving his brother's home in Edinburgh to return to duty after a visit. There are no indications of foul play.

Steel Production Sets Record In '52

HAMILTON (CP)—Steel production in Canada last year was a record 3,720,000 tons, H. G. Hilton, president of the Steel Company of Canada, said today in a review.

With net imports estimated at 1,600,000 tons, consumption reached about 5,320,000 tons, a new high.

In the interval between the two world wars, output never rose above 1,500,000 tons. When all additions and improvements now projected are completed, annual capacity will be between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 tons, an increase of more than 300 per cent over 1939. Canada will then rank seventh among steel-making nations.

CAPTAIN'S BADGES for the school safety patrols have been given to Const. Donald Mackay, director of the patrols, by the Peterborough B'nai B'rith. The badges, similar to the regular policeman's badge will be given to each school patrol captain. The first was presented Wednesday to Frances Bischof, Queen Mary school, by Joseph Rogow, president of the B'nai B'rith.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

County Council Grows To 20 Members 2 Twps. Add Deputy-Reeves

Five Townships Now Have Deputy-Reeves With Minimum of 1,000 Electors; Dummer, Belmont-Methuen Add Delegates

With the addition of deputy-reeves from the townships of Dummer and Belmont-Methuen the size of the Peterborough County Council is now increased to 20. For the first time in its history Dummer has a deputy-reeve. He is Walter Sloan, a township councillor the last eight years, and a newcomer to the county council. The other newcomer is George Newton, a Belmont-Methuen councillor with 13 years experience. It is the first time in 60 years that the township has had a deputy.

(A municipality may have a deputy-reeve when it has 1,000 electors eligible to vote on county affairs. The advantage is that the municipality then gets two votes in county council. When there are more than 2,000 electors the reeve gets two votes, giving the municipality three in all.)

There are now five townships with deputy-reeves: Smith, Otonabee, Douro, Belmont - Methuen and Dummer.

FEW CHANGES

Few changes, apart from the two additions, have been made in the 1952 council. Of the 15 municipalities 11 of them returned their elected representatives by acclamation. Two former reeves are back after only a year's absence from council. And two 1952 county councillors are back after defeating opponents for the reeveship.

After an absence of one year W. C. Grant will take his seat in the county council chamber as reeve of Lakefield. In one of the hardest fought elections this year in the county he edged Reeve Elwood H. Northey by 37 votes. The count was 380 to 343.

It was the heaviest vote in Lakefield in 22 years and 75 per cent of the electorate cast their ballots.

Last year Mr. Northey defeated Mr. Grant by 101 votes, ending a six-year term by Mr. Grant. This year the tables were turned.

GRIFFITH BACK

Another ex-reeve who is returning to county council after a year's absence is W. E. Griffith of Belmont - Methuen township, a veteran of 44 years in municipal politics. He defeated Norris Whitney by more than 100 votes. Last year Mr. Whitney edged him by 26 votes.

George Newton will be deputy-reeve, thus giving the township a stronger voice in county council affairs.

Mr. Griffith was warden of the county in 1921.

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore is beginning his 20th term in county council. He has established a record of being unopposed for 19 consecutive years but this year he was challenged by John Harrington, an experienced member of council.

Mr. Gifford defeated Mr. Harrington 231 votes to 118, nearly two to one. He was warden of the county in 1936 and last year he was chairman of the county roads committee.

For the second year in a row Charles Flynn of Harvey township has emerged victorious after a three-way fight for the reeveship. He received 213 votes, Tom Mason got 145 and Charles Johnson trailed with 131.

This year it is expected that Mr. Flynn will press for some progress on plans for either a swing-span causeway or a high-level bridge across Gannon's Narrows. The project has been stalled for more than a year now.

That was the only election in the northern townships.

Norman Wilson was returned as reeve of Burleigh - Anstruther township for his ninth consecutive term. His last election battle was in 1951 when he defeated Norman Bolton by a single vote.

Mr. Wilson was warden in 1950. Last year he was chairman of the fish, game and tourist committee, and of the planning and development committee.

CLIVE HOARD BACK

Clive Hoard was acclaimed for his third consecutive term as reeve of Chandos township. He entered the county council in 1950, completing the unexpired portion of Glen Nichols' term.

Peter Pearson, county warden in 1951, was also returned without the necessity of an election. He is beginning his ninth consecutive term as reeve of Galway-Cavendish township and altogether he has been in municipal politics for 20 years.

In 1952 Mr. Pearson was a member of the finance committee.

Stewart Clysdale is beginning his fourth unopposed term as reeve of Dummer township. He succeeded William Darling who stepped down from office after being warden in 1949.

In 1952 he was on reforestation, Foley estate, and agricultural committees.

CHALK RIVER BUILDINGS — These are the zeep and NRX nuclear reactor buildings at the Chalk River, Ont., projects of Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd. There are more than 150 structures within the 100-acre fenced-in area bordering on the Ottawa river 140 miles west of Ottawa. Air is sucked through the NRX reactor to cool and then is discharged up the 200-foot stack to the left.

HIGH-VELOCITY GENERATOR—The 14-ton Van de Graaf generator at Canada's Chalk River atomic plant throws high velocity particles with tremendous energy at the nuclei of atoms to change them into different atoms. When operating, the generator — which uses a charge of 3,000,000 electron volts — is enclosed in a steel tank (not shown) 16 feet high and 60 feet in diameter. Nitrogen mixed with freon is pumped into the tank to a pressure of 200 pounds a square inch. This gaseous mixture helps prevent a breakdown of the electrical charge that builds up at the top of the generator.

MAIN ISOTOPE LAB.—Material which has been irradiated in the NRX nuclear reactor at Canada's atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont., is processed here in the main isotope production laboratory, Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., makes an average of 50 shipments of radio-active isotopes a month. More than 80 different kinds of isotopes are produced here for use in Canada, the United States, Britain and a number of western European and South American countries.

NRX NUCLEAR REACTOR—The heart of the reactor or pile at Canada's Chalk River atomic plant is an aluminum tank containing uranium rods and heavy water. It is eight feet in diameter, 10 feet high and surrounded by concrete eight feet thick to protect scientists and operators from intense radiation. In the foreground, scientists carry out experiments using neutron beams. The reactor has highest density of neutrons of any natural uranium reactor in the world.

Reactor Breakdown Delays Search For Atom Secrets

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—An atomic scientist is chasing ghosts that have speed but no weight in a drive to unravel some of the age-old mystery of what holds substance together.

After three years of tremendous labor, working with infinitely tiny measurements of time and space, John M. Robson was just getting places when his chief tool—the world's most powerful atomic furnace—broke down.

Now the 32-year-old British scientist must wait many months before the atom-splitting reactor is healed and he can resume his task.

"I believe I can achieve success in my experiments six months after the reactor starts working," says the lanky, London-born research man, believed by colleagues to be the only person in the world attempting to catalogue the existence of the neutrino.

VERY LITTLE FORM

The neutrino is believed to contain speed but barely any form or substance. In its ghostly weight it is sufficiently powerful to pass through the entire earth without hindrance.

The world's top scientists are convinced that it exists, that it forms part of the atom core, that it is born and dies and that it holds the key to a great mass of information required in the atomic age.

The scientist, a graduate of Cambridge University, has the job of proving its existence. This lofty ambition emphasizes the two sides to Canada's atomic operations at Chalk River, the timeless experimentation with the very substance of life and the great bustle to produce life-giving materials for the sick.

For men in both fields the breakdown of the furnace on Dec. 12 has proved a great tragedy. But as Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, Canada's atomic chief, told 20 visiting reporters, the tragedy was anticipated. The reactor had lasted well beyond its expected life-span.

It will take months, but Chalk River is determined to nurse its powerful isotope cooker back to health. A major overhaul is planned. Seven times before the reactor has been out of order for from three to eight weeks.

Mantime, the breakdown has infused a sense of urgency in construction of a new $30,000,000 furnace, bigger and better than its mate.

Perhaps five or 10 years hence, says Dr. W. B. Lewis, head research man, Chalk River may begin thinking of building still another reactor more powerful than the new one.

Canada leads in peacetime atomic pursuits and her scientists are determined she shall hold that position.

While the old furnace, ruptured inside and leaking dangerous radio-active waters, is awaiting repairs, an army of workmen has blasted the hole for location of the new one in the guarded, fenced-in 100-acre plant about 130 miles northwest of Ottawa on the Ottawa river.

NOTHING DEFINITE

Scientists are as uncertain of when the new furnace—named NRU—will be completed as they are about the date when the old one—NRX—will be repaired.

Some reports were that the target date for NRU was next year, but Dr. Lewis emphasized that blueprinting still is going on and there may be many changes by the time construction begins.

The atomic "leak," caused apparently by a crack in the aluminum sheathing surrounding one of the 176 uranium fuel rods in the furnace, has halted production of isotopes, including cobalt 60 which provides the bombarding power of the cobalt bomb used in cancer treatment.

But Dr. Mackenzie says the damage may be a "blessing in disguise." For the first time since the 25-foot-high furnace was erected five years ago, scientists will be able to get a look inside to see what changes should be incorporated in the new reactor.

Warns Canada Not Give Away Its Resources

RELEASE AT 11:30 a. m. EST

MONTREAL (CP)—James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, said today Canada "should not sell or give away any part of the vast natural resources upon which our long-run prosperity is so largely based."

In his address to the bank's annual meeting, Mr. Muir mentioned a recent proposal to use water from British Columbia for aluminum development in Alaska.

"This is only one part of the general picture which must include the shortage of water in a rapidly-developing area of the United States.

NEIGHBOURLY INTEREST

"We should, I think, take a neighborly interest in the needs of the great American northwest; but we will perform a disservice all round if, in an excess of zeal, we thoughtlessly alienate our birthright.

"It would seem to be wise, in principle to develop within Canada as much power as possible from the great rivers which, like the Columbia, have their source and major tributary system within our country. The power would then be available to all comers; but it would be a Canadian product."

The Columbia river rises in the Canadian Rocky mountains and enters the state of Washington south of Nelson and Trail, B. C.

Reject Aid For Aged

TORONTO (CP)—The civic welfare committee Wednesday rejected a proposal to pay up to $20 a month supplementary assistance to old-age pensioners on the basis of individual need. The proposal, endorsed by the Toronto welfare council, could have utilized a provincial government offer of up to $5 a month on a 50-50 basis with the city.

3 Indians Get Life

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (AP)—Three British Columbia Indian migratory workers received life imprisonment sentences Wednesday for the stabbing and beating death of Pete Johnson, a 51-year-old watchman, last Aug. 7. They were Norman Diablo, 26, Gordon Thomas, 32, and Howard J. Thomas, 20. Sentences were imposed by Superior Judge W. L. Brickey after the three pleaded guilty to second-degree murder. Johnson, a watchman, was fatally injured when he resisted the men's attempt to get gas from him.

Father, Son Killed By Mill Flywheel

MATHESON (CP)—A father and son were killed Wednesday when a flywheel in a small lumber mil 23 miles east of here flew apart.

Olariar Alain, 55, of Timmins was decapitated by a piece of the wheel which travelled 1,000 feet before landing in the bush. His son, Florent, 29, also of Timmins, was literally cut in halves by another piece which landed 450 feet away.

Exact cause of the mishap is not known. Matheson is 42 miles east of Timmins.

GETTING A GLOW ON—The hornet, above, will really be lit up when he finishes his tall drink of honey in the Brookhaven Laboratory, at Upton, Long Island. The honey contains a tiny quantity of radioactive substance, and scientists will later expose a piece of photographic film by placing the insect against it. In this way they are able to trace the progress of the fluid through the insect, in their search for more knowledge of life processes.

Woo Ontario Housewives Advice Given Cheesemen

TORONTO— (CP) — The Ontario Cheese Producers' Association heard two warnings at opening session of its annual meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr. of Oakville, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, told cheese men they had too long neglected the Ontario housewife in favor of the export market.

President W. O. Coon of Elgin said further competition from vegetable oils could be expected unless curbs were put on such products. He also said there was room for improvement in cheese quality.

The past year hadn't been a good one for cheese producers, every one agreed on that, but Mrs. Walton said she felt the Canadian housewife could help to solve a lot of the industry's problems. She was happy to see the association finally beginning to woo the consumer at home even if only after the export market had shrunk.

The home market, she felt, was better than the export outlet. For one thing there were no monetary exchange problems. All they had to do was convince the Canadian housewife she should use more cheese by pointing out the addition it make meals and the fact that it is not fattening.

Mr. Coon, in his address, warned that quality must be maintained. He said there had been no improvement during the past year, and that "if anything, we have done well to maintain our position of a year ago."

He asked producers to keep up production, since there was a danger of a production drop after a bad-year. There was need, too, for more attention to such subjects as public relations and advertising.

Agriculture Minister Kennedy, congratulating the producers for the job they had done, said he would never favor controlled production as long as there are hungry people in the world. "Feeding them is the cheapest way of maintaining peace," he said.

In the panel discussion it was suggested that the number of factories might be reduced to streamline the industry. This met with little favor in many sections of the audience. Wholesalers explained that they were making only slight profits on the sale of cheese.

GETTING A GLOW ON—The hornet, above, will really be lit up when he finishes his tall drink of honey in the Brookhaven Laboratory, at Upton, Long Island. The honey contains a tiny quantity of radioactive substance, and scientists will later expose a piece of photographic film by placing the insect against it. In this way they are able to trace the progress of the fluid through the insect, in their search for more knowledge of life processes.

Woo Ontario Housewives Advice Given Cheesemen

TORONTO— (CP) — The Ontario Cheese Producers' Association heard two warnings at opening session of its annual meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. W. R. Walton Jr. of Oakville, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, told cheese men they had too long neglected the Ontario housewife in favor of the export market.

President W. O. Coon of Elgin said further competition from vegetable oils could be expected unless curbs were put on such products. He also said there was room for improvement in cheese quality.

The past year hadn't been a good one for cheese producers, every one agreed on that, but Mrs. Walton said she felt the Canadian housewife could help to solve a lot of the industry's problems. She was happy to see the association finally beginning to woo the consumer at home even if only after the export market had shrunk.

The home market, she felt, was better than the export outlet. For one thing there were no monetary exchange problems. All they had to do was convince the Canadian housewife she should use more cheese by pointing out the addition it make meals and the fact that it is not fattening.

Mr. Coon, in his address, warned that quality must be maintained. He said there had been no improvement during the past year, and that "if anything, we have done well to maintain our position of a year ago."

He asked producers to keep up production, since there was a danger of a production drop after a bad year. There was need, too, for more attention to such subjects as public relations and advertising.

Agriculture Minister Kennedy, congratulating the producers for the job they had done, said he would never favor controlled production as long as there are hungry people in the world. "Feeding them is the cheapest way of maintaining peace," he said.

In the panel discussion it was suggested that the number of factories might be reduced to streamline the industry. This met with little favor in many sections of the audience. Wholesalers explained that they were making only slight profits on the sale of cheese.

CONSECRATE BISHOP—In a ceremony dating from early Christian times, Bishop-elect Wilkinson of Toronto kneels before Most Rev. R. J. Renison, Archbishop of Moosonee, as 11 bishops join in prayer and the laying on of hands in St. James' Cathedral in Toronto. He was consecrated as Anglican Bishop Coadjutor of Toronto.

Plan To Ban Vegetable Oils Expect To Produce Hot Debate In Federation

TORONTO (CP) — A resolution urging a ban on the manufacture and sale of vegetable oils used in the production of synthetic dairy products is expected to be presented today to the annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

A group of farmers from Essex county and surrounding district have indicated opposition to the ban, raising the possibility that presentation of the resolution will lead to heated debate. The farmers reported opposed to the move are those who have switched to production of such crops as soybeans, one of the principal sources of oil for the manufacture of oleomargarine.

C. A. Milligan of Napanee, federation president, told a seesion Wednesday the dairy industry is threatened to its core by the possibility such oils may be used in the manufacture of ice cream, concentrated milk, cheese and fluid milk.

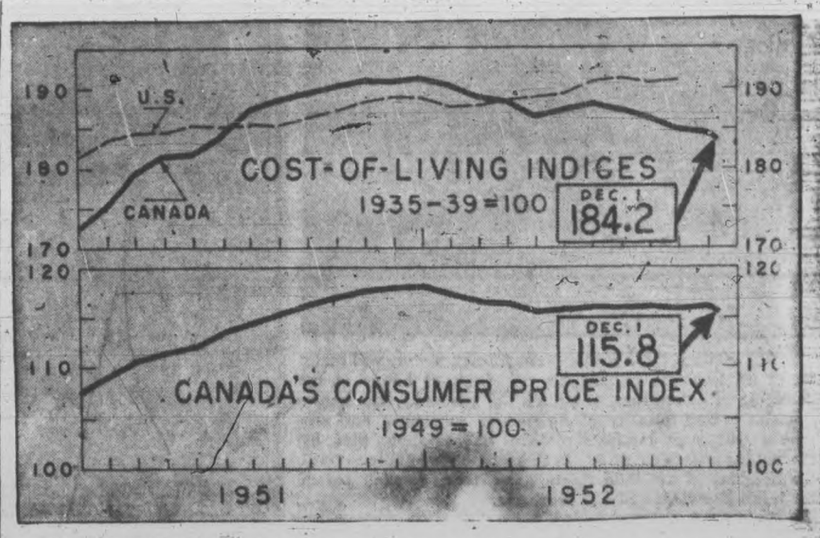
14 PER CENT AFFECTED

He said 14 per cent of the province's labor force would be affected by synthetic dairy products.

Secretary Cecil Belyea warned that Ontario farmers are headed for tough times "of unknown intensity and duration." He said the farmer stood between the "millstones of falling prices for agricultural products and relatively fixed or rising costs of production."

He suggested a four-point agricultural policy calling for retention of present price supports making provision for supplementary payment as grants-in-aid where farm prices slumped, provision for production adustment through indirect means, assistance in the form of good stamps to low income groups to promote increase consumption of essential foods and expansion of agriculture research.

He said Canada's program of farm aid showed "a disinclination on the part of government to approach the problem other than on a stop-gap basis."



AGAINST CONTROLS

Agriculture Minister Kennedy said he would never favor controlled production as long as there are hungry people in the world. "Feeding them is the cheapest way of maintaining peace," he said.

A suggestion at a panel discussion that the number of factories might be reduced to streamline the industry was rejected by delegates. Some wholesalers said they are making only slight profits on the sale of cheese.

The Rev. W. A. Young, chaplain of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, said at a dinner meeting of the cheese producers that the general public believes the farmer is a greedy, grasping rascal who is getting rich at other peoples' expense. He appealed for better public relations by farmers as a group.

Mr. Young said the farmers must learn to sell themselves as well as their products.

COST INDEX DROPS—The new consumer price index declined by three-tenths of a point during November to 115.8 from 116.1, the bureau of statistics reports. The index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, was at an all-time high of 118.2 in December, 1951. The old cost-of-living index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, continued a five-month decline, with a drop of three-fifths of a point during November to 184.2 from 184.8. The peak was 191.5 in December, 1951.

Request Board Reduce Radio Station Fees

OTTAWA (CP)—The copyright appeal board was asked Wednesday to reduce the fees charged privately-owned radio stations for use of music in the repertoire of the Composers Authors and Publishers Association of Canada.

Sam Rogers of Toronto counsel for the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, asked that the fees be reduced and that the basis for fixing them be changed.

Harold E. Manning of Toronto, counsel for CAPAC, is to reply today to Mr. Rogers' arguments.

The counsel are appearing at the board's hearing on fees proposed by CAPAC for 1953. Part of the fees collected are paid to composers of the music.

Mr. Rogers said privately-owned stations in Canada now pay higher copyright fees than stations in the United States. Canadian stations, he said, should not have to pay any more and preferably should have to pay less than American stations.

Fees of Canadian private stations now are based on their gross revenues. Mr. Rogers suggested that the fees should be based on population, on the number of licensed radio sets or on the number of radio homes in Canada

2nd UN Official Resigns In Red Hunt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) A high UN official, admittedly a one - time American Communist underground worker, has quit his post. He is the second American in two days to resign to save the UN from "embarrassment."

David Zablodowsky, 49, handed in his resignation late Wednesday to UN Secretary-general Trygve Lie—one day after David Weintraub quit as director of the UN division of economic stability and development. Both men were on a U. S. state department list of 11 American employees in the UN labelled as "Communists or under Communist discipline."

Zablodowsky, $10,800-a-year director of the UN documents and publications division, admitted last fall to a Senate committee that he served in the Red underground in the 1930s with Whittaker Chambers. He insisted, however, that he severed all Communist connections shortly after his service with Chambers.

WILL INVESTIGATE

It was reported that a new grand jury, which convened in New York Tuesday to take up anew the question of alleged American Communists employed by the UN, is looking into the Weintraub and Zablodowsky cases.

Weintraub denounced as "outrageously false" the allegations that he was disloyal to the U. S. or had any Communist links. He told Lie he quit to save the UN embarrassment during the current investigation and to give himself time to defend himself against the charges.

Zablodowsky's statement said "I know myself to have been completely and unequivocally loyal" to both the U. S. government and the UN during 10 years of faithful civil service."

Lie answered that he appreciated Zablodowsky's motives for quitting and praised his work with the UN. Lie's reply to Weintraub was in similar vein.

Hope To Have More Gas Masks

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont (CP)—Ontario civil defence authorities are preparing for the day when every person in the province's nine target areas will have a gas mask and every home will have a stirrup pump and four water pails, Maj. J H. Adams, chief civil defence instructor for Ontario, said Wednesday.

Maj. Adams outlined future objectives of the civil defence program in a special course for local instructors.

He said the civil defence organization now has 10 per cent of the equipment required for its training program stocked in its Toronto warehouses. Training programs were proceeding in all centres.

Besides the Niagara peninsula, Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, London, Sarnia, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie and Ottawa are considered leading target areas in the event of attack.

Man Crosses Atlantic In 19-Foot Sailboat

NEW YORK — (AP) — An Englishman in a 19-foot sailboat today completed a cross-Atlantic trip he described as "just a holiday."

Patrick Ellam of London said the toughest part of the voyage that started in England in September, 1951, was sailing up New York Bay yesterday.

"I had freezing spray on the sails and some was going down my neck," Ellam said.

The idea of the trip, he said, was to prove that little yachts like his British-built Sopranino do not have to be transported by steamer across the ocean but can make it under their own power.

The Sopranino has no engine. Ellam was accompanied on most of the trip by Colin Mudie, another Englishman.

Mudie decided to stay ashore when the little cutter-rigged craft reached Cuba. Ellam continued on alone.

Ellam said the craft sailed from England to Casablanca, thene to the Canary Islands, followed a 2,700 mile run to Barbados, in the British West Indies, thence to Cuba and Miami.

Bank President Questions Current Prosperity Foundations

MONTREAL (CP)—James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, said today that current prosperity would have a sounder basis if it had resulted from greater use of tax and price reductions, rather than from abolition of credit controls.

Addressing the bank's annual meeting, he added:

"There is hope now that these sounder devices for maintaining prosperity will be used more extensively in the future; and it is this hope that lends the greatest support to the high expectations which many business men now seem to have for 1953."

Mr. Muir said so-called "easy" consumer credit can be most costly both to the consumer and to the economy as a whole.

SOMEWHAT SIMILAR

"Indeed, the economic pattern today bears no little similarity to that of 1928 and 1929. Then, as in 1952, the expansion of consumer instalment credit played an important part in increasing sales and maintaining retail prices at a time when raw material prices were on a steady decline. The result then, as in 1952, could only be a concealed inflation, with its attendant dangers."

Nevertheless, said Mr. Muir, "there is little excuse for gloom in a young country that even now stands confidently on the threshold of national greatness."

Turning to the world scene, Mr. Muir said Canada's economic future depends in part on the health of the world economy, for which she has a responsibility.

He said surplus countries, primarily Canada and the United States, may have to contribute in some form to settlement of the so-called sterling balances — debts which Britain contracted during the war in various countries, including India.

DIRECT ORDERS

"We should direct defence orders where possible to our overseas partners in the North Atlantic Treaty organization; and we should pursue a policy of enlightened self-interest through increased international investment and freer trade."

In the short run, dollar countries "should act without delay to remove excessive tariff barriers and customs formalities that now present unnecessary obstacles to overseas imports.

"Canada, especially, has much to gain by reducing the preponderance of U. S. goods among her imports; and the release in this way of extra dollars to overseas markets would also tend to reduce Canada's dependence on the U. S. export market.

"In the long run, an investment program will be of the greatest importance in correcting the fundamental economic weakness that lays our allies open to recurring dollar crises. . .

NOT TOO SUCCESSFUL

Mr. Muir said there has been a tendency in recent years to seek solutions to international economic problems by creating new international institutions. Of these, the International Bank "has proved a useful, if unspectacular, aid to international finance." But the international monetary fund has so far proved "something of a disappointment."

Mr. Muir said the newest body proposed, the International Finance Corporation, which would be an affiliate of the International Bank, is, in his opinion, "on the wrong track."

"The way to encourage private investment in under - developed countries is not to create another international lending agency but to secure a general elimination or reduction of the present restrictions in these countries on the repatriation of earnings, on the capitalization of earnings which are not or cannot be transferred, and on the effective control by its owners over equity capital when the majority interest resides outside the underdeveloped country.

"I favor every encouragement to the export of our capital and technical skill to under - developed countries. But they must first be welcomed and then fairly treated by the countries to which they are sent."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Serving Orange Sherbet

Our crowd—the family that is—fancies itself as musicians. Two or three are professionals and indulge the amateurs by coming to my brother's home for a rousing musical evening about once a year. The food comes in from every household invited. Our beloved sister-in-law Wyn has only the noise to endure and the debris to clear away.

This year I was allotted dessert and since we had a crate of Christmas oranges at our house I chose to make orange sherbert, because it is refreshing and satisfactory without producing that dreadful overstuffed effect.

I think this will appeal to a major number of you for parties have a way of dying hard once you get into the swing of Christmas and New Year open-hearted hospitality.

Orange sherbert is easy to make and moderate in cost, and ever so easy on an overworked stomach. You can make it in a mechanical refrigerator or pack it in a tightly covered container and bury it in the snow to freeze firm.

Besides—and here creeps in the old Nature Girl—it contains dear old Vitamin C by the bucketful. Now is the month when Vitamin C is scarce in our native Canadian foods, so take an unsubtle hint.

ORANGE SHERBERT

(Double this for 12). Three-quarters cup mixed orange juice and pulp, ¼ cup strained lemon juice, ¾ cup sugar, 1½ tablespoons finely grated orange rind, 1teaspoon plain gelatin, 2 tablespoons cold water, ¼ cup boiling water or very hot milk, ½ cup whipping cream,1 beaten egg yolk, 1 beaten egg white. Mix together the orange juice and pulp, lemon juice, sugar and rind. Stir and let stand until sugar dissolves. Soak the gelatin in the coldwater for 5 minutes, then dissolve by stirring into the boiling water. Add this to the fruit mixture, and stir for about 5 minutes. Pour into freezing tray and freeze to a mush. Whip until stiff the cream. Beat the yolk until pale and light. Beat the white until stiff. Fold beaten yolk and white into the whipped cream. Fold this into the frozen fruit mush carefully but thoroughly. The frozen fruit mush should be whipped with rotary beater until very frothy before folding in the cream and egg. Return to freezing tray, or pack in clean tin pail like a honey pail, cover tightly. Freeze in refrigerator tray until hard. Or if to be frozen outside, bury pail of sherbert in snow. Freezing time in either case is about 4 hours.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM

(Skim milk powder—no cream). One square chocolate, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons conrstarch, ¼ cup skim milk powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla (another) ¼ cup skim milk powder, 1-3 cup cold water. Melt the chocolate in a double boiler; add hot water, stir to blend. Mix together sugar, salt, cornstarch and ¼ cup skim milk powder. Slowly stir this into the chocolate mixture until thickened, cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring twice. Remove from heat, add vanilla, cool. Freeze firm. Now prepare the whipped skim milk powder by sprinkling the second ¼ cup skim milk powder over the 1-3 cup cold water and beat until it is stiff enough to stand in peaks—takes about 8 minutes. Remove frozen chocolate mixture to cold bowl, break it up with a fork, add the whipped milk and beat with rotary beater until light and fluffy but not melted. Return to freezing tray at once. Freeze until firm, stirring once when it freezes to a mush. This in economical to make and a great favorite.

Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (no-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). THE PETERBOROUGH HANDCRAFT GUILD gave demonstrations and exhibited work in the four crafts being taught at the Dixon House Wednesday evening, the principal viewers being members of the city's Recreation Commission and a City Council representative. Top left photo shows Miss Lily Taylor and Miss June Fraser fashioning homely clay on the potter's wheel into interesting shaped dishes. In lower left photo Mrs. James Wharry shows instructor Stan Hayman the large lazy Susan tray which she has centred with a decorative piece of tile. Weaving is a very old craft but one of the most interesting to women of all ages, and one local man is now learning it under direction of Miss Mabel Peters, seen in upper photo operating a hand loom. She is watched by the crafts chairman of the Commission Mrs. C. C. Pilon and the president of the Guild, Mrs. E. R. Frost, who is herself expert in featherwork.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Peterboro' Nurse Speaker At Bridgenorth WA

Mrs. Phyllis Kingdon, Reg. N. of Peterborough was the guest speaker at the meeting of Bridgenorth United Church WA, held Tuesday evening in the church basement. Her message was titled "Replacing Fear With Faith" and Mrs. Kingdon said: "Big experiences in our lives cause us to have faith or to lose what faith we already have. Life is what we make it and we must live it only a day at a time.

Many illnesses are caused by a state of mind. To have a happy outlook on life we must endeavour to make others happy." Mrs. Kingdon was told of the members' appreciation by Mrs. C. Hartman.

Mrs. Karl Blewett presided for her initial meeting since being installed president. In charge of devotions, Mrs. W. Crookshank read a short article on the opening of a new year in the organization life, and it was followed with singing of the hymn "Standing At The Portal."

The Rev. D. P. Morris led in prayer. A text from Matthew 6 was read by Mrs. W. Telford. "The Kingdom" was the title of Lesson Thoughts read by Mrs. J. Hardill. Mrs. L. Richardson read a story on the old year and a recipe for happiness in the new year. Miss Olive Sidey favored with the solo "When the Mists Have Cleared Away" and was accompanied by Mrs. C. Telford.

The treasurer's annual report was given by Mrs. Wallace Nicholls. A report was given by Mrs. E. Blewett on flowers and cards sent throughout the year. Three letters of thanks were read by the secretary Mrs. C. Hartman. Mrs. C. Telford reported five visits.

The WA has been asked to plan a dinner for the Bridgenorth fire department to be held in March. Mrs. L. Richardson is in charge of looking into prospects regarding purchase of a cooking stove for the church.

Several suggestions for making money met with approval. It was decided to make plans for a cooking school and a post office sale of parcels at a spring tea.

Mrs. Morris announced the week of prayer meetings on Thursday night at Gilmour Church and Friday night at Bridgenorth. Also, the annual congregational meeting in the church January 16th.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Jopling and committee.

Citizens Learning Crafts Under City's Sponsorship

"I made it myself" is a proud statement being uttered by an ever-widening circle of people in Peterborough. Most of the people in this enviable class are taking, or have taken, lessons in crafts being given at Dixon House by instructors of the Peterborough Handcraft Guild.

This Handcraft Guild is sponsored by and equipped for teaching by the Peterborough Recreation Commission. It is therefore able to offer the most reasonable rate of 50c for each lesson taken in groups of 10 from qualified instructors. A new class is starting next Monday and those interested now can register at the Public Library.

Four crafts are being taught—weaving, leatherwork, metalwork and ceramics. Leathercraft teacher Mrs. A. Parker usually has the largest number of pupils, having just completed instruction to 50. In the first 10 lessons most people learn up to the stage of making a wallet, but their ambition usually is to make purses. As purses need more concentrated instruction it is now being arranged to take groups of six or seven at a higher fee.

As the Recreation Commission's purpose in sponsoring crafts is to have a greater percentage of citizens able to occupy their spare time in craft work, they are pleased to find most leathercraft students continuing the work at home, or, as in one case at least, continuing in groups at home. Men are enrolled in each craft, but up to now they have been in the minority.

Most of those who become efficient at weaving do buy looms to work on at home and some are ambitious enough to weave materials to be made into suits for themselves or their husbands. One lady now working at the Dixon House foot treadle loom is just completing seven yards of tapestry weave with which to upholster an antique love seat.

These are the ones who almost stun their friends when they say "I made it myself."

CERAMICS POPULAR

Ceramics is also a very popular craft in Peterborough and a source of great pride and satisfaction to the creators, but it can hardly be carried on at home, since the potter's wheel and the kiln are most important tools of the trade. Dixon House has an electric wheel and an electrically fired kiln with which expert jobs can be done.

Ceramic workers' delights are the odd-shaped dishes they make as decorative pieces for their home or as gifts, individualizing them with a variety of glazes from bright colors to subdued antique finishes. Some choose to pour on a liquid engo and then pencil their own designs by a method called "scraffito."

Metalworkers do proceed with the craft at home but it is somewhat complicated by having to make molds on which to hammer the metal into the desired shape. Every piece of metalcraft has been fashioned from a flat piece of metal. Displayed at the Dixon House last night was a long-handled ladle with the scoop handsomely forged by the lady worker. Bracelets, ash trays and dishes with raised designs in the bottom were worked out by new students.

The Handcraft Guild took the opportunity in this week's lull between the ten-week classes to have the Recreation Commission inspect work that has been done and see demonstrations of the teaching methods.

New chairman of the Commission, Mr. Wilfred Langan, with the other members and Alderman H. T. Rehill, Mr. Alex Sinclair and other guests enjoyed Wednesday evening a delicious pot luck supper provided by the Guild members. President Mrs. E. R. Frost then invited them on a tour of the craft rooms and afterward held a meeting where they could ask questions and discuss the situations. Both Commission and Guild members seemed to benefit greatly from the occasion.

Conveners of the supper were Mrs. James Wharry, Mrs. C. Stanton, Miss Lean Eakin, Mrs. A. Parker, Mrs. E. Thompson, Miss Sara Armstrong, Mrs. H. Steggles and Mrs. M. J. Swanston.

The Ladies' Afternoon Guild of St. Alban's Mission met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. Thompson, King George Street. The president had on display materials to be made up for the spring bazaar. They planned the euchre party which is being held at the Mission on Cameron Street, tonight at eight-twenty o'clock, with prizes to be given. Tea was served by Mrs. Cyril Barnes and Mrs. Thompson.

Discuss Child Psychology

Mark St. Baby Band Mothers met Wednesday evening. New president, Mrs. H. Hamley, was in charge and opened with a thought for the month and a hymn. Business items were followed by devotions in charge of Mrs. R. Russell, scripture was read by Mrs. E. Thoms and a reading and prayer by Mrs. J. Nichol. Mrs. A. Poolman gave a talk on child psychology which was followed by interesting open discussion. Mrs. Russell's group was in charge of refreshments, her assistants being Mrs. Nichol, Mrs. A. Reid, Mrs. C. Ferguson, Mrs. D. Smith, Mrs. K. Brown and Mrs. Toms.

New Leader Takes Charge

Group No. 7 of the WMS of George St. Church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. R. Reynolds. Mrs. G. Brown opened with a poem on New Year's and the roll call was answered with thoughts on New Year's. It was decided to change the night of meeting to the second Monday of the month. Mrs. Reynolds then took over the meeting as the new leader for 1953. Scripture was read by Mrs. F. Burnham followed by a prayer by Mrs. R. Powell. Mrs. E. L. Sackville presented a chapter of the study book on "Life In An African Village." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

To Make Quilt For Bale

Group Six of the WMS of George St. Church held the first meeting this year at the home of Mrs. F. Huggins, Pearl Ave., on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. F. Horton, the leader, presided and opened with a hymn and all repeating the Lord's Prayer. Plans for work in the coming month were discussed and it was decided to quilt a qui" for the bale which the society sends each year to the foreign country where need is greatest. Reports were received from the various committees. Devotions were taken by Mrs. Ethel S. Stabler giving the very interesting paper on Christian Stewardship. The period closed with a hymn and benediction. Refreshments were served from a daintily arranged table with Mrs. W. R. Parnell pouring tea. A vote of thanks to the hostess and those taking part was moved by Miss Schaffer.

Plan Valentine Tea

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of George Street United Church met Wednesday with 70 members and guests present. The very enojyable evening opened with a sing-song led by Al McDougall with Stan Gilmour at the piano.

Mrs. Arnold Mathews and presidents Mr. and Mrs. Archie Townsend led an inspiring devotional period, stressing the importance of happiness in the home.

During the business session plans were laid for the drafting of a constitution for the Mr. and Mrs. Club. The club decided to hold a Valentine Tea on Saturday afternoon, February 14, at the church, with male members of the club taking an active part.

Entertainment for the evening was well taken care of by Mr. and Mrs. Scott McFarlane who conducted several group games. An enjoyable lunch was served and the meeting closed by the Rev. Mr. Mathews.

7-Year-Old Joins Band

Under supervision of Mrs. R. Hanscom, the Nettie McKenzie Mission Band of Knox Church met in the Assembly Hall Wednesday for the first meeting of the year. H. Ross. Mrs. William Donaldson, Mission Band secretary of Peterborough Presbyterial, installed the officers.

Susan Gertley took up the offering which was dedicated with prayer. Marianne Carol Ross was presented with a life membership certificate and pin by her grandmother, Mrs. Hanscom. January 7th marked Marianne's entrance into Mission Band and also her 7th birthday. Refreshments and a birthday cake were served after the meeting. The next meeting will be on January 21.

Curate Begins GA Teaching

Twenty-five members were present at the first new year meeting of the Girls' Auxiliary of St. John's Anglican Church with president Beth Conley presiding.

Following a short devotional period Miss Conley introduced the curate, the Rev. J. A. Purser, who is conducting churchmanship study again this year. Both the badge and chevron examination in this study will be undertaken this year. The members have already finished two projects in handicraft under the leadership of Mrs. Claire Stuart.

Under the convenership of Sherry Hope, plans were made to hold a sleigh-ride party Friday, January 30 ,members to meet at the home of leader Mrs. W. C. Boate, Antrim St., at seven o'clock.

Mrs. Boate praised the GA for the excellent decorating in the parish hall for the Sunday School Christmas party and in the church for the Christmas services. Members are urged to give more response to the pledge fund.

A short period of recreation followed the meeting.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Wants Home Away From Her In-laws

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I live with his parents and have for over a year. They have a small business and we have both been working in it to pay our expenses. We never have enough money for extras. Now my husband has been drafted, and I am to continue living with his folks, working as heretofore. I want so much to have my own home and raise a family, but my mother-in-law tells me repeatedly that her son will never leave her. Still, he tells me we will have our own place some day. His people do not need our help, since they are quite well-off.

AGNES W.

ANSWER: You have a chance to make a break while your husband is in service. Such a step does involve a firm stand which you must take if you want to establish a separate home. Your husband has always been under the domination of his mother, and she apparently intends to continue fielding the ruling hand. Under ordinary circumstances it would be most difficult—if not impossible—to make him budge, but Uncle Sam has taken the initial step for you, and it's up to you to carry on from there. It's doubtful if you'd be happy or contented with his family while he's away so the thing for you to do is to tell him you want your own home now, and establish it as soon as possible. You'll have his service money, and surely would have no difficulty in getting a job for yourself that would pay something more than board.

NAMBY-PAMBY APPROACH USUALLY FAILS

Stop letting your mother-in-law push you around. You are entitled to independence, which can sometimes be bought only at the cost of definite decision. Namby-pamby efforts seldom cut bonds.

The matter could be handled most easily if you join your husband at his post, and find living quarters there. From that point it should be easy enough to continue on your own. It's the first tug away from home ties that hurts; once you two establish some sort of home for yourselves, it will be easier to continue it. Good luck!

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a junior in high school and would like very much to attend our Prom which is coming up in a few weeks. I am only 15, and unable to get a job. My parents are low in finances, and can't help me rent a tux. What can I do?

A. C.

ANSWER: Why not speak to the student counsellor at your school? He may have a solution for you, or be able to find some work you can do.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend has been dating other girls, although he denies it to me. He hasn't asked me not to date other boys, but gets jealous if I do. I love him, and don't want to lose him, but I also want to hold his respect.

ANSWER: You'll never win anyone's respect if you allow someone to take advantage of you. Your boy friend is doing just that. He is taking unto himself privileges he wants to deny you. If you actually know that he's dating other girls, tell him you know about it and that you intend to extend your dating, likewise.

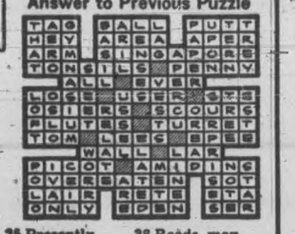
DEAR MISS DIX: When I go to the skating rink, which is about 600 feet from my house, by boy friend walks me home. My mother says this is dating; do you think it is?

J.W.

ANSWER: A walk of 600 feet certainly does not constitute dating, but it is reasonable to assume that you and the boy spend the evening together at the rink—which is dating.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 18 years old and have been dating a boy for almost a year. He is a nice boy but is only one month older than I. I seem to be much more grown up than he is. Sometimes he actually seems childish.



M.B.

ANSWER: Since girls mature more quickly than boys, your friend is emotionally about two years younger than you—and individual variations may put it lower than that. You should be able to look up to any boy in whom you become seriously interested and, obviously, this young man doesn't merit your respect. Better drop him.

6—In Memoriam

BALL—In loving memory of our dear brother, Harold, who passed away January 8, 1950.
Only a memory of bygone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen;
But a constant feeling that God alone
Knows just what should have been.
—Lovingly remembered by sisters and brothers.

BALL—In loving memory of Harold Ball, who passed away January 8, 1950.
His charming ways and smiling face,
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife Loretta and children Don, Shirley and Nancy.

PAYNE—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. David W. Payne, who passed away Jan. 8, 1950 and our dad, David W. Payne, who passed away August 19, 1939.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
Always a beautiful memory
For them no longer here.
—Always remembered Doris, Crawford, Cherylene and Grahame.

PAYNE—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. David W. Payne, who passed away January 8, 1950.
We do not forget her, we loved her too deeply,
For her memory to fade from our lives like a dream;
Our lips need not speak when our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.
—Ever remembered by Velma, Harold, Bettie and Melvin.

PAYNE—In memory of mother, Mrs. David Payne, who passed away January 8, 1950, and Dad, David Payne, who passed away August 19, 1939.
Those we lost had a heart of gold,
How much we miss them can never be told,
Dearer to us than words can tell
Is the mother and dad we loved so well.
—Sadly missed but ever remembered by Walter, Doris and Harley.

PAYNE—In memory of mother, Effie Gow Payne, who passed away January 8th, 1950, and dad, David Walter Payne, who passed away August 19, 1939.
"They lived for those they loved" that when their summons came, fulfilment was mature.
—Alice and Wes.

PRESTON—In loving memory of Edward Preston, who passed away January 9, 1952.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
To far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach,
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

PRICE—In memory of Mrs. Thomas Price, who passed away January 8, 1941; also Thomas Price, who passed away January 5, 1943.
Sunshine passes, shadows fall
Love's remembrance outlasts all,
And though the years be many or few
They are filled with remembrance of you.
—Sadly missed by daughters and granddaughters.

Suspend Sentence For Preacher

ALLESANDRIA, Italy (AP)—An Italian preacher for the Church of Christ was given a suspended sentence of 15 days in jail and fined 5,000 lire ($8) today for holding a non-authorized religious meeting here.

The preacher, 31-year-old Lido Petrini, now is in the Italian Army.

When Petrini tried to hold Protestant services last Sept. 4, some 30 police intervened to prevent about a dozen persons from entering the room where he was to preach.

The government said the Church had failed to obtain permits required by Italian law. Church of Christ officials contended that the police action violated religious freedom guarantees of the Italian constitution.

The ban on the church has been temporarily lifted while its officials apply for the same sort of government recognition that has been granted to other Protestant sects in Roman Catholic Italy.

Charge Reduced Drinking Driver Fined $75, Costs

A drunk driving charge against Paul W. White, 21, of Princess St., was reduced to driving while impaired by alcohol after the crown's case was completed in police court today.

White was the only driver arrested over New Year's in the city on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

He was fined $75 and $2.50 costs or 45 days in jail.

The car White was driving apparently went out of control as it was making the corner at Dublin and Waterford Sts., about 4.30 a.m. January 1, then slid across Waterford St., jumped a 12-inch curb and crashed through a wire fence.

Constables William G. Scott and Patrick Gillis, who investigated, testiifed today that White's breath smelled strongly of alcohol and that his speech was thick. At times they said he was unable to walk steadily and that in their opinion he was intoxicated.

White was defended by Emmett F. Sheehy and at the conclusion of the crown's case, Mr. Bradshaw said he understood White was prepared to plead guilty to the reduced charge of impairment. "It may well be the evidence warrants the reduction," said Mr. Bradshaw.

County Council

will be Walter Sloan, thus giving the township two votes for the first time.

Also returned by acclamation was the veteran county councillor Rork Ferguson, reeve of Norwood village. This makes him reeve for 12 of the last 13 years — the exception being in 1948 when William Pakenham held office.

Mr. Ferguson was warden of Peterborough County in 1934 (as reeve of Asphodel) and he was Liberal MP for Hastings-Peterborough 1935-40.

PROSPECT FOR WARDEN.

A likely prospect for the 1933 warden is Reeve Ernest Leeson who has been prominent in Havelock village politics since 1927. He was acclaimed this year by the Havelock ratepayers.

Mr. Leeson has served seven years as reeve of the village and seven years as a councillor.

Last year he was chairman of the education committee.

Reeve Dick Stewart of Otonabee township, popular 1952 warden of Peterborough County, was acclaimed by the ratepayers and he will begin his third year as reeve.

This is the first year he has not had to fight an election as he had to defeat Harry Reid in 1951 and Norman McConkey in 1952. Before that he was two years as deputy reeve.

Deputy-Reeve Dave McIntyre of Otonabee was also acclaimed to office. He is beginning his third year in that post. Last year he had to defeat Roy Spears to retain his county council seat.

During 1952 Mr. McIntyre was one of the most active committeemen. He was chairman of finance and kept a careful eye on the other committees to see that there were no over-expenditures and that the $19,000 deficit could be pretty well wiped out.

He also was on the equalized assessment committee, agriculture, and planning and development. Also chairman of the Old People's Home committee.

DOURO BATTLE

At the recent Douro township elections there was a keen battle for the three council seats and the two school boards. But both Reeve Roland Tedford and Deputy-Reeve Loyola Moloney were returned by acclamation.

Mr. Tedford is beginning his fourth term. He succeeded Jeremiah Mahoney who retired at the end of 1949 and is now township clerk. During the year he was chairman of the county property committee.

Mr. Moloney was also acclaimed for his fourth consecutive term. He has held the deputy-reeveship since Douro became eligible for the extra representation in 1950.

Another double acclamation was in Smith Township, though there was a spirited contest for the three council seats.

Reeve Gordon Fitzgerald has been returned for his second consecutive term after succeeding Ross Harrison who dropped out at the end of 1951. Before that he was two years as deputy-reeve.

Altogether Mr. Fitzgerald has been in municipal politics for more than 20 years, holding both elective and appointive posts in the township.

In 1952 he was on the finance and county roads committee.

Mr. McAdam is beginning his second consecutive term as deputy-reeve. He succeeded Mr. Fitzgerald when the latter moved up to the reeveship in 1952.

Mr. McAdam served on the Old People's Home and the agricultural committee in 1952.

NO OPPOSITION

Willard G. Waterman is beginning his third term as Reeve of North Monaghan Township. He met with no opposition at the nomination meeting.

Mr. Waterman has been in North Monaghan municipal politics for many years. He returned in 1951 to oust Melville Johnston, now county weed inspector, after the latter had held the reeveship for 12 years.

Last year Mr. Waterman was chairman of the agriculture committee and he was the county's appointee on the Children's Aid Society board.

There were no elections this year in Asphodel Township, so Reeve James Humphries of RR 3, Hastings, was returned for his 10th consecutive term. Previously he was a township councillor for six years.

Mr. Humphries was Warden of the county in 1948.

Last year he was chairman of the equalization and assessment committee, and he also was on the reforestation and county road committees.

Hot War In Korean Hills Is Mighty Cold Business

As the Korean war drags into its third grim winter, Canadian and allied United Nations forces once more face two of their worst foes—snow and cold. Troops find the going dangerous as they move over icy, slippery trails along the mountainous battle line. Machines freeze-up and bog down. Planes have to be pampered and warmed. Armaments behave in unusual fashion in the numbing cold. Living, at its best, is a burrowed-in existence. At worst, it is a battle just to keep warm in the howling, freezing icebox that Karea becomes in the winter.

EMPTY PACKING CRATE for an altar, an Army Chaplain holds services in a driving snowstorm, just outside a heavy bunker.

THE GUN CREW OF THIS 75-mm. recoiless rifle cleans its weapon during a lull in fighting in a deceptively peaceful snow-covered land.

NEED FOR WARMTH, and the necessity for using smokeless fuel has prompted some troops to build their own charcoal ovens.

WHAT WARMS THE HEATER? Crewmen at a fighter-interceptor base warm an F-86 Sabrejet with 300-degree air on a bitter-cold morning.

Chapter News

PETER ROBINSON CHAPTER

The Peter Robinson Chapter, IODE, met Wednesday evening in the YWCA. Mrs. Harold Baker brought forward the standard and Mrs. P. C. Sanders, regent, presided.

Treasurer Mrs. C. L. Upper reported the Christmas tea was most successful in every way. Mrs. Gordon Hill read two letters of thanks for gifts sent to veterans in Kingston. This month a carton of cigarettes is being sent to another veteran in Kingston hospital, she said. Miss D. Two pair of shoes were supplied on request recently.

Two new members were voted into the Chapter. Mrs. F. Jobbitt consented to be the new membership and hospitality convener.

The annual meeting in February will be on the 4th, at the YWCA. Mrs. John Johnston read the new slate of officers which will be installed at that time. Reports by all conveners are to be presented also.

The Chapter hopes to present again this spring Mrs. J. Copeland of Violet House, with a talk on African violets.

Mrs. Baker read an interesting magazine article on Lord and Lady Alexander's thoughts and memoirs of Canada.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. H. Ingram and her committee at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. T. Gaskell and Mrs. Reg. Reid are conveners for the Valentine Ball on Friday, February 13th, at the Brock Ballroom. Tickets are now available from any member, and are under convener ship of Miss Jean Gillespie and Mrs. F. G. Parsons.

Acollection was taken at the meeting to buy necessities for a burned-out family near Peterborough by Mrs. Gaskell, convener of services at home, and it was well responded to. Fifteen dozen diapers have been completed and sent to Greece, and Mrs. D. Hill is holding a sewing meeting on Tuesday, January 20th. Mrs. Hudson Hall reported a supply of IODE calendars still available.

Mrs. Hugh Fallis gave a very interesting reading on 1952 world events. Mrs. B. E. Metcalfe, educational convener, looked after getting a junior projector for the adopted school at Burleigh. Regent Mrs. Donald Murray presented it to Mrs. G. K. Fraser, a member of the school board, when she, Mrs. George Barns, Mrs. Hudson Hall and Mrs. William Nash visited the school.

A number of members have volunteered to take a course in civil defence first-aid sponsored by the St. John Ambulance Corps.

Secret Autopsy

TOKYO (Reuters) — A secret autopsy was performed Wednesday night on the body of Prince Chichibu, 50-year-old brother of Emperor Hirohito, who died Sunday. It was performed in accordance with the Prince's own wish despite objections by the royal household. Chichibu suffered badly from tuberculosis and in his will asked for a post-mortem examination to help doctors fight the disease.

Two-Headed Turtle In Constant Confusion

Each Side Of Body Has Own Ideas Of Moving

JACKSON, Miss. (AP). — Harold is a two-headed water turtle who lives in constant confusion because each of his heads independently controls two of his legs. This is a maddening situation for Harold.

One head will stretch out lazily, close its eyes, and go to sleep. But the other head isn't sleepy and would like to mosey on over to a choice morsel of food.

But can the hungry head get there? No. It works two legs on its side of Harold's body, but with that lazy head sleeping and not working the other two legs, poor Harold just crawls around in a circle.

Now that keeps the hungry side of Harold from getting food and conversely keeps Harold's sleepy head from undisturbed repose.

Dr. William O. Sadler, biologist at Mississippi College, who observed two-headed Harold for a while, said each of the turtle's heads have independent action and control their side of the body.

Harold was found near Bayou Chine, Morgan City, La., by a fisherman, and now is in possession of Joe Price, Clinton, Mass.

Arrow Pierces Teen-Ager's Eye

KINGSTON (CP)—A 15-year-old boy, shot in the eye Tuesday in an archery accident, underwent a second operation Wednesday to remove pieces of the arrow still in his right eye.

William Eves was first operated on Tuesday to remove 4¼ inches of the arrow tip from his eye.

Police said Eves and two friends, James Cornish and Herbert Teepell, both 14, built a snow fort in the Eves yard and hung three empty nail kegs on the fort for archery targets.

Eves went behind the fort and looked out through a three-inch hole in the fort wall.

At that moment, Cornish, standing 30 feet away, shot an arrow at one of the kegs. It missed, flew through the hole and struck Eves in the eye.

Cornish said he did not know there was a hole in the wall.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

By G. E. GROOMBRIDGE

This being the first column of the year 1953, may I extend New Year greetings to you all and simply ask that, in this coming year, you will try to be just a little better in the sending in of your report for this column. Also my sincere thanks to all who have been so faithful in the past.

UNIFORM EXCHANGE

The exchange will be open this Thursday afternoon, Jan. 8, from 3 to 5 p.m., in the basement of St. Paul's Sunday School. We are looking for Cub, Scout, Guide and Brownie uniforms for exchange, sale or donation. Anyone having parts of such uniforms around the home, where your lad or lassie has outgrown their existing uniform, why not visit the exchange, being held under the auspices of the association of Ladies' Auxiliary. This is a service for scouting. Don't give those old uniforms to the moths—give them to the exchange.

ST. JOHN'S

The pack started the new year off in fine style as Christopher Sayers was accepted into the pack as a new chum and given his white neckerchief. Then followed an investiture ceremony in which Bobby Yudin and Don Ross were made full members of the pack and added their names to the World-Wide Brotherhood of Scouting. Present for the ceremony as special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Yudin and two daughters. In the inspection Mr. Yudin assisted Akela for the start of a new inter-six competition. Mr. and Mrs. Ross took one section of the pack, telling them some interesting stories, following which Mr. Trueman told the story of Guy Gibson. Games of leapfrog, mixtures and bag-bursting were intermingled with the program. Sunday afternoon found many members of the pack skating at the back of Akela's home.

The team under Sixer Brian Dunford winning the train race; David Irwin winning a singles race, and Brian Dunford taking the honors in skating backwards. Then an enjoyable lunch of hot chocolate and hot dogs was served by Mrs. Purser. Tests passed: Skipping, Don Ross; model, Brian Dunford; thrift, George Boucher; public telephone, George Boucher; knots, George Boucher, Leslie Crump, Brian Dunford, Bob Dawson; highway code, Bob Dawson, Brian Dunford, Leslie Crump, George Boucher; message, Leslie Crump.

MOTHERS' AUXILIARY

The first anual meeting of the Association of Mothers' Auxiliaries was held in St. Paul's Church auditorium Tuesday evening, at which more than 150 adults were present to give this newly formed organization a good start. Those present represented every group in the city with additional visitors from Lakefield.

After a brief business session, Field Commissioner Art Jackson of Brighton installed the slate of officers: President, Mrs. James McLeod of St. Andrew's; vice-president, Mrs. Bill Meagher, Sacred Heart; secretary, Mrs. E. J. MacDonald, St. Luke's; treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Baker, St. John's. In a brief outline of the association, Mrs. McLeod stated that it was decided the association membership would be for limited representation from every group in the district, including Lakefield.

The Rev. Arnold Mathews brought greetings from the Ministerial Association, stating that he was a former Scout. Mr. E. Trueman, vice-president of Peterborough Boy Scouts' Association, assured the mothers' association of every support of this section of the Scout movement. District Commissioner Mrs. J. R. Epping of the Guide movement gave a brief outline of Brownies and Guides in the district. District Commissioner G. R. Langley introduced the guest speaker, Field Commissioner Jackson.

The speaker outlined the idea of the family of scouting, in the home and in the church—father on the group committee, mother in the Ladies' Auxiliary, children in Brownies, Guides, Cubs, Scouts. All this is the responsibility of the sponsoring body, be it the church, the service club or other institution. It is important to the healthy life of each child that the father provides food; if he fails, then the child becomes ill and in cases the Children's Aid takes over. In scouting the local association take charge to see that proper care is given. One cannot stress too strongly the importance of a keen, interested sponsor. The group is the sponsor's and the group exists to further the training that sponsor is anxious to impart to the boys in which they are interested.

In the measurement of a group committee this can be applied to the Mothers' Auxiliary. A good committee has representative and active members, fully participates in all responsibilities, holds meetings regularly, promotes all phases of scouting, checks on boy progress periodically, sponsors those boys who cannot attend regularly, maintains all sections and sees that leadership is trained, is financially sound see that facilities for group are adequate, stimulates programs in all sections.

A few points on how to hold interest are: attractive membership cards, appreciation shown for work done, membership fees, specialize in invitations, seize participation in opportunities, and deep personal interest.

The program included choral singing by the members of St. Andrew's Brownie pack. The Red Six, Tommy Caldwell, John Hewitt, Terry Higgins of St. Paul's, demonstrated the story of the Union Jack; Pat Wagar and Pan Neal of All Saints' Guides played a guitar solo and gave a recitation; Scouts Wally and Larry Wood, Bob Merritt, Ted Quick and Wally Rawlinson of St. Alban's troop enacted a skit; then with flags held high by members of units from all parts of the district the assembly stood and sang our National Anthem. Following this refreshments were served under the guidance of Mrs. Gordon Minty, with every group represented in the work, Mrs. G. R. Langley, wife of the district commissioner, pouring tea.

Fauteux Reserves Judgment On Lee Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — Mr. Justice J. H. G. Fauteux of the Supreme Court of Canada Wednesday reserved judgment on the appeal of Harry Lee, 37, against his conviction of murder.

Lee was convicted Oct 5 of the rifle slaying of Mrs. Mary Rosenblatt of Hamilton, 37-year-old mother of two. He was sentenced to be hanged Dec. 30 but was granted a stay of execution to Jan. 20 pending outcome of his appeal to the Supreme Court.

Evidence at Lee's trial was that he shot Mrs. Rosenblatt twice in the chest, then shot himself in the chest. With Mrs. Rosenblatt's body and the .22-calibre rifle in his automobile, he drove to a service station at Sheffield, Ont., west of Galt.

Had Rheumatic Pains, Headaches Dizzy Spells! Praises Syntona

Condition Followed Years of Suffering With Stomach Gas, Acidity, and Constipation. "Felt Better After First Few Doses," He Says.

MR. JOSEPH CLANCEY

"Syntona certainly has been a wonderful tonic for me, and I advise anyone who is feeling rundown this time of year to take it," said Mr. Joseph Clancey, Base Line Road, London, Ontario, in a recent report:

"For years I had been troubled with acid indigestion, gastritis, and constipation. The gas pressed up into my chest and caused a palpitation and a smothering feeling. I suffered with frequent headaches and dizzy spells. Later, pains set into my back and limbs and I became fatigued and rundown.

"I had to be constantly taking laxatives and I tried so many medicines and liniments for my stomach and rheumatic pains that I was discouraged. Then, one day I read about Syntona helping people with similar ailments so I got some. Before I had finished the first bottle I could tell it was helping my stomach, and in a few weeks I could eat foods that I didn't dare to eat before. I got relief from the headaches and rheumatic pains. I began to sleep better and my whole system felt so much better. Now, when my friends ask me how I keep so fit, I am glad to tell them that I use Synona whenever I feel the need of a good tonic."

Syntona is made from the pure extracts of 12 of Nature's Finest Herbs, Roots and Barks. It acts on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Aids in elimination of excess acids and poisonous waste matter and promotes better assimilation of food for strength and energy.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt.)

New Sleet Storm Predicted For South Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Southern Ontario, recovering from a bout of snow, sleet and icy rain, apparently can expect more. First the province took it Thursday from a storm roaring in from Ohio. Now there's one predicted from Georgia. Thursday's storm tied up air and highway traffic, iced roads and threatened hydro lines and communications. The weather office said raw easterly winds will intensify tonight and Saturday, with rain in southern Ontario about midnight tonight and snow in northern Ontario Saturday. Southern Ontario faces a possibility of freezing rain.

The storm from Ohio, moving East, was expected to pass into Quebec today.

Every department of highways crew south of a line from Kincardine to Oshawa was called out Thursday on sanding details and they worked in sleet, snow and rain. A film of ice was formed on many roads and traffic had its stiffest weather test this winter.

There were a score of minor accidents in Toronto Thursday night as a result of teacherous roads, but dangerous conditions predicted earlier in the day did not materialize. Snow fell during the evening.

SLOWED BY BLIZZARD

Hamilton traffic was slowed to a walk by a blizzard during the evening rush hour. A section of the city was blacked out when high winds blew down hydro wires.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour swept the London district. Police warned drivers not to use the icy district roads unless they had to. Sleet fell in Windsor and two accidents were reported.

Buses were behind schedule in some areas. The Toronto Transportation Commission said street cars were running late. All night flights from Malton airport were cancelled.

Luciano Sarton, 21, of Windsor, suffered shock, a fractured leg and lacerations when a truck he was driving was struck by a train at Tecumseh.

Edward Craig, 84, suffered a fractured leg and a possible fractured skull when struck by a car driven by Wiebren Dewitt, 43, in Windsor.

WORST OF SEASON

CHICAGO (AP) — The worst storm of the season buffeted the northeastern United States today and a twister cut a mile-wide path of destruction through downtown Sarasota, Fla., causing between $500,000 and $1,000,000 damage.

Freezing drizzle and rain slicked streets and highways in southern Michigan, northern Indiana, and Ohio and along the Mississippi river from southern Missouri to southern Wisconsin.

The storm halted several plane flights and delayed buses. Schools closed in Troy, N. Y. at mid-morning; there was up to 15 inches

Jamaica Has Gay Welcome For Churchill

TOWER ISLE, Jamaica (AP)—Jamaica put out its gayest welcome mat for the arrival today of Prime Minister Churchill, whose holiday visit is regarded as one of the top events in the history of this crown colony.

Churchill is scheduled to arrive here from Washington in President Truman's plane, the Independence, following five days of conferences in New York with President-elect Eisenhower and in the U. S. capital with Truman and top government officials.

So far only one public appearance has been announced for Churchill here — at Montego Bay airport, his landing place on the northwest coast of the island.

SPECIAL PARADE

The program calls for a party of top officials, headed by Governor Sir Hugh Foot, to meet the British prime minister at the airport. Then there was to be a parade through the streets in an open car.

The little tropical resort city was gaily bedecked for its distinguished visitor. Churchill was to be driven 60 miles along a coast road lined with beach resorts to "Prospect" Este, a coconut and banana plantation which is one of the island's most secluded spots.

"Prospect" is one of several country places in Jamaica owned by Sir Harold Mitchell, former vice-chairman of the British Conservative party and an old friend of Churchill.

In Washington Thursday Churchill visited another old friend, President Truman, during a whirlwind tour tinged with London - type weather.

The 78-year-old British leader flew into Washington from New York in dark coat, striped trousers, bowler and cigar.

He conferred for 80 minutes with Truman at the White House and invited key U. S. congressional leaders to join him for "a late cup of tea" at the British embassy Thursday night.

Truck Overturns 2 Men Killed

KINGSTON (CP) — Two men were killed today when their truck went out of control and rolled over at Eastview, six miles east of Kingston, on No. 2 highway.

They were identified as Bar Taylor, 22, and Edmund Montgomery, both of nearby Gananoque.

The bakery truck they were driving left the road and its front wheels struck a rock buried under snow. The truck catapulted and landed upside down.

The body of the truck was torn off and bread and buns were strewn over the scene.

Montgomery, tossed about 10 feet, was dead when found. Taylor was alive when police reached the scene. Brought to Kingston General Hospital by a passing motorist, Vincent Banks of Kingston, he died two hours later.

Taylor was a promising hockey player in the New York-Ontario league.

5-Year Jail Term For Theft Of $7

TOKYO (AP) — A court martial today convicted a British soldier of robbing a Japanese taxicab driver of 2,500 yen (about $7) and sentenced him to dishonorable discharge and five years' imprisonment.

Pte. Derek Hepples, 22, was convicted also of desertion and theft of $130 from U. S. Lieut. R. E. Curtis.

The sentence is subject to review by the British commander-in-chief, Japan.

Hepples and two Australian soldiers were accused of robbing Kozo Tsunemi at pistol point Dec. 21 in Tokyo. The Australians will be tried by an Australian court martial.

BULLETIN

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney-General Porter today fired the board of directors of East Windsor Hospital and appointed a new board to take its place. The four-man board was ordered dismissed "by government prerogative and supplementary letters patent." A new board of seven will takes its place.

Truck Strikes School Bus 45 Passengers Injured

Pupils Bound For Schools In Trenton

Students Knocked To Floor, None Badly Hurt

An out-of-control truck crashed into a bus in the west end of Trenton at 8:40 a.m today injuring 45 people, 40 of them schoolchildren. None of the injuries was serious enough to require hospital treatment.

Mrs. Joseph Richards, 24, wife of the truckdriver was the most seriously hurt. She received a deep gash in her forehead and other cuts and bruises.

Her husband, 20-month-old son, and seven-month-old daughter were also slightly injured. They were treated by a doctor at the scene of the accident.

The collision which badly damaged the truck also temporarily ended the family's eastward trek to a new home in Nova Scotia.

A second bus took the children to school where they were checked physically and then permitted to attend classes.

DAILY TRIP

The 40 pupils were bound for Dufferin Public School and the Trenton Collegiate. They are picked up daily by the bus that starts along the Carrying Place road and then passes through the southwest suburbs of Trenton, bringing the children into school.

It was only by a stroke of luck that the accident was not more serious. The half-ton pickup truck was braked by Richard at the top of a grade as he was going north on Dundas St. (a continuation of Highway 2), but it skidded on the icy roadway and plunged out of control into the intersection of Dufferin St. (a continuation of Highway 33).

The truck and bus came into the intersection about the same time but Richard managed to avoid hitting the bus directly in the middle. He manoeuvred his vehicle so it struck the bus behind the dual wheels, at the rear where the engine is housed.

Rinks will not be supervised until Monday but children may use them over the weekend. "You couldn't keep them off, anyway," say city and recreation officials.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Canada Prepared To Reopen Seaway Discussion

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today Canada has informed the United States she is willing to reopen negotiations for joint development of the St. Lawrence seaway but only if this will not cause delay in the development. Mr. Pearson told a press conference that Canada is willing to consider "a specific proposal" for joint development once the way is cleared for the power development. The Canadian government, he said, "would naturally expect the discussion to be such as not to cause any serious delay in the completion of the whole seaway."

The Canadian view was communicated to Ambassador Stanley Woodward here Thursday by Prime Minister St. Laurent and backed up by a memorandum sent to the ambassador by the external affairs department this morning.

It was prompted by President Truman's statement expressing the hope that the way may still be open for American participation in the seaway.

WANT SECOND CHANCE

In Washington, President Truman told Congress today it is not too late for the U..S to join with Canada in constructing the St. Lawrence seaway. Truman said in his annual budget message to Congress that the government of Canada is prepared to build the waterway on its own side of the big international river regardless of what the U.S. finally decides. "I believe, however,," he said, "that there is still an opportunity for the United States to join, as we should have long ago, in building the .....seaway."

He held out the hope that Canada will permit such participation. He said:

"If the new administration and the new Congress propose practical arrangements for sharing the cost and construction of the seaway, I believe the Canadians will, even at this late date, admit us to partnership in the seaway."

IN BEST INTERESTS

"I hope very strongly that this will be done, for it is clearly in the best interests of both countries that this important waterway along our common boundary should be built and controlled by both countries together."

Sentiment for the seaway has gained strength in Congress in the last year, partly because of a feeling that it would be unwise in U. S. views for Canada to have complete control of the waterway—a 27-foot channel in the river to permit ocean-going shipping access to the Great Lakes.

EDMONTON (CP) — Five persons injured in two accidents along the Alaska Highway, four seriously were evacuated to Edmonton hospitals today by an RCAF mercy plane. A woman was killed in one of the mishaps but her body was not brought out.

Killed was Mrs. Ernest Camyre of Calgary. Her 41-year-old husband suffered internal injuries, a smashed left leg, frostbite and exposure.

Injured in the same automobile accident were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller and their nine-year-old daughter from Anchorage, Alaska. Mr. Miller is a United States service man.

FRACTURED SPINE

The fifth person evacuated was Arthur Kettley, highway maintenance man stationed at Mile 201 of the highway. He suffered a fractured spine when hit on the back by a crane boom.

The evacuation was carried out in darkness by a Dakota transport plane based at Rockcliffe, Ont., and piloted by Flt. Lt. W. J. (Whipper) Watson of Rockcliffe. It had been on a routine northern flight Thursday when it was diverted to Fort St. John, B.C., 350 miles northwest of Edmonton, to pick up the injured.

Tax Reductions Seen By Hees

WOODSTOCK (CP)—George Hees Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for Toronto Broadview, predicted Thursday night the 1953-54 federal budget will contain "large tax reductions."

In a speech prepared for the Progressive Conservative Association in Oxford constituency, Mr. Hees said:

"This year, of course will be an election year, and so we can count on tax reductions in proportion to the government's estimate of public resentment against its policies.

". . . We can count on tax reductions this year on a very large scale—reduction which would not have been necessary if the government had followed an honest taxation policy in non-election years, and had kept taxes at a reasonable level."

Mr. Hees predicted the bulk of the reductions will be in the personal income tax field.

Heavy Canyon Snow Closes Rail Line

VANCOUVER (CP)—Heavy snow tumbling down the walls of the Fraser Canyon Thursday night forced Canadian National Railways to cancel its transcontinental passenger trains out of and into Vancouver.

Officials said they did not know when the line through the canyon would be cleared. Heavy snow fell Wednesday night and Thursday and was still falling Thursday night, causing several snowslides between Yale and Lytton. Yale is about 110 miles east of here.

High Resigning Rate Worries Officials

CHALK RIVER (CP)—Technicians are leaving Canada's atomic project at a rate which worries officials.

An investigation has been launched into the reasons behind a turnover which reached 22 per cent in the last year.

The technicians are not scientists but they are the skilled helpers of the scientists in research. About one-third of the over-all staff of 1,500 is composed of scientists and technicians.

The average annual turnover in scientists is roughly 14 per cent and this accepted as reasonable under the circumstances. Five years is considered the average time for a scientist to remain on the staff.

Charge Bombing Of Own Troops

SEOUL (AP) — An unidentified plane — possibly American — bombed and strafed a U.S. service unit behind the western front Thursday, killing or wounding several soldiers.

One soldier who saw the attack reported the plane was a U. S. Thunderjet, but a U.S. Air Force spokesman said "as far as can be learned, there are no indications that Air Force planes were involved."

Army and Air Force officers said only that "several" were killed or wounded and that at least one plane was involved.

The attack destroyed, riddled or burned 10 tents and one pre-fabricated building, burned a fuel truck and destroyed a jeep and killed its driver.

$78,900,000,000 Budget Presented By Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman laid a $78,900,000,000 valedictory budget before Congress today.

This estimate of government spending in the fiscal year 1954, beginning July 1, was $4,000,000,000 more than Truman projected for the current fiscal year and $12,500,000,000 more than in fiscal 1952, which ended last June 30.

The increases were almost entirely for national security programs, and pointed toward a $10,000,000,000 deficit 18 months from now.

Truman called for a big increase in foreign aid, mostly for military help to European allies of the U.S. This flew in the face of majority congressional desire, expressed in a recent survey by The Associated Press, for reduced foreign aid.

The budget message Truman sent Congress today, 11 days before he leaves office, is subject to revision by the incoming Eisenhower administration, which has indicated it will be scrutinized closely and revised, probably starting in April.

The budget called for expenditures in fiscal 1954 equal to $489.15 for every man, woman and child the census bureau estimates will be in the U. S. Jan. 1, 1954, halfway through the 12-month budget period.

The resident said 73 cents out of every dollar in the budget would go toward programs directly related to national security, and 14 cents more toward paying for past wars.

Truman made no proposals for increased taxes. But he told a Republican Congress, whose leaders have been talking wistfully of a tax cut, that "in my judgment it would not be wise to plan for a large budget deficit during a period when business activity, civilian employment, and national income are reaching unprecedented heights."

The dominant feature of the budget was military costs.

Truman predicted that expenditures for military services in fiscal 1954 would reach $46,296,000,000—exclusive of atomic energy outlays of $2,700,000,000. That compares with $44,380,000,000 in the current fiscal 1952. The President indicated that atomic energy expenditures would soon result in more weapons, with atomic plant expansion about ended.

Union Leaders Tangle With Bevan

LONDON (Reuters)—Left-wing Socialist Aneurin Bevan ran into strong Labor opposition Thursday in asking union leaders to approve an election program of increased state control of industry.

Red-faced and angry, the Welsh rebel derided the leaders of the Trades Union Congress for being too cautious in their approach to all-out nationalization.

The Labor chiefs eventually left the meeting without giving Bevan their assurance of support, but they promised to study the program further. They said they wanted to see how general wage levels would be affected.

Political sources say this stall means that Clement Attlee's Labor party will not be able to announce the program this spring as planned.

2-HOUR MEETING

The two-hour meeting brought together the Labor party's 27-man executive committee—including Bevan—and the 33 members of the Trades Union Congress' general council representing 8,000,000 union members. Without the solid backing of organized labor, the Socialists cannot hope to score at the polls.

Sir Vincent Tewson, general secretary of the TUC, said the unions do not want to be hurried. He was backed by Sir William Lawther, head of the coal miners, and Arthur Deakin, transport workers' leader.

List Of Reds In Note Book

MONTREAL (CP)—Police said Thursday they found a list of Communist sympathizers of 72 countries in papers and note books of Constantine Stathapoulos, 60-ytahold Greek found dead in a rooming house last Thursday.

Lieut. John Boyczum said a preliminary check revealed that Stathapoulos was well educated and had been a Communist for 30 years.

Boyczom said evidence of this was a copy of one of the first editions of the constitution of the Communist party in Canada, published in 1924.

A routine police check of the death of Stathapoulos in a dingy, downtown Clark street room brought about discovery of a huge cache of Communist literature, note books and papers, and a miniature arsenal.

Britain To Order Canadian Cheese

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today Britain is making $1,500,000 of her scarce dollars available this year for the purchase of Canadian cheese. He said he had been advised of the British decision in a letter from the chancellor of the exchequer, Richard Butler. The Finance Minister said that during the recent Commonwealth conferences in London, he told Mr. Butler of Canada's desire to sell cheese to Britain. That country, contracting her dollar imports, bought no Canadian cheese in 1952.

The $1,500,000 will buy roughly 5,000,000 pounds of Canadian cheddar at 30 cents a pound.

OUTLINES MOVE

Mr. Abbott said he has replied thanking Mr. Butler and suggesting that the British purchasing agency get in touch immediately with the appropriate Canadian cheese authorities about the purchases.

Sir Andrew Jones, head of the British food mission here, likely will begin negotiating with the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board next week at Belleville.

It was understood that negotiations will cover cheddar left from 1952 production and that when negotiations are completed, it will clean up the remaining surplus.

There still is no indication whether Britain will buy cheese in the 1953 production year which begins next May.

Officials here said that, while the U.K. decision was heartening, the amount that may be purchased will be far below purchases made by Britain in 1951.

In 1951 Ontario producers sold Britain about 28,000,000 pounds.

4 North Korean Attacks Smashed By Allies

SEOUL (AP) — Allied infantry smashed four North Korean Communist attacks on the Korean eastern front today. Then they chased three of the red groups back to the Nam river, chopping one to pieces.

An 8th army spokesman said South Korean troops stopped a brief but furious three-pronged attack on an Allied advance position north-west of Kansong in the predawn darkness.

The Reds, moving in behind a heavy artillery and mortar barrage, forced a slight penetration and then withdrew with the South Koreans in close pursuit. Two of the North Korean platoons — of 30 to 40 men each — escaped to the river, but a third ran headlong into a South Korean ambush.

Hold Little Hope Any Survivors

MONTPELIER, Idaho (AP)—Despite continued reports of various lights and a mysterious radio signal that might have been an SOS hope that 40 persons aboard a missing C-46 would be found alive faded today.

Three civilian crew members including a stewardess and 37 Korean combat veterans were aboard the plane that was last heard from over Malad City, Idaho, Wednesday morning.

One of the biggest aerial searches in Rocky mountain history was to be resumed today after it failed to turn up new clues Thursday.

Fifty planes took part in the three-state search hampered by stormy weather. Ground parties planning to ascend the snowy slopes on the east side of Bear Lake, in the southeastern corner of Idaho, were held up by wind-drifted snow and below-freezing temperatures.

A posse of experienced outdoormen today was to lead ground parties, by jeep, on foot an dhorseback into the nearly inaccessible terrain where a farmer reported seeing lights he believed to be flares Wednesday night.

Further Investigation Of Land Sales

TORONTO (CP) Provincial police today said they are investigating further reports of illegal land sales which have already resulted in the arrest of a 45-year-old former civil servant.

James Lockwood Cuttell, until recently employed by the property division of the Ontario department of highways, was charged Thursday with the theft of $1,500 from the government in connection with the transaction.

Officials said the land sold was being kept for highways improvements, including the sites for proposed cloverleafs on the new Highway from here to Barrie.

Government authorities said the illegal land sales were effected when the persons involved had the purchase cheques made out to "cash" or accepted cash to complete the transaction. Neither the cheques nor cash were received by the department.

New Defence Pact Drafted For Middle East Protection

LONDON (Reuters)—British and United States officials have drafted a new plan for a Middle East defence pact to protect that vital oil and communications area from Communist aggression, it was reported Thursday night. The plan involves economic aid.

It will be the basis of Britain's new approach to the Egyptian government of Gen. Mohammed Naguib in an effort to break the long dispute over the evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

Henry Byroade, chief of the U.S. state department's Middle East section, worked out the four-point program with senior British officials in secret talks, an authoritative source said.

He met with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Thursday night to discuss the plan. Based on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it calls for:

1. A new invitation to Egypt to join the defence pact as a founder member, with the prospect of playing a leading part.

2. Evacuation of the 50,000 British troops from the Canal Zone, provided Egypt is willing to replace them.

3. Military aid to strengthen Egypt's army.

4. Economic aid to help Egypt overcome her present financial and trade difficulties.

Examiner Delivered Later Saturdays

The Examiner will be delivered on Saturdays from now on about the same time that it is delivered during the rest of the week.

The Examiner plant has gone on a five-day week, with the result that days off for most employees are staggered through the week, and Saturday becomes a regular day. Formerly it was only a half-day of work, with the paper going to press early.

The business office and the display advertising office will both close as before at noon.

Blame Oil Burner For Fire In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Exact loss sustained in Thursday's fire here has not yet been determined, but the rough estimate of $100,000 is believed to be fairly accurate.

Destroyed in the fire were the Free Methodist Church and an implement shop owned by Walter A. Jones. There was no insurance on the church, and the shop was only partly insured.

Lost in the fire were two tractors, left in for repairs by district farmers. Neither was insured. Two refrigerators and a deep freeze filled with Mr. Jones' winter stock of beef and pork were lost, along with a new camera and projector bought two weeks before the fire.

Some miscellaneous machine parts were also destroyed, along with furniture owned by Mr. Jones. He had stored the furniture there until he could move into a house across the street from the shop.

OIL BURNER

Cause of the fire has been traced to an oil burner used to heat the shop. It had not been used for two days and it is believed to have flooded, then sprayed flaming oil into the shop.

Gerald Thompson, an employee of the shop, said he lit the oil burner about 10 a.m. Thursday. He left the shop to go across the street and five minutes later looked back to see the building in flames.

The building, a three-storey frame structure was originally a grist mill operated many years ago by Marshall Keir. Mr. Jones bought it about four years ago.

All Mr. Jones' business records were destroyed, along with a small amount of cash left in the cash register. An insurance adjuster is at the burned-out shop today estimating damage.

Pupils Bound

BUS SPINS AROUND

The impact was great enough to spin the heavily-loaded bus around so that it faced west, and the 45 passengers were sent sprawling on the floor. All of them received a severe shaking up and suffered shock. And one pupil lost a tooth when he bumped into the seat ahead.

A doctor treated the Richard family at the scene and gave the pupils a medical once-over before permitting them to continue on in another bus.

Leonard Comstock, the bus driver, suffered shock.

The Richard family are from Toronto. They left their home there to move to Nova Scotia and were on the first leg of their journey when the accident occurred.

Their pickup truck was piled with personal belongings which suffered little damage in the collision.

The bus received $300 damage, most of it confined to the rear end. And the truck owned by the Richard family received $500 damage, mostly to the front end.

$150,000 Plant Fire

TRENTON (CP) — A $150,000 fire today demolished the central cold storage plant here.

The blaze, believed to have started in a section of the plant housing hampers and barrels used in packing fruit and vegetables, could not be checked by firemen.

DESTROYED but not lost

Homes razed by fire can be rebuilt with funds provided from Fire' Insurance. It's folly to risk losing everything . . . when low premiums can protect.

objected. He moved an amendment substituting Mr. Pitchford's name for Mr. Huffman's.

"I regret having to do this," said Mr. Craw, "but I feel that a member of the Board who has a contract with the city and possibly intends to tender on more jobs should not be working on plans and specifications."

Mr. Craw said he could not work on a committee with Mr. Huffman under those conditions.

Mr. Huffman himself cleared the air. He said he had talked it over with the other two members of the "striking committee" and had reached an agreement.

"I gave my assurance that as a member of the accommodation committee I would not tender on any further schools," he said.

(Charles H. Huffman Ltd. are the general contractors on the Armour Heights School in Ashburnham. When Mr. Huffman bid on this school, while a trustee, it touched off a controversy on the Board of Education last year.)

Under these conditions Mr. Craw withdrew his objection.

ON SAME COMMITTEES

Mr. Pitchford was displeased with the committees to which he was elected.

"I regret I'm on the same committees as last year," he said. "I'd like to be on some others, on the other side of the Board, where my services could be better utilized."

(In 1952 Mr. Pitchford was on supervision, health, the appointments committee which includes all trustees, and the advisory-vocational committee. Now this year he is on the identical committees.)

It was suggested by Mrs. Rowell that the striking committee go back and change the standing committees around but this fell through and the report was adopted as follows:

Property—Mr. Huffman, chairman and Mr. Craw, Mr. Porter, Mrs. Kathleen Bell and M. J. Collins.

Supervision — Mrs. Rowell, chairman, and Mr. Pitchford, Mr. Porter, Dr. Whyte and John Kitney.

Health—Mrs. Bell, chairman, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Pitchford, Dr. Whyte and Mr. Kitney.

Appointment—All trustees, with Mr. Gordon as chairman.

Accommodation — Mr. Craw, chairman, Mrs. Rowell, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Huffman, and Dr. Whyte.

Advisory-Vocational—Mr. Gordon, Mr. Pitchford, Mr. Porter, Mr. Kitney, Mr. Collins and six appointees from employers and employees: Jack Richardson, Roy Bogle, Stewart Lockington, N. R. Hamilton, Walter E. Bannon and Paul Irwin. Messrs. Richardson, Bannon and Bogle replace Robert Maybee, Clarence Porter (now a trustee)and J. E. Girven.

A chairman for advisory-vocational will be chosen at the committee's first meeting.

The Board of Education finance committee consists of the chairmen of all committees, so the election of a chairman for that committee will also be delayed to the first meeting.

Because he is chairman of the Board, Mr. Adamson is automatically a member of all committees.

Wanted Criminal Captured On Fan's Tip

TORONTO (CP)—A five-year search for a man listed by the RCMP as Canada's second most-wanted criminal ended with the capture of 40-year-old Walter Pavlukoff.

Pavlukoff was wanted in connection with the 1947 slaying of Sydney S. Petrie, 55, shot during an attempted bank holdup in Vancouver. It was one of the most cold-blooded murders in the city's history.

His arrest Thursday came on the tip of John Moore, a shoe store manager in suburban North York.

Chief Constable Roy Risebrough of North York said Moore identified the suspect from posters he had seen in the police station. Earlier reports said Palukoff was identified from pictures in detective magazines.

$2 IN POCKET

Pavlukoff had $2 in his pocket at the time of arrest, police said. They added that Vancouver police, expected to arrive by plane tonight, will interrogate him.

When police searched Pavlukoff they found several hacksaw and razor blades taped inside the seam of his trousers. A 12-page letter to his mother in Vancouver was found in his pocket saying that he had four years of freedom already and "wanted to make it five."

Just what he has done since the slaying of Petrie Aug. 25, 1947, and the time of arrest is not definitely known. It is believed he worked as a carpenter in Toronto since the spring and had also worked in several other cities.

Pavlukoff was well dressed when picked up. Police said they had received two calls from the informant who recognized Pavlukoff from descriptions in detective magazines. The first call was several days ago; the second Thursday told where the man could be found.

He was living in a downtown rooming house. His landlady said he locked his door at night and "pulled the shade down so low it won't open any more." But he "never bothered anyone."

ELIGIBLE FOR REWARD

The informant will be eligible for a special $5,000 reward posted by the Canadian Bankers Association if Pavlukoff is convicted of Petrie's murder.

Petrie, during a one-man holdup of the Kitsilano branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, tried to thwart the robbery and was shot in the abdomen. He died 30 minutes later. The gunman fled without any of the $4,000 in cash in the bank.

The bank manager had routed two bandits from the bank in a gun battle 17 years before and at first it was thought his murder was a revenge killing.

Search for the gunman was first concentrated at Kitsilano beach, then swung to the Surrey area of the Fraser valley.

A month later the hunt switched to Calgary. Then other leads were followed up without success.

Canada Prepares

(Rep. Mich.) scheduled to be the new chairman of the House of Representatives public works committee, told a reporter it would be "stupid" to permit all-Canadian control.

CONNSIDERED BY COMMITTEE

He now is preparing legislation to authorize U. S. participation in the project. The bill will be considered first by his committee.

Similar legislation is being drafted by Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) chairman-designate of the Senate foreign relations committee. Other seaway bills already have been offered or are being prepared.

Truman, in his message, recalled that hydro-electric development of the river — the other phase of the international project — already has been settled so far as Canada is concerned.

The Ontario hydro-electric commission has been designated by the Canadian Parliament to build the Canadian share of the power works which, when joined with those on the U.S. side of the river, will produce annually more than 12,000,000,000 kilowatt hours.

New York state is one of two U.S. entities seeking a federal power commission licence to build the U.S.' part of the power works. The other is a private New Jersey corporation. Both applications are ending before the commission.

COULD CURB PROJECT

In the event commission authorization is not forthcoming, Canada will not be able to proceed with its half of the power project. But Canada has affirmed that such action will in no way deter it from building an all-Canadian seaway.

Refusal of such a licence by the power commission is not anticipated. But if the commission should deny a licence, provision will be made in seaway bills—particularly the one to be offered by Wiley—for New York to proceed with the U.S. share of the works.

Many presidential appeals have been made for legislation to authorize the joint seaway and power project but Congress never has yielded to them.

Frost Expects Legislature Open Feb. 12

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Leslie Frost said Thursday the Ontario legislature will probably open its spring session Feb. 12.

He said the date for releasing the municipal board's findings on the proposed amalgamation of Toronto and 12 surrounding municipalities was not decided.

Another important document that members may be able to consider is an interim report from a special committee on provincial-municipal relations.

The committee has been hearing briefs of the municipalities and other bodies for two years. The final report may not be ready for some years and experts do not expect the problem to be solved in less than 10, but the interim report will provide a basis for discussion.

PRESSURE FELT

Pressure from municipalities and members may bring some upward revision of municipal grants at this session, but the government believes a Dominion-provincial conference is the only way to a permanent solution of the taxation question.

What form the increased municipal grants will take will likely only be revealed when Premier Frost delivers his budget speech in March.

Other legislation may include amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Highways Act, while work will continue in the welfare department on possible changes in child welfare legislation.

Mrs. Pitre Dies On Gallows

MONTREAL (CP)—The last chapter of the fantastic case of the time-bombing of an airliner that brought death to 23 persons more than three years ago is ended.

Early today in Montreal's Bordeaux jail, Mrs. Arthur Pitre, buxom, 43-year-old Quebec widow, was hanged for her part in the bizarre affair that snuffed out the lives of all aboard the plane that crashed near Sault au Cochon, Que., Sept. 9, 1949.

Mrs. Pitre, charged with delivering the time-bomb to the plane, was the third to mount the scaffold for the crime.

The stocky Mrs. Pitre dropped through the trap at 12:35 a.m. EST after the possibility of a reprieve failed to materialize. She was pronounced dead 15 minutes later by Dr. Romeo Plouffe, jail physician.

HALIFAX (CP)—The destroyer Iroquois steamed home Thursday from a six-month tour of duty in Korean waters where more than 80 per cent of her young crew members had their first taste of enemy gunfire.

Her skipper, 36-year-old Capt. William M. Landymore, of Brantford said morale was "excellent" throughout the ship's operations but, like all Canadian servicemen in the area, his crew was disappointed at a lack of recreational facilities in Japan.

The destroyer became the first Canadian vessel to suffer casualties in the Korean war when a shell from an enemy shore battery ripped into her decks near a forward gun, killing an officer and two men.

"We were about three miles offshore, right under the enemy guns, bombarding the coast south of Sonjin," Capt. Landymore told reporters. "We were just moving off when the shell hit us. It was very accurate fire."

The skipper had nothing but praise for the behavior of his men after the blast.

"The conduct of everyone was just exactly what was expected. . . . 15 seconds later the gun was back in action."

Iroquois operated with United States, British, Australian and New Zealand ships and relations were "most co-operative."

Although his crew had frequent contact with the Japanese, Capt. Landymore said their "absolutely perfect" behavior made them "the best ambassadors I've ever known . . . I know of not a single unpleasant incident between a crew member of this ship and a Japanese national."

Believe 32 Of 41 In Crew Rescued As Tanker Splits

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese maritime safety board said tonight 32 of the 41 men aboard the shattered Swedish tanker Avanti are believed to be safe aboard rescue vessels in the gale-whipped Pacific.

The board said it confirmed the rescue of 21 crew members by the Japanese ship Kanazu Maru and it had an unconfirmed report that 11 more were picked up by the British ship Eastern.

The new radio report, which came by way of another ship and not direct from the Eastern, said all bridge officers of the Avanti were killed after the ship broke up 240 miles northeast of Okinawa. This also was unconfirmed.

The board ordered its own patrol craft to verify the information.

The board earlier quoted rescued crew members aboard the Kanazu Maru as saying eight men were known dead.

That, with 32 rescued, would leave only one crew member unaccounted for.

HEAR 12 MISSING

The newspaper Asahi said its radio station picked up a report from a Japanese patrol boat in the area, quoting the rescued crew members as saying eight are dead and 12 missing in the disaster.

Those reported dead were the skipper, Capt. Goesta Ronge; the chief engineer, first engineer, steward, a stoker and three other crew members. The report did not say how or when the men died.

The maritime safety board said its reports on the Avanti were so scanty that it could not say whether the broken sections had sunk.

A U. S. Air Force B-29 said it directed the Japanese ship Kanazu Maru to a lifeboat off Okinawa today, apparently containing some of the rescued men.

The Avanti, registered out of Gothenburg, had a crew of 40 men from nine countries in addition to its Swedish captain. The 10,034-gross ton tanker was built in 1946.

NO FRESH WORD

There was no fresh word on another ship in trouble in the windlashed Pacific, the Panamanian freighter Santa Despo. The Santa Despo was last reported out of control in raging seas about 600 miles north of Midway Island.

The British freighter King Edgar, another victim of the angry Pacific, reported she had made necessary repairs and was heading for Honolulu. The report said no assistance was neeeed and the freighter hoped to reach Honolulu Saturday.

Off the California coast another stricken vessel limped toward port. The lumber schooner Cynthia Olson, buffeted by high winds and mountainous seas Wednesday night, reported she was out of danger and proceeding slowly to San Pedro, Calif., instead of to San Francisco.

Commission To Buy Radio For Motorcycle

Police commission Thursday voted $550 for a radio for the police department's new motorcycle.

Chief Thompson mentioned that it was possible the frequency of the force's private transmitter might be ordered changed, but Magistrate Philp cut short argument on this point with the comment:

"We heard all this four years ago; it may not change for another five years." He made a motion for purchase of the radio, which passed unanimously.

Pigeon Races Planned After 20-Year Lapse

For the first time in 20 years racing pigeon enthusiasts in Peterborough plan on getting into the air once again. The club—the Peterborough Racing Pigeon Club—held their first meeting on Thursday night at the home of president Ivan Ellicott.

Main discussion of the evening was about equipment needed for the first flying season. Proposed flying routes were also considered and of the two routes, east into Quebec and west into Michigan, members will decide later which of these they will use. They may use both, president Ellicott said.

The last enthusiastic breeder and racer of pigeons was the late Police Chief Newhall who maintained a large loft of birds on McKellar St.

Club members hope others will join in this interesting hobby and say that information may be obtained from club secretary, Bob Hewitt, phone 8390.

Mrs. Gladys Martin, 50 of 46 Ware St., received a cut on the head late Thursday afternoon when her head was knocked against a rear-vision mirror as a result of a two-car accident near Cottesloe.

It was one of two district accidents reported to provincial police on Thursday. Slippery road conditions are blamed for both accidents.

ON SHARP CURVE

Mrs. Martin was a front-seat passenger in the car of Russell Williams, 52, of 46 Ware St. They collided with a westbound car, driven by Thomas Webster, 35, RR 1, Warsaw, on a sharp curve, five miles southeast of Warsaw.

She was given first aid treatment by a doctor and did not require hospital treatment.

About $1,000 damage was done to the cars. The whole front end of the Webster car was wrecked. The grill was badly damaged and the hood was sprung back to the door of the 1948 model. The left-front fender of Williams' 1951 car was smashed.

OPP Constable Ernest Lunn investigated.

The front right fender, bumper and grill were damaged.

OPP Constable Gordon Gray investigated.

Two Cars Damaged In Noon Traffic

An estimated $650 damage to the two vehicles resulted but ne one was injured Wednesday noon, when two cars collided at Wolfe and Reid Sts., Thursday noon.

The accident occurred as cars driven by Joseph W. St. Thomas, 485 Albert St., who was going north on Reid St., and Stafford Genereaux, 466 Bonaccord St., who was going north on Reid St., collided.

Constable Harold Andrew who investigated reported the two cars collided as Genereaux was making a left hand turn to go north on Reid St.

Damage to the St. Thomas car was estimated at $500 and $150 damage resulted to the other car. Both vehicles were damaged in the front end.

Truck Operators Back At Work

MONTREAL (CP) — Members of the Professional Dump Truck Association returned to work, today after accepting increased rates for garbage and snow removal offered by the city.

The private operators of about 200 trucks, hired by the city, voted late Thursday night to accept rates offered Monday when they went on strike.

The new rates will be $2.25, covering cost of truck operation and the chauffeur's wages, for garbage removal and $2.16 for snow.

Police arrested 25 men and seized a truck loaded with sticks and stones Wednesday when violence threatened in the strike. The men were ordered for preliminary hearing next Wednesday.

The association had asked $2.75 an hour from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and $3.50 after that and if called out Sunday, holidays or for emergency. It was also asked that the city hire trucks only from the association. These demands were not met by the city.

OTTAWA.—R. A. Farquharson, former managing editor of The Globe and Mail, and one of Canada's best known newspapermen, will be appointed director of information for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was learned here today.

Mr. Farquharson will leave at the end of the month for Paris, where he will take up residence. He was in Paris with Defense Minister Claxton in December, attending the meeting of the NATO Council.

Mr. Newton, who was formerly Canadian consul in Boston, will return to the department here. His next appointment has not yet been announced.

Mr. Farquharson began his newspaper career as a reporter on The Globe shortly after the First World War. He went to The Mail and Empire in 1927, later becoming managing editor there.

The Annual Meeting of Shareholders

Free Exchange Rates, Lower Tariffs, Encouragement of Foreign Investment, Keys to Healthier Economy, Says President

Urges dollar countries to remove excessive trade barriers and customs formalities. "Canada serves high moral purpose and own self-interest by accepting her present-day responsibilities."

Canada's dependence on the world economy, and her responsibility to it because of her increased importance in the world was the main theme of the annual address of James Muir, President, at the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada. Self-interest and high moral purpose, he said, lead in the case of Canada to a common goal: the rehabilitation of the world economy. Reliance on the free price system, he felt, is prerequisite to the removal of numerous obstacles to healthy world trade which exists today.

"Unfortunately the world's economic ills are more easily diagnozed than cured," said Mr. Muir. "The most spectacular symptom is, of course, the so-called shortage of dollars which still persists seven years after the end of the Second World War.

"In international trade, goods must be paid for either in the exporter's currency or in funds that are freely convertible into that currency. The world chooses to buy goods and services from the United States and Canada at such a rate that, even with the multitude of restrictions imposed by the importing countries, dollar payments for imports exceed dollar earnings from exports by more than $5 billions per year.

THE DOLLAR SHORTAGE

"Exchange control can check the loss of dollar reserves for a time, but it does nothing to combat, indeed it may intensify, the underlying unbalance that causes the dollar drain. In contrast, a free rate moves automatically to restore balance in the international accounts.

"I do not mean to say, nor have I ever said, that free exchange rates will solve the whole problem; there is no simple solution. Nevertheless, it is surely unwise to forego the advantages of a free market merely because after its adoption, some problems will still remain.

"In the short run, the dollar countries should act without delay to remove excessive tariff barriers and customs formalities that now present unnecessary obstacles to overseas imports. Canada, especially, has much to gain by reducing the preponderance of U.S. goods among her imports; and at the same time the release in this way of extra dollars to overseas countries would tend to reduce Canada's dependence on the U.S. export market.

"In the long run, an investment programme will be of the greatest importance in correcting the fundamental economic weakness that lays our allies open to recurring dollar crises. Briefly, investment may provide relief in three main ways: first, soft-currency countries may concentrate their domestic investment on industries producing dollar-earning exports or producing goods which otherwise would have to be imported from the dollar area; second, dollar area countries may concentrate their foreign investment in the same types of industry; and third, the soft-currency countries may make direct dollar-earning investments in the dollar area itself.

PROBLEMS OF INVESTMENT

"The way to encourage private investment in underdeveloped countries is not to creat another international lending agency but to secure a general elimination or reduction of the present restrictions in these countries on the repatriation of earnings, on the capitalization of earnings which are not or cannot be transferred, and on the effective control by its owners over equity capital when the majority interest resides outside the underdeveloped countries.

"In the last analysis, international investment and economic development depend upon a change of heart in the underdeveloped countries themselves. I believe this change will be easier if those countries adopt the short-run monetary and exchange-rate policies I have already discussed. Any easing of the dollar shortage by these means will make it easier to transfer interest, dividends, and capital sums out of these countries; and the mere power to withdraw will in turn encourage new investment and thus create a further improvement in the exchange position of these countries. Nevertheless, the will must be there if healthy long-run investment is to be encourged; and no plan or assistance programme or investment institution can serve as a substitute.

"EASY" CREDIT CAN BE COSTLY TO CONSUMER

Three devices, Mr. Muir said, had been available to correct the lull in business which had occurred early in 1952. These were tax reductions, price reductions, and easier credit terms. Despite some reductions in excise taxes, the effect of the 1952-53 budget had been to impose a heavier over-all burden of taxation; price reductions, while they had occurred to some extent, played a relatively small part in the revival of trade which took place towards the halfway mark of 1952.

"It was the third device," he said, "that of easier credit terms, which was apparently chosen by business and government as the means to restore a stronger current of business activity. Consumer credit controls were abolished on May 6th, 1952, and the voluntary restrictions on bank lending were removed, at the suggestion of the Bank of Canada, on May 20, 1952. We are experiencing the buoyant effects of these decisions. Indeed, there is some evidence that the decline in activity has been over-corrected, and that inflation has again become a threat to the economy.

"So-called 'easy' consumer credit can be most costly both to the consumer and to the economy as a whole. The effect on sales is immediate and gratifying to business; but repayment of the debt by the public in the future may well result in an enforced reduction in consumer spending on durable goods to a level quite as low and depressing as that which followed our pre-budget buying spree of 1951. If this reduction were to occur along with other deflationary factors, such as heavy inventories and a reduction or a levelling off in armament expenditure, our present boom might seem, in retrospect, an unsound and temporary one. Indeed, the economic pattern today bears no little similarity to that of 1928 and 1929. Then, as in 1952, the expansion of consumer instalment credit played an important part in increasing sales at a time when raw material prices were on a steady decline. The result then, as in 1952, could only be a concealed inflation with its attendant dangers.

"I believe that a sounder prosperity in 1952 would have resulted from greater use of the two other corrective devices, namely tax and price reductions. These interact with and reinforce one another in promoting a healthy expansion; in other words, the expansion they promote will not be based on the shifting sands of consumer credit."

BASIS FOR OPTIMISM

Mr. Muir concluded with an appeal to Canadians to exercise discretion when discussing Canada's prospects to their friends in other countries. "It may be pleasant," he said, "to have one's nation regarded highly abroad; but the boom psychology that prompts even small investors in other countries to rush into Canadian securities should teach us caution. Both our good repute and our long-term prosperity will be far safer if we do not oversell Canada now. Let us then temper our private optimism with a little public caution, especially when we are talking to Canada's many friends abroad.

"Canada made a valuable contribution to the revival of faith in the traditional price mechanism when she freed the dollar in September, 1950, and removed all exchange controls a little over a year later. In other countries there are legitimate differences of opinion on whether or not the time has come to make a similar dash for freedom. But there is a surprising amount of agreement that ultimately this is what must be done.

"Our country is young, its economic system is strong, and its capacity for growth will put our resources of imagination and enterprise to a severe but welcome test. This is what we should remember when we become too greatly impressed with the difficulties still ahead of us. There is little excuse for gloom in a young country that even now stands confidently on the threshold of national greatness."

General Manager Reports Assets Over $2.6 Billions

T. H. Atkinson, General Manager, in reviewing the bank's 1952 report, stated that total assets of The Royal Bank of Canada have now reached the imposing total of $2,691,456,873. This, he said, was a new high mark in Canadian banking history, and is the highest ever reported by any Canadian bank.

Deposits likewise had reached record totals, said Mr. Atkinson. They now stand at $2,527,510,437, an increase of approximately $176,000,000 over the previous year. "This increase," said Mr. Atkinson, "reflects not only substantially higher balances in the names of former clients but has been accompanied by a record making number of new names on our books. The number of deposit accounts on the books of the bank now exceeds 2,250,000, an increase of well over 100,000 during the year."

Mr. Atkinson reported profits for the year had increased $1,762,382 over the previous year. After providing for taxes, depreciation and dividends, including an additional dividend of $875,000 (at the rate of 25c per share), the bank transferred $3,000,000 to Reserve Fund, which now stands at $55,000,000.

The bank's programme of improvement to branches, which has gone on steadily since the end of the war, continued during the year to provide the public and staff with modern, up-to-date facilities and surroundings. Some 275 branches were provided with new or improved premises, 18 new branches were opened, and a further seven are in the course of preparation.

ROYAL BANK ABROAD

Mr. Atkinson reviewed the history of the bank's extensive organization abroad, pointing out that its growth had followed actual or potential channels for Canadian trade development. Offices were established only after a careful survey on the ground to ascertain whether the field was adequately banked, and if not, whether the bank could not only service Canada's export trade, but could contribute something worthwhile to the business community in the particular country, and operate on a reasonably profitable basis.

"The volume of business transacted by our foreign branches remains very substantial indeed, and profitable. During the past year, our overseas chain has again demonstrated its worth as an important complement to our Canadian organization. Not only was this so from the standpoint of record earnings, but the contribution made in the direction of business to the Canadian field through contacts established abroad was well worth while. As has been said in our published reports of previous years, through our extensive overseas direct representation plus our world-wide relations with correspondent banks and the specialized departments we operate in Canada to aid traders, we are proud of the services we provide and also of the contribution we make towards facilitating traders, the value of which can hardly be assessed in a nation which ranks third in world trade.

PRAISE FOR STAFF

"It is a daily occurrence in Head Office to receive letters indicating that at one point or another some member of the staff has gone out of his or her way to deal kindly and thoughtfully with the problems of a client. Public opinion of a bank is by and large the opinion held of individual branches of the bank so that our reputation is largely dependent on the department and actions of branch personnel. That it is in good hands amply evident.

"All expanding business inevitably places increased demands on the staff and in the past year we are well aware that at many points our officers have been faced with difficulties which at the moment may have seemed insurmountable. In no case, however, was there the slightest evidence of a breakdown in service to the public and so, on behalf of the executive officers of the bank, I say a heartfelt "thank you" to the staff. In turn, on their behalf, I have no hestitation in assuring the directors and shareholders that the demands of the future will be met by the staff in the efficient, warm and friendly manner they have displayed in the past."

Appeal Dismissed

COBOURG—Judge M. A. Miller has handed down a judgment dismissing the appeal of Homer Mockler, Grafton hotel-keeper, against a conviction registered last summer of keeping liquor for sale. A sentence of two months in jail was imposed and Mockler appealed. The charge followed a raid by provincial police on his premises last May.

Expensive Geese

KITCHENER (CP)—Two geese cost a district resident $70 Robert Siack, 19, was fined $45 Wednesday for stealing the geese from a nearby farm New Year's Eve and was ordered to pay the owner $25 as restitution.

The 1953 County Council

In spite of higher taxes and increased assessments the electors of the fifteen municipalities composing Peterborough County have endorsed the actions of the 1952 County Council. In these municipal elections, which formerly were held on the first Monday in January, only two reeves failed to receive endorsation at the polls and they have been replaced by veterans of many years experience in municipal politics. The other changes in the 1953 council will be the addition of two men, both deputy reeves, one from Dummer township and the other from Belmont and Methuen, as both these municipalities are now entitled to a second representative.

* * *

The list of the members of Peterborough County Council seldom undergoes radical change from year to year and this is borne out by the fact that many of the members of the new council have years of experience in municipal politics. There is William Griffith who returns after a year's absence as reeve of Belmont and Methuen. He first became a member of the County Council years before Peterborough thought of joining the Good Roads System and when the automobile was starting to appear on the county roads. He is the last of the colourful, outspoken old-timers in municipal politics. Then there is Rork Ferguson, reeve of Norwood, who has the distinction of having represented three municipalities down through the years on the County Council; James Gifford, reeve of Ennismore, who has 19 years continuous service on the council; James Humphries, reeve of Asphodel, who has served nine years; Norman Wilson, reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther and Peter Pearson, reeve of Galway and Cavendish, each of whom has served eight years. These along with Richard Stewart, reeve of Otonabee, have all occupied the warden's chair. Two other men with long experience are Ernest J. Leeson, reeve of Havelock, with seven years and William Grant, reeve of Lakefield, who returns after a year off the Board, with six years' previous experience.

* * *

The two new deputies are Walter Sloan with eight years on the Dummer council and George Newton, a councillor for 13 years in Belmont and Methuen.

* * *

When the County Council meets on January 20 for its inaugural meeting the first duty will be to elect a warden and the two expected to enter the contest are Mr. Leeson and Mr. Grant.

* * *

The days are past when education was a major preoccupation of county councillors, although it still remains an important problem in the municipalities. The county high school area boards have taken over the administration of the secondary education and their demands are made directly on the townships and villages. The county council's main financial concern now is not school matters, but coping with the ever-increasing demand for better roads. In the 1952 county levy $99,162 was set aside for county roads and only $13,379 for education.

* * *

Another change in the municipal configuration this year is the annexation of a portion of Smith township by the city of Peterborough. But even with this loss in assessment of roughly $400,000 Smith still remains the highest assessed township in the county.

Visiting Debaters

Two undergraduates from Cambridge are in Canada, touring the eastern universities, where they will debate with local teams. The Cambridge men are Michael Hydleman, who is 22, a student of law and vice-president of the university Liberal Club, and Hugh Thomas, who is 21, a student of history and treasurer of the Cambridge University Conservative Association. They will debate at Carleton College, Queen's, Western, Varsity and McGill on a variety of topics, some light-hearted and some seriously political. A typical subject is "Resolved that Woman has come into more than her own and this House regrets it."

We comment upon this visit because we have previously deplored the falling-off of the debating habit in our Canadian universities. There is plenty of argument in all universities, but argument and debate are not the same. Only in formal debate can the strategy of effective parliamentary speaking be learned. It is not too hard to be persuasive when one speaks alone, but the debater must not only put his own case clearly, but must foresee and forestall the case which will be put by his opponent.

The great debating societies of Oxford and Cambridge have been nurses to innumerable parliamentarians and Cabinet members. We have no effective equivalent of those societies in Canada, not because the universities would not welcome them, but because our young men do not greatly care about them. Our Canadian dislike of analytical thought and eloquent speech stand in the way of the development of first-rate university debating, from which a great deal of later first-rate parliamentary debating may be expected to spring. The visits, in past years from teams of English university debaters, have been helpful in rousing interest in debating here, and we wish Mr. Hydleman and Mr. Thomas well in their journey; we do not, however, wish them invariable success; we should like to see them defeated by Canadian opponents.

Accidents Will Happen

It is said that more accidents happen in the home than on the highways. The success of the municipal police efforts in Toronto, Peterborough and other centres, and the circumspection or fear of the drivers over the New Year holiday support the statement. Peterborough got off free of injury on New Year's Eve; there was only one car accident, and only the vehicle was damaged.

Accidents happen, despite care and common sense. Some accidents occur under the most bizarre circumstances, but lack of care or common sense usually contribute to these. The American National Safety Council had presented a 1952 survey of accidents, which contains a usual number of freaks. A woman talking at the telephone gestured so violently that she broke her arm. And, mind you, it wasn't a television telephone. (We have even known a person to smile into an ordinary telephone.) A small boy trying to imitate a ballet-dancer whom he was watching on TV broke his hip. A Mr. Julius Monroe of Baltimore was shot through the shoulder while asleep with his pet rabbit — the rabbit tripped the trigger of Munroe's .22 rifle which was lying on a chair near the bed.

Several narrow escapes from death are recorded in the survey. An Indiana man speeding toward a railway crossing slammed on his brakes too late. An express train travelling at seventy-five miles an hour sheared off the front of the car a few inches from the windshield. The rest of the car and the driver were unscratched.

The Kosics of Nevada were wheeling along a high-speed highway. A bee bumbled into the car and buzzed. Mrs. Kossic and her mother began swatting at the bee. They missed it and swatted Mr. Kosic instead. The car went off the highway at seventy miles an hour, turned over three times and finally disintegrated. The only injury received by the Kosic family was the bump on Mr. Kosic's head where the women had swatted him.

These incidents prove that, to avoid accidents, one should not go to bed with a rabbit, race a train to the crossing, or lunge at bees in a moving car. You cannot always count on a clean cut-off by the train, an unscathing triple bounce by the car, or even that the rabbit will take aim and fire.

Newfoundland Foghorn

On December 4 we published a long and, if we may say so, carefully reasoned and documented leading editorial in which we replied to assertions on the part of the St. John's Daily News that Newfoundland had sustained loss by Confederation, and that the rest of Canada had gained. There was not a crumb of truth in what the News had to say; we gave factual proof of that in our article, and invited the News to refute our facts, if it could.

The reply of the News astonishes us. We thought that journalism of this sort had vanished sixty years ago. No attempt is made to reply to us on a footing of reason; blind prejudice and a tangle of disordered rhetoric are made to do duty for facts. What we brought forward in statistical proof that Newfoundland has, in fact, made a good bargain, is dismissed as "the parochialism of central Canada"; our argument is waved aside as "evasive and specious". It was nothing of the kind; it was cold fact, every word of it backed up by official figures.

Let us tell the News another fact. The newspapers of the Canadian mainland gave up the kind of foghorn editorializing which it specializes in several decades ago. Frenzied shouting in print proves nothing and advances nothing. The chagrin of some Newfoundlanders at being taken into the Confederation is understandable, and although we do not agree with it, we can understand it and in a measure sympathize with it. But mere mendacious assertions are not argument, and we shall address the News no more, until it recognizes facts as facts.

A dentist says that hypnotism can make his work painless. We presume that he would think poorly of a further simplification—using hypnotism to make the toothache painless and thus eliminating him altogether?

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: Some months ago, in the semi-anaesthetized condition of the early morning traveller, the writer floated by a way-station sign which bore the name DRANOEL, relapsed into a coma, and awoke at his destination, imbued with the startling revelation that this sign spelled LEONARD in reverse. Whose whimsy is responsible for this?

ANSWER: I do not know. Perhaps some old railroad men can supply the information. These personal quiddities are not uncommon in this country in the naming of railway stations. There is one in the west which combines the first two letters of the Christian names of a divisional engineer's four daughters. I admire your deft backward-reading eye. I had always thought Dranöel was a sort of Indian name for the nymphs who live there.

DEAR ALPHA: What exactly is the meaning of "gouache," a word which I came across in a newspaper article on art. My dictionaries do not contain it, yet it is not a new word since the "speaking" book, a centennial thesaurus of words, rather, ideas, gives it in a list of art ideas without describing a real meaning of the word or its use.

ANSWER: Gouache is not as wild or wicked as it sounds, although some gouaches are pretty wild, wicked and exciting, particularly modern ones. Gouache is opaque watercolour, a mode of painting with water colours mixed with gum, or a picture painted with such pigments. Some great painters use gouache — Giotto, for instance. The word comes from Italian "guazzo."

BIG BELL: Heard at Christmas eve was the largest bell in North America. It is the great bell of Notre-Dame Cathedral, Place d'Armes, Montreal. The bell weighs more than ten tons and its weight and the reverberations are so strong that it is seldom rung, for fear of knocking down the tower in which it hangs. The bell is eight feet, seven inches in diameter at the bottom and nearly six feet high. The great metal clapper itself weighs 1,100 pounds. The bell was brought from England in 1874 aboard the "Ottawa." It took four days to get the bell out of the hold of the ship and on to a cart. The cart sank into the wharf and made tracks along the streets. The Latin inscription on the bell says it was "a gift of the merchants, farmers and artisans of Ville-Marie." Ville-Marie was the old name for the community of Montreal. The bell is now rung electrically. In the old days when it was rung by hand, ten men were needed to start it, and four to keep it going.

SIR: If an H-bomb is exploded on the world would it wipe out all of New York. If several H-bombs were exploded where would Canada be? Don't you think we should take the H-bomb more seriously?

ANSWER: Canada would be with N.Y.; hell-and-gone up in the air, I suppose. Take comfort, my friends; every new weapon has always sounded worse than it is. Man has not yet reached the ultimate folly: to blow himself off the face of the earth. If you have any influence with the hydrogen people, tell them to drop their salvoes on Great Bear Lake. The lake might be made bare of uranium but Peterborough would survive.

ALPHA wishes to thank several readers who kindly sent him Christmas cards . . . Some of you have been inquiring the whereabouts of Omega. To be frank, until Christmas, Alpha had lost his track. Then — I mean yesterday not Christmas, for Omega always sends his cards off just the day before Christmas — a card came from Omega. He is in Amsterdam; whether or not blowing with the concert orchestra there I cannot say. It was a pretty card of a windmill and a punt on one of the canals. Inside the card was a scrawl in Omega's hand and this printed legend: "Prettige Kerstdagen en Gelukkig Nieuwjaar." A very pretty greeting indeed, don't you think?

DEAR ALPHA: A recent news item stated that the gold mining interests were applying to the government for a $3,000,000 hand-out although they had already received from the same source this year $10,800,000 and had been forced to draw on their reserves in order to pay dividends.

Has our government any legal right to hand out money from the public taxes to bolster up unsuccessful private industries? If the ore is of such low grade that it costs more to mine and process than it is worth, then by all logical reasoning the business is a failure. Why not sell out and close up as the rest of us have to do if we cannot make our business pay?

They had the nerve to admit that they had a reserve and were paying dividends from it, what kind of salaries do the management of this money-losing concern draw?

Before handing out vast sums of public money to this concern do the authorities investigate and make sure that the mines are run efficiently?

From reports that appear from time to time in the press they do not even go to the trouble of properly guarding the gold bricks they make and they are frequently stolen either at the mines or in transit and accounts get into the paper of the partly processed material being stolen while being processed and in all probability for every man caught helping himself a dozen others get away with it and are not even suspected.

Human nature being what it is does anyone worry about trying to make the place pay? They probably take the attitude of "why hurt yourself — this joint cannot go on the rocks — the government will always hand out as many millions as we care to ask for."

RESPONSE: Hmmm.

COUNTRY NOTE: Alpha has been in the habit of putting a "For The Record" footnote to this column, although, he has to admit that sometimes there was little worthy of new record. He has lately taken to spending a day or two in the country every week, and proposes to footnote the column, for a time at least, with a "Country Note."

My first observation is this: there is more and bigger air in the country. You may not notice it in summer, but in winter the fact is pervasive. So a countryman goes to inordinate pains to let as little air get into his house as possible.

In my part of the country storm windows are not put on in the fall — they are left on all year around, from generation to generation, although some farmers now take off the storm sashes on the south side of their houses, to let in a little June and July air. In winter, rooms are shut off from the rest of the house, leaving only the kitchen and a minimum of bedrooms accessible. And often only the kitchen is habitable, with its friendly wood stove. "Come on in and put your feet in the oven" is the countryman's warm welcome.

The front door, nominally open for visitors in summer (who of course, are never as formal as to use it) is sealed off with putty and boards.

These special efforts to keep air out and hold tight to what warm air is inside seem necessary no matter how new and well insulated the house, or how stuffed with rags and newspapers the cracks between frames, floor-boards and walls.

The fact is that in the country there is more air and wind, with no neighbouring houses to protect each other from the wind and share the heat which goes out the chimneys . . . I have been in only one country house in my life which was not either stuffy or draughty in winter.

HE ERRED

It was his wife's birthday, but he had rushed to business in a great hurry, and she feared that he had forgotten all about it. When, however, he returned home before his usual time, kissed her, and put a small packet on the table, she knew that she had done him an injustice.

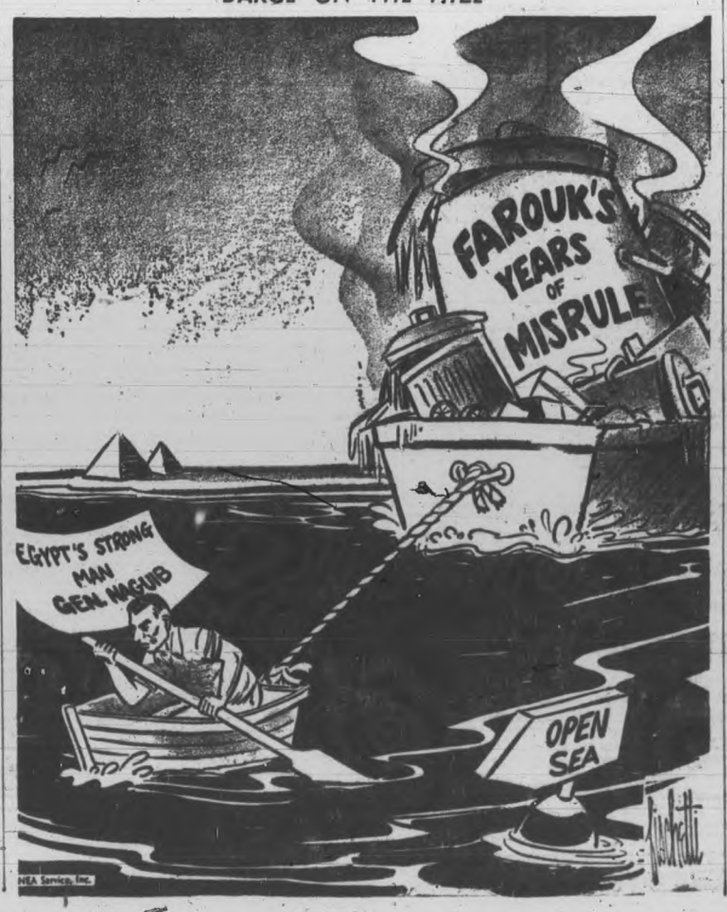
"And I thought you had forgotten all about me," she said, as she carefully unwrapped the package. Then she looked blank. "Pipe cleaners!" she gasped.

WHY FRENCH CABINETS COLLAPSE SO READILY

Ye Newe Faerylande

(THE TIMES, LONDON)

OUR forefathers stood slightly in awe of fairies. Though capable, if suitably propitiated, of being benevolent and even useful, fairies were after all supernatural beings and their conduct was often mischievous and sometimes spiteful. Today, though we recognize the existence of a few Bad Fairies (they will probably be reclassified by the next generation as Maladjusted Fairies), we think of the Little People as being innocuous, decorative neutrals, lacking the will to hurt us or the power to help us. It is even occasionally possible to discern the half formulated desire that fairyland should be turned into a kind of satellite or annexe of the Welfare State, and this trend has seldom been more clearly illustrated than in recent issue of the "Herts Advertiser and St. Albans Times."



One Hertfordshire community, our contemporary reports, is going to celebrate the Coronation by transforming itself into fairyland. "On its greens it is proposed to erect fairy shelters, grottoes, wishing wells, witches' kitchens, toadstools, rustic arches with garlands of flowers, fairy lights, &c.," and these amenities will be graced by "a galaxy of fairies, prixies, elves, nymphs, gnomes, and goblins."

Their revels are to culminate, with singular felicity, in "a procession of about one hundred illuminated and decorated private cars, all sounding their hooters," and at a still later stage of the proceedings there will be "explosions of a fairy-like character." It is hoped — perhaps a little optimistically in view of their more mundane commitments during coronation week— to induce the Life Guards to provide the fairy band.

Delightful though all this sounds, there are one or two items in the program in which the modern, functional conception of fairyland is clearly implicit. "After the assembly of fairies in their shelters," there is to be a revel called "Highway Code." Fifty fairy policemen are to give "instruction . . . which would be of an educational character" to "fairies with their fairy cycles and cars," and later on there will be "the sweeping of fairyland by the fairies in keeping with the anti-litter idea."

Their intention here is admirable, and the projects show how far we have progressed from the dark days of Puck and Pease-blossom, who had little or no civic sense and behaved in a consistenly frivolous and frequently anti-social manner. But might it not have been prudent, before deciding to create a sham fairyland on so comprehensive a scale to have got some sort of planning permission from the real fairies? It is true that the horns of elfland faintly blowing will not be heard above the massed blast of a hundred hooters; but there are a number of other ways in which the Little People could sabotage the festivities if these proved, for any reason, not wholly to their taste.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting. (Ps. 139: 23, 24.)

And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. (Luke 17: 5.)

And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. (Luke 18: 9-14.)

Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up. (James 4: 10.)

Yukon Power

(Windsor Star)

Resources Minister Robert H. Winters has rejected a plan whereby waters would be siphoned out of the Yukon to provide power for a $400,000,000 aluminum industry at Skagway, Alaska. Canadians, we think, will endorse his attitude.

That this Alaska industry would compete with the Canadian aluminum industry in British Columbia and Quebec is one aspect of it, though not necessarily the most important one in principle. It is rather that the development would accrue to the benefit of Skagway, Alaska, rather than the Yukon. Very little employment would be provided in Canada; that would be in Skagway. The profits, as well as the employment, provided by a Canadian resource would go outside the country.

There are plenty of sites for an aluminum smelter in the Yukon. If the Aluminum Company of America wishes to use Canada's Yukon waters, there certainly will be no objection—provided it uses them in Canada. A $400,000,000 plant in the Yukon would be a fine asset.

The Greeks Had a Way

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Twelve hundred little bits of pottery have recently been prised lovingly out of the soil of ancient Athens. There is nothing in the report of Dr. Homer Thompson who was in charge of the excavation, to suggest that these fragments have any particular artistic merit.

They reflect not the Greeks' love of beauty but their hatred of tyranny. The bits of pottery were ballots. They were known as ostraka and they played an essential part in the classical practice of ostracism.

Once each year the citizens of Athens had the privilege of gathering in the agora to forestall the towering ambitions any of their statesmen might be harbouring. The politician who had been unwary enough to disclose by word or action his secret lust for power might find that all he had earned for his pains was oblivion.

Let his name turn up on 10,000 ostraka and he would be forced to pack his bags for a 10-year sojourn in the wilderness. This was not exile in the harsh Roman sense of the term; the banished stateman would regain both his property and his social standing when he returned, presumably chastened, to Athens.

Not Two Wrongs, But Just One

(Ottawa Journal)

After two men had been hanged in Toronto last month for the cold-blooded murder of a police constable a newspaper columnist in that city wondered in print if the capital penalty so imposed had served any useful purpose—if, as he put it, "two wrongs make a right."

The shocking thing about that statement is the assumption that the execution of the two murderers after a fair trial was a crime to match in iniquity their deliberate shooting down of a detective who stopped their car to question them about a robbery.

Capital punishment for murder is the law of Canada, and while some sentimentalists would abolish it if they had the power we feel that most people accept the death penalty as necessary for the protection of society against its domestic enemies.

There has been a disconcerting amount of flabby and soft-headed thinking about this Toronto case. The simple fact is that two brutal killers got exactly what they deserved for an atrocious crime against a constable doing his duty, and sympathy belongs to their victim and his family, not to the men who were rightly hanged.

Pakistan Soon To Become Republic On Style Of India

KARACHI (Reuters)—The Dominion of Pakistan is expected soon to discard her nominal allegiance to Britain's Queen to become a sovereign republic, organized under a constitution along the lines of India's.

But like India, this Moslem country will probably remain a member of the British Commonwealth. The Queen will not be the head of state and Pakistan's national business will not be conducted in her name.

Premier Khwaja Nazimuddin last month presented a special committee's report recommending the establishment of a "truly Islamic democracy." This report will be discussed this month by a constituent assembly and its approval is considered likely.

The report urged that the head of state should be, like 85 per cent of all Pakistanis, a follower of the Moslem religion. He should have the power to make treaties, declare war and peace, and receive and accredit ambassadors.

Opposition to Pakistan's status as a British Dominion comes largely from the Moslem League, the ruling political party. Some Moslems, however, demand a complete break, saying that the Commonwealth has not backed up Pakistan in her dispute with India over control of Kashmir.

Contract Row Mistake Actress Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If I had it to do over again, I wouldn't do it," Joan Leslie says of her four-year struggle to escape her contract at Warner Brothers

It has been a few years since she won her freedom, and she has had time to evaluate the experience.

The actress sued to end her contract with the studio after she passed 21. Part of her reasoning was that she could not a contract entered into while she was a minor. The case was fought through various courts.

"I wouldn't do it that way again," she admitted. "I would have tried to settle the matter in a friendly way, without the bitterness. As it turned out, I won the case just about a month before my contract would have been over.

"I was able to do only three pictures in those four years. Naturally, that hurt my career."

DOES GOOD JOB

Miss Leslie has done well in the job of rebuilding her career. She recently signed a deal for two pictures a year with Republic. The contract permits her to do outside films, and she is appearing with John Agar in a movie for the Ford Theatre on TV.

In the picture, she has a sequence which is a departure from the things she has usually done. She usually plays a "nice" girl. But in the TV film she hangs her clothes on a limb and takes a bath in a lake while the embarrassed Agar stands by.

"I'll admit I got a little tired of playing so many 'nice' girls at Warners," she commented. "But I have no desire to play bad girls or to get the sexy kind of build-up.

Nelson Hill Named Head Of Sheriffs

TORONTO (CP)—Sheriff Nelson Hill of Huron county was elected president of the Ontario Sheriffs' Association at its annual meeting Thursday.

Other officers elected: Vice-president, R. H. Beattie, Middlesex; secretary-treasurer, E. B. Titus, Toronto; honorary secretary, R. J. Maclennan, Toronto; executive members, W. B. Elliott, Muskoka; A. C. Caldwell, Wentworth; J. D. Conover, York; F. C. Richardson, Northumberland-Durham, and H.J. Colliver, Prince Edward.

5,000 POW's Press Fight For Greater Compensation

OTTAWA (CP)—An organization embracing about 5,000 prisoners of the Second World War plans to carry to the cabinet its fight for compensation based on the number of days served in enemy prison camps.

Representatives of prisoner-of-war groups in all 10 provinces met here Thursday to form the National Council of Canadian Prisoners of War. The organization also includes civilians interned by enemy forces.

Sarto Marchand of Montreal, elected chairman of the council, announced that he council will present a brief to the cabinet later this month.

He said the council agreed unanimously to seek compensation on a per diem basis from the more than $10,000,000 in reparations held by Canada from Germany and Japan.

Most former prisoners of war now must prove they were maltreated in prison camps, he said. Men taken prisoner at Hong Kong were assumed to have suffered maltreatment and were paid on the basis of a dollar for each day of imprisonment.

"We feel other ex-prisoners of war should not have to prove in individual cases that they suffered maltreatment."

"This compensation isn't coming out of the public purse but from reparations money."

The council elected F. J. L. Woodcock of Toronto and Jack R. Kent of Windsor, Ont., vice-chairmen and Jacques Prefontaine of Montreal secretary. Members of the executive, all officers, were captured in the Dieppe raid in August, 1942.

Campbell Chairs Lakefield Board

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—Dr. R. H. Campbell will head the Lakefield public school board as chairman for the coming year, it was decided at the statutory meeting held Monday evening in the school. Trustees present were Mrs. Reg. Doubt, Mrs. Harold Wilford, Ralph Jackman, Ralph Millage, the Rev. W. B. Walker and Dr. Campbell.

Miss Grace Yonge was re-appointed secretary-treasurer and the following committees were named, the first in each case being chairman: Finance, Trustees Walker and Jackman; property, Trustees Wilford, Walker, Doubt and Millage. Trustee Millage was also appointed purchasing agent for the public school board.

Police Chief Leslie Foster was re-appointed attendance officer at the annual salary of $50.

A statement of receipts and expenditures for the year 1952 and a statement of estimates were presented by treasurer, Miss Yonge.

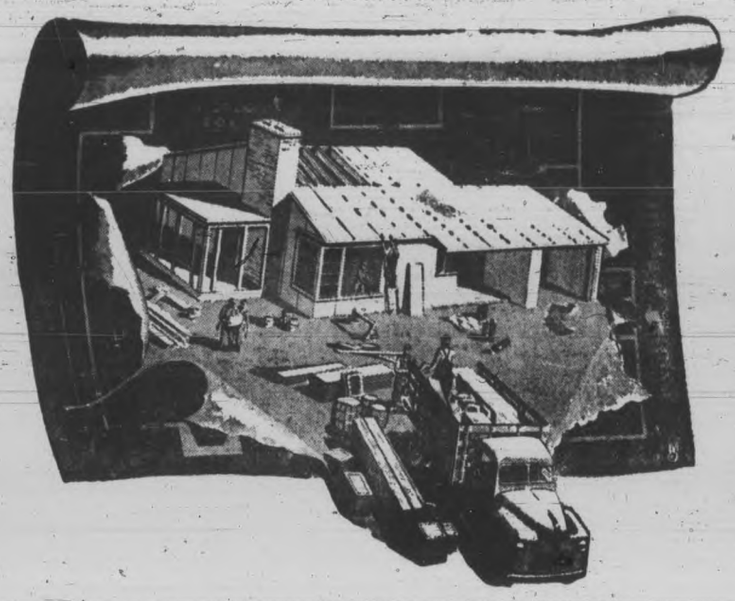
Principal E. G. Sloan, who was present, reported attendance for December 1952 as 337 pupils with percentage 93.04, and approximate attendance for the opening date, January 5, as 330 pupils. Comparative figures showed an average attendance for the year 1951 as 258.71 and 271.55 for year 1952. Total day attendance for 1952 was 54,390½ days. Mr. Sloan also reported that both text and library books had been purchased for use in the school.

The first payment of $100 was authorized to be paid to the rink committee for use of the rink for public school pupils and accounts totalling $432.03 were authorized for payment.

Dual-Frequency Refrigerators Passed

TORONTO (CP)—Electric refrigerators built to operate on either 25-cycle or 60-cycle power on Thursday were approved for mass production by Robert Saunders, Ontario hydro commission chairman.

The dual-frequency refrigerators have been proven satisfactory and hydro anticipates a $12,500,000 saving through their use, he said.



Mr. Saunders said one Canadian company (Canadian Westinghouse Co. Ltd.) will start production of the new units this month and will proceed with large-scale manufacture for distribution in remaining 25-cycle areas of southern Ontario. Hydro is paying the small extra costs of production.

OK Hydro Boost

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario hydro commission has approved the rate increase recommended by the Toronto hydro. It was learned Thursday that application is likely to be deferred until the February billings. The average increase will be 15.5 per cent, but for users of hydro-owned flat rate water heaters it may be as high as 20 per cent.

Shorthanded Petes Drop An 8-4 Senior Tussle To The Oshawa Truckers

OSHAWA (Special)—Oshawa Truckmen tightened their grip on first place in the OHA senior "B" Central Ontario group race here last night when they took a clean-cut 8-4 decision over the visiting Petes. The TPT men were forced to delay the game nearly a half-hour due to the late arrival of one carload of players and they dressed only 11 men, Keith Montgomery and Jack Spiker being absentees for this contest. The number one line of the Truckers comprised of Gerry Scott at centre, flanked by Sammy Samolenko and Jed Wilson, had a big night in the scoring with Samolenko scoring the hat trick, two goals in the first period and one in the third. Samolenko opened the scoring when he potted Defenseman Ernie Dickens' rebound; Jack Thaler did the same thing; then Scott and Samolenko teamed up for two in succession.

Toodie Greenlaw was Petes' ace marksman. He potted Mason's pass in the second period to put the Liftlock City boys into the scoring column for the first time. Bill Berwick, ex-Peterborough puckster, got this one back on a nifty bit of solo work from centre to the goal-mouth.

SHOWED BEST

Trailing 5-1 going into the third period, the visitors showed their best form in this frame, but not until Perc Nicholls had scored one and Samolenko had added his third to make the count 7-1.

Jack Hunter from Don Floyd started the Peterborough rally as the entire Petes' team moved up inside the red line on Oshawa's side. Ted Collins on Gus Leonard's help made it 7-3 and then after Jack Thaler had scored on a breakaway which Goalie Harding almost smothered and then let trickle in, Greenlaw accounted for Petes' fourth goal as he checked Samolenko's stick as the Oshawa winger stick-handled past his own goal-mouth and the puck was checked into the net. The game was a cleanly played affair with only four penalties being meted out, Don McBeth of the homesters drawing three of them.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Legrow, Leonard, Armstrong, Wasson; forwards, Floyd, Fryia, Greenlaw, Collins, Hunter, Mason.

Oshawa: Goal, Naylor; defence, Dickens, McBeth, Nicholls, Peters; forwards, Scott, Samolenko, Wilson, Hooper, Holden, Nelson, Boniface, Thaler, Berwick.

McCreary Choice To Replace Eric Nesterenko

TORONTO (CP)—Billy McCreary of Guelph Biltmores is the first choice of the Toronto Marlboro manager, Staff Smythe, to replace Eric Nesterenko.

Nesterenko will leave Marlboros, current leaders in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, to turn pro with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League this Saturday

McCreary is Guelph's top goalgetter and a member of the team's most effective scoring combination, the Chuck Henderson-Ron Murphy-McCreary line.

NOT GOOD BET

Biltmores, currently in seventh place in the league with Oshawa Generals, are not considered a good bet to make the playoffs.

Smythe and company will have to pay a high price for McCreary, said coach Alf Pike of the Biltmores.

"We'll have to be out of the playoffs before any deal is made," he added.

OHA regulations give Marlboros five days to apply for a replacement for Nesterenko and 15 days after permission is granted to find one.

Aces And Marines Capture Juvenile Puck Victories Wolves To Lodge A Protest

Outboard Marines downed Havelock 5-1, and the UE Aces beat Shamrocks 5-2 in juvenile Peterborough Minor Hockey Association fixtures last evening in Civic Arena. In midget melees, the Shamrocks trimmed Norwood by a 9-1 count, and Aces won 3-1 from Otonabee Wolves. The latter will protest their game. The only bantam game played saw the Swartz squad dump Cherney's Trojans 8-2. The other bantam tilt was staged earlier in the week. PMHA action resumes next Thursday evening in the local arena.

Marines took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Corbett and Kearns, an assist each going to Byrne, Dodds and Hunt. The latter and Kearns counted next heat, and Hunt and Dodds earned an assist each. Lang scored for the shorthanded Havelock team on passes from Chase and Labrash. Montgomery netted the only marker in the third stanza for the winners, who drew five of the six penalties.

AN EARLY LEAD

The juvenile Aces led 3-1 in the first on markers by Parry, Brooks and Stewart, with Smith, Wasson, Whitnell and Blodgett in on them. Mongram hit the hemp for the losers in this frame. Rowley got their other one in the next period, while Brooks and Pollard scored for Aces, Wasson helping on one. The winners were handed four penalties to two.

Shamrock midgets had a good margin in their game, only Rooney from Hannon in the first period counting for Norwood. Orr from Brown, and MacInnes alone gave Shamrocks a pair in the first. Ferren, Minnie and Blodgett tallied next time out. In the third, Brown, Beaubiah, Blodgett and Garvey did the sniping, as Blodgett, MacInnes, Towns and Goldie got an asisst apiece. They drew the only two penalties of the clean contest.

A GOOD GAME

Probably the best game of the night saw midget Aces edge the district Wolves. Godfrey scored on Doris' pass early, and Floyd notched one on a solo effort for them in the initial inning. Nelson counted the Wolves' loner from Garvey in the same chukker. Murphy clinched matters in the second period for the Aces. The latter team drew but two of the six penalties given out in this fray. Wolves plan to protest the refereeing in this tilt.

Swartz bantams racked up an early lead as Armstrong scored twice and Haig once in the first heat, Kimball helping on one. Haig notched a pair in the next period. Casey counted two in the third, and Henry one, an assist each going to Dobbin and Hamilton. The losers drove in the third and scored two, Lustic and Marino hitting the mark. It was a clean fray. The referees for the night were Bill Post, Bill Flint, All Menzies and Ned Vitarelli.

Wolves Protest Midget Fray Taken By Aces

The following letter to the sports editor was received today re PHMA play Thursday from Coach George Heron of the Otonabee Wolves' midget entry:

"Sir,—The Wolves protest that the referee, Ned Vitarelli, robbed our team's chance by unjust penalties and miscalling forward passes on breakaways, instead of a delayed whistle to allow play to be finished. He blew the whistle when our player was in an excellent scoring position.

The referee himself was 12 minutes late starting the game, while our players, all from the country, were on time. Without any notice or warning, the game suddenly ended with but nine minutes of total play in the third period. The total game time was 38 minutes.

I am merely in hockey to teach the boys good sportsmanship and up to now have closed my eyes to all unfair, petty "win at all costs" underhanded tricks, such as no practice hours for the Wolves but two hours every Sunday for the Aces.

In the first period, Forrestall of Aces deliberately provoked and started a fight with Wilson. Result: Wilson five minutes, Garvey two minutes, Forrestall two minutes. We were short practically all the first period.

I acuse the Aces' management of poor and underhanded methods to win, i.e., they had a league meeting very quietly and appointed a new referee for this particular game. The Aces deliberately dropped a game to Shamrocks in order to keep the Wolves out of the playoff.

I protest last night's game and ask for a reply on the above illegal hockey tactics.

I also challenge the Aces to play the Wolves in Warsaw, Campbellford or Havelock, with Herb Payne and Bun Kingdon refereeing. (A $100 bet to the winner.)

My observation of hockey in Peterborough is that it stinks, and no wonder the public will not support the game.

Two weeks ago, your paper had quite a write-up about Wilson hitting MacInnes in the mouth with his fist. This after MacInnes deliberately hitting Wilson across the ear with his stick. At that time the public got the wrong impression of our team. I wrote you a letter, but decided to wait and see. Well, I see. Here it is. Do anything, Peterborough, just make sure these country kids don't win another championship this year.

When a Peterborough minor team wins an Ontario championship with as good a sporting record as Wolves earned on the OMHA record books, I'll take off my hat and go and cheer your team on, but it won't be this year or for some time to come. In the meantime, let this protest be heard and the challenge publicly accepted or rejected."

(Sports Editor's Note: The only comment this writer had re the Wilson-MacInnes incident two weeks ago was this: "Gord MacInnes suffered a cut lip in a rather rough fray.")

Tigers Finally Win Game, Whip Stratford Indians 4-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hamilton Tigers finally won a game, and did it the hard way.

The Tigers stretched an unprecedented losing streak in Ontario Hockey Association Senior A competition to 28 games. They came close once or twice but their labors were never enough.

Thursday night Stratford Indians were in Hamilton. The league titlists have set the pace all season and currently are in second place, one point behind Owen Sound Mercurys. They would have taken over the lead Thursday night but the Tigers adopted the role of giant killers, downing the Indians 4-3.

The Tabbies spotted the visitors two goals in the first period and came back in the second to tie it up. The home team went ahead in the third period but a last-minute Stratford drive tied it up again.

ONE-GOAL MARGIN

With just 35 seconds of the overtime period gone, Hugo Bolzon took a pass from Nick Pidsodny and streaked in to give the Tigers a margin of one goal and their first win.

Al Bennett, a superlative performer in goal for the Tigers all season, showed his team the way to victory. Bennett handled 39 shots in the first two periods and survived a storm of rubber during the rest of the game. Four-hundred delirious Hamilton fans mobbed the team when the game ended.

Other Hamilton goals were by Jim McWhirter, a 16-year-old rookie, Ab Conick, a 37-year-old veteran, and Billy Hammond.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Secretary Frank Feaver of the OASA sure jumps the gun with his first softball bulletin of the year in the first week of Jan. And a right cold week it is, too. Anyway, the guy wants to remind leagues that proposals for amendments to the constitution, bylaws or playing rules must be filed with him by Feb. 15. The address is 526 Maple Ave., Hamilton. Annual OASA convention will be in Hamilton this year, but not until April 4, which is several tons of coal away, or do you burn oil? Frank has a whole lot of ball blather in his bulletin, but he's just trying to kid himself that spring is around the w.k. corner. Lots of time later for softball chatter.

Basketball is a more timely article to toss into the frosted Show Window. A clearance sale this week ere regular scheduled business resumes. Naught but exhibitions on tap, but some of them should prove interesting for cage followers. One this aft at Kenner, and another one there at two p.m. Saturday, PCVS midgets vs. Kenner bantams. At eight p.m. tomorrow in the YMCA, Oshawa Grads tackle Gord McIntyre's male Marines in a warmup for later provincial playdown action. Haven't anything at the moment on the YW lasses' circuit which is due to open its second half now. Yes, lots doing shortly at the YW, YM, St. Peter's, PCVS and Kenner gyms in the hoop sport.

How Old Is Nesterenko?

A Peterborough chap, evidently no admirer of Conn Smythe of Toronto Leafs, said to us yesterday "Did you notice how Smythe took Eric Nesterenko up from the junior Marlboros to the Leafs when the boy wanted to go to college? His age has been reported from 17 up to 19 years, and I'd like to know his exact age. Leafs first claimed it was 17 when he was just on lend-lease to them. Bill Tobin of the Hawks (who have Mike Costello of St. Mike's on their list) needed replacements badly, too, and he talked to Costello, then announced the boy should have a chance to finish his schooling before being drafted to pro hockey. Quite a difference, isn't there? Smythe is the most ruthless hockey owner in the NHL." Hm, he certainly doesn't like Conn.

Next senior puck action here is tonight at 8:30 in Civic Arena, those Oshawa Truckmen vs. the Petes. Another tough tussle for sure. Fans who saw these teams clash on local ice earlier this season know what kind of keen action to expect. The leading Truckers look like the class of the circuit at the moment, but they can be beaten, and have been from time to time. Petes are prepared to put on their real drive now for a playoff spot before they start running out of schedule. Have to hurdle Belleville within the next month to grab a playoff place. The Ellis outfit have a stiff struggle facing them Monday here, also, with Stouffville Clippers dropping in for a call.

* * * * * *

Truckmen Proved Tough

Petes were shorthanded last p.m. in the Motor City and, despite a strong finish, dropped an 8-4 verdict to the potent Truckers. Missed Keith Montgomery, who couldn't make the jaunt, though they had Curly Mason back in harness. Junior West has been flying lately in drills and is about ready to resume front-line action. Bus Jensen has been working out with 'em, too, his bad ankle being okay now — so he should help them in their stretch drive. Toodie Greenlaw flashed the light twice last gloaming, with Ted Collins and Doug Hunter getting one each, an assist apiece going to Don Floyd, Mason and Gus Leonard. Sammy Samolenko was hot for the Truckmen, and Percy Nicholls and Bill Berwick (from these parts) got a goal each. A clean contest.

* * * * * *

Columnist Ted Reeve of the Toronto Telegram had a long piece in last night — a repeat from a year ago — saying he was all through addressing public meetings and dinners. Fed up on all these service club speeches, and the like. No more of that stuff for him, emphasized the genial writer, former athlete and one-time football coach at Queen's. None could blame him, either, as the big guy was in considerable demand at various functions, having a witty approach to practically everything. But here's the rub: We learn that the next regular monthly meeting and dinner of the CGE Foremen's Association here will be Jan. 16, and guess who will be down from Toronto to address the bunch. Sure, Ted Reeve.

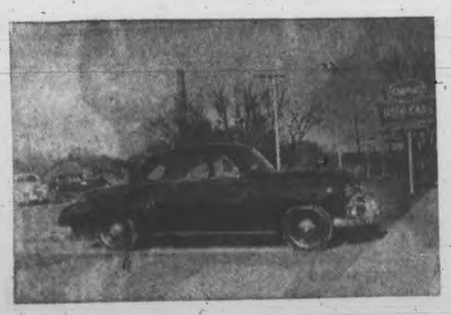
Racing Commission Rules On Horses

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario racnig commission ruled Thursday that thoroughbreds starting this year at the minimum claiming price must place first, second or third in 12 starts.

If a thoroughbred, after winning at the minimum claiming price, is moved into a higher bracket, starts in that bracket will not count against him until he is dropped back in a race under the lowest claiming prices, the commission decided.

Betty Pogue Leads



Betty Pogue was high this week in the YMCA senior girls' bowling league as play resumed after the holidays. She led in triples with 690, while Jean Ward rolled 658, Mary Flaherty 622 and Marjorie Wood 612. J. Ward led in singles with 296, followed by M. Flaherty with 284, Shirley Heckman 261, M. Replacement Goalie Scores Shutout For Detroit As Bruins Clipped 4-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A 21-year-old rookie goalie Thursday night scored his first shutout in 107 games as a professional hockey player. Glen Hall, replacing Terry Sawchuk in the nets for Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League for five games, made his valedictory performance in the big time a memorable one. Hall graduated from Windsor Spitfires of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league to Indianapolis Caps of the American League last season and joined Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League this year.

When Sawchuk broke a bone in his foot, Hall was called to replace him. Sawchuk is expected to rejoin the club for a Sunday game against Toronto.

GOOD PROTECTION

The rookie had good protection as his temporary teammates downed Boston Bruins 4-0. He only had 15 shots to handle in the game compared to the 34 which the high-scoring Wings blasted at Sugar Jim Henry in the Boston net. Hall made one sensational save in the final period when Leo Labine drove in on him all alone.

At Montreal New York Rangers stole the spotlight from the Canadiens by coming up with a stretch drive to earn a 4-4 tie.

The Rangers were without goalie Chuck Rayner, who has an injured knee, and defenceman Leo Reise, who has a badly-sprained ankle. Medical reports from New York indicate Reise, the biggest defenceman in the NHL, will be lost to the club for at least 10 days.

Paul Masnick of the Canadiens earned the boos of his hometown fans when the Rangers clicked for three of their goals while he warmed a seat in the penalty box.

NOT TO BLAME

Henry could be blamed for none of the four goals Detroit scored. The Wings rapped in at least one goal each period. Tony Leswick, Ted Lindsay, Alex Delvecchio and Red Kelly scored for the Red Wings.

Maurice Richard set another NHL record by scoring a goal and adding an assist to make his all-time point total 628, one better than the 627 held by his teammate Elmer Lach. The total includes both league and playoff games. Earlier this season, Richard broke the NHL record for goals scored in regular games when he bettered the 324 rapped in by Nels Stewart, the old-time great.

Rookie Dean Prentice, last season with Guelph Biltmores of the OHA Junior A league, Neil Strain, Paul Ronty and Hy Buller scored for the Rangers as they overcame a two-goal deficit in the first period.

Canadien goals were by Richard, Bernie Geoffrion, Floyd Curry and Paul Meger.

No NHL games are scheduled tonight.

Replacement Goalie Scores Shutout For Detroit As Bruins Clipped 4-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A 21-year-old rookie goalie Thursday night scored his first shutout in 107 games as a professional hockey player. Glen Hall, replacing Terry Sawchuk in the nets for Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League for five games, made his valedictory performance in the big time a memorable one. Hall graduated from Windsor Spitfires of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league to Indianapolis Caps of the American League last season and joined Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League this year.

When Sawchuk broke a bone in his foot, Hall was called to replace him. Sawchuk is expected to rejoin the club for a Sunday game against Toronto.

GOOD PROTECTION

The rookie had good protection as his temporary teammates downed Boston Bruins 4-0. He only had 15 shots to handle in the game compared to the 34 which the high-scoring Wings blasted at Sugar Jim Henry in the Boston net. Hall made one sensational save in the final period when Leo Labine drove in on him all alone.

At Montreal New York Rangers stole the spotlight from the Canadiens by coming up with a stretch drive to earn a 4-4 tie.

The Rangers were without goalie Chuck Rayner, who has an injured knee, and defenceman Leo Reise, who has a badly-sprained ankle. Medical reports from New York indicate Reise, the biggest defenceman in the NHL, will be lost to the club for at least 10 days.

Paul Masnick of the Canadiens earned the boos of his hometown fans when the Rangers clicked for three of their goals while he warmed a seat in the penalty box.

NOT TO BLAME

Henry could be blamed for none of the four goals Detroit scored. The Wings rapped in at least one goal each period. Tony Leswick, Ted Lindsay, Alex Delvecchio and Red Kelly scored for the Red Wings.

Maurice Richard set another NHL record by scoring a goal and adding an assist to make his all-time point total 628, one better than the 627 held by his teammate Elmer Lach. The total includes both league and playoff games. Earlier this season, Richard broke the NHL record for goals scored in regular games when he bettered the 324 rapped in by Nels Stewart, the old-time great.

Rookie Dean Prentice, last season with Guelph Biltmores of the OHA Junior A league, Neil Strain, Paul Ronty and Hy Buller scored for the Rangers as they overcame a two-goal deficit in the first period.

Canadien goals were by Richard, Bernie Geoffrion, Floyd Curry and Paul Meger.

No NHL games are scheduled tonight.

JUVENILES STEAL BEER

Juvenile delinquency is a problem of growing concern to the Lindsay police and Children's Aid Society. Three juveniles and two youths were convicted in Magistrate's court of theft and receiving stolen goods. Police caught the two older boys picking up two stolen cases of beer near the Scugog River locks December 23, which had been stolen by the juveniles from a car parked behind a Lindsay hotel. The two youths were placed on suspended sentence for two years and ordered to be in their homes by 11 p.m. for the duration of the sentence. The juveniles were placed in the custody of their parents, but one was remanded for a week since he had been placed on probation after being convicted of stealing money from milk bottles a month ago.

Board Reports Surplus Of $36,473.79

A surplus of $36,473.79 on the year's operations was announced Thursday night at the inaugural meeting of the Board of Education. Receipts were $1,080,909.01 and disbursements were $1,044,435.22.

This is almost $12,000 more than the surplus a year ago.

"An excellent job on the part of K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools," said the 1953 chairman, Stanley R. Adamson. Mr. Adamson was chairman of finance last year.

An unusual feature, as pointed out by Mr. Wightman, was that actual disbursements exceeded the estimated disbursements by $7,295. Yet the Board ended the year with a fat $36,473 surplus.

RECEIPTS HIGHER

The reason for this anomoly was that total receipts were higher than were anticipated in the estimates.

Two items were chiefly responsible for the higher receipts: an unexpectedly large grant from the provincial government on text books, and the expenditure on the cost-of-living bonus for employees was lower than anticipated.

Scouts Collect 100 Tons Paper, May Make $650

Weathering the cold, wind and snow Peterborough's cubs and scouts collected 100 tons of waste paper Thursday night in a city-wide drive.

President of the Peterborough Boy Scout Association, Dr. James Perry, said today that the drive filled eight freight cars in about four hours; two freight cars were filled early in the day by a Peterborough company. In all he estimated the total weight between 90 and 100 tons.

At the same time Dr. Perry said the drive wasn't particularly heavy, describing it as medium-sized with previous drives. He explained that people appeared to be "out of the habit of saving waste paper" due to the long lay-off between drives.

The reason for the long delay, he said, was the low price for waste paper. At times the price was so low, the receipts couldn't pay for the freight charges. This is the first time in 10 months that it has been profitable for the scouts to collect the paper.

EXPECT $650

Dr. Perry esimated the receipts from Thursday's drive at $650, about half of the net receipts from previous drives. This money will be divided between Peterborough association and the scout groups for the promotion of scouting.

At the same time he pointed out that scout associations in other Canadian cities are soliciting funds from citizens to carry on their work. In Peterborough the scouts raise money through the paper drives and Apple Day rather than making a direct appeal for money from people.

The drive started about 6:15 p.m. when 30 trucks, 200 men and boys began to scour the city by zones for paper. The citizens did their good deed for the day by leaving the paper in bundles on their verandas. The boys then loaded the trucks which carried the paper to the CNR station for loading into freight cars.

By 10:30 p.m. the drive was fairly well completed and most of the paper was in freight cars. But calls for paper which had been missed kept the scouts busy until 1:30 a.m. when the last freight car was sealed.

Dr. Perry said the association appreciated the co-operation received from the citizens and from the factories and stores who donated trucks.

King Phoenix Fascinates Little Theatre Audience

"King Phoenix," the first modern full-length play which the Peterborough Little Theatre has produced, fascinated the opening night audience in the collegiate auditorium Thursday evening. When the final curtain call was answered, the audience was still glued to their seats. It is the most interesting and complex Robertson Davies' play which this viewer has seen.

The play is replete with ideas, imagery and fancy, interlaced with dramatic fibres—so much so that it is difficult to perform and must be closely followed. It is far from being a simple comedy about Old King Cole, legendary merry king of ancient Britons. Comedy and tragedy are two faces of the same coin; so the merriment in the play has tragic undertones.

The action turns on the desire of Cadno, the Archdruid, to change the state of Albion (South England) from the domination of nature to the domination of art and artifice that Albion may develop. It is a struggle between priestly - managerial authority (Cadno) and beneficient paternalism—King Cole, the well-spring of his people's rustic happiness and needs.

TO KILL COLE

Cole's amplitude and cheer, sufficing for all, are the challenge to the Archdruid. He plots to kill ancient Cole, but the plot is interrupted by love which after a frosty wooing blossoms between Cole's daughter Helena and her princely suitor Leolin. Cadno had expected to make Leolin his pawn, but Leolin is a man of honor, not of schemes. The Archdruid and all his kind are forever foiled by wise and hearty Cole's dramatic immolation at the end of the play. Phoenix-like, he revives, through his daughter and her children's children. Cole's spirit never dies.

John Londerville as King Cole gives a powerful interpretation of the king's great age, great spirit and great heart without descending to buffoonery or gush, which would have destroyed the characterization. Allan Bennett is a skilfully competent Cadno, and firm and sustaining in his portrayal of the Archdruid, sacerdotal wizard, man of state. Jean Leach as the 17-year-old daughter of Cole, is charming, and uses her voice well. Robert Hill is the rather dull-witted, young prince Leolin whose honor and desire to do what is expected of him are finally surmounted by human love. He has a pleasant stage freshness.

RICH IN CHARACTERIZATIONS.

The play is rich in important characterizations and mythical allusions. There is, for instance, Idomeneus, a Phoenician merchant, who is the raisonneur of the play. Roger Davis takes this part incisively. His lines have great wit. In fact, the dialogue throughout the play sparkles; the ear must be quick to catch its phrases.

Brenda Davies, the second woman in the play, is Boon Brigit, the King's brewer. Brigit is the medial humanity between royal lordship and priestly lordship, a down-to-earth, sympathetic figure (the nose has its own significance). Mrs. Davies, whom we have come to know as a Shakespearean actress, shows her versatility in this part. It is finely interpreted, and the lines given with a just regard for the rhythm of the phrases and of the play.

The most overwhelming thing on he stage is the ghastly giant Gog Magog, made, voiced and moved by Douglas Warner. It is a convincing contrivance on the part of both author and action-activator.

Don Munro is the shepherd Lug, and succeeds in sounding and looking his name. Servants to Boon Brigit are Jerry Edwards and Robertson Davies. Attendant druids are Gary Stevenson and George Bedford.

The first act seems unusually long. (It is.) The sets for Act 2 and Act 3 are striking, and drew applause—there is a marvellous big tree. The costumes are designed with a nice fancy for re-creation of Albions two thousand years or more ago.

The play is directed by the author. After its performance tonight and again on Saturday, it will be taken to Ottawa, for entry in the Drama Festival.—T.J.A.

Lectures Offered To Policemen

A police college in miniature will begin at city hall in the near future.

The decision to offer one-hour lectures one night a week to police officers came Thursday at the police commission meeting after they learned that lecturers at the provincial police college would not be able to give lectures in the city.

Judge John deN Kennedy and Magistrate W. R. Philp combined to make the suggestion, and the judge was chosen to make arrangements for the lectures.

Members of the police force will be asked to attend the lectures voluntarily. Three subjects were suggested by the judge: preparing evidence for a trial, the law of evidence, and the police officer as a witness.

The selection of further subjects will depend, the commission decided, on the response to the first three. Chief John Thompson remarked that the lecturers should be able to get 100 per cent attendance.

Lecturers mentioned included Judge Kennedy, the magistrate, and several former police officers, including one who is now a lawyer in Peterborough.

S. Adamson Chairman Of School Bd.

Mrs. Anne Rowell Made Vice-Chairman At Inaugural Meeting

Stanley R. Adamson, now begining his fourth year as a member of the Peterborough Board of Education, on Thursday night was elected chairman for 1953 at the inaugural meeting.

Mrs. Anne Rowell, also a trustee beginning her fourth term, was elected vice-chairman.

Mr. Adamson is manager of works accounting at the Peterborough CGE plant. He has served on all of the standing committees of the Board with the exception of health and supervision. Last year he was chairman of both the finance and the advisory-vocational committees.

As chairman he takes over the gavel from W. B. (Pete) Gordon who served in 1952.

Mr. Adamson thanked the members of the Board for electing him to the chairmanship and he said that he thought the outgoing Board had a right to look back on their year's work with a sense of accomplishment.

THREE SCHOOLS

During that time Kenner Collegiate was opened and two new public schools were commenced.

"The enrolment of our schools has increased and we face a continued enrolment in 1953," he said.

STANLEY ADAMSON

"In 1953 we will see the completion of the two new schools. . . The expansion of the city into Smith township will present problems that we must face early when planning for the future.

"The school population is increasing at the rate of 300 to 400 pupils a year," said Mr. Adamson. "This is the equivalent of a 10-room school each year. . . We have a $200,000 investment in capital property every given year."

The new chairman also singled out the salary problem with the staff as one of the first things that must be settled.

He also praised the work of Frank Jobbitt and Dr. Ralph Honey who retired from the Board at the end of their terms in 1952. And he welcomed the two newcomers to the Board, Clarence Porter and Dr. Donald Whyte. Dr. Whyte was absent from the inaugural meeting because he is taking a course in orthopedic surgery at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

COMMITTEES

A committe was then nominated to draw up a list of suggested standing committees for 1953. It consisted of Mr. Gordon, Mrs. Rowell and Charles Huffman.

Their report caused a couple of objections, both of which were later smoothed over.

Charles Huffman was named to the accommodation committee but the chairman, G. Wilson Craw,

Get Ready To Duck

The Peterborough district side-stepped Thursday night's snow and rain storm, but it might not be able to duck what is coming. All the way from sunny, sultry Georgia a storm is approaching that is expected to bring rain to southern Ontario and snow to the northern part of the province. Somewhere in between, the Peterborough area might get either, or both.

Cost Of Teaching Ex-Smith Pupils Agreement Made

An agreement covering the cost of educating children in the recently-annexed portion of Smith township has been reached between the Board of Education and the Suburban Area High School Board.

Thirty-one pupils from that area attend Kenner Collegiate and are transported to and from the school every day by Suburban Area buses.

The difficulty is that the Suburban Area Board usually pay their education bill a year late. For example, the bill for educating those 31 pupils in 1952 is paid sometime in 1953 to the Board of Education.

Now that the area is in the city there is a complication. The pupils no longer come under the jurisdiction of the Suburban Area Board; the Board of Education are responsible for them. But they live just as far away from Kenner Collegiate as before; so they still need transportation. Moreover the 1952 bill for their education is still unpaid.

COMPROMISE

Rather than bill the ratepayers in that area twice this year the two boards have reached a compromise.

The Board of Education will hand back to the Suburban Area Board the amount which the latter would have paid if the 31 pupils had continued to live in Smith township. When the 65 per cent grant comes in from the provincial government to the Suburban Area Board it will be handed over to the Board of Education.

The Suburban Area Board will continue to take the pupils to and from school.

"I think it was a very fair division," said G. Wilson Craw. "I wouldn't like to see the city have to arrange for transportation."

Police Force To Get 5 New Men

Force Swells To 43 Candidates Must Pass Medical

Police Commission hired five new constables Thursday, bringing the total to 43 men.

Chief John Thompson had requested six additional men for the force. The commission decided that one, wanted for the area annexed from Smith township, would be hired at a later date.

One of the men, Constable Bert Howden of the provincial police, was hired as a second class constable. The other four were taken on as fourth class constables, the usual procedure.

Another, 22-year-old Raymond Caldwell, 590 George St., is a veteran of two years in the army, one year in Korea where he was mentioned in dispatches. Caldwell was a private in the second battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment.

Navy veteran James Armstrong, 23, of Brioux Ave., was another hired. He has completed a five-year hitch in the RCN, and spent nine months in the Korean theatre.

Robert Muldoon, Mark St., an immigrant from England, has been in Canada only one-and-a-half years. He spent five years in the merchant navy, and two in the RAF ground crew.

Fifth man was David Simpson, 26, a carpenter. Mr. Simpson lives at 133 James St. He is married, with three children.

MUST PASS TESTS

Appointment of the five men is conditional on their passing the strict medical tests required by the city for men joining the police department.

Constable Howden, who has been until recently OPP constable at Apsley, is a well-known and popular member of the provincial force. Before joining the OPP, he served for two-and-a-half years on the Peterborough police force. He spent five years in Europe as a military policeman during the Second World War. Lately he has been in Bowmanville with the OPP detachment and just before that spent several months as a special police guard at the Don Jail, following the escape of the Boyd gang.

Present New Scoring System To End Boxing Split Decisions

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Commissioner Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association today described a new scoring system for boxing designed "to eliminate the disputes of split decisions."

Greene said the system developed by Benjamin Yesersky, veteran sports editor, will be presented to the NBA's executive committee at a meeting in New York this weekend.

Greene said Yesersky, sports editor of the Liberty, N.Y. Times, Monticello, N.Y., Evening News and radio station WVOS spent a number of years perfecting the study.

Here's the way it works:

At the end of a bout, scorecards tallied by three officials—the referee and two judges—would be picked up by a state athletic commission representative, who would compute the individual judgments of each round.

MAJORITY SCORING

Majority scoring would prevail for each round and be transcribed to a master scorecard which would then be handed to the ring announcer.

To be declared the winner, a fighter would have to win a majority of the rounds. In the event of a tie roundwise, the contest would revert to the point system.

Points, in turn, would be figured this way:

Each official's decision in a round would constitute one point. When a contestant wins a round on the cards of two officials, he would receive two points, one point from each official.

If all three officials award a round to a fighter, he would get three points. An even round would be determined by either three differences of opinion, or a majority opinion voting even. In that case, no points would be awarded either fighter.

ARGOS NEW EXECUTIVE—Bill Ross (centre), president of the Argonaut Rowing club, has been elected president of the Toronto Argonaut Football club of the Big Four Football Union. He succeeds Bob Moran (left). Joe Wright, Jr., (right) former Diamond Sculls winner, was elected vice-president.

Richard Busy Tumbling NHL Records

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice Richard is having quite a time for himself along National Hockey League trails this year scoring goals and tumbling records.

The speedy Montreal Canadiens right-winger, who earlier this year set the NHL record for goals in regular games, broke another Thursday night, running his all-time points total to 628, bettering by one the previous mark held by teammate Elmer Lach.

To set the latest mark, he scored a goal and collected an assist as Canadiens played to a 4-4 tie with New York Rangers.

Richard started the season with 523 points in regular league games and 71 in playoffs for a total of 594. This season, he has 34 points—13 goals and 21 assists—for a grand total of 628.

Lach started the season with 557 points in regular games and 55 in playoffs for a total of 612. This season, he has 15 points, made up of eight goals and seven assists, for his 627 total.

For his first record this year, Richard broke the former mark of 324 goals set by Nels Stewart, who spent most of his time with the now-defunct Montreal Maroons. Richard now has 332.

Jury Suggests Grain Screenings Be Destroyed

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—A five-man coroner's jury Thursday night recommended that refuse grain screenings should not be used for commercial enterprises so that further grain elevator explosions can be prevented.

The jury added that the cause of the explosion Sept. 21 at Pool 4A of Saskatchewan Pool Terminals Ltd., which killed six men, was of undetermined origin.

The recommendation was made after an inquest into the death of Peter Dyc, one of the six men killed. The hearing lasted two days and evidence was given by some 45 witnesses.

SHOULD BE DESTROYED

The jury said that "for safety and to avoid such a similar disaster ever happening again, refuse screenings should either be burned or destroyed in some manner and not used for commercial enterprises."

At the time of the explosion, refuse screenings were being loaded on to the freighter Bayton for delivery mainly to United Processors, who would process them into livestock feed.

Grant Gibson, engineer for the Ontario department of labor, who investigated the 1945 and last year's explosions, and Pentti Doivukoski, engineer of the Ontario fire Marshal's office, both testified that static electricity may have been responsible.

Hermit Dies In Tank Trailer

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The curious case of a man who lived like a hermit in an abandoned tank-truck trailer came to light today when his death was reported to police.

He was identified as Armando Leonia, 48. His friend, Frank Clifford, who was bringing him some food, found the body.

Police had to cut into the tank with an acetylene torch because the only entrance was a manhole on top 18 inches wide.

Clifford said Leonia entered his man-made cave, where he had taken up residence about a month ago, by holding his arms over his head and dropping straight through the hole on to a chair.

Inside the tank, police found a mattress and a coal scuttle in which Leonia had made small fires to keep warm.

Turpin Ready Fight American For Title

LONDON (AP)—Randy Turpin, British middleweight champion, said Thursday he will fight "any American" provided it is for the vacant world middleweight title.

But, added the British champion, "I am not interested in any offers that may come from the States to fight the winner of the Bobo Olsen-Norman Hayes bout in Boston Feb. 7."

Manager George Middleton said neither he nor Turpin would make any move towards a world title fight until they had talked to promoter Jack Solomons, scheduled to visit the United States on his way home from Australia.

Helped 500,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Mine Workers' welfare fund said today its medical care plan has provided hospital treatment for 500,000 miners or their dependents. The 500,000th patient, admitted to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital today, is Elmer Hassenflug, 52, a coal miner for 40 years. The fund said Hassenflug will undergo "a rare and delicate heart operation."

Boxer Advised Rest 6 Weeks

CLEVELAND (AP) — X-rays showed no fracture in the right arm of welterweight Del Flanagan Thursday, but a doctor advised the St. Paul boxer not to try fighting again for six weeks.

The injury caused Flanagan to lose to Lester Felton of Detroit here Wednesday night on a technical knockout after three rounds. It was described by Dr. C. L. Lambright as either a torn muscle or ligament just above the right elbow.

Flanagan wept bitterly after the fight was stopped. It was a lost opportunity for the 25-year-old scrapper to demonstrate to a country-wide television audience his right to get a shot at the welterweight crown now worn by Kid Gavilan.

Cleveland Indians Snub Veeck's Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—With a snub for Bill Veeck's St. Louis Browns, Cleveland Indians announced Thursday a 29-game home night schedule for the coming baseball season.

Veeck and his Brownies won't play any night games in Cleveland in 1953, because Veeck said last month he would keep his Browns off TV screens in cities where the home club refused to cut him in on a share of the television receipts.

With the Browns out of night games, New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox each will play six night games here—a record number. Philadelphia will appear in five.

Matthews Rejects Bout With Moore

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews, Seattle light heavyweight contender, has rejected a championship bout with newly-crowned 175-pound king Archie Moore.

The new bid was made Thursday by Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club. Markson had planned to stage the title bout in Madison Square Garden Feb. 27 or in March.

Manager Jack Hurley wired that Matthews is a heavyweight and would be interested in that division only.

Millbrook Defeated In Puck Loop Start

MILLBROOK (ENS). — The Millbrook intermediate ORHA entry, sidelined for weeks by the banana-belt weather, finally got into action on Wednesday night by dropping the league opener to a classy Brooklin crew by a 7-4 score. The Brooklinites earned victory in a clean, fast game by shading their rivals on the evening's play but by a narrower margin than the score indicates.

Millbrook notched the first one when Greenly set up a perfect pass that Seabrooke cashed in on. Three minutes later Allen Hutchison banged in the rebound from McDowell's sizzling shot. Moore drew a tripping penalty and Hutchison, Dawson and Walling blasted shots at Mitchell in a Milbrook ganging attack. In the dying minutes of the period Roberts, Vipond and Johnston combined in a neat three-man attack to score on Hubbeard.

In the second session, Vipond, Johnston and Collins registered for Brooklin, while Bruce Mitchell, playing brilliantly behind a solid defence, held the Millbrook snipers off the score board.

Early in the third, quick goals by Hutchison from Walling, and Lunn from Edmonds knotted the count. At this point Don Mitchell, who played a standout game for Brooklin, got into the act in a large way by successively setting up soring plays for Stell, Johnston and Trann to give Brooklin its three-goal bulge and to establish himself as top point-getter of the evening with four assists to his credit.

Referee Herb. Payne handed out only four penalties, all for minor infractions. Attendance was just fair, as many fans rebelled at paying the hike in the turnstile tribute.

Brooklin — Goal, Bruce Mitchell; defence, Booth, Reynolds; forwards, Johnston, McCoy, Bradley; alternates, Moore, Stell, Collins, D. Vipond, Shell, Don Mitchell, Roberts, Trann, Vipond.

Millbrook — Goal, Hubbeard; defence, Olan, Agnew; forwards, McDowell, A. Hutchison, Walling; alternates, Wright, Ginn, Lunn, Dawson, Edmonds, Seabrooke, Greenly, E. Hutchison.

Five Hopefuls Sign Contract

BROOKLYN (AP)—Five Brooklyn hopefuls, four of them rookies, returned their signed contracts today. They are pitchers Chris Van Cuyk and Ronnie Negray, catcher Steve Lembo, third baseman Don Hoak and shortstop-outfielder Jim Pendleton.

Van Cuyk hung up a 5-6 won-and-lost record for the Dodgers.

Negray, 23-year-old rightnander, was brought up to Brooklyn last September after he had won 11 and dropped seven at St Paul. Lembo, 26, batted .221 in 81 games at Fort Worth in 1952.

Hoak, 25, batted .293 for Montreal of the International League last year and led the circuit in triples with 15. Pendleton, a 27 year-old Negro speed merchant, wound up with a .291 batting mark in 151 games and drove in 92 runs for Montreal.

73 Horses Entered For Grand National

LONDON (AP)—Seventy-three aged horses have been entered for the Grand National steeplechase, scheduled to be run over four miles and 856 yards at Aintree March 28. The number is 11 fewer than last fear.

Top runners in last year's event have been entered again. They are Harry Lane's Teal, the winner; ~~Dorothy Paget's Legal Joy, second~~; Wot No Sun, third; and Uncle Barney, fohrth.

John Griffin's Royal Tan, second in 1951 but which fell at the last fence in 1952, again has been nominated. There is only one foreign challenger, M. R. Andretto's Saladin II from France.

Eisenhower Busy Consulting Advisers

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower consults advisers today on a wide range of domestic and foreign problems in preparation for the first two speeches he will deliver to Congress as chief executive.

He is devoting most of his time to writing his inaugural address and the traditional "state-of-the-union" message.

Apparently in that connection he had an hour-long conference Thursday with Bernard M. Baruch, 82-year-old elder statesman Baruch said they discussed military security and "the economic well-being of the United States — questions we've discussed since 1930."

Baruch gave no details, and Eisenhower's aides said they could not amplify.

Ask Army Service Increased 6 Months

WASHINGTON (CP) — A member of the House of Representatives armed services committee said today he will ask Congress to increase the term of army service under the draft by six to eight months to boost fighting efficiency in Korea.

Representative Jesse P van Zandt (Rep. Pa.) proposed draft terms of between 30 and 36 months instead of 24 months as at present.

Van Zandt, a naval reserve captain, returned last week from seven weeks' active duty, much of it in Korea. He said: "Twenty-four months have proven to be too short."

Name 150 Horses For Handicap

CHICAGO (AP)—A record nomination of 150 thoroughbreds including 18 foreign horses and Crafty Admiral, 1952 handicap champion, was announced today for the rich Washington Park Handicap next Labor Day.

The event grossed $174,200 last year when crafty Admiral triumphed for a $128,650 slice of 1952's biggest purse.

Included are six Calumet Farm stars—among them Hill Gail, winner of the Santa Anita and Kentucky Derbies; Real Delight, three year-old filly champion; Mark-Ye-Well, Arlington Classic and American Derby victor; A Gleam, and Bubbley.

Foreign eligibles include Deep River, Australia's three-year-old champion; Dalray, winner of the Melbourne Cup; Arnand, New Zealand's two-year-old champion of 1951; Royal Serenade, England's champion sprinter; and Ireland's Legend of Confey.

Lindsay Team Downs Cobourg Boys 6-3

COBOURG—Ron Teal sparkled here last night as Lindsay defeated Cobourg in a district Junior "B" OHA game, 6-3. Teal scored four goals, three in six minutes, during the second session.

"Pip" Packer, another Lindsay stalwart, picked off a goal and helped Teal on two of his.

Sixth marker for the winners was scored by T. Hutton.

"Sleep" Dawe, Cobourg's high-scoring defenceman, conducted a one-man fight against the Lindsay crew, getting two goals and breaking up many Lindsay rushes.

Third Cobourg counter went to "Dutch" Boswell off a three-way combination play from McIvor and Stewart.

It's the 'KNOW HOW' that Counts!

HANDBALL: STRIKING THE BALL

1 The most common way of hitting the ball is with the cupped hand. The hand is relaxed, the fingers close together and slightly bent. Thumb stays in natural position. On the stroke, the ball hits the hand on the cushion at the base of the fingers.

2 To hit the ball with a flat hand hold fingers close together and run thumb parallel and next to index finger. This shot is useful for control on a straight-arm underhand stroke which lets the wrist work as a hinge when the ball is slapped.

3 Striking the ball with the fist is difficult but very effective. The ball is punched by the heel of the hand or by the bony surface of the knuckles. Keep the thumb extended over the top of the index finger. With proper control this shot gives a powerful drive.

Yes, it's "know-how" that counts in handball as in every sport — "know-how" that sets one performer above another. Learn the correct form — the "know-how" — then practise until you have mastered it and you'll get more fun and enjoyment out of your sports and games.

Ask Congress For $929,000 For Power Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today asked Congress to appropriate $929,000 for planning re-development of the hydro-electric potential of Niagara Falls.

The money, if appropriated, would be for use in the year beginning July 1. Congress, in the year ending last June 30, appropriated $100,000 for the studies.

Authority to re-develop the falls, already a principal source of water-generated electric power, is contained in a Canadian-U.S. treaty ratified Aug. 9, 1950, by the U.S. Senate. It permits, among other things, increased diversion of water from the Niagara river by both countries.

Canada, since ratification of the treaty, has almost completed its new power-works construction at the site. Except for studies, integrated with the Canadian plans, the U.S. has done nothing.

HAVE CONTROVERSY

One principal reason for the U.S. delay is a controversy between public and private utilities as to which shall be permitted to do the job. Congress must decide.

In the last Congress three bills were introduced to authorize the work.

One proposed that authority be given the federal government to construct the works and distribute the power. The second called for development by the power authority of New York state. The third asked that private interests be given approval.

All these bills died with the 82nd Congress but there are good prospects for all to be re-introduced in the present 83rd Congress.

TRIPLE PRODUCTION

In addition to the ower re-development, which engineers estimate will almost triple the existing power production at Niagara, the treaty provides for works to enhance and preserve the beauty of Niagara Falls.

Engineers have known for years that the flow of water over the world-famed cataract would eventually lead to erosion of the precipice and thus destroy the beauty of the falls.

Plans providing measures to curb such damaging effects have already been made and are being constantly improved by the continuing studies of U.S. Army engineers.

Junior Farmers To Discuss Choir Project Vegetable Oils On Dairy Farmers Agenda Rural Leadership Is Forum Subject Monday, Jan. 12 Many Meetings Bid For Farmers' Attention.

Forum Subject Jan. 12

Directors of Junior Farmers will discuss the prospect of forming a choir, at their meeting Monday, January 12, at the office of the Department of Agriculture. Members are requested to sound out young people in their vicinities who may be interested in this project on the side of aesthetics.

Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative, has been lining up helpful information as to details of organizing.

Choral singing is a pleasant means of bringing together the young people of a community, and in these days of automobiles and roads that are kept open during the winter it is a comparatively easy matter to meet regularly.

Establishing a choir takes time and training, but it returns personal rewards of expression and in the ability to contribute to musical entertainment in community life, and also in helping in church services. Ability to sing remains into adult years.

Some of Peterborough's Juniors must have known the late Charles Alfred Hope, who for years sold his market garden produce on the Water St. side of the old square, now a central city parking area. An attractive personality, he made many friends in his market vending.

The report of his death last Saturday no doubt caused a feeling of sadness among all those who knew him as a fine type of citizen. Mr. Hope has been singing in Anglican church choirs nearly eighty years, a long lifetime of hymnal worship. He first sang as a choir boy in West Bromwich, England, and little more than three weeks ago he took his usual place with the choir of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham. That extraordinary length of choral service is mentioned to the Junior Farmers as a reminder of the continuing values which singing may contribute to their lives.

Plan Trip to Guelph

William Mood, secretary of the Eastern Ontario Hereford Club, reports a bus trip at present in planning to Guelph Friday, January 23, to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Hereford Breeders' Association.

Fletcher's bus is available from Keene. It has seats for 33 passengers. Proposed schedule for the trip is:

Leave Keene at 8.30 a.m.; Peterborough bus terminal, King St., 8.50; Benson Hotel, Lindsay, 9.30 o'clock; Manilla, 9.45, arriving in Guelph at noon. If the bus is filled, cost of travel will be $4. It is expected that many of the members of the local club will make the trip. Any others wishing to go along should notify Mr. Mood at once. His address is, Birdsall, Ont.

Eagles of the University of British Columbia will discuss solids-not-fat and butterfat in milk. Dr. Bendixen has been at Washington State 25 years and is professor in charge of dairy manufacturing.

Archie Davidson, president of the Junior Farmers, has mailed to members of the club a notice of the Kemptville conference January 30 "and we would like all who possibly can go to do so. The conference has been shortened to one day, and an attractive program has been planned."

Mr. Davidson also writes: "We have an invitation from Hastings County Junior Farmers to participate in the Inter-County broomball tournament and moccasin dance at Stirling Arena, Tuesday, Feb. 3."

Norwood Fair Annual

The annual meeting of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society will take place in Norwood Town Hall Thursday, January 15, at 8 p.m.

President G. A. Brethen says this will be one of the most important meetings in the 85 years of the society.

"In exhibits and attendance, Norwood's 1952 fair was widely recognized as one of the top-pay day fairs in Ontario. It is now embarking on a new era. The Federal government has authorized classification of Norwood as a Class B Fair, and the Provincial government is awarding the Agricultural Society the maximum grant given any fair of any size in the province.

The financial statement for 1952 will be presented at the annual meeting, and there will be election of officers, and questions relative to the extensive building program planned. The future status of the Fair will be freely considered by the members. Movies in color of the 1952 Fair will be shown.. That $30,000 thriller, "The Riders of the Range," depicting the Stampede at the Calgary Exhibition, will also be shown.

As only paid-up members of the Society are eligible to vote on questions of policy, expenditure and election of officers, we would appreciate all interested in the future of their local fair, who wish to become members, to secure their membership cards from Gordon Parker, secretary, at the door prior to the meeting. Of necessity we will be forced to confine the attendance to students of High School age and adults."

Farm Movement Finds Itself Short Of Leaders

"Where are the new farm leaders?" is the Forum subject for Monday, January 12. Suggested topics for discussion are: What is being done in your community to discover and develop young people with leadership qualities? What else could be done? Quoting the Guide: "A farm official has said that there are more opportunities for employment and election to office in the farm movement today than can be filled. What reasons may keep young people from holding office or taking positions in farm organizations?"

The idea of leadership assumes interest and willingness to lead, devotion to a cause, character and spirit to attract others in that direction, and various other qualities, diligence and commonsense, good judgment and so on.

Here in Peterborough County it used to be that municipal service was the main avenue toward community leadership. Today, Junior Farmers are provided with special short courses aimed at directing their own groups and also in supervising 4-H Clubs. Farm Forum, Federation of Agriculture and its committees, commodity associations and occasional Folk schools afford responsibility for adults.

Township and county councils continue to be practical schools of experience from which some of their members rise to the Wardenship. The 1952 Warden of Peterborough County, Reeve R. R. Stewart of Otonabee, has fulfilled the duties and also the opportunities of that position with high credit to himself.

COUNCIL'S INITIATIVE

The Peterborough Federation of Agriculture, one of the first branches organized in Canada, was inspired early by the county council back in the days of the Wardenship of E. N. McDonald of Dummer, Roy Brown of Burleigh-Anstruther, or James Gifford of Ennismore. And, what a harvest of development in rural Peterborough collective activities that initiative has produced.

Leadership is found in disparate personalities, for instance three former Wardens from Otonabee, the late Morley Smithson, W. A. Anderson, and Peter J. Mather. It might be interesting to write a chapter about some of Peterborough's Wardens as they appeared in public office., but that would be diverging from the Forum subject of Monday night. It can be said in a general way that Peterborough county council has rolled up a consistently fine record of leadership and service.

Obviously, the leaders of tomorrow are to come from the ranks of the children in the schools and young folks of 4-H Clubs. Incidentally, those Clubs here have leaders who have already a bright record of performance. They are comparatively recent Club members themselves, from which they have been graduated by time and experience into the fold of the Junior Farmers.

FINANCES NEEDED

On that point it may be suggested that when Juniors undertake Club leadership and spend the finances of their Club on that effort in behalf of the 4-H Clubs, they should not be left with the problem of finding new sources of revenue to maintain necessary credit.

And that factor points to the more general essential of support. Certainly Juniors and also the adult form organizations cannot be accused of extravagance in this, and also in most other counties, for the simple reason that they have had to struggle along with their projects, usually with slim funds.

There wouldn't be light treasuries if farmers as a whole would line up in larger numbers behind their associations. That is quoting only what farmers themselves have said, especially those who recognized that somebody had to do the job and volunteered to accept some of the burden.

Several aspects of rural leadership that may be mentioned briefly is loyalty. You see it in the more active Junior Farmers, in men like V. S. Milburn, and Clare Burt who resigned last year from the Ontario Farm Forum secretaryship only after a spirit of dedication left him scant time for home life.

Another is the evidence that the Forums are a school of leadership, and again, governments manifest practical interest in this phase of rural life and action. It is disappointing that more boys and girls cannot attend the Ontario Agricultural College or Kemptville Agricultural School, both of which feature leadership.

GOVERNMENT HELP

The Ontario government's extension branch is another helpful agency, and even the Federal government employs some officials who help especially in the junior field.

One answer to the question, "What else could be done?" appears to be more example and stimulus in the average home, more active adult participation in rural organizations, and if there is any criticisms they should be constructive, not merely carping, and they should come from within the meetings of members.

Farm Forums Developing Rural Judicial Approach

Some of Ontario's farm women may find themselves in jury panels not only by newly-acquired right but also from the experience that is coming to them from their weekly Forum discussions during the winter months.

That is a deduction from recent comments of Leo Copp, principal of Peterborough Normal School, and William Graff, the city's chief librarian, based on their observations at two Forum meetings Monday night Dec. 15. The subject was "Building For Peace," with particular questions about the United Nations and NATO as effectual steps toward world government.

Mr. Graff and Mr. Copp are both members of the United Nations group in Peterborough.

They attended Forum meetings a year ago on invitation when some subject in which they could peculiarly assist was broadcast. For the same reason they were invited to two group discussions December 15.

Mr. Copp and Mr. Graff have noticed that their particular rural hosts are developing the judicial attitude. They are not content with superficial opinions from looking at one side of a subject, and that the surface.

Manifestly, they said, the Farm Forum is cultivating the spirit of deliberation, of seeking relevant evidence and weighing it in approaching their conclusions.

Two Forums especially accepted the challenge of their executive in placing before the farm membership a difficult question such as that of the achievements of U.N., and to assist them in lining up evidence they brought in the two Peterborough men who have been promoting local interest in the international body.

The Forum guests report that they had to answer many questions, that there was no disposition to rush into decisions, but there was quest of facts, with desire for information, and finally the application of judgment.

The two city men said that the Farm Forum was quite evidently promoting sound thinking in these group discussions, and that the members perhaps did not realize their own progress in what may be called the judicial approach.

Neither Mr. Copp nor Mr. Graff suggested that farm women are qualifying themselves for jury duty. But, farm women are actively represented in this established institution of the Forum, participate in the debates, likewise seek and sift facts. They are not simply listening to radio broadcasts. They have to grapple with the subjects presented over the air, and decide something about them.

And, anybody who has read the weekly summaries from Forum headquarters in Toronto must be impressed by the grasp and depth of the opinions which are forwarded from the participating groups, of which there are between 750 and 800 in Ontario.

Possibly even the ladies know that the indirect compliment paid to them by Messrs. Graff and Copp is not likely to thrust them into a company of jurors in some court trial. If they became suspect of sharpened intelligence acquired by their cerebrational experiences, they would be more likely to run into many a challenge from lawyers, usually for the defense, who prefer to select their juries from the booberie rather than from the intelligensia.

"WHITE SHEEP" OF THE FAMILY — "Snowdrop," above, is a dog of distinction. He's an albino cocker spaniel and was born in Yakima, Wash. All of his brothers and sisters are black, and should Snowdrop survive, he'll be one of the few true albino dogs in existence. Mother, however, doesn't care what color he is—he's her puppy, and that explains the distrust with which she is regarding the photographer. Snowdrop is a biological "sport," not a true mutation, or new type of spaniel. Should he ever sire a family, the puppies will be black.

Walkout Plans In Quebec Kept Secret

QUEBEC (CP)—Details of a general work stoppage planned by Quebec's Catholic unions are secret but informed sources say they do not believe there will be a general walkout en masse.

Observers say the 90,000-member Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor is considering a rotation walkout that would paralyze one type of industry at a time.

Asked about these reports, Jean Marchand, CCCL secretary-general said: "Our strategy is a secret."

Only settlement of a strike of textile workers at Louiseville, Que. within the next week or two would prevent the walkout, first of its kind ever contemplated in Quebec's labor history.

The strike began March 10, 1952, at the plant of Associated Textiles of Canada Limited where 800 workers left their jobs for higher wages.

President Gerard Picard has announced that union membership in hospitals and municipal services will not be called to take part in the sympathy stoppage. He has said small industries will not be affected.

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—Alf Dean of Victoria Thursday caught what he believes to be the biggest shark ever landed. It is 17 feet long and weighs 2,379 pounds.

Bus Explodes, 15 Die

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—Fifteen persons were killed Thursday when a bus broke its axle, overturned and exploded in a Buenos Aires suburb. Seven others were injured. All the victims were trapped inside the packed bus. Some were burned to death.

Union Leaders Protest Overtime Work Ruling

Peterborough's biggest local union is joining in the protests of other trade union groups against the arbitration ruling in the case between Massey-Harris Co. Ltd. and the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL). The ruling is that overtime worked by employees can be demanded as part of management's rights.

The board's decision, it was learned Wednesday, made it clear that unless management's rights to schedule overtime are specifically limited under the collective bargaining agreement, they come within the ordinary rights of the employer.

"This ruling in my opinion is a negation of the purpose of collective bargaining agreements," said C. R. Sullivan, area representative of the UE, in a statement today. "The fact is that when the parties agree to a standard work week and a standard work day it indicates that overtime is viewed by the trade union movement as time to be worked only in cases of emergency. And there should be an overtime premium to compensate the employees who agree to be inconvenienced."

Mr. Sulivan said that in the agreement between Local 524, UE, and the CGE there is a standard work week and work day set out. "It specifically states that the employees will co-operate if an emergency arise."

SET PRECEDENT

The decision may set a precedent governing thousands of industrial contracts in Ontario.

Roy England, director of the UAW's aircraft division in Canada, said in a minority report that the majority decision is bound to result in industrial unrest.

The majority award was signed by Judge D. J. Cowan and employer nominee R. V. Hicks.

Recently, the Ontario Labor Relations Board held that it was not within its jurisdiction to decide whether a refusal to work overtime constituted a strike until an arbitration board had ruled whether an employer could require overtime under the contract.

The company in its submission to the arbitration board said the union had declined to support a company request for overtime from its employees.

Premier Has Currency Plan

SASKATOON (CP) — Establishment of an international currency stabilization fund is suggested by Saskatchewan's Premier T. C. Douglas as a means of recovering British and West European markets for Canadian farm products.

In an address Wednesday night at a public meeting sponsored by Saskatchewan Federated Co-Operatives, he warned that unless these markets are regained there could be a depression in the Western agricultural industry at a time of industrial expansion in other parts of Canada. He said the fund could be founded by Canada, Britain and the United States and open to other countries.

Each member country would put money into the fund which could be converted from sterling to dollars and vice-versa. Britain could purchase food with money put into the fund and the two dollar countries could receive payment by drawing the sterling to exchange for goods anywhere in the sterling area.

HANGED—Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 43, is shown under escort by police and a nun on her way from Quebec to Montreal where she was hanged today for her part in the airline time-bomb plot that took 23 lives in Quebec in 1949. Mrs. Pitre's brother, Genereux Ruest, was hanged last year for making the bomb. Albert Guy, young jeweller who master-minded the plot, was hanged two years ago.

Predict Economy Will Continue To Expand In '53

MONTREAL (CP)—A buoyant, expanding Canadian economy, which shows every sign of continuing to thrive in the months ahead, was pictured today by the Montreal Gazette in its annual commercial review and forecast.

The same general pattern of growth and expansion, with its promise for the future, featured a series of year-end summaries published in the review from leaders of government and industry.

The newspaper reported a few rifts developed in Canada's economy harmony in 1952, with the effect of "stepping down and, on balance, giving a firmer maturity to the fortissimo tone of 1951."

CLEAR HARMONY

"But, in general, the over-all harmony produced by the blending notes of the national economy sounded loud and clear throughout 1952."

Labor Minister Gregg, in his review, said all indications for 1953 point to higher production, higher employment and higher income "and, in short, another good year for the Canadian worker." Manpower requirements were successfully met in 1952.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said an active or increased demand for foods and other farm supplies is expected in this year

Urges Brazil To Trade More

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP)—Trade Minister Howe of Canada appealed Thursday for more trade from Brazil and cautioned it against the use of long-term import restrictions.

Howe, heading a 12-man goodwill trade mission to nine Latin-American countries, made his first official stop here in the five-week 17,000-mile air tour.

One reason why Canada is in a "strong position" in world markets is because she eliminated foreign exchange controls, he said in a speech prepared for a Brazilian state luncheon.

Brazil, one of Canada's big markets in South America, has freedom we enjoy, to regulate imposed restrictions as a result of a currency crisis. This has knocked out Canada's codfish market in Brazil.

OTTAWA (CP)—Group Capt. Edward A. D. Hutton, 43, former officer commanding the Clinton air station, was buried here with full military honors Thursday Group Capt. Hutton, outstanding Canadian authority on telecommunications, died Monday at Clinton. An RCAF firing party fired a volley at the graveside and two trumpeters sounded the Last Post.

Thrill Slayer Pictured 'Kind, Humane'

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Nathan Leopold bid for freedom Thursday and supporters pictured the thrill slayer as "kind and humane," while a prosecutor urged that parole be refused "in the name of mercy."

Leopold, now 48, has served 28 years of a life sentence in prison for the brutal 1924 slaying of a neighbor youth, Bobby Franks.

He and Richard Loeb, both then 19, confessed they slew 14-year-old Franks to experience the "thrill" of killing. Loeb was slashed to death by another convict in 1936.

Professor William Byron, New York university criminologist and sociologist, told the Illinois board of pardons and paroles at a hearing on Leopold's application for parole that the prisoner "has become habituated to the doing of good."

But state's attorney John Gutknecht of Cook county (Chicago) made an impassioned plea that Leopold be kept in prison.

The parole board will announce its decision on Leopold's application Jan. 22.

Whisky Bottle Traps Suspect

TORONTO (CP)—A whisky bottle here led to the capture Thursday of a Brantford theft suspect.

Police arrested Joseph Ewasiuk, 37, on a charge of theft of $700 from John Heinz after finding an empty whisky bottle in a Brantford room and checking the excise number with liquor store sales sheets.

Brantford, police said Heinz, a recent immigrant, met two men who suggested a card game. Heinz drew his money from the bank on the urging of one of the men who said he and Heinz would take the other's money because he wouldn't understand the game.

They said the other man then said he would have to cash a bond. He persuaded Heinz to put his money, his life savings, under the mattress. The three left the room. They said Heinz returned after the two "gave him the slip" but his money was gone.

Utilities Commission Grants 5% Increase

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The public utilities commission gave its 350 union employees a five-per-cent general wage increase Thursday, a move which may establish some sort of pattern for city council's wage negotiations with its staff, who have asked for a six-per-cent boost.

The PUC increase, which will cost about $50,000, is retroactive to last Oct. 14. The union had sought 10 per cent.

LPS Line Profits

LONDON (CP)—The London-Port Stanley Railway made a profit of $31,865 in the first 11 months of 1952 general manager V. A. McKillop reported Thursday to the London railway commission. Figures for all of 1952 aren't yet available. The 11-month figure was $11,200 greater than the profit for the same period of 1952, said Mr. McKillop.

Set Oil Boring Fee

TORONTO (CP)—Oil men will have to pay $25 a square mile for boring rights in the province, the Ontario government ruled in an order-in-council Thursday. The bond is aimed at forcing quick exploration and development, officials said.

Candlelighting Carried Out By Trinity Federation

Trinity Women's Federation meeting Wednesday evening in the ladies' parlor was highlighted by the annual candlelighting ceremony for installation of 1953 officers. Mrs. A. E. Armstrong, wife of Dr. Armstrong, the acting minister of Trinity Church, officiated in the ceremony.

Centre and tallest candle was lit to symbolize women's federation in its entirety with the WA and the WMS, working together for good of all. "Its flame is steady and upward—so should our efforts be striving to be a guiding light," said the leader. Each officer came forward and lit a colored candle to symbolize the duties of her specific office and to take her pledge.

Each member then came forward and lit a small candle, afterward forming a circle around the executive. Their pledge was "We pledge to you whom we have chosen our prayers and co-operation in this new year and ourselves anew to Christ in his cause."

MARY K. BIRDSALL—COE

Mary K. Birdsall, COE chapter of the IODE met at the home of the regent Miss Adele Miller on Wednesday evening.

All articles for the forthcoming tea were requested to be handed in at the February meeting. It was decided to hold a skating party at the Civic Arena on Saturday, January 17 at 8.00 p.m.

Miss Carol Wood was made a new member.

Election of officers was held, and those elected are: vice regent, Miss Joan Drury; secretary, Miss Esther Campbell; treasurer, Miss Diane Pearse; educational secretary, Miss Esther Rose; standard beare: Miss Carol Wood; Empire and world affairs, Miss Lorna Myles; services at home and abroad, Miss Betty MacDonald; publicity convener, Miss Diane Pearse.

Each girl was given two diapers to hem and return for shipment to Greece. Balance of the evening was spent cutting out and embroidering stuffed animal covers.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mothers' Auxiliary Holds First Annual Meeting

First annual meeting of the Association of Mothers' Auxiliaries for Scouts and Guides was held Tuesday evening in the Sunday school auditorium of St. Paul's Church, with an attendance of more than 200.

Installation of officers for this year was conducted first by Mr. Arthur Jackson, Brighton, District Field Commissioner for this area. These officers are: president, Mrs. James McLeod; vice-president, Mrs. William Meagher; secretary, Mrs. E. J. MacDonald; treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Baker.

The meeting opened with the reptition of the Lord's Prayer and the president's greetings to the assembly. Mrs. McLeod also explained the aims of the association. Greetings were brought from the Ministerial Association by the Rev. A. A Mathews, of George St. Church, and from the Scout Local Association by Mr. F. Truesman.

A short business period followed in which the president explained the uniform exchange, and announced that on May 16 a giant rally of Scouts and Guides will be held at Morrow Park, and that participants would require full uniform.

Guest speaker of the evening Field Commissioner Jackson was introduced by Mr. G. R. Langley, Boy Scout Commissioner for this district. Mr. Jackson's talk was directed to the parents of Scouts and Guides, asking their full co-operation and encouragement to their boy or girl to be a good Scout or Guide. He said there need be no excuses made for Scouting, that it was a world-wide brotherhood, teaching the boys and girls leadership, sincerity, co-operation, and to do for themselves. The talk was most interesting and instructive.

Balance of the program consisted of songs by 39 Brownies from St. Andrew's, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. F. Ford; a few remarks regarding Guiding from Guide Commissioner Mrs. J. R. Epping; a skit called "Our Flag" by three Cubs from St. Paul's; six boys from Trinity sang "At the End of a Boy Scout Day" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Jamieson; a short skit by five Scouts from St. Alban's called "The Terrible Truth," and two Guides from All Saints performed, one giving a guitar solo, and the other a reading.

The meeting closed with singing of the "Queen" with Mrs. Ford at the piano; and on the platform stood a Guide from Sacred Heart holding a Guide Flag, a Cub from St. Paul's holding a Cub flag, a Scout from Trinity holding the Scout flag and a Brownie from St. Andrew's holding the Union Jack.

Refreshments were served under the general convernership of Mrs. Gordon Minty, and were supplied by members of the axiliaries. St. Paul's Auxillary, under the convenership of Mrs. W. R. Philp, was responsible for the tea table decorations, and the tea pourers were Mrs. Gordon Langley and Mrs. James Young.

Yokel, Who Ridicules Fiancee No Bargain

DEAR MISS DIX: In a year I plan to marry a man I have known for four years. We get along well by ourselves, but in company he is ready to embarass me in many ways, such as making fun of my rather protruding teeth. I can laugh this off once in a while, but sometimes it gets the better of me. If I mention it to him he always says, "Well, you know I don't mean it" How am I to know whether he means it or not? Is he just plain ignorant, or will he get over it some day?

LUCY

ANSWER: The qualities of consideration and thoughtfulness are just about head of the list of important factors in matrimony; they are also a gauge of good-husband material. No man lacking these virtues will ever be successful as a husband; he fails the first test to prove that he would make a woman happy. Such apparently small matters as your fiance's snide remarks about a physical imperfection are actually major failings that should make you stop short now and thoroughly analyze the man's character. Be absolutely sure on one point! Any weakness in his attitude toward you will be magnified a hundredfold after marriage. These things never diminishJthey multiply and flourish. Your possibilities for happiness with such a thick-skinned individual are extremely remote, and marriage with him is a risky affair.

CHEAP IDEA OF HUMOR

Your chief role in his marital life will be as the butt of tasteless jokes, the object of ridicule. People of weak character, insecure in ever yposition of life, uncertain of their own ability to create happiness about them, are prone to this type of so-called humor. The only way they can get into the limelight is by casting reflections on their companions— whether friends or family. It is pathetic to watch a friend strive in this ignoble fashion for attention; it is tragic to hear a husband verbally tear his wife to pieces in the conviction that he is thereby elevating himself to prominence in the eyes of onlookers.

A man, who is sincerely in love, automatically overlooks faults in his beloved, be they physical or temperamental flaws. In fact every man and woman has plenty of imperfections to overlook in a mate.

Try to observe your young man with a detached eye and decide whether or not you honestly believe he will make a good husband.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We have moved into a new neighborhood and my ten-year-old daughter is having a difficult time making friends. She was quite popular in our neighborhood and I am at a loss to see any reason for her present loneliness. I urge her to go out and try to join other children in their games, but it does no good. Do you think I am pushing her too much, by discussing this unpopularity with her?

MRS. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are possibly doing great harm if you nag the child about her inability to make friends. A new neighborhood group can be as difficult for a child to break into as for an adult. If you are friends with your new neighbors, that should provide an entering wedge for the child. The best thing to do would be to drop the whole subject as far as the little girl is concerned, and get her interested, as casually as possible, in some group movement like the Girl Guides. She needs a completely new outlook.

DEAR MISS DIX: If two people in their late fifties become engaged, does the man, as a rule, give the lady an engagement ring?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This is a matter of individual choice, but if the lady wants an engagement ring, buy it for her.

Readers' Friday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: I read your column with interest every day and think it must be real nice to have the knowledge you have of cooking and baking.

I have a problem and although it has to do with food it is not the preparing but the buying that gets me. My husband hands me $30, every two weeks to buy food, the children's allowances and school needs and any small pieces of clothing needed. I tell him it just won't stretch that far any more and he says it has to. Our boy is 18, an adult, one girl 15½, another 6½ and my granddaughter 2, and our 2 selves. Do you think I am exaggerating when I say $30. just won't do. I have everything to buy and didn't do any canning last summer nor lay in any potatoes as my husband says buy them every week as you go along. Every harvest time I go out and buy the girls clothes for school as far as I can. I earned over $200. last fall and did not even get myself a new dress, just a pair of glasses and some shoes. I am not complaining but what do you think? Could you feed 4 adults and 2 children on $15. a week? Mrs. W. L.

ANSWER: No, I could not. You may have seen the two letters from readers who asked me to help them stretch $20. for four people and $25. for five people. Your husband just does not know the incredibly high cost of groceries. You cannot keep your family healthy on that amount of money. If your husband reads this tell him I know whereof I speak because I have calculated these costs very carefully for readers who are in genuine distress on more money than you are allotted, and with no clothes or school supplies to buy. Of course you could not do any canning or buying of any large quantity of potatoes. One never can lay in supplies when they are at their most plentiful unless one has a little extra to work with. You may remember my account of how I solved a problem of grocery buying once when my son disapproved of some of the items I bought. I said he was quite welcome to do the shopping—and he did for one year. You do not say that your husband cannot afford more. Could you enlist his co-operation by handing over the job of buying to him for a month, so that he knows how impossible it is to manage? If there was nothing but food to buy you might manage and maintain the health of the family on $25. per week, but you would have to use margarine and milk powder and that would not include clothes or school supplies. You would have to be an excellent buyer and shopper to do this though. From the many letters I receive from wives who are struggling nobly with the same problem I see I will have to give more economical menus than ever. Watch for them. May God bless you and help you to solve this difficulty. (See note at bottom.)

QUESTION: Wasn't there a misprint in the recipe for Lemon Squares? The filling sounds reasonable but the directions and ingredients for the topping seem to disagree . . . your recipe for the Filler-Diller Casserole has proved a life-saver on more than one occasion. Mildred Z.

ANSWER: You are right. Here is the correct version of Lemon squares:

FILLING

1 cup white sugar, 2 eggs slightly beaten, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup water, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 2 lemons—rind and juice. Cook until thick, set aside to cool, and make the following: 10 soda wafers, ½ cup butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 cup shredded cocoanut. METHOD: Crush biscuits finely. Mix with butter and sugar. Add flour, soda and cocoanut. Spread ¾ mixture on greased shallow pan, covering with filling. Finish by spreading rest of mixture on top and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. (Thanks to C. G.)

LETTER: I am giving you a—DELICIOUS UNBAKED CHRISTMAS CAKE (contributed by Mrs. B.)

Two cups mixed peel, 1 lb. raisins, 1½ lbs. dates, ½ lb. currants, 2 cups broken nuts, 1 lb. colored marshmallows, 2 cubes (slices?) candied pineapple, 1 lb. graham wafers, 1 bottle red maraschino cherries, 1 bottle green cherries, 1 tin sweetned condensed milk, ½ teaspoon each salt, nutmeg and cinnamon. Cut up marshmallows, dates and cherries. Roll wafers fine, then add salt, nutmeg and cinnamon. Mix together, add all other fruits and nuts. Add milk last. Pack in pan and leave in refrigerator 3 weeks.

Bread Conference Planned In Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—A national conference on enriched bread, sponsored by the bakers and millers of Canada, will be held here Jan. 26.

Enriched bread and bread flour, to be introduced across the country next month, contains three added B vitamins and iron. It is expected to replace present bread products.

Among experts attending will be Dr. Charles G. King, director of the U.S. nutrition foundation; Dr. W. H. Sebrell, Medical director of the U.S. national institute of health and Dr. Percy Moore, director of Indian health services for the Canadian government.

What's Right?

You have no car of your own, but ride often in another woman's car, since she is thoughtful about taking you to the places where you both go.

WRONG: Accept her kindness without any thought of trying to repay it.

RIGHT: Try to do something helpful for her from time to time, or at least have her car filled with gas occasionallly.

(Mrs. B's letter cont'd. tomorrow.)

NOTE TO MRS. W. L.: Tell your husband this: In Toronto district the recent figure arrived at for subsistence allowance for one person worked out at $63. monthly. This is realistic and faces 1953 costs.

Board Reports

At the beginning of 1952 the Board didn't know the basis on which the government would give grants on text books; so the estimated receipts were drastically cut in the budget. Eventually it was announced that the grants would be on the basis of daily attendance of pupils up to Grade X.

This was a bonanza of about $10,000 in the public schools and about another $1,500 in Grade IX and X classes in the collegiate.

An even larger item was the drop in the cost of living. It was estimated that the bonus would cost $340 for each employee covered. During the year however the index did not advance as much as was expected. The cost per employee was $260 instead of $340 and some $16,000 was saved.

GRANTS HIGHER

Regular grants from the provincial government were higher than anticipated. And this also helped boost the surplus.

Of the $36,473 surplus a total of $17,595.42 was made on the public schools. Last year it was a little larger.

On the year's operations the surplus could be considered $5,400 higher. This amount was taken out of the current account because at the time the debentures had not been marketed. The money was spent on the Cameron St. school; it will now be brought back into the current account.

OVERSPENDING

There was overspending of $3,000 on repairs. Originally $10,000 was allotted for this purpose but it was scaled down when city council asked for economy cuts early in 1952.

The cost of supply teachers to fill vacancies on the teaching staff ran over the estimates.

On the other hand fees for North Monaghan pupils amounted to $20,000 instead of the anticipated $15,000.

The Collegiate Academic had a surplus of $13,692.19, described as "fairly good" by Mr. Wightman. Again a principal saving was on the cost-of-living bonus.

The Collegiate Vocational had a surplus of $5,186.18.

Arthur Pitchford examined the statement of receipts and disbursements, did a little rapid figuring, and said: "The city is getting back more than they are paying out."

He pointed out that under receipts the municipal levy for the Board of Education was $711,938 or about 70 per cent of the total. Salaries altogether come to 86 per cent of the budget and most of that money is being spent right here in the city.

"I think we should offer congratulations to Mr. Wightman and to the finance committee of last year for some very close figuring," said Mr. Pitchford.

Former Suitor Of Princess Marrying Another Girl

By JAMES F. KING

EDINBURGH (AP) — The one-time favorite for Princess Margaret's hand is getting married Saturday — to another girl.

The Princess has promised to be on hand to see the Earl of Dalkeith, 29, take as his bride former model Jane McNeill, a willowy 22-year-old blonde.

The Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, have accepted invitations, too, and will make the 350-mile trip from their country home at Sandringham for the ceremony.

This Scottish capital is looking forward to the gayest wedding in years at fashionable St. Giles Cathedral.

IN FEUDAL STYLE

It will be in old feudal style.

More than 1,600 invitations for the reception have gone out.

Mixing with royalty, nobility and the elite will be shepherds, farmers, village shopkeepers, game wardens and blacksmiths.

They are the folks who are tenants on the big estates the outdoor-loving young earl manages for his family.

A special train and buses are bringing the tenants from the estates in the Scotland-England "border country" to help drink the gallons of champagne which will be served by 100 waiters.

PRIZE CATCH

The Earl of Dalkeith is heir to the dukedom of Buccleuch, one of the wealthiest in Scotland. He is regarded as a prize catch for any girl by fellow Scots.

The Mayfair matchmakers in London had the red-headed Earl lined up as Princess Margaret's favorite beau for two years and only a month before the surprise announcement of his engagement to Miss McNeill last August the Earl spent a weekend with the Princess and her mother at Sandringham.

Jane McNeill is the daughter of a well-known Hong Kong lawyer and a descendant of an old west Scotland family in her own right —though she's been mostly what the Scots call a city girl in her upbringing.

Historic Church In Lakefield To Add Wing

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Peterborough County's best-preserved historical landmark, the Parish Hall and original church building of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church, is to be enlarged by the addition of a wing expected to cost approximately $10,500. Its inside measurements will be 32 by 25 feet and will contain a basement the same size.

The pressing need for more Sunday school space—present enrollment is 110 children — and accommodation for mid-week activities forced the parish council to come to this decision. A recent special vestry meeting approved the building plans submitted by architects Blackwell and Craig, of Peterborough.

The planned addition to the old parish hall, rather than a new building, was favored because the architecture will be more in keeping with the historic structure. The proposal was referred to the Ontario Architectural Conservancy, a group interested in the preservation of historic buildings. The conservancy agreed that the plan was a sensible one which will conform to standard architectural practices. Its president, Hilton Wilkes, of Toronto, and secretary Napier Simpson, Jr., said the Peterborough firm had handled the problem in the best possible manner.

LED BY WARDENS

A ways and means committee in charge of the project is headed by R. Kenneth Slater and assisted by Carl Sisson, Ronald Burgess and Harold Deeth, all church wardens. Others on the committee are W. S. Remnant, J. Hampton and the Rev. L. J. Delaney, rector. Estimates and construction will be in charge of A. R. Gariepy.

The decision to go ahead with the building addition ends some 40 years of agitation among parish members. It was first proposed during the incumbency of the Rev. Ben-Oliel in 1914 but the First World War stopped any further planning. A building fund raised at the time was spent on other church repairs. Miss Florence Atwood revived interest in 1948 and a fund was started the second time. At present it amounts to about $3,300 in bequests and contributions. The building of the new wing will start in the spring.

Among those present when the decision to build was reached were the three remaining granddaughters of Katherine Parr Trail, the Misses Attwood and Mrs. J. Todd, and Mrs. E. R. Tate, granddaughter of the founder of the church, Col. Samuel Strickland.

VD As Military Problem Beaten By Canadian Army

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (CP) — Venereal disease as a military problem has at last been beaten. This is shown by experience in Korea. Whatever the hygienic and moral aspects of VD, its cost to the army in man-days now is negligible.

Paradoxically, this development has occurred in a war theatre where exposure to the disease is constant, and where the actual infection rate is probably the highest in military history.

The answer, from the army standpoint, is quick cure — made possible by improvements in the penicillin treatment.

An infected soldier gets two injections, about 48 hours apart. Three months later he is tested. In most cases he is found disease-free. If not, he is again injected, usually wholly effectively.

But in the meantime he is not lost to his unit. Treatment is carried out in the operational area. Usually the soldier goes no farther back than an advanced dressing station for test and first injection.

This contrasts with the Second World War system under which an infected soldier went into quarantine for seven to 12 days with injections every three hours and was lost to his unit for this period.

At the same time, the actual infection-rate is higher in the Korean war than in Second World War days. The figure among Canadian soldiers in Western Europe immediately after the last war was 28 cases a month for each 1,000 men, or about 330 a year. The Canadian figure in Korea and Japan ranges from 40 to 50 a month per 1,000—a rate of 500 to 600 a year.

This does not mean that during the year one-half or more of the Canadian troops contract syphilis or gonorrhea or both. The figures include "repeaters."

The Canadian figure is the highest in the Commonwealth division, which at its peak was 456 per 1,000 a year. Special attention to the problem, at the direction of the British war office and Canadian Army headquarters in Ottawa reduced this during September to a low of 241 per 1,000 a year (just over 20 a month). It rose in October to 324.

An example of the effectiveness of treatment is that all Canadian soldiers in recent months, apart from 27 detained in the field dressing station and two evacuated to Japan for treatment, have been cured in the field.

Furthermore, army officials say there is virtually no possibility that VD contracted in the Orient will be spread at home. The treatment given is curative—not merely suppressive. Each soldier had three checks between the time he leaves the front and his arrival in Canada.

Contracting VD has not been a military offence since early in the last war. Officers say that making it a crime induces soldiers to conceal infection. But the army has introduced several "sanctions" against infected soldiers. They are automatically deferred three months on the rotation list for return to Canada. Soldiers have been removed from homeward drafts because VD is found. There is a final inspection aboard ship and soldiers infected during their last days in Japan are detained seven days in Vancouver for treatment.

The U. S. Army does not stress preventive measures against VD. Its emphasis is on reporting for tests after possible contact, and treatment. Prophylactic kits are available to soldiers who want them. Fifteen thousand U. S. army kits have been bought by the Canadian Army for distribution free to soldiers asking. More have been ordered. When Canadian troops reach Tokyo on leave they are told a medical orderly is on duty 24 hours a day to give prophylactic treatments.

Monty Asks UK To Enter Army

PARIS (Reuters)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, deputy supreme Allied commander in Europe, Thursday urged Britain to enter the European army and "assume the leadership of the continent."

He was talking to 25 British members of Parliament visiting NATO headquarters.

Montgomery said he had formerly been against British participation in the European army but now was in favor of it. Britain would gain the leadership which Europe needed and for which she looked to Britain alone.

The European army plan calls for an international army made up of forces from Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg. The proposal now is bogged down in political turmoil in both France and Germany.

Asks Government To Pay Taxes

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Charlotte Whitton said Thursday night the federal government should agree to pay municipal taxes on its property at the same rate as other property owners.

In a speech prepared for the Ottawa Board of Trade, Mayor Whitton said if the federal government was taxed in the same way as other citizens the tax problems of municipalities would be eased.

The federal government now pays taxes in municipalities where government property exceeds four per cent of total assessment. This was not good enough, said Mayor Whitton.

The government should pay taxes on all its property and at the going municipal rate. The government now paid only what it felt it should pay.

To Hold Parley

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's foreign minister, Katsuo Okazaki, said today a Japanese delegation will go to Hong Kong around Jan. 15 to meet with Chinese Communist Red Cross officials on repatriation of Japanese in Red China. Okazaki told a press conference he hoped the actual repatriation of an estimated 30,000 Japanese could start around the end of the month if the talks are successful.

Omemee WMS Passes Allocation For Year

OMEMEE (ENS)—The annual meeting of Trinity United Church WMS was held Wednesday evening in the church basement with Mrs. J. A. Connell presiding and 33 present.

Favorable reports were heard on the work of the past year. The allocation was exceeded by $47 and a bale sent valued at $121.92. Mission Band and Baby Band had sharp increases in membership and in giving. The last associate helper was about to join the auxiliary, and the associate helper secretary, Mrs. V. Lang, declared her intention of starting a new crusade for more interested ladies who were unable, at present, to become regular members. Mrs. S. Moyer conducted the installation service for the 1953 officers.

Mrs. Hough's group, who were in charge of the program, conducted the worship, which was based on the theme "The Beauty of Holiness," as a share of the theme for the year, "The Means of Grace." The prayer hymn was "Breathe on Me, Breath of God," and the scripture, read by Mrs. C. G. Shaw, was Lu. 11: 1-13, and Phil. 4: 4-9. Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. R. Clifford, Mrs. Burt Pogue and Mrs. H. Lang led in five African prayers, and all joined in the African hymn of praise, "Thanks to Thee, Our God and Heavenly Father."

Mrs. I. Connell played a piano number, "Rock of Ages."

The study on the healing ministry of African medical missionaries was presented by Mrs. V. Lang and Mrs. H. Lang. Death toll was being reduced by the work of medical missions, they said, and faith in witch doctors replaced by science in medical treatment, but doctors were handicapped by ignorance of the language and by a great shortage of help to meet the increase in cases to be treated.

Each disease, such as leprosy and tuberculosis, is a whole medical field in itself and could easily take all of one doctor's time. The religious approach in medical missions was found to be the only way to win the African. There was silent prayer for the medical missionaries in Africa, and the young men and women in training, after which the medical missionary hymn was sung.

The group were hostesses for the social half-hour.

Believe Canadian Trade Likely To Increase With Latin America

OTTAWA (CP) — The present expansion of Latin-American countries is a major guarantee that Canadian traders will hold and even increase their markets in that huge area, says Foreign Trade a weekly magazine published by the trade department.

Latin America, with the fastest-growing population of the world, has seen great industrial progress in the last 10 years, its lead article says, and Canadians are taking advantage of changing trade patterns.

The article by the magazine's editor, O. Mary Hill, serves as a backdrop to the Canadian trade mission which left here Monday on a five-week 17,000-mile goodwill tour to nine countries in Central and South America. The 12-man group headed by Trade Minister Howe reached Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Thursday.

Canadian exports to Latin America in 1951 — $208,000,000 — were 12 times the 1938 figure and estimates for 1952 are $275,000,000. In 1938 only two per cent of exports went to that area, but in 1952 the figure was about 6.4 per cent.

GROUNDS FOR CONFIDENCE

"The sceptic sometimes stresses temporary conditions and hints that the market may peter out," the article says. "But a close look at how and why trade with Latin America has grown gives grounds for confidence that we can hold and even increase our gains."

The solid foundation for the trade was a "tremendous economic expansion," especially in Mexico, Venezuela, Brazil, Cuba, Argentina, Chile and Colombia.

Last year Canada sent to Latin America 42 per cent of all its exports of industrial machinery and nearly half of its electrical apparatus exports.

The magazine sees little danger to trade when Latin America starts turning out more manufactured goods from its new factories.

VOLUME GOES UP

"The answer, if experience so far serves, is that exports change in type but increase in volume.

"Brazil has begun to make newsprint. As a result, she buys from us less newsprint but more wood pulp. This year Cuba opened a new flour mill. Sales of Canadian wheat flour immediately fell off. But what we lost on the swings we gained on the roundabouts; sales of wheat went up."

The magazine warns, however, that Canada's trade expansion with Latin America doesn't rest largely with the trade mission or in the happy circumstance that the two economies complement each other —oil, tropical foods and fibres in exchange for wheat, newsprint, aluminum and machinery.

"In the long run, increasing our share of the Latin American market. . .is the job of the individual trading company, dealing with the individual Brazilian or Mexican or Cuban country."

Have New Plans To Raise Money For Commonwealth Schemes

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Blueprints of a new plan for Commonwealth prosperity were circulated today to a group of London financiers and business men.

The plans contained suggestions on the form and powers of a proposed new company designed to raise money for Commonwealth development. Behind the proposals is Sir Edward Peacock, 81-year-old Canadian from Ontario's Glengarry county.

Peacock is chairman of the nine-member committee charged with organizing the new company.

Decision to launch the enterprise was made known during the recent Commonwealth economic conference. It provides a modest start to meeting the unanswered question of the conference, which stressed the importance of development but didn't say where the cash would come from.

TO LINK INTERESTS

The company, still unnamed, will link some of the most influential interests in the City of London. It will have the support of the Bank of England and, as envisaged, will act in association with the World Bank and United States financial interests.

It will start with a capital, say, of £15,000,000. This is recognized to be just a drop in the bucket, but it is hoped sound management will attract capital from other sources.

No new projects are likely to be encouraged. The aim will be to select tested developments which may require only a little extra capital.

Closer Co-operation Urged With Industry

TORONTO (CP)—Closer co-operation between the universities and industries of Canada was urged Thursday by J. Alex Edmison, assistant to the principal of Queen's University, Kingston.

Addressing the Public Relations Association of Ontario, Mr. Edmison said universities should make themselves known to the public and industries should try to understand the universities' financial needs.

In 1951, he said, Canadian corporations claimed charitable deductions in the amount of only 1.19 per cent of net income against the five per cent of net income allowed them.

Corporate givings to universities are the best possible goodwill advertising for the cause of private enterprise, Mr. Edmison added.

College Newspaper Halts Sport Coverage

TORONTO (CP)—An editorial in today's edition of the Varsity, student paper at the University of Toronto, announces the end of coverage of sporting events at the university by the paper.

The editorial is signed by the newspaper's three-man board of senior editors, Bud Godfrey, Jim Anderson and Bob Sheppard. The article says the step was taken because of a misplaced emphasis on secondary rather than primary purposes of education.

Bob Masterson, head football and basketball coach at the great school, said: "I'm amazed! I'm speechless." Athletic director Warren Stevens said: "The newspaper's service to the readers is to report news and should include sports."

New Russian Arrivals Normal Replacements

OTTAWA (CP)—An external affairs spokesman said Thursday a party of Russians who arrived in Saint John, N.B., Wednesday en route to Ottawa are "normal replacement personnel" for the staff of the Soviet embassy here.

The spokesman said the group includes an assistant military attache, his wife and small son. There are also two clerks for the embassy, accompanied by their wives and the small daughter of one of them.

Reserve Ruling On Private Radio Fees

OTTAWA (CP)—The copyright appeal board Thursday approved a series of fees but reserved decision on the amount private radio stations will have to pay in 1953 for use of music controlled by the Composers Authors and Publishers Association of Canada.

Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson, chairman of the three-man board, gave no indication of when a decision on the radio fees will be reached.

The Canadian Association of Broadcasters, representing most of the privately-owned radio stations in Canada, asked that the fees be reduced and that the basis for fixing them be changed. Counsel for CAPAC asked that the fees be left unchanged from 1952.

The publicly-owned CBC did not oppose the fees proposed for this year.

The board approved 1953 fees of Broadcast Music Incorporated, a company owned by the broadcasting industry. Gordon Henderson of Ottawa, counsel for BMI, said there were no objections to the fees.

Private stations as a group will pay BMI $46,278 this year compared with $44,248 in 1952. The fee is computed on the basis of two cents for each licensed radio receiving set in Canada.

PAY ROYALTIES

Out of the copyright fees collected are paid the royalties of composers of the music.

The board approved a $5,000 annual CAPAC charge against the CBC's international service.

Fees, all unchanged from 1952, were approved for theatres, baseball parks, arenas, exhibitions, race tracks, steamships, concerts and recitals.

The board postponed until early February the hearing of objections to fees proposed by CAPAC for individual performances for cocktail bars, restaurants, clubs, conventions and for the use of music delivered by wire to industrial and other establishments.

In concluding argument, Sam Rogers of Toronto, counsel for the C.A.B., urged the fees be reduced and based on population, on the number of radio homes or on the number of licensed radio receiving sets. The fees now are based on revenues.

Garson Stresses Spiritual Life

MONTREAL (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Thursday night that Canada's development as a nation is based not merely on economic and political advancement but on the moral and spiritual life of her citizens.

In an address prepared for the B'nai B'rith Society of Montreal, the minister said tolerance, good citizenship and cultural advancement are fully as vital to Canada's growth as economic development.

Free enterprise was only possible as long as the dignity and worth of the human individual and his freedom within the law to initiate business and progress was respected by society and protected by the government.

Earlier in the day Mr Garson addressed the Montefiore Club and said that democratic freedom is founded on principles of ethics, politics and morality and standards of manners of conduct fostered in youth.

Gut Dam Removal First Step In Seaway

OTTAWA (CP)—Removal of Gut Dam in the St. Lawrence river is the "first step in the actual construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project," Transport Minister Chevrier said Thursday.

The minister was commenting in a statement on Tuesday's completion of the job of eliminating the dam, blamed by some for destructively high water levels in the Great Lakes in recent years.

It was removed under an order from the international joint commission as part of its authorization for a joint Canadian-American power project in the international section of the river. The dam stretched between Adams Island on the Canadian side and Galop Island on the American side 60 miles from the outlet of Lake Ontario.

TORONTO (CP)—Cost of producing a daily newspaper increased by 194 per cent in the six-year period from 1945 to 1951, H. G. Kimber, publisher of the Globe and Mail, said Thursday. He told the Toronto Women's Press Club that during the same period revenue showed a gain of 170 per cent.

Truck Overturns

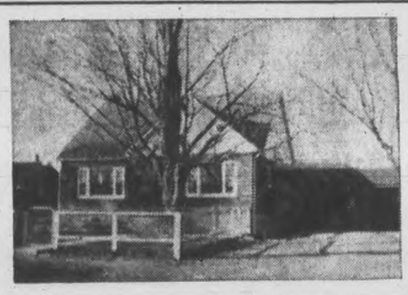
BRANTFORD (CP)—John Atmore, 22, of Parkhill, suffered leg injuries Thursday when the transport truck he was driving, loaded with 12,000 dozen eggs, turned over on Highway No. 2 near here. James Wilson, 21, also of Parkhill, riding with Atmore, escaped unhurt in the spectacular accident which sent the big 12-ton transport sliding on its side in the sugary snow until it hit the bottom of a ditch.

Gets Jail Term

SIMCOE (CP)—Convicted three weeks ago on a charge of dangerous driving, Clifford Earls, 32, of Simcoe district, was sentenced Thursday to three months in jail by Magistrate R. J. Gillen. His driver's licence was also suspended for one year. Earls was driver of a car which struck one driven by Charles Matthews, 19, Charlotteville, July 19. Mathews was killed.

Inspector Retires

TORONTO (CP)—Chief Inspector Robert A. Anderson, third-ranking officer in the Toronto police department, is retiring at the end of January after 46 years' service. He is 72. He came to Canada from Glasgow in 1906 on his honeymoon and joined the force three days after his arrival. He was appointed to his present post six years ago.



You can't go "ALL-OUT" IF you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

18 Die In Storm Thousands Without Electricity

NEW YORK (AP)—The season's worst storm today painted new coats of white glaze over much of the northeastern United States, where 18 persons are dead and thousands are without electricity. The weather bureau predicted that most of the day would see a continuation of the storm conditions which swept many areas from Maryland north through Maine on Friday. It was a forecast ranging from snow flurries in the southern portions to heavy snow in the north, freezing rain and winds lashing most of the region.

Fifteen of the dead are in New England, the others in New York.

Activity through the northeastern states, especially in New England and northern New York, was disrupted by the initial assault of the storm Friday. Transportation was crippled. Power lines were down. Hundreds of schools were closed.

TWO FEET OF SNOW

New England, with up to two feet of snow in some sections, was hit hardest. Boston with nine inches of snow had its heaviest downfall in seven winters.

Besides the snow, the freezing rain coated trees and power lines with heavy layers of ice that broke branches and snapped lines. The debris littered already slippery roads and made driving dangerous.

Southwestern Connecticut was a tangle of fallen wires and thousands of homes were without power. Norwalk city officials declared a state of emergency and ordered all policemen out to keep pedestrians away from high tension wires sputtering in the streets.

OTHER AREAS HIT

The power failures hit other wide areas. Westchester county, just north of New York City reported more than 12,000 homes without power. Officials in Rockland county, N.Y., said electricity cuts were as bad as during the November, 1950, hurricane. At least 22,000 homes were without power service in New Jersey.

Most of the deaths were attributed to over-exertion, chiefly while shovelling snow. Several persons died in auto accidents or other mishaps.

Several airports were shut down while flights were delayed at many other airfields.

Introduces Plan To Boost Coal Production

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—Jean Monnet, chairman of the Schuman plan's executive authority, produced a plan Friday to boost West Europe's coal and steel production by millions of tons during the next five years. United States money may be needed to finance it.

The father of the successful French program of industrial re-equipment and modernization predicted the new partnership of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg will produce about 50,000,000 tons of steel and 285,000,000 tons of coal annually by 1958.

Acting as West Europe's federal executive on steel and coal, Monnet and other members of the authority also envisaged a building program which could erect at least 50,000 new workers' homes every year.

BETTER LIVING STANDARDS

In its first report to the Schuman plan common assembly, the authority stressed a need for improvement of living standards for the 750,000 persons who work in the mills and mines.

The assembly reconvenes today. Monnet called for:

1. An increase in steel production of between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 tons.

2. An increase in the coal output of 35,000,000 to 45,000,000 tons.

3. A program to overcome the area's deficit of some 140,000 housing units and provide for the one-fifth of the workers who are ill-housed.

For development in all three sectors, the high authority indicated it intends to ask European and American investors, if not the U.S. government itself, for annual loans of roughly $500,000,000.

Waits 3 Years For Toronto Trial

TORONTO (CP) — A man sentenced to two years on a narcotics charge has been held in Toronto's Don jail three years awaiting trial on an habitual criminal charge because of a lack of courtroom facilities.

Ambrose Johnston was sentenced to two years on May 3, 1950. Crown officials said he would, under normal circumstances, have been freed in January, 1952.

A person charged with being an habitual criminal is not released on bail.

Special Crown counsel N. L. Mathews said the trial would have been heard long ago if a courtroom were available. Johnston's trial is listed for the end of the month.

Police, Troops Patrol Karachi After Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan (CP) — This capital city, heavily patrolled by police and troops, was quiet with business normal today following three days of rioting which left 16 persons dead and more than 150 injured.

Premier Sir Khwaja Nazimuddin met for two hours with a delegation of students to discuss the recent 45-per-cent increase in tuition fees and other grievances which had caused them to touch off the disturbances Wednesday.

A student spokesman later said the government had accepted most of the student's demands, including a 50-per-cent cut in school fees and a shakeup in the Karachi University staff.

Armed mobs, which Communists are reported to have infiltrated, demonstrated wildly, burned shops, fought with police and finally turned their attacks against foreign property before police halted them Friday by opening fire.

Freezing Rain Stops Short Of Ontario

TORONTO (CP) —A day free of rain and snow is predicted today for most of the province. Weather officials said rain and freezing rain forecast earlier for the southern sections have stopped in Ohio.

Road conditions will be good and temperatures somewhat higher than Friday, turning colder in the afternoon.

Most flights from nearby Malton airport were cancelled Friday night because of poor visibility. Today operations are proceeding normally with flying conditions fair.

Report German Purge May Upset Grotewohl

BERLIN (AP)—The West Berlin Telegraf says today a Moscow-ordered purge of East Germany's Communist party is threatening the position of Premier Otto Grotewohl a former Socialist.

The newspaper says party boss Walter Ulbricht, an old-time Communist who returned from his Moscow exile to Germany as a Soviet citizen in 1945, is trying to take the premiership from Grotewohl. Ulbricht now is first deputy premier.

To prevent an open fight, the Soviet control commission has referred the matter to Moscow for top-level decision, the Telegraf adds.

Predict Goodfellow To Follow Kennedy

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto newspaper said Friday in a news-page story that W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario welfare minister will be appointed "at an early date" to succeed the retiring agriculture minister, T. L. Kennedy.

The story said the influence of "the powerful Ontario Federation of Agriculture" is partly responsible for Premier Frost's decision.

The story also said W. E. Hamilton, former minister of reform institutions, who resigned to organize an insurance company will return to the cabinet, probably as minister of welfare.

Vessel Sinks, 249 Drown Near Korea

Rough Seas Hamper Rescue Boats Continuing Search

PUSAN, Korea —(AP)— A crowded Korean passenger ship foundered in mountainous seas and violent winds on Friday night and sank with a reported toll of 249 lives just outside this big southwest Korean port.

The Korean ministry of transportation said today only seven of the 256 aboard the 140-ton Chang Yung Ho were saved when the coastal vessel went down. The captain, Ha Yang Mo, was among the seven.

The ship plied daily between Pusan and Yosu, 100 miles to the west on Korea's south coast.

The captain was able to provide only a sketchy account of the disaster. He told the ministry his ship was swung around violently by a tremendous gust of wind, that things went black and the next he knew was when he regained consciousness in the storm-tossed seas. That was about 10 p.m. Friday.

CONTINUE SEARCH

South Korean Navy and police boats picked up the captain, four passengers and two crew members.

Rescue boats—still hampered by rough seas—continued a search today, but the ministry said there was "no hope" for finding any more survivors.

The Chang Yung Ho sank outside Pusan harbor, about 10 miles from the mouth of the Naktong river—and in the same general area where another Korean coastal vessel sank nearly a year ago with a loss of 150 Koreans.

Even as the news of the sinking was announced, the Japanese maritime safety board said it had picked up an S O S from the Korean ship Alchong near Tsuchima Island in the Sea of Japan.

The board said the vessel reported it was in trouble and carried a crew of 33, but did not describe the trouble.

Russians Build 'Baltic Wall'

BERLIN (Reuters) — Since the Atlantic Pact naval exercises in Scandinavian waters last summer, Russian troops have been building a "Baltic wall" of fortifications along the East German and Polish coast, it was reported today.

The West Berlin newspaper Telegraf quotes refugees recently arrived from Communist Germany as saying army garrisons have been reinforced, new airfields built and radar stations set up.

Signal buoys have been removed from all harbors and ships now are forced to use pilots to enter, the paper says.

The manoeuvres last summer were designed to test Allied ability to defend Norway and Denmark against "an attack from the east."

Queen, Princess Margaret Attend Edinburgh Wedding

By JAMES KING

EDINBURGH (AP) — The Earl of Dalkeith, red-haired scion of Scottish nobility, was married today to a pretty former model — with Princess Margaret in a front pew at the church.

The bride, honey-haired Jane McNeill, is the 22-year-old Scots-bred daughter of a prosperous Hong Kong lawyer.

The Scots declared something of a holiday as the Queen led a royal procession to their high society affair.

Barriers marked the bridal route along famed Princes street to hold back crowds turning out for the wedding — and the Queen's first visit to this Scottish capital since she succeeded to the throne almost a year ago.

SOME TENSION

There was some tension amid the gaiety, however, and police kept on the alert to squelch any possible demonstration by hothead Scottish nationalists.

Within the last few weeks, two makeshift bombs have been dropped into mailboxes protesting against the inscription "E-II-R" (Elizabeth - II - Regina) on them. Some nationalists insist that the Queen be known as Elizabeth I in Scotland because the first Queen Elizabeth ruled only over England.

Something of a precedent was set by arranging the wedding in St. Giles Cathedral. The cathedral, which is Presbyterian, was loaned for the occasion even though both the Earl and his bride are Anglicans and their marriage service Anglican.

OTHER GUESTS

Besides the Queen and her sister, the guest list included the Duke of Edinburgh; the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, with their sons, Prince William and Prince Richard, and actor Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and his wife. Billy Wallace, a popular dancing companion of Princess Margaret, was on the list of ushers.

Invited also were workers from the earl's family's vast estates — shepherds, farmers, shop keepers, game wardens and blacksmiths. They came to town by special train.

The earl is the son and heir of the Duke of Buccleuch, one of Scotland's last great land-owning barons.

Beer Truck Skids Upsets In Ditch Driver Unhurt

HAVELOCK —(ENS)—Sidney Waters, 35, of 23 Leona Drive, Lansing, climbed from the cab of his truck uninjured except for a cut finger when the truck overturned on Highway 7 in Havelock on Friday.

Waters was travelling west, following a sanding truck driven by Donald Johnson, 21, of Havelock. Waters, driving the brewery truck loaded with 11 tons of beer, skidded on the snowy pavement and collided with the sand truck. The transport truck overturned in the ditch on the north side of the highway, coming to rest in a small creek. Waters climbed from the cab with only a cut finger. He was attended by Dr. Holdcroft of Havelock. Driver of the other truck was not injured.

CARGO REMOVED

The cargo of beer had to be removed before the huge tractor-trailer vehicle could be removed from the ditch. Passersby and motorists offered to help with the salvage operations, but company officials politely declined their offers. Leonard Edwards, garage supervisor of the company whose product the truck was hauling, was in charge of salvage operations.

In its plunge, the truck narrowly missed plowing into the home of David Johnson, father of the lad who was driving the sand truck. Damage to the sand truck was not extensive, but the beer truck was badly damaged.

London Faces Threat Of Trolley Bus Strike

LONDON (AP) — London today faces the threat of a strike which would tie up trolley bus services because two unions are squabbling over the right to unscrew last year's licence plates.

The Transport and General Workers Union said its men would walk off the job unless the question of who wields the screwdriver is settled satisfactorily in talks with the London Transport executive.

Four locals of the giant transport union originally had planned the walkout for midnight tonight in protest against the decision to classify the licence-removing job as a skilled assignment.

Classified that way, the annual job with its time-and-a-half overtime pay would have gone to the men of the National Union of Vehicle Builders.

Federation Rivals Work In Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the Ontario Federation of Agriculture were told Friday that a rival farm organization was making inroads in parts of Ontario. Wesley Magwood of Hanover said at the closing session of the OFA's annual meeting that the group, the Farmers' Union, is an organization which started in the West and now is appearing in several Ontario counties, including his own, Grey county. Former president J. C. Broderick of St. Catharines said he thought opposition might be a good thing to "smarten up" the federation.

V. S. Milburn, secretary manager, said the rival group is "a left-wing organization" offering a policy of half truths and promises.

REJECTS RADICAL STAND

However, Mr. Milburn said he did not favor a radical stand to combat the radical group. He said he felt continuing to act the gentleman would stand the federation in good stead, and he also thought the OFA's flexible policy is an aid in making decisions.

The meeting decided to leave formulation of policy suggestions with the executive.

The federation passed a resolution recommending that personal effects of immigrants be disinfected at ports of entry.

The organization also voted to support tobacco growers in their request for a decrease in tobacco tax.

WOULD BUY FOOD

Delegates passed resolutions favoring use of 10 per cent of the government's defence spending for foodstuffs and a policy program favoring continued study of marketing programs, production programs seeking export markets and programs aimed at "intelligent production and distribution either through support prices, opening of markets or other legislation."

The federation will also try to further co-operation between government and farm organizations to help in the production of only sufficient to meet market demands.

Newspapers that quote farmers' gross instead of net incomes were criticized. One member said: "It makes me see red to see reports that my gross income is increasing while all the while my net income is going down."

Reject Proposal For Coalition

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — Legislators from six Continental nations today ended their preliminary study of a confederation charter to link France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg in a European union.

The 87 representatives, sitting as a special constitutional assembly, adjourned leaving a great many unanswered questions in the rough outline for union which they have been debating since Wednesday.

In their final action, a heavy majority rejected a proposal for a loose coalition of national governments advanced by Michel Debre of France.

In declaring the assembly session closed, president Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium warmly thanked West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano, chairman of the drafting committee, and asked his group to carry on its "delicate task with equal devotion" in the weeks ahead.

Two Firms Given Contracts, Value Undisclosed

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian guided missiles—radar-guided weapons for air-to-air interception of enemy bombers—have been developed to a point where private industry has been called in to make parts for them. The defence research board announced Friday night it has given contracts under the guided-missile program to Canadair Limited of Montreal and Canadian Westinghouse Limited of Hamilton. The size of the contracts was not disclosed—a continuation of the secrecy that has surrounded the project since its inception at DRB's arms research centre at Valcartier, Que.

The announcement said the contracts would help equip RCAF fighter planes "with the most effective weapons possible for Canada's air defence."

The policy behind the award of the contracts was to "ensure smooth transition from the development stage to the actual production of the weapons systems."

No details have been made public of the new defence weapon, developed in collaboration with the RCAF's armaments branch. A DRB year-end statement on Jan. 1 merely described it as "a complex air-to-air device" and said work on it was "progressing satisfactorily."

Friday night's announcement stressed the importance of allowing private industry to learn some of the secrets and techniques of making the weapon.

Letting of the contracts was an "important step" which would assist industry in "preparing for the fullest possible contribution to the country's defence."

Both Canadair and Canadian Westinghouse were building up engineering teams which would make important contributions to the project under the direction of the DRB research centre at Valcartier.

10,000 Greet UK Prime Minister

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) Prime Minister Churchill today began a two-week holiday on this sunny Caribbean island to rest after talks with President-elect Eisenhower and President Truman.

The 78-year-old British leader arrived late Friday in President Truman's plane, the Independence, from Washington. He plans to return to New York Jan. 22 en route to London.

Some 10,000 persons on hand to greet Churchill gave him three rousing cheers as he stepped from the plane. Some wept as the beaming prime minister, apparently fresh and in good spirits, waggled his fingers in his famous "V" sign.

Airport buildings were decorated with pennants and welcoming signs in honor of the distinguished visitor — the first British prime minister ever to come to Jamaica while in office.

Escorted by Jamaica's governor, Sir Hugh Foot, and Sir Harold Mitchell, the prime minister's host for his visit here, Churchill walked past a police honor guard decked out in brilliant dress uniforms.

Later the party drove to Mitchell's luxurious estate where Churchill will stay.

Seven Families Flee Flames

ORILLIA (CP)—Seven families fled from an apartment building Friday when fire started in a ground floor apartment. Five apartments were destroyed and damage was estimated at $50,000.

One woman overcome by smoke had to be carried out of the building and two firemen had to don smoke masks and enter the burning building to rescue a young baby from its crib.

Classes in a business school adjoining the building were dismissed when the classrooms filled with smoke.

UN Planes Smash Red Rail Lines

SEOUL (AP) — Allied planes, 300-strong, smashed a vital Communist railroad network on the doorstep to Red Manchuria today after 17 B-29 Superforts bombed the area Friday night.

The Fifth Air Force said pilots reported flames and smoke billowing over the target could be seen for more than 30 miles. The smoke observed a full assessment of damages.

Waves of fighter-bombers battered the network, just north of Sinanju in far northwest Korea, the targets including nine key railroad and highway bridges spanning the Chongchon and Taeryong rivers.

Superforts pounded the same area Friday night. No Communist MiGs rose to challenge Allied planes on either raid.

The big bombers blasted rail facilities around Sinanju in northwest Korea. The Reds funnel supplies from Manchuria through that point.

The Allied planes unloaded 170 tons of bombs on four targets in a 10-mile area. They bombed anti-aircraft guns just outside Sinanju, a rail bridge and a rail yard at Yongmi and another rail yard at Maejung.

On the ground, action slowed across the 155-mile battle front as temperatures climbed and infantry basked in the warmest weather in weeks. The temperature climbed to nearly 50 degrees during the day.

The 8th army reported scattered Communist probes Friday night and early Saturday. It said all Red thrusts were beaten off in short scraps.

The Fifth Air Force weekly summary reported that three Allied planes were shot down by Red ground gunners during the last seven days.

"Tiny Minority" of Doctors Leave Sponges In Patients

MONTREAL (CP) — A "tiny" minority of Canadian doctors was accused today by a fellow physician of carelessness in leaving sponges and medical instruments in patients after operations.

Dr. T. L. Fisher of Ottawa, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Medical Protective Association, called upon the medical profession to exercise greater care in operations.

In an article in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association journal, he said Canadian physicians in general are conscientious but a "very tiny minority" is jeopardizing the good name of the profession through acts of carelessness.

"Canadian surgeons," he said, "feel an instrument count at operations is not a practical, feasible procedure.

"Yet, the English surgeons do it."

If civil action were taken against careless physicians, "they invariably will be found guilty of carelessness. They should realize the penalties for carelessness were "high and becoming higher."

He said the number of doctors guilty of careless acts was not more than 25 in a profession of 13,000.

Blames Policy Attacks For Desertions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman says politically-inspired attacks on his Korean war policy are to blame for 47,000 U.S. military desertions.

Or, as columnist Doris Fleeson quoted him as describing them: "The kids who are being systematically taught to believe that the peace of the world is not worth fighting for."

The White House described her interview, distributed by the Bell Syndicate Friday, as an accurate one.

Miss Fleeson wrote:

"Mr. Truman has studied the desertion figures in detail as to age, previous condition and geographical distribution.

POINTS FINGER

"In consequence he points an accusing finger at the Chicago Tribune, the Scripps-Howard and the Hearst newspapers, together with their hero, Gen. MacArthur, whom he calls 'insubordinate.'

"The deserters, the President charged, are principally from areas reached by the influence of this group. He said that when brought to book for their offence, 'the kids parrot its slogans.'"

Jack Howard, President of Scripps-Howard, said in Washington he had no comment. Neither did publisher William Randolph Hearst, Jr., reached in Mexico City, nor the Chicago Tribune.

'Public Enemies' Tossed In Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is disposing of some "public enemies" of the atomic age in true gangster style — in concrete overcoats tossed into the sea.

The public health service disclosed today that it seals dangerous radio-active waste products from atomic experiments in concrete. Then, it loads them aboard a ship in up to 20-ton lots, and has them dumped in more than a mile of water, 100 miles off the Virginia coast.

Scientists said they figure the concrete caskets will withstand disintegration for about 100 years. By that time, the atomic hot-stuff inside virtually will have lost its punch.

These radio-active wastes are not explosive, like an atomic bomb. But they give off atomic rays which are dangerous to living things. The rays taper off to virtual nothingness in time.

Plan Anti-Red Council To Work In Far East

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain, the United States and France have decided to set up a council to coordinate anti-Communist operations in the Far East, it was learned authoritatively Friday.

Britain, as the Commonwealth power, will invite Australia and New Zealand to join the council, whose headquarters will probably be in Singapore.

The plan was decided on last month when foreign ministers of the three countries met during the Atlantic Pact talks in Paris.

Exact composition of the council has not yet been worked out, but it will almost certainly be a military body with political advisers attached to it.

"Female Fagin" Gets Suspended Sentence

KESWICK (CP) — Mrs. Alice Howse, charged with encouraging her three small girls to steal, has been given suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year.

She was arrested Dec. 9 after police caught the children breaking into a grocery store. A search of the woman's home turned up alarm clocks, electric fans, radios and other items with a total value of $500.

Truck Skids On Icy Surface Rams Into Car

BETHANY (ENS)—An icy road surface is blamed for an accident Friday night in Bethany causing an estimated $300 damage to the front of a car and heavy damage to the rear end of a stake-body truck.

The accident was on the continuation of Highway 7A that runs through the village. John T. Horner, 23, of Pontypool was driving his 1½-ton truck in a westerly direction and passed over a small bridge. As he left the bridge the truck went into a skid and clipped the left front of the car driven by Mark Brennan, 30, of 430 George St.

It then veered to the north, plowed through a ditch and snapped off a hydro pole some 12 feet from the edge of the highway.

Neither driver was injured.

The car struck the truck on the left rear dual wheels damaging the springs, driveshaft and possibly the frame. The headlight and fender on the left front of the car were smashed; so was the grill and the radiator.

Traffic was held up for some time before the vehicles were removed. The slippery road surface was said to have caused the accident.

OPP Douglas Koftka of Bowmanville investigated.

Little Comment On Hospital Board Firing

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—There was little comment Friday from within civic circles or from persons connected with East Windsor Hospital on the announcement by Attorney-General Dana Porter that the 10-man hospital board of directors has been dismissed.

Walker Whiteside, Windsor lawyer, and three members of his firm who were appointed to a new board, said it was "too early to comment."

City controller John F Martin said he believes Mr. Porter "did the right thing. . . the only thing that could have been done to get the thing operating the way it should be operated."

Controller W. Ernest Atkinson, a member of the old board, raised the question of who now owns the hospital.

PRIVATELY OWNED

The hospital for the chronically ill was listed as privately-owned but Mr. Atkinson said a previous agreement said the city may assume ownership on the dissolution of the old board.

The hospital has been owned and operated by the East Windsor Health Association.

Chairman John E. McKeon of the dismissed board said earlier he would not comment until he received an official communication from the attorney-general. Later he could not be reached.

Spent 29 Years Porcelain Plant

When he walked out of the CGE plant last night for the last time after 29 years work, Jeffrey Dinsdale, 186 Rubidge St., regretted leaving his job, but planned to enjoy his leisure.

Most of his time with the company was spent in the porcelain department, where his duties were concerned with all types of glazing.

On Oct. 7, 1952, he transferred to the switchgear department where he worked for the last few months.

He plans on spending his leisure time from now on visiting and taking it easy, watching fights, hockey, baseball and football games on his television set. His fellow employees saw to it that he will be doing his TV watching in comfort, by presenting him with an easy chair.

Predict Congress To Press For Breaking Of Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of the House of Representatives armed services committee today predicted that Congress would press for early action to break the Korean stalemate if President-elect Eisenhower does not do so.

A survey of six Republican and four Democratic committee members showed the majority were convinced the Korean situation is difficult but not hopeless.

They made their statements after Gen. Omar Bradley and Defence Secretary Robert Lovett were quoted as telling the committee in closed sessions that they do not know how to settle the war.

Representative Dewy Short (Rep. Mo.), chairman-designate, told a reporter he expects Congress to await Eisenhower's solution. But if nothing is done, he said, pressure for a solution "undoubtedly" will build up.

Representative Sterling Cole (Rep.-N. Y.) said the committee was determined that some solution be found.

The committee members indicated Eisenhower would get considerable support in an effort to solve the war, but expressed doubt that Congress would approve a longer draft period or considerably increased costs.

Short said Friday's meeting included some discussion of the use of atomic weapons in Korea. But he said Bradley did not indicate whether this would be done.

Bradley made these other points, Short reported:

1. The European buildup is lagging and one reason is "the dangerous hope that you can win a war with the A-bomb alone."

2. There is "no critical shortage" of ammunition in Korea.

Laycock To Be Tried 2nd Time For Murder

NORTH BAY (CP) — Wilfred Laycock, 66, of nearby Sturgeon Falls will be tried Jan. 26 for murder in the fatal shooting Feb. 24 of Arthur Kierstead, 42, a neighboring farmer. It will be Laycock's second trial on the charge within four months.

Laycock was convicted Oct. 2 and sentenced to be hanged Dec. 23. But a new trial was ordered by the Ontario court of appeal on grounds the jury was misdirected and that the sanity of Laycock was in doubt.

LATEST IN SERIES

The sinking of the Chang Yung Ho was the latest in a series of storm-caused ship accidents and distress calls in the Pacific during the week.

Eight crew members are listed as missing in the breakup of the Swedish tanker Avanti south of Japan Wednesday night. Thirty-three crew members were picked up by three vessels—a Japanese patrol boat, a British freighter and a Nationalist Chinese ship.

Two American military transports collided Friday night five miles outside the entrance to Sasebo harbor, a U.S. naval base in southern Japan. The navy said there had been no reports of casualties.

Earlier in the week several freighters sent out distress calls from the central and western Pacific, but weathered the storms.

Warned Against Pills

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University students have been cautioned against taking sleep-preventing pills as they study for mid-year examinations. Drs. Arlie V. Bok and Arthur W. Contratto of the university department of hygiene said Friday that "sleep-preventing drugs do more harm than good."

Library Buys Viewer For Microfilm

Dusty and bulky newspaper files will soon become a thing of the past at the Peterborough Public Library.

Stepping into the present trend towards microfilm files the Library Board has purchased a microfilm reader. It arrived this week. Already the library has approximately 23 years of back copies of the Examiner microfilmed.

The library's purchase of microfilmed newspapers is being done in co-operation with the Examiner. It is expected that in five years both the Examiner and library will have a complete microfilm newspaper file back to 1885.

At present, the files available are 1913-1931, 1949, 1950-1952.

William Graff, librarian, said today that the board also plans to have files of the former Peterborough Daily Review microfilmed. This newspaper was published in the city from 1853 to 1920.

OTHER PAPERS

Other former Peterborough newspapers, that the library hopes to be able to microfilm are, The Backwoodsman, a weekly published for a short time in the 1830's and believed to be the first newspaper published in the community; The Dispatch, published about 1845-1847, and the Peterborough Gazette.

But this microfilming project at the library is not going to stop with newspapers. Already a thesis on Susanna Moodie has been microfilmed. Plans have also been made to microfilm books and material of local history which are now in the provincial and national archives.

Mr. Graff explained today that microfilm files have two great advantages—they take the minimum of space and they are the best known way to preserve material intact.

"Newspapers are the basic historical resource material of the community," Mr. Graff said. "Ordinary copies are subject to the ravages of time and to scissors. Microfilm files will mean that a complete and continuous history of Peterborough will be available to the public."

Stove Explodes Damages Kitchen

LINDSAY —(ENS)—A kitchen stove exploded in the home of Mrs. Doris Atchison, Colborne St., Lindsay, Thursday and caused about $500 damage.

No one was in the kitchen at the time. Deputy Chief William Spencley said there was little fire damage but the exploding coal and electric stove sprayed bits of the steel from the stove around the room.

It is not known what caused the blast. Mrs. Atchison said nothing out of the ordinary had been put in the stove.

Liberal MP Dies

BEAUSEJOUR, Man. (CP) — Albert F. Trapp, Liberal Progressive member of the Manitoba legislature for St. Clements for the last two years, died Friday. He was elected in a by-election in 1950 following the death of N. J. Stryk.

Run To Market Completed, Hog Now Scarce

Fresh pork and live hogs are scarce throughout the meat packing industry of Ontario in a temporary relationship of effect and cause.

Grade A hogs were quoted today in Toronto at 27c a pound, four cents over the new floor of 23c midnight on December 31.

The record of volume of deliveries of pigs to the processing plants has been followed by a scarcity which will likely continue until hogs on the farms reach approved marketing weight. From one extreme the industry has swung to the other, and an immediate problem with management has been to find maintenance jobs or something around the buildings for men to do until the business settles down to reality again on the basis of the new floor price of 23 cents.

500 IN PARK

Canada Packers, trucked on Wednesday the last of the excess receipts of December 31 for which emergent accommodation had to be found outside the George St. yard. Nearly 500 pigs were bedded down in the swine building at the Exhibition Park. Estimates of some of the staff were verified in their expectation that it would take a week before the overrun was disposed of.

Processing and curing have been going on since then, but deliveries since January 1 were reduced to a mere trickle, negligible numbers because farmers had rushed their pigs to the packing plant for the monetary benefit of the last chance at the $26 per cwt. Grade A.

Hence, the shortage of fresh pork. One Toronto comment was that hogs have been so scarce this week the industry disregarded the $23 floor and bid up to $27 and $27.50. It was said that some of the smaller plants had a hand in that competition as a means of getting some fresh pork for the retail trade.

Producers expect that a premium will likely continue indefinitely until a small surplus develops in the supply of hogs ready for market.

It may be some weeks, according to that opinion, until production effects return to usual normal conditions of supply in the industry. Meanwhile, management has to worry about expedient jobs mainly in odds and ends of housekeeping.

Won't Pay More Municipal Taxes

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott indicated Friday there is little possibility of the government agreeing to pay municipal taxes on all its property.

Mr. Abbott said in an interview he believes that the formula providing for payment of municipal taxes on some government property is "fair."

He made the statement when asked to comment on a suggestion by Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa that the federal government pay municipal taxes on all its property at the same rate as other taxpayers.

The government now pays taxes to municipalities where government property amounts to four per cent or more of the total assessment.

Police Revolver Team To Be Organized

A revolver team for the police department was suggested Thursday to the police commission by Judge John deN. Kennedy. He felt it would be useful as a morale-builder.

Chief Thompson fell in with the plan and said the force had often wanted to enter a team in police competition, but had never had enough money in its budget to afford an out-of-town trip to a match.

Both the mayor and Magistrate Philp agreed with the idea, and felt that some money should be set aside in the budget for such a team.

"When you have a police force with a limited number of men, you have to think of extra things to add to the attractiveness of the job," said Judge Kennedy.

TB Association To Check If Facilities Adequate

The adequacy of X-ray facilities in Peterborough for the present and future X-ray projects was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association Friday night.

The association appointed a committee to investigate the present facilities in the city. The committee will also study the facilities in other counties where annual X-ray projects have been adopted.

The members of the committee are: Charles Elliott, chairman; John Madden, James Heffernan, and Charles Ray.

MAY NEED UNIT

The association is anticipating the necessity of purchasing an X-ray unit if proposed annual X-ray projects are adopted.

Mrs. Richard Ward, secretary, reported that there are 34 patients from the county in sanatoria. Two more will be admitted soon.

She explained that clothing had been sent to county patients during December on the recommendation of sanatoria superintendents.

Many cards and notes of appreciation were received from patients at Christmas thanking the association for their work and kindness during the year.

E. W. Armstrong was appointed treasurer of the association. He replaces R. B. Arnold, who has moved to Seattle, Wash.

Milk Producers Urge New Dairy Contracts

TORONTO (CP)—New dairy contracts with Great Britain to revive Ontario's "dying" cheese industry were urged Friday by the Ontario Milk Producers' League.

At a meeting here the league demanded the federal government seek new contracts with Britain even if they have to be paid for by accepting goods instead of dollars.

Another resolution passed by the league asked the government to ask the United States to lift its dairy restrictions. It also asked that all fluid milk produced outside Ontario be passed through licenced dairies in this province and that the Ontario milk control board be given jurisdiction over all incoming milk.

WANT SINGLE ACT

Approval also was given to a resolution calling for a single act to cover all phases of the dairy industry.

H. Caslor of Brampton asked the league to appoint a committee to consider the situation and press the government for such an act, which would cover control, marketing and price structures throughout the province. The resolution was passed.

The 1952 executive was re-elected for 1953. It includes president, Gordon Greer, Ottawa; vice-presidents, W. H. Hoiles, Nobleton, D.C. Rogers, Kingston; executive, G.G. Callon, Ancaster; Kenneth Crews, Trenton; E. Farnsworth, Huntsville; W. R. Peters, New Liskeard; J. C. Robb, Ilderton; O. A. Snyder, Hespeler, and W. H. Wilmot, Toronto.

Camera Club To Hold 10th Annual Exhibit

The tenth annual exhibit of the Peterborough Camera Club will open for showing at the Public Library on Tuesday and will remain for the balance of the month of January.

It is expected that from 50 to 60 prints will be hung and members have written to both Woodstock and Oshawa clubs asking them to submit selections also.

President Peter Astle invites any amateur photographers to submit prints to this show. The requirements are that the picture must be enlarged to 8 by 10 inches and mounted on a stiff mat 16 by 20 inches. On behalf of the club Mr. Astle was not able to give out this invitation earlier because, due to space allotments of following art shows, the camera club had to advance their showing on short notice.

District Pilot Flies Mercy Trip To Baffin Island

An RCAF search and rescue plane piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. C. E. (Ted) Snider of Peterborough district flew from his base at Goose Bay to Cape Dorset on the southern tip of Baffin Island on a mercy flight recently.

The stretcher case, Mrs. James Houston of Montreal, working on Baffin Island for the Canadian Handicrafts Guild and the Northwest Territories administration, became ill inland and was taken to Cape Dorset outpost hospital by dog team on a hazardous two-day run.

A government nurse, Ruth Horley, got radio instructions from Indian health service doctors in Ottawa on how to treat her until a plane could get in. She was given penicillin.

Mrs. Houston teaches Eskimo children in the native villages. Her husband, a well-known Montreal artist-illustrator, teaches handicrafts to the Eskimos. Last month while following Eskimo encampments she developed appendicitis 100 miles from Cape Dorset on the southern tip of Baffin Island which stretches northward from the mouth of Hudson Bay.

She was operated on successfully by medical officers of the RCAF and the United States Air Force at Goose Bay. Now recovered, she is in Ottawa.

Store To Close 38 Years On Charlotte St.

The sports goods business which was established 38 years ago by the late Lewis W. LeBarr is closing its door at 160 Charlotte St. for the last time at 6 p.m. this evening.

Edward A. (Ted) LeBarr told The Examiner today: "We had to be out by the end of the month anyway to make way for Woolforth's who start building about the first of April."

The late Lewis LeBarr opened the premises in 1914 before the German war clouds gathered over the world. After his son, the late Harold LeBarr, enlisted for service overseas in the Canadian Army, the father decided to go too. It was an opportunity of being nearer the boy in the field of danger. Harold was killed in action, and meanwhile Mrs. LeBarr, wife and mother, carried on the business of the store. Other young members of the family afforded help.

Ted LeBarr has been engaged there since his high school days. It has been a convenient friendly place, dealing in newspapers and magazines, sports goods and some novelties. Lewis LeBarr and his sons were active for years in sports, especially lacrosse, hockey and baseball, and it was strong in erest that prompted the opening of a store for the sales of a general line of sports equipment.

Ted LeBarr said he had nothing definite in view for the present. Friends of Mrs. LeBarr have missed her in the illness that has confined her to home for quite a long time.

New Minister Visits Trinity

The day is being observed as "Stewardship Sunday". Special services have been arranged and a noted Canadian tenor, Ronald Stewart, will sing.

Friday's dinner meeting was chaired by R. J. Allen. Among those at the head table were R. F. Downey, F. B. Smitheram, Dr. K. W. Milne, J. E. Girven and the acting minister of Trinity, the Rev. Dr. A. E. Armstrong.

He said almost 4,000 feet of diamond drilling was done last year and a contract has been let to Bradley Brothers of Noranda for 5,000 feet of drilling.

The drillers are probing the lake bottom, half - way between the mouth of the French river and the town of Sturgeon Falls, in search of the ore body indicated in an instrument survey.

Toronto Surplus For 4 Years Held Illegally

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's surpluses, totalling $291,098 during the last four years, have been withheld illegally from the taxpayers, Mayor Allan Lamport said Friday.

The amount, accumulated in the period from 1948 to 1951, was earmarked to meet a $2,000,000 grant to the University of Toronto's $13,000,000 building program. That grant was approved by city council in 1949.

The mayor said he is not opposed to paying the grant but added that the conditions laid down by the Ontario municipal board when it approved the council's decision have not been followed.

MUST BE APPLIED

The Municipal Act states, he said, that municipal surpluses must be applied to reduce the tax rate the year after they occur.

The municipal board, when authorizing the grant, ruled that it was to be financed through five-year debentures as suggested by the council and that the city could use its surpluses to reduce the $2,000,000 issue or to retire it before maturity.

"The debentures have never been used. Therefore the surpluses have been retained illegally," Mr. Lamport said.

Make Appeal To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atom spies, appealed to President Truman today to spare their lives.

They have been sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison next Wednesday, for conspiring to give atom secrets to Russia.

Judge Irving Kaufman had given them until today to file the petition. He said its filing would automatically mean a stay of execution until five days after the President announces his decision on the appeal.

The husband and wife have lost all their court appeals and the appeal to the president was their last resort.

A justice department official said the appeal goes now to the department's pardon lawyers who will review the whole case. They will make their recommendation to Attorney-General James McGranery, who in turn will give his to the President.

Rosenberg, 34, and his wife, 36, were convicted March 29, 1951.

What Does It Mean To Follow Jesus?

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

What did it mean to follow Jesus when He was here on earth among men?

The Gospels reveal that to follow Jesus did not mean the same thing to all except that upon all who accepted discipleship, the obligation was plain to obey His teachings and follow the way of life that He taught and manifested in His example.

But just as surely as that to some, following Jesus meant close companionship and special discipleship with its extreme demands for courage and sacrifice, to others it meant remaining in their own communities and returning to their homes.

To a scribe, apparently more sincee than some of his fellow scribes who zealously wanted to follow Him, withersoever he went, Jesus discouraged his outburst of zeal by reminding him of all that such a movement meant.

"The foxes have holes," He said, "and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man hath not where to lay His head." There is no indication that Jesus questioned the scribe's sincerity. Evidently, however, He did question his fitness for that special discipleship.

The fitness He had in mind is exemplified in men like Peter and in the brothers James and John who replied to a supreme test, "We are able." See Matthew 8:19, 20 and Matthew 20:22.

To another (Matthew 8:21, 22), who wanted to follow in that close way but who first wanted to go and bury his father, apparently postponing his attachment until after his father's death, Jesus replied in the seemingly harsh words: Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead."

The words have been explained in various ways, but whatever the atenuating circumstances which Jesus may have known, the words in their very harshness emphasize the rigorous and exacting nature of a special discipleship for which not even all good and well-intentioned men are fitted.

I think that the same thing is true today. For many of us to follow Jesus means to accept the way of life that He exemplified, to follow in the place where our life is cast, perhaps in a humdrum and commonplace environment devoid of the incentive and stimulus of the companionship of a chosen group.

To live the Christian life in the home, the workshop or place of business, and in one's community, is not always easy. It calls for faith and courage, even if one lacks the fitness for some special discipleship.

We cannot all be such, but we may glory in those of special saintliness, faith, and achievement, who are today's apostles.

I have been reading of such a one in a recent issue of Time. He was a Roman Catholic missionary in Korea, Bishop Byrne, who when the Communists invaded Seoul, refused to leave those to whom he had devoted his life and ministry, accepting peril and now probably martyrdom.

Jesus would choose men like him for the inner circle. Such heroes of the faith have not been of any one church or sect. We cannot all be apostles but it was to ordinary Christians like us that St. Paul wrote that they were "called to be saints" (Romans 1:7; I Corinthians 1:2).

Mother Learns Of Son's Capture In Shooting Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a neat white cottage in Vancouver's east end, the widowed mother of Walter S. Pavlukoff learned of her son's capture in a Toronto suburb.

Pavlukoff had been sought for five years following the fatal shooting of a bank manager here.

Mrs. Vera Pavlukoff didn't see reporters but another son, who came to the door, thanked reporters for letting him know about his brother.

Pavlukoff carried two letters at the time of his capture One was a Christmas letter, started Dec. 25 and finished Dec. 29, addressed to his mother, and the second was addressed to: "To whom it may concern."

On the outside of the second letter was a note that it was to be opened only in the event he was found dead or dying.

WANTS QUICK DEATH

Ironically, it said that Pavlukoff "wants to die quick." He also told of an unhappy childhood "tortured with poverty."

The letter contained a wish that his body be cremated "and the ashes spread far and wide."

In the Christmas letter to his mother, he said: "I have been free four years, I hope to make it five."

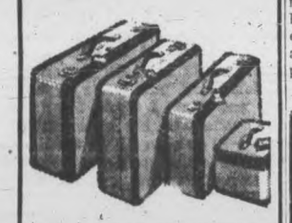
Pavlukoff, who started his crime career in Chicago at the age of 19, eight years ago told a Vancouver court "crime does not pay."

He said he didn't go straight because he was unable to get a job.

Pavlukoff was before the court on the charge of carrying a gun, and when arrested he was carrying a "sucker list" of a score of prominent Vancouver citizens' names.

Beer Sale Hours May Be Changed

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram said Friday that hours during which beer is sold in taverns and hotels may be changed following a meeting next week of Premier Frost and Judge W. T Robb, liquor licence board chairman.



"For two years," the paper said in a newspage story, "hotelkeepers have bitterly complained that because they have to close between 6.30 and 8 p.m. (a ruling designed to send customers home for dinner) patrons go to liquor lounges where they consume liquor or pay 35 cents a bottle for beer. No draught beer is sold in bars.

"Reports at Queen's Park today indicated changing of these hours may be one of several new regulations. A second change is suggested is that board meetings be open to the public and press. Advocates of open hearings say the liquor licence board is a judicial body and should be treated no differently than other law courts."

Youth Jailed Year

SUDBURY (C) — A 21-year-old Ottawa youth, Allan McGinnis, allas James Gale, Friday was sentenced to a year at hard labor when he pleaded guilty to car theft. A Sudbury man testified his car was stolen while he was visiting friends New Year's Night.

THIS IS A GENERAL view of Glendaloch, the Glen of the Two Lakes. It has probably the best preserved collection of religious antiquities in Ireland, including a Round Tower and the famous Seven Churches. Seen from the slopes of its encircling mountains it seems a fairy glen — a mirage — but Glendaloch in County Wicklow is real. (Irish Tourist Association Photo).

Ireland Spreads Green Welcome Mat Around Beautiful Killarney And Cork

By JEAN E. STENTON

Ireland's traditional green welcome mat is out for the visitor from early spring. Even before setting foot on the Emerald Isle, the air traveller can see the velvet carpet which covers much of the undulating land.

The country's lush beauty is matched by its inhabitants' hospitality. A friendly, warm-hearted people, the Irish have the knack for making one feel at home.

Nowhere is the Irish welcome more evident—than in the smaller towns and countryside. Predominantly a rural and agricultural nation, Ireland reveals its most romantic history and unspoiled beauties there.

A pleasant and inexpensive way to enjoy a tour of Ireland is by bus. The fine motor coach system operated by C.I.E. (Coras Iompair Eireann) embraces all the major points of interest and enables foreign visitors to range from the beauties of Killarney to the wilds of Donegal.

INEXPENSIVE TOURS

Conducted tours of six to 11 days in length are available from $47.60 to $94.08. Fares include transportation, first class hotels, all meals and tips.

The Kingdom of Kerry is a fairyland waiting to welcome the visitor. It is a paradise for climber, artist and sportsman. Here is Killarney, for those interested in the beauties of nature, nearly all Ireland's highest mountains and the famed "Ring of Kerry."

Killarney is an exquisite blend of mountain and island-studded lakes, wooded shore and glen. Of the three main lakes, Lough Leane is nearest the town. A wooded peninsula separates this lake from Muckross Lake which in turn is connected with the Upper Lake by a narrow strait called the Long Range. MacGillycuddy's Reeks, southwest of the town, offer the best mountain climbing in Ireland. The Muckross—a state which is a national park of 10,000 acres, embraces the greater part of the three lakes.

VISIT GAP OF DUNLOE

One of the loveliest trips to be taken from Killarney is to the Gap of Dunloe. It runs for four miles between the Reeks and the Purple Mountain group. At the entrance to the Gap, the visitor abandons bus or car and goes on pony or foot. The massive rocks rise on either side of the valley which is traversed by a turbulent stream draining five small lakes strung along the road.

Much evidence of glacial action is noticeable in the Gap. You can hear the celebrated echoes returning in eerie fashion from among the rocks and hills.

A boat trip can be taken on the Upper Lake. Here the visitor can see Muckross Abbey, founded by the friars in 1448. There is Torc Waterfall and Ross Castle, a well preserved ruin.

The Ring of Kerry is a road on the Grand Atlantic route on Iveragh Peninsula. It stretches west from the Killarney region for 36 miles and contains some of the finest mountains in the country. The tour from Kenmare to Killarney is 90 miles of wonderful panorama.

CORK ANCIENT CITY

Cork in the sunny south is Ireland's largest county with a long Atlantic coastline dotted with coves, strands and valleys. Cork City, the capital is noted for Shandon steeple and the bells and five miles distant is Blarney Castle with its famous Kissing Stone.

Cork city derives its name from "corach" meaning marsh. It is situated where the River Lee becomes tidal and owes its origin to a monastic school founded there in the sixth century by St. Finbarr. In later times it was occupied in turn by the Norsemen in 820 and the Anglo-Normans in 1172. Today it is one of the most progressive cities in Ireland.

Famous Shandon Church with its giant "pepper box" steeple dominates the view of the north side of the city. Built in 1722, the peculiar feature of the massive tower is that the north and east sides are of red sandstone and the other two of grey limestone. From the main tower are three further tiers, rising in telescope fashion to end in a curved dome. The ascent of the tower, 120 feet, gives a wonderful view of the city and valley. Its magnificent bells are world famous.

BLARNEY CASTLE HAS CHARM

The village of Blarney is a tourist mecca. For 1s, 6d you can visit the castle. It is principally a massive square keep or tower with a battlemented parapet 83 feet above the ground. The original fortress of MacCarthys of South Munster, it withstood several sieges from the 15th to the 17th centuries. Among others, Cromwell and Fairfax attacked Blarney and the army of King William was the last to take the castle after the Boyne. To kiss the famous stone, one has to descend head first (grasping the iron railing) from the parapet walk of the battlements.

The view from the top of the castle over the wooded hills of Muskerry is very fine To the south is the turreted mansion of modern Blarney Castle and little Blarney Lake of the folk tales. There is a cave beneath the outer wall of the keep and a staircase within the castle leads down to another cave which may have been a dungeon.

Ireland with its open air carnivals and fetes in many centres; ceilithe (Irish dances); folk dances; open air concerts at which Ireland's songs, music and dances fill the programs; its castles and lakes and its soft-voiced people will charm any visitor in spring, summer or autumn.

Canadians On Leave In London Finding Homelike Hospitality

LONDON (CP)—Canadian soldiers visiting England on leave from Germany don't have far to go to find homelike hospitality in London and a Canadian hostess and "mother confessor" who has their interests at heart.

Groups of them flock continually to the British leave centre at Nuffield House just behind St Martins-in-the-field, off Trafalgar Square where Lena McLure of Charlottetown holds forth. She is employed by the British centre.

Miss McLure, daughter of W. Chester S. McLure, member of Parliament for the P.E.I constituency of Queens, regards her "boys" as the brigadiers and generals of tomorrow and says "everyone at home can be proud of them.".

FINE REPUTATION

Her reputation for doing a fine job of looking after Canadian troops on leave is known by all Canadians in the United Kingdom and Germany. They come in to talk to her, to read, eat a solid meal and get a bit of homesickness off their chests. Then they go back to duty refreshed

"I just make sons of them," says Miss McLure. "They often come in here looking as though butter wouldn't melt in their mouths, but I know them well and I am proud of them for they are well-behaved and always smart in appearance."

Recently she had a couple of special visitors. They were Sgts. Mark Helesie of Goderich, Ont., and Aurele Levesque of St. Pascal, Que., who had finished a tough training course with the brigade of guards training battalion in Surrey.

The Canadian sergeants came out with top marks, Helesie being the only Canadian with an A rating, making him one of three out of 100 men with full marks. The older Levesque, a veteran of the Second World War, won a B grading, which in guards' terms, is high.

Brodie Twins Holding Own

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brodie Siamese twins were reported holding their own Friday although still in critical condition 23 days after the operation that separated them.

Rodney, the stronger, is fully conscious and eating well The boy has undergone two skin-graft operations on his skull since the separation, but about one-quarter of his brain still is uncovered by skin.

A spokesman at the University of Illinois medical centre said Rodney will remain on the critical list until his exposed brain is completely covered by skin grafts.

Roger Lee has been in a coma since the separation and doctors say they are amazed he has continued to survive this long

Surgeons found only a single membranous brain cover and a single main brain blood-drainage vein serving both the head-joined twins as they were dividing them. They gave both to Rodney because he was considered to have the better chance of survival.

No date has been set for the next operation on Rodney. Roger is too ill to submit to any surgery and his brain is covered with a plastic cap.

Movie Column

Bogart Has Howling Dog Trouble

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This one might be called the case of the howling dogs.

This week a gossip columnist ran the news that Humphrey Bogart's neighbors, including Lana Turner, were up in arms about the nightly barkings of his boxer dogs. One complainant has even put his house up for sale, the report declared.

Bogart's reply: "I will defend to the death the right of any dog to bark. Freedom of speech should not merely extend to humans.

"Besides, the situation has been exaggerated. Miss Turner lives two blocks away, and if she is bothered by the dogs, her ears are super-human. I haven't receive any complaints except from the man next door. A nice fellow, by the way. Sometimes he'll say he didn't sleep a wink the night before because of the dogs.

"But you know what that means. He was probably awake 10 to 15 minutes."

GO TO EUROPE

Bogart leaves Hollywood and the howling - dog controversy behind Sunday. He and Lauren Bacall go to New York and then Europe, where he'll make "Beat the Devil" with Jennifer Jones. John Huston, who dealt Bogart an Oscar with "African Queen," will direct.

The trip means that Bogart won't be around to hand his successor the Academy Award. . .

One of the big bores on this beat is hearing youngsters moan and groan about how hard movie acting is. So it's refreshing to talk to Barbara Stanwyck, who has no allergy to hard work.

She stepped right off the sinking "Titanic" and into a costume film called "all I Desire." Next she'll make "Blowing Wild" in Mexico with Gary Cooper and return for a western, "The Moonlighters." But you don't hear her complaining.

"Sure, the hours are a little rugged," she admitted. "It's not much fun to get up at 5:30 in the morning and return home at 8. But the pay is good and the work is stimulating."

The physicist, sentenced to 10 years imprisonment after pleading guilty to passing atomic information to a Russian agent in Britain, is staying at his brother's home near London. He was released from jail after gaining nearly three years remission for good conduct.

He said plans are "in active preparation" for similar St. Lawrence river projects.

Order Oil Cargo Handed To UK Firm

ADEN (CP) — The Supreme Court of this British protectorate today ordered that a disputed 900-ton cargo of oil from Iran aboard the tanker Rose Mary be handed over to the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

The Honduras-registered tanker was chartered by an Italian oil company in the first attempt to run Britain's commercial blockade against overseas sales of Iranian oil. AIOC got an injunction against the ship when it was brought into port here last June.

The court found that Iranian nationalization of AIOC's holdings in Iran had been "confiscation."

M. H. Mansoor, counsel for the charter company, the A. G. Bubenberg Company of Switzerland, applied for an order staying execution of the court order. The court refused.

The court also awarded costs against the master, owners and charters of the Rose Mary.

The oil, purchased at 18 per cent below the prevailing world price, was consigned to a Swiss purchaser.

Port Perry Opens 29-Bed Hospital

PORT PERRY.—The degree of assistance afforded the sick, aged and infirm, is a good criterion of the progress of civilization, the Hon. Arthur Welsh, Ontario provincial secretary, said Thursday in opening the new Port Perry Memorial Hospital.

The 29-bed hospital, fabricated from reconditioned dormitories bought from Ajax, cost less than $5,000 a bed, an exceptionally low unit cost.

WISE DECISION

Introducing the Hon. John Foote, minister of reform institutions, T. D. Thomas, MPP, noted that during the development and building of the hospital, it had been proved that the decision of the hospital board to use the Ajax buildings had been a wise one.

Mr. Foote said that it was a day of rejoicing for the medical fraternity of the Port Perry district. He spoke of the service provided by hospitals, and their vital value in community life.

Mr. Welsh said that the hospital exemplified community spirit to a marked degree. "When people of good will get together, there is nothing that cannot be accomplished."

Must Be United Before Too Late Briton Warns

STRASBOURG, France (AP) — A British Conservative, who emphasized that he was speaking for himself and not for his party or country, warned Europeans Thursday night to "wake up and federate" or Britain and the United States might abandon them to the perils of Russian invasion.

L. R. Gerald Longden addressed members of the continental special constitutional assembly who met here to debate the draft of a constitution for a six-country European federation. France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg are represented, along with observers from other members of the Council of Europe. Longden is one of three British observers.

A considerable shadow has been cast on the work of the assembly by the rise to the premiership of France of Rene Mayer, who has promised to reopen negotiations on some angles of the proposed six-country European army. One of the purposes of a federation would be to control that army.

Longden said Britain and the U.S. "might lose faith and pull out" of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if Europe fails to unite.

Serum Saves Bushman's Leg

SMOOTH ROCK FALLS (CP)—A serum relayed from Toronto was reported today to have saved one leg of 68-year-old Arthur Dubeau, jobber bushman of nearby Driftwood.

The man's left leg was amputated about 10 inches below the hip Thursday after gangrene set in his foot, frozen Dec. 31. The man tried to treat the frostbite himself until Monday when he was found by provincial police in his home, some 250 air miles north of North Bay. He was taken immediately to hospital.

A Lands and Forests aircraft carried the serum from Toronto to North Bay. An RCAF plane piloted by FO. William Begy and FO. J.L. Brown took it to Kapuskasing, and a provincial police automobile carried it the remaining 50 miles to Smooth Rock Falls.

Constable Fred Martin said the man's legs were frozen in 30-below zero weather when he tired while returning to his cabin and fell asleep while resting in an abandoned stable.

Lucien Charpentier, postmaster at Driftwood, missed seeing the bushworker at the post office and decided to visit his cabin He found Dubeau in serious condition and notified police.

Our Letter Column As A Forum

Last year about 425 Letters to the Editor were received by this newspaper, and we printed 379 of them. Unsigned letters, libellous letters and letters which are either so silly or so illiterate that they cannot possibly be used must, of course, be rejected. But we print most of what we receive even when, as happened recently, a reader suggests that our newspaper be put to a use for which it was never intended. The letters column of a newspaper is a forum of opinion, and we do not insist that our readers share all of our opinions, or any of them.

* * *

We like receiving Letters to the Editor, and wish there were more of them. But there seems to be a strong feeling everywhere in Canada that it is only permissible to write to a newspaper when one is angry; most of the letters we receive are couched in a tone of complaint. This need not be so. We would be happy to receive letters about any matters of wide interest, about hobbies, about nature lore and local history. In fact we would be as pleased to print the enthusiasms of our readers, as we are to print their complaints.

* * *

It is a sad fact, however, that most people are stirred to action by annoyance more readily than by pleasure. They will accept any amount of pleasure passively, but they will be moved to complaint by a very small thing. But to all who have written us letters in the past, and to all our readers, we offer the assurance that our columns are open to reasonable comment, whether inspired by joy or anger.

How Much Schooling Have Canadians Had?

The number of years a person has gone to school does not prove he is or is not educated, for many well-educated, cultivated people have had little formal education. Contrariwise, some people who have gone to school for a dozen years are neither educated nor cultured. There is in general, however, a direct relationship between literacy and schooling, and the chances are that the most schooled person is the best educated. With these considerations in mind, one examines with curiosity the census figures on years of schooling which Canadians have had.

The tables list the population five years of age and over by the number of years of schooling they had had. This is given in two divisions—those now (1951) attending school, and those not attending. The persons not attending school—and older than pre-school age—can be presumed to be adults whose schooling has been completed. The census showed a total population of 14,009,429. Of these 12,287,320 were five years of age or older. Of the twelve and a quarter million, 2,468,881 were attending school; the other 9,818,439 had completed their schooling.

From these figures, certain observations can be made. The first is that one out of every five persons in Canada aged five or more is attending school. It is a high percentage, credible because school attendance is compulsory on every Canadian child in every province. It means that Canadians are exposed to formal education, whether or not they become educated. The figure also indicates why education is a major item on Canadian tax bills; 2,468,881 pupils and students cannot be housed in schools and provided with teachers and equipment without great expense.

The statistics relating to Canadians who have finished their schooling are significant of a literate population. Only 653,496 of the 9,818,439 adult Canadians had no formal schooling at all. The remainder went to school for the following number of years: 700,355 for one to four years; 4,186,302 for five to eight years; 3,513,424 for nine to twelve years (that is, attended secondary schools), and 764,862 had thirteen or more years of schooling—that is, would in general have had university training. Add to this figure the 84,396 now attending school who have already had thirteen or more years of formal schooling, and it appears that 849,258 Canadians have had some college education. That figure represents seven out of every hundred Canadians over the age of four; it means more than one in every ten beyond secondary school age have had training at college levels.

The census figures show that urban people have had more years of schooling than rural people. Newfoundland people have had the fewest years of schooling, on the average; Ontario people the most. British Columbian figures are high in the number of persons who have had secondary school education.

Here is a tabulated comparison between Ontario and Quebec, expressed first numerically, secondly as percentages. The total population of Ontario (1951) five years of age and older was 4,082,820; of Quebec, 3,514,157.

Population Attending School

Years of Schooling	Number Ontario	Number Quebec	Percentages Ont.	Percentages Que.
Total	751,399	725,882	18.4	20.7
1-4	330,829	372,988	8.1	10.6
5-8	256,831	251,387	6.3	7.2
9-13	127,611	79,727	3.1	2.3
13 and over	36,129	21,780	.9	.6

Population Not Attending School

Total	3,331,421	2,788,275	81.6	79.3
None	157,522	202,301	3.9	5.8
1-4	155,167	243,469	3.8	6.9
5-8	1,378,881	1,393,873	33.8	39.7
9-12	1,274,945	793,945	31.2	22.6
13 and over	364,906	154,986	8.9	4.4

In Quebec there are more children and adults than in Ontario who have had only a few years of schooling. The figures and percentages are higher in Ontario of those who have had secondary schooling and college education. The larger number of Quebec children attending the lowest classes of school means that there are more young children in Quebec than in Ontario, not that young Ontario children are kept away from school. If parental desire and the truant officer do not put children into schools, the family allowance does. This is not paid mothers for children who have an unsatisfactory record of school attendance during the year.

Our readers may be interested in the local figures, as established by the 1951 census. The total population of this county was 60,789. Of this 53,167 were aged five or over. The total population of those attending school was 10,332, with the following years of schooling up to the time the count was made: with 1-4 years, 4,880; with 5-8 years, 3,560; with 9-12 years, 1,549; with 13 or more years of schooling, 343. The total adult population (or more exactly the total population in the county of people aged five or older who were not attending schools) was 42,835. Of these 1,672 persons had had no formal schooling at all; 1,356 had only one to four years of schooling; 19,708 had from five to eight years; 16,080 had from nine to twelve years, and 4,019 had thirteen or more years of schooling, that is, in general, had had some formal education at college level. The impression these Peterborough city and county figures gives is of a literate population with a majority undergoing or having undergone some secondary schooling, or headed towards it.

"I Don't Like Canadians"

Our Weekend today has something for everybody, including the editors. There are the Conacher father and son for sports enthusiasts, some detailed, excellent photographs in colour (Crown Copyrighted) of the Coronation regalia; readers can learn how to become a drum-majorette (illustrated), how they and their aging parents can get along and like it; there is a short story by the well-known Canadian writer and poet Joseph Schull, and so on back to the very end of the magazine where there are some excerpts from letters to the editor. Rather, they were letters written as a result of an American television program in which a Weekend Canadian story-teller retold on TV some stories which have appeared in Weekend.

Some of the American letter-writers were complimentary. Some were excruciatingly damnatory. ". . . I don't like Canadians and I never have. Nuts to you and all Canadian writing and newspapers, and I know what I am talking about."

Another poisonous pen wrote that "I want to say that you shouldn't try to put any Canadian ideas across on our airwaves." Another in wrath said: "What (in blazes) do we Americans care about Canadian writing? . . . It is always the same. Canada is a British colony. First that fascist Churchill came to Washington to borrow money. Then the Princess. After that old Eden came . . ."

Obviously, as the first writer we quoted said, these people 'know what they are talking about'. Everybody knows that Canada is a British colony, that Churchill is a Fascist, that the Canadians were lolling about at home during the war when the Americans were fighting in the Pacific.

Nobody knows that Canada is a self-governing nation, that Churchill has fought Fascists (and Nazis) all his days, that Canadians were in France and Britain before the Americans entered the war; that Canadians fought in Hong Kong almost as early as Americans fought in the Pacific. So it's nuts to us and all Canadian writing and newspapers, is it?

What really interests us in this exchange of compliments is that Canadians have become big enough and important enough to be disliked—if only by a few American hot-heads. It is a mark of our stature, an indication that we are a people after all and have what one of these writers accuses us of having—Canadian ideas.

The Journal of Samuel Marchbanks

SUNDAY: Everybody I meet is talking about his New Year's resolutions; the quaint old custom of pretending to reform oneself every first of January seems to be coming back into favour. And as I am as much the slave of fashion as most men, I also have made a resolution, and it is this: during 1953 I shall be as kind and gentle as possible in all my dealings with myself. I have a tendency, which I have long deplored, to blame myself for misfortunes which I cannot control, to feel embarrassment when other people do foolish things, to try to make those around me happy when they would obviously prefer to be miserable, to—— but the list of my follies in this direction is too long. I am going to let up on myself; I am going to give myself little treats when I deserve them, lay myself down whenever I feel tired, look bored when I feel bored and in general stop being a social animal. Spiritually, I shall be as naked and innocent as Adam before the Fall (and when I say the Fall, I mean the Fall of Man, and not the Autumn, as the irreligious and will pitiably suppose).

MONDAY: Was awakened this morning by a noise which sounded like a fight in a beverage room but which proved to be only the radio-alarm which a kind friend gave me for Christmas. Before going to bed you tune it to your favourite radio station, and at the chosen hour it rouses you with the honeyed tones of your favourite newscaster. Unfortunately I had set the thingummy at an intermediate point among three stations, and the volume control was turned up to its fullest. But after a little tinkering all was well and I lay at my ease, and heard that the French were to have a new government, and that a Turkish soldier with a twenty-inch tail had made a blushing confession to an army surgeon. I am not sure that I like to have the news as soon as I wake, and in such a rich, alert and yet essentially illiterate voice. I twiddled the wheel on the machine a bit, and waltz music took the place of the Tailed Turk; this is not my morning choice, either, nor do I want gossip, or nasty talk about exercises, or women being funny. I am a curmudgeon, and in the morning I want to keep the world at bay until I have had my breakfast.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: I have been reading the letters between Bernard Shaw and Mrs. Pat Campbell, and am humiliatingly conscious that I do not write letters like that, and that even if I did, nobody would keep them for posterity. I know no one who preserves letters and I never seem to get any letters worth keeping. My own letters are wretched things, with no proper grammar in them, and no choice thoughts or tasty gossip. Business demands that I dictate a good many letters, and these are objects of shame to me, for they never seem to make any sense, and read as though they had been written by somebody else whom I would not like if I knew him. In the eighteenth century they had the right idea; when Pope or Horace Walpole wrote a letter to a friend he made a draft of it, corrected and polished, had two copies made and sent one to the friend, carefully filing the other for his memoirs. If, at a later date, he changed his mind about anything, he called in all his letters and prepared a sort of Revised Hansard for later publication. Byron wrote impulsively and indiscreetly and entertainingly, but I do not, and I know no one who does so.

WEDNESDAY: The big trouble with TV is that there is no audience participation, the actors have no idea what the public thinks of them, and, actors being what they are, they always suspect the best. Watched a few programs this evening at the house of a friend, and decided that what I needed was a control panel close at hand, with buttons on it labelled "Not Funny, Try Again", "You Are Not as Pretty As You Think", "Stand Farther Away", "Come Closer and Lean Lower", "Have You Ever Thought of Trying Some Other Line of Work?", "Your Toupee is Slipping", "You Have Just Mispronounced a Favourite Word Of Mine", "You Repel Me But I Do Not Postively Hate You"—and similar messages; I could press the buttons as the spirit moved me, and they would flash the messages on a large board in the television studios, and the performers would be able to judge their "audience reaction" as they worked. This would strongly influence their behaviour, and amuse their sponsors and the far-away audience. It would make clear to the players that their enchantment was an insubstantial thing, and not a built in fixture, which is what they seem to think at present.

THURSDAY: How dead can a reputation be? The year 1952 came and went and so far as I know not a single new life of Tom Moore was published, although it was the centenary of his death. Yet in his day Moore was enormously admired as a poet, and his verses are sweet and deft; he was a brilliant wit, and his jokes still make me laugh. Why, in an age when anybody who is dead is fair game for those literary vultures, the writers of hack biographies, has so little attention been paid to Moore? Not even an American professor has dug him up and given his bones a shake. My guess is that Moore was too cheerful and happy a fellow for the modern taste. We live in an age when gloom and misfortune are much admired, and Moore was gleeful, even when life was dark for him.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: For some time several newspapers that I read have been publishing hokum by graphologists, who profess to estimate character by handwriting. This seems to me to be on a par, scientifically, with telling fortunes by the placing and incidence of moles on the body. It is not to be compared with my own, recently-developed study of Habilography, or the Reading of Character by Clothing. I can tell volumes about a man by the ties he wears, and I place women by their shoes. The number, and nature, of the pens and pencils a man carries in his waistcoat pocket afford deep insight into his character, and a woman who wears junk jewellery combined with genuine fine stones lays bare her soul to my searching eye. What can a woman conceal from the trained Habilographer, as he mentally estimates the variations of her hemline? And socks, those windows of the soul, usually tell me more about a man than I really want to know. What is more truly characteristic of a human being than the draperies he sees fit to assume, the ornaments he chooses, and the way in which he has assembled the junk which conceals four-fifths of his person? Graphology — bah! Habilography—aha!

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: I read with profound interest of the discovery in Madagascar of a Coelocanth, a large fish which scientists have thought extinct for fifty million years. Always a bad mathematician, I have made some whopping errors in my time, but none so vast as this. Even Mr. Douglas Abbott, that Caesar among careless reckoners, has rarely boobed his sums so overwhelmingly. And now, to make science grow red in the face, a Coelocanth has hopped ashore in Madagascar, and spread the news that reports of its extinction were grossly exaggerated. I have never been really devout in my attitude toward Science; dogma of all kinds rouses acute, animal suspicion in me. As I grow older scientists tend to shrink in my eyes, and I would not be a bit surprised if next week an ape were to shinny down a tree in Borneo and inform somebody that mankind is really descended from giraffes, and that apes have been laughing at us for a century. My own family tree abounds in Marchbanks who were informed by scientists of various sorts that they were going to die, and who didn't. I also have a corresponding group of forebears who died immediately after scientists had told them they were good for another couple of centuries. It behooves a man to be careful, and sceptical.

An American Opinion: "AFTER YOU"

Letter To The Editor

RE-ACTIVATE THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Sir: It is a matter for constant wonder that any neighbourhood quarrel or petty incident which will be forgotten in two months causes a score of your readers to write indignant letters to the Editor, while fundamental problems with serious consequences for the whole district over many generations are smothered in a "smog" of public and official indifference, with only a very rare protest.

One major example of this public apathy to the best interests of the citizenry, extending over the last hundred years, resulted in the building of ugly industrial areas along most sections of Little Lake and the Otonabee River, which a century ago were parklands of unsurpassed beauty praised by every traveller from Europe. Peterborough's waterfront could have been developed with a little planning into one of the loveliest urban parkways in Canada, rivalling the beautiful plazas, plages and parks which are the pride of nearly every European community. Credit is due the few public-spirited individuals in Peterborough who have saved a few small waterfront areas from the prevailing blight and neglect, while the Faludi Plan lies gathering dust in some City Hall file.

Another current exampe of this public inertness is the Peterborough Historical Society, revived after forty years with much fanfare in the "centennial" autumn of 1950, then after one initial meeting put back into its coffin and hurriedly buried by the newly-elected executive, perhaps with the idea that it can be exhumed again for similar funereal festivities at fifty-year intervals as "The Spirit of Peterborough Past".

The Historical Society could fill a vital need by preventing the wastage of Peterborough's rich historical resources: (1) by recording the reminiscences of our old people who knew the town and countryside of 1870-1910; a PHS working group with a wire-recorder could preserve not only such reminiscences but also records of important current events in the life of Peterborough and district; (2) by co-operating with the Ontario Historical Society, the Ontario Archaeological Society, and with provincial and federal Historical Monument Boards to locate, investigate, mark and preserve historical sites and buildings in the Kawarthas; unfortunately due to local inertia many of these have already disappeared, but those remaining can be preserved; (3) by collecting and preserving, in a museum, relics of pioneer Peterborough and Kawartha, such as letters, diaries, pictures, maps, books, clothes, utensils, tools, etc., before these are all destroyed or dispersed beyond recall. Some of these relics are now in national and provincial archives, and some are in private collections, but the Peterborough Public Library has the nucleus of a Kawartha Historical Museum due to the indefatigable efforts of the late Mr. Delafosse and of Miss G. Sullivan, the reference librarian. The undersigned has a large collection of Kawarthiana which might ultimately be donated to an active museum in Peterborough, and undoubtedly there are others who would do the same if they had some assurance that these relics of pioneer days would be carefully preserved for the benefit of future generations.

These are only three of the more important functions that an Historical Society could worthily undertake in preserving Peterborough's historical resources from destruction. Are there not a score or two among the hundred thousand people of the Kawartha District who would work to make the Historical Society a real community asset, by organizing active working groups to undertake these important tasks? They will not be found among the publicity-seekers whose only desire is to see their names prominently displayed, but among those genuinely interested in doing a quiet job of permanent value to the city and district for centuries to come. After 22 years of such persistent industry in preserving the history of early Peterborough and Kawartha, the community could then approach its 150th birthday in 1975 with some knowledge and pride in its rich heritage, rather than shame and regret at the neglect and destruction of its geographical and historical landmarks.

I sometimes wonder if the people of the Peterborough district appreciate the outstanding work that the Examiner has done and is doing by presenting frequent historical features for its readers. The articles of Mrs. Marryat of Hastings, and of Messrs. Choate, Nickels, Guillet, Clarry, and Alpha and a few others on various aspects of Peterborough's past, as well as the frequent reproduction of pictures and items from the newspapers of several decades ago, have both interest and value in keeping alive some minimum amount of historical knowledge in the district. An active Historical Society backed by an intelligent newspaper and by public-spirited City and County Councils could bring the Kawarthas to the forefront as the historical centre of Ontario, and tourists might come here to enjoy another of our resources in addition to our scenery and our game.

The writer desires to thank all those who have continued to support and encourage the preparation of the history of Peterborough and the Kawarthas, which is proceeding steadily. A re-activated Peterborough Historical Society could do much to accelerate the completion and publication of this history. In the meantime, I would be glad to hear from anyone who has material of any kind which will help to fill in the decreasing number of blank spots and vague gaps in the history of Peterborough and the Kawarthas over the last 150 years.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life . . . The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. (Prov. 13: 12, 14.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast . . . While he yet spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon here, and she shall live . . .

And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and people making a noise, he saith unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose. And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land. (Matt. 9: 14, 15, 18, 23-26.)

And he took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom. (Matt. 26: 27-29.)

A Matter Of Endurance

(Detroit Free Press)

A University of California biochemist has found, in research for the navy, that rats fed liver can swim for two hours without exhaustion, while rats denied liver get tired after a half hour.

He suggests that special "fighter foods" and "danger diets" could be developed for servicemen in combat zones to increase their powers of endurance under stress. The only specific food he has mentioned is liver.

In his report to the Office of Naval Research, the doctor failed to state whether he meant fresh liver or an extract in pill form. For those who find liver unpalatable their endurance in consuming substances to increase endurance would be helped if they could just gulp a pill.

BOUNDARY MAKERS

ALGOMA BECKONS to three Peterborough men. Surveyor John G. Pierce, centre, his picket man Lorne Youmans, left, and cook Joe de Foy examine a map of Ontario where Mr. Pierce will supervise the cutting of an 85-mile territorial boundary between Thunder Bay and Cochrane. Sponsored by the surveys division of the Department of Lands and Forests, the project will start from the jumping-off point at Nakina on Monday. The men will be gone till break-up, about mid-April. (See story below).—(Examiner Staff Photo.

A·F·I·E·L·D with NICK NICKELS

I met surveyor John Pierce on the street the other day. We generally have a chat but he was in a hurry.

"Can't stop," said he. "I'm going North again on another boundary survey job. Leaving Monday. I'll see you about the middle of April."

Recalling his four-month job in the winter of 1947-48 when he was on the 162-mile completion of the Ontario-Manitoba boundary survey from Echoing River to Hudson Bay, I smelled a story. He revealed the following information after I had cornered him in his drafting room.

John Pierce is heading up a crew of eighteen men on a job sponsored by the Department of Lands and Forests. Surveyor-general F. W. Beatty of that department has authorized him to cut an 80-mile boundary line that will be used to designate the territorial districts of Thunder Bay and Cochrane. Its immediate purpose will serve to establish a control line for mapping operations in one of the few sections of Northern Ontario that has not been mapped from the air.

Personnel assisting Mr. Pierce will be one of his own picket men, Lorne Youmans, and camp coook Joe de Foy, both of Peterborough. Others are department surveyors Chester McKergow and J. Campbell and flying district forester U. W. Fiskar of Geraldton.

Supplies and equipment are now being assembled at Nakina and Geraldton on the C.N.R. for air transport into the main base camp at Crony Lake, 45 miles north of the track.

The survey line will stop at the Albany River which, until 1912 was the former boundary between Ontario and Manitoba. If time and spring break-up conditions permit the crew will be flown east from the Albany to complete ten miles of traverse laid out by the late Alexander Niven in 1908. Surveyors say it may be very hard to find after the wilderness growth of 55 years has obliterated it.

Work will start in the rugged Algoma hill country and continue beyond into the flat swampy muskegs laced by the small rapid river tributaries of the Ogoki and Albany Rivers. It will not be as easy as the Hudson Bay barrens and their innumerable lakes that the surveyors crossed in the winter of '48. But temperatures as low as 50 degrees will be the same.

The routine of tent life, slashing through the wilderness, and moving forward slowly by dog team is a hard life. Aircraft will jump the bulk of supplies ahead of the working party if lakes are adjacent to the traverse. Crews will sleep in elderdown bags fully clothed and topped with toques and eat Joe's hearty meals three times a day, or more often.

There seemed to be more puzzling Mr. Pierce than he would readily admit. It wasn't so much being away from home for a while—that is an accepted role of a surveyor's life—it is the introduction of some forestry mechanical gadgets that will be tried out in winter for the first time.

"They are making guinea pigs of us," he said.

The party will try to replace most of the dog team hauling with the use of two motor toboggans which are said to be capable of travelling 25 miles an hour, unloaded, and to pull half a ton of duffle.

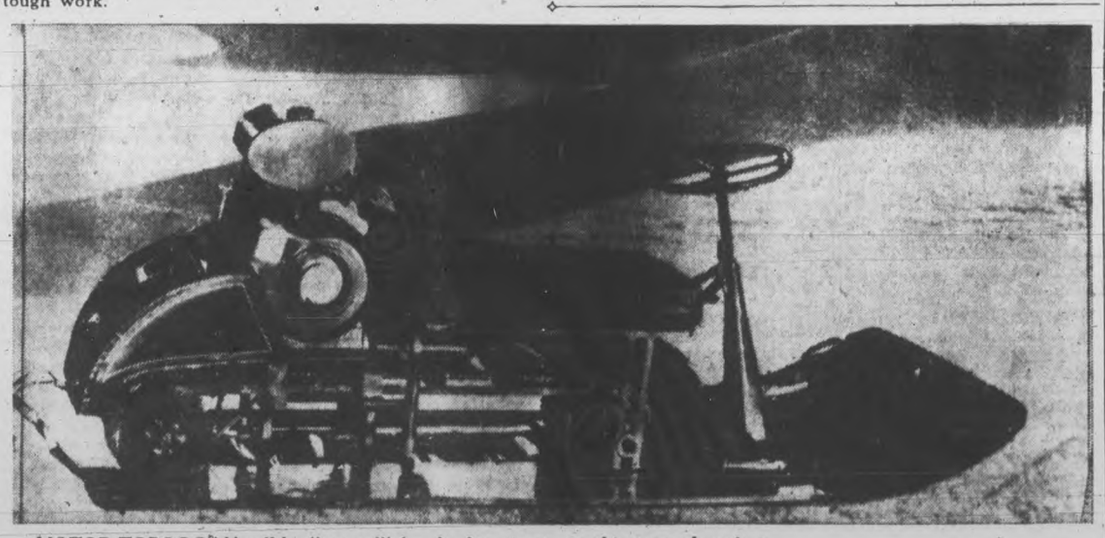
"They might perform that way on George St., but I'll bet we will have to lug them up most of the hills. We may have to abandon them entirely if they get hung up on stumps or rocks somewhere far inland," John Pierce predicts.

And that isn't all in the way of new-fangled things.

There will be two small pack tractors, developed and used satisfactorily by the department for fire fighting. These box-like affairs run on mechanical tracks with two control handlebars at the back. They are not speedy but will carry a good load. A 500-watt gasoline-driven generator will power a two-way radio and provide a few electric drop lights for the tents.

The Pierces are a boundary-making family. John's father, the late John W. Pierce, surveyed more than 350 miles of the Ontario-Manitoba boundary as late as 1937 and his last 115-mile section was the first survey operation to use aircraft movement. Existing government maps show that he was a fractional five feet away from the geodetic marker.

Son John worked on the project that completed the boundary in 1948. He was fifteen feet off his goal. This sort of work, in all engineering circles, is considered perfection.



His father liked to tell a story of an Indian axeman who watched him plotting proposed work lines on oblique aerial photos. Why go to the trouble and expense of cutting the line when people already knew where it was?

Established boundaries settle disputes between mining and exploration enterprises. They guide bush pilots in times of low snow ceilings and when forest fire smoke cuts visibility to nil. Boundaries determine base working lines for aerial mapping. They are expensive but necessary.

And so, turning the responsibility of running his office while away to Grange W. Elliott, O.L.S., John Pierce will shake off the torpor of life in our Sunny South (Ontario) for the rugged life on "one of our rugged far-flung frontiers". (I knew I could ring in that typical writer's phraseology, somewhere.) We all wish him a successful trip and good shooting—with his theodolite.

BEND IN THE OGOKI RIVER, taken in summer from 10,000 feet shows, to experienced eyes, black-spruce forests, muskegs, potholes. Although Mr. Pierce's survey crew will find this scene snow-covered, cutting a boundary line will be tough work.

MOTOR TOBOGGAN will be "proved" for the first time on this type of project.

HALF-BREEDS AND SWAMPY CREES will marvel, and jeer, at mechanical aids.

Kawartha Literary Pioneers: VI

Poet Thomas Carr Headed Local Agricultural Society

(Thomas Carr of Otonabee wrote verse and prose more than a century ago, as previous instalments have related, in carrying the account up to 1833.)

It was three years and a half before another poem of Carr's was in the Cobourg Star. Inspired no doubt, by Gray's "Ode on the Death of a Favorite Cat, Drowned in a Tub of Goldfish", and Goldsmith's "Elegy on the Death of a Mad Dog", Carr wrote his

ELEGY

On the death of a favorite Cat, who spent a long and apparently happy life in the faithful discharge of her humble but useful duties.

Poor Puss has paid great Nature's debt—
A debt we all must pay,
Howe'er we mortals toil and fret,
As fast our lives decay.
Whilst wintry blasts were howling round,
And dark'ning all the sky,
While snow's deep mantle deck'd the ground,
Poor Puss was left to die.
Her mistress, cruel and ingrate,
Sought a far-distant home,
And Puss abandoned, hapless fate,
In solitude to roam.

The mice had sought their dark retreat,
No squirrel gamboll' round,
The birds had winged their distant flight,
And milder climates found.

Deep wand'ring through the pathless waste,
I saw her slender form;
I ran to hail my stranger guest,
And shield her from the storm.
Debarred of speech her thoughts to tell,
She, purring, shewed her bliss;
No pris'ner rescued from his cell
Could warmer thanks express.

Winters twice seven have shed their snow,
Yet still she shared my cot;
Of ev'ry pilf'ring knave the foe,
Nor sought a happier lot.

A longer life Puss could not crave;
Death dealt the fatal blow
That ends the coward and the brave,
And lays the fav'rite low.

Farewell! my humble, faithful friend,
Thy fate I need not mourn:
My years, like thine, must have an end,
My frame to dust return.

Let all who read my artless lays,
Full gently treat thy kind;
Such faithful service merits praise
From ev'ry grateful mind.

These two poems appeared in the Star on January 9, 1833, and September 7, 1836, respectively, and it was not until twelve years had passed that Carr again sent verses to that newspaper. This, his last poem as far as is known, was inspired by a personal tragedy, the death by drowning of a young relative of the same name. These plaintive verses on the classical model appeared in the Star on May 31, 1848:

VERSES

In much-lov'd England's far-fam'd Isle,
His infant breath he drew;
Enjoy'd each parent's gladsome smile,
And up to boyhood grew.

England! thy vales with daisies bright
I never more may see:
Nor may thy mountains glad my sight,
Yet still I turn to thee . . .

(There are nine more verses, the last is:)

Farewell, dear land! on thee each May bounteous Heav'n bestow; joy
May peaceful arts thy sons employ,
With health thy daughters glow!
Let comfort, then, our griefs assuage,
Let cries of sorrow cease;
Unchanging day succeeds brief age,
And brings eternal peace.

ON EDUCATION

In 1850 Thomas Carr was President of the Agricultural Society of Otonabee and Asphodel. On October 19th he presented a scholarly report which, forunately, was printed in the Peterborough Weekly Despatch of November 14th. His philosophy of education was comprehensive of the best for all, a hope that "our children" would be afforded advantages which most of their elders missed.

"We can improve our minds", he said, "by reading and reflection, and in establishing Schools, and in educating our children. During six months of the year the varied beauties and wonderful operations of nature are before our eyes—we can refine and humanize our hearts by admiring the former, and enlarge and improve our minds by studying and contemplating the latter. No occupation is so healthy, so agreeable, or so varied, as that of the farmer."

He then goes on to say that all classes of the population should be represented in Parliament in proportion to their numbers; but that, alas! Canadian agriculturists, while a majority, were rarely represented by one of themselves.

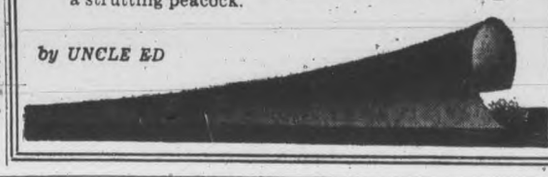
FABULOUS FINDINGS

Mercury

One of the elements known as quicksilver or mercury faithfully points a red glass-encased finger at our heat and cold, but Mercury did much more than that in those fabulous days when gods roamed the world.

Mercury (Hermes) was the son of Jupiter and Maia. (Hm, just how many mates did Jupiter have?) As Jupiter's messenger, Mercury wore a winged cap and winged shoes, bearing in his hand a rod entwined with two serpents. It was called the caduceus.

Being a rather busy god, Mercury presided over commerce, wrestling and other gymnastic exercises. He kept on the lookout for thievery and, in fact, was called upon for practically everything requiring skill and dexterity.



Furthermore, Mercury invented the lyre. Finding a tortoise one day, he took off the shell—a rather rough way of dispossessing one. That could be the reason for our snapping turtle today. However, he made holes in the opposite edges of it and drew linen cords through them to complete the instrument.

The cords were nine in number to honor the nine Muses. Mercury gave the lyre to Apollo and received from him in exchange the caduceus.

A rather fanciful tale is told of how Mercury lulled the villainous Argus (who had a hundred eyes in his head) to sleep with many stories, and cut off his head, taking it then to Juno.

But the light of those hundred eyes was not quenched for posterity, as Juno put them as ornaments on the tail of her pet peacock, and they may be seen today at any zoo which boasts a strutting peacock.

Your Garden:

Backgrounds Of Evergreen Hedges

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

As long as men crowd their homes into the cities and limit the boundaries of their property with harsh, artificial, straight lines, walls and hedges must be used to serve the purpose of background and screen. We choose the hedge.

Hedges give the appearance of neatness and privacy to every area that they enclose, and at the same time keep neighbors' children and pets from running rampant through the garden.

Neat, low hedges are useful for lining garden paths and enclosing individual flower beds. They emphasize a formal garden design and make it more forceful.

RESPECTABILITY

The respectable are not led so much by any desire of applause as by a positive need for countenance. The weaker and the tamer the man, the more will he require this support.

—R. L. Stevenson: Familiar Studies of Men and Books

For tall and narrow evergreen hedges, the American arborvitae, thuya occidentalis, heads the list. It can be kept at a medium height or allowed to grow tall, as desired. It stands clipping very well, endures a little shade and has good foliage down to the ground.

After seeing a white pine hedge, pinus strobus, one will be delighted with the soft, dense hedge that it produces. This timber tree adapts itself readily to pruning and is satisfactory for a hedge eight feet or more in height if it is given a breadth at the base equal to the height. It should be trimmed once or twice each summer and small plants used to start the hedge.

The Douglas fir, pseudotsuga douglasi, is better than spruce for a tall hedge. It is free from insect attacks, is a rapid grower, and makes a firm, rich, attractive background for flowers and statuary.

The Norway spruce and white spruce need a cool, moist soil or they become ragged and the foliage loses its richness of color. They are attacked by spruce gall aphis and budworm, which makes them less useful for hedging purposes.

Upright Japanese yew, taxus cuspidata capitata, makes the best hedge of all, but it is more expensive to buy. This plant has attractive dark green foliage and can be pruned to any shape. It is particularly free from insects, is slow growing and easily kept within bounds. It forms a compact hedge of any size and can be kept very low for as long as 20 years.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q.—What shrubs may we plant about the house that will provide cut branches for forcing indoors during the wintre?

A—Forsythia, Japanese Quince, Slender Deutzia, Star Magnolia, Fragrant Honeysuckle and Pussy Willow are among the easiest plants to force. Cut young, vigorous, well-budded growth the desired length, place in water in a warm room. Cut a bit of stem off the bottom every few days. A syringing with tepid water hastens opening flower buds.

Q.—Is it possible to grow and bloom the Passion Vine indoors?

A.—Yes, if you simulate greenhouse conditions. This plant adores a heated atmosphere and plenty of sunlight. If given a pot which will not confine the root system and plenty of room, it should bloom. It requires support and frequent spraying of the foliage with tepid water.

Oshawa Truckers Victors Over The Petes By 8-4 In Speedy Senior Contest

Oshawa Truckmen dumped the Petes 8-4 before a good-sized crowd here last night to lengthen their lead in the OHA senior "B" group race. It was the same score by which the Truckers took the locals in Oshawa earlier in the week. They rolled to a 2-0 lead in the first stanza, held their own in a 3-3 middle chukker, and had a 3-1 scoring margin in the last chapter of a fast, clean contest. Each side drew five minor penalties, and the fans saw a lively scrap, closer than the score indicates. Three of the Oshawa goals came with a Petes' player in the sin bin, and another was when Ray Harding, trying to ice the puck, fanned on a bouncer.

CHUM FRYIA

GUS LEONARD

LED PETES' SCORERS — Chum Fryia and Gus Leonard led the Petes in scoring here last night, as Oshawa triumphed 8-4 in a fast senior "B" hockey contest. Each were in on two goals, Fryia sniping one and helping on another, while Leonard aided on a pair.

MASON HURT

Jack (Curly) Mason returned to action after a layoff for the flu and was used only in the third period. Hard luck stalked the chunky forward—a lacrosse star in the summer—as he scored a fine goal on a fast breakaway but wound up against the end boards hard. He was carried off the ice on a stretcher, suffering a twisted ankle. This occurred with about five minutes left to play in the game. He was able to walk home later. The Petes used but seven forwards.

Play was very fast over most of the route, and Oshawa kept up the pace better. Only in the even middle period did the homesters play on even terms in this tilt, the visitors having a margin on play in the first and third, though not by a wide edge. The locals were outlucked on many in-close stabs, and robbed by Naylor on others. Ray Harding, but for that one miss, turned in a solid chore, too. But the Truckmen were big and speedy, checking well and making few mistakes when in scoring position.

LED THE WAY

Jed Wilson and Bob Holden tallied two markers each for the visitors, with singles chalked up to Frank Hooper, Ernie Dickens, George Samolenko and Don McBeth. Samolenko also had two assists as did Nelson, one apiece going to McBeth, Holden, Dickens, Boniface, Wilson and Percy Nicholls.

Chum Fryia, Curly Mason, Ted Collins and Hoodie Greenlaw got the Petes' goals, Gus Leonard aiding on two, and Fryia and Keith Montgomery one each.

Each side scored on a breakaway with the other crew ganging up. Holden's shot early in the game with two Petes in the sin pew was an easy stop for Harding but as he swiped at it to ice the disc the rubber took a bounce and went into the cage. The visitors got two more during the game when the homesters were shorthanded, owing to penalties. Fryia's hot shot with a Leonard pass, Hooper's neat three-way tally, good finish by Dickens on a goal, and Mason's heady marker after a hotly pursued breakaway were all scoring features in a good tussle.

Oshawa: Goal, Naylor; defence, Peters and Nicholls; centre, Boniface; wings, Thaler and Hooper; alternates, Tisdall, Samolenko, Wilson, Nelson, Holden, Berwick, McBeth and Dickens.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Legrow and Wasson; centre, Leonard; wings, Fryia and Greenlaw; alternates, Montgomery, Armstrong, Hunter, Collins, Floyd and Mason.

Referee, T. Shropshire; linesman, B. Kingdon.

Kenner Bantams Gain Win From Midgets

Kenner Collegiate may have a championship basketball team in its first year. Norm Erskine's COSSA bantams (entered in B school competition) showed all-round improvement Friday as they defeated the Collegiate's OABA midgets 33-24. Doing so, they indicated that they may be powerful among bantam B teams in the COSSA district this season.

Several weeks ago the bantams managed to eke out a three-point win over Jack Cullis' midgets. Since then they have developed their shooting and passing, but most noticeably they started to play as a team.

Meanwhile the midgets relied upon the individual efforts of several players and couldn't work together as a team.

LED THROUGHOUT

This resulted in the bantams holding an edge on the midgets throughout the game. They built up a 14-10 score in the first quarter and then managed to hold on in a low-scoring second quarter for an 18-13 half-time score. They continued to lead during the second half, still out in front at the three-quarter mark 27-22.

Bob Druery led the bantams with 10 points closely followed by Jerry Montgomery with nine. But the individual scoring honors went to the midgets and to Bob Malby with 11.

A possible excuse for the low-scoring on both teams was the introduction of school cheering. Kenner Collegiate boasts with pride that it has the most beautiful cheerleaders in Peterborough. The girls cheered for both sides on Friday, a rather difficult chore.

The lineups:

KC Bantams 33—Ballantyne 2, Bullied, Chesney, Druery 10, Faulkner 1, Hollingsworth 3, Hotston, Montgomery 9, Parnell 2, Reid 1, Scharf 3, Stevens 2.

KC Midgets 24 — Allen, Ball, Floyd 3, Burns, Fee, Hancock 1, Frise, Howden, Lawrence, Malby 11, Linsey, McKinney 7, Pearl, Ward 2.

Eels vs. Salmon

HOLYWELL, England (CP)—G. M. King, fishery superintendent for the Dee and Clyde river board, advised anglers to fish for eels. He said they have the same food content as salmon.

B. Pearson Leads

B. Pearson led in singles with 347 and A. Basciano in triples with 777 this week in the City Bowling League. Madill & Post topped teams in singles with 1322 but Clapper's had high pinnage of 3575. Six points were taken by Shockey's over Empress, and by McGillis over Sunocos. The 4-2 wins went to IUE-CIO, Monumental and Clapper's over Royal York, Madill & Post, and Payne's. Standing is: Shockey's and McGillis with 68 points each, Madill & Post, Clapper's, IUE-CIO 66 each, Sunocos 60, Payne's 54, Empress and Royal York with 36 each, and Monumental 26.

Good triples were: G. McDonald 746, V. Ferguson 736, M. Akers 709, W. Crary 709, B. Pearson 726, H. Mowry 720, A. Mattucci 766, R. Lewis 717, T. Basciano 765, J. Gaspari 725, G. Walton 762 and J. Playford 760. Neat singles included: T. Basciano 300, A. Basciano 330, B. McCarrell 295, R. Lewis 307, V. Ferguson 299, G. McDonald 345 and M. Akers 294.

Wirkowski's Oaklands Win Catholic Conference Tilts

Toronto DeLaSalle Oaklands, coached by Knoby Wirkowski of Argo football fame, unexpectedly turned up for Ontario Catholic Conference basketball games with St. Peter's High Friday night. They coupled their unexpected arrival with two unexpected victories, winning the junior game 41-29 and the senior 55-48.

This year St. Peter's High teams coached by John Lynch, are entered in the senior and junior OCC with St. Michael's College of Toronto, St. Jerome's of Kitchener, and the Oaklands. Play, according to St. Peter's schedule, was to begin later this month.

Although they lost their game, the senior Saints indicated that basketball is improving at the school. If they can hold their own in the OCC, they're on a par with other city teams. The senior Saints should have won, but the breaks didn't come their way in the fourth quarter.

STARTED STRONG

The Oaklands jumped to a seven-point lead early in the first quarter, but effective passing by the Saints erased that lead and the score was tied 13-all at the quarter. Legros, Ryan and Richardson placed the Saints one point u pat the half 26-25, as they took advantage of close-in shooting opportunities.

Ryan and Legros hit the basket consistently in the third quarter, and enabled the Saints to hold the slim lead, again by a point, 43-42. Only an 11-point scoring spree by Oaklands' Fitz kept Toronto in the game.

But in the fourth quarter the Oaklands took advantage of personal foul shots, dropping in four, coupling them with four field baskets to take the lead. Meanwhile the Saints scoring punch was lighter, only five.

SAME PATTERN

The junior Saints followed nearly the same pattern as in the senior game. They managed to stay close for the first half, but a disastrous 17-point scoring barrage by Oaklands in the third quarter did the trick.

The younger Saints played on even terms with the Oaklands during the first quarter, but the Toronto cagers held a 10-8 edge. Play continued in much the same manner in the second quarter, Oaklands leading 19-16 at the half.

But there Oaklands came to life and completely outplayed the junior Saints throughout the third. Oaklands' Schmalz led the way with four field baskets to spell doom for the Saints.

St. Peter's rallied briefly in the fourth quarter, managing to outscore Oaklands 8-5, but they couldn't overcome the lengthy lead.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Hockey today stresses speed, sustained speed, with players changing frequently. When a puckist hits the ice he is expected to start travelling fast and maintain that pace for the minute and a half or two minutes he's out there. Then he comes in and rests, while another line swishes about the frozen surface. Pro scouts are told to look for big young fellows who can skate fast. Never mind the fine points — they can be taught those later. Oldtime hockey called for endurance, clever stick-handling, good poke-checking, and finish around a goal. Players didn't have to be big, though many were. Even today many smaller players get by, but not as many in the upper pro brackets. Statistics prove this.

* * * * * *

Take a gander or two of the best NHL forward lines of all time. Two light but starry lines of years ago. The Morenz-Joliat-Boucher trio of Habitants was certainly not heavy. Morenz scaled 153, Joliat just 135, and Billy Boucher 145 in their prime. Then there was Frank Boucher and the two Cooks of Rangers. Boucher was 155 as was Bill Cook, while Bun was heaviest at 162. Other noted lightweights in hockey years back were Cooney Weiland, Joe Primeau, Larry Aurie and so on. There are a few today in the big time who do not jar the beam when they step on the scales, but the emphasis in the NHL seems to be on speedy, big youngsters coming up. That isn't so noticeable in amateur hockey ranks.

* * * * * *

Light But Quite Fast

Some of the lighter members of the Petes are among the best. Buck Legrow is one of the biggest on the team and he's going well semester. Gus Leonard is ideally built. The club is about average weight, we'd say, lighter than most of the senior "B" squads in this group — it being a pretty heavy setup this year. Stouffville Clippers have a lot of husky and fast-skating players, though they surprisingly enough dropped their last two decisions to the rugged Orillians. The Clippers clash with the Petes here Monday night, and that should be a keen contest. Petes will certainly be striving to avenge that last loss in Stouffville, and to keep in the hunt for a playoff spot. Their last meeing ended in pretty much of a rough-house affair.

* * * * * *

The Petes certainly didn't gain much ground in their uphill climb by tangling twice this week with the leading Oshawa Truckmen. Lost both times to the husky and speedy Motor Citizens, a well-balanced squad. It could have been closer here last night, though Oshawa earned the win. Got three of their markers when Petes were a man short, sitting it out in durance vile, and one goal was something of a fluke when Ray Harding swung on a soft roller to ice it and relieve ganging-up pressure. But the pesky disc bounced just then and wound up in the rigging. However, the locals couldn't cash in on Oshawa penalties, so there went the ball game.

* * * * * *

A Speedy, Clean Tilt

'Twas a fast, clean fray, plenty exciting at times, but that 2-0 lead in the first frame took some of the pep out of fans. The Petes came back to make it a real scrap in the middle chukker, but were outscored again in the windup heat. Curly Mason twisted his ankle late in the game after scoring a nice one, but he should be okay for the Monday melee here. Petes' first line turned in a sound chore but the second trio didn't do much. Dean Wasson was the pick of the defencemen. George Samolenko was hot again for Oshawa and Jed Wilson stood out. Whole crew clicked like castanets, and their goalie gave away nothing. At the moment they look like the team to beat for group honors, after the two sectional semi-finals are wound up next month. But that's a spell away yet.

* * * * * *

Our junior "B" Oddfellows yanked out an 8-6 overtime win against the Vics right on the large surface in the Limestone City last e'en to cement their grip on second place. Belleville won 5-2 in Lindsay, so the Hawklets now have 26 points, IOOF-ers 18, Kingston 15, Lindsay 14, Oshawa nine and Cobourg just two. Locals go to Oshawa on Monday. The beauty of last night's win was that Doug Mortimer's young men showed they had the fight to roar back in overtime to earn the verdict. Another good point was that the eight Peterborough goals were divided up among as many snipers, and everyone but Goalie Bob Delahaye figured in the scoring summary. That's real teamplay, and is the reason the Links are up there in second place in a keen group race.

Oddfellows Grab Verdict From Kingston Vics In Overtime Junior Fray

KINGSTON (Special)—In a see-saw battle that provided plenty of thrills for the 442 fans in attendance, the Peterborough Triple Links scored two overtime goals last night in the Community Memorial Centre, skated away with an 8 to 6 triumph over the Vics and widened their second-place margin over the locals to three points. The Links, however, failed to get closer to the top rung as the Belleville Black Hawks vanquished Lindsay 5 to 2.

During the opening period in which the Vics outscored the visitors by 4 to 1 and also served the three minor penalties inflicted by Referee Bill Holway, the Links appeared to be out of condition but they staged a remarkable rally in the middle session, racked up five goals without a reply and looked like potent operators.

FORCED A TIE

Vics, throwing caution to the winds, forced the issue in the third period, threw the Links into a bit of defensive disorder and forced a 6-6 deadlock when Jim Wilding beat goalkeeper Delahaye at the 3:05 mark and Dick Cherry duplicated the feat at 16:02. Only one penalty was inflicted during that fast round and it was served by Doris of the visitors.

Both teams were cautious during the early stages of the overtime session and all dangerous snipers were subjected to extra close checking. Only two of the Links had failed to figure in the scoring of the first six counters but by a coincidence one of them, named Twist, broke up the battle at 4:57 and the other, Ferguson, salted away the verdict when he took a pass from Coyle and beat Bob Senior at 6:21.

SPREAD AROUND

Another oddity occurred when the eight Peterborough counters were split among as many marksmen. Four others collaborated in launching pay-off attacks and the lone visitor who failed to get his name in the points summary was goalkeeper Delahaye.

The Vics failed to match that teamplay performance but they did well enough with eight players dividing the scoring spoils. Dick Cherry set the pace with two counters and one assist while Wilding scored twice.

Seven penalties to Vics, three of them in the overtime session, did the local cause no good at all. Maracle led the offenders with three sentences to almost equal the total assessed against the Liftlockers.

Tony Pettitt was banished twice and the local defence was noticeably weakened when he was absent. The Links were conspicuous as early agressors in the first period and got the first goal.

The teams:

Peterborough— Goal, Delahaye; defence, Sullivan and Frizzelle; centre, Twist; wings Coyle and Ferguson; alternates, Gardiner, McCracken, Dorris, Robinson, McDougall, Floyd, Byrnes and Wilson.

Kingston — Goal, R. Senior; defence, Montgomery and Pettitt; centre D. Senior; wings, Reid and Ullman; alternates, Cherry, Vallier, MacNeil, Wilding, Koen, Sherman, Beatty and Maracle.

Referee—Bill Holway. Linesman—Bill Reason.

The summary:

First Period

Belleville Winners Over Lindsay Lads

LINDSAY (ENS) — Belleville Hawklets lengthened their OHA junior "B" lead here Friday by yanking out a 5-2 puck win in a keen fray before some 600 fans. Three of the visitors' goals were counted when Williams was serving penalties, as he sat it out for four minors and a major, the latter after a fight with Therrien, each drawing five-minute sentences. Packer and Gilmour earlier roughed it up and drew misconduct penalties for failure to behave. Reg Truax went well for the losers, as Jones, Therrien and Gilmour stood out for the loop leaders.

Gilmour fluked an early goal off a homester's pads on defence, and Packer evened it from Truax. After Hutton counted from Truax in the second, Therrien and Gilmour banged home two quickies with a man advantage. In the third, Halstead sank two neat markers, aided once by Jacklin, and again by Jones.

Collis-Black's Victorious In Girls' Loop

Collis', with a 17-point second half edged by CGE lasses 26-18, while Black's outplayed and outscored Lindsay 30-19 Friday night as the girls' city basketball league resumed weekly games at the YWCA.

Collis' cagers took a 6-4 lead in the first quarter as both teams concentrated on foul shooting for points. But the CGE girls rallied in the second quarter to tie the score nine-all at half-time.

Early in the third quarter Collis, thanks to points by Joan Dunk, began to go up, to lead 18-13 at three-quarter time. Dunk continued her scoring pace in the fourth quarter for the victory.

Dunk easily led the scoring with a total of 15. No one on either team was near that mark in the first game.

M. GILLEN SCORES

Black's, led by Mabel Gillen, outmatched Lindsay in the second game. On her strength alone, Black's took an 11-5 score at half-tie, Gillen scoring 10 points. But in the second half the whole crew took part as they began to work together as a team for the points.

Carol Raper, Marney Hollingworth, Carol Gibson, Rita Naylor and Mabel Gillen all took part in the second half scoring. At the same time Lindsay rallied with well-distributed points going to Marg Owen, R. Gilson, D. Britnell, B. Green and H. Robertson, but the 14 points were too few for a victory.

Mabel Gillen's total score of 16 points gave her the night's scoring honors. B. Green was Lindsay's best with seven points.

Lineups, first game:

Collis' (26)—DeWarga, Smith 2, Dunk 15, Wharry, Borland, Byers 3, Thomson, Wasson 1, Stewart 2.

CGE (18)—Calladine, J. Luther, Batley 3, B. Luther 7, Jackson 4, Nixon 4, Clark.

Second game:

Black's, (30)—Fredricks, Raper 6, Hollingsworth 1, Laidley, McIlhagga, Middleton, Merrett, Gillen 16, McGill, Gibson 2, Naylor 5.

Lindsay (19)—Owen 3, Copp, Gilson 4, Britnell 2, Algar 2, Green 7, Cullis, Robertson 1, MacFadden.

College Hockey Star Suspended For Season

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—University of Michigan hockey star John McKennell, accused of slugging a referee, was suspended Friday for the season.

Athletic director Fritz Crisler acted upon receipt of a notarized report from Frank de Vitt, president of the Rocky Mountain Hockey Officials Association, claiming the hockey player had slugged referee Milo Yalich in a Dec. 23 game at Denver with the University of Denver.

McKennell is a high-scoring senior right winger from Toronto.

DICK RAINES, above, who with his partner, Lou Plummer, will defend their Canadian Tag Team laurels against a pair of real toughies, Sky-Hi Lee and Frank Valois, the Unmasked Marvel. This will be the feature bout at the Brock Arena next Wednesday. The lucrative matches that result from the Canadian title make it a strong attraction for any duo and Lee and Valois are determined to cop the championship. They'll have to be good for the Texans are a wily pair. Chief Big Heart tackles Man Mountain Dean Jr. in the semi-final, while Joe Christie and Frank Taylor are in the opener.

Standings May Be Shuffled In Busy Weekend In NHL

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The battle for the middle spots in the National Hockey League standings is on this weekend. Every spot but the first and last could be shuffled as a result of the five games scheduled tonight and Sunday. Detroit Red Wings, leading the league by a comfortable six points, have a secure hold on first place. New York Rangers are far in the cellar.

Montreal and Chicago meet tonight in Montreal with second place at stake. The Black Hawks, with defenceman Gus Mortson back in action, hold a one-point edge over the third-place Canadiens.

In the other game tonight Boston Bruins and the Maple Leafs, tied for fourth place, clash in Toronto. Sunday night Toronto is at Detroit, Montreal at New York and Chicago at Boston.

NESTERENKO WITH LEAFS

Appearing in a Toronto uniform at Boston tonight will be Eric Nesterenko, the young junior player who shone in a three-game trial with the Leafs and turned professional this week. A few weeks ago, while up from Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league, for the trial period, he scored two goals and an assist against Boston.

The Bruins are minus four regulars, out with injuries: defenceman Hal Laycoe and forwards Ed Sandford, Johnny Peirson and Dave Creighton. The Leafs are still short Max Bentley, who skated Friday for the first time since his back injury six weeks ago, George Armstrong, Howie Meeker and Ted Kennedy.

Wally Maxwell, a teammate of Nesterenko on the Marlboros, will be in the Leaf line-up on a three-game trial basis. He will be at Kennedy's regular spot between Sid Smith and Ron Stewart.

ANOTHER BLOW

New York, already burdened with several injuries, received another blow Friday. Leftwinger Ed Slowinski suffered a fracture of a bone in his right foot Thursday night in a game with Montreal and will be out for about three weeks. Lorne Worsley will be in the Blue Shirts nets while regular goalie Chuck Rayner remains out with a leg injury.

The Rangers also announced they had bought leftwinger Pete Babando from Chicago in a cash deal. The amount of money involved was not announced. Babando, 27, and a veteran of six years in the NHL, is the only player in the league who is a native of the United States.

Castellani Gives Jones Boxing Lesson

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., boosted his claim to a place in a middleweight elimination tournament Friday night by giving Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers a boxing lesson to win a split decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Castellani weighed 159¾, Jones 154¼.

Referee Al Berle scored it for Castellani 7-2-1 and judge Charley Shortell 6-3-1. The AP card agreed with Shortell. Judge Bill Healy scored 7-2-1 for Jones.

There were no knockdowns in the hard-fought battle although Jones slipped in the seventh and 10th rounds.

START TOUR WITH WIN

TOKYO (AP) — The Three-M American amateur hockey team of New York opened its 15-game tour of Japan Thursday night with a 7-2 victory over the All Meija Six team of Korakuen Stadium.

18 Penalties As Sailors Dump Maroons

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sarnia Sailors moved into a fifth-place tie with Chatham Maroons Friday night in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series.

In the rough game, which saw one fight on the ice while another broke out in the crowd, the Sailors trounced Black Jack Stewart's Maroons 6-2.

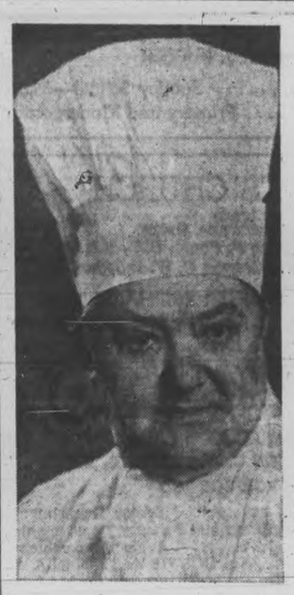
In other senior action Friday night Sudbury won its 12th straight game by defeating Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds 10-3 in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association's southern group. In the Porcupine Mines League, South Porcupine Porkies defeated Timmins-Schumacher Flyers 5-2.

There were 18 penalties handed out at Sarnia, six to the Sailors and 12 to the Maroons. Four of Chatham's penalties were given to Jackie Price.

SHARE HONORS

Martin Zorica, Jim Wilson, Don Emms, Harry O'Connor, Jim Wilson and John McKennell shared the scoring honors for the Tars. Joe Carveth and George Edwards scored for the Maroons.

At Sudbury the league-leading Wolves were paced by Andy Milne with three tallies. Roly McLenahan scored two and Gord Heale, Nick Tomiuk, Lennie Speck, Yacker Flynn and Johnny Mestan each scored once. Johnny Offidani, Jimmy Johnston and Lorne Watters tallied for the Greyhounds.



At Schumacher Billy Adamo paced the Porkies' attack with two tallies. Roy McKay, Stu Pirie and Tommy Houston each scored once. Gil St. Pierre and Denny Morello notched the Flyers' markers.

Astra Colby Outpaces Field In Both Heats

TORONTO (CP)—Astra Colby, owned by Edwin Armstrong of Toronto and driven by Jack Bannerman, outpaced a class A field all the way in both heats to score a double victory in the featured sixth event at the Dufferin Park trotting races Friday.

Daytime, owned by Frank Plaunt of Brantford, and handled by John Mullin, and Bessie Volo, owned by Max Featherstone of Freeman, Ont., and guided by Eddie Wheeler shared the fifth and secondary feature. Each won a heat.

Heavy Rock Falls, Injures Road Worker

Lower Spine Hurt In Accident. Rushed To Hospital.

A heavy rock that was accidentally dislodged during highway construction north of Apsley early today fell on Roland Othot, 22, pinning him to the ground and injuring his lower spine and right leg.

The accident occurred at 3 a.m. today as a work gang from the Harco Construction Co. were cutting their way through a rock-cut on Highway 28, 10 miles north of Apsley.

He was brought back to the village in a company truck and then taken by Kaye ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital where he is reported to be in considerable pain. X-rays indicate that his lower spine is injured and his right knee has also suffered injury, but no broken bones have been revealed.

Othot is a French-Canadian bulldozer operator originally from Rimouski, Que. At the time of the accident he was employed as an "oiler."

ROCK DISLODGED

Working under searchlights the construction gang were scooping up stones and rubble from the rock-cut when the accident occurred. The power-operated shovel was edging forward and somehow a large rock was dislodged from the face of the cut and fell, striking Othot in the small of the back.

Othot was knocked forward on his face and the rock came to rest on his right leg, pinning him to the ground. He lay there in a semi-conscious condition while three workmates carefully removed the heavy boulder.

He is being attended by Dr. H. E. Gastle of Lakefield. More X-rays will likely be taken to determine his injuries.

OPP Constable Jack McKendry of Apsley is investigating.

Warsaw Rd. Residents Build Rink As Community Project

Warsaw road ratepayers have banded together to build a skating rink for their children. The rink is located near the intersection of the Warsaw road and the old Norwood road. Voluntary labor, plus subscriptions amounting to about $400 have made it possible. The rink is complete now except for a building in which the children can change their skates.

Provision has been made for a building. Members of the working committee who canvassed for the rink signed a $500 note to buy the temporary building at the Rifle Range School.

MANY OFFERS

Not only was labor given free, but businessmen in the district provided machinery and trucks at no charge.

Floyd Curtis loaned bulldozers which removed trees on the site and levelled the ground for the rink. Archie Clysdale and Bill Pearson loaned trucks to haul sawdust for a base for the rink. The sawdust was also donated by several lumber firms.

Stan Wood, president of the committee directing work on the rink, said the idea developed out of a conversation between himself and another Warsaw road resident Ken Doughty. A meeting between the two men decided them on interesting others in the idea.

A nine-man working committee was chosen, headed by Mr. Wood, and a canvass of the district began. "There was a wonderful response," Mr. Wood said, "and there are still some homes to be canvassed."

PUT IN BED

The building at the Rifle Range School was the logical answer to their question of what to use as a hut for children to change skates in. It was up for sale by tender, and the committee's $500 bid was not the highest.

"However," said Mr. Wood, "the school board felt it would be better if the building remained in the hands of the ratepayers, and they sold it to us."

Once the building was purchased, another problem was posed for the committee. How to get the building moved to the rink. Another businessman, who is anonymous, offered a heavy truck to move the former schoolroom to the site of the rink. This will be done within the next two weeks, at no cost to the committee.

The idea took form two weeks before Christmas, said Mr. Wood, and the rink was ready for use only a day or two after the end of the year.

Members of the committee are: Mr. Wood, president; John Dalton, vice-president; Lloyd Tyndal, secretary; John Heffernan, Dick Watkins, Archie Clysdale, Bert Nealy, William Pearson, and Don Dickson.

"The committee is doing some work," Mr. Wood understated, "but everybody is helping, and that's what counts."

Try To Mediate Westclox Dispute

George Fenwick, conciliation officer from the Ontario Department of Labor, has been appointed to try and mediate the contract dispute between the management and union at the Western Clock Co.

Local 570, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO-CCL) are the bargaining agents for some 400 production workers.

Negotiations have been continuing since November on the terms of the 1953 contract. The old one ended December 1.

Local 570 want:

A substantial wage increase (the amount not specified).

A reduction of the work week from 42½ hours to 40 hours with an eight-hour day.

A new health plan.

Circulating cafeteria system throughout the plant.

Union shop.

The two parties will meet on January 13 at the company office with Mr. Fenwick, presiding. If no agreement is reached Mr. Fenwick will probably recommend the setting up of a conciliation board.

Hungry Jacks Worry Ont. Apple Growers

CLARKSBURG (CP) — Jack rabbits are making Georgian Bay district apple growers worry about prospects for the 1953 crop.

The rabbits are numerous in the district and some weigh as much as 15 pounds.

Fruit men say they will launch rabbit hunts just as soon as they find the bunnies nibbling the bark on young trees.

Nurses In Training Have Less Drudgery, More Time For Study And Recreation

Nurses-in-training nowadays are spending more time in the classroom, the laboratory and on ward duty, learning how to care for patients and less on irksome routine tasks which are of little educational value.

Much of the ordinary every day work connected with patient care in hospitals is being turned over to certified nursing assistants, nurses' aides and orderlies.

The result is, that nurses-in-training who formerly did much of this work are now able to concentrate more on the educational aspects of their nursing course.

Until recently, student nurses spent a few hours a day on ward duty, then had a couple of hours classroom instruction and returned for another stint on the ward to finish the day.

TIME FOR SCHOOL

Now, many hospitals which have schools of nursing have devised a training program which permits the student nurses to devote a certain period during each of their three years to classroom studies. For five or six weeks each year they attend classes, much like high school, or university students, for six or seven hours a day and they are not required to work in the hospital caring for patients, during this perperiod.

Due to the many advances in medical science that have taken place in the last few years, nurses now require more specialized knowledge so the patient will derive the maximum benefit from the latest drugs that science has discovered to enable the sick and injured to regain their health.

Both the heads of the two nursing schools in Peterborough are behind the new trend which devotes more of the three-year course to instruction both from the standpoint of education and practical patient care under supervision in the wards.

"Because of the advances in medical science, nurses must be more highly trained to assist doctors," says Sister Benedicta, educational director of the St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing. "Many duties can be accomplished by less highly trained personnel, leaving the highly trained personnel free to carry out the more specialized tasks requiring a greater understanding of what the doctor is hoping to accomplish."

TAKE OVER NEW WORK

As Miss Evelyn Robson, BS, Reg.N., director of Nursing and Principal of the School of Nursing at Civic Hospital sums it up, "As medical science has advanced, many techniques formerly done by doctors have now been turned over to nurses and some of the routine work formerly done by

3 Slightly Hurt As Car Hits Parked Auto

Three people were injured slightly about 11:30 p.m. Friday when a car went out of control on George St., struck a parked car just south of London St., and ended up against the curb at the northwest corner of the intersection.

The injured were: Mrs. Mary McFarland, 58; Clarence McFarland, 29, and Robert McFarland, 75, all of 210½ Charlotte St.

Mrs. McFarland who received a broken tooth, and Clarence McFarland who was cut on the forehead in the accident were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by Nisbett's ambulance. They remained in hospital and were released today.

Robert McFarland was given outpatient treatment at Civic Hospital for a cut on his chin.

The driver, William J. Dannyluck, also of 210½ Charlotte St., and two hitch-hikers bound for Lakefield, whom he had picked up, were not injured.

DEFECTIVE BEARING

He said he was driving north on George St., when a defective wheel bearing on the new 1953 model car he was driving caused the car to go out of control.

It crashed into the left rear corner of a car parked south of the London St. intersection, which police reported was owned by George D. Shields, 227 Barnardo Ave. The Dannyluck car continued along George St., then veered to the left and came to rest against the curb on London St.

Both vehicles were extensively damaged and the impact shunted the parked car over the curb and into a tree.

CITY BUYS EDUCATION

As a convenience to both pupils and the Board of Education seven pupils from the recently-annexed area of Smith Township will continue going to Smith schools until June. In theory they should be going to Queen Alexandra or Queen Elizabeth, both city schools but they are already crowded. The arrangement is that two pupils will remain at No. 4, Smith, and five others will remain at No. 3 until June. The Board of Education will pay the Smith boards the cost of tuition.

IUE To Make 4th Try To Win CGE Workers

The International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO-CCL) have launched their fourth campaign to become the certified bargaining agents among more than 3,000 production workers at the CGE plant. It is the fourth attempt of the union within the last three years.

"We have already started our campaign," Joe Wirtz, co-ordinator of Canadian IUE-CIO, said today. "Committee meetings have been held and committee workers have the cards for signing as the Ontario Labor Relations Act requires.

"IUE feel confident that the workers are seeing through the poor negotiations and poor contracts of UE over the past few years—ever since UE were expelled from IUE-CIO," said Mr. Wirtz.

"IUE are sure that this time we will become the certified bargaining unit for the production workers."

Local 524, UE, the present bargaining unit, have a two-year contract with CGE that expires March 27. The IUE have two months in which to make their application—from Jan. 27 to March 26.

NEED 45% FOR VOTE

If IUE can sign up 45 per cent of the eligible workers in that time the Ontario Labor Relations Board will automatically order another vote at the plant.

Last year IUE came within 116 cards of getting the 45 per cent, said Mr. Wirtz. He attributed the failure to the fact that they didn't start an active campaign until well into February. At that time the welders were having their dispute with the company and the IUE didn't want to be accused of prejudicing the welder's chances, he said.

During 1952 the CGE production workers have had further reason to be dissatisfied with their contract, said Mr. Wirtz.

"From all reports the layoffs and seniority as applied to layoffs indicate that the security provisions for the worker are inadequate."

The IUE have made three attempts to win the plant.

The first was in the fall of 1949 shortly after the split in union ranks. Their application was thrown out by the OLRB.

In the summer of 1951 an OLRB-sponsored vote was held in the plant. IUE were defeated by the UE 1,909 to 1,582.

The third attempt was last March when no application was made because they didn't get the necessary 45 per cent.

This fourth campaign has been going on quietly for some time but will not reach its peak until the end of January and into March.

SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

Ex-pupils and staff of Confederation School will attend a meeting arranged by the Home and School Association, marking the 25th anniversary of the school. The meeting will be January 27. Trustees from the Board of Education have all been invited by J. G. Nichols, principal. An honored guest will be Mrs. H. B. Jackson, the first principal of Confederation.

FRONT LINE ENTERTAINMENT—Tank crews of Lord Strathcona's Horse Squadron, occupying front line positions in Korea, had ears glued to wireless sets in their tanks recently, as vivacious Lorraine McAllister boosted morale with popular songs. Lorraine and Karl Karleen (accordionist), both of Vancouver, gave up Christmas at home to entertain all units of the brigade. During the broadcast from a forward bunker are, left to right, Karl, Maj. J. S. Roxborough, officer commanding from Saint John, N.B., Tpr. Pete Donald, Victoria, Sgt. Terry Williams, New Westminster, and Lorraine. — (National Defence Photo).

Two Companies Battling For TV Rights

OTTAWA (CP)—Rediffusion Incorporated of Montreal, a company which delivers radio and television programs by special wires, has asked the Exchequer Court to reject an action initiated against it by Canadian Admiral Corporation of Toronto.

Admiral Corporation, manufacturer of radio and television sets, initiated the case in October, filing a statement of claim in the Exchequer Court. The statement said Admiral's copyright on telecasting of Montreal Alouettes' football games had been infringed by Rediffusion.

Admiral also claimed newspaper advertisements sponsored by Rediffusion contravened the Unfair Competition Act.

FIRST STEP IN BATTLE

In a statement of defence, Rediffusion said it had not infringed any of Admiral's rights by rediffusing the football games. It asked that the case be rejected.

Admiral followed with an application to the court to have parts of the statement of defence struck out on the grounds they might prejudice the case.

No date has been set for hearing the case.

The action by Admiral was regarded as the first step in a battle by the radio and television industry against Rediffusion and its service. The industry regards the service as a threat to its business.

Paddy Burns Sportscaster Talked Into Job By Wife

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canaian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) Fast-talking Patrick (Paddy) Burns of Montreal had never seen a microphone until his wife talked him into a BBC television try-out four years ago. Now he claims perhaps more experience in TV sportscasting than any other Canadian anywhere.

Every year he does some 40 sports broadcasts on hockey, motorcycle racing, basketball and water polo. His racy, rapid-fire descriptions of English National League Hockey games have made him the overseas equivalent of Canada's Foster Hewitt.

His broadcasts reach an audience he estimates at anywhere from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000, mostly in the London area where televiewing has its largest mass audience.

LIVELY STYLE

Burns, 30-year-old slight, dark-haired Canadian Army veteran, uses a helter-skelter, wisecracking style reminiscent of Winnipeg's Stewart Macpherson, former top British sports announcer.

He has his critics. Some think his Irish-inherited gift of the gab is a little too much for television where the trend is toward a more restrained style. A recent newspaper poll claimed 69 per cent of those questioned think BBC sport commentators talk too much.

Burns has two answers. One is that most persons seem to like him. The other is that few British fans know much about such sports as hockey and basketball.

"In Canada," says Burns, "when the audience hears or sees that Maurice Richard has the puck at centre ice, they sit up. They know the Rocket. In Britain, 95 to 97 per cent of the audiences see 12 little images skating around—with no idea of names, strategy teams or rules, so I think there has to be a constant stream of explanation. "When I get the go-ahead, I'm off—zip, zip, zip."

PADDY BURNS

Burns has come a long way from his teen-age sports background around Montreal's Forum, ball park and Molson Stadium. At 18, in early 1940, he was in England with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps. Discharged in 1945, he took a job with the department of veterans' affairs branch here, where he still works.

Vancouver Singer Makes Big Hit In Korea

By BILL BOSS

IN KOREA (CP)—Santa Claus brought a real blonde Canadian girl for Christmas to Canadians here. She arrived Christmas Eve.

For two weeks Vancouver's Lorraine McAllister, accompanied by accordionist Karl Karleen from the same city, royally entertained troops here.

Before they left, they played to soldiers in just about every unit in the 25th Canadian infantry brigade. They went farther forward than any similar troupe yet, and worked longer hours.

The only restrictions brigade headquarters placed were that they were not to visit the front itself, that is, the actual bunkers and trenches.

Lorraine, who performs back home at the Hotel Vancouver, fired a 25-pounder gun Christmas Day when she visited the 1st Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery. The shell fell on the Chinese so she was clearly within artillery range.

She visited every company of the 1st Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, in reserve at the time. But "reserve" doesn't mean much in this theatre.

SPECIAL FOR TANKS

And at headquarters of B squadron, Lord Strathcona's Horse, they put her in front of a wireless set, she sang and Karl played, and their music came out through the receiver of every Cnnadian tank along the front.

Troopers radioed their requests in to headquarters and Lorraine and Karl obliged. Soldiers around one tank supporting the 1st battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, demanded "Alouette."

"That's no good without gestures and we haven't got television here," Lorraine told her Van Doo fans," but I'll sing you J'attendrai."

Then the Straths put her into a tank, driven by Lieut. Bruce Rutherford of Calgary. Rutherford showed her during a wild, 40-minute charge uphill, down valley and through streams everything a Sherman can do except to fire its weapons.

MADE HIT

In short, the Canadians here took Lorraine completely to their hearts. She got up onto a couple of beer cases, or a mess table—"high enough so that they can see me, but not too high"—and sang, wisecracked and got the soldiers to join in the fun with her. She joined them in duets, and in 24 hours she had mastered the weird Pidgin English - Japanese - Korean vocabulary peculiar to the soldier here.

"We come in with the dessert," she said of their appearances. They tried to hit the mess or recreation halls just as the men were finishing their meal and the show went on.

Describing the technique, she said: "I'm like radar. I send out beams. The men respond. And then I play it accordingly."

The men agreed that as a radar station she's well equipped.

They also liked the way she took things as they came. She jeeped her way through the brigade area, sometimes wearing a strapless evening gown with just a parka around her shoulders for warmth.

"The men want to feel they've got a Canadian girl around so I've just got to look like one," she said.

"I thought I'd miss my husband and baby but we were so busy and having so good a time with the soldiers that I didn't even know it was Christmas Day. We didn't know Sunday had rolled around until 2 p. m. when a padre happened to mention it. Time just flies."

However attractive to Canadian eyes, Lorraine's blonde hair cuts no ice with Koreans. Maj. Bob Richards of Montreal told one of the RCR's Korean houseboys, who'd gathered around too, that Lorraine was a "No. 1 Canadian girl."

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "Maybe, sir. But too old. White hair."

Best soldier reaction to Lorraine was a Strathcona trooper's to his C. O., Maj. John Roxburgh of Calgary.

"Sir," he said after she'd left, "if they'd send over a girl like that every month or so they'd have no soldiers getting into trouble with Korean and Japanese women. They'd remember what a Canadian girl looks like."

HOUSE No. 62-807 — Only proper planning for full utilization of space could offer so much value in this moderately priced home. The huge living room and dining area, with built-in china cabinet and plenty of window space, makes this a particularly cheerful and well arranged room. The large picture window and overhanging roof gives the exterior desirable protection over the entrance. For working drawings, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Modern Decorating Requires Illusion Of Spaciousness

Today's building trend to smaller homes with smaller rooms calls for decorating tricks that will create the illusion of spaciousness. A carefully chosen decorative mirror can transform every room in the home by contributing the two vital decorating attributes of light and space.

The keys to good decorating are line and proportion. Vertical lines lend a feeling to height, while horizontal lines add an illusion of width, points out the Nurre Home Decorating Foundation. For instance, a large horizontal mirror hung on the wall of a long and narrow room will tend to widen the room. In a low-ceilinged room, a mirror hung vertically will heighten the room. The room's dimensions can be completely altered by the illusion that mirrors create. Walls can be made seemingly non-existant, their limitations removed.

Since a mirror's primary function is to reflect, advantage should be taken of its light-reflecting qualities as well as the attractiveness of the room picture it repeats. The dispersion of light, in addition to lending sparkle to a room, increases a room's speciousness. Dark corners can be made bright by the mirror's reflections of daylight or lamplight.

To best effect the room transformation, the home decorator has a vast variety of mirrors from which to choose. Interest in modern mirror design is achieved in a combination of traditional skills in mirror craftsmanship—such as mitre work, bevelling and etching—with new framing techniques. The shadow box mirror, with sloping mirorr panels to provide a shadow box effect, is a framing treatment exemplary of the new trend of mirror design.

A PROBLEM ROOM

The foyer is always a problem room. Not only is this room usually of odd dimensions, but light is a factor often lacking. A mirror, flanked by a picture grouping and hung over a low bookshelf or over a console table can lend sparkle to the most lifeless foyer or hall, especially if the mirror is hung so that it captures reflected light from other rooms in the house.

The living room offers endless opportunities for tricks with mirrors. An ideal spot is over the chesterfield where a large-proportioned mirror not only breaks up a large expanse of wall but gives the appearance of added depth. A mirror is always attractive hung over the mantel and effectively fills that important space which is the centre of attention in a room with a fireplace. Hung between a pair of windows, a mirror brightens the entire wall area and ties the windows together in a related group. Hung opposite your prize picture window, a large mirror repeats the pleasant outside-view and will seemingly add width and depth to the roor 's proportions.

If your living room is devoid of architectural details such as a fireplace, alcove or picture window, a mirror placed to create a horizontal mirror can make a unit of a pair of bedroom chests. The value of a mirror as an accessory to a bedroo msuite can be compared to the dash and zip a new hat can contribute to last year's grey flannel suit.

ALWAY HANG AT EYE-LEVEL

As a final tip to all mirror-minded redecorators, always be sure that your mirrors are hung at eye-level. Since the mirror's purpose is to reflect, maximum effectiveness may be gained by carefully choosing the room picture it repeats. The mirror should always be hung flat against a wall in order to take advantage of the line and perspective. And finally, a minimum of wall space should separate the mirror from the pieces of furniture it complements in order to identify the unity of the grouping.

Aces' Director Answers Heron's Letter

The following letter was received by the sports editor today from Angus Bradley, director of the Aces Athletic Club:

"Sir—It was with regret that I read a letter in your columns written by Mr. George Heron, manager of the Otonabee Wolves' hockey team, and I am sure it must have been written in a moment of anger, and I always thought Mr. Heron was a good sport and could take a loss. May we take space in your paper to answer this letter?

First, Ned Vitarelli was not appointed just to handle this game, as he handled the following game also, and will be handling two games a week until the end of the schedule. I believe, as do other managers and coaches who were there that he and Al Menzies did a wonderful job, as do all our referees. If Mr. Heron had to referee a game between boys of these age groups I think he would agree.

Second, the game was held up because of no timekeeper being present, not a fault of the referee. But at the same time, Mr. Heron's team had just as long to score as the other team.

Third, both referees agreed that Wilson provoked the fight and I am sure Mr. Heron could not see from where he was who provoked it, as I had a clear view from the other side of the rink and I couldn't tell but the referees were standing quite close.

Fourth, as to throwing a game to Shamrocks, that is utterly silly, as the Wolves are only two points behind the Shamrocks and have three games to go, and besides it would be to our advantage to have the Wolves in the playoffs with us, as regardless whether we won or lost we would still represent Peterborough in Ontario playdowns, but by playing off with Shamrocks we could still lose that chance.

Fifth, we do have two hours practice every week but we have three teams to use that time on. Mr. Heron only has one, and I suggest that if he has so many rinks available to play a grudge game that he use one for the practise he wants so badly.

As to playing a grudge game with a bet of $100 we would like to oblige but neither the club nor myself have that kind of money to bet on our team, and if we had we couldn't do it unless we wanted to risk being thrown out of hockey as it is against all rules and regulations to be betting on your team. But if Mr. Heron has $100 to toss away he could rent 10 hours or more practise time for the boys he is trying to help. We don't have to play any game with Mr. Heron, as we have a scheduled game against his team here in Civic Arena on Jan. 29, and maybe the association could see their way clear to appoint the referees Mr. Heron suggested for that game.

Mr. Heron has made some very bold accusations in your paper, not only against our club but against our association, our referees and all Peterborough hockey in general, and I hope for his sake he can prove what he has said or apologize through your paper."

GEOFFRION is down after passing to Meger for Canadiens' fourth goal against Rangers recently. The team battled to a 4-1 draw. Paul, at left of net, also tumbled on play.

Clark, Wilderspin Score Upsets In Tennis Play

MELBOURNE (AP) — Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., and Clive Wilderspin, 21-year-old Australian, scored major upsets today by eliminating Don Candy and Lewis Hoad from the Australian tennis singles championships.

Clark whipped Candy 6-1, 11-9, 7-9, 6-4 and Wilderspin beat Hoad 9-7, 6-2, 9-7.

Hoad and Candy were members of Australia's 1952 Davis Cup squad. Hoad was named as the fourth member of the Aussie Cup team, but he did not play in the challenge round against the United States.

Ham Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., eliminated another member of the Aussie Davis Cup squad, Rex Hartwig, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson, both of California, continued to advance in the women's competition. Miss Connolly, the U.S. and Wimbledon champion, whipped Mrs. R. W. Baker 6-1, 6-0, and Julie beat Gwen Thiele, 6-2, 6-1.

All the American combinations were victorious in Friday's matches, all of which were doubles.

McIntyre Rink On Way To Win

DETROIT (AP)—Lloyd Raney, who skipped his McIntyre, Ont., rink to two straight championships in the International bonspiel here in the last two years, appeared on his way again Friday night.

The defending champions face J. H. Reid's Ayr, Ont., rink this afternoon. Reid defeated Montreal's Rene Reguin 11-8.

Two American rinks were still in the running. Hugh Sinclair's Milwaukee club face B. C. Phippen's Sarnia rink in another quarter-final today. Sinclair's crew beat Albert Sackrider's Kirkland Lake rink 12-10.

J. J. Ahern's St. Paul outfit defeated Bob Brown's Chicago rink 9-5 and Fred Rubbra's Montreal rink eliminated John Michael's Milwaukee team 14-4.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

It has been many seasons since the lady curlers have had such an interesting, closely contested schedule as the one they are now playing for the Gibson Trophy. The schedule commenced on November 18, and the ladies have played continuously since then—not every day, but sometimes twice a week.

After the results of yesterday's games had been recorded, there were two rinks tied for first place with 20 points, two rinks tied for second place with 19 points, and one rink with 18 points in fifth place. As these five rinks have each three more games to play, nobody can foretell the outcome. There is no doubt but that it will be a real photo finish. The ladies' method of counting is known as the 2-1-0 system. A winning rink gets two points, rinks playing a tie game each one point, and the losing rink no points.

The leading five rinks at the conclusion of Friday's games:

Mrs. J. Elliott 20 points, Mrs. M. Holt 20, Mrs. J. Green 19, Mrs. G. Wood 19, Mrs. V. Selkirk 18.

The draw for the consolation event of the Neill Trophy has been made and is posted.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening — the mixed rink bonspiel.

Finds Opium Cache

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Otis A. Gregory was getting tired of that black stuff oozing out of the door of the truck he purchased last September. Generals' One-Man Team Scores 5 Goals

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Stan Parker may go on to bigger and better things in his hockey career but at the moment his scoring feat of Friday night is something to shout about.

He was practically a one-man scoring machine for Oshawa Generals, counting five goals and assisting on another in a heartbreaking cause as the Generals bowed 8-7 to St. Catharines Teepees in overtime in an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game at St. Catharines.

He got one goal in the first period, two in the second, one in the third and another in the overtime session after the Teepees counted twice in the extra time to break the 6-6 deadlock at the end of regulation play.

Two of his goals twice tied the score for the eighth-place Generals and his fourth put them in front 6-5 near the midway mark of the third period. But Danny Poliziani's goal with less than four minutes to play sent the game into overtime an markers by Hank Ciesla and Al Kellogg cinched the win for the fourth-place Teepees.

Ciesla and Brian Cullen scored two goals each for St. Catharines with Kellogg, Hugh Barlow, Poliziani and Church Marshall accounting for the other tallies. Bob Mader and Bob Attersley registered the two other goals for Oshawa.

In other action Friday night, the second-place Barrie Flyers edged the third-place Toronto St. Michael's 3-1, the league-leading Toronto Marlboros defeated Kitchener Greenshirts 3-1 and Guelph Biltmores whipped Galt Black Hawks 10-6.

The Flyers' win enabled them to increase their lead over the collegians to four points. It was the Flyers' ninth straight victory but they didn't gain any ground on the Marlboros, who still are nine points ahead of them.

Tony Poeta scored two of the Barrie goals, counting his first in the second period and his other in the third. Don Cherry fired the Flyers' other goal.

GO ALL OUT

The last-place Greenshirts forced the Marlboros to go all out to win. The Dukes, who were without Eric Nesterenko and Billy Maxwell, scored a goal in each period. Nesterenko has moved up to the parent Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League on a permanent basis and Maxwell has gone up for a three-game trial.

Kitchener's lone goal by Gary Collins 48 seconds after opening whistle put them in front but Louis Bendo, Tom McCarthy and Charley Burns scored for the Dukes in that order. McCarthy's goal was a fluke, the puck bouncing off Doug Vaughan's knee into the Kitchener net.

Guelph's triumph moved them back into sixth place, a point in front of the idle Windsor Spitfires. Ron Murphy and Chick Chalmers, the latter back in the line-up after a month's absence, scored two goals apiece for the Bilts. John Gillis, Art White, Birley Dimma, Danny Blair, Jim Connelly and Chuck Henderson divided the others.

Jimmy McBurney, the league's top goal-scorer, added to his total with two of the Galt counters. Johnny Sleaver and Tony Bonello were the other Black Hawk marksmen.

Sav Marciano To Defend Title April 10

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano probably will defend his title against Jersey Joe Walcott Friday April 10 at Chicago Stadium with a $50 top and a country-wide television network.

At least that's the way promoter Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, wants it. Norris said Friday he expects to announce a definite time and date early next week.

Felix Bocchicchio, manager of the 39-year-old Walcott, was due in town for a conference.

"I have every reason to believe Al (Al Weill, Marciano's manager) will go along with what I want. Felix is talking about Miami or Atlantic City but I hope to convince him," Norris said.

Weill confirmed Norris' statement.

"I'd like to have it in June because I know it's a million dollar fight," said Weill. "But if Jim wants it April 10 in Chicago, that's all right with me."

Not Interested In Player Sale

GUELPH (CP) — Guelph Biltmores are not interested in disposing of any of their players for cash if, and when, it becomes obvious the Bilts aren't going to make the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A playoffs, coach Alf Pike said Friday.

He was commenting on reports that Billy McCreary might be sold to Toronto Marlboros for the remainder of the season as a replacement for Eric Nesterenko, who has moved up to Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

McCreary had his appendix removed Thursday and will be out of action for at least two weeks.

Elect John Cobb To Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—John Cobb, the English motor boat pilot who lost his life in the crack-up of his jet engine Crusader, was elected today to the Gulf Marine racing hall of fame.

A panel of six marine racing experts picked Cobb and 14 other power boat drivers.

Cobb was killed last September when his Crusader went to pieces on Loch Ness, Scotland after attaining a speed of more than 200 miles an hour.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOUR BACKSWING?

Nothing is more important than the backswing if you want to be effective as a curler. In any bonspiel game in which we were playing unfamiliar opponents, I always made it a rule as a skip to make mental notes of any irregularities in the swing of each opponent. Then I knew whether he was weak on the in-turns or out-turns, and the strategy was adjusted accordingly.

STARTING THE BACKSWING

First watch your left arm. See that it is extended sideways, and a little ahead of the body (never behind you). Keep the broom handle well behind (and never ahead) of the broom straw. Note the illustration above and particularly the position of the broom in helping to maintain balance. The use of your broom, how you hold it and what you do with it during the swing is vitally important in a good delivery. Too many young curlers get into the habit of using the broom to ride on during the follow-through of the delivery. This will be dealt with in a later article, but for the present, keep your broom straw pointed forward if you want to avoid trouble in your delivery.

Now you should be ready to start your backswing. Don't move forward to start it. Remember you are sitting on your right heel relaxed, I hope. No waggling, no aiming, no leaning or reaching forward to aim at your target. Start from your original position to pull the stone back, but not before you have checked the most important thing in the entire mechanics of the delivery—the position of your stone on the ice.

Confirm British Cheese Order

LONDON (CP) — A spokesman for the food ministry confirmed today the United Kingdom has agreed to purchase $1,500,000 worth of Canadian cheese.

He added that as far as is known negotiations are not complete as to price. Details are being arranged by the British purchasing agency in Canada.

The amount involved will have little effect on the British ration. The total purchased represents about two per cent of annual British consumption.

The ration, now one ounce weekly, will be raised to 1½ ounces starting Jan. 25. It includes processed and cheddar cheese and sells at 2s 2d a pound. Expensive varieties, such as Danish blue and gorgonzola, are sold off the ration. The processed variety available on the ration is better known to Britons as "mousetrap" cheese.

Commuter Service Brings Jail Term

OTTAWA (CP) — James Naylor, 16, delivery truck driver, operated his own commuter service when he missed the last bus to his Richmond home about 20 miles southwest of here.

Naylor pleaded guilty in magistrate's court Friday to stealing an automobile Dec. 26 to drive home after missing the bus. Several days later he returned it to Ottawa and abandoned it on a side street.

Police said he did the same thing Dec. 16 and Jan. 6 with two other cars, but provincial police found them before they were returned to Ottawa.

Mrs. Dorothy Henry

MARMORA (ENS)—The funeral service for Mrs. Dorothy Henry, wife of Walton Henry of Marmora township, was held at Zion United Church at 1 p.m. on Thursday with the Rev. K. J. Crawford officiating.

Burial took place in St. George's cemetery, Trenton, the pall-bearers being three of her brothers and three brothers of her husband, namely William and Harvey Murray, Hamilton; Harry Murray, Frankford; James and Sandy Henry, Frankford and Goldie Henry, Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry moved to Marmora township some years ago to operate the farm originally occupied by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bateman. Mrs. Henry had been in poor health for about six years. Her last illness was of two weeks' duration. She died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Monday. She was 42, the daughter of Peter E. Murray and the late Mrs. Murray and was born in Belleville.

Keene Wins 12-4 In EPL Tilt Against Warsaw

KEENE (ENS)—Before a good-sized EPL hockey crowd here Friday evening, Keene swept to a 12-4 victory over Warsaw in a speedy joust. It was fairly clean, the winners drawing five of the nine penalties, including two majors to Colby for fighting, and a major in the first to Smith for scrapping. Keene had fine goal-tending, and their first line stood out, with Doug Whalen high individual scorer.

In the first period, Whalen counted two, and Davidson and Kimball one each for the homesters, as Colby had two assists, and Whalen one. Davis scored for Warsaw from Clements and Payne. In the next heat, Kempt, Whalen, Kimball, Brown and Colby hit the mark, an assist each going to McFarlane, Steenburgh, Whalen and Davidson. The Warsaw goal was by Patterson from Evans. The last chukker saw Davidson, McFarlane and Locke count for Keene, Nelson and Kempt each helping once. Lonsberry and Evans tallied for Warsaw, Patterson and Matthews each gaining an assist. Native Dancer Tops Ratings

NEW YORK (AP)—Native Dancer was placed atop the Experimental Free Handicap ratings Friday with 130 pounds—only the fourth thoroughbred in the history of the Experimental to receive 130 or more pounds.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's unbeaten grey colt, voted the No. 1 horse of 1952 by most racing authorities, is seven pounds above the second horses, the Trio Stable's Laffango, and Ben Whitaker's Tahitian King.

The Experimental rankings are issued each January by John B. Campbell, veteran handicapper and racing secretary of the New York tracks. They reflect his opinion of what last year's two-year-olds will accomplish in such three-year-old classics as the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont and other stakes.

Also, they are the actual weights the horses must carry in the two Experimental Handicaps raced at Jamaica in April when the Sophomores are prepping for the Derby.

U.S. Players Win All Matches

MELBOURNE (AP) — All the American combinations were victorious in the Australian tennis championships Friday, a day devoted to doubles matches.

Vic Seixas, American Davis Cup captain from Philadelphia, and Ham Richardson, Jr., of Baton Rouge, La., had a close call before downing Jack Arkinstall and Barry Green of Queensland, 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

Straight Clark of Los Angeles and his Aussie partner, Neale Fraser, ousted John Diggle and Keith Rogers, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0. The top-seeded Aussie team of Mervyn Rose and Don Candy routed E. Stewart and C. Harvey, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

The California duo of Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson had little trouble defeating Judy Tissott and Beth Ruffing, 6-2, 6-2, in the women's doubles.

Building Nearly 100 Yrs. Old To Be Torn Down At Main Corner Of City

The developing vacancy of the J. W. McDermid drug store at 321 George St., the northwest corner of Charlotte St., brings to an end his tenancy of 44 years.

Presumably this termination of lease is the first evidence in disuse of the approaching demolition of the corner block of stores for the erection of a new building to be occupied by F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd. Tenants have been ordered to vacate by Feb. 1.

The stores marked for destruction bear the street numbers 321 to 331, extending from the corner of Charlotte St. to, but not including the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Peterborough's interest is primarily in the Woolworth plans for radical change in the appearance of the old downtown corner, business axis of the community since the first signs of its faith in the future more than a century ago. For the present generation, the future is still here with promise of its new construction and expansion, explicitly at George and Charlotte Sts., but the prospect for 1953 suggests a search for information of the past and its people whose hopes and handiwork have remained so long a landmark at the traffic hub of the city.

The first owner of the corner property was the Rev. James Crowley, Roman Catholic priest, who received it as a grant from the Crown on November 15, 1828. His land had a frontage of 191 feet on George St. and a flankage of 114 feet on Charlotte St. It may have been a personal gift, or for church purposes. Dr. Poole's history of Peterborough reports that the first services celebrated by Rev. James Crowley were in one of the log buildings that were erected on the south side of the former market square, providing various accommodation for people of the 1825 immigration from Ireland.

Poole relates that a grant was made by the Crown for a church on Hunter St., the block bounded by George, Chambers and Brock Streets. A small frame building was erected, but about 1835-36 it disappeared in a fire. The Crown grant was dated Feb. 18, 1834.

(One of Peterborough's elder citizens said today it was his impression that George A. Cox bought both land and building, and that it was originally the investment of Patrick Ryan who is believed to have owned a tannery on Simcoe St., now the location of Peterborough Lock Co. The Ryan house was on the north side of the street and the east bank of the creek. That places the age of the building at 97 years.)

SOLD PROPERTY

Possibly, the Charlotte St. corner at George was a personal gift in aid to Rev. James Crowley. At any rate, eight years later, in 1836, he sold the property to Patrick Ryan. He held it briefly from March until May, when Edward Duffy bought it. In 1844, Duffy and his wife sold it to John Might. Later, the corner appears to have been transferred by Jane and Rae Dickson to W. H. Scott, and finally in 1882 it passed on by deed and sale to George A. Cox, and in 1886 by him to the Toronto Real Estate Investment Co., afterwards the Toronto Savings and Loan Co.

Toronto Savings and Loan retained possession from 1888 to 1945 when they disposed of it to Jacob M. Bennett, presumably of Principal Investments Company for the F. W. Woolworth Company's removal to that site.

Those dates are records of the changing ownership of the land. As to the building it may have been an investment of George A. Cox. However, referring to Poole again, quoting from the old weekly Review of 1856 that year was "unusually prolific of new buildings".

"First was have a couple of stores erected by P. Ryan, Esq., on his property on south George St."

"There was a Patrick Ryan who held the property only from March to May in 1836, which was 20 years earlier, and there is no clear information as to who was P. Ryan or where he built his stores.

"The building is of brick," continuing the Poole reference, "three stories high. It immediately fronts the market square. The front is ornamented with raised brick work in the form of pillars, surmounted by a neat brick cornice, and supported on cast iron pillars. With one exception it is the neatest building yet erected in town. The shops will be large and lofty, and will each have a hall door leading from the front to the upper storeys."

CHARLOTTE ST. ENTRANCE

Present entrance to the upper floors is by way of a hall leading from Charlotte St. It may be that the corner building was the investment of one P. Ryan. If that assumption is correct, the block has seen 97 years of use.

In that case there are years of tenancy and occupation prior to the issue of the street directory of 1893 when George Carton carried on a grocery business at 321 George St., the corner store. Joseph McClelland was a jeweller at 323, Thomas Gemmell had a women's wear shop at 325 and T. H. Hooper's first confectionary store was at 327. Charles LeGros was a barber at 329 and the City Hotel was at 331.

Demetre Brothers, first Greeks in business on George St., opened a candy and ice cream store after George Carton moved out about 1905. The latter had built a packing house on Haggart St., at the east end of Lansdowne St., operated it for some years. It was finally occupied in recent years by the late J. Arthur McIntyre who transferred his farm implement business from Queen St.

McDermid and Jury followed Demetre Brothers in 1909 or 1910, and the McDermid drug store continued in service to the public down to the end of 1952.

In the adjoining store at 323 George St., D. O. Legendre was a drygoods merchant in 1895-97, succeeded in 1899 by James Sutherland, grocer, who was still in business in 1910.

Ed Huff had a tailor shop at 325 in 1908, following Robert Maitland's restaurant in that store in 1905, and A. D. Towle, in the same business, in 1903.

In the Charlie LeGros barber shop and tobaccos, at 329 George, Thomas W. McDonough continued that kind of business around 1905 and 1908, but in 1910 Robert Snelgrove, barber, was the tenant. And up the street at 337 was Mike Pappas, tobaccos, Louis Yeotes at 339, and F. R. J. MacPherson, electrician, bicycles, etc. at 341, now owned by Vern Selkirk in men's wear.

Anti-Freeze Prizes Being Checked

OTTAWA (CP)—The tariff board has launched a second survey of anti-freeze prices across Canada.

An official said the first survey showed a "substantial" range in the prices consumers pay in various Canadian localities. The second inquiry was undertaken to confirm this price pattern.

By next March, when budget time rolls around, the board hopes to have complete information for Finance Minister Abbott on not only the retail price range across Canada but also on the spread between the manufacturer's costs and cost to consumers.

The surveys were launched at Mr. Abbott's request. United States anti-freeze, in manufactured form, bears a 20-per-cent tariff when imported.

It appeared likely that if Mr. Abbott finds the Canadian trade is charging too high a price for the Canadian product, he may reduce or eliminate the import tariff.

WOULD CUT PRODUCT

This action might bring low-priced imports to Canada, stimulating competition and tending to reduce the price of the Canadian product.

Meanwhile, a new phase in the anti-freeze price situation develops Monday when spokesmen for Dow Chemical Company, biggest Canadian producers of anti-freeze products, will urge the board to consider tariff boosts on imports on chemicals from which the anti-freeze is made.

Under the Canadian tariff, imports of ethylene glycol, the anti-freeze base, are allowed duty-free. Dow Chemical has argued that these cheap imports are threatening to knock out its big new $24,000,000 anti-freeze plant at Sarnia, Ont.

It likely will argue that the material that is imported actually is not ethylene glycol, but items that are different in grades and purities such as diethylene, triethylene and propylene glycol.

As such the items should not come in duty-free but should be taxed under a different segment of the tariff, thus boosting the import price.

Five Brothers Up For Brawl

INGERSOLL (CP)—Five Ingersoll brothers appeared in police court here Friday to face charges laid after a wild street brawl at the town's main intersection last month. Provincial police constable Alex Patterson and several others were injured in the melee.

Keith Bruce, who pleaded innocent to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired, was convicted by Magistrate R. G. Groom, Tillsonburg. He was fined $75 and $43 costs or 50 days.

Hearing of various charges against his four brothers was adjourned to Jan. 13. The charges are:

Gordon Bruce, assaulting an officer and causing bodily harm; Douglas Bruce, intoxication and resisting arrest; Harvey Bruce, obstructing an officer; Elwood Bruce, obstructing an officer.

Patients Get Measles

STRATFORD (CP) — Stratford General Hospital authorities kept their fingers crossed for a few days when five patients developed measles. The patients had been admitted to hospital evidently during the measles incubation period and the rash broke out after they got into hospital beds. The superintendent of nurses, Miss M. Snider, said "only good nursing" prevented the measles from spreading throughout the hospital.

Two Families Homeless

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Two White Oaks families were made homeless Friday night by fire which gutted a large two-storey brick house in Westminster township south of here. Forced from their apartments by flames and dense smoke were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roberts and their three small children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tickner and their two children.

Death Sentence Been Commuted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The death sentence of a young convicted murderer was commuted to life imprisonment Friday as he tearfully awaited execution shortly after midnight.

Governor Allan Shivers commuted the sentence on condition that 22-year-old Robert Ernest Miers never shall become eligible for further clemency.

While in jail in San Antonio, Miers was converted by the pastor of the Calvary Missionary Church. Since then the church congregation has prayed steadily in shifts for his life to be spared.

Miers was sentenced to death for the fatal shooting March 8, 1951, of A. J. Sendemer.

Tuesday night Miers had been granted a three-day stay 25 minutes before he was to die.

Charge Oshawa Youth With Careless Driving

TORONTO (CP)—Oscar Carrier, 20, of Oshawa Friday night was charged with careless driving by police, who said he was the driver of an auto that struck 18-year-old Georgina Hawkes in suburban New Toronto.

The girl was taken to hospital with a fractured pelvis and multiple cuts to the face and arms.

HEROIC PILOT—Bush pilot Jimmy Price, 23, walked 35 miles through a snowstorm to get help for three passengers after his plane made a forced landing during a blizzard on Lake Athabasca, 400 miles north of Edmonton. His eyes blackened and face cut in the forced landing, Price covered the 35 miles to Uranium City in 29 hours. His feet were frozen on arrival. A plane picked up his passengers and all four were flown to hospital in Edmonton.

$35,000 Claims Filed For Water Damage

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Two more claims, totalling $35,000, were filed against Canada Friday for property damages from high water in Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence river alleged to have been caused by Gut Dam.

The claimants contend that improper construction of Gut Dam by the Canadian government on U.S. territory in the St. Lawrence caused an overflow of water and flooding of property.

The dam, built by the Canadian government in 1904, has just been removed by Canada at the request of the U.S. government.

A test case in a move by lake shore property owners against the Canadian government now is pending in federal district court. It was brought by Arthur and Dorothy Oster of the town of Greece, Monroe county. They seek $12,000 for damages, alleged to have been incurred as a result of Gut Dam.

Norman Atterby, president of the Lake Ontario Land, Development and Beach Protection Association, has said that of approximately 20,000 Lake Ontario shore property owners who claimed high damage, about 5,000 will file suits totalling about $25,000,000.

New Schools' Program Costs $61 Million

TORONTO—The greatest school building program in the province's history is underway and will be continue in the first six months of 1953, Education Minister Dunlop announced Friday. New starts will likely amount to $25,000,000, while construction under way now totals about $36,000,000, he said, a total of more than $60,000,000.

Elementary schools take a slight edge in construction with $13,000,000, a fair estimate for the 100 or more projects which include new building and additions to old buildings. About 25 secondary schools will take $12,000,000.

Dr. Dunlop said he hoped that with the high cost of education, some economies could be affected by using some temporary buildings for schools, and cutting down on frills. Of current construction, approximately $20,000,000 is going toward 67 secondary schools, with the remainder for 120 elementary schools.

Making Poor Suits

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet newspaper Trud complained today that a Moscow tailoring workshop, operating under a speedup system, is making poor-fitting suits. The newspaper demanded that the shop do away with rules limiting time allotted for measurement of new men's suits to five minutes and for fitting suits to 12 minutes.

Work Stoppage In Quebec May Be Avoided

QUEBEC (CP)—A proposed province-wide work stoppage by 90,000 members of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor may be avoided.

Optimism arose from a statement Friday night that officials of the labor group have met with Labor Minister Barrette of Quebec to discuss a turbulent textile strike at Louiseville, Que., the reason for the threatened work stoppage.

The statement came from Jean Marchand, secretary-general of the CCCL, who said union officials met with Mr. Barrette for 45 minutes Thursday. He did not elaborate.

Attending the meeting were Gerard Picard, president of the labor body, Rene Gosselin, president of the Textile Workers Federation, Mr. Marchand and the labor minister.

OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE

The proposed stoppage stemmed from an outbreak of violence at Louiseville in December that resulted in the Riot Act being read.

Meanwhile, two other meetings of syndicates affiliated with the CCCL are scheduled Sunday, at Sherbrooke and Thetford Mines, Que. The executive of the Textile Workers Federation meets today at Montreal.

The Louiseville strike began March 10, 1952, when some 800 worked walked off the job for higher wages.

From Office Boy To President, Bank Head Dies

Toronto—Sydney Henry Logan, 71, who rose from a $100-a-year office boy in a Nova Scotia bank to president of the Canadian Bank home Friday. He retired as chairman of the board of that bank in 1948.

Mr. Logan was a director of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Western Assurance Company, the British American Assurance Company, Imperial Life Assurance Company, National Trust Company Ltd., Brazilian Traction Light and Power Company, Maple Leaf Gardens and British Oxygen Canada Ltd.

Born at Debert, N.S., Mr. Logan entered the Halifax Banking Company in 1897. He held a succession of positions with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, which absorbed the Halifax company in 1903. As supervisor of the foreign department in Toronto he travelled in the Far East, South America and Europe.

In 1937 he was named president and elected chairman in 1944. Mr. Logan served as president of the Canadian Bankers' Association in 1936-37.

Maryland Teacher Fired Pupils Play Post Office

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—"Gee, I hope we don't have to play post office again today," one seventh grader told her mother as she left the house for school.

"Mom, I kissed 11 girls in school today," a 12-year-old boy proudly told his.

Statements like these abruptly changed Louis L. Pund Jr.'s occupation from a math and science teacher to an out-of-work musician.

The mild-mannered Pund, who says he is an ordained minister, resigned Friday from the faculty of Washington high school in this quiet community on Maryland's eastern shore and headed today for Baltimore to find a job tooting his trumpet.

Pund, 40, was asked to resign for installing a game of post office —a kissing game—in his two classes. He explained its purpose was to break down their inhibitions because he feared they were too shy.

The game worked this way:

One boy or one girl would go into the small cloakroom — about three feet deep and eight or 10 feet long — and would call in one of the opposite sex. Then the door was closed.

Pund explained that the youngsters, 12 and 13 years old, had four choices. They could kiss on the lips, kiss the other's hand, shake hands or refuse to play at all.

He said he thought of it before the Christmas vacation, when the students appeared to be restless. He tried it out when they returned this week to classes.

"At first," Pund explained, "a lot of them didn't want to play it. But the next day practically all the students wanted to play. There was one boy who didn't, so he opened and closed the cloakroom door."

Losing the job didn't seem to bother Pund too much.

"I hope never to teach again," he said.

Drama Adjudicator Hopes To See Something Typically Canadian

LONDON (CP) — Jovial John Allen hopes to see "plenty of guts and something typically Canadian" when he adjudicates Canada's 13 regional drama festivals early this year.

Attached at present to the school broadcasting department of the BBC, Allen, 40, was nominated to this year's adjudication post by the British Council. He is bilingual, an author and a drama examiner.

The first regional trial starts at Ottawa Jan. 12.

And Allen insists that though forewarned by predecessors of a gruelling, 10-week trek lying ahead, he's anxious to get under way.

"PLENTY OF GUTS"

"I am hoping to see productions that aren't afraid of having a bash at it—that have plenty of guts," Allen said prior to leaving.

"I'll be watching, too, for something typically Canadian — something between Broadway and British drama.

"I'd like to see lots of young people, as well."

This will be his first visit to Canada.

From Ottawa he goes to Quebec and the Maritimes, west to the Prairies and Pacific coast and then back to St. John's, Nfld. where the tour is scheduled to end March 26.

The plays he chooses will gather for final adjudication in Victoria in May.

WIFE A MAGISTRATE

Allen leaves behind him five children and a wife who once ranked as the youngest magistrate in Britain. She was appointed five years ago at the age of 26 and still holds the position.

Asked how she coped with her career and five children, Allen replied: "She's a jolly good organizer."

Allen began his career at the Old Vic in 1931 and broke his theatre connection only once — for five years navy service. He joined the BBC in 1949.

Ottawa In Money Market With Big New Bond Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government will enter the money market next week with a $100,000,000 25-year bond issue that is expected to be followed up in 1954 with another long-term issue five or six times that amount.

Officials said the borrowing, first in the long-term field by the government since early in 1950, is intended to find out what reception can be expected for a much larger bond issue next year. Both would be refunding issues, to pay off continually maturing bonds.

Finance Minister Abbott announced the new issue, to be handled by the Bank of Canada, will bear an interest rate of 3¾ per cent and yield 3.85 per cent. The coupon rate of the 1950 issue—made before the Korean war—was 2¾ per cent.

NEED MONEY

A large amount of money is required to pay off maturing issues, officials said, especially the second wartime victory loan issue of about $650,000,000 which comes due in 1954.

Because the government is unsure how the money market will accept a new long-term issue, the new bonds will be handled by the Bank of Canada, which will dole them out to investment dealers and banks as they ask for them.

Over the long-term, a spokesman said, the $100,000,000 issue will not increase the national debt since the money from its sale will be used to retire other bonds.

The bonds will be available in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $25,000 and $100,000. They will be dated Jan. 15, 1953, and will mature Jan. 15, 1978, callable at any time on or after Jan. 15, 1975.

Russian Scientists Try To Stretch Life

LONDON (AP) — Russian scientists are pumping blood and oxygen into old people in experimental attempt to make them live longer, Moscow radio reported today. The broadcast said one Soviet scientist believed the human life span could be stretched to 150 years.

Investigators found that blood transfusions in small doses and the inhalation of air enriched with oxygen cured many cases of old-age insomnia, improved memories and steadied nerves, Moscow radio reported.

The broadcast cited as an example the case of P. Trachenko of Kiev, who, it said, is "now hale and cheerful" at 117 years of age.

Shot Misses Conductor

RICHMOND HILL (CP)—A shot fired Friday night at a moving northbound Canadian National Railways freight train on the outskirts of this village 18 miles north of Toronto narrowly missed a conductor standing on the rear platform of the caboose. The bullet was believed fired by a person hiding in a field beside the tracks. It dug into the back door of the caboose.

Volume Continues To Increase On Toronto Stock Market

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The bulls that galloped into the Toronto stock market last week had less to bellow about this week. But they were still around

Last week's strong upswing in base metal stocks and gains in other sections were accompanied by the heaviest trading since last May. "A real bull market," said some observers.

This week, however, the price movements weren't so encouraging to the bull sentiment, but the volume continued to increase. Trading reached its highest pitch since early last February and spread over a much broader list of stocks.

Industrials closed moderately higher, but base metals slipped a bit. Golds and western oils showed little change either way on the week.

PREDICT DOWN-TREND

On Friday, reduced trading and general losses brought renewed predictions of a down-trend in late January or February.

Part of the reasoning behind the predictions is based on past experience. The market frequently declines after advances at the year-end and in early January.

Another factor concerns the general confidence engendered in United States traders by the election as president of General Eisenhower. This confidence has been the basis for much of the recent upswing.

But when Eisenhower officially becomes President next week, his policy announcements may dampen some of the bulls' "first fine careless rapture."

PRICES JUMPED

On the Toronto exchange this week, prices jumped forward Monday, continuing last week's gains. In Montreal prices also rose and continued up Tuesday when Toronto slid lower. Toronto prices drifted lower Wednesday while Montreal's were mixed.

Thursday saw a general moderate gain in Toronto while papers rose and industrials slipped in Montreal. Toronto turned downward Friday while Montreal rose.

New York started the week with an advance but turned mixed Tuesday. Prices slipped Wednesday, rose again Thursday and fell sharply Friday.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto stock exchange indexes showed industrials up 2.13 at 325.16, golds down .47 at 84.74, base metals down 1.46 at 182.86 and western oils up .41 at 124.83.

In the Montreal averages banks were up .31 at 32.63, utilities up 1.0 at 92.5, industrials up 2.5 at 211.1, combined up 2.0 at 171.5, papers up 4.20 at 714.43 and golds up .74 at 64.77.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.70 to $114.10.

Colonel's Wife Jailed For Life For Stabbing Husband To Death

TOKYO (AP)—A United States Army court today convicted Dorothy Krueger Smith, a general's daughter, of stabbing her colonel husband to death with a hunting knife. It sentenced her to life in prison.

Mrs. Smith, 40-year-old attractive mother of two 'teen-aged children, was convicted of premeditated murder in stabbing Col. Aubrey D. Smith, 45, as he slept in their Tokyo quarters Oct. 3.

A nine-member court martial board reached its verdict after 64 minutes of deliberation. It took slightly more than 30 minutes to fix the sentence.

The head of the court, Maj.-Gen. Joseph P. Sullivan, wept as he read the sentence in a barely audible voice.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of retired Gen. Walter Krueger, showed only one sign of emotion—a slight quiver of her lower lip.

On previous days of the trial the attractive Mrs. Smith often broke down and sobbed.

CASE REVIEWED

The case will be reviewed by military authorities here and in Washington.

A prosecuting officer said Mrs. Smith would be sent to the United States in about two weeks and confined in a federal prison.

The prosecution presented 15 witnesses and the defence six.

The Smith's Japanese maid, Shigeko Tani, 28, testified that the colonel told her Mrs. Smith had stabbed him. The maid also quoted Mrs. Smith as saying "I'm so glad I did it."

A neighbor, Lt.-Col. Joseph Hardin, said Mrs. Smith blurted out: "Too bad I didn't get him in the heart."

Two army nurses testified that Mrs. Smith said she stabbed her husband as he slept.

TEMPORARILY INSANE

Not once in the six-day trial did the defence contest the charge of premeditated murder. It based its case on a contention that she was temporarily insane, because of an overdose of drugs, and that she was gripped by an "irresistible impulse."

The army's top psychiatrist Brig.-Gen. Rawley E. Chambers, was flown by the army from Washington to testify in Mrs Smith's behalf. For four years he had been her doctor. He said she was addicted to alcohol and sedatives.

CHA Purple and Gold Ball Increases In Popularity

Always a highlight of the winter social season in Peterborough, the Civic Hospital Alumnae's "Purple and Gold Ball" this year showed increasing popularity with the demand for tickets holding till the day of the dance, and stretching the table accommodation of the Brock Ballroom to the limit. More than 700 reservations were recorded.

Miss Mae Renwick was the convener and she was assisted by Mrs. Donald Kerneghan. Miss Nancy Spring had charge of the tickets and Mrs. Reg. Pearson looked after publicizing of the event in advance of Friday evening.

Mrs. Roberts moulded little snowmen and painted them in purple and gold top hats as table favors.

The Alumnae has established as the door prize for their annual ball a pair of rainbow-bordered woollen blankets. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Whiteside were winners last night of these handsome gifts. C. S. Browne Predicts Turn to Modern Art Future Heritage

Peterborough Women's Art Association is still striving to appraise modern art. Their latest group viewing of the work of Picasso, Cezanne, A. Y. Jackson and the others was at the studio meeting Friday afternoon. But a majority of the members seemed still inclined to the opinion these painters are a bit "crazy."

A paper titled "An Approach to Modern Art" prepared by Mr. C. S. Browne was given with illustrations by a fine assortment of colored slides collected by Professor John Hall, of the University of Toronto, one of the modern artists. Mr. Browne was unable to be present because of a heavy cold and his paper was read by Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, assisted by Mr. William Graff as projectionist.

Mr. Browne, a member of the Peterborough Men's Sketch Club, prepared his paper most broad-mindedly. He pointed out "Where so many art lovers have become interested to the extent of paying large prices for modern pictures, it hardly seems likely that they are insincere or unbalanced. It is just possible they are finding something in these paintings that the rest of us have missed."

People experience a sort of ecstasy from good music, a feeling of reverence when standing in a cathedral, a thrill of excitement from a streamlined automobile. It is not surprising that these same people are beginning to appreciate modern art.

A prediction for the future was also given by Mr. Browne, principal of PCVS. "I have reason to believe that the puzzlement of modern art pictures will not be shared by the coming generation and the reason is simple: The children in our schools today are spending a major portion of their time studying and producing creative art, and to meet the challenge of modern art, the teachers of today are studying and producing paintings that can be classed as impressionist, expressionist, cubist, abstract and non-representational."

Pupils thus trained can be expected to employ the art of abstraction to develop artistic designs that may enrich their daily living and bring into the world a beauty that is their heritage due to the "somewhat crazy and little understood art of today.

CHARACTERISTIC CHANGE

The first group of illustrations had the rough, unfinished look of many pictures being painted today. Mr. Browne pointed out the things people have long been accustomed to look for — polish, literary interest, likeness and charm—had been abandoned. Instead, the points were line, color, pattern, unphotographic, unfinished, dream world, etc. They were concerned with expression rather than representation, with creation rather than limitation, and characterized in each separate work by a peculiar and essential quality in the nature of expressive form. "The core of any absolute statement of modern art theory is in the inclusion of the word 'form'," he wrote.

Examples of what the modern artist deems to be his mission in depicting a scene were in John Hall's paintings of a landscape photograph. The paintings are his attemot to translate in form and color the moods and emotions he experienced, believing that art should strike some innner being, something as close to the spirit of man as it is possible to penetrate, Mr. Browne explained. (Hall has previously lectured on modern art and displayed his work to the association.)

The paper described impressionism as the first step toward modernism, with light, atmosphere and color the major contributions to painting. Cezanne followed with expressionism and turned the painter's eye from the surface to within.

Distortion is common in modern art, some of it wilful, unnecessary and unjustified by an aesthetic gain, and breeding confusion. It was carried furthest by the cubists as several cubist pictures by Picasso illustrated. Futurists seek to paint motion, like Duchamp's "Nude descending staircase." There were also illustrations of dadaism—usually in the nature of a geometrical diagram — and surrealism, whose painters turn to symbolistic and psychic revelation.

President Mrs. Ford Turner, before introducing the program, advised members that five food parcels had been sent overseas before Christmas, two going to a Lyceum Club in England. This was possible through a fund collected at past meetings.

Mrs. R. Perrin Hostess To WA

BENSFORT (ENS)—The Bensfort Woman's Association met at the home of Mrs. Reginald Perrin with the new president, Mrs. Lorne Harris, in the chair. The meeting opened with a hymn and a reading, "A New Year's Meditation" by Mrs. Lorne Harris. This was followed by the scripture reading by Mrs. Merton Thompson and lesson thoughts by Mrs. Allen Bell. Mrs. O. Reid gave a reading. Mrs. Reg. Perrin gave a reading on "The Church Supper."

It was decided to send the United Church Training School a cheque towards the building. Plans were discussed for some of the members to attend the WMS Presbyterial at St. James Church on January 27.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Willis Patton.

Satisfaction Is Found In Achievement

By NANCY CLEAVER

"I'm having my woodwork hour this afternoon," Tommy told his mother eagerly. All week he looked forward to this hour of craft training on Fridays in the hobby room at school. During the year he had designed and made a square teapot stand, a lawn ornament and a bird house.

At Christmas he asked for a fret-saw and he had been engrossed in making jig-saw puzzles. He glued attractive colored pictures onto light wood and drew his own pattern for the pieces. When his class discussed making toys for the Sick Children's Ward in the hospital, Tommy offered to make two puzzles, one a picture of a girl with her doll and the other a ship picture for a boy. The presents were all made by the scholars. When they were completed and brought to school, the teacher showed them to the president of the Home and School Club, who happened to be Tommy's mother.

She was surprised and delighted by the variety of well-made gifts. "The boys and girls have got a great deal of satisfaction out of this project," the teachers commented. "I think part of its success lay in the fact that it was a co-operative effort. No pupil felt he had to 'beat' another pupil's work."

The presents were on display at the executive meeting of the home and School that week. One of the members of the executive offered to donate a money prize for the gift which the teacher considered the most original, and most carefully-made present. The teacher hesitated to speak for fear of offending the donor. But Tommy's mother said: "It is very generous of you to offer a money prize — but is it a good idea? Every child has taken part in this activity and has experienced real satisfaction. I know Tommy thinks Joan's stocking doll is just as well made as his puzzles. Will we spoil the spirit of co-operation, by injecting the competitive idea of winning a first prize?"

What is your re-action to this mother's question? Is she not "on the right track"? Have you not observed that children do just as good work in a co-operative as in a competitive effort, if they are really convinced that it is worthwhile? The boy who asks his Dad to help him learn how to tie various kinds of knots which his Wolf Cub Pack are practising, gets a real satisfaction from gaining this knowledge and skill.

We do live in a competitive world. When they leave school, boys and girls are pitted against each other for jobs and for many "prizes" in life. But in our homes are we going to place our emphasis on joy in activity and the reward found in doing our best, or are we continually spurring our children on to "come first" and "beat the other fellow"?

Competition between brothers and sisters can provoke a lot of unnecessary hostility. John may be brilliant in mathematics, while figures are an awful trial to Mary. But reading bores John, and, unlike Mary, the Children's Division in the Public Library has no charm for him. Mary has a fine school record in literature and composition while John finds these are his weakest subjects. The happiness of John and Mary and their attitude to their school work is bound to be colored by their parents' attitude to their report cards. Surely each student can do his or her best work without striving to better the other's record in individual subjects.

When mother and dad place emphasis on satisfaction in achievement they are preparing their children for emotional maturity. The adult who must always "win" is not only tiresome company for others but an unhappy person himself. A co-operative atmosphere for work or play is greatly to be preferred to a competitive one.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Ungrateful Spouse Found Playing Around With Co-Ed

DEAR MISS DIX: By holding a very good job, I have been helping my husband attend graduate school. He has made a fine college record, but lately when I meet him after classes I find him playing bridge with very attractive young ladies, who are also students at the college. Recently I went into the school library and found him sitting in a secluded spot with a young lady. He had cut a class to spend the time with her, and their attitudes, when I spotted them, were far from disinterested.

I don't particularly care for the job I have, but since it offers more money than the work I would really care to do, and money is important in my husband's educational plans, I have continued the job. I feel somewhat let down to find out he is spending his time in the pursuit of girls rather than in study. We were quite happy until he developed this "sophistication." Am I being overly jealous?

ANNA M.

ANSWER: Of course you have a ready weapon to stop your husband's philandering. Threaten to give up your job unless he buckles down to work and gives up such extra-curricula activities.

Even married, graduate students are not exempt from the smart-alecky trends of so many college men; feminine conquest is to many of them as important as theses. Whether your husband is indulging in casual flirtations to prove that he is "one of the boys," even though married, or is seriously interested in one of the girls is a matter you must judge for yourself. The chief danger of the former premise is that it can very easily lead to the latter. In either case, you apparently have cause to be jealous—an emotion that is not always to be condemned.

Since you are paying for your husband's education, you have the same privilege of expecting him to work at it as a parent who is sending a son through college. By casual treatment of his marriage vows he is forfeiting the right to the co-operation you have so generously extended. If he is doing no outside work himself, to eke out the family income, you should insist that he help out at least to this extent. You've been making things too easy for him; he has been absolved of all family obligations and naturally feels free to enjoy college life as well as his unfettered fellow students. It's up to you to make him realize that as a married man he simply does not have the right to all their privileges. Instead, of course, he has the help and encouragement of a fine wife and that should inspire him to a much better use of his opportunities than he is exercising.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a club of eight girls—one we would like to see drop out. How can we tell her? She bores us with complaints of her mother-in-law and all her other in-laws; in fact, we have never heard her say anything good about anyone. She is very conceited, tries to dress better than anyone else and brags about every little ability she has—which isn't much.

DISGUSTED.

ANSWER: When she complains about her relatives, tell her point blank that the rest of you are not interested in such conversation. Or, you could, at an opportune moment, decide to introduce a resolution that since there is so much trouble in the world, the confines of the club are to be closed to complaints, and any member airing grievances must pay a fine. Since your little rift in the lute will be the chief offender, she may resign out of consideration for her pocketbook. Let's hope so!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Three years ago I met and fell in love with a boy from out of town. He has told me that he loves me, but sometimes I don't hear from him for months. Now I haven't seen or heard from him for three weeks. I think of him all the time. How can I get him off my mind.

RUTH T.

ANSWER: The best way to get someone off your mind is to substitute your thoughts of him for something else. Unless the boy has some very unusual reason for acting as he does—and it's up to you to ask him what it is—he certainly doesn't behave like a boy in love. Obviously, then, you are wasting time thinking so much about him. Get into all available activity in your town, and you'll find new friends providing material for your thoughts.

Readers' Saturday Column by Mary Moore

(Mrs. B's letter cont'd. from Friday) . . . I would like to know a simple way to roast a turkey in a wearever dish (the large steamer, baker and roaster dish). My husband thinks all roasts should be made in oven, to taste right. I think a top burner is more economical. I have two small children who take up most of my time, so I can't spend too much time on fancy cooking and baking. "Mrs. B."

ANSWER: Thanks for the recipes Mrs. B. The cooking principle used in the top-of-stove type of cooker you describe is steam. Roasting requires dry heat. Consequently all foods cooked in the top-of-stove cooker will have a steamed taste. To overcome this to some extent you may braise the bird in hot fat on all sides before adding water to the steamer, and then cover it and cook it the required length of time. May I take the liberty of asking you a pointed question? If your husband pays the power bills why do you object to roasting the turkey the way he wants it done? Did you read the letter yesterday from the wife whose husband gives her only $30. every 2 weeks to feed 6 people? Count your blessing, my friend, and be thankful that your husband does not require you to economize as much as you try to. Roast the turkey in the oven; 325 deg. F. for 3 to 4 hours for turkey weighing from 8 to 14 lbs.; 300 deg. F. for 4 to 6 hours for turkey weighing 14½ to 20 lbs.

ATENTION MRS. S. R. ON SODIUM-FREE DIET

Following letter is for you:

LETTER: Every night I turn to you rcolumn the minute the paper arrives. We have enjoyed many of your recipes . . . last night after reading the request of Mrs. S. R. on sodium-free diet I felt I might be able to give her some helpful information as I have been on this same diet for many years . . . What procedure do you follow in a situation of this kind? . . . Incidentally I think the Cherry Coffee cake sounds yummy and will try it real soon. Mrs. M. J.

ANSWER: Would Mrs. S. R. please send me her address so that I may forward to her the stamped envelope Mrs. M. J. enclosed in her letter. In this way they can correspond with one another directly.

QUESTION: Thank you for help with my problem of a wheatless, oatless, yeastless diet . . . I have not seen the wheatless loaf yet . . . I have found that rye flour which I get at a local feed store is an invaluable substitute. Until I found the rye flour I had been making a cornbread as follows: ENID'S WHEATLESS CORNBREAD

One and one-half cups milk, 1 cup cornmeal, 1½ tablespoons shortening, 2 eggs, 1½ teaspoons taking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar. Scald milk and pour over the cornmeal and shortening. Cool. Add beaten eggs, baking powder, salt, and sugar and mix well. Pour into greased shallow pan and bake in a hot oven of 400 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 30 minutes. This is not something you would eat as a treat, but it is not unpalatable cold, so can be a bread to have on hand.

Lately however, I have been making a variation of baking powder biscuits, using rye flour and a little cornmeal to lighten the rye taste, rolling them thinner than usual and cutting them in rectangles—high enough to fit in our roaster. I can make almost a week's supply of these at a time, store them in a plastic bag in the frig, and then toast and split and butter them etc. They are the happiest solution I have found so far (for the patient on wheatless diet)—can be cut into "fingers" for dipping into a boiled egg. They seem hard until toasted, but are then very nice.

I have great succes with gingerbread hermits and molasses snaps, merely substituting rye flour for the wheat flour.

MOLASSES SNAPS (wheatless)

One-quarter cup fat, ⅜ cup sugar, ½ cup smoothly beaten cooked potatoes, ¼ cup molasses, 1 cup sifted rye flour, ½ teaspoon soda, ¾ teaspoon each ginger and cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon salt. Cream together the fat and sugar, add potatoes and continue creaming. Mix in molasses. Sift together the flour, soda, spices, salt. Stir into first mixture. Drop the batter by tablespoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Flatten to ⅛ inch using a greased flat-bottomed glass. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. until lightly browned — about 15 minutes.

(Remainder of Enid's interesting and helpful letter will be printed next week.)

Bethany Women Hear Message On New Year's

BETHANY (ENS). — Mrs. George Waddell entertained the members of the United Church Women's Association for their January meeting, and as program convener for Group One, gave a talk which she termed "A New Year's Message of Thankfulness."

Mrs. Waddell said "The finest Christians through the years, as we have observed them, are the happiest of people, yet it is seldom that one sees obvious reasons why they should be.

"Our physical necessities are abundantly provided for. What a pity we have become so engrossed in exploiting the resources of the earth that we lose the sense of wonder and appreciation of it as belonging to God."

A contest, "Jumbled Names of the New Testament," was won by Mrs. Clarence Rowan. Mrs. T. J. Jackson gave a reading "The New Year." Mrs. Harold Sanderson read a poem "A Thankful Heart."

Mrs. Mansell Finney presided for the business session. Mrs. Wellington Fallis reported a successful year financially with a bank balance of $193.87. It was decided to donate $5.00 to The Save The Children Fund. Mrs. Clarence Rowan read the scripture lesson. Mrs. Henry Jakeman gave "Lesson Thoughts" and led in prayer. Cards of thanks were read from the Ryley family and from Mrs. William Cavano for floral tributes sent during their recent bereavements. A hymn and the benediction closed the meeting, after which Mrs. Waddell and her assistants served lunch. Mrs. R. Carr expressed the thanks of the ladies to the hostess for the use of her home and her interesting meeting.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Roses Are Most Attractive Winter Home Decoration

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Few household decorations are more attractive than a cluster of roses, especially in midwinter. But to keep them vital and fresh in appearance, several rules should be observed.

The first rule, according to Paul Angle, veteran rose-grower of Richmond Hill Ont., is to keep the roses away from hot-air registers and radiators.

The stems should be cut a little shorter each day with a knife, and cut on a slant. This permits the flower to absorb moisture more readily. The preservative which florists usually include with their bouquets should also be used.

ROSE "PINCHING"

Scarcity of roses just before a time of great demand is caused by growers sacrificing crops so they will have enough at the right time for the additional orders. This is known as "pinching the roses." When the bud begins to form on the stalk, the growers will "pinch" it off, so that the stalk grows longer before another bud forms.

This is the reason that long-stemmed roses are more expensive than the short-stemmed variety. They are "pinched" more often.

Roses in an old teapot may not sound particularly fascinating, but it's amazing what can be done. During a demonstration t the Royal Winter Fair last fall Arthur Bonnett of Toronto filled an ordinary teapot with foliage removed from some rose-stems. These were packed tightly to hold the flowers in place, with a few half-bloom roses inserted in the midst of the foliage.

Chickenwire can also be turned into permanent rose-holders. It can be twisted into almost any shape to be put in a container to hold the stems of the flowers.

RULES TO FOLLOW

The new year is well under way but it's never too late for a good resolution. Here are some suggested by the federal department of agriculture:

1. Resolve to serve nutritious and well-balanced meals.

2. Resolve to follow market reports and prices more closely, so that money can be saved by using foods that are more plentiful and in season.

3. Resolve to learn more about government food regulations in order to know what the grade marks mean—and buy by grade.

Poet Thomas Carr

"It is because farmers have neither sufficient education nor intelligence to represent their own class, and therefore must throw themselves into the arms of lawyers who, of all men, seem to be the most unfit, by their education, their pursuits, and their want of fellow-feeling, to represent an agricultural community."

While there are plenty of valuable works on arts and sciences to be read, he continues, most people have no taste for learning —they are "too old and too stiff" to bend their minds to knowledge. Perhaps the next generation can be so educated that not only will good farmers be produced, but good members of parliament, good magistrates, and good citizens generally.

DEFECTIVE TEACHING

Teaching methods, he believed, were highly defective. Children are taught English like parrots, and have no understanding of the ideas supposed to be imparted. The greatest obtainable knowledge is that from reading. Nature study, too, was neglected.

He did not believe that everybody could pursue learning equally, but everyone should have a good general education. The best will then rise "to become the pride and ornament of their age"; and he hoped that every improvement in our minds would "increase our charitable and friendly feelings towards each other.

We believe that a man with such breadth of view deserves an obituary no less elevated, and posterity hastens to bestow this honour upon him.

DEATH BY SUICIDE

In his last years he became melancholy and depressed, and his death by suicide on November 1, 1860, at the age of 80, closely paralleled that of the friend whose death had inspired his "Elegy" thirty years earlier.

Like Captain Hill he was buried on his own farm. Between the house and the barn may still be seen a large mound, where, as the present occupant of the property will tell you, lie the remains of Thomas Carr, a highly cultured and public-spirited pioneer.

West Ontario Priest Well-Known Athlete

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Rev. Joseph Henry Chisholm, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Maidstone since 1947, died at his home Friday night. He was 61.

Father Chisholm, a well-known athlete during his years at Assumption College early in the century, had been in poor health for many years but carried out his parish duties to the full.

Born in Goderich, he attended schools there and came to Assumption College in 1912 to continue his studies. He later attended St. Peter's Seminary, London, and was ordained in 1921.

Father Chisholm served as assistant at the parishes of St. Mary's, London; Our Lady of Mercy, Sarnia; and St. Joseph's, Stratford, before being appointed pastor of West Lorne. In the latter parish he also was in charge of a mission at Wallacetown.

Bargaining Agent

OTTAWA (CP)—The labor department announced today that the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (CCL-CIO) has been certified as bargaining agents for certain CBC radio and television technical employees.

Fast Period Regulations Eased By Pope

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The Pope today eased the fast period which Roman Catholics must observe before they take holy communion and authorized evening masses under certain circumstances.

The general law of the Church up to now has been that Catholics must fast from midnight before taking holy communion and that mass may not be started before one hour before dawn nor after 1 p. m.

In an apostolic constitution published today, the pontiff said "new conditions of life" had moved him to grant some exceptions to these rules.

From now on, ordinary water does not break the fast either for priests or lay catholics. The sick or others for whom a fast would be a grave inconvenience may take some liquid, excluding alcohol if they get their confessor's advice to do so.

SPECIAL MASS

The new regulations also allow bishops to authorize evening mass in their dioceses when circumstances make it necessary. Such masses may be said only after 4 p.m. and only on holidays of obligation, the first Friday of the month, at solemn ceremonies attended by a great mass of people, or on a week day if necessary for certain categories of people.

Priests saying evening mass and lay catholics taking communion at evening mass may eat until three hours before the beginning of mass or communion. They may also take moderate quantities of wine, beer or alcoholic drinks customarily taken during meals, but not distilled liquors.

The Pope urged those who can to continue observing the law and custom of the Eucharistic fast, so that only those who actually have the necessity will make use of the new concessions.

"Varsity" Drops Sports Stories

TORONTO (CP) — University of Toronto students may still be able to read reports on college sports, despite a decision to drop such stories from their undergraduate daily newspaper.

Today John Ellis, member of the sports staff of The Varsity, undergraduate paper which has dropped sports coverage, said arrangements are being made with campus publishers of a mimeographed weekly pamphlet to carry stories on the week-end's hockey and basketball games.

The Varsity announced Friday in a front-page editorial that its three-man editorial board of medical students decided to drop all sports stories and substitute articles on faculties and courses. Starting Monday, only sports scores will be carried.

At London, Bill Bedard, sports editor of The Gazette, University of Western Ontario student paper said "sports are a big part of campus activity."

If a paper stops telling the students what's going on in college sport, he added, it cuts a hole in the spirit which binds students together and makes "the college."

Labor Leader Charges Forgery

MONTREAL (CP)—A prominent Montreal labor leader has accused a Communist-front organization of forging his signature to one of thousands of cards sent to the House of Commons protesting against proposed amendments to the Criminal Code.

Bernard Shane, general vice-president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (TLC-AFL), levelled the charge Friday against the League of Democratic Rights, sponsoring a petition against proposed alterations.

He said he had received a letter from Leon Cresthol, Liberal member of Parliament for Montreal Cartier, asking if it was his signature on one of the cards received at Ottawa.

Mr. Shane said the signature was a "forgery," and added:

"I am convinced that if my name could be forged and placed on those cards, thousands of others must have been signed by people not authorized."

Fog Blankets Britain Halts Air Traffic

LONDON (AP) — Another heavy blanket of fog spread over much of Britain today, dislocating air traffic and slowing the pace of activities in a dozen cities.

It was comparatively light in London, but cities of the Midlands and west coast, and, the Scottish border region were almost blacked out.

Plane service to Scotland and Northern Ireland was cancelled. There were delays in air services between London and Paris and Dublin.

Three important football games were called off. At those games that were played, spectators and athletes had difficulty following the ball.

Plan Debenture Issue For Power Deal

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario government will launch a $50,000,000 debenture issue in Canada and the United States to finance part of a power expansion program slated for 1953, it was announced Friday night.

Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario hydro commission, said the debentures will pay for part of hydro's $189,000,000 expansion program this year. Some $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 will be earmarked for power development on the St. Lawrence seaway.

The debentures, maturing February, 1975, will be sold by an underwriting group headed by seven firms including Harriman, Ripley and Co., Inc., and Wood Gundy and Co. Inc.

A registration statement has been filed with the United States securities and exchange commission preparatory to sale of the debentures.

Batmen Burglar Secret Exposed

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard put into its Black Museum today the explanation of the long-standing mystery of the batmen burglars — an innocent-looking cane that extended into an 11-foot ladder.

The cane, Scotland Yard said, was the way the batmen burglars carried out seemingly impossible feats of scaling walls of buildings seven storeys high, one floor at a time.

It was found on ex-convict Charlie Brown who was arrested as a suspicious person on swank Park Lane. He was sentenced Friday to 10 years "preventive detention."

The cane is a three-foot burglar affair that opens like a five-section telescope. Bolts fitted quickly into place provide an easy toehold.

The Black Museum is a collection at Scotland Yard headquarters of weapons and instruments used by criminals, and an assortment of objects which have been exhibits in criminal trials.

Havelock Chief Reports Crime Light In Village

HAVELOCK — (ENS)—Chief Constable Robert Wesley Hall of Havelock has released an annual report on police activities in the village for 1952. This shows that the chief received 247 complaints and occurrences.

Eight articles were reported stolen, and none were recovered. One car was reported stolen, and it was recovered.

There was one coroner's inquest during the year, which arose out of a fatal accident. One bicycle was stolen but not recovered. The chief also sold 75 dog licenses.

Twenty-three fires were reported to the local fire department. Although two residences were completely gutted, the remaining 21 fires were all of a minor nature and were easily extinguished by the fire fighting equipment.

Following is a list of offences and convictions: Criminal Code, 8; convictions, 4; dismissed, 4. Liquor Control Act, 13; convictions, 12; dismissed, 1; Highway Traffic Act, 88; convictions, 78; withdrawn, 10, local bylaws, 7; convictions, 7. This makes a total of 116 charges laid.

$929 IN FINES

A total of $929 was collected in fines. Sixty-five dollars of these fines were imposed under the Criminal Code, $150 under the Liquor Control Act, $700 under the Highway Traffic Act and $14 for breaking local bylaws.

The chief also made five arrests, served three summons for other police departments and executed one warrant. Seventeen transients were cared for in the police cells.

Twenty-one motor vehicle accidents were reported and investigated, one of which was a fatality.

Chief Hall believes that speeding on the main street of the town is, and will continue to be, the greatest problem. Speed traps have been set up and many convictions have been made, but most complaints still concern speeding.

As building inspector for the village, the chief issued 18 building permits for a total of $16,000. He is also sanitary inspector, and in this department he reports 98 samples of water taken from wells in the district. These all proved satisfactory at the D.P.H. Laboratory in Peterborough. Periodical checks on all eating places in the village proved these to be clean and sanitary.

The chief is proud of the fact that serious crime is practically non-existent in the community.

Tory MP Derides Grits' 'Contempt'

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP) — John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Lake Centre, Sask. criticized the Liberal administration Friday night for its "contemptuous attitude to the people" arising out of "too long a term in office."

In an address to the Portage-Neepawa Progressive Conservative Association, Mr. Diefenbaker predicted the Currie report on mismanagement in the army works branch would be studied by a Liberal-dominated committee and would result in "the most gigantic whitewash in the history of this country."

He said the Liberals' 18 years in power had made "little men into big men, and big men into little ones."

He charged that Agriculture Minister Gardiner hid facts from the public in connection with last year's foot-and-mouth disease, and also hid documents from Parliament which were produced only when the threat of bringing him before Parliament was made.

Driver of the truck was Lorne Barry, 27, of Weston. He was not injured.

Expect Women Get Several Key Positions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce, former member of the House of Representatives from Connecticut, is being mentioned in informed quarters as a possible ambassador to a Roman Catholic country, perhaps Italy.

In addition four other women are expected to be named to key posts in the incoming administration, according to those close to the situation. The four and their likely appointments are:

Mrs. Charles P. Howard of Reading, Mass., presidential administrative assistant; Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, New York, U. S. delegate to the United Nations succeeding Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Mrs. Zelma George, Cleveland, Negro sociologist, alternate delegate to the United Nations, and Mrs. Anne Wheaton, Washington, D.C., White House press staff.

Nurses In Training

nurses is now done by the subordinate personnel."

Now, nurses give intra-muscular injections, which were formerly given only by doctors.

Miss Robson points out that the increased use of the wonder drugs and antibiotics, such as penicillin and auromycin has provided the impetus for training nurses to give these injections.

The use of these drugs means that nurses must know what action they are likely to have on the patient and what re-action to expect. Nurses have to be trained to watch these specialized treatments which used to be rare, but are now common, and also, the watching of apparatus used in treating patients nowadays requires knowledge of science and physics.

However, Miss Robson points out that while there is an increasing emphasis on education, "you can't learn nursing in the classroom" and emphasizes the importance of the "clinical experience" and "incidental teaching and experience during clinical work on the ward" which constitutes the major part of a nurse's training.

A breakdown of the three-year training period at Civic Hospital for example shows that of the 1,095 days, nursing students spend between 225 and 235 days in the classroom.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, the student nurses have an eight-hour day and six-day week, and at Civic the 44-hour week was introduced this week.

PSYCHIATRIC NURSING

Although special training in psychiatric nursing is still optional, as far as the regulations in regard to training of nurses, students at Civic spend three months at the Ontario Hospital, Whitby, and also three months in Toronto at the Hospital for Sick Children, where they receive special instruction in pediatrics.

Again using the Civic's program as an example, the students are given three weeks holidays each year and are allowed 21 days sick leave each year.

This year, the traditional probationary period and capping exercises were eliminated and the trainees were given their caps and uniforms when they began their courses in September.

Miss Robson explains that it was too long a "period of tension" for the girls. There are 39 in the junior year who finish their preliminary period January 25. These first five months are spent in the classroom, plus a practice period in the wards. For nine days, they will be on the wards, having total care of two patients each, under the instruction of supervisors, before they are actually included in the hospital's nursing service.

With more time to themselves, now that they have shorter hours during their training period, nursing students have more time for recreational activities.

Miss Robson is very proud of the student government the student nurses at Civic have, which supervises their residence life and their leisure time activities. On Monday night, there is Christian fellowship, Tuesday night, there is glee club practice, Wednesday, throughout the week, with the occasional dance and social event basketball practice and so on to highlight the year's events.

There are now 100 nurses-in-training at Civic which includes 39, completing their five-month preliminary period, 28 in the intermediate year, and 30 in the senior year, plus three students from Ross Memorial Hospital, in Lindsay, who are completing their final year at Civic but who will be graduated from Ross Memorial.

At St. Joseph's, there are a total of 63 nursing students and sisters in training, which includes 16 in the junior year, 18 in the intermediate year and 28 seniors.

First Div. Team Knocked Out In U.K. Soccer

LONDON (Reuters)—The English Football Association Cup competition today lived up to its reputation as a great leveller when two First Division teams — Liverpool and Cardiff City — were knocked out by lowly Third Division clubs in the third elimination round.

A second-half goal was enough to give Gateshead a 1-0 home win over Liverpool, while Halifax Town decisively beat the top Welsh club 3-1.

Other favorites had mixed luck. Arsenal, the London glamor team, had an easy 4-0 afternoon over Doncaster Rovers and Manchester United, last year's league champions, eked out a 1-0 win over Third Division Millwall.

Powerful Sunderland was held to a 1-1 draw by little Scunthorpe United. Newcastle United, the FA cup holders, had their match with Swansea Town fogged out after eight minutes of scoreless play.

Wolverhampton Wanderers, who have led the league table during much of the season, fell to high-scoring Preston North End 5-2.

Walthamstow Avenue remained the only amateur team in the cup competition by downing Stockport County, a Third Division pro team, 2-1.

In Scottish League play East Fife remained at the top of the table, even though its match with Hearts was postponed by fog. Second place Hibernians dropped their game with Raith Rovers 4-2. East Fife has 26 points to Hibernians' 25. Rangers are third with 23 points and two games in hand.

In the English League, Third Division, the leadership remained unchanged by today's play. The top teams were engaged in the cup competition but were so far ahead in their league tables that they could not be caught.

For complete scores, see page 12.

On Parole, Youth Robs Farmhouse

LINDSAY (ENS). — An 18-year-old Kitchener youth, Harold Buckingham was sentenced in magistrate's court Thursday to six months in reformatory on a charge of robbing a Downeyville area farmhouse of $5.

Buckingham pleaded guilty to the theft at the home of Martin Herlihey.

OPP Constable George Mountsteven of the Lindsay detachment, told the court that Buckingham had been visiting Dennis Sculley, Downeyville, and was on his way back to Kitchener October 11, when he stopped off at the Herlihey farm.

He was arrested in Kitchener four days ago.

Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan told the court Buckingham had a record of 10 convictions of theft, forgery, and uttering forged cheques within the last two years. He spent 14 months of those two years in reformatory.

At the time of the offence, he was on parole. Five months will be added to his sentence for breaking parole.

Driving Charge Follows Accident

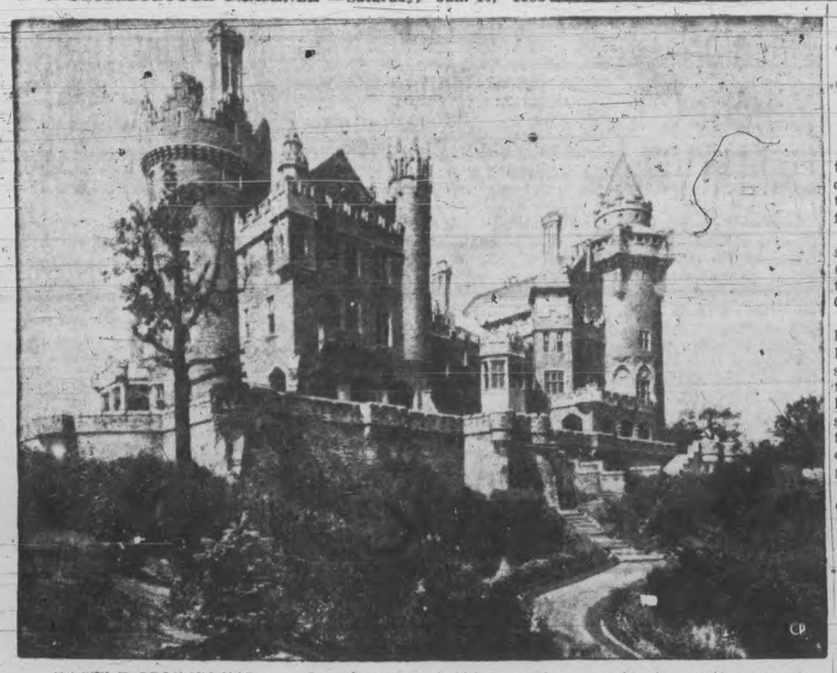
LINDSAY (ENS). — A charge of careless driving has been laid against Thomas Basquino, Haliburton Township, as a result of an accident during rush hour on Wednesday.

About $500 damage was done to his car and a truck, and a hydro pole was snapped off.

Basquino, travelling west on Russell Street, told police he didn't see the William Street stop sign. His car met in collision with the truck and knocked it completely around. The car continued through the intersection and hit a pole on the north-west corner.

Driver of the truck was Gordon Lee of Reaboro. Damage to the Basquino car amounted to about $300 and to the Lee truck about $175.

Constable John Henley investigated.



At Peace Congress City Librarian Fired

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Ray Gardner, fired from her city librarian's position because she overstayed her leave to attend "peace" conferences at Peiping and Vienna, termed the whole thing "a tempest in a teapot" Friday night.

Just back from Europe with her husband, secretary of the leftist British Columbia Peace Council, Mrs. Gardner insisted she made no misrepresentation to the library board when she asked for leave of absence.

The board said she had asked for leave from June to Nov. 1 to go to France. When she turned up in China and her leave period expired, she was sacked.

Mrs. Gardner, who travelled through Russia, China, Poland and Czechoslovakia, said: "I hope to have the opportunity of speaking to the library board and the city council and telling them of the marvellous experiences I have had visiting the countries I did."

CASTLE CRUMBLING? — Casa Loma, internationally-famed tourist attraction in Toronto, is starting to crumble and may have to be demolished, building experts say. The castle was built in 1911-13 in the style of a French mediaeval chateau at a cost of $1,700,000, by the late Sir Henry Pellatt, an investment broker. Toronto building commissioner K. S. Gillies said demolition of the building—taken over by the city for taxes in 1933—should be started at once and carried out over a 10-year period. Repairs, he said, would cost $75,000. Artificial stone used in the structure is crumbling and the walls in the main building have gone out of plumb. A large cable is holding one section together and the stable is in "a terrible state of dilapidation."

Atomic Power Could Zoom Canada Into World Lead

By DON SWAIN

Atomic power may soon revolutionize industry and put this country out in front in the productive, rather than the destructive field of atomic development.

This has been revealed in recent statements by research scientists (a group noted for their reluctance to make predictions) at Canada's Chalk River atomic energy centre.

In an interview early this week, Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Peterborough Utilities Commission who is retiring to devote full time to being president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, said that atomic energy adapted to commercial and industrial use offers a solution to Ontario's growing power needs.

A hint that the day is not far off when the atom will furnish power for industries and lighting homes has since been given by Dr. W. B. Lewis, vice-president of research and development of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., the Crown company in charge of this country's atomic energy program.

Asked to comment on the possibilities of atomic power plants being developed, Dr. Lewis said, "they are certainly attractive."

TOO COSTLY NOW

While at present the cost of an atomic reactor, which is in itself a power plant, is so great that it would not be economical for industrial use, Dr. Lewis believes that before long atomic power will be making important contributions to Canadian industry.

Canada has concentrated on developing peacetime uses for atomic energy, while the United States has devoted its efforts primarily to developing atomic weapons in an effort to keep ahead of Russia in the atomic arms race.

The result is that Canada has progressed a long way in the application of atomic energy to medical and industrial uses.

With the exception of Russia, Dr. Lewis told a group of reporters this week, Canada is probably the only country that is working on the development of atomic power for commercial purposes.

Canada's atomic research scientists are looking forward optimistically to the day when Canadian industries will be powered by atomic power plants which will also generate power for lighting homes and cities.

Even with the building of the St. Lawrence Seaway, which will produce a vast amount of needed power, the increasing number of uses that are being found for electricity and the extent to which it is being used in industries and homes today means that the demand for electric power will likely continue to expand at a greater rate than the supply.

LOGICAL SOLUTION

The most obvious and logical answer, as Mr. Dobbin has suggested, is atomic power.

Today, the number of uses for electricity appear to be "limitless," Mr. Dobbin commented. As an example of how the demand for power has increased in Peterborough, he pointed out that the city's electrical distribution system was designed for providing a half a kilowatt of power to each home. Now, with housewives using everything from mixmasters to electric clothes driers, the system in new housing sections is being planned to provide four kilowatts, or eight times as much.

In some parts of the province particularly the Toronto and Windsor areas, steam power is being used to generate the power to meet the growing need for more electricity. When atomic power plants are developed to the point where they can be used economically, the atom will furnish the power now being supplied by coal to produce electric power.

With its present position of leadership in this field, Canada could well get the jump on the rest of the world in the industrial application of atomic energy.

HAS URANIUM

Canada has considerable deposits of uranium, the key to unlocking the power of the atom, but one big problem that has to be overcome is the discovery of a method of producing uranium cheaply from low grade ore.

However, this difficulty is not causing too much worry among the research scientists who foresee a new era for this country when the atom is harnessed to provide power for homes and industry.

Canada is a country that produces more manufactured goods than its comparatively small population can consume. If our government decides to match the U.S. attitude of not revealing atomic secrets to other powers, and keep the knowledge of how to put the atom to work in industry, Canada might be able to forge ahead of the U.S. and become the greatest trading nation in the world.

BARBED GREETING — Chinese Communist troops left Christmas greetings in the form of propaganda material in the barbed wire defence of forward Canadian positions during the festive season. Smedvick, Winnipeg, and Pte. N. H. Johnston, Glenavon, Sask.

Advice To Raze Casa Loma Bunk—Local Man

Casa Loma, Toronto's famed mediaeval style castle, is falling apart and should be torn down, K. S. Gillies, Toronto building commissioner, recommended on Thursday in a report to council.

Mr. Gillies' report that the castle, which is regarded as Toronto's greatest tourist attraction, is in such a state of disrepair that it would be too costly and impractical to rebuild it, has stirred up a storm of protest from interested citizens.

Charles Carter, former president of the West Toronto Kiwanis Club which operates the castle, who is now retired and living in Havelock, today termed Mr. Gillies' report "bunk."

Warnings that the internationally famous landmark built by eccentric millionaire Sir Henry Pellett was about to collapse have been "the hue and cry of the city building department for years," said Mr. Carter.

"In one place the walls are out of plumb, on the parapet above the roof, but that one place could be straightened up regardless of what the builders say. Some of the ballustrade walls are crumbling but that is because of the material (artificial stone) which Col. Pellett was interested in at the time. The main structure itself is as sound today as when it was put up," declared Mr. Carter.

Mr. Carter is not alone in defending the castle from demolition. George Ellis, building superintendent of the West Toronto Kiwanis Club, said there is nothing wrong with it that from $2,000 to $3,000 a year in maintenance costs would not set right.

The city's building superintendent estimated the cost of repairs at $75,000, but Mr. Ellis is reported as stating this figure is out of line with the facts. Instead of demolishing the structure over a ten-year period, he suggests the city spend $3,000 each year on maintenance during the next decade.

Others who agree with Mr. Carter and Mr. Ellis that the castle is far from falling down are George A. Wilson, president of the Ontario Hotelmen's Association, and T. R. McNally, director of the Toronto Convention and Tourist Association.

"When the castle lay idle for so long before the Casa Loma Hotel Co. took it over, there was talk of demolishing it," Mr. Carter pointed out.

This was before the Kiwanis began operating it (they hand 25 per cent of the revenue over to the city) and at that time, Mr. Carter said, it was found that the structure could not be torn down without blowing it up. The foundations go 30 feet into the ground.

As evidence of the popularity of the castle, Mr. Carter mentioned that 11,000 teen agers were dancing there New Year's Eve.

If the castle is demolished, it will be "a death blow to the West Toronto Kiwanis Club," continued Mr. Carter, "as all the club's income for its philanthropic work is derived from the castle."

However, Mr. Carter does not take the building commissioner's dire warnings very seriously. "I'm awfully sorry to hear it," he told The Examiner today, "but I don't believe anything will come of it, as I've heard it so often before."

Little Snow Falls Peterborough Saves $14,000

The city has been saved more than $14,000 by snow refusing to fall this winter. But the weatherman has made no promise there won't be heavy falls of snow during the rest of the winter.

Total costs of snow removal and sanding in November and December, 1951, amounted to $16,755. Rough figures for the two months just past show $2,260 spent.

Of the $16,755 spent in the last two months of 1951, $1,510 was in contract payments. This is money paid out for sidewalk snow removal whether or not snow fell.

1951 FIGURES

Itemized, these are the 1951 figures: Roads $9,600, contract payments for sidewalk removal $1,510, sidewalk removal beyond contracts $2,778, sanding both walks and roads $2,876.

In November, 1952, all these items cost $350, and $400 is the estimated figure for December. To this must be added about $1,500 for contract payments.

As for snowfall, exactly 40¾ inches more fell in the last two months of 1951 than the last two of 1952. Total snowfall for November and December, 1951, was 45¾ inches. For the two months just past, it was 5 inches.

Not For Fluoridation

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Allan Lamport said Friday he will not support fluoridation of the city's water supply until local medical opinion has been consolidated as to its merits. This is not the case now, he told the board of control.

Hotel Proprietor Freed Because Of Technicality

TORONTO (CP)—A Goderich hotel proprietor, because of a technicality, Friday was ordered released from jail by the court of appeals and a $100 fine was substituted for a three-month sentence that had been imposed by Magistrate Dudley Holmes of Goderich.

Dmytro Pysaniuk, operator of the Park House in Goderich, was acquitted last Oct. 30 on a charge of illegally keeping liquor for sale, but was convicted on a charge of bringing liquor into Huron county "for other than his own use."

Pysaniuk had been convicted by Magistrate Holmes last March 6 of illegally keeping liquor for sale, and because the Oct. 30 conviction was his second offence the magistrate sentenced him to jail.

John J. Robinette, his counsel, argued Friday that the Canada Temperance Act requires that a previous conviction must be recorded in the information on a second charge. This was not done and so the magistrate had exceeded his jurisdiction in imposing a jail sentence.

"I am content to have this conviction amended so as to make it a first offence, with the maximum fine of $100," said Mr. Robinette. "I think this would be a fair and proper disposition of the matter."

Crown counsel W. C. Bowman said he knew "of no valid argument against that contention" and agreed to the substitution of a fine.

The conviction was then amended by Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson to conform with the Canada Temperance Act provisions.

Globe Columnist Completes 50 Years In Writing Job

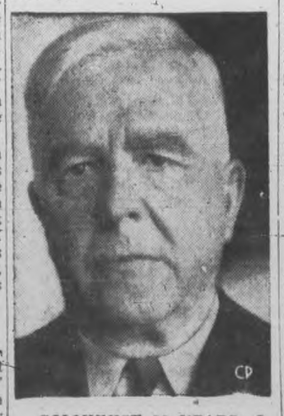
TORONTO (CP)—It may be a philosophical discussion on drinking today, abstracts from a magazine article tomorrow.

Whatever it is that has aroused J. V. McAree's curiosity he has found that it interests his readers, too. They may not like what he writes about the topic under discussion—Wednesdays and Saturdays are set aside to print their views as expressed in letters—but he commands their attention.

The Globe and Mail editorial-page columnist has held his readers for a half-century, ever since he was assigned to write a column for the old Toronto Mail and Empire to "explain things that readers usually missed in the news." That was Jan. 12, 1902. His Fourth Column has been a daily feature since.

It's no longer the fourth column on the editorial page. That was changed some years ago when the Globe and Mail, in line with changing newspaper practice, put a political cartoon in JVM's space. The column now is in columns seven and eight but is still known, though not so headed, as JVM's Fourth Column.

WANTS TO GO ON



Born in 1876, the burly, white-haired columnist says he doesn't want to quit. His "perfect finish" he says, is to be able to write a column "the day before my funeral."

John Verner McAree says he hadn't realized that he had been writing his column for 50 years until a friend pointed it out. He prefers to be called a reporter, for that's what he has wanted to be ever since he left school and made "playing hookey a permanent thing."

His first steps in that direction were writing letters on contentious issues to the Toronto Daily Star—at the request of the Star publisher, the late Joseph Atkinson. Mr. McAree one day would assail dog-haters the next.

His first newspaper job was on the Mail and Empire. In 1937, the paper was amalgamated with the Globe to form the Globe and Mail, now Toronto's only morning newspaper. As a side job to his reportorial assignment, he had to handle a children's column. This flourished and when the paper decided that a background news column should be written, Mr. McAree was nominated.

"It's been going every since," he says. "I've never sought another job. I've never wanted another job."

COLMUNIST 50 YEARS—J. V. McAree, Toronto Globe and Mail editorial columnist, has held readers daily for a half-century with a philosophical discussion on, possibly, drinking one day and abstracts from a magazine article on another. Born in 1876, the burly, white-haired columnist says he doesn't want to quit. His "perfect finish," he says, is to be able to write a column "the day before my funeral." He wrote his first column for the old Toronto Mail and Empire January 12, 1902, as an assignment to "explain things that readers usually missed in the news."

Mr. Bradburn explained that the surplus was partly due to the hiring of a film librarian later in the year than had been planned.

The fines paid during the year totalled $122 and $85 was collected for auditorium rentals.

Truman Budget Fantastic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional finance experts shouted "confusion" and "fantastic" Friday at President Truman's new budget. Some of them promised to cut it at least $10,000,000,000 and also reduce taxes.

Republicans, who will control the federal purse strings in the present Congress, indicated they would ignore Truman's proposal for spending $78,900,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1, and wait to see what President-elect Eisenhower has to say.

They expect Eisenhower to submit a revised, much lower budget sometime after he takes office 11 days hence. One top Republican said substantial reductions already have been outlined by men who will head the big federal departments after Jan. 20.

Both Democrats and Republicans expressed surprise at an estimate of $78,900,000,000 for foreign aid. Promises to slash this were nearly unanimous.

A $10,000,000,000 cut was the goal set by Representative John Taber (Rep. - N. Y.), chairman of the House of Representatives appropriations committee. Taber didn't say where the money would be cut.

Federation Of Agriculture Shies From Controls Seeks "Plan" Of Marketing

Rural Ontario in its delegated representatives to the annual meeting of the Federation of Agriculture made a virtual field day in panel discussion of the question: "Where are we going in the agricultural industry?" at the Thursday morning and afternoon sessions at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto.

The recurring topic of the marketing of agricultural surpluses suggested that the subject might have been paraphrased: Where and how are we going to sell the excess foodstuffs which we can and do produce? And a further twist to that question was: Should we produce surpluses, and why shouldn't we plan our production on the basis of expected demand and consumption.

Many of the delegates indicated that they like the general promise of the quota system of sales and deliveries established in the whole milk industry, and also adopted in the deliveries of wheat by the farmers of the Prairie provinces.

Disposal of surplus Canadian food among the hungry people of the world, mentioned as a commendable humanitarian idea, was another proposal ardently advocated as an expression of Christian idealism. It was apparently dismissed by the plain explanation of essentials of commercial and financial exchange by Dr. E. C. Hope, Ottawa, economist of the Canadian Federation.

The panel, with V. S. Milburn of Toronto, secretary-manager of the Ontario Federation, as chairman, got under way about 10:40 a.m., adjourned at 1 p.m., and was continued from 2:15 p.m. until it overran the time schedule of the program to such an extent that only seven or eight of 39 resolutions were considered.

The panel providing the subject matter, or most of it, was composed of J. C. Broderick, past president, St. Catharines, RR 3; Cecil Belyea, Toronto, economist-fieldman for the Ontario Federation; Dr. Ralph Campbell, head of the Economics Branch, OAC; Dr. E. C. Hope, Ottawa; C. A. Milligan, Napanee, president of the Ontario Federation; Miss Veronica McCormick, economist and secretary of the Dairy Farmers of Canada; and Dr. H. L. Patterson, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

When the panel members arose late in the afternoon, members were so interested and approving that they declared it an unusually successful feature, and asked for its inclusion on some subject of exceptional concern to farmers at their next meetings.

BALK AT CONTROLS

Where agriculture of this province is going is certainly not headlong into regimentation, with surrender of their cherished freedom of action and their individualism. But, it was apparent from the discussion that they were willing to consider seriously some form of compromise in the relationship and adjustment of production and marketing. They manifested aversion to the word control, for which they preferred the general idea and approach of planning.

R. A. Stewart, Almonte, a past president, proposed redraft of a resolution dealing with planned production. Its text was: That the OFA support a policy of market extension outside Canada by government services, or failing this, that the government should assist agriculture by reliable statistics to produce only sufficient for the home market in order to avoid over-production and market collapse.

"FOR KNOWN MARKET"

Mr. Stewart stressed two points which he said should be underlined in the ultimate resolution. The government should assist our farm organizations and marketing boards in the development of reliable statistics, and the other point was in the designated purpose of such aid: "So that we may plan to produce food only sufficient for known markets."

That means reliable statistical information to be made available to farm organizations as a means of avoiding embarrassing overproduction. Discussion of the main body of the resolutions had to be laid over until today, concluding the convention.

The subject of production, marketing surpluses and other related aspects of rural economy was extended from the provincial to the national level in another resolution which was moved by George Shoniker of Norwood.

Its core was: "The OFA instructs the incoming executive to continue the study of production programs, marketing programs, means of seeking export markets for surplus products, the implementation of conservation programs, price support—or possibly forward pricing, less costly methods of production, better marketing of our products with less waste in processing and distributing methods, and finally, the OFA would ask the incoming executive to seek the government help necessary to set up an efficient and intelligent production and distribution program, either, through support prices, opening of markets or other necessary legislation."

NATIONAL COMMITTEE

That was the original phrasing, but it was amplified in recognition of attitudes and policies of the other provinces, as follows: "and further we recommend that a national committee be set up to study the whole problem agricultural policy), to report at next year's meeting, having in mind a national policy to be recommended by the Canadian Federation which would deal with these matters."

One comment was to the effect that a provincial policy, relating production and marketing, could not stand up alone, and in the case of most Ontario products would lack national unity of accord and action. That invokes the agency of the Canadian Federation. It was said the whole question was so important and broad that considerable time would be required to work it out with prospect of effectual accomplishment.

DEMAND FOR ACTION

Running through the long discussion was an urging from the floor for action. At one stage of the discussion, Dr. Hope, Federation economist, was talking about floor prices, surpluses, and what course action might take.

"What do you mean by surplus? When is a commodity in surplus? If its price falls below the cost of production.

The automatic result is a surplus. Somehow or another we have to adjust production."

UNPREDICTABLE ELEMENTS

Nature itself could be an affecting factor, Dr. Hope said, recalling the favorable weather for the western grain crop. The five-year crop ending in 1952 has never been exceeded by the crop of any other five-year period, but that was not brought about by the decision of farmers. He mentioned also the conceivable effect of a decline in employment as ultimately reacting on the market of farm products.

"When we talk about floor prices, we never say anything about the disposal of a surplus. We leave the problem of disposal to a government board. I don't think our people have yet done enough hard thinking about price support: Do we want a body of experts to say what the floor price will be six months ahead? The government takes a surplus now and holds it, but they don't like to hold it. They do everything they can to get that surplus back into trade. At the same time they don't want to undermine the regular market."

Dr. Hope emphasized the question of "how far are we to go in surplus price support?"

NOTE OF IMPATIENCE

Dan Stauffer said with a note of impatience that the economists "should tell us what we have to do to get this job done." He softened his tone with the remark that "this is a bit exaggerated, but we'll remain in this mess till doomsday. If we make mistakes, well, let's make them. Let's do something."

Dr. Hope commented that there was an international factor in the disposal of surpluses. The organization of an international food board had not advanced far. The U.S. government and even Britain had their own interests. "Governments hesitate about embarking on programs of that nature."

"Are we prepared to do some regimenting of our own, and how much?" Mr. Milburn interjected. He referred to the fluid milk marketing quotas, and said some farmers protested when quotas were accepted that their freedom was being taken away.

TO REGULATE OURSELVES

"If there were no quotas, whole milk price would be more like the price of concentrated milk. Are we prepared to forget the so-called freedom we enjoy, to regulate ourselves and plan a definite program. Or are we to go on in our lackadaisical way," Mr. Milburn said.

Several speakers rejected the idea that they wanted any expert to "do my thinking." One of the delegates said: "Mr. Hope doesn't know my problems, and I don't feel that I am paying him for doing my thinking. I think we have to start with our own thinking in our own circumstances and then carry it out into groups and so on up."

Those are only a few quotations reflecting the shifts and spirit of the panel discussion. Repeatedly it turned to the hog producers' problems, and generally along the way there was recurernt demand for some kind of practical deal that would intervene between agricultural productions and its effect in surplus on the market and specifically on adequate price.

TWIN HOLSTEIN CALVES are the pride and joy of Melford A. Steenburgh's farm along R.R. 6, Peterborough, near Downer's Corners. Identical to a small, white moon-shaped patch on their foreheads, the calves were born about two weeks ago and are the first that Mr. Steenburgh has owned in 20 years of farming. The calves are now family pets, sharing top billing with the family cat and dog. Mr. Steenburgh's daughter, Mrs. Velma Lee, 229 King St. (above), holds the coal-black calves.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Great Changes Predicted For Pulp Trade

TORONTO (CP)—A time when wood will be put into a pipe at one end and pulp taken out at the other—all continuously and at a relatively high speed—was predicted Friday by Dr. Lincoln R. Thiesmeyer, president of the Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada.

Dr. Thiesmeyer told a service club millions of dollars worth of equipment now used in the industry is obsolete. It might take some time for existing mills to change to improved models, but new mills built a few years from now will be able to take full advantage of research.

He said future machines will cost less to build, use less chemical, steam and power and get more product from the same amount of wood. In addition, pulp firms would be able to cook more wood in a day in much smaller equipment under better-controlled conditions.

ANOTHER ANGLE

"We even think they will be able to cook one type and grade of pulp one day and a different type and grade the next," Dr. Thiesmeyer said. "Therefore they will not need to build up larger inventories of any one grade.

"We can foresee a complete change in the appearance, the capital cost, the operating practices, the wood requirements and the profits of a chemical pulp mill."

Researchers were already working on these developments, but how soon they came into being depended on the amount of money put behind the work. "If our industry really went after it, I think the new mill I described could be operating in less than 10 years."

Dr. Thiesmeyer said the changes he had cited will revolutionize the practice of forestry.

Ontario Cheese Association To Change Type Of Product

Canadians who like their cheese with a nip in it, and the flavor of maturity, may be dismayed by the news from Ontario Cheese Producers Association meeting in Toronto Thursday that they intend to ask the Canadian government to set up standards for a new type.

Two factors are influencing this trend. The Englishman, annually buying millions of pounds of Canadian cheese in other years, likes his cheese hard and with a bite in it. And, that was what the Canadian factories made and sold to him. But Britain is short of dollars. A report today mentions a mere $1,500,000 made available for purchases in this country in 1953.

HOME MARKET

So, the Ontario cheese producers are looking to the home market for new consumers and customers, and the domestic table has grown in recent years more accusomed to a soft type of cheese.

Hector Arnold of Campbellford was re-elected president of the association. Attending from Peterborough were Fred Crowe of Dummer, Chester Hamilton and Ralph Garbutt.

At the Ontario Whole Milk Producers' meeting, president Gordon Greer predicted that whole milk prices would be unchanged this year.

Everett M. Biggs, Ontario's dairy commissioner, advocated a marketing board, embracing all Ontario milk producers which would control prices and direct milk into all dairy products. He said too much milk was going into the wrong channels.

Harvard Bamforth Elected President Of Jersey Club

Harvard Bamforth was elected president of the District Jersey Club at the club's annual meeting at the Derek House Thursday.

Other officers elected were: Clarence Johnston, vice-president; Roger Hanbidge, secretary-treasurer; Bruce Sargent, public relations; and Howard Bent, Harry Gainer, William Bell, Keith Larmer and Don Robinson, directors. Harry Young was named honorary president.

Guest speaker at the luncheon meeting was Arden Baker, of Avondale Farms, Brockville. His topic was Dairy Management.

TEST SOIL

Emphasizing that an all-round dairy farmer should be both a good farmer and a good herdsman, Mr. Baker explained that soil conservation played a large part in the economical operation of a dairy herd. The dairy farmer, he said, should have his soil tested and feed it if the necessary minerals were lacking and also advocated crop rotation and improved long-term pastures.

Using Avondale Farms as an example, Mr. Baker said that between 150 and 160 cattle had been kept on 200 acres of tillable land for the past 15 years.

Fifteen years ago, 90 per cent of rough grains used for feeding were bought, along with 50 per cent of the hay used and practically all the straw for bedding. Last year, Mr. Baker said 10 per cent of rough grains along with some concentrates had to be purchased and no hay or straw. Not over 30 acres were required for pasturing 50 milk cows. This, he said, showed the results of practical, economical farming.

ATTEND MEETINGS

He emphasized the importance of dairy men attending crop improvement meetings and conventions and also dairy meetings and conventions. He said the key to building a profitable herd was in using the best sires, careful culling of milk cows, plus knowledge an dpractice of efficient feeding.

Herb Butcher, fieldman for the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, also spoke briefly and presented a Jersey calf blanket to Don Sargent for completing the achievement in the Peterborough Calf Club.

G. A. Brethen, president of the Norwood Fair Board, addressed the meeting and invited the club to hold their annual parish show in connection with the Norwood Fair in October.

Mr. Bamforth, the new president, was also appointed representative to the Ontario Jersey Breeders' Association and Mr. Young was appointed as the club's representative to the Millbrook Agricultural Society. Clarence Johnston was named as the club's appointee to the Federation of Agriculture.

6 MEN HURT IN QUAKER EXPLOSION

Hundreds of Homes Without Power In Bad Ice Storm

TORONTO (CP)—The worst ice storm in 10 years knifed through southwestern Ontario during the weekend, crippling power and communications and causing thousands of dollars worth of damage. Hundreds of homes were without light and heat, and roads were glazed as police and highway crews used extra manpower in an effort to cut traffic accident tolls. Three traffic deaths were attributed to the weather and another man died while working with a department of highways sanding detail.

The storm cut along a 50-mile belt in central and eastern sections Guelph and Kitchener areas appeared to be the worst hit.

The storm moved in from Windsor Saturday and crossed to Ottawa and Montreal Sunday. London, Hamilton and Toronto escaped the worst effects.

FORECAST COLD SPELL

A cold spell was forecast for Ontario today, with temperatures in the 20s in the south and near zero in northern areas and some snow today or tonight.

The storm centred over Guelph and its rural surroundings. Two-thirds of the homes in the rural hydro area were without power and 10 additional hydro crews were brought in to help the normal staff of five.

Tree branches breaking under the weight of ice were blamed for much of the damage. First hydro interruptions began Saturday evening. Temporary repairs were made during the night and all day Sunday. Guelph radio station CJOY was off the air for two one-hour periods. It may take two or three weeks to make complete repairs in the area.

Long distance telephone lines from Guelph to Fergus, Elora, Erin, Arthur and Orangeville were out of order.

Many residents in the Blair, Hespeler and Williamsburg area were without heat Saturday night and all Sunday. Families ate by candlelight and kerosene lamps and farmers resorted to hand milking during the power break

Breaks in the telephone services prevented some persons from reporting hydro failures. Sunday night, hydro chairman Robert Saunders reported that 80 per cent of service had been restored in the Guelph and Kitchener districts.

Otonabee Man Rescued In Burning House

An Otonabee carpenter late Saturday afternoon was snatched from a fiery death by a neighbor and a passing motorist as he lay unconscious on his kitchen floor while his home burned.

He is believed to have been overcome by smoke and heat and passed out before he could get through the threshold into the fresh air.

The fire victim was Claude Langford, 40, of RR 6, Otonabee, who owes his life to Hilliard Berridge of Lang and a neighbor, Malcolm Draper, who pulled him to safety.

His wooden frame house, where he lives with his wife, Grace, was burned down to its concrete foundations. Only a washing machine was saved and loss is tentatively estimated at $4,500.

Cause of the fire is not known. After an afternoon in Peterborough, Langford arrived home around five o'clock. He lit the coal stove in the kitchen and lay down for a rest on the couch. Somehow the blaze started while he was dozing.

"The first thing I knew the house was filled with smoke," Langford lated told OPP Constables Gordon Gray and Tom Armitage. "I got up and tried to get out the kitchen door but I guess I didn't make it."

DOG BESIDE HIM

When the rescuers arrived they found his pet terrier dog beside him, covered with blood but unwilling to leave his master. It is believed the little dog was cut

Wrong Bombing Kills 14 Soldiers

TOKYO (AP) — The U. S. Air Force disclosed Sunday night that 14 U. S. soldiers were killed and nine injured in an accidental bombing-strafing of an artillery unit nine miles behind the western Korean front Thursday. It indicated that U. S. Marine Corps Panther jets were involved.

An announcement from Far East Air Force headquarters in Tokyo broke a four-day official silence by stating that an unexploded bomb found at the scene bore U. S. Navy markings. The navy usually supplies the Marines with munitions.

In Korea the Marine 1st air wing said it would make no statement until it had conducted its own investigation.

Asked if Marine planes were in the air near the scene southwest of Chorwon at the time, a Marine spokesman said tersely:

"The air force says there were."

Eyewitnesses Tell Story

Say Room Filled With Fire Immediately After Blast

By DON SWAIN

For three minutes today it was a usual Monday morning in the Quaker Oats feed mill, then at 8:03 disaster struck.

"There was a loud bang, then a flash of fire," said Harold J. Temple, 28, from his bed in St. Joseph's Hospital. He is one of the six men injured in the blast which blew out windows on the west side of the eight storey building, caused damage on all floors down to the third floor, and put the flour and the feed departments out of action.

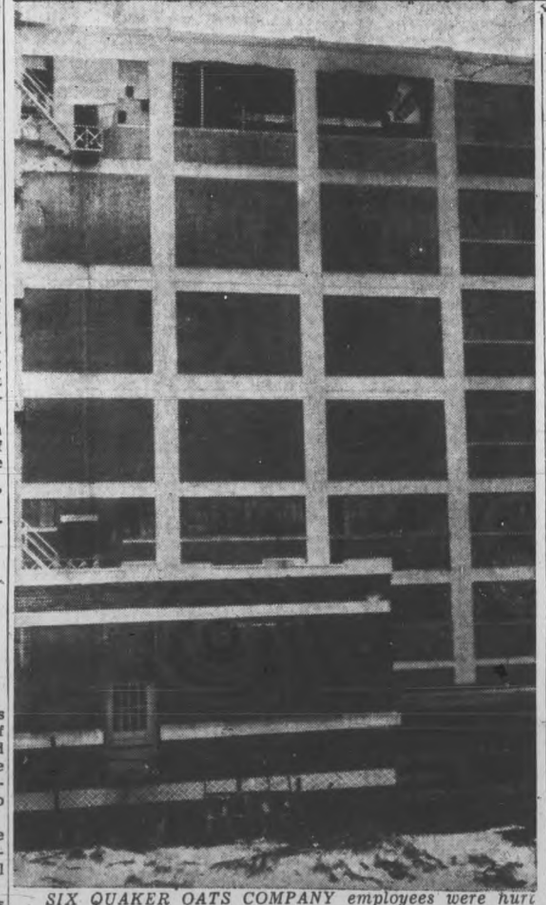
Angus Ferguson, who received second degree burns all over his body had just passed, wheeling a load of feed toward the centre of the room.

Among the injured were Robert Grant and Hilliard Davis, two foremen who were beginning their daily reports along the west wall, near the windows which were blown out by the force of the blast. Both men were lifted off their feet by the concussion and landed heavily on the concrete floor.

FLASH FIRE

"Some of the machinery was rolling, then there was a flash of fire. The room was all red and fill with fire." Temple said he then dashed for the door, several of the others who were also injured followed him.

His left eye was injured as he left the feed room, and he believes he struck it on the metal door as he was leaving.



The heavy metal door was blasted off its track by the explosion and it is possible Temple may have been injured by the falling door, or some other piece of debris as he dashed for the exit.

BLAST IN CENTRE OF ROOM

"The explosion seemed to come from the centre of the room where the six were injured. As soon as I heard it I headed for the door," Temple told the Examiner. Like Francis Fife, another of the injured men, he has no idea what caused it.

SAY ROOM FILLED (Continued on Page 2)

SIX QUAKER OATS COMPANY employees were hurt early today when a flash explosion rocked the eighth floor feed mill. The blast damaged machinery and broke windows, throwing the frames into the court house garden. The explosion, which occurred at 8:03 a.m. when the power was being switched on, did most damage (top photo) on the seventh and eighth floors. The large windows (middle photo) were blasted out, leaving gaping holes which were covered later by plywood. The outside view (lower photo) shows the windows blown out and one frame leaning against the fence about 200 feet away. Damage was set at about $35,000 and extended over five floors. Most seriously hurt of the six men was Angus Ferguson, Driscoll Terrace. The City fire department was not called to help fight the fire, but Chief Ralph Leonard later visited the scene. The company had its own fire-fighting equipment.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

New Earthquake Shown On Graphs

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Sunday earthquake which announced its birth with fanfare on seismographs thousands of miles part in Canada and the United States apparently caused no damage.

The Dominion astrophysical observatory in Saanich, B.C. described the quake as "moderately strong" and estimated it originated slightly more than 1,000 miles northwest of Victoria in the Gulf of Alaska.

But the Alaska communications system and the U.S. coast guard both said they had received no reports of its shock being felt in Alaska. They said that if it was a deep marine quake and this appeared likely, it probably would have passed unnoticed at most land points.

The last serious quake off the north Pacific coast in terms of damage was in 1949. That earthquake struck especially hard at the Queen Charlotte Islands, starting slides, toppling chimneys and dislodging oil tanks. A week of dim-tremor.

Reuther Sounds Wage Warning

DETROIT (AP)—Walter Reuther said Saturday that auto industry peace will be threatened unless the predominant five-year labor contracts — only half run out — are brought abreast of inflationary trends within the next two months.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union (CIO) ,held his first Detroit press conference since he was elected president of the CIO itself last month at Atlantic City, N. J.

He made it plain that he expects the big auto companies to come to agreement with his union before March 1 as to how the new and revised government price index will be used in figuring the wages of more than 1,000,000 auto workers. That is the date for the next adjustment of wages under the bureau of labor statistics index.

But Reuther went beyond that. He said the union's recent demands for revisions of all major contracts are "part of same package."

Youth 21, Dies In Gunfight, Officer Wounded

MONTREAL (CP) — A bloody gunfight in suburban Tetreaultville early Sunday left a 21-year-old youth dead and a police officer severely wounded.

Jean-Guy Allain of Montreal died in hospital from a bullet wound. Constable Paul-Emile Lessard was in hospital suffering a bullet wound in the mouth.

Here is the police account of the incident:.

Allain and two juvenile companions were seen on the grounds of the Mont St. Antoine reform school smashing windows and carrying objects believed to have been stolen from the school.

Constable Lessard and constable Jean Leclerc called the three over and questioned them. When their answers proved unsatisfactory they were put in the back seat of the police car to be taken to the station in Tetreaultville. The officers sat in front with constable Leclerc driving.

PULLS OUT GUN

While the car was in motion, Allain pulled a gun and shot constable Lessard in the mouth. The two officers jumped from the still-moving car, which came to a stop against a telephone pole As the three youths leaped out, police opened fire. Allain was struck by a bullet between the eyes as he turned to fire at the police.

While constable Lessard went to a nearby house for medical aid, his companion summoned reinforcements and then, in a brief search, captured one of the juveniles nearby. The other was picked up at his home, on information given by the first juvenile.

Police said they believe the trio to be former inmates of the reform school.

40 Forced To Flee Fires

TORONTO (CP)—More than 40 persons, most of them in pyjamas and housecoats, were forced to the street in 20-degree weather by fire in three separate dwellings Sunday night. Seventeen were children.

Two of the fires were in apartment blocks in west central Toronto. Both buildings are owned by the same man. Firemen said at one dwelling 24 persons, including 11 children, dashed down the stairs through thick smoke to safety.

A third fire began in a Claremont street house in the same district when an overheated stove burned joists.

Motorcyclists Pile Up 3 Killed, 7 Injured

LONDON (AP) — Twelve teenaged motorcyclists roaring home from a dance in single file piled up in dense fog early Sunday, killing three riders and seriously injuring seven.

Two of the dead and some of the injured were girls riding on the rear of the machines.

The pile-up near London's Croydon airport was the worst accident reported in the pea-soup fog which closed in on most of Britain Saturday.

Transportation in London and other areas was virtually paralyzed.

$35,000 Damage To Machinery On Five Floors

A spark is believed to have touched off an explosion and flash fire in the dust-charged air of the Quaker Oats feed mill today in which six men were injured. Damage was estimated at $35,000 at noon today. Angus Ferguson, 64, of 540 Driscoll Terrace is in critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with second degree burns all over his body. He is the most seriously injured of the six who were in a part of the feed mill on the top floor of the eight-storey plant. Clarence Fairbairn, 54, RR 4, Peterborough, was seriously burned about the face and hands.

The other injured are: foreman Robert Grant, 40, 301 Juliet Road and Hilliard J. Davis, 41, 261 Townsend St., whose hands were burned; Francis Fife, 32, 463 Parnell St., and Harold J. Temple, 28, 179 Bethune St., who injured his left eye in escaping from the room where the six men were injured.

Source of the explosion and what caused it are still a mystery to company officials.

Machinery on five floors of the feed mill was damaged by the force of the blast and also by water from the sprinkler system which is still dripping through the floor of the building.

OUT OF OPERATION.

The exact extent to which much of the machinery has been damaged is difficult to determine. Both the flour and feed departments will be out of operation for about ten days, but Vice President Lou Ingram said that most of the men who work in these departments will be engaged in cleaning up the debris.

Heavy doors of 12 bins on the fifth and seventh floors were ripped off and machines in the flour mill, the next department north of the feed mill were turned half way around by the force of the blast.

Heaviest Assault By Reds In '53 Driven Back

SEOUL (AP) — The heaviest Communist assault of the new year smashed against the lines of a newly-activated South Korean division today. The Allied soldiers held their ground, killed an estimated 213 of the 800 Reds, and forced the Communists into retreat after three hours of close-quarter fighting.

Battles flared with renewed bitterness all along the frozen Korean front. Altogether the Reds hurled nearly 1,500 men into the fighting in bloody but futile attempts to dent the United Nations lines in pre-dawn darkness.

The United States 8th army said the main Red blow fell against the Republic of Korea 12 division on the mountainous eastern front. Gen. James A. Van Fleet announced the activation of the 12th and 15th RoK division only two months ago. This was the first indication that either had seen combat.

bombers roared north in follow-up raids on the vital Sinanju supply centre deep in northwest Korea. Ten U. S. B-29s dropped 10,000 tons of high explosives on rail yards there Sunday night.

Family Of 5 Left Homeless

TRENTON (CP)—The Todd family had their third stroke of bad luck in six weeks Saturday when grease on an electric stove caught fire and flames burned their two-storey house.

The Trenton fire department worked in freezing rain to bring the blaze under control Mr. and Mrs. William Todd and their three children, William, Jr., 18, Rose Marie, 11, and Maurice Wayne, 6, escaped unhurt.

Six weeks ago, Mr. Todd was injured when he fell off a pile of railroad ties and a month ago William, Jr., broke two bones in his leg.

Pope Appoints Canadian As Cardinal

ROME (AP) — Paul Emile Cardinal Leger today received the white-enveloped biglietto formally notifying him of his elevation to princedom in the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pope named him a prince of the church along with 23 others in a secret consistory in the Vatican Palace.

Among members of the College of Cardinals who assented to the Pope's slate of nominations was James Cardinal McGuigan, archbishop of Toronto. Canada now has two cardinals in the full 70-member college.

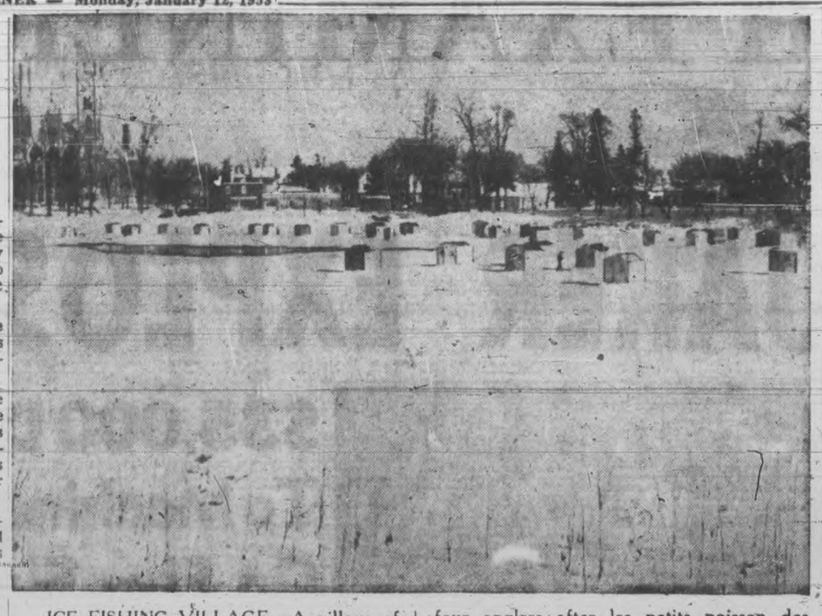
Cardinal Leger, 48, is the second-youngest of the new cardinals and the youngest of the 14 non-Italians among them.

BORN IN QUEBEC

He was born at Valleyfield, Que., April 26, 1904. He became a priest at the age of 25. The Pontiff named him Archbishop of Montreal March 25, 1950. He was consecrated on his birthday in that year.

A member of the Sulpician society of priests, he has been in Rome since last November, staying at the Canadian college. The college, which has 43 students, is headed by the Rev. Emile Boucher.

Surrounded by Canadian priests, students, friends and Vatican officials, the new cardinal sat on a red-upholstered, gold-framed armchair on the far side of the hall, opposite the entrance.



The wall behind him was hung with a purple damask curtain, surmounted by a gold-framed painting of the Pope.

His chair, placed on a purple carpet with a cross pattern, is flanked by two white marble busts on fluted marble columns representing the Apostles Peter and Paul.

The busts were presented to the college in 1913 by Archbishop P. Bruchesi of Montreal and Bishop H. Bruneault of Nicolet, ue.

Papal messengers handed the documents of nomination to the new cardinal.

In the afternoon, he was to receive the congratulations of the old cardinals and the diplomats accredited to the Holy See in the same hall.

ICE FISHING VILLAGE—A village of gaily-decorated cabins has sprung up on the frozen surface of Ste. Anne River, near Ste. Anne de la Perade, Que., for the tommy cod fishing. The little fish, known also as frostfish, poulamon and microgadus, are considered a delicacy and are fished for commercially as well as for the sort.

while trying to jump through a window.

He returned to the side of his master and was apparently trying to rouse him or pull him to safety because Langford's shirt was covered with blood.

First one on the scene was Berridge who had been driving along the 6th line with his wife and sister. Luckily for Langford he had engine trouble with his car and was stopped near the Langford home when he saw the fire.

FINDS LANGFORD

"I went in the front door and into the kitchen," Berridge said. "The kitchen door was open and Langford was lying there unconscious."

By this time the Draper family, who live more than 100 yards south of the Langfords, had seen the blaze and Mr. Draper rushed to the scene and helped Berridge drag the unconscious man to safety.

Langford was wrapped in blankets and later moved to Civic Ambulance. He was attended by Dr. Wilson Ford of Keene.

By the time Langford as rescued the house was a mass of flames. The only article of value that was saved as a washing machine. A new refrigerator and the rest of the furnishings and valuables in the house were destroyed.

A chicken pen and a storage shed just west of the house were untouched by the flames.

The ambulance carrying Langford to hospital had considerable difficulty travelling along the 6th line because of the slippery condition of the road.

Langford was released from hospital Sunday afternoon.

Currie Report On Top Of List

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons, adjourned since Dec. 17 for the Christmas recess, returns to work today with disclosures of the Currie report on defence establishments still the top controversial issue.

At the adjournment, members were discussing the report, prepared by George A. Currie, head of a Montreal accountants firm and a former deputy minister of national defence.

The report, reviewing thefts from the army camp at Petawawa, Ont., said there was a breakdown in administration of the works services branch of the army. It criticized the lack of security at defence establishments.

The first item of business for Tuesday is a government motion providing for re-establishment of the defence expenditures committee. The motion will open the way for debate on all defence activities.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has said the Currie report will be referred to the committee.

Canadian Brigade Morale Excellent Brig. Walsh Says

HALIFAX (CP)—The former commander of the 27th infantry brigade in Germany said Sunday Canada's contribution to West European defence is "fully trained and would be a very effective fighting force in any conflict." Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, arriving here after relinquishing his command to Brig. E. J. Pangman, said morale of the brigade is "excellent" and the force is rated by Germans as "the best of the small armies they have seen."

The 44-year-old Brantford native, bound for Ottawa and new duties as director general of military training, faced a barrage of questions involving morale at a press conference aboard the Cunard liner Franconia.

DOING INJUSTICE

He charged some people were doing the troops "in injustice" by questioning their morale and urged reporters to "give the men a break in your press stories. . . outstanding troops don't get that way unless they have very high morale."

Brig. Walsh gave two reasons for the lack of weekend passes, a major gripe of two brigade contingents arriving here last month on rotation.

The brigade was an operational one and remained on 12-hour call for any emergency. Another factor was the "interest of the troops themselves."

Forty-eight hours was not long enough to do much sight-seeing in Europe. Instead of short passes, all ranks were given 14 days leave and two days travelling time three times a year—a total of 46 days away from their units.

Prices Turn Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Prices turned mixed in active early afternoon stock market trading today.

Base metals gained steadily to add more than half a point on the exchange's index. Industrials also showed more gains than losses although weakness in a few issues depressed the index. Similarly, western oils were weak in spite of an index gain of almost a point.

Senior golds and junior producers slipped, led by a drop of $1 in Dome. Donalda added pennies in active trading. Some prospects gained in active trading, including Bobjo, Kelore and Roche. Holding companies gained.

Higher - priced base metals slipped in spite of a gain of almost $1 in actively-traded Falconbridge. Uranium issues moved actively; New Larder U traded 232,000 shares to gain 16 cents; Chimo, 116,000, for 15 cents; Gunnar, 108,000 for 33 cents and Anacon slipped.

Western oil losses were led by Central Explorers, Stanwell and Dragon while Calmont, Anglo-Canadian and Gridoil gained.

The eastern front fighting flared northeast of the Punchbowl. North Korean Reds struck through a snowstorm with 650 men in one attack and 150 more in another assault just to the east. Both Red forces were driven back.

At about the same time a heavy Chinese Red attack hit Capitol hill on the east central front. Two full Chinese companies — nearly 400 men — fought for nearly an hour before falling back. The Chinese lost an estimated 45 men.

The Chinese also hurled a two-pronged attack by 200 men against an Allied outpost just south of Old Baldy on the western front. They struck from two directions behind a curtain of mortar and artillery fire but were repulsed.

The UN sent two small raiding parties into the Red lines on the western front. One traded fire with the Communists for 30 minutes before withdrawing.

Acheson Asks Churchill For Leadership

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times says today that State Secretary Dean Acheson has made a personal appeal to Prime Minister Churchill to provide more leadership in Western Europe and the Middle East.

The Times, in a story from Washington by James Reston, says it is understood that the plea was made at a private dinner at the British embassy there last Thursday night.

Reston said others present, in addition to Churchill and Acheson, were Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who will be undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration; Averell Harriman, mutual security administrator, and other U.S. and British officials.

ACHESON'S THESIS

The Times says Acheson's "thesis" was reported as follows:

"By great exertions in the last 12 years unusual progress had been made toward greater unity in Western Europe and the Middle East.

"At the present moment, however, the efforts to create a unified European army and the beginings of a political union in Western Europe had slipped back.

"Also, at the present moment, there seemed at last to be a chance to reach agreements with the Iranian and Egyptian governments.

"These situations required bold, immediate and generous leadership, however, from both the U.S. and Britain, and Britain's leadership was especially important in the coming months, which would necessarily be a period of transition in the U.S.

"Accordingly, Mr. Acheson said that in his judgment this was a historic moment when bold decisions might produce historic results and he urged the Prime Minister to do whatever he could do to seize the opportunity."

WINDOWS BLOWN OUT

Windows on the west side of the building were blown out and one metal frame landed over the fence along a steep bank between the Quaker plant and the County Court House.

Tons of feed ingredients which poured out of the huge bins when the doors were blown off were shovelled around the floors to soak up some of the water. Windows on three floors of the flour mill were also broken by the explosion.

The sprinkler system in the plant and the company's own fire brigade brought the fire under control and Mr. Ingram praised their efforts and also commended Miss Alma Dobbin, the plant nurse who gave the injured emergency treatment in the plant hospital.

Last serious fire at the Quaker was Dec. 11, 1916 in which 17 died.

The Peterborough Fire Brigade history said "So intense was the heat that the building constructed to be absolutely fireproof succumbed.

"An explosion in the cleaning and rolls room of the building, east side, blew out the wall and communicated the fire to other parts of the extensive area of this section of the plant. The explosion was caused by the mill dust catching fire from some some ignition in the rolls. In length of burning, and excessive and prolonged heat, the fire effect was terrific.

16 BURIED IN RUINS

"Sixteen persons were buried in the ruins and very many of these suffered instant death. Eighteen others were more or less seriously injured, while scores had narrow escapes. The county buildings, at some distance, took fire and suffered serious damage to roof and contents. A large section of the business part of the city was in great danger, and streets and roofs were patrolled for 36 hours.

"At noon time, and while the fire was at its height, 21 lines of hose were laid and poured streams on the flames.

"The damage to plant and stock was estimated at over $2,250,000. Serious amounts for assistance to those injured, and families left fatherless, added to the above amount."

JUST STARTED UP

The plant was just starting up this morning when the explosion occurred, and Mr. Ingram said there should not have been much of an accumulation of dust.

"It must have been a spark from a motor starter," he said.

Company officials are interviewing all workers in the feed mill in the hope of finding out just how the explosion occurred.

Mr. Ingram said that the company has received offers of assistance from local milling concerns and also from several of the company's competitors from as far west as Winnipeg to assist them in supplying their customers until the damaged departments can get back into production.

Ferguson and Temple were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by Comstock's ambulance.

Juin Suggests Army Revision

PARIS (Reuters)—France's first soldier, Marshal Alphonse Juin, is urging revision of the controversial European army treaty under a plan which, it is estimated here, could be negotiated within two months.

American fears that revision would delay the entry of West German troops into the Western defence setup are therefore regarded in responsible French quarters as unfounded.

Intense diplomatic activity involving Paris, Bonn and London on the European army question started during the weekend with important talks here among Foreign Minister Georges Bidault; the French high commissioner in Germany, Andre Francois Poncet, and the French ambassador in London, Rene Massigli.

Revision of the European army treaty, signed last May but not yet ratified, was promised by the new premier, Rene Mayer, last week. France is fearful of German domination of the international army, which is to include forces from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Hundreds Of Homes

Transmission line breaks in Dundalk and Shelburne areas blacked out many communities, extending south from Owen Sound to Orangeville, Arthur and Mount Forest.

A freezing rain turned streets and roads in the Ottawa district into sheets of ice and caused a number of accidents during the weekend but there were no fatalities.

Close to 30 traffic crashes occurred in Ottawa and nearby Hull, Que., Saturday night and Sunday but no one was seriously hurt.

Provincial police radio systems were cut by the power break for several hours Saturday. After 5 p. m. Saturday, Trans-Canada Air Lines cancelled flights from Malton except one to Tampa, Fla.

Ice coatings up to four inches thick formed on hydro wires less than a half-inch in diameter. The tons of ice pulled wires and poles to the ground.

Farm areas probably suffered less from hydro failures than towns and cities. Electric stoves and oil burners were made useless in the blackouts, while coal stoves and coal-oil lamps in the rural districts kept farm families warm and eating.

Much of the area south from Owen Sound to Orangeville, Arthur and Mount Forest was blacked out by transmission line breaks. In one seven-mile stretch of No. 10 highway north of Orangeville, 60 telephone poles toppled.

Provincial constable Cleave Wilson, driving south from Fergus Sunday night, escaped electrocution when a hydro wire broke in front of his vehicle. He braked his car quickly.

Hundreds of school children were forced to remain at home today as dozens of rural schools are without power and heat.

125 EXTRA MEN

At Kitchener with the aid of about 125 outside workers, telephone and hydro crews are cleaning up after the worst storm in years, which put about 3,000 phones out of order and cut hydro in many rural centres.

Telephone officials estimate that it may take two weeks to finish the job of restoring all services in the Kitchener-Waterloo-Guelph in the district.

Twenty-five men from London are aiding the 225 local workers busy at repairing telephone lines in the district. Another 100 extra workers were sent from London, Dorchester, Brantford, Stratford and several other points to assist local rural hydro crews.

Say Room Filled

"I couldn't see anything for fire," he explained and added that the mill had all been cleaned out at the end of the week and had been idle since Friday.

"If we had been working for any length of time, the dust would have been thicker and started a bigger glaze.

For this reason, Harold Temple considers he and the others were lucky in escaping with their lives.

If the explosion had occurred in the middle of the day after the machine had been in operation for several hours, he points out that the air would have been full of dust particles and the resulting fire would have been much more serious.

BECOMES TORCH

It is evident from the position of the two-wheeled feed carrier which Angus Ferguson had been using to trundle feed, that he was about to pour a bag down the chute into a bin on the floor below.

With the thunder clap of the explosion, Ferguson was turned into a flaming torch. All his clothing was ablaze.

He half ran, half stumbled toward the door at the south end of the room, where he was met by another worker. This man stripped the badly burned man's clothing off as rapidly as possible but in spite of his heroic efforts, Ferguson was critically burned.

The bags of feed he was wheeling and the handles of the carrier were blackened by the flash fire.

ALSO BURNED

Clarence Fairbairn, R. R. 4, Peterborough, was also painfully burned about the face and hands.

In the few minutes which followed, about a dozen other men on the other floors discovered they had minor cuts and burns and were treated by industrial nurse, Miss Alma Dobbin, in the plant hospital.

However, the six men were the only ones who required hospital treatment and Ferguson is the only one whose condition is regarded as critical.

Sudden Stoppage At Kaiser Plant

FONTANA, Calif. (AP)—A sudden work stoppage hit the Kaiser Steel Corporation's Fontana plant today and a company spokesman said it caused "sharp curtailment" in production.

Earl S. Reynold, public relations director for the plant, said the two blast furnaces were being banked. Approximately 8,000 are employed at the mill which produces steel ingots, pig iron, pipe and finished and semi - finished steel products.

"It was an unauthorized walkout of open hearth crane operators and caused sharp curtailment of all activities at the plant," said Reynolds.

Drops 2 Sons From Burning House Roof

TORONTO (CP)—Trapped by fire and smoke on the second floor of his suburban Etobicoke home Sunday, Robert McTaggart, dropped two of his three sons from the roof into a neighbor's arms.

His wife had dashed down stairs a few seconds earlier with their youngest boy, Michael, 2 in her arms.

Mr. McTaggart smashed a storm window to push his sons, Peter, 11, and Thomas, 7, on to the roof. All three were in night attiture.

DROPS BOYS

A neighbor, Robert Bruce, shouted from the lawn, 12 feet below. McTaggart picked the boys up, leaned over the side of the roof and dropped them into Bruce's arms.

The fire was noticed when the maid, Mrs. Vera Bray, smelled smoke about 8:15 a.m. and heard a crackling sound coming from the living room. Investigating, she found the room filled with smoke and flames in the office. Running upstairs, Mrs. Bray awakened the family then ran down to call the firemen.

Mrs. McTaggart just managed to get downstairs with her youngest son before the front of the front of the home and stairway was blocked by smoke. Firemen from the Islington and Kingsway-Lambton halls fought the blaze.

Mr. McTaggart, an insurance broker, lost his entire file of business papers in the fire. The McTaggart family was given shelter in the home of a neighbor for the weekend. Damage was estimated at $12,000.

Public Records Get New Home

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario's public records, which include the only authentic newspaper reports of the war of 1812, have a new home. Two-thirds of the space in a $400,000 building here is being devoted to them.

Records for inclusion in the collection are accepted by provincial archivist Dr. G. W. Spragge and his staff by the cubic foot. Then they're classified and catalogued.

Documents which have been collected during the last 51 years are housed near the grounds of the University of Toronto.

The building was constructed under the supervision of university architects, although the province and Sigmund Samuel, prominent Toronto business man, paid for it. Dr. Samuel contributed $150,000 and a third of the Building that houses his collection of paintings, particularly newspapers like those copies of the Kingston Gazette copies of the kingston Gazette carrying reports of the war of 1812, are being recorded on microfilm so that when the originals disintegrate copies will still be available.

Included in the records are documents signed by Queen Victoria, a letter written by Sir John A. Macdonald, and the formal surrender of Detroit in the 1812 war, bearing the signature of General Brock.

Find British Pets Well Cared For

LONDON (CP)—Britain's budgie birds, poodles and goldfish never have had more concern shown for their health and welfare.

Keith Robinson, secretary of the Dumb Friends League, says there's a campaign well afoot to make Britons, natural pet addiits, more ionscious of the well-being of their little charges.

Robinson says more persons than ever are "making serious financial sacrifices" to keep pets healthy and happy even though food costs are rising. Any decline in the overall pet population—particularly animals—he attributes to housing limitations among other reasons.

FRANK CONDON

FRONTIER PUBLISHER—David Good, 24, formerly of Cornwall, has started a small semi-monthly newspaper, the first, in the uranium mining town of Beaverlodge in northern Saskatchewan. The Venture, first mimeographed and run off by hand, now is printed in Edmonton, 200 miles southwest. Good, an accountant for the resident mining company, said the paper is growing so rapidly he soon will have to decide whether to devote his full time to it.

Frontier Town Gets Paper

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP) — The rough-and-ready mining town of Beaverlodge, Sask., has a new six-page newspaper edited and published by a youthful accountant with a yen for poetry.

David Good, 24-year-old native of Cornwall, started his publishing career with the twice-monthly paper, The Venture, a few months after he arrived at Beaverlodge last may to work as an accountant with the Eldorado Mining Company.

Editor Good, who has been vacationing here with his family, chuckles when he recalls his first issue. He was the only member of the staff with previous newspaper experience, and that was limited to a stint on the Queen's Journal, twice-weekly student publication at Queen's University in Kingston.

EAGER CUSTOMERS

At Beaverlodge, he says, they worked until 4 a.m. preparing the first issue of the new paper for mimeographing. Then they found only 200 of their 500 copies were legible enough to be sold.

But there was no trouble selling copies, first at five cents and then at 10 cents per copy, to the news-hungry residents. Now he has the printing done in Edmonton, 200 miles southwest of Beaverlodge.

Good admits the news isn't always new but he finds the time element not too important in a frontier town where even a paper that is months old is read with interest.

The Venture offers a digest of world events, news of local interest and occasional features on life at Beaverlodge.

As an editorial writer, Good expresses strong personal views. He sermonizes on what he terms the growing despotism of unions, criticizes the company that employs him for not providing better living accommodation, and pleads for better care for Indian residents.

Poetry, a special interest to the young publisher, also appears.

Good finds publishing takes all his spare time.

Reporting news in a relatively small community is a tricky job if news sources are not to be offended.

"We haven't been sued yet but we've trod on several toes and they have trampled back," he says.

Had No Chance To Avoid Hitting Man

COBOURG (ENS)—Keith Geeza, Trenton, driver of the truck which struck Joe Lavis, Cobourg taxi-driver out on No. 2 Highway west of Cobourg on November 14, testified that Lavis seemed to pop out of the darkness in front of his truck, during the inquest into Lavis' death held Friday night.

Coroner Dr. W. E. Wilkins presided and Harry Deyman acted for the Crown.

The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death and expressed the opinion that Geeza had done all he could to avoid the accident.

Lavis had parked on the side of the highway while he went to enquire where a pasenger lived. He was returning on foot to his taxi when struck by the truck and died on Nov. 17 in Cobourg General Hospital.

George Turpin, owner of the taxi, said that Lavis went on a call around seven p.m. to pick up a passenger out No. 2 Highway.

Dr. Ian Shaw, who attended at the accident scene, said that Lavis had a very bad fracture of the right leg and the bones were protruding through the skin. He also had head injuries and died on the morning of November 17.

Pathologist Dr. Hans Leucke performed an autopsy and found the cause of death to be due to lobar pneumonia which had followed the chest injuries and multiple haemorrhages of the brain. Although the patient had been given all the necessary anti-biotics, in view of the leg injury, it did not control the infection which later developed in the lungs, Dr. Shaw said.

CALLED AT HOME

Mrs. Fred Johns, who lives off Highway 2, near the scene of the accident, said that Lavis had called at her home that evening to enquire where his fare lived. She gave him directions and as she was about to re-enter her house she heard a bang. Prior to going into the house she had noticed no traffic other than the parked taxi. After she heard the bang she went out on the highway. Others were there and she learned that a man had been hit.

Keith Geeza said that he was travelling east before the accident, going at around 50 m.p.h. Behind him was another vehicle and he was watching him in the rear vision mirror and wondering if he intended to pass.

"A fellow seemed to pop up suddenly in front of me and I had no time to apply the brakes but I swerved to the right. I was unable to miss him and he was struck by the left front fender and grill," testified Geeza.

Travelling behind the truck driven by Geeza was William Jackson of Cobourg. After coming over a knoll, he noticed a man half way across the north lane walking south. He was of the opinion that if the man had been looking west he would have been able to see both vehicles, and the drivers of both vehicles should have been able to see the pedestrian. Witness said that he saw the man and after he disappeared in front of the truck he saw him tossed in the air. If the pedestrian had stopped the accident would not have occurred. Witness said that he was unable to say whether or not the accident could have been averted by the driver of the truck putting on his brakes.

Provincial Constable Bill Warner gave evidence as to measurements taken at the scene.

Dogs Worry Young Deer

LINDSAY (ENS) — A young buck deer strayed far from home Saturday evening when it was "dogged to earth" in an open field near Reaboro. Fortunately man interfered and saved the life of the deer.

Four boys, James and Joe Whitaker, Robbie Littlejohn and John Reeds were playing near J. Harper's garage in the village when they heard the noise created by barking dogs and saw them yelping around a young yearling deer.

The deer put up a gallant fight against the dogs before it collapsed. It was pulled away from the dogs by Mr. Harper.

In its last effort the deer struck one of the dogs a sharp blow and sent it sprawling and howling. It also mistook one of the boys for an enemy and hit the lad with a sharp hoof but he was not hurt. Mr. Harper placed the deer in a shed and under warm blankets. However the animal failed to respond and the game warden at Lindsay was notified. The animal was unable to get up and was shot.

Sports Writers Give Special Coverage

TORONTO (CP)—Sports writers for The Varsity, student newspaper of the University of Toronto, Sunday night mimeographed a four-page paper to give students "exactly the same sports coverage they are used to."

Senior editors announced Friday the paper's regular sports section would no longer be carried. The decision, they said, was taken because sports were "over-glamorized."

Reporter Hears Talking Dog

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — The newspaper Melbourne Argus today prints an interview with a talking dog whose words are backed by a bishop.

A reporter spoke on the phone to Nickey, a fox terrier, 500 miles away at the Newcastle, New South Wales, home of his owner, C. A. Brown, a church official "Hello, hello, here I am," said the dog several times.

Nicky, a tenor, also distinctly repeated "Hello Mom" over the phone, the Argus says.

The Rt. Rev. Francis Dewit Batty, Anglican bishop of Newcastle, confirmed that the dog uttered the words, the Argus says.

"At first I shared the incredulity of most people, I could not have believed it possible if I had not heard it myself. It is a most extraordinary experience," the bishop told the newspaper.

Montreal Clinic Has Blood Donation Record

MONTREAL (CP) — A North American record for one-clinic blood donations was established Sunday night as 2,042 pint bottles were filled at a 37-hour marathon conducted by the Red Cross.

This amounted to more than four times the previous record of 500 pints and well over the objective of 1,500, reached 9½ hours before the marathon ended. Officials hoped to reach 2,200 pints but time and bottles ran out.

The marathon was planned because of Montreal's low supplies of blood for hospital and Red Cross uses.

Begin 3-Week Drive For Hospital Funds

TORONTO (CP) — A three-week drive to raise $4,150,000 for the Women's College hospital fund started today in the greater Toronto area. Of that amount, $1,606,957 has already been pledged by corporations and individuals.

The 55-year-old hospital, the only one in Canada entirely staffed by women doctors, plans to use the money to build a nine-storey hospital wing, a service wing and a nurses' training school and residence.

CAPTURE SUSPECT—Walter Pavlukoff, 40-year-old suspect in the 1947 murder of a Vancouver banker, was picked up in suburban Toronto five years after the shooting of bank manager Sydney Petrie. Pavlukoff, listed by the RCMP as Canada's second most-wanted criminal, offered no resistance. Police said the tip came from John Moore, a shoe store manager, who identified Pavlukoff from posters he had seen in the police station.

Minister Blasts Costly Funerals

TORONTO (CP) — Heavy spending on funerals was criticized Sunday in a sermon by the Rev. C. Gordon Smyth in Yonge Street United Church.

"Let us go easy with our criticism of Roman Catholics and their paying for mass cards when we see up to $1,000 in flowers lavished on a single Protestant funeral," he said.

He suggested it would be better to have a stand for the names of persons who donate money "for a permanent memorial to the..." of God—perhaps toward new hymn books, a pulpit Bible or a stained glass window."

F. P. Giffen, chairman of the funeral directors' branch of the Toronto board of trade, commented today that the first thing a director does is caution a family to stay within its means. He said the lowest-priced funeral, formerly $99, now is about $150.

Pope Elevates 24 Prelates Of Roman Catholic Church

ROME (AP) — The Pope today elevated 24 prelates of the Roman Catholic church, including Archbishop Paul-Emile Leger of Montreal, to its College of Cardinals.

Other cardinals silently bowed their heads in agreement and homage to the Pontiff as he announced his choices at a meeting of the college in the marbled Consistorial Hall, the largest chamber of the Pope's Vatican apartment.

Among them was James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto, the only other Canadian prince of the church.

His historic act brought the quota of 70 for the first time in nearly 200 years.

Besides Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger, the roll of new cardinals included the first Far-West United States wearer of the cardinal's red hat, Archbishop James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles, and two primates of Communist-run countries where the Catholic Church is fiercely opposed.

IRON-CURTAIN CARDINALS

The Iron-Curtain cardinals, neither of whom was present to receive his bieretta, were Aloysius Stepinac, "conditionally" freed from jail in Yugoslavia a year ago, and Stefan Wyszynski of Poland.

Neither is in Rome for the official notification that they have been made princes of the church.

The secret consistory today was the first of a series of ancient and sacred rites in connection with the elevation of the new cardinals. They will culminate Thursday in a colorful public consistory at St. Peter's, at which the Pontiff will confer on the new church princes their red hats.

GIVES ADDRESS

The Pope officially made known his nominations in an address during which he recalled that seven years had passed since the post-war consistory of 1946. At that time he named 32 cardinals—the highest number elevated at one time in the history of the church.

Since then, he said, the college had suffered grave losses of eminent men.

The Pope said he was moved to create new cardinals not only to bring the college to its full complement but also by a desire to reward those who had "distinguished themselves in our eyes by their active and prudent conduct and notable contribution to the Christian religion."

After the Pope announced his nominations and the college nodded assent, messengers working in four teams sped to bring the glad news to 16 of the new cardinals waiting in various Roman seminaries.

Archbishop Leger was waiting at the Canadian College, founded in 1888.

In addition to Stepinac and Wyszynski, six others are absent. Four — the Apostolic Nuncios of Italy, Spain, Portugal and France — will receive their notifications from the Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and French Heads of state. Two new Spanish cardinals also will be notified by Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Cardinal McIntyre received his "biglietto" of notification at the historic North American Pontifical College, on Rome's Humility street. A large throng of friends and fellow clergy applauded as he opened the envelope and read the message inside in silence.

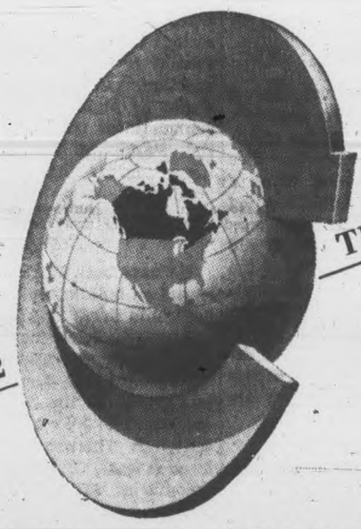
The announcement said the Pope had elevated the American archbishop.

SAME CEREMONY

The same ceremony was enacted with Archbishop Leger and the 14 other cardinals in the city.

At the Vatican, meanwhile, the Pope was continuing his address to the older cardinals.

Referring to the fact that the new cardinals extend representation in the college to 27 countries — the broadest distribution in the church's nearly 2,000 years of history, the Pontiff said he had aimed in his selection for just such an extension.



"We were animated by this intention, namely, that as far as possible your sacred college should be, as it were, the living image of the entire church, of which it is the august senate," he declared.

"For the Catholic Church," he added, "of which this Apostolic See has by design of the Divine Providence, been constituted the Centre, is foreign to no nation and no people but belongs to all and cherishes all with the same love and the same solicitude."

The British Colonial Empire

Surprising as it may seem to all but a few die-hard American empire-busters, there still exists a British colonial empire. It is not without importance, as shown by an Economic Survey of the Colonial Territories, published last month in London. The statistical analysis shows that the Colonies contribute:

Two-thirds of the world's supply of tin.
Half the world supply of cocoa.
More than one-third of the world's supply of rubber.
One-fifth of the world production of bauxite, used for aluminum.
One-seventh of the world production of diamonds.
One-tenth of the world output of sugar.
One-seventh of the world's production of manganese.

Nigeria produces almost all the world's output of niobium used in alloy form for jet engines, and Northern Rhodesia now ranks third among the world's producers of copper.

* * *

Unfortunately for the companies concerned and British investors, the bulk of this mineral wealth lies in colonies described as "sensitive territories"—that is, where politics and races are sensitive; Malaya and Brunei, producing most of the rubber, tin and oil; the Gold Coast, producing most of the cocoa; Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland, producing most of the copper and tea. These two latter are involved in a scheme for Central African Federation, now being discussed in London. The total value of the mineral output of the colonial territories represents twelve per cent. of the total value of the mineral output of the Commonwealth. Canada and the United Kingdom account for sixty per cent.

* * *

Three other items of special interest in the report are these. There is almost no export of beef from any of the colonies. The natives are eating it. Rice production is being expanded, through large British Government-sponsored schemes. Malay is already producing fifty per cent. more rice than it did before the war. Third: the bulk of the world trade in tea lies within the Commonwealth. But more than half the tea that enters the trade goes into United Kingdom tea-pots. There is a new development which may disturb British tea-drinkers: Africans themselves are taking to tea.

Republics In The Commonwealth

India is a Republic and the head of the state is its President. Yet India is in the British Commonwealth. Pakistan is to become a Republic, instead of a Dominion, according to recent reports from Karachi, but will remain within the Commonwealth. Ceylon is heading towards republicanism. And so the British Empire is changing in form as well as in nature.

The Empire itself is reduced to a few colonies. Its place has been taken by the British Commonwealth. And now a further transformation is taking shape; it is being called merely "The Commonwealth," so that republican members of predominently non-Anglo-Saxon stock may not have their racial pride ruffled by the adjective British. One asks if history is not being ungraciously buffeted by this denial of the term British? The growth from colony to nation, from peonage to independance, from empire to commonwealth—the common weal—has come about because of, not despite, British enterprise and governance, British tolerance and nurture of national aspirations. There is nothing shameful in the word British. Canada wears the title of British Dominion with honour; Canadians are proud to recognize themselves as British subjects as well as Canadian citizens.

Since, however, the British Commonwealth has become "The Commonwealth," and it includes far-off republics, has the time not come for nearer republics speaking the English tongue to consider affiliation with the Commonwealth? The United States has every right to petition for the enjoyment of the privileges of membership in the Commonwealth and to share in the glory of a resplendent Throne. The Republic of Eire might be welcomed with less jubilation. But its very proximity to the centre of the Commonwealth and the fact that more Irishmen live in the Commonwealth than in Eire, may make acceptable a petition of Eire, to return to the Commonwealth fold, while retaining the President of Eire and the Toesach.

Will Presidential Press Conferences Continue?

Some newspapers in the United States have printed reports that President-elect Eisenhower will not continue to hold press conferences after he enters the White House. These reports have been neither confirmed nor denied by the general or anyone authorized to speak for him; the answer from these sources is that all such questions will be decided after the President-elect takes office. A dispatch from New York on Wednesday last, however, said that General Eisenhower will hold press conferences of some kind.

The Presidential press conference began with Theodore Roosevelt fifty years ago. However, Mr. Roosevelt's conferences were different in pattern from those of recent years. He would chat with a group of his favourites while being shaved in the White House barber chair. More formal conferences were initiated by William Howard Taft, but veteran reporters say that these were abandoned because misunderstandings arose.

Regular, formal conferences were again begun by Woodrow Wilson, followed by open, give-and-take conferences held by Warren G. Harding. Mr. Harding, however, gave the wrong answer to a question, and the White House had to issue a formal statement saying the President was wrong. After that, the questions had to be written and submitted in advance—a practice followed by Calvin Coolidge. If Mr. Coolidge didn't like a question, he simply didn't answer it—and the rule prohibited the reporter asking the question from publishing the fact that it had been submitted and not answered. Herbert Hoover also followed this rule, but in the later days of his Administration strained relations led to the President reading a formal statement, copies of which were distributed to the press.

Then came the wide open conferences of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt's flair for such meetings is well remembered, and his secretary, Stephen T. Early, was a most able director. These conferences remained generally friendly, despite the fact that in several years a majority of U.S. newspapers opposed Mr. Roosevelt. President Truman has attempted to follow the Roosevelt pattern, but has been only periodically successful.

Correspondents must wait to learn General Eisenhower's intentions. He may modify the wide-open meetings in several ways, very probably without serious criticism. It is certain, however, that if he proposed to end all direct questioning by reporters, the reaction would be highly unfavorable. As one commentator points out, it would put the stamp of "soldier-in-the-White-House" on the Administration from the beginning.

Big Jobs

We have been looking at the monthly report on building in Canada, issued by a Toronto firm. The December contract awards were below the total of December 1951, we note—$98,071,800 compared with $20,452,100. The total for the year was also below the 1951 total of $2,295,499,200. The 1952 total was twenty per cent. less. This decrease is not alarming, to us at least. Building contracts to the amount of $1,812,177,600 in one year seems a very expansive program, even if it was a falling-off from the 1951 peak.

The "Big Jobs of the Month" list is really quite imposing. Here are some of the projects begun in December: a printing bureau for the Dominion Government at Hull, $7,851,350; a rehabilitation centre at Montreal, $1,100,000; two hundred homes in St. John, N.B., $1,564,821; power line construction in Wentworth, Wellington and Waterloo Counties of Ontario, $2,492,000; three hundred and twenty rental units in Regina, Sask., $2,500,000; a hospital pavilion in Port Arthur, $1,233,000; departmental store, New Westminster, B.C., $2,000,000; highway construction and repairs for British Columbia, $1,745,403; telephone building, Toronto, $4,000,000; office building, Toronto, $3,500,000; brewery addition, London, Ont., $1,100,000; and an apartment building in London, $3,000,000.

A country which in one month sees the beginning of a two million dollar department store in an out-of-the-way corner like New Westminster and a million dollar (plus $100,000) extension to a brewery in a town on the Canadian Thames need not look back, we think, to the days of twenty years ago when the laying of a brick or pouring of a hundredweight of concrete was a local news item. If the worst comes to the worst we can all get jobs distributing the pamphlets which the new seven-and-three-quarter-million-dollar Government printing office will turn out.

NOTES AND COMMENT

A student of juvenile delinquency says that the fourteenth and fifteenth years are the "dangerous age." But of course it depends on what kind of danger you mean.

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

JUDGING FROM THE number of concerts sponsored by organizations that fail to show to profit I am inclined to believe more firmly in the idealism of my fellow men and women. Every organization should know (if it has not yet found out by experience) concerts are apt to lose more funds than they gain, unless they are very thoroughly and painstakingly organized and a concerted and determined effort is made to sell tickets. How much easier it is to organize a rummage sale or a dance or a Bingo if money is the main concern!

✧ ✧ ✧

YET, AS I have indicated above, concerts need not necessarily go "into the red". The membership concert series plan, as exemplified by the Community Concert Organization, is a classic example of the introduction of modern American business technique into the realm of concert presentation. There is of course nothing particularly new in organizing a series of concerts for a season's subscription—Salomon and others were doing it in London in the eighteenth century. Yet extravagant claims for Community Concerts are still being made which are not born out by historical facts and tend to obscure the distinctive features of the organization. It is stated, for example, by Mr. Ward French, founder and president of Community Concerts that "For two hundred years music's usefulness, except for opera in Europe, had been confined to the limited, select few, who, in order to maintain that status, over-emphasized music's esoteric qualities and tended to deprecate its emotional appeal". This statement is not only untrue but, if examined more closely it is doubtful whether it has any meaning. The phrase "music's usefulness" implies that music is a useful art, and in fact Mr. French in a preceding sentence declares that "Art is purposeless and moribund indeed, unless it is useful to mankind". I am somewhat inclined to Oscar Wilde's view that all art is quite useless. It is true that music has been used to improve the milk yield of cattle, to soothe the emotional disturbances of the insane and mentally unbalanced, to drown the footsteps and whisperings of incoming and outgoing worshippers and so on, but in its essence it is quite useless; therefore any statement concerning its use is devoid of sense. As for the limited, select few being the only ones privileged to hear good music, this is quite incorrect. In the early days, when the Church was the main patron of music nobody was excluded. Later, during the era of princely patronage, the general public was on the whole excluded, but with the rise of the middle class, first in England and later elsewhere the public concert became firmly established, and anyone willing and able to pay for a ticket was admitted. Although concerts were known in London as long ago as the seventeenth century it was not until the eighteenth century that they became general. In fact the last two hundred years have seen a progressive widening of the gates of music to larger and larger audiences. To represent this as the work of the past twenty-five years, as Mr. French does, is more than an over-simplification, it is a complete misrepresentation of history.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEN Mr. French speaks of the "limited, select few" and their sinister design to keep music as their own special preserve. Of course there are cliques and sets in music. They exist even in the United States and Canada. They have sometimes been extremely useful in exploring new paths, attacking complacency and resurrecting old music that had been unjustly condemned to oblivion. In some cases they have been composed of dilettantes and culture-snobs, and as such have been more or less obscure nuisances. But in the last resort it has been for the last 150 to 200 years the general public that has had the deciding word. They have exercised and will continue to exercise their unanswerable privilege of staying away from concerts of music that does not appeal to them. The rough logic of box-office receipts is no new-fangled invention. The public is often wrong, and it often changes its mind (or has its mind changed for it), but in concert management it is the last court of appeal.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE ROYAL CONSERVATORY announces plans for its Summer School, to be held in July, following the Ninth Biennial Convention of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Association. Both these events will take place in Toronto and should prove stimulating and fruitful to those attending. There is a very long "off-season" for music in Canada during the summer, and Toronto is no exception to the rule. It is only kept alive by activities such as the Summer School and events that are planned in conjunction with them. Yet the Summer Theatre idea has caught on in many places, and there is no reason why summer concerts should not also prove equally popular. If only some method of dealing with the insects that are such a plague in this country could be devised music could be brought more and more out of doors in the summer. Works such as Mozart's Eine Kleine Nachtumsik were written for open-air performance, and very pleasant indeed it is to hear its strains wafted on the scented summer evening breeze across the velvet lawns.

✧ ✧ ✧

MOST PEOPLE who have heard of Pythagoras think of him as an ancient Greek mathematician who propounded a theorem that the square on the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle is equal to the sum of the squares on the two other sides. Some may even remember that he taught metempsychosis, or the transmigration of souls from one man, at his death, into another man, and into animals, and from animals into men. Whatever may be said in respect of his more speculative theories there is no doubt that he was one of the most powerful and original thinkers of the ancient world. Yet few realize that he made extensive researches into the nature of music. He discovered the arithmetical relations of the musical scale long before Helmholtz. He attached great importance, as did Plato after him, to the influence of music in controlling the force of the passions. He also was responsible for the rather fantastic notion of the "music of the spheres", beloved of poets. It would seem strange that human beings cannot hear the sounds alleged to be made by heavenly bodies in their courses, but Pythagoras gives two alternative explanations for this, (i) because we have been accustomed to if from the first, and have never had an opportunity of contrasting it with stillness, or (ii) because the sound is so powerful as to exceed our capacities for hearing. Pythagoras died about 500 B.C., but his musical scale is still used by physicists, though no longer by practical musicians it having been supplanted by the "tempered" scale.

Free World's Priority Problems

By WILLIAM CLARK (London Observer)

THE PRESS conferences given this week by both Mr. Winston Churchill and General Ridgway (Supreme Commander, Allied Forces in Europe) both illustrate the new problem of priorities now facing the Western world.

As long as Western defences against Soviet Communist expansion were everywhere negligible, this difficulty hardly arose. Today, with a stalemate in Korea, and a check to Russian advances in Europe, the question of where and how the main Western effort is to be directed has become in urgent need of settlement.

Because there has been virtually no American Government since the Lisbon meeting of NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organisation), the number of unsettled problems which need to be dealth with at the political level is enormous. The complaint at which General Ridgway delicately hinted was that the military were being left without proper political guidance.

It is perhaps worth listing some of the problems of priority which will have to be settled in the next few months. These are not the agenda of the Churchill-Eisenhower meeting, nor even of the spring meeting of NATO, they are the basic agenda which the Free World must dispose of this year. They are also the sum of the questions which are being asked and studied in hundreds of offices up and down Whitehall.

(1) Military or Economic Security. This is the fundamental question which has not been answered in theory, though in practice the last NATO meeting showed a bias in favour of economic solvency. It is easy to think of this as primarily a European question. But in fact the new U.S. Congress holds the key to the question, in their decisions about how much to spend on the military budget. If this budget is heavily cut (as the Republicans promise) it will not only mean less aid for Europe, but will certainly touch off a sharp general reduction in military budgets. This will be accompanied by precautions against an economic hurricane.

(2) Quantity or Quality. A recent paper by the British Chiefs of Staff put great stress on quality, in rearmament, and this was the great cry of the British delegation at NATO. If this dilemma is solved in favour of quality it would mean that defences remained inadequate for the present, but that new developments in weapons were put into mass production as soon as possible. The military thinkers in America tend to feel that this is a most risky procedure, and will certainly oppose it. If, however, their Congress is cutting appropriations their voice will not be heard.

(3) Priorities for the Far East or Europe? Mr. Churchill made it clear that he believes that Europe remains the strategic centre of gravity. General Eisenhower has always thought so, but President Eisenhower will have to face the growing American desire to bring the war in Korea to a conclusion somehow.

It is likely that there will be no sudden shift in the proportion of attention given to the Atlantic as against the Pacific area. The real dilemma, at least in British eyes, is: Korea or Indo-China? It is the British aim, as it has been for over a year, to persuade America that Indo-China is far more important than Korea. The argument is two-fold: first, if the French are not given urgent help in Indo-China the French position there and in Europe may well disintegrate and collapse. Secondly, if there were any major defeat in Indo-China the Communist success would be powerfully felt in the unstable regimes of Burma and Siam, and would greatly strengthen and hearten the guerillas in Malaya.

(4) Force of persuasion in the Middle East. The need to build defences against Communism in the Middle East is generally recognised, but there is no real agreement whether this should be done by building up a Defence Command, or by propping up the economies of the area. Both could be done given unlimited resources, but at present some choice seems necessary. Should the Middle Eastern Command be set up in Cyprus without any Arab participation, or should the slow process of bargaining and negotiating continue with the Arab countries demanding more aid and more political independence (or non-interference) as the price for their support?

These are the big choices that have to be made. It would be unwise to suppose that clear-cut decisions will be made, or that on each question the British or American Governments will find their own teams united. The decisions may not even be conscious, but the next few months will show how and which way the stream is going to flow.

Ever See a Snow-Snake?

(Cornwall Standard-Freeholder)

Snow-snakes are something with which all Canadians should be familiar.

They are not a joke, nor any relation to the famous "ice-worms." They are light hickory poles used in a special Winter game traditional with the Six Nation Indians of the district around Brantford.

Long channels are made in the snow, and coated with ice on the inside. When the conditions are exactly right, the Indians make a contest of throwing the snow-snakes down the glittering troughs.

They make long, long drives. Three-quarters of a mile is called average.

The game originated long before the white man has ever taken it up.

UP AND DOWN

A bumptious fellow was giving evidence in a police court.

"You say you stood up?" asked the magistrate.

"I said," retorted the conceited one, "that I stood. If one stands one must stand up. There's no other way of standing."

"Oh, isn't there?" replied the magistrate. "Pay $10 for contempt of court, and . . . stand down!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up . . . And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on the gates. (Deut. 6:4-7, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with thy soul, and with thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. And the scribe said unto them, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but he. (Mark 12:28-32.)

Modern Robin Hood

(New York Herald Tribune)

In Hockham, England, a mysterious character (who may be a poacher) has been tapping on the doors of old people who are poor. He disappears into the night before they get to the door. But on the doorstep is a package containing a pheasant, and a card saying: "We have taken it from the gentry who have birds in plenty, to give to the old who rarely have any."

Several elderly recipients, being conscientious, have asked the police what to do with the pheasants. "Eat them," said the police.

Permanent Christmas Tree

(Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph)

Quebec surely has never been more beautifully decorated than over this Christmas and New Year season. Each night the hundreds of outdoor Christmas trees glowed warmly, turning some streets into fairyland avenues of colour and light. New snow, not enough of it to be really troublesome, laid a clean, white covering, which at night caught and reflected the multicoloured light in soft tones.

Quebecers have enjoyed it and holiday visitors have been more amazed than ever by the lavish display.

But now comes a less happy afterthought. All these young evergreens now will be lugged off in city and suburban garbage trucks and burned or deposited ingloriously on dumps. They are discarded Christmas trees, which have served their purpose, but they also represent several acres of Canadian forest that will never grow to maturity . . .

No one would suggest that we stop having Christmas trees, but we could be a good deal more careful. For instance, instead of haphazard destruction of young forests and the cutting of individual trees which should stay where they are, Christmas trees would be cut from regular farms with careful selection to ensure continuing growth. There could also be careful supervision of this industry, to make sure that the trees marketed are taken from proper sources.

And homeowners who like to display an outdoor tree each year could help also. Instead of sticking a doomed tree into the lawn each year, then throwing it away, why not plant a living tree? It would have its two weeks of glory each year, and live and grow in its natural beauty through the rest of the months as well.

And for every tree planted in the city, one forest tree would be saved every year.

He said 'Happy New Year' to everyone we met and when they'd gone a little way past he said 'and I hope you fall down a hole'."

Revive Memory Of Rabelais By Foundling Society

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP)—A jovial 16th-century monk, who wrote "laughter is the right of man," is the unwitting patron of a non-political society which keeps a thousand members cheerful in the modern world.

Francois Rabelais, born in 1490 in central France, grew up to be not only a monk but a doctor who believed laughter could cure many of humanity's ills. The robust life he led gave the world a new adjective—Rabelaisian.

Oddly enough it was an American couple—Girard and Kathleen Hale of Santa Barbara, Cal.,—who revived the Rabelaisian cult in France.

Right after the Second World War, they decided the world needed more good fellowship and laughter. They started the Companions of Rabelais.

The Hales were living in the French village of Maille, near Tours, when they heard that the nearby farmhouse where Rabelais was born was falling into disrepair. A local French society was doing what it could but lacked funds to establish a Rabelais museum.

FOUNDED COMPANIONS

So the Hales founded the companions of Rabelais, who undertake to love their fellow-men, treasure liberty of thought, believe, with Rabelais, that laughter is the right of man, and agree to give some measure of friendship and hospitality to fellow Rabelaisians throughout the world, if and when they meet.

In return for a life membership fee of $10, the companions receive a parchment certificate bearing a portrait of the laughing monk, painted by Girard Hale, a well-known American mural artist.

They also receive from the governor of Tours a letter promising them a chance to see "many beautiful and historic places not usually accessible to tourists in general" whenever they come to Rabelais' home country.

The companions now have a clubroom in the cellar of the farmhouse, where some of Rabelais' favorite maxims are scribbled on the whitewashed walls.

The companions indignantly deny their society is just an eating and drinking club. The French government is taking an interest in its development. The ministry of fine arts is aiding in restoration work and the post office has issued a special 12-franc Rabelais stamp.

About half the companions are Americans. The rest are spread over 23 countries.

The late William Lyon Mackenzie King, former Canadian prime minister, was among the companions' famous names.

Ralph Cook's Resignation Accepted By TAC

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Arts Council Sunday accepted the resignation as secretary of Ralph Cook, son-in-law of James Endicott, chairman of the leftist Canadian Peace Congress.

The action followed announcement Saturday that James Cardinal McGuigan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto, had withdrawn without explanation his patronage of the council. Cardinal McGuigan's name appeared in a list of 16 sponsors of the newly-formed organization.

Fraser Kent, chairman of the TAC, said the reason for the cardinal's withdrawal was the presence of Mr. Cook on the TAC's executive.

Claude E. Lewis, president of the Canadian Arts Council, in a prepared statement said there was no affiliation between his group and the TAC.

The CAC, founded in 1945, is a federation of national organizations of professional artists.

FRIEND OF BUCK

It was revealed Saturday that Mr. Cook is a friend of Communist leader Tim Buck and was a former president of the Labor-Progressive Party Club at Carleton College, Ottawa.

Some of the 16 persons listed as patrons of the TAC in an arts conference program scheduled for Jan. 24-25 could not recall giving consent for their names to be used. These included Mayor Allan Lamport, B. K. Sandwell, former editor of Saturday Night, and Nathan Cohen, CBC drama critic.

Sir Ernest MacMillan, conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, withdrew his name Saturday.

Others said they will withdraw their names if reports that the organization is a Communist-front body are true.

In tendering his resignation, Mr. Cook denied that the TAC "is or was in danger of becoming a so-called Communist-front organization."

Picketers Halt Embassy Vigil

OTTAWA (CP)—The "save the Rosenbergs" picketers, who started a constant vigil outside the United States embassy here last Monday, halted their demonstration Saturday.

The picketers had demanded presidential clemency for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, U.S. atom spies sentenced to death.

The Canadian Committee to Save the Rosenbergs said it is changing its tactics and will picket U.S. consulates across Canada. The RCMP says Communists are behind the demonstrations.

The campaign in Ottawa was closed out Saturday with a rally attended by a crowd estimated at more than 500.

A group of Sudbury residents arrived in Ottawa Sunday with a petition asking President Truman to commute the death sentences. Signed by J. J. Quenneville of Sudbury, it is to be delivered to the U.S. embassy today.

WIARTON (CP)—Constable W.S. Cluff of the Ontario provincial police has been promoted to corporal. He will be transferred to Kitchener later this month to become second-in-command of the OPP detachment there.

Curious Danes Attempt To Solve Death Of Heiress 155 Years Ago

By OLIVER G. CLAUSEN

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Was the beautiful young blonde—one of the world's richest women—slain by grave robbers?

Was she killed before her burial? Or did she die a natural death?

Four million Danes are asking those questions today and are breathlessly wondering what the answer will be. A distant relative is going to exhume her body to see if he can find out.

The story goes back 155 years, when Copenhagen was at its gayest and Giertrud Birgitte was 17, a life-loving beauty. The daughter of a wealthy business man, the much-courted Giertrud gave her heart to Andreas Bodenhoff, 32, scion of one of the wealthiest families in 18th century Europe.

Six months after their wedding in 1796 Andreas died and left the sorrowing widow with vast riches. But Giertrud died a year after her husband and was buried in the family plot at Assistens cemetery.

She was buried—but was she dead?

BEGIN WONDERING

Hardly had her body been put away when curious Danes began asking that question. They noted that relatives said the lovely heiress died of "a boil in the ear," but no doctor issued a death certificate.

They speculated she might have been killed in her sick-bed, possibly by an overdose of opium, given ostensibly to relieve her pain.

Then there were rumors that Giertrud had been buried alive, only to be slain by grave robbers. She had received an overdose of opium all right, according to this tale, but it only left her in a state of suspended animation Honestly believing her to be dead, her family buried her beside her husband.

The next night two robbers forced their way into the vault bent on stealing precious gems which had been buried with her.

One of the robbers, so the story ran, tore so violently at a gold ring fastened to Giertrud's ear that she awoke in pain, sat up in her coffin and beseeched the robbers to let her out of "this horrible place." Unmoved, they bashed her head with a spade and fled with their loot.

Now, 155 years later, Dr Viggo Stracke, a fourth-generation relative of Giertrud's has received permission from the government to exhume her body in an effort to crack the mystery surrounding her death.

Provisional Board Elects President

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The provisional board of directors of East Windsor Hospital met Saturday and elected Ian R. McFarlane president of the East Windsor Health Association which operates the institution.

During the meeting it was announced a medical representative of the Ontario health department would be sent here to supervise operations at the hospital for the chronically ill pending reorganization under a new permanent board.

Dr. Clare A. Buck, the government appointee, arrived here Sunday night and said only that he plans to meet the provisional board today.

Canadian Army Hopes Cut Paper Warfare By 30%

OTTAWA (CP)—The army is making a frontal assault on a chronic military problem — too much paper warfare—and tightening up its administration in the process.

A general and two brigadiers were directed last summer to make a six-months' study to see what could be done to cut down on the avalanche traditionally described as paper war—memorandums, reports, recommendations, announcements and other documents.

Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, says he thinks their findings will mean a big improvement in administration and that during the next year the amount of paperwork being done by the army will be cut by as much as 30 per cent.

The group was headed by Maj.-Gen. Howard Graham, former vice-chief of the general staff and now head of the army's central command with headquarters at Oakville, Ont. It included Brigadiers Frank Fleury and A. B. Knight who head area commands with headquarters at Quebec City and Kingston respectively.

POINT OUT WEAKNESSES

Their report to Gen. Simonds pointed out a number of weaknesses and he says they are being corrected.

It found, for instance, that branches at headquarters sometimes were issuing orders without first consulting other branches directly involved, thus leading to confusion at local levels. It found a tendency among officers newly posted to headquarters to start issuing new orders without first briefing themselves adequately on those in existence.

A system of weekly meetings by branch heads to ensure that no orders go out without all branches being aware of them has been initiated as a result of the findings of what is known as "operation paperchase."

Gen. Simonds says he came to the conclusion in a 1952 swing around the country that paper warfare had snowballed too high and that the time had come to do something about it. Gen. Simonds' aim is to have officers spend less time answering or writing memos and more getting out to see for themselves what is going on.

Received Goods Stolen By Youths

BANCROFT (ENS) — Martin Redmond, 42, Bancroft, was placed on one year suspended sentence by Magistrate R. C. Jackson on Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to two charges of receiving stolen goods. He was ordered to make restitution to the owners of two rifles stolen by juveniles and disposed of by him.

Investigation by Chief Constable Chapman and Provincial Constable Hutchinson led to the laying of twenty-four charges against two juvenile concerned which has cleared up a recent epidemic of store break-ins, attempted entries, and thefts from stores in this village. Virtually every unsolved case of this nature since September was brought to a conclusion by the officers as a result of their investigation.

The juveniles will appear before the Juvenile Court at a later date.

Investigation Closed In Negro's Death

VANCOUVER (CP)—Investigation into the death of Clarence Clemons, 52-year-old Negro dockworker, has officially closed.

Police commission said Friday that no new action will be taken unless ordered by city prosecutor.

Clemons died Christmas Eve of injuries he claimed were inflicted by two police officers who arrested him last July 19. Clemons lay in a hospital bed for five months, paralyzed and unable to talk.

A coroner's jury which heard 58 witnesses Tuesday classed the death as "accidental" and "unnatural."

Princesses Shaken Up

COPENHAGEN (AP) — King Frederik's two youngest daughters, Princesses Benedikte, 8, and Anne-Marie, 6, escaped uninjured but severely shaken Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another car on an icy road and crashed into a wall. Occupants of the other auto were injured.

Former PC Member Fred Singer Dies

TORONTO (CP)—E. F. (Fred) Singer, 63, Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature from 1929 to 1935, died Saturday.

Mr. Singer, a leader in Toronto's Jewish community, represented Toronto St. Andrew. He was also for 30 years president of the board of Mount Sinai Hospital.

In the legislature, Mr. Singer led a fight for anti-discrimination legislation. He initiated a bill to prevent insurance companies from denying policies to members of certain races or religions. He played first violin with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra for several years.

Inquest Scheduled In Announcer's Death

MONTREAL (CP)—An inquest is scheduled to be held here today in the case of Bertrand Dussault, 26, found shot to death Saturday. Police said it was a case of suicide following the shooting of a woman.

Police said Dussault, a former CBC radio announcer and more recently a free-lance radio man, shot himself at the rear of a Dorchester St. W. apartment after firing at least two shots at a woman companion during a quarrel.

The woman, Mrs. D. Johnson, took a taxi to hospital after the shooting and her story to hospital authorities resulted in the finding of Dussault's body.

Hospital authorities said Mrs. Johnson's injuries were not serious.

Hit By Tractor, Dies

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Michael Pajenkiewicz, 81, injured Christmas Day when run over by a tractor, died in hospital Saturday. The tractor was being backed out of a downtown parking lot at the time of the accident. Both rear wheels passed over the man's body.

May Solve Safe Breaks

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa police sai Sunday they may solve a number of recent safe-cracking attempts with the week-end arrest of William Graff, 26, of no fixed address. Graff was arrested Saturday night after police, in answering an anonymous telephone call, found him at the rear of a warehouse. They said Graff dropped a number of burglar tools and was captured after a chase. He is charged with attempted breaking and entering.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Irvin (Ace) Bailey, who stepped up from senior Petes to star with Toronto Maple Leafs in the NHL when he was 22 years old, would like to see 18-year-old Eric Nesterenko wear the Leafs' No. 6 sweater which Bailey wore in his day. It was permanently retired when the Ace was seriously injured in a game at Boston and had to give up hockey in 1933. Bailey thinks the jump isn't too much for Eric, pointing out that Busher Jackson made the hop when he was 18 and he did okay in the big time. Irvin is one of just seven NHL-ers whose numbers have been retired to honor them. The others were Howie Morenz (No. 7), Ed Shore (2), Lionel Hitchman (3), Dit Clapper (5), Larry Aurie (6), and Bill Barilko (5).

* * * * * *

We've been saying that the Petes must hurdle Belleville to make senior "B" playoffs, but it might just as well be Kingsto that they climb over. Right now the Glens are a step ahead of Kingston in the standing and the latter are getting a little worried. They lost their last start on Quinte ice Friday despite a lot of shuffling of their lineupu. Ken Johnston, who was replaced in goal earlier by Glynn Udall, was returned to the net again, and Bob Joyce has rejoined the squad. The lines were shaken up, with Partis put between MacGregor and White to start; Myke flanked by Gerow and McKeown for the second trio; and Murray centre for Tinkess and Markle. Yet, the K's haven't won a game since they edged the locals 7-6 here Dec. 15.

Those Classy Clippers.

Fur will fly, we expect, when Stouffville Clippers clash the Ellis outfit at Civic tonight. The Clippers play a robust game on their own pond and they didn't spare the gad on Petes in Stouffville the last time these teams met. Game almost got out of hand in the third period with some 16 penalties—including four majors and a misconduct— handed out within 10 minutes. While the Clippers are big and fast (being Ontario champs last year), they too are finding it's a tough group this winter, losing their last two starts to Orillia. The Petes, of course, have to hustle hard now to stay in the playoff hunt as the schedule wears rapidly along. It should be a sizzling scrap.

Male Marines got rolling in the second half of their hoop tussle with Oshawa Grads here Saturday night and wound up with the bulkier side of a 91-67 score. A wide-open game and certainly lots of scoring shown. Bill Edger kept his pitching arm in shape by tossing in 24 points to lead Outboards, followed by Warren Smith with 18 in a neat effort. The locals hope to have Belleville or Orillia here Saturday as they tune up for OABA playdowns later. Another Saturday exhibition saw PCVS midgets down Kenner bantams by eight points, Paul Davis clicking for 10, Beck eight and Bell six for the uptowners. Best for the southend lads were Jerry Montgomery and Bob Hollingsworth in this tilt. A bale of basketball coming up in five gyms here the rest of the winter.

Hoop Lasses Resume.

Girls' basketball schedule at the YW gym resumed after the Christmas layoff, and the second half will run till Feb. 6, with playoffs following. Civic meets Lindsay next Friday, with Collis in against Black's. Games in future are scheduled for 7.30 and 8.30, instead of half an hour later. All contests must commence not more than five minutes past the scheduled time, teams not having enough players on deck then going on with what they have till the rest arrive. Jan. 23 has CGE vs. Black's, and Civic vs. Collis. Jan. 30 it's CGE vs. Civic, and Lindsay vs. Collis. The last date, Feb. 6, calls for Black's vs. Civic, and Lindsay vs. CGE. The LOBA team will be picked from local lasses in this loop.

Huge High Lee, along with Valois, the unmasked Marvel, will team up against the Texan champs, the villainous Dick Raines and Lou Plummer, in the main pro mat at the Brock Arena this Wednesday. Whipper Watson was away in the States for an engagement, so a rematch couldn't be arranged between him and Flan vs. The Texans, but rough Hi Lee wanted a crack at Plummer and Raines, so he and Valois get a chance. That ought to be something, as Lou and Dick can't be any nastier in a ring than Lee and the former Marvel. There'll be a 'hey rube" for sure when these four wild grapplers tangle. Chief Big Heart pits speed against bulk in the semi-final when he meets Man Mountain Dean Jr. Prelim has Joe Christie tackling Frank Taylor.

Heron Replies To Letter Re PMHA Play

"Sir—Bradley admits Ned Vitarelli first handled our game, his first game in PMHA this year. Next he states we had just as long to score goals as his team (but with both our stars in the penalty box and the team shorthanded most of the game how could we?). He does not reply to the whistle stops against us that were wrongly called.

The no timekeeper is a poor excuse and even so I think the rule is to state the playing time to the coach. I noticed the referees talking to him before the game and I should have been informed. Time in hockey is of major import.

Bradley could not see, he admits, from where he was who started the Forrestall-Wilson fracas. O.K., I did see and Forrestall started it and should have had five minutes for fighting instead of two. (We got seven minutes out of that do.). Take seven minutes out of the nine-minute period and your time factor again beats you with just enough penalties to the goal-getters.

The 'silly' as he calls the Shamrock loss is not so foolish as he states because if the Wolves won they could stay in the 'A' playoff, and why not?

He admits two hours' practice for Aces every Sunday. Three teams, that's 40 minutes' practice each team. Why do Aces have this privilege over other teams?

He mentions we have so many rinks. Yes, just this last week while he, Bradley, sewed up the only ice in the district since last October.

Now for the 100 bucks. No, Bradley, I haven't got it but some friends of the team have and they suggested it because they were there and could see what has been going on, i.e., Gary Carr, 5 stitches in the mouth; Bob Revoy knocked out first minute of play, stick in the mouth, requiring stitches; Doug Ruttan out last five games, fractured elbow; Wilson slugged over the ear and head — all good players, and yet we get penalties.

There is great mention about being thrown out of hockey. Well, all the good hockey teams and players in Peterborough have been thrown out so, until Jan. 29, Bradley, if we're still in we will win.

Yours for good sportsmanship and refereeing.

GEORGE HERON"

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

It is now assured that the Canada Packers' bonspiel will be a sell-out; in fact the entry for Saturday, Jan. 24, is closed and there is only room for two more entries for Wednesday, Jan. 21. That means that there will be 56 rinks rinks of 224 curlers competing here on those two days. What a great two days they will be.

We recall the old days when we used to have the all-week open bonspiel — we had many of them; and without looking up records we believe 64 rinks was tops. There was no entry fee them—the local curlers, by subscription, took care of all expenses. The late W. G. Morrow—donor of the Morrow Trophy — was chairman, and the late Harry F. Foote was secretary.

They would hire the Brock St. rink for three days and if you were drawn to play up there your stanes and brooms were put out the east side window onto a bobsleigh and delivered to the Brock St. rink. Then maybe they would be sent back to Charlotte St. rink for the next game.

On the third floor of the Charlotte St. rink was the refreshment booth—and the late Thos. Hooper looked after that part of the 'spiel, all week long. Two barrels of Spies, hot pea soup, cheese, crackers and all the trimmings — the Royal York had nothing on us.

We would commence playing early in the week and you would play when called to — often after midnight.

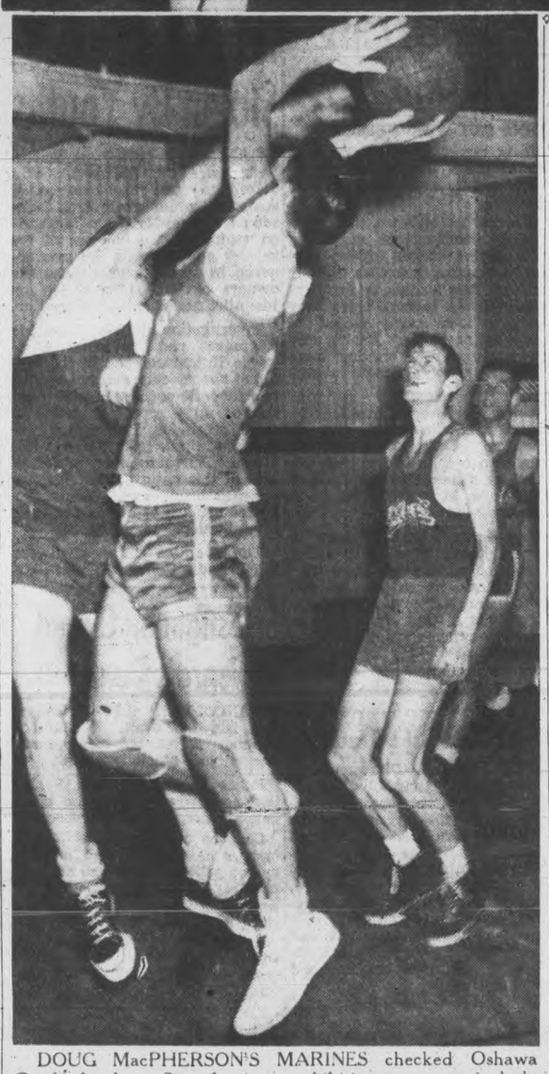
You curled in all four competitions and kept on playing until you either won or were worn out or the ice was worn out. Sometimes it was both.

No matter how late you curled at night, if you were drawn for 9.00 o'clock the next morning, you had to be there — or else. It was no pink tea affair. Oh, yes, those were the days when men were men and each curler owned his own curling stanes and bought his own broom.

The winning skips Saturday afternoon: H. Baptie, B. Jeffries and J. Sinclair.

At night, Geo. Gobel and A. Ingram were the winners.

Two Horses Split Junior Free-For-All



TORONTO (CP)—Frisco Meredith and Junior Counsel divided the junior free-for-all pace Saturday, each winning a heat in the sixth and featured event at Dufferin Park.

In the first heat Frisco Meredith, owned by John R. Reid of Ailsa Craig, Ont., and driven by Joe Hodgins, withstood the last-minute bid of second-place Maudeen Volo in a photo finish.

Junior Counsel, owned by Frank Bouchard of Drummondville, Que., and handled by F. Pouliot, won going away with Maudeen Volo again second.

Last-Place Greenshirts Edge Marlboros By 2-1

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was a week-end of upsets in the Ontario Hookey Association Junior A series.

The last-place Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts edged the league-leading Toronto Marlboros 2-1 in Toronto Sunday. The second-place Flyers were nosed out 4-3 by Oshawa Generals Saturday.

Windsor Spitfires, another team hitting the win column regularly in recent weeks, lost 5-0 in Galt Saturday and 6-1 to St. Catharines Teepees in Windsor Sunday. The Teepees took over fourth place.

Guelph Biltmores missed their star forward Billy McCreary, in hospital after an appendix operation, as they dropped the first game of a Quebec tour to the lowly Montreal Royals 5-4.

Meanwhile Montreal Canadiens took over first place in the Quebec Junior League by blasting Three Rivers Reds 6-1. In the other game in Toronto Sunday St. Michael's moved to within two points of Barrie by defeating Oshawa 8-6.

The St. Michael's goals were by Bill Dineen, Ted Toppazzini and Jim Logan, each with two, Paul Knox and Ed Plata. Oshawa goals were notched by Bob Attersley with two, Harry Sinden, Rock Collin, Fred Etcher and Stan Parker.

TOP SCORERS

Gerry Collins and Marc Boileau scored for Kitchener Sunday. Wally Maxwell tallied the Marlboro goal.

Orv Tessier scored all three Barrie goals Saturday at Oshawa. Rock Collin scored the winner for Oshawa and others were by Etcher Attersley and Roger Maisonneuve.

Jim McBurney ran his total points to 42 Saturday by scoring twice as Galt shut out Windsor. Bill Lalonde, John Muckler and Dick Manthen counted the other goals.

At Windsor Sunday Jerry Price scored the only Windsor goal. Ken Schinkel paced St. Catharines with two goals. Wimp Roberts, Brian Cullen, Hank Ciesla and Willie Haas accounted for the others.

Chuck Henderson scored three times for the Biltmores and Ron Murphy added the other. John McGillivray scored the winner for Montreal. Sandy Morrison notched two others and Claude Beaupre and Ross Watson rounded out the scoring.

Claude Provost set the pace for the Canadiens' move back into first place with three goals against Three Rivers. Others were by Guy Rousseau, Yvan Chasles and Dennis Boucher. Louis Desrosiers scored for Three Rivers.

Basketball Star Said Kidnapped

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Bob Schafer, Villanova College's high scoring sophomore basketball star, was kidnapped near the campus here Tuesday night by four strangers who asked him to be "less active in future games," a college spokesman said Saturday.

The spokesman said federal bureau of investigation agents are investigating.

The 19-year-old Schafer reported his 45-minute ride to college authorities, and after four days of investigation, the college spokesman said, no one is certain whether Schafer was the victim of a prank or an attempt by gamblers to influence his play.

TVL Cuts Imports On Norwood Squad

The Trent Valley Hockey League executive in a weekend meeting ruled that Norwood must decide on just four imports from the former Eagles' senior "B" hockey club for the rest of the TVL season. It was decided that Honey Tompkins could not come under the import rule as he played last year for Norwood, so he can continue to play for that team. Norwood will definitely pick Ross Nicholls, goalie, as one of the four they're allowed, but must pick just three from the remaining half dozen, Rochetta, Hill, Crowley, Wootton, Mortimer and Stewart. Those not chosen to play for Norwood are eligible to play for other TVL northern division teams which have not used four imports so far of senior "B" calibre. The standing to date:

Marines Defeat Oshawa In A 91-67 Cage Game Paced By Edger With 24

Together for the first time this season as a team, the Marines, coached by Doug MacPherson, opened the intermediate "B" basketball season Saturday by trouncing Oshawa Grads 91-67. Earlier this year a group of players from the city league walloped the Grads in Oshawa by a similar score. Saturday's game is the first in a series of Saturday night exhibition games prior to entering the Ontario playdowns. Organized as a team only Tuesday night, Marines actually were together for the first time Saturday night. Most of the players have been playing for various teams in the city league.

For the first quarter and most of the second, Marines relied upon individual efforts and were quite loose defensively. This helped the youthful Grads who have been together since well before Christmas to cling closely to Marines. But early in the second half the locals began to work defensive and offensive plays with ease to run up the score.

Bill Edger, with an expert display of close-in shooting, hit his stride in the first quarter. He netted 17 points which allowed Marines to hold a slight 27-26 at the first quarter.

OVERCAME LEAD

The Marines, with Edger again leading the team, overcame a small Grads' lead early in the second quarter. Those few minutes during which Marines were behind changed their style from individual to team, resulting in more points. But the Grads held on for a 43-42 score at the half.

From the centre face-off to open the second half, Ted Payne with a one-hand shot put Marines ahead. Within minutes they climbed to 51-43. From there in their plays worked almost perfectly and they piled score upon score.

Edger's 17-point scoring spree in the first quarter and his seven in the other three gave him the game's scoring honor. Warren Smith, who appeared to be at a playing calibre equal to his best years with Marines several years ago, was the main spark-plug in the second half burst. He finally ended up with 18 points.

BEGAN TO ROLL

After the rather so-so first half, all the Marines began to play better, Gord Burns, Hugh Dibben, Al Northcott, Ted Payne, Harold Grafstein and Chum Gillespie standing out.

The Grads, who specialize in youth and a fast game, threw quite a scare into the Marines in the first half. At times they looked much better as they weaved passing patterns around the Marines' defence.

Oshawa Collegiate's donation to the Grads, Nick Mroczeck, was a thorn in Marines' side throughout the game. His scoring punch, like Edger's, came in the first quarter but he persisted throughout.

Ralph Riseborough, another familiar collegiate name from the Motor City, matched Mcoczeck's efforts. His close-in work helped the Grads lift the lead from Marines in the second quarter. Late in the fourth his points saved Grads from a more severe defeat.

Next Saturday the Marines hope to arrange an exhibition game with either Belleville or Orillia.

Lineups—Marines (91) —Dibben 7, Burns 7, Edger 24, Thompson 8, Northcott 7, Grafstein 4, Frise 4, Payne 8, Smith 18, Stewart 4, Gillespie.

Oshawa Grads (67) — Riseborough 17, Wilson 5, Edwards 5, Mroczeck 17, Gingerish 8, Perry 3, Hill 4, Reddock 6, Ross 2.

Woodbine Track Abandons Steeplechasing

TORONTO (CP)—The timber-toppers have seen their last racing season in Toronto.

Announcement that the historic Woodbine racetrack will abandon steeplechases closed the books on the sport enjoyed by "gentleman riders" in Canada for more than 50 years. The poor season for the jumpers at Woodbine last fall seems to have closed the curtains on steeplechasing as a racetrack attraction.

Col. K. R. Marshall, president of the Ontario Jockey Club, in announcing the end of steeplechasing at Woodbine, said: "The truth of the matter is that public interest in and support of the jumping sport didn't come up to our anticipations."

NEW HARNESS ROUTE

Earlier, track officials announced that the infield steeplechase course would be torn down and a half-mile harness horse track erected, following acquisition by the OJC of Toronto Thorncliffe track's running horse charter and the Vondale Holding Company's harness horse charters.

Main reason for the demise of steeplechasing in Canada is said to be the fact that owners can not afford jumpers. Winnings slipped on small purses, as track owners found bettors unwilling to wager on animals with unfamiliar form and records.

Oldest recorded Canadian steeplechase, the Fraser Memorial, was introduced at Woodbine in 1885. The popular Autumn steeplechase was first staged in 1907.

Hearts of Oak, owned by Harry Giddings, swung attention to the sport when, after winning the King's Plate in 1913 as a three-year-old, he returned to take the Autumn steeplechase, first and only horse to win both events.

University Of Toronto Takes All But One First

TORONTO (CP)—The University of Toronto senior intercollegiate swimming team took firsts in all but one event Saturday night to defeat Buffalo State Teachers' College 59-25.

The U. of T. Intermediates beat Royal Military College of Kingston 37-32. RMC entered only one man in each race and won all but two, one in which they had no entry. Varsity won on points picked up for placing second and third each time.

Hart Devenney, a newcomer to Toronto, set an intercollegiate record when he swam the 220-yard freestyle in 2:19.4.

Red Wings Trample Toronto 5-2, Howe Gets 3 Goals

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Gordie Howe appears on the way to another National Hockey League scoring championship. The hefty right-winger, hero of Detroit fans, has topped the league in the point-getting department for the last two years. Last season he was voted the most valuable player in the league as well. This season—his seventh with the first-place Red Wings—he is leading the loop with 25 goals and 23 assists. He is tops in both departments. His closest rival is Wally Hergesheimer of New York who has 19 goals and 24 assists.

Howe, a native of Floral, Sask., who broke into pro ranks from Galt of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, boosted his season's total by three goals Sunday night in Detroit's 5-2 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs.

In other Sunday games the last-place New York Rangers scored a surprise 7-0 shutout over third-place Montreal Canadiens and second-place Chicago Black Hawks downed Boston Bruins 4-2. Saturday Montreal defeated the Black Hawks 5-2 while Toronto defeated Boston 3-1.

17th VICTORY

Detroit's victory was the 17th in its last 18 starts. Rookie goalie Glen Hall, up from Edmonton of the Western Hockey League, was in the Detroit net replacing the injured Terry Sawchuck who had been expected to be in his regular spot.

Ted Lindsay and Reg Sinclair scored the other Detroit goals. Gord Hannigan and Bob Hassard notched the Toronto markers.

New York's shutout was the Rangers' first victory of the season over Montreal and their seventh win of the campaign. The shutout was the first for rookie goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley.

Jack Stoddard paced the New York attack with a pair of goals. Paul Ronty, Wally Hergesheimer, Dean Prentice, Nick Mickoski and Neil Strain each netted once.

Chicago forward Jimmy Peters broke a 2-2 deadlock at Boston late in the third period to give the Black Hawks the edge. Lee Fogolin added the insurance marker. Pentti Lund and rookie Warren Godfrey had scored for Boston and Al Dewsbury and Fred Hucul for Chicago.

MANY PENALTIES

Montreal's victory Saturday night came in the midst of penalties and protests. Two major penalties and one misconduct were among the 14 called.

Elmer Lach scored two for the Canadiens, Bert Olmstead, Paul Meger and Maurice Richard each netting one. George Gee and Bill Mosienko scored for Chicago.

Harry Watson scored two for Toronto Saturday night, Eric Nesterenko, who just turned pro from Toronto Marlboros of the OHA Junior A series, netting the other. Real Chevrefils scored for Boston.

Mangrum Wins Tourney Honors

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Nerveless Lloyd Mangrum, with a gallery of thousands watching, calmly stroked in a 30-foot putt on the final green Sunday to win professional honors of the Bing Crosby golf tournament with a 54-hole record-breaking total of 204.

The stylish, slender former United States open champion dropped his $2,000-winning putt for a birdie four to rack up a one-under-par 71 for the rugged Pebble Beach course. He had previous rounds of 67 and 66 over the nearby Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula Country Club layouts.

U. S. open champion Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., took second money of $1,205 with a 208.

A former U.S. open title winner, Laws Little, Jr., of Pebble Beach, grabbed third place and a $1,000 prize with 209.

Stan Horne, Montreal, carded 74-73-81 for a 228-total.

Hoover Turns Down $100,000 Job Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, turned down Sunday a $100,000-a-year job as head of the International Boxing Club.

James B. Norris, president of the IBC, announced that he had received a wire from Hoover expressing appreciation of the offer made to him, but that he could not consider acceptance of such an opportunity at this time.

Soviet Skaters Outclass Swedes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union clearly outclassed a five-man Swedish speed-skating team in a two-day meet which ended Sunday, and convinced many foreign experts the Russians may be the world's top team.

"They are fantastic," said Sven Loftman, president of the Swedish Skating Union.

The unofficial results showed that Russia won with a low total of 784.049 compared to 807,089 for the Swedes.

Saskatchewan Riders Make $13,301 Profit

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders made a profit of $13,301 in 1952 although they finished in last place in the Western Football Conference.

The club's annual meeting Sunday heard that the 1952 profit added to the 1951 surplus of $36,370 gave riders a $49,671 bank balance and a healthy start for the 1953 season.

Bob Kramer, re-elected for his third year as president, said that there are some half a dozen applicants for the coaching job to succeed playing coach Glenn Dobbs. Dobbs will return next season in a playing capacity only.

Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, who scored three goals and drew an assist Sunday night as his team handed Toronto Maple Leafs a 5-2 National Hockey League setback.

Elmer Lach of Montreal, who scored twice and assisted on two goals Saturday as the Canadiens trounced Chicago Black Hawks 5-2.

Lorne Worsley, who scored his first shutout of the season Sunday as New York Rangers blanked Montreal 7-0.

Harry Watson of Toronto, who scored two goals Saturday in pacing the Maple Leafs to a 3-1 victory over Boston Bruins.

5-Man Tourney Recommended To Decide Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Boxing Association Sunday recommended a five-man tournament to determine the "American" middleweight champion who then will meet the winner of a Randy Turpin-Charles Humez bout for the world title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Although the recommendations now carry only NBA blessing, they are expected to be approved by the New York commission today when a three-man committee meets with chairman Bob Christenberry.

Strangely enough, there is a Frenchman in the NBA "American" eliminations. This came about because Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., one of the top-ranking Americans, already had been matched with Pierre Langlois of France for a Feb. 6 bout at Madison Square Garden.

"Langlois was included because of his match with Castellani," NBA commissioner Abe Greene explained. "If he should beat Castellani, he would have to supersede him in the rankings."

The tournament calls for four bouts before the "American" champion is crowned. Two of the matches already have been made.

Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu meets Norman Hayes of Boston at Boston Feb. 7 in one elimination battle.

After the Castellani-Langlois bout the winner will meet Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N.J., with the survivor of that bout facing the Olson-Hayes winner for American recognition.

The NBA also moved in on the heavyweight situation.

Commissioner Greene and George Barton of Minneapolis, NBA president, said the NBA will call on Rocky Marciano and Joe Walcott for plans to carry out the contract for a rematch.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, hopes to stage the title bout at Chicago Stadium, Friday, April 10.

DIRECTS MANPOWER — Group Capt. Cavendish Carling-Kelly of Toronto is director of organization and manpower for Allied Air Forces Central Europe, with headquarters at Fontainebleau, France. The veteran RCAF officer has the delicate task of filling manpower needs with a view to maintaining a reasonable balance among the countries associated with the NATO plan. Croup Capt. Carling-Kelly previously was air attache at the Canadian embassy in Paris for two years and before that had a staff job at Ottawa.

European Methods Slower But Often More Effective

FONTAINEBLEAU, France (CP) —Applying a cut-and-dried mathematical formula to complex personnel problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has Group Capt. Cavendish Carling-Kelly of Toronto walking a mental tight-rope.

Carling-Kelly, a veteran RCAF officer, is director of organization and manpower for Allied Air Forces Central Europe. This entails filling manpower needs with a view to maintaining a reasonable balance among nationalities.

"Getting the job done and still keeping the various members of the family happy has me walking a mental tight-rope," says the Toronto officer.

In theory, the idea is to draw 25 per cent of personnel each from Britain, France and the United States. A little more than eight per cent each are supposed to come from Canada, Belgium and Holland.

In practice, "we don't break the rule—we bend it a little."

Thus if a country can't supply a radio operator on request, he is supplied on a temporary basis from wherever possible. The right nationality is supplied when available to keep the ratio in order. On this basis the U.S. supplies 35 per cent of personnel for headquarters.

Not that Carling-Kelly is worried: "I am confident we can work our problems out together," he says. "I have found that European methods of doing a job, although slower, are sometimes more effective and more thorough. It's like the contrast between the North American quick lunch and the European heavier, longer meal. The North American gets through quicker, the European eats better—but in the end they both feed themselves and that was their objective."

Use New Methods To Publish Paper

By RONALD MacLURKIN

MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters) —The Manchester Guardian is planning to publish a London edition using new methods which may revolutionize British newspaper publishing.

The plans, marking the culmination of three years' secret work by a team of scientists and engineers, are a move by the internationally-known, 131-year-old newspaper to win a bigger circulation against competition of London dailies.

The orthodox method of publishing in another city—by setting up a complete newsplant there—is beyond the resources of the 130,000-circulation Guardian. Instead, the paper will harness modern inventions, using photograpnic telegraph transmission and lithographic printing.

Under the new method, the paper will go to press in Manchester each evening in the ordinary way. A proof will be pulled of each page and transmitted photographically to London, 180 miles away.

HOURS EARLIER

There, the photographic film of each page will be turned into a plate for lithographic printing. By this means almost perfect copies of the paper will be distributed in London and southern England 3½ hours earlier than the Guardian can get copies there now.

Although experiments to bring about the novel method of two-city publishing have been in progress for three years, the Guardian is only now in a position to place orders for the necessary machinery, which will take a considerable time to deliver. Thus the project is not expected to start for three or four years.

Apart from a bare outline of the plans, circulated to the Guardian's staff, the newspaper has not disclosed so far the technical processes involved. But the fact that scientists and engineers have been working so long on the project suggests to experts that the Guardian may have pioneered improvements on existing methods of transmitting photographs by wire over long distances.

It is not yet known whether there will be any variation in the news content between the Manchester and London editions.

BRITISH PARADOX

It is one of the paradoxes of the British newspaper industry that the Guardian should have readers scattered in many parts of the world and yet have difficulties circulating throughout Britain itself.

One of the big obstacles is the English climate which, with fogs and sudden gales, makes distribution by air uncertain.

Although the plan will put the Guardian ahead of its present London time-schedule, it will still have to go to press two hours earlier than newspapers actually printed in London to be able to compete with them in getting on the streets.

The Guardian, so far as is known, will be the first daily newspaper in the world to publish in a distant centre by the combined telephoto-lithograph process—unless others step in before its plans are ready.

In the fierce fight for circulation among Britain's big national dailies, newspapers with headquarters in London have set up whole printing plants and editorial departments in other cities. The Daily Express, which has a daily circulation of about 4,000,000, prints and publishes in London, Manchester and Glasgow. The Daily Mail with a circulation of 2,100,000 does likewise in London, Manchester and Edinburgh.

DAILY MIRROR TOPS

The newspaper with the biggest sale of all, however, the Daily Mirror which sells 4,400,000 copies a day, prints only in London.

The Guardian, which last September began publishing news instead of advertisements on its front page, has the quality of plain hard-hitting in its opinion.

But, at the same time it has wit and polished writing. Many of its day-to-day reports not only tell the news but are regarded as brilliant essays.

Known as "the voice of Britain's conscience," the Guardian has steadfastly voiced the country's liberal tradition.

Behind its bid to extend its readership is its board chairman, Laurence P. Scott, 43, a grandson of the Guardian's famous editor, C. P. Scott, who became editor at 25 and did not retire until he was 82.

Appeal Right Denied

HAMILTON (CP)—Harry Lee, 37, sentenced to hanged Jan. 20 for the murder of Mrs. Mary Rosenblatt, Saturday was denied the right to appeal before the Supreme Court of Canada. John Argo, counsel for Lee, said Sunday he hopes for a postponement of execution long enough to allow him to uncover new evidence.

Gambling Raid Nets 3

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The provincial police anti-gambling squad Saturday night raided a house here and arrested three men. Fred Bailey, Chris Christoff and Roy Petrychanko were charged with keeping a common gaming house and bookmaking. They were remanded until Jan. 15 on bail of $300 each.

Loses Right Arm

PETROLIA (CP)—Richard Wunder, 30, of Sarnia lost his right arm as the result of a hunting accident Saturday. In hospital here his condition was termed "fair." Police said the man's 12-gauge shotgun discharged as he climbed through a fence one mile east of Oil City. The charge ripped into his upper arm and shoulder and amputation was necessary.

Fire Destroys House

DUNGANNON, Ont. (CP)—Fire destroyed the home of Clifford Sproul and his four small children near here Saturday night. The family was away at the time. Neighbors discovered the fire and called Goderich fire department. But firemen said the blaze had gained too much headway by the time they arrived.

Peterborough District Ducks, Suffers Little From Storm That Sweeps Across Ontario

The Peterborough district is becoming a fast stepping sparring mate of the weather. The district ducked again and took only a light blow to the mid-section over the weekend.

Other parts of the province and the United States didn't escape. But Peterborough received some sleet and people walked and cars were driven warily. The result was that the district suffered little discomfort from the storm and there were a minimum of traffic accidents.

The city was blacked out for five minutes Saturday night because some boys had shot away hydro pole insulators in Jackson Park.

Other parts of Ontario experienced the worst ice storm in 10 years and cities such as Kitchener and Guelph took the full force of the wintry blast.

Will Peterborough be able to dodge the next attack? Time will tell. Tomorrow promises to be sunny and cool.

Adjudicator Hopes To Find Understanding Of Plays

OTTAWA (CP)—The British playwright-producer who will judge regional festivals leading to the Dominion Drama Festival in Victoria said today he looks for signs that Canadian theatre groups are trying to get at the spirit of a play rather than a perfect technical performance.

John Allen, 40, British Broadcasting Corporation writer - producer and former member of London's Old Vic, arrived here today to begin 12 weeks as adjudicator of regional festivals across the country.

His first job will be adjudicating the Eastern Ontario regional festival which starts here Tuesday night and runs until Saturday with groups from Ottawa, Brockville, Cobourg and Peterborough competing.

He will then swing east to Quebec and the Maritimes, move west to the Prairies and Pacific coast and end his tour at St. John's March 28.

TRY TO UNDERSTAND

"What I look for is a sign that the people playing have made a real attempt to understand the basic things of the theatre, that they aren't just putting on a play according to the "text book," he said in an interview.

"I hope to see that they are thinking what the play is about and how to express it in their performance. I don't look for a slick technical performance but that they have taken a good mental look at the play and tried to put their ideas into effect within their limits."

In British drama festivals, the stress in recent years has been on the spirit rather than the technical accomplishment which may be according to the book but lacking in feeling," he said.

"Of course, the ideal is both but when you find new enthusiasm in young groups, you attach a good deal of value to it."

CANADIAN FLAVOR

Mr. Allen, who worked for many years with Michael Saint Dennis, another former DDF adjudicator, at the Old Vic, said he also hopes to see "something really Canadian —Canadian plays about Canadian themes."

The feeling in Britain about Canadian theatre is that its best "is very good indeed but that it is lacking in Canadian stuff and has a considerable amount of Broadway in it."

Insulators Broken City Blacked Out During Rain

Peterborough was blacked out for five minutes Saturday night at 11 p.m. and citizens have boys breaking insulators with rocks or air rifles to thank for it.

Ice and freezing rain on the post where almost all the insulators had been broken provided a path for electricity to the ground and the city was cut off.

All the city except Ashburnham and other small sections of the city were in darkness.

Hydro officials said insulators were broken on hydro poles in Jackson Park on the 44,000 volt line which supplies most of the city.

A patrol of linemen went out on the dangerous job of trying to repair the break in lines still wet and coated with ice. Although the city had power again in five minutes, the linemen worked all night repairing the damage.

One north end resident saw the flash of electricity that looked like lightning and then the city was in blackness.

Hydro men are checking the five-mile length of the 44,000 volt line for other broken insulators in an attempt to avoid another blackout.

Dr. J. E. Plunkett Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA—. Dr. John Elmer Plunkett, 52, specialist in internal medicine and a native of Peterborough died in hospital here on Sunday following a heart attack.

He was assistant professor of clinical medicine of Queen's University, Kingston, teaching students who came to the Ottawa Civic Hospital as internes.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Plunkett he lived as a boy at 239 Westcott St., and attended the King Edward Public School and the Collegiate Institute. He graduated in June 1917. He then entered the drug store of William Madill, which was situated at the southwest corner of George and Hunter Sts.

He graduated from the University of Toronto as a pharmacist in 1922 and in 1930 took his medical degree at Queen's. He studied for three years at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., before starting a practice in Ottawa in 1935.

Since 1945 he has been honorary secretary of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. He was also active on the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Association, the New York Academy of Sciences, the Ontario Medical Association and the American Heart Association.

Former schoolmates in Peterborough recall that Dr. Plunkett was a studious sort of chap. He worked hard to put himself through college. He took no part in sports as he worked after school in the drug store.

He gave his life to his chosen profession and any who saw him recently thought that he was overworked.

He leaves his wife and two children.

UNCONSCIOUS ON THE FLOOR while his frame home was blazing, an Otonabee township carpenter was snatched from a fiery death Saturday night by a neighbor, and Hilliard Berridge (left), a passing motorist. Claude Langford, 40, was apparently overcome by smoke and only help of the two men saved him. Within an hour, his home was completely gutted (top photo) and only the basement frame was left. The furniture, including a new refrigerator, (bottom photo) was burned beyond saving. Only one or two household articles, such as the washing machine, were saved. J. J. Southern Dies In Toronto

John J. Southern, 57, former manager of the Old Auburn Woollen Mill which was situated on the bank of the Otonabee river just north of the city in the township of Douro died Saturday in Toronto.

Born in Pittsfield, Mass., Mr. Southern came to Canada in 1923 as assistant manager of the Dominion Woollen Mills in Peterborough. At that time there were two mills, the Bonner Worth on McDonnel St. and the Auburn. The headquarters of the company was also located in this city. In 1937 Mr. Southern left to join the Barrymore Cloth Company and became manager of the Pembroke branch. A year later the greater part of the Auburn mill was wrecked and the machinery taken to Hespeler.

While here, Mr. Southern married Julia O'Brien, a sister of Dr. J. M. O'Brien and Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, both of Peterborough.

There survive his widow and two daughters, Joan and Barbara.

Train Hits Truck 2 Jump Clear

ARNPRIOR (CP)—Two men escaped injury today when they leaped from the cab of their tractor trailer just before it was struck by the Canadian National Railways' Ottawa-Barry's bay local near this town 35 miles west of Ottawa.

Gaston Marceau of Montreal, driver of the vehicle, and Armand Rheault of Victoriaville, Que., jumped from the cab just before the impact after they applied the brakes and found the accident inevitable.

The heavy vehicle was loaded with furniture, which was strewn for some distance along the right of way.

Canadian Soldier Deported From US

FORT ERIE, Ont. (CP) —A Canadian soldier is being held in Fort Erie jail for provost official in Oakville. He was deported by United States immigration officials.

Joseph Gallant, 26, is believed to have spent the recent festive season in United States without leave from the army, police said.

Edmund Wand, Industrialist Of Early Peterborough Dies

One of Peterborough's early industrialists, Edmund Wand, 85, 191 Wolsley St., died at his home Saturday, following a week's illness. Mr. Wand was born in Ripingale, Yorkshire, England, and came to Canada and Peterborough when an infant. With the exception of five years when he resided in Buffalo, 1885-1890, he has lived in this city all his life.

HAD MILL 38 YEARS

Owner and operator of the Wand sash and woodworking mill for about 38 years, Mr. Wand retired in 1943 and sold his business to the Peterborough Lumber Co.

The Wand Mill, situated on the east bank of the Otonabee River, was the last of a former industrial centre of the community which had been built alongside the water power of the river. Many years ago, the mill was owned by members of the Wand family. Later it was purchased by Robert Clinkscale, from whom Mr. Wand bought it in 1905.

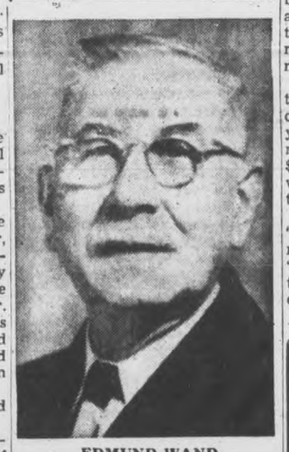
The property is now owned by the Quaker Oats Co.

The woodwork done in this factory can be seen in many of Peterborough's public buildings such as the Public Library, PCVS, the Armouries and Murray St. Baptist Church. But the greatest monument to Mr. Wand's service in the community is Mark St. United Church. He was one of a group chiefly responsible for the erection of the church and all of the woodwork used in the building came from his mill.

Mr. Wand was an active member of Mark St. United Church until he moved from Burnham St. to Wilson St. about 16 years ago, when he changed his membership to George St. United Church. At Mark St. Church he was a trustee and member of the board of stewards for many years.

IN BAND 40 YEARS

Another area in which Mr. Wand served the community was in the 57th Regimental Band of which he was a member for 40 years. He retired in 1927. He played one of the first saxaphones ever to be seen in this district. At the time he joined the band, saxophones were just gaining recognition in the musical world. Rupert Glidden, bandmaster at that time, decided this instrument would be a fine addition to the Regimental Band and saxaphones were imported from Paris.



Mr. Wand was also a member of the Peterborough Lodge 155 AF and AM and of the Corinthian Chapter RAM No. 36 GRC. On October 25, 1951, he, along with Dr. J. M. McCulloch, William Henry, James Hamilton and Arthur McClellan, all masons of more than 50 years, turned the sod at the new masonic temple on Rubidge St.

39 Die In Storm In United States

CHICAGO (AP)—Rain and snow pelted both United States seaboards today, but without the violence of last week's storms that exacted a toll of 39 lives and millions of dollars of property damage.

Southwest Virginia had its heaviest snowstorm of the new year and it was snowing again in the northeast, where as much as 20 inches fell last week.

Along the East coast below New York the precipitation was mostly rain.

The mayor of Redondo Beach, Calif., reported $15,000,000 damage from towering waves which crashed over ocean-front property Saturday and Sunday. He reported streets and sidewalks undermined, utility installations washed out, the seawall breached and more than a score of buildings wrecked. Similar damage was reported from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

Brethren of Peterborough Lodge A.F. & A.M. No. 155 are hereby advised of an emergent meeting to be held in the Comstock Funeral Home, Rubidge Street, on Monday evening at seven o'clock for the purpose of attending a funeral service for our late Bro. Edmund Wand and at seven-thirty attending the funeral of our late Bro. James Rigden. Brethern of sister lodges invited.

Workers Desire Unity UE Declares

George Wallace, president of Local 524, UE, has denounced the fourth campaign of the rival IUE to organize CGE production workers as "a fourth round of raiding."

"It is obvious to the workers in the plant that this is clearly an act to help the company, because IUE has not a chance of getting the support of the workers," Mr. Wallace said. "The workers are anxious for unity . . . and are demonstrating their support for UE by supporting our union in more than 3,000 strong. Further, the IUE has failed to get even a small group from the plant to agree to carry on raiding this year."

The blast by Mr. Wallace follows the announcement Saturday by Joe Wirtz, co-ordinator of Canadian IUE-CIO, that the right-wing electrical union was once again launching a campaign to try and supplant the left-wing UE in the Peterborough works.

CONTRACT ENDS MARCH 27

The two-year contract between UE and management ends March 27 and the IUE have a two-month period before that date to make application. If they can sign up 45 per cent of the workers the Ontario Labor Relations Board will automatically order a vote at the plant.

IUE have made three previous attempts and all of them were unsuccessful.

SENDING OUT LETTERS

Mr. Wallace said the IUE had been sending out letters since the end of October to CGE workers in an attempt to get them to come to meetings. But they have been unsuccessful, he claimed.

Seniority provisions in the UE contract, attacked by Mr. Wirtz, were stoutly defended by Local 524's president.

"The seniority provisions in our agreement are the best to be found in this country," he said.. "This has been attested to time and time again again by chairmen of arbitration boards, as well as the results we have in protecting the members."

As an indication of the value of the seniority provisions in the contract, Mr. Wallace said that last year in the small motors department alone the union had won $1,336 in lost wages for employees who had been laid off contrary to these provisions.

He charged the IUE, led by their "American representatives," were raiding on the eve of negotiations "because this is characteristic of their plan to divide and disrupt established unions."

Two Ordered Stand Trial Lindsay Case

Third Man Sought By Police For Part In Offence

LINDSAY (ENS)—Gerald Statham, 17 and Wilfred Dumoulin, 36, both of Lindsay, were today committed for trial at the spring assizes of Victoria county court following a preliminary hearing held in camera.

They were charged with raping a 15-year-old girl Christmas night. It is alleged that a third man took part, but so far he has not been apprehended.

The offence was said to have taken place on an Ops township road west of Lindsay. The girl was with her boy friend, who was held and threatened.

At the conclusion of the crown's evidence, defence counsel, H. E. Richardson, moved for dismissal of the charge on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the charge being sent to a higher court.

Magistrate E. A. Gee, however, said enough evidence had been presented for the charge to go before a jury.

Bail will have to be arranged with a Supreme Court Justice for the two men. The spring assizes begin in Victoria county Feb. 16.

Jean-Guy Allain and two companions were being driven to police headquarters for questioning in connection with thefts from a reform school when Allain pulled out a gun and wounded a constable. In the resulting street battle in Tetreaultville, Allain was shot through the head and died in hospital.

Bertrand Dussault, 26, of Montreal was found shot to death after firing twice at a woman companion. Police said it was suicide.

Ontario's three deaths were all traffic fatalities and were caused by glazed highways. They were: Samuel McGraw, 41, of Toronto, of head injuries in a two-car collision between Cooksville; and Brampton; Mrs. Betty Laurel Forsyth, 26, of St. Thomas, when the car in which she was riding struck a tree and hydro pole; Fred Litwinowich, 47, of Port Colborne, struck by a skidding car

Noted Artist Guest Speaker At Marmora

MARMORA (ENS) —With the noted Canadian artist, William Winter, ARCA, as entertainer, the annual Ladies' Night sponsored by Marmora District Chamber of Commerce and held in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall on Friday evening proved a decided all round success. The ladies received a carnation on entering the hall.

The Catholic Women's League served a supper to the crowd of almost two hundred.

Vaughan Glover, the chamber's president, was toastmaster and welcomed everyone attending. A selection on the bones was then given by Allan Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant.

The toast to "The Ladies" was handled by Reeve C. H. Buskard of Deloro and Mrs. D. P. Marett replied. Miss Barbara and Miss Mary Meiklejohn effectively sang "Song of the Danube" with Mrs. Alex Fraser accompanying on the piano.

James Cummings introduced Mr. Winter to the gathering mentioning his attainments and adding the information that he and Mrs. Winter (who was present) had spent several summers at Belmont Lake.

On rising to speak, the noted artist remarked that he was accustomed to presenting art for the eye rather than for the ear. He would say however that there were many kinds of artists and many kinds of art, all of interest to the individual artist.

PAINTS IN OILS

It was customary for each artist, like a speaker, to make notes on their subject of a shorthand quality. He passed out some of his own notes of that type for his audience to see. Approaching his easel, he directed attention to a sketch of three children on the beach at Belmont Lake that he had drawn last summer and announced he was about to give a demonstration of oil painting with the use of the sketch for his subject. During his running talk describing his use of colors at the various stages of the painting, he made several amusing remarks whereby he retained the attention of his audience which he treated as a large art class. He also said, "Painting is half-way between poetry and carpentry". At the close of the demonstration, he was thanked by William Shannon who on behalf of the Chamber presented him with a Cheddar cheese.

A pleasing pianoforte selection having been contributed by Barbara Meikeljohn, Canon J. M. Brownlie expressed thanks to entertainers and caterers after which "O Canada" was sung and the gathering dispersed.

Grant Reporters Permission To See Stepinac

By ALEX SINGLETON

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist government today first denied and then granted newspapermen permission to see ailing Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac.

Only five hours after militia men had stopped this correspondent two miles from the village of Krasic where Stepinac lives, the director of information in Zagreb granted permission for me to visit the cardinal.

A spokesman for the director termed the action by the militia "a blunder."

The militia had halted me in an automobile hired from the official government travel agency and said that under a new regulation official permission must be obtained by any visitor to the spiritual leader of Yugoslavia's 7,000,000 Roman Catholics.

SENT TO POLICE

The mix-up occurred on the day that Stepinac and 23 other Catholic prelates were elevated to the rank of cardinal at the Vatican.

The soldiers demanded passport and identification cards of the correspondent and his translator, refused to allow them to see the cardinal and then referred them to the local police.

The sergeant in charge of the local station sent the correspondent and his translator to the district police headquarters. There they were informed that permission to visit the cardinal must first be obtained from the director of information.

Accidents Few As Rain Freezes On Highways

COBOURG (ENS)—Apart from two vehicles sliding in the ditch, traffic accidents were nil on Saturday night, in spite of freezing rain. Provincial police were afraid that the sleet would be the cause of several accidents but motorists apparently were driving carefully. Yesterday the snow and ice had softened and the highways were bare.

Special Session To Take Over Power Plant

WINNIPEG (CP) — A special session of the Manitoba legislature opens Tuesday to bring power plants of one of the two private hydro-electric utilities in the province under government control.

By doing so the government hopes to end any possibility of a power shortage predicted six years ago and the subject of bitter controversy.

The session, to deal solely with the power problem, is not expected to last more than a week. The regular session opens in mid-February.

Today at Toronto, shareholders of the Winnipeg Electric Company vote on a proposal to sell 564,869 common shares to the Manitoba government at $36.50 a share. There is little chance of a "no" vote.

ACCEPTED BY 80 PER CENT

The Manitoba offer already has been accepted by 80 per cent of shareholders. The margin necessary for approval is 75 per cent.

Manitoba is taking over electrical assets of the utility becomes the owner of power plants at Great Falls and Seven Sisters on the Winnipeg river. The government intends combining low-cost power from these older plants with high-cost power from its own at Pine Falls and another under construction at McArthur Falls.

To an extent the scheme is a modification of "plan C" defeated in Winnipeg referendum last year. Ratepayers voted against the plant almost 2 to 1, mostly because implementing it would include buying City Hydro, owned by the city.

At least five bills and possibly six will have to be passed to complete the power deal. The major bill will amend the Hydro-Development Act authorizing the hydro-electric board to make the offer to shareholders.

Two supply bills will be introduced: one to vote money for expenses of the session, the other to authorize the government to make a first payment of $20,622,000 to shareholders.

Two other bills will incorporate Winnipeg Electric Company subsidiaries, the Greater Winnipeg Transit Company and the Manitoba Gas Company. A sixth bill may be required to compel the minority group of shareholders to sell their stock.

Bishop Favors Establishing Sanatoria In Arctic Region

HAMILTON (CP)—Bishop Donald B. Marsh thinks sanatoria in the Arctic would help in the fight against tuberculosis among the Eskimos.

The Anglican bishop of the Arctic, whose diocese covers 2,750,000 square miles, said in an interview such hospitals would make it unnecessary to bring Eskimos thousands of miles from their families and friends for treatment in hospitals in southern Canada.

Three hundred of Canada's 8,646 Eskimos now are out of the north and undergoing treatment. Six are in the Hamilton sanatorium.

"At the sanatorium I talked to a man in his native Eskimo after the nurses complained he refused to drink milk. Once assured in his own language, he gladly drank it down."

The Eskimo is called Mark. His seven children are waiting for him to return to Port Harrison on Hudson Bay.

RADIO LINK

The bishop also thinks radio might be used to help Eskimos under treatment to keep in touch with their families.

"These people are taken out to hospitals and they are away from their own people for months, even years. Their people can't understand where they've gone and they are sometimes given up for lost. If the department of transport would make available its radio network so that they might speak to one another, the separation would not be such a difficult one."

Bishop Marsh, who has served 27 years in the Arctic, is a member of a committee which will advise the federal government on Eskimo affairs. He leaves late in January on his annual 40,000-mile tour of his missions.

The bishop says the white man's gifts, including the baby bonus and the old are pension, rob the Eskimo of the spirit of independence which enabled him to survive amid the bleak wastes across the top of the continent.

Kramer Has Edge On Sedgeman In Court Savvy

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Sedgman was only kidding when he said: "I hope to wear the old man down."

But he could do a lot worse than heed his own words when he meets Jack Kramer on the third stop on the professional tennis troupe's world-wide tour at Princeton, N.J., tonight.

The suspicion is that Kramer can beat Sedgman any day in the week so long as Jack gets the upper hand at the start. But when the going gets tough and he has to run all over the court, Jack begins to feel the grind.

"My legs get tired when the matches start stretching out," Kramer admitted. "You know 31 years is old in this business, and Sedgman is only 25."

GREATER EXPERIENCE

In the matter of strokes, court savvy and experience, Kramer has it all over Sedgman. On any given occasion, like last Saturday, he can make the Aussie look like a beginner. He won that day, 6-1, 6-2.

But Sunday Sedgman turned the tables on Kramer before a crowd of 11,100 in Madison Square Garden, and he did it by running Jack all over the court. Kramer was missing the baselines and sidelines, but it really wouldn't have made any difference. The count was 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Toward the end of the third set, Kramer made no secret of the fact that he was tired.

Of course, Jack has not played much competitive tennis recently and it may take a little time to work himself into shape. On the other hand, Sedgman is going to get more used to the canvas court at each stop.

DOUBLE FAULTED

Kramer won the second set Sunday only because Sedgman double-faulted to lose the final point on his own service in the seventh game.

As for the other half of the tour, Ken McGregor and Pancho Segura, their personal series is rapidly turning into a rout. Segura now has won four in a row, including Sunday's 6-4, 6-4 decision and a 6-3, 6-3 verdict Saturday.

McGregor has not been playing well and it is inconceivable he will not start winning before long. Segura never has been anything but a fair country player — even as a pro.

McIntyre Rink Wins Third-Straight Title

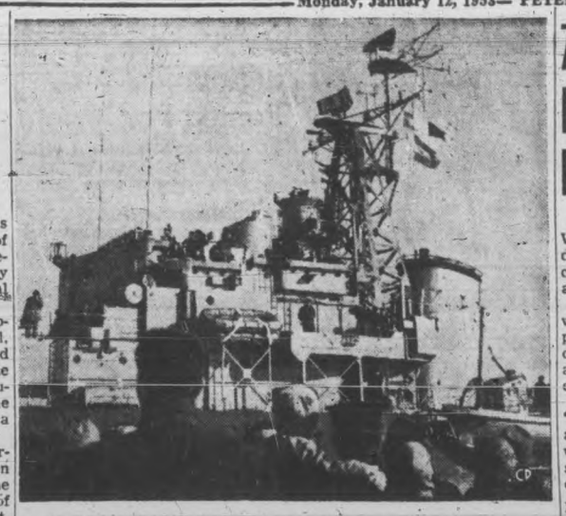
DETROIT (AP) — Lloyd Raney's rink from the gold-mining town of McIntyre, Ont., won an unprecedented third-straight title Sunday in the 67th annual international bonspiel.

Raney's rink defeated one skipped by J. J. Ahearn of St. Paul, Minn., in the finals of the "world series" of curling, 10-7. Until the same rink won its second consecutive championship last year, none ever had captured it twice in a row.

The Ahearn rink had an opportunity to win at one point when Walter Polski took a shot at the Raney stone. But, Polski, one of the best players in the meet, knocked out his own stone instead.

J. C. Preston, Brantford, Ont., newspaperman, won the Detroit Trophy, emblematic of the class B championship, by defeating Douglas Fisk of Detroit, 10-9. Preston, publisher of the Brantford Expositor, fired one of the best shots of the tournament to knock the Fisk stone out.

SAULT TRIUMPHS



The Nate Cornwall Trophy went to the Roy Chisholm rink of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., which defeated R. Earl Green's rink of Toronto for the class C title 9-8.

Theodore Soice's rink of Noranda, Que., defeated Herbert Koch's four of Chicago 13-6 for the class D title and the Irvin Palmer Trophy.

Raney's rink has remained almost unchanged through its three-year winning streak. It was identical Sunday with the one which won the event in 1951, and was composed of Gordon Godfrey, Pat Smith and George White in addition to Raney. Last year Gordon Countryman subbed for Smith.

In Saturday's semi-finals, the McIntyre quartette won 9-8 over the Howard Reid rink of Ayr, Ont., and Ahearn beat out the Fred Rubbra rink of Montreal 12-4.

In quarter-finals Saturday, Raney defeated B. C. Pippin of Sarnia, 9-7, and Ahearn defeated Hugh Sinclair of Milwaukee 12-2.

79-Day Fast Ended By Schmitz

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Willy Schmitz ended a fast of 79 days and three hours by sipping champagne Sunday and claimed a world record.

The professional hunger artist was thin and pale, but smiling, as police broke the seal on his glass cage while a band played loudly and hundreds of spectators crowded to watch.

Schmitz, who bills imself as "Heros the Hungerer" claimed he ate nothing and drank only mineral water during the 78 days he was sealed in his cage. He smoked cigarets to dull his appetite.

PROLONGED FAST

Schmitz had intended to come out several days ago, but prolonged his fast when he heard that an Indian, Fakir Reykan, had just set a new fasting record of 77 days and two hours in Italy.

Schmitz was pronounced in surprisingly good health by a doctor who examined him.

"But I doubt if he could have lived more than three or four days longer without food," the doctor said.

Schmitz will get no solid food for several days. He will enter a hospital to recuperate and try to regain the 78 pounds he lost.

CAHA Lets One U.S. Team In Playoffs For Trophy

OTTAWA (CP)—The first barrier to United States participation in Canadian hockey championships was lowered by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in a weekend meeting that ended Sunday.

Whether the door will be opened wide to U.S. teams that play in Canadian leagues will be decided at the CAHA annual meeting in Montreal May 11-14.

The first move in this direction was made Saturday with unanimous approval of the entry of the Spokane, Wash., Flyers into playoffs this year for the Allan Cup, the senior championship trophy.

Spokane plays in the Kootenay League against Trail, Nelson and Kimberley and has already been given permission to play for the British Columbia senior hockey title.

Other U.S. teams compete in Canadian leagues under CAHA jurisdiction, including the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Indians with senior A company in the Northern Ontario League, and Clinton, N.Y., in the New York-Ontario League, a senior B circuit.

WILL BE IRONED

Future playoff policy on these and other U.S. clubs in similar circumstances will be ironed out in Montreal in May.

The weekend semi-annual meeting also set dates for playoff series in its top three divisions and settled some intramural and international questions.

W. B. George of Kemptville, Ont. CAHA president, said the best-of-seven final for the Allan Cup will start in the East April 23. The best-of-seven major series for the Alexander Cup between winners of the Maritime Major and Quebec Hockey Leagues will start in the Maritimes April 20.

No date for the finals of the Memorial Cup junior series was set, but detailed arrangements were made to decide eastern and western finalists for the Allan and Memorial Cups.

The intramural dispute involved two players who the Manitoba CAHA branch claimed were stolen from Flin Flon by two Maritime major clubs. The CAHA ruled that the services of Herb Shiller, with Glace Bay, N.S., and Bill Tyshko, with Sydney, N.S., must be purchased by the Maritime group by Jan. 20 or else the two are to be returned.

APPROVE OF TOUR

Decisions on the international front included approval of a tour of Japan by a Canadian hockey team next season if the Japanese Skating Club asks the CAHA to send a club, and disapproval of Canadian participation in the world hockey championships at Zurich, Switzerland March 6-15.

Last autumn the CAHA vetoed arrangements made by a Sudbury, Ont., group to send a team on tour in Japan early this year, contending there was insufficient time to assemble a team of the right calibre.

George said North American teams have been criticized in the past for their different style of play. Both the CAHA and the United States amateur hockey association felt that expenditures on the European visit were not justified because the championships did not bring forth the good will expected.

The CAHA also approved a National Hockey League request to extend to Feb. 15 from Jan. 15 the deadline for NHL recall of players in leagues under CAHA jurisdiction.

Dutchmen Trim Sailors 5-2 As Owen Sound Edges Redmen

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ott Heller, the grand old man of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, likes to do one thing at a time.

Heller started the season as playing coach of the Dutchmen but retired as mentor during the week-end to concentrate on playing right wing, a job he has been doing for years.

Heller graduated from Kitchener Greenshirts of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior. A series to Springfield of the Canadian-American League in the season of 1929-30. He spent three years in that league, 15 years with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League and six years with American League clubs.

Observers See Large Results From U.S.-Egypt Conference

CAIRO (OFNS). — Wing-Commander Aly Sabry, a prominent member of the military movement in Egypt, is at present in Washington acompanying a politically less important army officer whose function is to organize the supply of weapons for the Egyptian police force.

The mission would not be important if Wing-Commander Sabry had not gone. His presence implies, despite denials here, that much more important questions are to be discussed during his visit and a fair assumption is that discussion of supplies in general for the Egyptian army will take place.

he Arabic press here has stated that he has gone to prepare for a visit to the United States of Gen. Neguib, the Egyptian premier himself, but the United States Embassy in Cairo does not support this view.

There is, however, a growing tendency on the part of the United States to give General Neguib more practical evidence of her support for his new regime, either in the form of military or of economic aid, and perhaps both. The United States may yet buy Egyptian cotton ahead of Britain. Although Egypt wants sterling, not dollars, she would not be averse to replenishing the dollar reserves she has been selling in New York to obtain sterling in London.

The United States' attitude is dictated by two factors: First, the desire to wipe out the adverse public opinion created by the agreement on reparations between Israel and Western Germany for which Egyptians hold the United States mainly responsible; and, secondly, a certain amount of American impatience with British caution in dealing with Egypt.

The United States Embassy in Cairo has, by and large, behaved as a faithful ally of Britain during the recent year of crisis here. It is arguable that the policy of the two powers might have been better advanced by a firmer American line in support of Britain, but Jefferson Caffery, the United States Ambassador in Egypt, believed that the western democratic effort could be helped most if he acted as "honest broker" between Britain and Egypt. Certainly on some occasions, as when the Wafd government was intent on extreme measures after British troops demolished the village of Kafr Abdou in the Suez Canal Zone in December, 1951, his activities had a calming effect. On the other hand, the Egyptians often mistook Mr. Caffrey's policy to mean a fundamental difference of opinion between America and Britain and were encouraged in the belief that ultimately the United States could be made to bring pressure to bear in London in favor of Egyptian demands.

Mr. Caffery did nothing on his part to encourage this view; but the liberal outlook of some members of his Embassy staff tended to make Egyptians, with whom they spoke, mistake personal attutudes for national policy.

Recently there has been much less of this "looseness" of talk and consequently less opportunity for the Egyptian press to exploit imagined differences between the two big powers.

On the other hand, there are indications in Egypt of greater diplomatic initiative on the part of the United States which leads to the beliefs that the United States Embassy, and no doubt the State Department, is unwilling to let its own position here weaken through too rigid a support of Britain. Observers here expect, for example, a greater readiness on the part of the Republican administration to help Egypt with arms although this type of aid has hitherto been considered a British prerogative. The Egyptians are, for some reason, convinced in advance that General Eisenhower will be more sympathetic to their views, particularly regarding the Palestine question and relations with Israel, than was Mr. Truman.

Well-Known Models Wanted For Nylon

LONDON (CP)—Wanted in Britain are well-known models who don't mind posing in nylon underwear.

Midland manufacturers are concentrating on flimsier, scantier undies in the finest nylon, and they want known mannequins to pose for advertising prints.

Most of London's top-rank models are saying "not on your life." This is making it tough for the advertising agencies. One of the latter said: "We want girls who look like bishops' daughters and who can pose in revealing undies without losing a jot of respectability."

Alnwick Couple Celebrate Silver Wedding

ROSENEATH (ENS) — Some eighty friends and neighbors invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davidson in the form of a surprise party on Friday evening, the occasion being the 25th wedding anniversary. The Davidson farm is situated in the western section of Alnwick township where the greater part of their married life has been spent.

The evening was spent in playing progressive games. The prizes for high score for euchre were carried off by Mrs. Bruce Marriott and Mr. Charles Sandercock. The gathering was called to order and Mr. James L. Timlin read an address of congratulations and spoke of their fine example of citizenship in the community.

Mr. Leo Timlin, on behalf of the community, presented a coffee table with matching tray, a radio camp and desk lamp.

Mr. Joe Davidson, the eldest son of the family, voiced the appreciation of the family to their parents for their patience and unselfishness during the years, and presented them with a large plate-glass mirror.

Taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson made appropriate replies. "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung and the ladies served lunch.

Laid Aside Brush For 50 Years Now Paints Again

INDIAN HEAD, Sask. (CP)—An artist whose brush lay idle for years now displays a miniature gallery in her home here.

Mrs. Sophie Mary Wilson took elementary training in art in England. That was before the turn of the century and from then until 13 years ago, her talents went unused.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Yorkshire some 80 years ago. In 1897 she married Alfred Edwin Wilson, a Cumberland man, and they left England soon after for Western Canada.

For many years, Mrs. Wilson remained a busy farmer's wife at Indian Head. She raised three sons and a daughter and had little time for things like oil painting. Her family grew up and her husband died.

"I never dreamed I would be wielding a brush again," she said. "It just happened that I found time hanging heavy on my hands so I decided to see if I still knew how to paint."

Now she devotes at least two hours each morning to painting. Her pictures adorn the walls of her home and many other homes in Indian Head and elsewhere. She had a private exhibition here and her paintings have been displayed at an arts and crafts show.

FOR THE COMING CORONATION, the House of Chaumet in Paris shows this slender double-circlet tiara. It's made of 39 large, round diamonds totalling 100 carats. They are mounted on rows of baguette diamonds. Necklace is four graduated rows of diamonds. In background is a museum collection of 1,000 coronets and diadems created by the firm over a period of 100 years.

2 Centuries Old Paris Firm Makes Coronation Tiaras

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS (NEA)—Parisians are becoming coronet-conscious. Jewelers in the Rue de la Paix and the Place Vendome are showing modern versions of both coronets and tiaras that will be worn by the lucky guests attending the coronation ceremonies in Westminster Abbey in June.

The House of Chaumet, on the Place Vendome, has been making coronets, tiaras and other "heirlooms" for most of the crowned heads of Europe for almost 200 years.

In a room on the first floor, the firm has a collection of over 1,000 models featuring every style of coronet and diadem. These range from the high, ornate affairs created by the Russian empresses to the slender Empire circlets worn by the ladies of Josephine's court.

It was Chaumet who made three "parures" or sets of jewels on the occasion of Napoleon's marriage to Marie-Louise of Austria. One of these was in diamonds and rubies. A second was diamonds and emeralds and the third, diamonds and opals. A "parure" then consisted of a diadem, necklace, earrings, bracelets and comb.

Pierre Chaumet and his brother (who runs the London branch of this famous firm) represent the fifth generation of the family. They recall the time when their father travelled twice a year to Russia to submit ideas to the czar. They're proud of the fact that many of their clients today represent a fifth generation of patronage.

Referring to their unique collection of coronets, Pierre Chaumet explains:

"Most of these pieces were bought back by us in the course of two world wars, with the gradual disappearance of European kings and queens. Most private families who owned such heirlooms had them broken up and reset as wedding presents for a daughter or for a son's wife.

"Today, no woman would think of buying a daidem. She wants a jewel that will serve two purposes, if only because the opportunities to wear a single jewel are rare."

Tastes, too, have changed. The modern jewel-loving woman feels that all-diamond pieces are more effective and chic. But 30 years ago, her mother liked color combinations with her diamonds.

For the coming coronation, Chaumet's are showing diamond necklaces that have minute hooks at the back. These are made to hook onto rigid tiaras in white gold. Wives of diplomats, foreign nobility and officials generally are coming in for advice as to how their jewels can be converted for this highly colorful and dramatic event.

Bargain Month In Britain Welcomed By The Women

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—After the biggest Christmas booms since 1939, British women greeted the new year with a headlong plunge for the annual sales bargains.

Prices ranged from luxuries such as a ranch mink cape-stole selling at £425, almost half price, to canvas holiday shoes originally priced at 55 shillings, going at 5s. There were suede shoes at £1 instead of £6, model coats and dresses cut in price by almost one third.

A welcome increase was noted in bargain furniture and furnishings. With furniture released from government price-control late in 1952, shops were more daring in cut-price lines than for many years. It was possible, for instance, to buy a three-piece suite at less than £80, reduced from £180. Axminster and Wilton carpet remnants tempted buyers at less than half price.

Interest also was keen in chinaware sales. In 1952 patterned china was once more sold on the home market, which had for years seen only "export rejects." Women jostled and pushed to get one of the 500 tea sets offered at 5s each in one department store. A 45-piece combined dinner and tea set was reduced from just under 90s. to 69s 6d.

Despite wet weather queues outside most big West End stores started well before daylight. Last year's big price-cuts in clothing, due to a textile slump late in 1951, were partly responsible for increased interest in this year's sales.

Competition was keen. Sales picked up during the year and less garments reached the bargain counters. However, those with the stamina to stand for hours in rain and cold picked up coats and dresses and £1 and less.

Men were not left out. Cut-price articles included poplin pyjamas in quiet stripes reduced to 25s. from £3. There were white jacquard silk scarves, 54 inches by 12 inches, going at 30s., pure silk ties, cashmere socks, shoes, overcoats and suits.

Business was brisk at counters sporting underwear at half price, tweed trousers at less than 17s., shirts cut from 29s. to 14s.

Cut-price bed and household linen, curtain materials and kitchen ware drew larger-than-usual crowds of young marrieds and engaged couples.

Natural Eyebrows Are Most Fashionable; Should Pluck Only Unruly Stragglers

By ALICIA HART.

Eyebrow lines have come through many fashion phases — the no-brow look which is hardening and takes away from expression, the high Dietrich type of curve, and the soft arch. Fashion's favorite today is the high arch, almost pointed; the brows are kept naturally thick or made to appear thick, with pencil.

If you have the suggestion of an arch to your brows and want to give yourself a more provocative look, take a sharp pencil in black or brown — whichever matches your eyebrow color — and cheat just a little on the height of the arch. Too much height added will look artificial, but with experience you can learn to add just the right amount.

Fill in any blank spots with short pencil strokes. Carry out the eyebrow line if it seems too short when you look at it in profile. Give a tiny lift to the end of the eyebrow, for all lifted lines lend a youthful look.

The straight, thick eyebrow is also fashionable. A girl lucky enough to have it is smart not to try to give herself an arch. To do so, she must pluck a great deal and reshape her brow line. Although this has been done by some Hollywood studio make-up departments, it is highly impractical for general use.

THIS GIRL SMOOTHED her eyebrows into line with rich soap lathers before plucking. Stragglers show up easily and infection is prevented.

With the natural look so fashionable, we may hope to see less and less of the practice of girls giving themselves work and pain to change their eyebrow lines.

Most eyebrows do need some plucking, however, to remove stragglers underneath the line and hairs that grow between the eyebrows. If this is necessary in your case, lather your eyebrows well with a small shaving or complexion brush before beginning. The soap will prevent irritation and infection and make the hairs lie flat.

Have a magnifying mirror and good light. Pluck out the superfluous hairs at an angle, in the direction of growth. Before pulling, make sure that the tweezers are firmly gripping a hair follicle, or your skin will be bruised. Wipe off the lather and smooth the eyebrow line for a final inspection.

Hitch-Hiking Best Method See Europe

EDMONTON (CP)—A young Edmonton girl who spent three years at university in England says that hitch-hiking is common in Europe and the only way that many university students could hope to see the continent.

"Everyone travels the youth hostel way," said Valeen Pon who is back in Edmonton with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pon.

The girl, a graduate in journalism from the University of Washington, was graduated this year with a master's degree in social welfare work from the school of economics of the University of London. In 1951 she was awarded a ministry of education scholarship.

PARENTS SURPRISED

"At first my parents and friends at home were a bit surprised when I wrote and said we were hitch-hiking," Miss Pon said.

Her first trip was to France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Liechtenstein. On this trip she travelled by train. It was not long before she discovered there was a cheaper and more enjoyable way.

At hostels, she paid as little as 25 cents a night for lodging and Valeen estimates that it cost about $ a day for other expenses.

SOUTHERN TRIP

On her most recent trip, she visited France, Spain, Italy and Greece.

"It was impossible to hitch hike in Greece as there is very little traffic," she said.

In her knapsack, which weighed about 25 or 30 pounds, she carried food, one sheet and blanket, cooking utensils, towels, soap and a few personal items.

The little Chinese girl feels that the most important part of her adventures has been seeing Europe's famous works of art, architecture and learning its music.

British Women Oppose Fluorine

LONDON (CP) — The British Housewives' League, with branches scattered throughout the country, is opposed to proposals to use fluorine for treatment of domestic water supply in certain areas of the United Kingdom.

A suggestion by Dr. Kenneth Cowan, health officer for Essex county, that fluorine, widely tested in Canada and the United States, be used to safeguard children against tooth decay, brought a storm of protest from league members. They claim any scheme involving compulsory mass medication is wrong and dangerous in principle.

"No persons in the areas affected will be able to choose or refuse the prescribed dose," said Mrs. Mary Blakey, treasurer of the league council, in criticizing the plan.

Tubular Line Stressed In Spring Fashion Styles

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Madame will look her best in the strictly feminine suits and coats designed by George Carmel, noted for such frivolous touches as pearls on tweed and gold embroidery on fleece.

This season he shows the straight and narrow line, but encrusts it with jewels, passementarie braid and embroidery to soften the severity.

His suits have two distinct silhouettes. One is the closely-fitted suit with rounded hipline sometimes accented by clover-leaf or diamond-shaped pockets, above a slim skirt. The other is the loose-back suit with the fitted hipline, sometimes with an inverted pleat in the back of the jacket, also shown with pencil-line skirts.

TAPERED LINE

Coats follow the tubular tapered line so important for spring, with natural shoulders, dropped armholes and loose, drapey sleeves, sometimes pushed up to bracelet length. He shows the deep link cuff, the inverted pleat in the cuffed sleeve and deep elbow cuffs on short-sleeved jackets.

Another highlight of the New York spring collections is that of Grabois, who makes deft use of smooth, handsome fabrics in slim but rounded dresses, suits and costumes which are in the medium price bracket but are full of couture touches.

Royalty, Nobility, Laborers Attend Scottish Wedding

EDINBURGH, Scotland. — Queen Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, with Princess Margaret and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, were among the congregation of 1,600 who crowded into the venerable St. Giles Cathedral here Saturday for the wedding of the Earl of Dalkeith, Walter Francis John Montague-Douglas-Scott, heir to the eighth Duke of Buccleuch, and Jane McNeill, 22-year-old daughter of John McNeill and Mrs. McNeill of Druimnavuie, Appin, Argyll and London.

With royalty gracing the occasion and at least half of the congregation appearing in Debrett's, Baronetage, Knightage and Companionage, it was the first great social event of the Coronation year. It was a tartan, diamond and mink affair, undimmed by the traditionally grim Scottish weather.

The flower of British nobility, dukes, earls, barons, knights and blue-blooded highland lairds jostled for pews in the old kirk with farm laborers, mechanics, estate workers, and other guests from the Buccleuch family's three estates. Members of the diplomatic corps and many Scottish civic notables also were present.

A grey, clammy fog wreathed the Scottish capital and the temperature stood at 40 degrees when the Royal train on which Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh traveled overnight from Sandringham pulled into a railroad siding outside Waverley station. Along "The Royal Mile" to St. Giles Cathedral a crowd of more than 50,000 stood and shivered to catch a fleeting glimpse of the Royal guests.

The handsome 29-year-old Earl of Dalkeith, educated at Eton and Oxford and a naval officer in the Second World War, was a suitor for the hand of Princess Margaret, according to rumor in the British press last year. He arrived at the church 40 minutes before the ceremony was scheduled to begin. He was accompanied by his best man, John Synge, grand-nephew of the Irish playright, J. M. Synge.

A Handel march heralded the approach of the bride to the altar on the arm of her father, a noted Scots lawyer who practises as a Queen's Counsel in Hong Kong.

Miss McNeill wore a gown of shimmering white lace threaded with silver, with a low square-cut neckline. The gown was designed by Hardy Amies; her long tulle veil was held in place by a floral tiara of diamond mayflowers, a Buccleuch heirloom; around her neck sparkled a triple necklace of diamond links.

The bride curtsied and the groom bowed toward the pew occupied by Queen Elizabeth and the other members of the Royal family as they walked to the altar.

There were four child bridesmaids and the six pages were solemnly led by Prince Richard of Gloucester, 8-year-old son of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and a cousin of the Queen.

The Episcopalian service was first to be held in the cathedral, stronghold of Scottish Presbyterianism, for nearly three centuries.

The service was conducted by the Episcopal Bishop of Edinburgh, the Right Rev. Kenneth C. Warner. The word obey was omitted from the bride's vow.

At the reception, for which two of Edinburgh's public halls were taken, the 1,600 guests toasted the earl and his bride in champagne. Among the guests at the reception was Douglas Fairbanks Jr., a close friend of the bride and groom.

Pipers gave a traditional send-off to the earl and the new countess: Scotland the Brave for the groom and a McNeill air, Kiloran Bay for the bride.

The bride is a descendant of an old Scottish family, the McNeill's of Colonsay. One of her ancestors, according to Highland legend, used to conclude his evening meal in his rugged keep with this nightly ritual: "The McNeill has dined, the rest of the world may now do so."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Reducers And Diabetics Please Take Notice

Have you enough courage to step on the scales this month? To be quite candid I have not. My skirt band fits too tightly.

Be assured, though, that I am practising what I am preaching to you today.

RECIPES FOR REDUCERS AND DIABETICS

I am stressing recipes without sugar, but with a non-calorie sweetener. These are new recipes that have been perfected after countless experiments. There are even sugarless cookies and pie! I know you will be deluging me for months for reprints of this so I am making extra copies. Please enclose stamped self-addressed envelopes with your letters.

BUTTER COOKIES
(Without Sugar)

One cup sifted cake flour, ⅛ teaspoon baking powder, shake of salt, 10½ sucaryl tablets (to be bought at drug stores in bottle—100 for 75 cents)—½ cup butter or margarine. Mash the sucaryl tablets to a fine powder and sift them with the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream the butter or margarine until soft and light, then beat the dry ingredients into it until thoroughly blended and smooth. Add ⅛ teaspoon vanilla or if desired almond flavoring. Form this into a roll about 1½ or 2 inches in diameter and wrap in wax paper; Chill at least 2 hours. With very sharp knife cut into ⅛-inch slices and bake on a greased cookies sheet at 375 deg. Fahr. for 12 to 15 minutes, or until delicately tinged with gold. If desired, ¼ cup finely chopped nuts may be added.

APPLE PIE
(Without Sugar)

Make regular pie pastry in proportions of ⅓ cup shortening to each 1 cup flour. Line pie plate with it. Mash 15 sucaryl tablets and soak them in 1 tablespoon lemon uice. Fill pastry-lined pie plate with sliced apples—about 8 medium-sized tart apples—then sprinkle over them this mixture: 2 tablespoon flour mixed with ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspon salt, then rub into them 2 tablespoons melted butter and the lemon juice containing the soaked sucaryl. Spread this evenly over the apples. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 45 or 55 minutes or until apples are quite tender. This does not need a top crust, but if you are merely avoiding sugar, you can put on top crust and take the consequqences.

APPLESAUCE
(Sugarless)

Mash 6 sucaryl tablets and dissolve in 2 tablespoons water in a saucepan. Add 4 cups pared, quartered, cored, tart apples, and ¼ teaspoon each salt and cinnamon. Cover and cook until apples are tender. Serve hot or cold, strained or unstrained. I know a certain young fellow who dearly loves for dessert hot applesauce and bread with lots of butter.

LEMON CHIFFON PUDDING
(Sugarless)

Three tablespoons soft butter or margarine, 3 eggs, yolks and whites separated, 5 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 6 sucaryl tablets mashed and dissolved in 2 teaspoons boiling water, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup milk. Combine butter or margarine and egg-yolks in a bowl and beat well with a rotary or electric beater. Add remaining ingredients and beat again until mixture is smooth. Beat whites until stiff and gently fold into mixture. Pour into buttered casserole. Stand dish in a pan of warm water and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 45 minutes, or until firm at centre to touch. Serve at once.

APPLE BETTY
(Sugarless)

Two cups coarse soft breadcrumbs, 4 cups pared tart apples, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 10 sucaryl tablets, ¼ cup water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Mash sucaryl tablets and dissolve in the mixed water and lemon juice. Put ⅓ of the crumbs in a buttered 1½-quart baking dish and cover with half of the apples. Add another layer of crumbs and the remaining apples; sprinkle with the salt and cinnamon. Top with remaining crumbs, Carefully pour the dissolved sucaryl and liquid mixture all over top and dot with butter. Cover and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes; uncover and bake 30 minutes longer. If you are serious about counting calories, butter may be omitted.

Write if you want reprints—enclose the stamped envelope remember.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman's Limit Of Forbearance

DEAR MISS DIX: Will you tell me just how much a wife is supposed to take from her husband? I've tried in every way to keep my home for the sake of our children, aged 10 and 16. Until the past three years I was very happy with a man I felt was the best husband that ever was; a church-going man of high ideals and a wonderful father to our children. Then he started going with a much younger woman. When I found out about it, he gave her up and asked for another chance. Two months passed, during which I never once referred to the incident, then I discovered he hadn't given her up at all. Again he promised to give her up, and was so convincing about it that I believed him. That was a year and a half ago, and he has been as sweet and kind as could be since. Now, however, I find that he is having an affair with her. I would have left him long ago if it were not for the children. I hate to break up their home.

JANE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The real question, Jane, is not how much a wife is supposed to take from her husband, but how much she is willing to take. One woman will fly to a divorce court because her husband criticizes her clothes, another seeks legal advice because hubby doesn't whisper sweet nothings in her ear all day long, while another will meekly endure beatings, go to work to support a shiftless man, or wear the same clothes for years because a penurious husband with a well-paying job can't be pried loose from a nickel. The basic obligations of a married couple are pretty well summed up in the words of the marriage ceremony, to which, regrettably, many of them pay little attention being more concerned at the moment with the externals of a wedding.

MAN GIVEN TO WANDERLUST

Men are more inclined to strain at the responsibilities and restrictions of matrimony than women. This is understandable enough, since woman's basic nature seeks security. Man, on the other hand, is a creature of wanderlust. Being, also, a civilized, intelligent creature of God, he is supposed to learn to curb those tendencies which threaten the sanctity of his home. Some do, of course, and some do not!

The first transgression may lead to a stricken conscience, but as each fall from grace is forgiven by a loving wife, succeeding infidelities come easier and easier, followed by glib and profuse promises of reform. How empty these can be is attested by many, many broken-hearted wives. Just when each woman reaches the saturation point of forgiveness is an individual problem that only she can solve, with perhaps the aid of her spiritual adviser or a marriage counselor. She must weigh the relative value of her home, children and security against the knowledge that she has lost, or at least is sharing, her husband's love with another woman.

Usually an erring husband regains his balance after one affair, and frequently he becomes a more loving and considerate husband than ever. Hope need not be abandoned for even the most flagrant philanderer; when he reaches the point where he has lost his attraction to other women, and his money is beginning to run out, there's always home and a forgiving wife to take him back.

Your husband, Jane, is the type of cheater who isn't likely to mend his ways unless you give him a terrific jolt. Meekness has little chance of changing him. And why should it? Right now he is enjoying the excitement of a clandestine affair, while at the same time he has comfort and security of his home, along with the knowledge that you will always be there with open arms.

I offer small comfort, I know, but there simply is no magic formula to change a weak man into a responsible character.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: The boy I love is only 17, and I'm 20. He wants to get married but I know it isn't proper to marry a man younger. He is mature for his age, and has a good job.

DAS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There certainly is not objection to marrying a man younger than oneself, but to marry a boy of 17 is rather out of line. Why not wait a year or two, which certainly won't make you too old for matrimony, and will give him a chance to catch up a little in maturity?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: The only boy I've ever liked is Fred, who is in my class. My girl friend, also in our class, likes him too. She is more his type than I am, so do you think I should give him up to her? We are all 14.

LENORA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: What does the boy have to say in the matter? Why not continue to be friends all around and let the future solve the problem for you? Fred may be the first boy you liked, but he certainly won't be the last.

Roseneath W.I. Plans Annual February Bazaar

ROSENEATH (ENS) — "New Year's Resolutions" was the subject of the address given by Mrs. J. N. Lovelace, guest-speaker, at the January meeting of Roseneath Women's Institute.

In part, the speaker said: "People who are never disturbed with a sense of improvement on New Year's Day or any other time, are in a state of hopeless complacency. New Year's Day is a milestone in one's life and a special time for stock-taking in the business of living. It is also a time of special thanksgiving for the blessings that were ours for the whole past year."

The meeting was held in the township hall Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Oscar Adams as hostess. The president, Mrs. Harold Taylor, presided, with Mrs. Edgar Carew as pianist. A balance on hand of $79 was reported by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bart Thackeray.

Mrs. Alfred Pringle, good cheer convener, reported 21 boxes of good cheer sent out at Christmas time, also a box was packed and sent to the Hospital for Sick Children.

Many letters of thanks were read from recipients of good cheer.

During the business part of the meeting, on motion it was decided to have a card party in the township hall on January 30. The committee in charge are: Mrs. Harold Taylor, Mrs. George Mouncey, Mrs. Clarence Thackeray, Mrs. John Beatty, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, Mrs. Frank Adams and Mrs. Bart Thackeray.

Plans were also made for the annual February bazaar to be held February 14 in the township hall.

Mrs. Frank Adams was program convener and announced the following numbers: a reading by Mrs. J. W. Pacey; Mrs. Edgar Carew played a piano solo; Mrs. Charles Sandercock gave a reading; Mrs. Alfred Pringle conducted a quiz con by Mrs. Frank Brown's group; Miss Joan Grigg gave a reading.

Jim Woodruff, a pupil of Roseneath School and winner of third prize at the Alnwick township speaking contest, was present and delivered his speech, "Teaching Your Wife to Drive the Car."

Mrs. Harold Taylor, on behalf of Roseneath WI, presented him with a silver cup with his name engraved on it.

Mrs. Harold Taylor spoke briefly of Women's Institute Work in England and their ways of raising funds.

Afternoon tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Yvonne Adams, Mrs. Fred Murphy and Mrs. J. W. Pacey.

What's Right?

You are on a party line and when you try to use the telephone someone on the line is engaged in a lengthy conversation.

WRONG: Keep jiggling the telephone to let the person know you want the line.

RIGHT: Don't interrupt the other's conversation, except for an emergency call—then break in and explain the situation.

ELMHIRST. — Lovingly remembering Dad, Frank Elmhirst, who left us one year ago, January 13th.
When earthly voices, once so dear,
Have died in silence, one by one,
Yet have we peace, and can rejoice
If we but hear the Master's voice.
A little while; wait patiently.
A little while, and thou shalt be
With thy beloved, and with Me.
—The Family.

And a heartache still for you.
—Sadly missed by Dorothy, Ken, Allan and Gordon.

Karachi Pushes Red Roundup

KARACHI (AP) — Pakistani authorities today pushed a round-up of leading Communists in Karachi, charging that the Reds were mainly responsible for the four-day riots here last week.

Chief Commissioner A. T. Naovi told a press conference "we are collecting evidence and we hope to prosecute a great many of them."

Altogether 165 persons had been arrested up to today for major offences, 285 for breaking the curfew, 135 for disturbing the peace and 260 for having hooligan records, Naovi said. He said small police and army contingents remain posted in the city today.

The riots last week started as a student demonstration against increased fees but were spurred by Red agitators. Before order was restored 12 persons were killed and 266, including 152 policemen, were injured.

Hold Youth 16 After Car Accident

WELLAND (CP) — Arrested Saturday after three men fled from an automobile which collided with a truck near Wainfleet, Harold Maracle, 16, of Fort Erie, was charged with leaving the scene of the accident and having liquor in a public place.

Police said three men fled the accident scene early Saturday morning about 10 miles southwest of here and ran across open fields. Maracle was found with two other youths walking on a highway near Port Colborne.

New Force Seeks Mau Mau In Mountains

NAIROBI (OFNS)—Nearly all the recent crimes committed by the Mau Mau anti-European terrorist society, including the murder during Christmas week of seventeen loyal members of the Kikuyu tribe have taken place in parts of the Kikuyu reserve and European settled area bordering the range of mountains known as the Aberdares.

Towards the end of December police were able to take a practical interest in the Aberdares for the first time since the Mau Mau began its activities. Range upon range of forest-covered hills extending from 7,500 feet to 14,000 feet, they are impossible to "comb" thoroughly, even if the police and army had the manpower to do it, which they have not. The Aberdares are criss-crossed by native tracks, almost highways in some places, which lead across from the Nyeri area (where the record of Mau Mau crimes is blackest of all) to the Kinangop plateau, and transversely to Thomson's Falls or Fort Hall. These are all favorite Mau Mau spots.

But it is the by-ways rather than the highways of the Aberdares which now interest the police. In the lower ranges, at a comfortable living altitude for Africans, are villages of forest "squatters". These are not squatters at all in the non-Kenyan use of the word, but licensed employees who cut timber for the Government Forest Department and are given the right of tilling the cleared land for three or four years before planting it with trees again and moving on elsewhere. These isolated families of squatters are terrorized by the gangs and provide them with food, for even the Mau Mau must eat. The emaciated condition of one terrorist who gave himself up on a European farm beneath the Aberdares proves that the sources of supply of food may be limited. But gangsters have been encountered with flocks of stolen sheep and goats.

An organization has been formed to specialize in this area. It is called "Rayforce" after the Christian name of its commander. There are three units, one under Captain Cooper, MC, of the Kenya Regiment, based near Mweiga, Nyeri, consisting of a unit of the Kenya Regiment (the territorial unit in which every young settler does compulsory part-time military service between the ages of twenty and thirty), local farmers and hunters, and Wanderobo trackers. This unit also has a contingent of loyal Kikuyus, provided by Chief Mahoya's "Home Guard." All are sworn in as policemen. To the north, a similar group operates under the auspices of the Kenya Police Reserve with Samburo trackers, and to the south in the Fort Hall district the Kings African Rifles (regular African troops) are providing a contingent for similar duties.

What are these duties? "Rayforce" units do not hope to comb the Aberdares so much as to ambush the tracks in small groups, to lie in hiding long days and nights in sun and rain, just waiting to see what comes. Once these groups find something, their chances of following it are greater than those of ordinary police, or army units, for the African trackers know by an imprint of a heel in the ground or a broken twig where a man has passed.

I saw the beginning of one of these operations. It was to last five days, and most groups that went out would have no shelter for that time. The battered cars and trucks in which these men, all volunteers, turned up at the rendezvous marked them as farmers. Most were men of over 30 and many had left their wives to protect their farms with shotgun or revolver. One of the farmers met a Wanderobo tracker whom he had last seen as a fellow-soldier in Burma during the war. "The whole of our location wanted to come," the ex-askari told him.

Ambushing in the Aberdares is not a safe job. The quarry these men are seeking is more dangerous even than the rhino and elephant which are common in the forest. All the men being sought are known to be armed, and most are implicated in some murder case and know they will probably hang if caught. The police now have a list of between 10 and 20 known gangsters. Chief among them is a certain Deidan Kumathi, who carries a reward of £100 upon his head. Once a clerk in a Mweiga cheese factory, he is tall for a Kikuyu, over six feet. His last description was "pock-marked with mutton-chop side-whiskers, carries a double-barrelled elephant gun. The third finger of his left hand is missing." Kumathi is wanted in connection with the murder of a white settler, Commander Meiklejohn.

Police reports of the results of the first exercise have been meager. Captain Cooper's force found two of the wanted men. One of the units surprised a Mau Mau meeting in session. But Rayforce is primarily an intelligence force and its effectiveness is not to be measured in numbers of arrests. It may be significant that the Mau Mau reacted strongly to the first attempt to control the Aberdares. They counter-attacked. The Mweiga settled area and and Chief Hahoya's location were the scene of some of the most intense Mau Mau activity just before Christmas, and it is believed the gangs came from outside. Rayforce may not yet have discovered the terrorists' hide-outs, but they may be hot on their trail.

Seaway Foe Softens His Objections

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-time foe of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway project said today he might be willing to accept United States participation with Canada in building the project, if terms are worked out in advance on sharing construction and maintenance costs.

Representative Harry McGregor (Rep. Ohio), a member of the House of Representatives public works committee, also told a reporter advance agreement should be reached by the two countries on tolls to be charged ships using the seaway.

He suggested creation of a commission to deal with the Canadians on these matters. Also, he said, a treaty should be drawn and ratified before Congress authorizes U.S. participation in the work.

NOT WORRIED

The Ohioan for years has fought legislation to authorize construction of the huge seaway project. Although some opponents of the seaway have softened their attitude since the Canadian government announced plans to build it alone, McGregor indicated that this does not worry him.

"If Canada wants to build it," he stated, "let her go ahead. It won't cost the canal users any more in tolls than if we had built it ourselves."

As far as the power feature of the project is concerned, McGregor said he favors letting New York state build the necessary plants in co-operation with Ontario. The Ontario hydro electric power commission has already been authorized to proceed with the Canadian part of the power phase.

Finds 70 Pearls In Dish Of Mussels

MIDLAND (CP) — Sea food fanciers think themselves lucky if they find one pearl in a lifetime but a man in this Georgian Bay town recently found 70 in his favorite dish.

Richard Wayman has been eating mussels most of his life. Recently, however, he took an enthusiastic bite and almost lost some teeth. He had bitten on a pearl. In the rest of the tin, he found 70 more.

His pearls have no value but they've taught him to be cautious of mussels.

Leakage Of Blood Causes Purple Patches On Skin

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

An interesting subject is brought up by D. W. T., who writes: "Please tell me what causes purpura. Is there a cure for this disease?"

First, for the benefit of those readers who have never heard of purpura, this is a condition in which purple patches, usually small, appear on the skin or mucous membranes, resulting from leakage of blood into these areas. It is similar, therefore, to an ordinary bruise, and indeed in the presence of purpura, black and blue bruises are likely to appear much more readily.

There are many complicated aspects of purpura: it can develop as a result of a large number of infections, including measles, meningitis, or pneumonia; it can follow administration of drugs in those who are sensitive to certain of them. In many cases it is related to malfunctioning of the spleen. In some the cause cannot be discovered at all.

In a more general way, it may be related to changes in the capillary blood vessels which allow the blood to sweep through more easily than usual, or to changes in the various parts of the blood itself.

Whenever purpura occurs a number of tests must be taken to find out what kind of purpura is present, what treatment offers the best chances of improvement, and what the outlook is for recovery.

If the condition, for example, is the result of an infection which is likely to improve, little may need to be done; if it is the result of taking some drug, perhaps discontinuing the drug alone will be enough.

On the other hand, if it is the kind of purpura resulting from malfunctioning of the spleen, serious consideration will have to be given to removing that organ. In fact in the splenic kind of purpura removing all of the spleen may be the answer.

REMOVAL DOES NO HARM

It is a curious fact that the spleen, which lies in the abdominal cavity, and the functions of which are not yet fully understood, can be removed not only without harmful effects, but also with great benefit in a few conditions. Purpura is sometimes one of them.

Although most readers of this column will fortunately never have occasion to become personally concerned about purpura, they should realize that the development of these bluish spots in the mucous membrane or on the skin are signs of something which should involve immediate and careful investigation.

MacArthur Says Desertions Truman's Fault

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur Saturday night heatedly blamed any excessive American military desertions on what he called President Truman's "policies of appeasement."

It was a new peak in the feud between Truman and the man he fired as Far Eastern commander of United Nations forces fighting in Korea.

MacArthur used the most biting language he has yet applied in answering Truman's charge that the general, whom he called "insubordinate," helped increase desertions that lately have run to 47,000.

LACK OF FAITH

Gen. MacArthur said:

"If such desertions are indeed excessive, despite the recent denials by the defence department, they can more realistically be ascribed to a lack of faith in President Truman's policies of appeasement. . ."

Perhaps, too, MacArthur added in his blistering statement, Truman "is animated by pique" at President-elect Eisenhower's "interest in ascertaining my views on Korea."

The U.S. Army said last Wednesday that 46,000 enlisted men have deserted since the start of the Korean war but that all except 11,000 have been picked up or returned voluntarily.

When she heard of his plan Sunday, Rita said: "He will be disappointed. I'm far too young to get married."

Ask Tariff Of 20 Per Cent On Ingredients

OTTAWA (CP) — Dow Chemical of Canada Limited today urged the tariff board to impose a 20-per-cent tariff against imports of certain anti-freeze ingredients from the United States and other countries.

The Sarnia, Ont., company is the biggest Canadian producer of the anti-freeze base, ethylene glycol. It maintains a $24,000,000 plant at Sarnia, which, it has contended, is being threatened by imports of cheaper american glycol grades.

Under the Canadian tariff, ethylene glycol is allowed in duty-free. W. T. Wood, company attorney, contended in a brief before the board that much of the American imports are not pure ethylene glycol, but a mixture or blend. As such, they should bear the 20-per-cent tariff.

The Dow case was an appeal from a revenue department ruling that glycol ingredients could be imported duty-free.

DISTINCT CHEMICAL

"The appellant contends that ethylene glycol is a distinct chemical with a known and generally recognized chemical formula," said Mr. Wood, "and that it is not a vague mixture of two or more chemicals."

He noted that the tariff structure specifically referred to ethylene glycol for the manufacture of anti-freeze compounds or explosives.

If Parliament had meant to include the glycol blends, such as diethylene or triethylene glycol, it would have made that clear in the tariff.

"The fact that the legislature saw fit to associate 'anti-freezing compounds' and 'explosives' should be given full consideration by the board," said Mr. Wood.

The glycol blends were not satisfactory in explosives production.

Mr. Wood emphasized that ethylene glycol sells in the U. S. for about 18 cents a pound, but the blend that is shipped to Canada sells for about 14 cents.

H. B. McKinnon, board chairman interjected that the board was not concerned about the price, but with the meaning of the two words "ethylene glycol."

Truman Orders Anti-Monopoly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today ordered the dropping of criminal anti-monopoly proceedings against five major oil companies — provided the companies produce records for a civil suit.

In a letter to Attorney-General James McGranery, Truman said he was acting "as a result of factors which have emerged since the institution of the current grand jury investigation of the international activities of the major oil companies."

Truman's letter did not say what these "factors" are. There have been reports, however, that the national security council — made up of the government's top policy planners — was concerned that a grand jury investigation would jeopardize U.S. global interests.

The whole case originated in a federal trade commission report that major U. S. oil companies have worked with foreign companies to divide up the world oil market.

WHITE WASH JOB

Stephen J. Spingarn, a member of the commission, called on Truman a few minutes before the announcement of the conditional offer to drop the criminal proceedings.

Spingarn later told reporters it looked to him as if the oil companies had performed "one of the greatest snow jobs (white washes) in history" by convincing the state department and other federal officials that the grand jury probe should be dropped.

He said the Russians always have contended that the democratic governments are mere pawns of Wall Street, and that abandoning the case, would be cited by the Russians as "further dramatic proof that the Soviet Union has been correct all along" in its view of the relationship between government and big business.

Changes Committees

Taft Decides To Handle Foreign Affairs Matters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio has decided to take a place on the Senate foreign relations committee and an active hand in shaping foreign policy under the Eisenhower administration.

Taft, already serving as Republican floor leader, expects to give up his high rank on the tax-handling Senate finance committee to become fifth man in the Republican line on foreign relations.

In that place, he will be in a position along with other committee members to get first-hand reports from John Foster Dulles, President-elect Eisenhower's secretary of state.

Appearing on a television program Sunday, Taft said he wanted to switch from the finance committee to foreign relations because foreign affairs are affected by all but about $20,000,000,000 of the $78,500,000,000 President Truman has proposed to spend in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The solution to every domestic policy is linked to "the tremendous burden of the expenditure for war," Taft said.

He added that he believes he will be in a position to have some influence with those handling foreign policy.

The Ohio senator, who has opposed many of the Truman administration moves in the foreign field, insisted during the presidential campaign that he and Eisenhower have the same international objectives. He said any differences were those of methods and not of principle.

Find Churchill Isolated From Publicity

TOWER ISLE, Jamaica (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, here on a vacation after "friendly visits with United States leaders, has isolated himself almost completely.

Reporters, photographers and newsreel men have not had even a glimpse of him since his arrival at his prospect retreat near here last Friday.

He told reporters before he left Washington in President Truman's private plane that he wanted a complete rest. Apparently that is just what he is getting.

Today he worked on his war memoirs and lolled in the sun. He was reported to be getting in some painting and swimming also.

Sunday another prominent escapee from Britain's wet winter cold, Canadian-born publisher Lord Beaverbrook, drove through the guarded entrance of Prospect estate for a luncheon date with Churchill.

Visiting correspondents find them selves out in the cold. Even the British leader's secretarial staff was unreachable. Several newspaper men from other British Caribean possessions left the area Sunday.

"They gave up the ghost," said one reporter. "It is not that anyone has a desire to intrude on Churchill's holiday, but we are absolutely lacking in any effective contact with his secretarial staff for any information whatsoever about his activities."

Family Reunion For Pavlukoff

VANCOUVER (CP) — A reunion with his mother and sister and a discussion with the lawyer who will defend him at his murder trial followed Walter Pavlukoff's arrival here from Toronto.

The sister and the frail, bent mother of the man who had been listed as one of Canada's 10 most-wanted criminals were allowed to speak with him for 30 minutes Sunday at the city jail.

Six constables, three detectives and three RCMP officers were at the airport for Pavlukoff's arrival to face trial on a charge he murdered bank manager Sydney Petrie during a holdup here in 1947.

Reporters were not allowed near the 39-year-old Pavlukoff, picked up Thursday following a tip-off by a shoe salesman who recognized him from "wanted" posters.

Fire Station Blaze

Officer Found Guilty Of Callous Act

LONDON (Reuters) — A London court today granted a divorce to the wife of a former British naval officer who accused him of trickery in gaining control of their two children in Canada.

The court said the officer, whose current whereabouts in Canada were not disclosed, had committed "a callous and calculated act of cruelty" is scheming to get rid of his wife and gain control of the children.

The court was told that the husband, R. D. B. Hopkins, persuaded his wife to fly back from Canada to England in 1949 to bring over the children.

When she arrived here she found his mother had already left with them for Canada by sea.

The children, now aged six and eight, still are in Canada. Hopes of getting them back into the jurisdiction of this country are "almost impossible," Mrs. Barbara Hopkin's laywer said.

STILL IN CANADA

The judge found cruelty and desertion proved and granted Mrs. Hopkins a decree nisi with costs.

"It is rather a terrible thought that anybody can remove children in that way without the other party having any redress," he commented.

The Hopkins were married in 1943. They spent five months together in Canada in 1949. Since then Mrs. Hopkins has lived in England.

Hopes Execution Will Be Stayed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Convicted slayer Carl Austin Dewolf is waiting today to die in the electric chair Jan. 27, but he hopes his bald head may yet save his life.

Dewolf, convicted of killing a Tulsa detective in 1946, is light-complexioned and bald. New witnesses have testified the man they saw fleeing the scene of the shooting had bush hair and a dark complexion.

The conflicting testimony has prompted Governor Johnston Murray to issue four stays of execution, and has provoked a review by the state penal institutions committee, which convenes today.

Committee chairman Senator Kirksey Nix says he believes Dewolf has been railroaded. He said he has five new witnesses who will testify the slayer had bushy hair.

Horses, Horses, Horses Pose Problem Of U.K. Coronation

By ROBERT JONES

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Norfolk wants to borrow 50 horses, but not just any horses.

They must be bays, because tradition demands that the horses which draw the royal carriages in the Coronation procession of the Queen June 2 must be of reddish-brown color.

When he has found them, the 43-year-old duke can cross one more item off the long list on his desk.

Plenty of items remain on this list, for the duke, as hereditary earl marshal of England, is master of ceremonies for the whole of the Coronation ceremony.

His job takes in royal funerals and weddings as well, but these are comparatively minor compared with the glittering pageantry that surrounds the crowning of a new monarch.

CHECKS GUEST LIST

For this, the duke must decide who will be invited, what they will wear, where they will sit. And check all details of the complicated ceremonial.

All problems eventually are referred to him.

He won't have to bother about the actual religious ceremony—the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of All England, who performs the actual crowning, arranges that.

Neither will he have to worry about the actual decoration, furnishing, or provision for the public to see the procession. That's the job of the minister of works, David Eccles, working under warrant from the duke.

If he runs up against a particularly knotty problem, he probably can find the answer by diving in the family archives. The job has been in the family for nearly 300 years, ever since Charles II gave it to the sixth duke to pass on to his heirs.

TWO NEW PROBLEMS

But you can't run a modern coronation on a blueprint 300 years old, and the duke has already run up against two problems his ancestors never dreamed of.

One was the problem of dress. Impoverished peers breathed a sigh of relief at the duke's edict that they can wear their robes of Parliament and caps of state on the great day if they don't possess the plush coronation robes and coronets.

The other problem has been whether to televise the actual religious ceremony in Westminister Abbey.

The Coronation Executive Committee, headed by the duke, drew howls of rage from television owners when it announced TV cameras would be switched off during the ceremony. So great was the outcry that the committee finally lifted its ban on televising the crowning to permit the first TV coverage of an actual coronation.

ONE BAR TO TV

Only the most religious part of the ceremony—the anointing with holy oil, the communion prayers and the administration of the sacrement—will be barred.

A third problem—the part to be played by the Duke of Edinburgh—may be left for the Queen to solve.

Bernard Marmaduke Fitzalan-Howard, 16th Duke of Norfolk, Earl of Arundel, Baron Maltravers, Earl of Surrey, Baron Fitz Alan and Baron Herries is a member of one of Britain's most prominent Roman Catholic families.

The fact that a Roman Catholic should stage manage the biggest religious ceremony of the Church of England doesn't bother him—nor does it bother Britons.

The duke has sole charge of Westminster Abbey until after the Coronation. On Jan. 1 the doors were locked and the massive keys handed to the duke. Even the dean of Westminister cannot enter without his permission.

The duke—a reputed multi-millionaire—lives most of the time with his wife and four daughters in historic Arundel Castle in southern England.

For all the trouble he takes in running the Coronation pageantry smoothly, the duke gets £20 a year—granted earl marshals since the 15th century.

Scoff At Oboler Dwindles As Returns Grow

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They laughed when Arch Oboler sat down to make a picture in three dimensions.

The Hollywood skeptics scoffed when they attended the premiere of the film and had to view it through special glasses. Three top studio executives walked out in the middle. The press reviews varied from condescending to brutal.

But Oboler doesn't care. He's making millions with it.

The picture is a happy collection of hokum called "Bwana Devil." It is expected to draw $8,000,000 at the box office, according to Oboler's reports and Oboler owns 60 per cent.

$2,000,000 BID

A group wants to buy his interest in "Bwana" for $2,000,000 but this high finance almost seems to bore him.

"The money is convenient to have," he remarked, "but only so I can make more pictures. The only person I am striving to please is myself."

Even so, the financial success of "Bwana" represents a happy triumph for Oboler over his scoffers.

"The experts said it couldn't be done, the banks said it couldn't be done," he commented. "But the public has seen three-dimensions and they say it can be done."

FAITH IN 3D

Oboler's own faith in what he calls 3D was so great that he mortgaged his own home to get the film started. The first third of the picture was financed by his own money, except for $10,000. when he had shot a third of the script, he showed it to theatre men and others in order to raise enough money to finish the picture. Right up until the Los Angeles premiere, there was hardly enough money for prints of the film.

His next project will be called "Spear in the Sand" and will have 3D sound as well as sight. Sound will be projected realistically from loudspeakers in various parts of the theatre.

He advises the major studios to start scouting new horizons, too.

"Hollywood keeps expecting to pull itself up by its own bootstraps," he observed. "But not even another world war could bring movie business back to its previous peaks. It will take an entire technical revolution."

So accurate was his work that he built a master clock that had a maximum loss of three seconds a day. An $800 chronometer he purchased earlier had a "disgraceful" loss of 12 seconds a day.

Customers came to him from India, Europe and South America.

Luxembourg Seeks To Become Capital Of Europe

By SERGE NABOKOFF

LUXEMBOURG (Reuters)—Luxembourg, already temporary headquarters of the six-country European coal and steel community, is toying with the even more ambitious dream of becoming the capital of Europe.

"We want to make our picturesque old Luxembourg a real Europe-city, seat of the future government of the United States of Europe," Victor Bodson, public works minister, said.

He said the government has approved a plan for setting up a "Schuman plan garden city" to house the administrative staff of the coal-and-steel pool and affiliated bodies.

The staff of 220, now housed in hotel rooms and requisitioned villas, is expected to nearly double this year. They also will probably bring their families from France, Germany, Italy, Holland and Belgium to swell Luxembourg's population of 50,000.

GRANDIOSE PLAN

A more grandiose plan, Bodson said, is being prepared in the hope that when the European coal-and-steel merger develops into a political and defence community, Luxembourg will be chosen as permanent capital of the European federation.

This "long-term" plan provides for the building of a "palace of Europe" which would house the European Parliament, the European "ministries" and other federal offices.

DREAM CAPITAL

The site of this "dream capital" of Europe covers 200 acres on the high "Trois Glands" plateau overlooking Luxembourg on the other side of the valley of the River Alzette. It would be linked to the city by a bridge rivalling the present "Adolf bridge," a 195-feet-high stone span that links the two halves of rocky Luxembourg. The cost of the new bridge is estimated at $1,200,000.

The immediate plan is for a 200-acre residential quarter, close to the city, that will tower over a dainty old-fashioned villa, birthplace of Robert Schuman, Luxembourg-born French statesman after whom the coal-and-steel pool was named.

DROPPED FROM POST

Schuman was dropped from the post of foreign minister in the French cabinet last week when Rene Mayer took over as premier.

The proposed garden city will be only about 2½ miles from Luxembourg airport and just over a half-mile from the centre of the town.

Several other West European cities have been clamoring for the chance of serving as a "European capital," but the Luxemburgers point out that they have actually gone ahead with concrete plans to make the statesmen welcome and comfortable.

Movie Writers Fed Up With Red Film Business

By THOMAS HARRIS

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Comrade movie writer is fed up with the movie business in Russia.

And he's doing what other writers in movie, radio and advertising threaten to do every so often—he's writing a book.

The movie writers' beefs came to the fore when the ministry of films, which runs the studios, began answering complaints about bad movies by saying that it could not get new scenarios because script writers are boycotting the studios.

The authors admitted that they would rather turn out novels than scenarios, but said that the ministry hasn't the facilities to turn out better films anyway—even if it had the scenarios.

An analysis of public complaints shows that the movie-going Russian wants these improvements:

1. Brighter films. Most films show "the glorious Soviet way of life" as being too dull.

CHILD FILMS

2. More nationalist films. There should be more pictures about the lives of Russian heroes like Peter The Great. (This does not clash with current Soviet ideology since the Czars now are represented as heroic defenders of Russia against foreign intriguers and warmongers).

3. Fewer documentary movies and more films suitable for children.

4. Films with a better ideological content.

Minister of Films I. Bolshakov has promised improvements and published a list of coming pictures which, he believes, the public will like.

But Bolshakov complains that in the whole Soviet Union, there are only 150 full-time movie writers. More must be trained, he says.

NEW ARRANGEMENTS

To encourage more outside contributions, new arrangements have been made for handling scenarios. Instead of dealing with five departments as hitherto, authors will henceforth have to deal with only two—the ministry of films or the office of the actual studio.

Moreover, wrangling with minor officials will be eliminated.

The authors' complaints were summarized by Boris Gorbatov who wrote in Literaturnaya Gazeta: "Acceptance of a scenario does not depend on its quality but on a thousand other reasons."

Chief among these thousand other reasons is topicality.

A picture on the miners in the Don basin was to be produced this summer during the big drive for increased production. A scenario was accepted which glorified the work of the miners. It showed their humor and had several comic passages.

Unfortunately, the trades unions council had just launched a campaign against familiarity in the mines. The humorous touches in the scenario immediately became out of place.

WI Sponsors Handicraft Course

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — The Lakefield branch of the Women's Institute met on Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard Bullock. The president was in the chair, and 26 members and two visitors answered the roll call with a verse of poetry from an old school book.

The branch is sponsoring a short course in weaving, leatherwork, glove making, and other handicrafts in Memorial Hall the last week of January and the first week of February. Registration for the class will be held at two o'clock on January 26 in the hall. The course will be under the supervision of Miss Isobel Leslie, of the Department of Agriculture, and 50 can be accommodated.

Mrs. S. C. Chatten was appointed a representative to the proposed meeting to be held in Peterborough on Monday, January 19, to discuss the formation of a mental health clinic.

Mrs. Eldon Johnston reported on the baby contest being held in conjunction with a show "Shooting Stars" being sponsored by the Institute and a committee was appointed to count the votes.

Education convener, Mrs. Alex Hunter, gave a paper on "Education," and a letter and card were read by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Dainton, from the Institute in England with which this Institute corresponds.

Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Fred Dainton, and Mrs. E. Waldon were appointed a program committee to be in charge of the program for which Lakefield is responsible when they are entertained by the Selwyn WI in February. It was decided to postpone the regular February meeting one week on account of the short course, and it will be held on February 12 at the home of Mrs. Eldon Johnston, with Mrs. Roy Farrow presiding.

The hostess and her committee served refreshments at the conclusion of the business.

A Prague broadcast Saturday said the court at Karlovy Vary gave the death penalty to Frantisek Silhart and sentenced Rudolph Prucha to life for their part in the plot.

The prosecution blamed the United States Army counter-intelligence corps for masterminding the daring escape of 31 Czechs from their Communist homeland

The train pierced the Iron Curtain Sept. 11, bringing 110 Czechs to West Germany. Seventy-nine reluctant passengers of the train returned to Czechoslovakia a month later.

At Ottawa, immigration officials said approximately a dozen of the party that escaped were brought to Canada by the international rescue committee of Toronto.

Jackson Opens Art Exhibition

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. A. Y. Jackson, noted Canadian artist, opened the 27th annual exhibition of the Canadian Society of Painters in Watercolor at the Art Gallery of Toronto.

He said at the opening Saturday night that he finds in Canada today a growing acceptance of art experimentation and that Canadians are becoming more tolerant and understanding of radical art forms. Dr. Jackson was one of the prime movers in the Group of Seven, seven Canadian artists now recognized as pioneers in distinctive Canadian painting. He recalled that his first exhibition in Montreal in 1911 was coldly received, "indeed completely ignored."

During the opening ceremonies a watercolor painting, "Plant Forms," by Vancouver artist Bruno Bobak, was presented by the society to the Hamilton Gallery.

CONFUSED—Harold, a two-headed water turtle found by a fisherman near Morgan City, La., is compared here in size to a silver dollar. Harold's life is one of confusion because each of his heads controls two of his legs. When one head wants to snooze, the other might want a choice morsel of food. The result—Harold crawls around in a circle. Dr. William O. Sadler, biologist at Mississippi College, said each head has independent action and controls one side of the body.

B.C. Social Credit Gov't Has Three Rows In Week

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's fledgling Social Credit government has run into three rows in the last week.

The three arguments, all hot political topics in B.C., boiled up over hospital insurance, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and the provincial labor relations board. The first has simmered down but the other two are still raging.

First, Health Minister Eric Martin hinted to the B.C. Hospitals' Association that new taxes might be introduced to support the province's compulsory hospital insurance scheme.

British Columbians, who now pay $39 (families) or $27 (single persons) a year for hospital care plus $1 a day while in hospital, hit the roof. Premier W. A. C. Bennett promptly said no new taxes were contemplated and Mr. Martin said his remarks had been "misconstrued."

ANGRY PROTESTS

Next, Railways Minister Ralph Chetwynd said the government is studying the Monkman Pass as a possible route for extension of the Pacific Great Eastern from Prince George. This shorter route would link the PGE with the Northern Alberta Railway at Beaverlodge, Alta., instead of going direct to Dawson Creek, B.C.

There were angry protests from Dawson Creek and other Peace district towns in B.C. They maintained anything but an all-B.C. route would be a "sell-out" to Alberta.

Lastly, labor and management teamed up to condemn Labor Minister Lyle Wicks' announcement that the labor relations board will be placed on a part-time basis instead of being maintained as a permanent board.

The chairman will be the only permanent member of the reconstituted board. The other four members, two representing labor and two management, previously received $6,500 annually. Mr. Wicks said the four part-time board members now will receive $15 a day. After protests from both labor and management, this amount was raised to $20.

Mr. Wicks said the move is designed to save money. But labor and manegement contended a delay of even a single day in negotiations affecting big concerns would cost many times what the government could save in a whole year with a part-time board.

He was with the Ontario department of mines for 27 years and was appointed assistant deputy minister in 1939.

Ex-Sarnia Mayor W. F. Crompton Dies

SARNIA (CP)—William Franklin Crompton, mayor of Sarnia in 1936 and an alderman for 14 years, died Sunday after a long illness. He was 74.

Born in Perth county, for 50 years he was an engineer with the Canadian National Railways, retiring in 1943.

Mr. Crompton was a councillor for the town of Sarnia in 1914 and became one of the city's first aldermen when Sarnia was incorporated as a city that year.

Using Community Centres In Fight Against Communism

By MARIO H. ROXAS

MANILA (AP)—A psychological war against communism is being waged in the streets of the small communities in this island republic.

There has been only skirmishing so far. As more ammunition arrives from the Philippines capital and the U.S. the war will spread to every community where communism lurks.

The weapon is a community centre where the uneducated masses of Filipinos will learn the meaning of freedom.

There are but three of these centres now. By the end of 1953 sponsors hope to have 100 humming. They expect to see 50 more finished in 1954.

The program was launched by the National Movement For Free Elections (NAMFREL), which helped to promote a clean election in the Philippines in 1951

DECIDE TO KEEP GOING

NAMFREL did so well that it decided to keep the organization alive and try to see what could be done about battling communism. Communist Huks are in armed revolt in the Philippines and the problem is pressing.

NAMFREL says it believes the community centre idea can become "a pilot project for the whole of southeast Asia."

The centres, equipped with books, magazines, movies and athletic equipment, will be put up in every area considered vulnerable to Communist infiltration or influence. Most of these soft spots are in the central Luzon provinces, where the Huks are most active Each centre is expected to serve 30,000 to 50,000 Filipinos.

The movies and lectures will point up the freedom possible under a democratic form of government—and the tyranny of communism.

There will be demonstrations on modern agriculture methods, the raising of livestock, and instruction in health and sanitation.

NY-Born Newspaperwoman Retires After Life In West

WINNIPEG (CP)—Miriam Green Ellis, American-born newspaper woman who found fame in Western Canada through a lifetime of agricultural reporting, has retired. She has reached what she calls the "turn in the road."

For more than 30 years her name has been a byward in recording farm activities. Until Dec. 31 she was western editor of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, a job which took her from coast to coast.

EDITOR RETIRES — Miriam Green Ellis, one of western Canada's best-known newspaper women, has retired after a lifetime of agricultural reporting. Born at Richville, N.Y., she moved to Edmonton when young and started her newspaper career as a reporter on the Prince Albert Herald. She worked on several other Eastern Canada newspapers, specializing in agricultural subjects before becoming western editor of the Family Herald and Weekly Star 25 years ago.

Mrs. Ellis, during the 25 years she worked for the Montreal weekly has been linked with every phase of the fair, from jams and preserves to the bull ring. Her name can be found in many back editions of Canadian and American magazines.

EXCELLENT COOK

White-haired and tall—she is five feet, eight—Mrs. Ellis lives alone in a Winnipeg apartment where she is known as an excellent cook. But retirement will not mean the end of her writing. She will leave shortly for the West coast where she plans to cover some agricultural conventions for her paper.

Miriam and the late E. Cora Hind, colorful agricultural editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, once ruffled Toronto high society by wearing breeches to the Royal Winter Fair.

"It made a sensation," Mrs. Ellis recalls. "The kids followed us around as they did the pied piper."

Nevertheless, Miriam wore her breeches and encouraged other women to wear them. Her wearing apparel now includes finely tailored suits.

"They're suitable for work and have plenty of pockets," she says. "You can go from the stockyards to an hotel luncheon and still be well dressed."

BORN IN NEW YORK

Mrs. Ellis was born at Richville, N.Y., and spent her early summers with a grandmother on an eastern Ontario farm. Later her family moved to Edmonton.

She first started reporting on the Prince Albert Herald and from there went to the old Regina Post. After a hitch on the Edmonton Bulletin and a period of agricultural free-lancing, she opened the Montreal weekly's editorial office at Winnipeg.

Miriam says she drifted into agricultural reporting while working for the Bulletin and its editor Frank Oliver, minister of the interior in the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier from 1905 to 1911.

"The Hon. Frank brought his printing press across the Prairies by ox cart," she says. "He used to say agriculture was the basic industry.

"All politicians say that. But this one meant it. When the summer came and the fairs, he turned us all loose and hired more to go to the fairs.

"The boys didn't like it. They'd rather do police court.

"But I like it, so of course I got plenty of it to do—as well as Parliament buildings and police court."

NOT FOR "NICE GIRLS"

Miriam wanted to be a doctor, but "nice girls" didn't do that when she was a girl back in old Ontario. She got it out of her system by calling on patients with a doctor who sometimes asked her to "come in and hold a limb."

She was given music lessons because "nice girls" were given music lessons. Although a graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, she claims her interest only reached as far as the theory because of the mathematics involved.

The piano in her apartment is largely ornamental and she is no radio fan. But like thousands of other Winnipeggers she is keenly interested in ballet.

Mrs. Ellis says most of her work in the newspaper world—often regarded as for men only—has been pleasant. But her breeches proved embarrassing once when a farm woman wouldn't invite her into the house.

$13,000,000 PLANT — A $13,000,000 plant is under construction near Edmonton for production of a wonder plastic which has found uses in everything from unbreakable drinking glasses to insulation for submarine cables. Canadian Industries Limited chose Edmonton for the site of Canada's first polythene plant because the area's oil fields are rich in ethylene-producing natural gas used in the making of polythene. The plant, scheduled for production late this year, will turn out eight times the amount now available through imports from the United Kingdom and the United States.

Post-Graduate School At Carleton

OTTAWA (CP) — Carleton College will establish a post-graduate school of public administration this year financed initially by a $200,000 grant from the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, Toronto, Dr. M.M. MacOdrum, college president, announced today.

The grant will support the school's development for several years, providing academic salaries, scholarships to attract highly-qualified students and bringing in guest lecturers, the announcement said.

The school will be the first at the post-graduate level in the 10-year history of Carleton College. Courses and staff will be expanded to provide for degrees of master of arts in public administration.

The grant involves payment of $100,000 immediately and an additional $100,000 during a five-year period. The college said it will cover half the cost of maintaining the new school for 10 years.

Dr. MacOdrum said both English- and french-speaking students will be encouraged through scholarships to undertake graduate studies in public affairs at the federal, provincial and municipal level.

Find Virus Fast Worker When It Invades Body

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

DENVER (AP)—A virus is a dead-eye sharpshooter at causing infection, studies at the University of Colorado show.

It needs only one chance to grab a living cell and cause sickness. Given that chance, it rarely misses.

Its weapon is an electrical hook to attach itself to its target cell. Then the virus enters the cell, and quickly produces up to 1,000 more viruses.

These fascinating studies of how viruses work are described by Dr. Theodore T. Puck, professor of biophysics at Colorado's medical school.

Viruses cause hundreds of plant, animal and human diseases, including influenza, polio, mumps and yellow fever. Each virus is specific, that is able to attack usually just one kind of body cell.

Dr. Puck and associates are working mainly with a virus, bacteriophage, which attacks and kills certain bacteria.

ATTRACTED TO CELL

The virus, they find, first picks up a positive ion, an electrically-charged particle, from body fluids. The ion alters the surface of the virus so that it is attracted to its target cell electrostatically, to grab and hold onto it.

The 'flu virus works the same way, getting an electrical hook to attack human blood cells. All viruses may work the same way.

In test-tubes, the virus invasion can be stopped by adding fluids which prevent the virus from picking up its electrical hook or by supplying the wrong kind of electrical hooks. Whether such prevention can be applied practically is something for future study.

Puck now is investigating the second step in virus sickness—how the virus manages to penetrate inside the cell after it becomes attached.

Enzymes, the potent controllers of bodily reactions, apparently are involved in this mechanism.

WORK FAST

So far, it is known that the virus goes to work quickly. Dr. Puck finds it takes some viruses only 15 to 20 seconds to kill a cell it has grabbed. The virus then takes over the cell's inner machinery, and begins making more viruses, again at a fast pace.

The bacteriophage takes only 13 minutes to catch and kill a cell and produce 1,000 more viruses. The new 1,000 in another 13 minutes could have produced 1,000,000 viruses, all within 26 minutes.

Discovery of the basic mechanism of virus attack and reproduction may lead to means of protection against virus diseases. The knowledge also could aid in attempts to train viruses for useful jobs, such as encouraging viruses to attack and kill cancer cells without harming healthy cells.

Railroad Telegrapher Has 45 Years' Service

LAKEFIELD (ENS).— Walter W. Yale, who retired from the position of CNR agent, Lakefield, in 1944, has completed 45 years' membership in the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and has received a Life Membership Card in recognition of his long and loyal support of that organization.

Before coming to Lakefield in 1926, he held the position of day operator and ticket clerk at the GTR-CNR station in Peterborough for 13 years. In contrast to the present 40-hour week today, Mr. Yale reports that during part of this time he worked twelve hours per day, seven days a week.

He was elected local chairman of the Lindsay District ORT in 1915, and represented that district on the general committee which met management in Montreal in 1918, at which time the eight-hour day was negotiated.

Wonder Plastic Be Produced In New $13 Million Plant

By FRED CHAFE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A $13,000,000 plant near Edmonton will soon be turning out a wonder plastic which has found uses in everything from unbreakable drinking glasses to insulation for submarine cables.

The new product, considered one of the most versatile and useful plastics yet produced by modern science, is called polythene.

It first proved its qualities as insulation in wartime radar equipment. Sir Robert Watson-Watt, British radar wizard, credited polythene with transforming "the design, production, and installation and maintenance problems of airborne radar from the almost insoluble to the comfortably manageable."

TRANSATLANTIC CABLE

Peacetime communications operators have since become enthusiastic about its commercial value. More than 1,000 miles of polythene-insulated cable was used last summer when the cable ship Monarch revamped the old submarine link between Halifax and Porthcurno, Cornwall.

Officials saw increased speed along with a sharp prediction in distortion and power loss, and are convinced polythene is in the communications field to stay.

Canadian Industries Limited picked Edmonton for the site of Canada's first polythene plant because the area's oil fields are rich in ethylene-producing natural gas. The plant, scheduled for production late in 1953, will turn out eight times the amount now available through imports from the United Kingdom and the United States.

1933 EXPERIMENTS

Polythene dates back to 1933 and an English laboratory experiment which at first looked like a flop. Two scientists wanted to make benzaldehyde react to ethylene, a simple constituent of coal and refinery gases.

They didn't get what they wanted. Instead they produced polythene. After four more unsuccessful experiments, they evolved a sure-fire manufacturing process.

The product of their research was tough and flexible even at sub-zero temperatures, lighter in weight than any other known plastic, tasteless, odorless and non-poisonous. A polythene plant came into operation the day the Nazis invaded Poland and was promptly shunted over to war production. Only in 1945 did it become available to peacetime industry.

Ike Tells Dewey Greatest Service Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower Friday night told Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York — twice defeated as the Republican presidential nominee — that the period of greatest service to his country still lies ahead.

Speaking at a fund-raising dinner to fight heart disease, Eisenhower first made an obvious allusion to Prime Minister Churchill, with whom he conferred earlier this week.

Eisenhower told his audience:

"I spoke to a man the other evening who is 77 or 78 years old, one of the world's leaders, and I said to him: 'Hasn't the time come when you should retire into the background. . .and let someone else carry on the day to day battle?'

SERVICE LIES AHEAD

"He said: 'Not at all. The opportunity for the greatest service to my country still lies ahead.'"

Eisenhower then turned to Dewey, who also spoke at the dinner, and declared:

"And that, in my mind, Governor, applies to you."

Dewey was the Republican presidential nominee in 1944 and again in 1948. He was defeated the first time he ran by the late President Roosevelt. In 1948, he lost to President Truman.

Tweed Doctor Finds 2 Sons Dead In Highway Accident

Ferguson Dies From Burns After Explosion

Angus Ferguson, 64, critically injured in the flash fire which followed the explosion in the Quaker Oats feed mill Monday morning, died at 11:45 p.m. in St. Joseph's Hospital. So much plasma was being used in an effort to save his life, that hospital authorities realized their emergency supply of plasma would not last through the night. Late in the afternoon, a provincial police cruiser sped from Toronto to Peterborough with an additional supply.

Five other men were injured in the explosion and fire which caused $35,000 damage on five of eight floors in the eight-storey feed mill.

Ferguson and the others who were injured were in a part of the feed mill on the eighth floor.

CONDITION SATISFACTORY

Condition of the others, including Clarence Fairbairn, 54, RR 4 Peterborough who was seriously burned about the face and hands is reported to be satisfactory today.

The other men who were burned about the face and hands are:

Today, two officials of the Fire Marshal's office in Toronto, John Richards and Harry Jordan are in the city investigating the cause of the explosion.

He secured employment with the Quaker Oats Company and has been in their feed department for the past 22 years. He would have retired in August of this year.

He was a member of Mark Street United Church and of the Orange Order in Glen Arm, Ont.

New Budget Being Set Abbott Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—Hold your breath—the 1953-54 budget is in the making.

This information was given Monday in the Commons by Finance Minister Abbott who said study of departmental expenditures has been completed. He has started to work on the budget itself.

Canadians should know within the next two months what is in store—either higher or lower taxes. Betting around parliamentary corridors is for lower taxes, especially if an election is called for this fall.

The finance minister did not, of course, give a hint as to tax or other changes. Neither did he mention a target date beyond saying he hopes to present the budget "as early as possible." However, it is generally believed it will come early in March.

The finance minister spoke on a resolution by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) for abolition of the four-per-cent floor on medical expenses deductible for income tax purposes. Mr. Knowles said charitable donations were deductible from earnings and the same principle should apply for medical expenses.

Mr. Abbott said he would consider Mr. Knowles' proposal. But he did not agree with the principle that normal living expenses should be deductible from income tax. Medical expenses had no more right to such calculation than food or clothing which also were necessities.

Toronto Council Faces Redder

TORONTO (CP) — The faces on Toronto's city council are redder than the trees on University avenue.

The city fathers learned Monday it would cost $25,000 to produce a shade similar to their facial hues in maple trees on the outer boulevards of the wide avenue.

The trouble started last fall when council discovered the Holland Bulb Company had supplied them with a variety of maple which produced a dull yellow leaf rather than the brilliant red associated with Canadian autumn.

The city paid $650 for what were thought to be red maples (acer rubrum) but received Norway maples (acer platanoides).

Monday a committee of experts recommended that 127 acer platanoides be replaced by acer saccharl (red and sugar maples). They left it to council whether the cost of $200 a tree would be raised by public subscription.

Edgewater Hotel Destroyed By Fire

CRYSTAL BEACH (CP) — Fire gutted the historic Edgewater hotel on the lakefront here early today.

The three-storey, 32-room hotel, a rambling wooden structure, was valued at $65,000. Only a few of its contents were saved.

Firemen battled the flames two hours before bringing them under control. The spectacular blaze could be seen for several miles along the Lake Erie lakefront.

The hotel has long been a landmark in this tourist resort near Fort Erie.

$700,000,000 On War

TOKYO (AP) — The United Nations will have spent nearly $700,000,000—mostly from the United States—in Korea by the third anniversary of the war on June 25, a high UN official said Monday. J. Donald Kingsley, agent-general for the UN reconstruction agency, said current plans call for expenditure of more than $70,000,000 between now and the end of June

Warns Operators

Find Ontario Hotel Rates Frightening Dolan Declares

TORONTO (CP)—Leo Dolan, director of the federal travel bureau, said Monday some Ontario hotel rates are "frightening."

Addressing the tourist resort owners' division of the Hotel Association of Ontario at its 28th annual convention, he said:

"You have got to watch your price scale. Some hslot ein large centres in Ontario last year complained that they did not get their share of the tourist business. The reason probably was that their rates were too high."

Accommodation at resorts throughout Canada had been improved so much that complaints about it now were "about one-tenth of one per cent" of what they were formerly.

Ward Markle, in charge of public relations for the association, proposed to the convention that a conference be called at which the clergy could air their liquor grievances to Ontario hotel men.

"Too often the hotel men are accused unjustly when the intemperate individual is to blame," he said.

Dalton J. Caswell of Sundridge, chairman of the board of the association, said hotels constitute one of the largest service industries in Canada.

"Likewise we are one of the largest employers of labor in the dominion and last year paid over $49,000,000 to some 59,000 employees. We did a gross business in 1952 of $150,000,000 and our hotels in Canada paid almost $5,000,000 in property and municipal taxes alone."

Japan Warns Russia Keep Planes Away

Border Violators Will Be Shot Down Govt. Announces

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

TOKYO (AP) —Japan, irritated by "at least 20 or 30" violations of its borders, today warned Russia against sending planes over Japanese territory.

A foreign office spokesman said U. S. planes would shoot down intruders if necessary.

The United States approved Japan's ultimatum in advance.

Japan thus in effect rattled a U. S. sabre against its old enemy to the north. It did not name Russia, but left no doubt that's the country it meant.

STRICTER MEASURES

Shortly after the blunt warning, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters announced the Far East commander had ordered his defence chiefs in Japan to take "all measures necessary to prevent further violations of Japan's security or acts which endanger U.S. forces."

A Japanese government spokesman said planes flying without permission over Japan would be ordered to land.

"When they don't follow our orders," Mitsuo Tanaka of the foreign office told a press conference, "if necessary (we will) shoot them down."

The warning could be aimed only at Russia. Only six miles of water separate Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island, from the Russian-held Kurile Islands.

The spokesman for the Japanese government said foreign planes had intruded over Hokkaido "at least 20 or 30 times since last summer." He expressed the belief that the planes came from Soviet bases.

HAD CO-OPERATION

Japan added in its bristling warning:

"The government has therefore decided to take the necessary measures with the co-operation of the United States security forces stationed in Japan to prevent such violations of Japanese aerial domains in the future.

"The Japanese government takes this opportunity to caution the foreign power concerned against the repetition of such violations and to declare that hereafter, for any consequence of the measures to be taken to repel intruding aircraft, the entire responsipility will rest with the country to which the aircraft belongs."

Tanaka said decisions on defence measures would be made by U. S. commanders.

Hold Suspect In Accident

TORONTO (CP) — Police are holding a suspect in connection with an accident Monday night in which a 65-year-old woman was run over twice by the same automobile.

Investigators say the man, arrested at his home, denied being involved. They did not reveal his name.

However, police say his automobile fits the description given by persons who saw Mrs Maude Brown, 65, knocked down by a car which backed up from a gas station. Traffic Inspector Robert Kerr said a clear hand imprint was found on the car.

Hospital officials said the woman's condition is improved today but she still is on the critical list, suffering from multiple fractures.

Unidentified Driver Angel Of Mercy

TORONTO (CP) — A motorist stopped at an accident on the Barrie highway Saturday night in which four persons were injured. This is what he did:

Bandaged the injuries of the most severely - injured person; administered pain-killing tablets to all those in the crash; set up a small stove and made tea to combat shock; and waited for a doctor and ambulance and then drove away.

This story was told today by a Toronto osteopathic physician, Dr. Douglas Firth, who accompanied the victims to hospital. He said police credited him with giving first aid, but actually it was the unidentified motorist who performed the most valuable service.

AN OTONABEE TOWNSHIP MAN narrowly missed an icy ducking or death in the Otonabee river Monday night. Max Redmond, Keene Road, slipped while crossing the railway bridge, just north of the Locks bridge and fell 15 feet to the ice. Firemen rushed to the scene and improvised a ladder stretcher (lower photo) to lift Redmond to the bridge level. There he was briefly checked (top photo) by Fire Captain Vic Barry and Chief Ralph Leonard while spectators, firemen Adelard Vinette and Jerry Nurse look on. Man Falls From Icy Bridge Hits Ice Below, Breaks Leg

Max Redmond, 54, Keene Rd., Otonabee township, narrowly missed an icy ducking and possible death in the Otonabee River when he slipped on ice-coated ties of the railway bridge north of the Locks bridge and fell 15 feet to the ice.

As it was he suffered a broken right leg.

Jerry Nurse, 2 Lansdowne St., E., who operates a garage beside the west end of the railway bridge, heard a shout from the river while he was working.

He hurried out across the slippery ties until he reached the spot where Redmond had plunged over the side.

Redmond called to him that he had broken his leg. He was lying on the ice about six feet from open water where the current swirled around one of the piers.

ON THICKER ICE

Nurse said Redmond had been lucky because the current had been swishing water up over the ice where it froze and formed a thicker crust than the surrounding ice. Redmond had landed on this thicker ice and had then rolled near the open water where, Nurse estimated, the ice was about an inch thick.

Nurse phoned police who recorded his call at 8:14 p.m. The police in turn, called the fire department and three men went to try to reach the man in his plight.

Predict Purge Of Russian Jews

LONDON (Reuters) — World Jewry will again be the Communist scapegoat when nine Russian doctors stand trial in Moscow on charges of plotting to murder Soviet leaders, diplomatic sources here predicted today.

The sources said the trial should be even more sensational than the recent Prague treason trial, which ended in 11 death sentences and was marked by anti-Jewish propaganda.

Israeli officials in Tel Aviv said today they fear the Kremlin plans to launch an extensive purge of Jewish officials, or even one aimed at the whole Jewish community in Russia. They said Stalin may mass-evacuate Jews to exile in Siberia.

The officials said Stalin's reason for the purge may be a belief that Jews would comprise an unreliable element in Communist ranks in case of world conflict.

In Paris, a source close to the French foreign office interpreted today's accusations against the nine doctors as part of a long-term Communist plan to eliminate Jews from public life in the Soviet.

Wife And Daughter Seriously Hurt In Truck Collision

TWEED (CP and Special)—Called to a highway accident north of his Roslin home, Dr. John D. Empson, found his two young sons dead and his wife and daughter seriously injured The quick action of a truck driver who put out a fire in the car after the accident saved Mrs. Empson and her daughter, Heather, 4. The doctor, on the scene minutes after the accident, helped lift the bodies of his two sons, from the wreckage. When he saw they were beyond help, he turned to look after his wife and daughter. He rode with them in the ambulance to Belleville General hospital.

Mrs. Empson has concussion and a fractured hip while Heather suffers concussion and deep cuts. Their condition is reported as satisfactory today. Specialists were called in from Kingston to examine Mrs. Empson.

ON WAY HOME

Dr. Empson said his wife had met the boys at school in Roslin, 10 miles south of Tweed, and had taken them to the larger centre for a haircut. They were returning home, southbound on Highway 38, when the accident occurred.

A stake body truck loaded with lumber and driven by John Haw, of Trenton, had pulled partially off the highway onto the right shoulder while Haw and two companions, Hilliard and Marvin Cooney, R.R. 2, Trenton, changed a tire.

Haw told police his lights were on and one of the Cooney brothers was getting flares ready to put out. Haw himself had walked at least five truck lengths back on the highway to flag down traffic until the flares were burning.

He said he heard and saw the Empson car coming and was waving his arms frantically as it passed him. Although police measurements showed Mrs. Empson applied the brakes about 100 feet from the truck, Haw said the

RCMP Drops McDonald Off Wanted List

OTTAWA (CP) — Donald (Mickey) McDonald, Toronto hijacker who broke out of penitentiary 5½ years ago, has been dropped from the RCMP's new list of Canada's 10 most-wanted criminals.

An RCMP spokesman said today McDonald is "presumed dead." He declined to elaborate.

The 44-year-old Toronto hoodlum held the top spot on the list all last year, except when Toronto gangsters Edwin Alonzo Boyd, Leonard Jackson and Steve Suchan were being sought.

His place as Canada's No. 1 bad man is taken by 35-year-old Hugh Kennedy of Winnipeg and Toronto. Kennedy, alias McIntosh, has been wanted by Toronto since his escape Nov. 27, 1948, while on the way to Kingston penitentiary to serve eight years for forgery.

The RCMP says he tops the list because he has a long record and is considered dangerous.

McDonald sawed his way out of Kingston penitentiary Aug. 17, 1947, after serving less than two years of a 17½-year sentence for armed robbery and kidnapping. With him were Ulysses Lauzon and Nicholas Minille, also long-termers.

A bullet-riddled body identified as Lauzon's was found in a Mississippi swamp July, 1948. Minille was recaptured in Calforna two months earlier.

HEARD LIQUIDATED

After that, a persistent story said htat U.S. gangsters "liquidated" McDonald because he talked too much when he was drinking.

Two others besides Boyd and McDonald have been dropped from the previous list: Walter Pavlukoff, 38, of Vancouven, arrested only last Thursday near Toronto on a warrant charging him with murdering Vancouver bank manager Sidney Petrie in a holdup attempt in August, 1947; and Melville Wilkie, 41, of Shallow Lake, Ont., caught in aVncouver last March.

440 Planes Strike At Korean Railroads

SEOUL (AP)—The United States 5th air force hurled a crushing 440-plane strike against Communist rail facilities deep in northwest Korea today. It was the seventh hammering blow on the Red life line in five days.

U. S. Sabre jets, flying protective cover, downed two Communist MiG-15s, probably destroyed one and damaged another, the air force said.

The fighter - bombers streamed north in morning and afternoon raids of 220 planes each only a few hours after B-29 Superforts plastered the area with 100 tons of bombs in a night strike.

Biggest news on the ground front was that two fresh Chinese Communist armies—about 70,000 men—have moved into the line on the western front. Intelligence officers said there was no indication of any new Red offensive in that area, however. They said one badly - mauled Chinese army was being pulled out of the line.

Have 2,000 Deserters In Armed Forces

OTTAWA (CP)—More than 2,000 deserters from the Canadian armed forces are at large, the defence department reported Monday. That is two per cent of the over-all manpower of 100,000.

The figure, tabled in the Commons in reply to questions asked by Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East), was the first given out in some years on full deserter totals. There was no breakdown according to services.

The return said the total of 2,000 men does not include those absent without leave, a lesser offence.

SET FOR DEBATES

It was one of a number bearing on the forces, a sure sign members are getting set for defence debates ahead. They gave this information:

1. The three forces enrolled 29,279 men in the last 12 months but lost another 13,801 through discharges and deaths. Net gain: 15,478.

2. Of 5,066 offigers in the army, 626 have been commissioned from the ranks since 1946.

3. Defence headquarters is staffed by 1,511 officers, 1,335 other ranks and 4,389 civilians a total of 7,235 people.

4. Canada ordered 34,096 Garand rifles from the United States but stopped delivery short of that number because of the Anglo-American rifle dispute.

Fire Destroys 4 Oil Tanks

JOLIETTE, Que. (CP)—Firemen battled for three hours early today to subdue a fire which engulfed four oil storage tanks and destroyed a nearby residence. Damage was estimated at approximately $100,000.

One fireman was injured.

The fire started at 6.30 a. m., when a gasoline truck driver turned on his ignition at the Super Test refinery, near the centre of the town. An explosion which turned his truck into a flaming inferno threw blazing oil on to a nearby storage tank and within minutes another three tanks were jury.

Twenty-five persons left their homes when flames, sometimes reaching 400 feet into the air, threatened nearby residences. One house was destroyed and a second severely damaged before the fire was brought under control.

Pressure Growing Against Jews

Charge 9 Doctors Killed 2 Russ Leaders

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press and radio today announced the arrest of nine doctors—most of them Jews—on charges of killing two top Russian leaders and plotting the deaths of others on instructions from British and American intelligence services and Zionist organizations.

The announcement said the doctors admitted killing Andrei A. Zhdanov, one of the leading members of the powerful politburo until his death in 1948, and Alexander S. Scherbakov, head of the chief political administration of the Soviet Army, who died in 1945.

The announcement by Tass, the Soviet news agency, said others marked for death included War Minister Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky; Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander-in-chief of Soviet ground forces, and his chief of staff, Gen. S. M. Shtemenko; Marshal Leonid A. Govorov, who commanded Red armies in Finland during the Second World War, and Admiral G. I. Levchenko, deputy navy minister.

FIRST TARGETS

Leading military figures were the first targets, said Tass, "but arrest thwarted their villainous plan and the criminals failed to achieve their goal."

The nine doctors were identified as Professors M. S. Vovsi, V. N. Vinogradov, M. B. Kogan, B. B. Kogan, P. I. Yegorov, A. I. Feldman, Y. A. Etinger, A. M. Drinshtein and G. I. Mayorov

Tass said they "criminally undermined" their patients' health, "deliberately made incorrect diagnoses and then, by incorrect healing methods, destroyed them."

All were identified as "therapeutic doctors," except Drinshtein, who was described as a neuropathologist.

The press accounts said that Vinogradov, M. B. Kogan and Yegorov "turned out to be long-time agents of English intelligence." Others among the nine, they added, including Vovsi, Drinshtein, Feldman and Etinger, were connected with the "international Jewish and Bcurgeois nationalist organization 'Joint'."

HIT AT AGENCY

(This apparently was a reference to the Jewish joint distribution agency, a Jewish aid organization that has sent millions of dollars to help European Jews, including those behind the Iron Curtain.)

Tass said the doctors were "hired agents of imperialist intelligence" who received their instructions from "Joint."

(The Russian accusations against the doctors and the Jewish agency coincide with a wave of anti-Semitic purges and trials reported throughout Soviet - controlled Eastern Europe in recent months.

(Most dramatic among these was the Prague treason trial of 13 former Czechoslovak Communist leaders, 11 of them Jews. The trial, which involved accusations against world Jewry, resulted in the execution of 11 men, including Rudolf Slansky, former Czech Communist party boss.)

INCORRECT DIAGNOSIS

The doctors, said the accounts, confessed that in Zhdanov's case "they made an incorrect diagnosis of his disease and, concealing the miocardial infraction from which he suffered, prescribed a regime which was contra-indicated for this serious illness and thereby killed comrade A. A. Zhdanov." The official announcement of Zhdanov's death had said that he died of heart failure.

In the case of Scherbakov, Tass aded, the doctors "incorrectly applied strong medicines for his treatment, introduced an experimental regime and thus caused his death." At the time of his death in 1945, it was announced that he had died of paralysis of the heart.

St. Laurent Says No Horses On Army Payroll

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Monday the report of investigator George S. Currie notwithstanding, there were no horses on the payroll at the military camp at Petawawa, Ont.

The prime minister made the statement in the Commons in replying to a question by Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West). She had asked if there were names of persons on Petawawa payrolls which did not represent living human beings and then put a number of supplementary questions.

The prime minister said the answer to the first question is "no." Therefore the other questions, such as rate of pay, deductions for income tax and payment by cash or by cheque, were not applicable.

Mrs. Fairclough's questions resulted from the report of Mr. Currie which detailed irregularities at Petawawa. It said that horses were hired by army personnel and placed on the payroll in the name of non-existent laborers.

PRIME MINISTER EXPLAINS

Mr. St. Laurent said investigations had shown that a number of teams were needed for clearing an area of Petawawa camp known as area X. But only a limited number of farmers with teams were available.

An army sergeant, since convicted of irregularities at Petawawa and sentenced to a prison term, hired a number of horses on his own account. Then he hired separately a number of laborers and put them on the payroll as if they owned the horses. The laborers turned over 70 cents of the $1.50 an hour they were paid, to the sergeant.

5 Missing Men Found In North

EDMONTON (CP)—A five-man oil exploration crew, lost three days in 25-below-zero weather in the Peace River area 240 miles northwest of Edmonton, was found Monday by searching aircraft.

The employees of Shell Oil Co. were surveying and planning road layouts for a new company wildcat well near Trout lake. Their snowmobile broke a ski and when they failed to arrive at their destination Friday an aerial search was launched.

The men — George Cormack, N. M. Harper and Earl Sherron, all of Calgary, and Clayton Franks and James Turner of Edmonton—were found by search planes from Edmonton.

A light plane then landed at their camp near Loon lake and flew them 75 miles southwest to Peace River town.

Should Planning Board Re-Organize Council Asks

Re-organization of the city planning board was discussed by council in committee of the whole Monday night.

The planning board which was established by an act of the provincial legislature designates which sections of the city are to be regarded as residential, industrial and business zones, and is concerned with the beautification of the city and planning for its future growth.

Ald. T. D. Miller urged that a small committee of council be set up to consider re-organization of the planning board, because he said there are a number of matters that the board will have to be dealing with during the coming months.

PROGRESS HELD UP

"Progress of the city is being held up in some respects," Ald. Miller said, "inasmuch as approval of the board has to be secured before projects can be proceeded with."

Aldermen Harold Rehill, Stan Longhurst and Mayor Hugh Waddell were appointed as a committee to look into the possible reorganization of the board and submit a report.

Another three man committee consisting of aldermen Miller, Rehill and Longhurst was appointed to consult with the local Builders' Exchange and report to council on the advisability of the city adopting the National Building Code to replace the local city building by-law.

Ald. Miller pointed out that a new National Building Code is expected in the spring and that in some respects the city's building regulations are outdated. Then too, he said the National Building Code regulations are much more specific than local regulations in force here.

Two applications to operate mobile canteen units were accompanied by favorable reports from sanitary inspector R. M. MacPherson and the licences were granted. A licence to operate another unit was granted to E. Connors of 1046 Western Ave. Mr. Connors serves food and hot drinks to workers on the job and calls during working hours at different places where he has an arrangement with the employers.

The second application, granted to Percy Harrison, will permit him to offer his wares to the general public on city streets, under conditions set down in the city's by-law governing mobile vending units.

ASKS FOR ESTIMATES

Ald. T. D. Miller, chairman of the finance committee announced that it is hoped work on the budget can begin by February 15. He urged all chairmen of committees to have their estimates in by then. He added that the 1952 financial statement was expected to be completed by the end of January.

A petition from Elm St. residents was received, asking that Hopkins Ave., be extended east across Monaghan Rd., to Park St., and that the name of Elm St., be changed to Hopkins Ave. Committee of the whole approved both requests in the petition which was signed by the necessary number of residents.

King's Armored Car May Join Collection

LONDON (Reuters)—An armored car that once belonged to the late King George VI soon may join a private collection which already includes Hermann Goering's car, and cars which belonged to Winston Churchill, the Duke of Windsor and Donald MacLean, missing British diplomat.

The King's car, a Daimler, was bought by the Nizam of Hyderabad in 1948. It is now being offered for sale by the Indian government.

The car, which seats seven persons, originally cost about £7,000.

Among possible buyers is Raymond Way of London, whose hobby is collecting famous and infamous cars.

The car is advertised as having adequate armor plating to resist rifle bullets. It was built for King George VI during the war and followed him on his tours in case of air raids.

They were Captain Vic Barry, and firemen Ed Wigg, and Adelard Vinette.

With the help of Constable Bob Menzies and Nurse and another neighbor, Ward Rosebush, 2 Haggart St., the firemen lowered a ladder to the ice below. It was stretched across the ice to Redmond for him to grasp. He was pulled across to thicker ice and then lifted onto the ladder and roped to it. Fire Chief Ralph Leonard arrived while the rescue was being completed.

Then the rescuers managed to raise the ladder with Redmond on it to the bridge and he was carried on the ladder to the nearby Toronto-Peterborough Transport office warehouse to wait for Nisbett's ambulance which arrived in a few minutes.

Redmond often walks across the bridge to and from home as do many other township people.

"He's a lucky man," said Nurse. Capt. Barry said the help given by Nurse and Rosebush was invaluable to the rescue.

New Constitution For Yugoslavia

BELGRADE (Reuters)—A new Yugoslav constitution submitted Monday will turn Marshal Tito from Premier into President and give workers a direct legislative say in a Council of Producers.

The draft constitution was introduced in the national assembly by Deputy-Premier Edward Kardelj. Its acceptance is considered certain.

The national assembly members, with only 24 hours to mull it over, will vote on the constitution at a joint sitting today. If passed, it will become law immediately and the election of a President will take place Wednesday.

The new forms provided in it would "remove the stain from the Socialist and Communist name, used by Russia to conceal and justify the system of state capitalism, despotism and imperialist hegemony," Kardelj said.

Winning Battle To Stay Afloat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Canadian vessel Veylet Lady radioed the Coast Guard today that she was winning the battle to stay afloat and expected to reach a Cuban port without assistance.

The skipper reported tersely that the pumps were gaining and that he could make it to Nipe harbor on the northeast coast of Cuba. He said he was about 10 miles out and that a Cuban Navy ship was standing by.

The Velvet Lady, 143 feet long and of 369 tons, reported Monday night it was taking water faster than the pumps could carry it off, but later said the pumps were "doing all right."

The ship, with 400 tons of salt aboard, was en route to St. John's, Nfld. No information was available as to the number of men aboard. The vessel was built in her home port of Lunenburg, N.S.

The vessel gave its position as about 15 miles off Puente Lucrecia, Cuba.

Mr. Abbott precipitated a recorded vote when he moved adjournment of the debate on Mr. Knowles' motion, thus postponing further debate at this time. Amid opposition cries of "veto" and "closure," the House upheld Mr. Abbott's adjournment motion by a vote of 109 to 42.

The CCF motion started the resumed session with members just back from a 25-day Christmas recess. The aim now is to clean up work by late April or early May to enable government representatives to go to London for the June 2 Coronation of the Queen.

The Commons went from the debate on medical expenses to one on conservation of natural resources. The resolution of H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) urging a federal-provincial conference to discuss a national conservation policy for Canada's soil, water and forests resources took up most of the day.

It brought from the prime minister the statement that the government would be willing to consider the proposal, though he felt it would be better to wait until Parliament passed legislation.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke after a number of members including Solon Low, Social Credit leader, had supported the resolution. Mr. Low suggested the further step of appointing a permanent joint commission on conservation of resources to keep the matter ever before Parliament.

The prime minister said he shied from use of the phrase "national policy" into which some read the implication of federal control. The federal government wished only to co-operate with the provinces and in an atmosphere removed from the fear that the central authority wanted to take over provincial rights.

Some mistakes had been made in handling Canadian resources "but on the over-all picture I do not think we are doing too bad." The provincial governments had passed some wise legislation for the conservation of what was "their property."

He believed Canada would have a population of between 35,000,000 and 40,000,000 by the turn of the century. With proper care there should be a long-term conservation plan. Yet the government continued to "pass the buck."

Accident Claims Second Victim

TORONTO (CP) — A traffic accident Monday night on the Queen Elizabeth Way 10 miles west of here claimed its second victim today.

Mrs. Keith Fulton, 30, of Toronto, died in hospital following two operations. She was injured in a crash which killed her 32-year-old husband.

The crash occurred when Fulton swerved to avoid a barrier placed on the highway to detour cars around a cloverleaf under construction. He struck one car and was thrown onto another following behind, which dragged him about 150 feet.

Two of the couple's three children, Keith, 20 months, and Valerie, 3, were only shaken up. The other child, Dean, 8, was at a Cub meeting in Toronto.

Following complaints of insufficient warning lights at the barricade, J. D. Millar, deputy highways minister, said whatever further measures were necessary will be taken. Following the accident, bucket flares were placed in front of the roadblock.

Find No One Alive In Plane Wreckage

FISH HAVEN, Idaho (AP) — A big search party was ready today for the hard climb up rock-studded Bear River mountain to reach the burned wreckage of a C-46 troop transport which crashed last week with 40 persons aboard.

Two para-medic rescue troopers, who spent a night-long vigil in sub-freezing weather by the wreck site about seven miles west of here found no survivors when they parachuted to the site Monday.

The party will enter the uninhabited wilderness on a forest service road, then travel two or three miles on foot up a steep slope, heavily wooded and cut with deep crevices and ledges.

The plane, which vanished Wednesday en route from Seattle to Fort Jackson, S. C., carrying returning Korean war veterans, hit the mountain with an explosive impact at the 8 500-foot level, about 700 feet from the top. The paramedics said only the tail section remained intact. The 37 Korean veterans aboard were en route to their southland homes. The three member crew included a young stewardess.

The accident was the 11th involving military or military-chartered planes in a series in the northwest states, Alaska or Korea transport runs. The series, which began in November, has a death toll, including this latest crash, of about 340.

car hit his truck with a terrific impact.

While his brother prepared the flares, Marvin Cooney was attempting to straighten the load of lumber which had shifted when the tire blew out. Haw shouted at both of them to leap clear and they landed in the ditch before the crash.

FIRE STARTS

The car engine broke into flames at the impact and Haw raced to the front of the truck, grabbed a fire extinguisher and put the fire out within three minutes. Mrs. Empson and Heather were pinned between the dashboard and seat of the car which was all but demolished. The two boys, riding in the rear seat, had been catapulted against the back of the front seat and the ceiling.

Haw and the Cooneys pulled the mother and daughter free. Neighbors phoned Dr. Empson, not realizing it was his family involved.

The impact sheared off one side of the car which stayed on the road.

Police believe that Mrs. Empson may have been confused by the lights of a car coming down a hill a short distance ahead of where the truck had stopped. When she did see the rear of the truck it was too late to stop. She swerved to one side but the right front section of the car took the impact.

Dr. M. G. Dales, coroner of Tweed, has made no decision on an inquest.

The men had been picked up during a demonstration earlier in the day against the controversial electoral reform bill now under discussion in Parliament.

Warned Against Pity

METZ, France (Reuters) — The judge warned a war crimes court on Monday not to take pity on a German prisoner because he had a wooden leg—"he used it as a club in the concentration camp." Col. Karl Buck, former Nazi camp commander, stumped on to the stand to face charges of murdering 78 prisoners and 150 French resistance workers.

New Council Inaugurated At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—The Rev. John McKibbin, of Christ Church, conducted a short devotional period at the inaugural meeting of the Campbellford council held in the council chambers here on Monday morning and afternoon.

Mr. McKibbin chose as his reading the I. Kings, 3rd chapter. He pointed out that as young King Solomon, upon succeeding his father David, had not sought wealth or power, but had humbly prayed for wisdom and guidance, these other things had been given to him. Mr. McKibbin spoke on "The Understanding Heart," and said that the newly elected representatives of the people should humbly seek God's blessing in their position of trust. Above all, he urged them at all times to maintain an understanding heart.

Mayor Ralph J. Locke asked for co-operation and business-like treatment of matters. He said that beautification of the river banks should be considered. He felt the tax rate should be held without any raise. At the same time, he said, the Memorial Hospital, due to open in May, would likely need assistance.

All members were present with the exception of Reeve Nicholas. Council adjourned for luncheon with the Rotary Club at noon, and reconvened at 2 p.m.

Murray Campbell was named as the Kinsmen representative to the Community Arena Board, and council approved the appointment. Appointments from other service organizations have not yet been made.

WOULD BUILD PARK

A request was heard from Russell Ayrhart, president of the Fish and Game Club, that the club be allowed to use a lot in the town for a playground and park. On it they will construct a clubhouse and a target range. The lot they had in mind was in the industrial section of the town, and happens to be the last such lot owned by the council. It has facilities for a railway siding, and council hopes to interest an industry. For that reason, Clerk J. F. McGregor was instructed to write to the club, explaining the situation.

R. H. Townsend, assessor, reported as chairman of the public library board that the library would need about $100 more than granted last year. Insurance carried on the building and contents is $18,000, whereas the actual replacement value exceeds $85,000. The board plans to increase the insurance and will need the extra money for the premium.

Council made a grant of $2,850 to the board, and later in the meeting re-appoinetd Mr. Townsend as the council's reprsentative.

PREPAYMENT OF TAXES

It was decided to accept prepayment of taxes at the same rate as last year. This will be 65 mills for public school supporters and 61 mills for separate school supporters. There will be a one quarter of one per cent discount, per month.

Councillor Isobel Tatham was asked to investigate the advisability of council sending delegates to the Community Welfare Council conference to be held shortly.

It was decided to hold a joint meeting with the Public Utilities Commission at the first opportunity. The purpose will be to iron out differences between the two boards. The mayor will call the meeting when he can arrange it.

Mayor Locke will be the council's representative to the convention of the department of planning and development to be held at Lindsay on Saturday.

Council will draw up a new hawker's and peddler's bylaw, with a graduated scale of licence fees ranging up to $50. This will be submitted to the department of municipal affairs for their approval. The old bylaw was repealed.

SEEKS TO BUY LOT

Morgan Ames asked for a price on a piece of land located on the town parking lot, behind the bowling alley. He wants to purchase the land to build a small store for the repairing of radios and electrical appliances. The town once planned to build a warehouse on the lot. Others have also offered to purchase it but council has refused to sell. The matter was left with the legal and property committees to bring in a report.

It was pointed out that there was no heater in the fire truck, and Mayor Locke said he thought one should be installed. The truck sits in the warm fire hall until an alarm is sounded, and within a short time after the truck is on the street, the windshield fogs up making it difficult for the driver to see. The matter of the purchase was left with the chairman of the fire, water and light committee, with power to act.

An extension of the leave of absence of Chief of Police George H. Hardy was made. The chief's leave was extended until the next council meeting.

The police committee will then bring in a report on future arrangements.

Councillor Tatham and Deputy Reeve Doug. Maybee were re-appointed as the council's representatives on the Community Arena Board.

A by-law authorizing the borrowing of up to $50,000 from the Bank of Montreal was passed. This is passed each year as a matter of course, in case council needs money before taxes start coming in.

A by-law to provide for 1953 expenditures on roads and streets was also passed.

In the illness of the clerk, G. G. Stephens, the treasurer was appointed to that position in a temporary capacity. Councillors took the oath of office, and after the reading of the minutes, the meeting adjourned in order that the council members might attend the luncheon at the Rotary Club.

Roads in various sections of the township were apportioned among the elected representatives upon resuming business after the luncheon. The report of the school officer was also accepted and filed.

Messrs. E. C. Vaness and Jack Meier address council re snowplowing. Major G. H. Free stated that water had diverted from the J. I. Free farm in contravention of an established water course. Council promised investigation.

On motion by councillor Parr and Deputy Reeve Diamond, it was decided council would pay $4.50 per hour for a man and a truck for snowplowing.

Superintendent of roads, T. Illiffe recommended putting load limit signs on bridges in the township, and asked that signs be procured to be placed on roads under repair.

A by-law for borrowing up to $60,000 from the Bank of Montreal was passed.

In connection with the application for road subsidy, the matter of spending about $3,000 in repairing the township grader, now eight years old, or the purchase of a new grader was discussed. A representative of the J. D. Adams Machinery Company was invited to confer with council on the subject.

Council adjourned after passing the pay sheet.

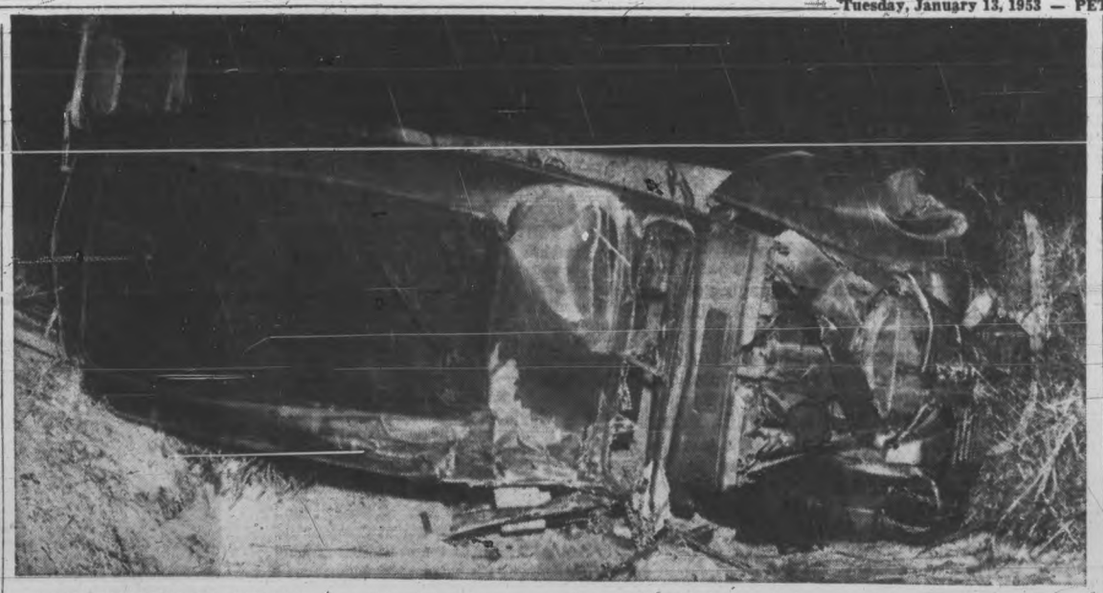
Recreation Centre And Arena Placed Under One Man

LINDSAY (ENS)—A shakeup in the management and organization of the recreation centre and the arena, was determined last night by the town council. The council's special committee investigating the set-up of the two bodies recommended a policy program covering 25 points. Council approved the program. Following are the points recommended:

1—The arena and recreation centre are to be placed under one committee, instead of the two now administrating them. This committee will consist of five members of council, Deputy-Reeve Bert Hick, and Aldermen Maidens, McQuarrie, Breese and Baker and two other taxpayers. Named last night was Marshall Stevens and one member from the parks board.



3—The effective date of the new policy is to be February 1.

3—The present manager of the arena, the caretaker and the secretary of the recreation centre are to be relieved of their office. The present manager of the recreation centre to be manager of the combined operation.

4 — Several recommendations were also made to return to the use of the combined facilities to the children, at least as far as cost to the taxpayers are concerned. The adult groups who wish to carry on their arts and crafts instruction classes are to continue their work at their own expense. Other activities which charge either a fee or an admission charge are to be carried on at no charge to the taxpayer. Any activities now carried on at no charge to the participants are to be carried on as economically as possible. Youth groups will be allowed the use of the centre as before. The arena is to be closed March 31, unless needed for hockey playoffs and is to re-open November 1, unless satisfactory arrangements can be made for pro hockey pre-season training period before that date.

5—The board is to explore all means of reducing expenditure. Regular reports to be presented to council and William Mitchell, present director of the recreation to be the new manager of the combined operation.

6—Present salaries of those who will continue activities under the new operations are to be continued, to be reviewed at the end of the year, or at the convenience of the committee.

TWO MEN WERE INJURED late Monday afternoon when their panel truck plunged into a ditch and rolled on Highway 7, four miles east of the city. Murnay Corneal, of Belleville, and Earl Spencer, of Bancroft, were taken to Civic Hospital by Nesbitt ambulance and there they were treated for head and face cuts, then discharged. The Ontario provincial police charged Corneal with driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Eye Conditions Influenced Great Painters

TORONTO (CP) — Mona Lisa's smile wasn't put there on purpose, Toronto optometrist Paul Levy claims.

He told the mid-winter congress of the Ontario Optometrical Association Monday night that the slightly vague expression on the famous painting might not have been there at all if Leonardo da Vinci had sought correction for myopia.

Mr. Levy was explaining his theory that eye conditions existing in days when expert optometry was unknown had an over-all influence on great art.

If classical painter Paul Rubens had worn glasses, his women might not have appeared so robust.

NEEDED GLASSES

Renoir was a short-sighted man, Mr. Levy believes, because his paintings are lush in tone, with a hazy blur round the edges of his figures. He should have worn glasses.

Dutch painter Vermeer and Petet Bruegel the elder were far-sighted persons who painted extraordinary detail into distant objects. Van Gogh, another Dutch artist, was also far sighted. El Greco, the Spanish master, suffered from astigmatism which resulted in his famous elongated people. He had an up and down rather than a lateral clarity.

Mr. Levy, who has 18 months practice in optometry, said he doesn't expect anyone to take him seriously.

Truck Slips Into Ditch Skids Along Ice 50 Feet

Two occupants of a panel truck escaped with only facial cuts and a shaking up late Monday afternoon after the truck went out of control on the highway, four miles east of the city, and rolled over in a five-foot ditch.

Today in police court Murnay Corneal, 30, of Belleville was charged with driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. He was arrested by OPP Constable John Cawood, after he received outpatient treatment at Civic Hospital for a cut right ear, and he spent the night in jail.

Corneal pleaded guilty and was fined $75 with the option of spending two months in jail. He took the two months.

His passenger was Earl Spencer, 22, of Bancroft, who received cuts on both ears and on his head.

CROWDED OFF

Corneal, a farmer, told police that he was taking Spencer to see his brother in Peterborough and when about four miles east of the city on Highway 7 he was crowded off the highway by an oncoming car.

The half-ton panel truck went off the traveled portion and ran along the north bank for 150 feet; then it nosed over into a five-foot ditch, landing on its roof. A layer of ice at the bottom of the ditch permitted the truck to skid along for another 50 feet and it was wrecked as it repeatedly jolted into the bank.

It came to rest on its right side with Spencer temporarily trapped in the passenger's seat. He was wedged in by the caved-in roof, the bucket seat, and the windshield.

Corneal told police that he managed to leap out of the truck before it plunged into the ditch. He said he looked down the highway for the car that had allegedly crowded him off but it had gone.

The men were taken to Civic Hospital by Nisbett ambulance.

Can Write Exams At Coronation Pupils Told

TORONTO— Grade 13 students from Ontario who see the Coronation in June will have the dubious pleasure of writing their departmental examinations in England, if they desire, so they will not have to rush back.

The provincial department of education plans to establish a writing centre in London, where the exams will be given from June 9 to June 26. The Coronation is June 2.

Students who take advantage of the privilege will be required to bear the complete cost of the centre, including payment of presiding officers, rental of accommodation, and shipping charges on the papers. Total cost per paper will be estimated on the basis of the number of applications received.

Turn Made Improperly Driver Fined $9.75

Convicted of not making a proper left-hand turn E. Joseph Bentley of Toronto on Monday was fined $9.75 plus costs, with the alternative of five days in jail.

Bentley pleaded not guilty.

He collided with a westbound car, driven by Earl Keller of Bethune Street, in the northwest quarter of the Charlotte and Park Streets intersection on December 13.

Keller claimed that Bentley's eastbound car suddenly turned in front of him and started into Park Street. He said he was unable to avoid a collision so he cut his wheels sharply to the right to take some of the force out of the impact.

Bently said he thought Keller was going to make a right turn so he drove out of the right lane of traffic on Park Street into the left lane.

This manoeuvre caused 12-year-old Roger Grant of Lock Street to jump off his bicycle to avoid being hit by the Bentley car. Young Grant said he was not more than two feet from the west curb and going south when he had to make his leap for safety.

The bicycle was slightly damaged.

The Churchill Stop-Over

Mr. Churchill is now relaxing in the Jamaican sun. This was the prime purpose of his trans-Atlantic trip. The subsidiary visit in New York and Washington has, naturally enough, caught most attention, so we cannot dismiss the occasion as a Hello to the two Presidents and a Good Health in Jamaica.

* * *

It seemed an odd, if not a bad time for the American visit, but Mr. Churchill relishes the unconventional. Such is his character that the apparent awkwardness of his visit's timing was entirely congruous. General Eisenhower is not yet President and had no need to observe the diplomatic etiquette which would have clogged his movements if he had been living in the White House. He dropped in and out of the house where Mr. Churchill was staying with the freedom of a private person still, in law, irresponsible as a political figure. He was able to take to dine with Mr. Churchill people he likes and trusts, instead of the diplomatic and political personages who will haunt his table when he becomes President.

* * *

As for the Prime Minister; well, this historic and symbolic personality was not part-buried in a mass of Cabinet Ministers, advisers, diplomats and little men with graphs. As an English correspondent in New York has said, he seems to have come over with nothing but his cigar, two cases of champagne, and his incomparable reputation. From the minute he set foot on American soil Mr. Churchill was the centre of a kind of friendly, good-humoured, personal glow of publicity—the like of which has not played upon Anglo-American relations for many years. As we said at the time of his arrival, it is personal top-level diplomacy. This relationship between the two political heads of state may provide the best avenue of solution to the problems which face the two countries; a diplomacy which worked well between the Former Naval Person and President Roosevelt.

A Shortage of Teachers

The shortage of teachers which has been felt in Ontario schools for some years is reaching an acute stage, and a recent report said that the shortage in secondary schools alone would soon exceed 4,000. Yet it seems probable that the teaching profession has many attractions for young men and women who have an inclination toward work of the sort. How are they to be persuaded to join it?

They will expect some assurance that the shortage is not a temporary one, and that they will not find themselves without jobs in ten or twelve years. It is true that the war years coincided with a sharp increase in the birth-rate in Canada, and that the greater numbers of children born during that period are now moving upward through the schools. But there is little reason to suppose that the birth-rate will ever drop to what it was between 1935-40. It may drop a little, but it looks as though anyone entering the teaching profession now could be sure of making a life work of it.

The school teachers' own federations could do much to help in meeting the shortage if they would do more to point out the rewards and attractions of their work, and also provide information to interested young people concerning it. In the secondary schools there are many specialties, some of which are crowded and some of which need recruits badly; some guidance as to the fields of teaching in which the chances are best would help prospective teachers to make up their minds. We do not pretend to any special knowledge in this matter, but we believe that Classics and Physical Training are two fields in which shortages are keenly felt. The federations, knowing the situation at first hand, could do a very useful work in this respect.

The likelihood of a slump which would throw great numbers of teachers out of work seems small. More and more Ontario boys and girls are finding their way to rural high schools. City schools find it impossible to give all the options which the curriculum calls for, because they cannot get teachers for every course. The shortage is a grave one, but we think it could be met if greater persuasion were used to draw young people into the teaching profession, and to persuade them to specialize in the fields in which the greatest shortages exist.

Farquharson To NATO

Canadians generally, and newspapermen in particular, will approve of the appointment which makes R. A. Farquharson the new director of information for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It is an important post, and carries ministerial rank with it. Mr. Farquharson will bring to it his dignity as a man and his prestige as a journalist. During his time as managing editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail he directed that publication according to the best ideals of journalism and made it a model of full, clear news presentation. Subsequently when he was editor of Saturday Night his special abilities were frustrated by the problems of a journal which was not an organ of news, but of opinion and criticism. In his work at NATO he will be in the field which suits him best, and in which he has won a fine reputation.

We are happy, also, that a fine journalist has been chosen for this post, and not a man whose instinct is to thwart the press whenever possible. Mr. Farquharson knows what news is, and what may safely be made public. He understands the newspaperman's problems, and he enjoys the trust and admiration of the newspaper craft. His appointment is the crown of a fine career in journalism.

Parole For Leopold

Our older readers will recall the celebrated trial of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, who were sentenced to life imprisonment in 1924 for the murder of a boy named Bobby Franks. The case attracted wide attention because Loeb and Leopold were sons of well-to-do families and had enjoyed many advantages in life; they had no special spite against Franks (who was considerably younger than they) and confessed that they had killed him merely to experience the thrill of taking a life. Loeb was killed by another convict in 1936, but Leopold is now asking for parole. Some prison authorities say that he is a good man and would be harmless if set free. But other legal authorities in the U.S.A. say that his release would shake the faith of the public in life sentences, and that in consequence many future killers would be sent to the electric chair to prevent any future parole for them.

There is no perfect justice. After 28 years in prison Leopold is undoubtedly a changed man, for he was only 19 when he was tried and condemned. He may even be a good man. There may be a strong measure of injustice in keeping him in prison. But he was imprisoned for life because he committed a terrible and particularly shocking crime: he killed another human being just to see what it felt like to kill.

It may well be unfair to Leopold to keep him in prison. But is it not unfair to millions of innocent people to set him free? The chances are minute that he will ever kill again, but his release would make the deterrent power of life sentences less than it is, and by so much it would decrease the safety of the public. For the public must be protected against killers and thrill-seekers. The decision of the parole board will be made public on January 22, and it will be awaited with keen interest.

Howe In Latin America

The Minister of Trade, Mr. C. D. Howe, has gone to visit Latin America, accompanied by government officers and businessmen. He has gone as a salesman for Canada. His mission is good. This paper has long warned against putting all our eggs in one basket.

Canada must not become utterly dependent on United States markets, either for exports or for imports. It is particularly important that selling markets be fostered outside the United States as well as in. The British market is of course worth continued cultivation, but Britain is short of dollars. Latin America has dollars, or currencies convertible to them. Mr. Howe is going to visit Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Venezuela, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba and Mexico. All these countries have goods and resources complementary to those of Canada, a useful trade already exists, a really flourishing one can be developed. Canada's exports to Latin America have increased twelve times since 1938. Imports have increased seventeen times. According to the most recent figures, Latin America is taking almost a fifth of all Canada's manufactured exports, and Brazil has become the sixth best market in the world for Canadian goods. Canadian business and Canadian men are already operating in South America, where generally they have been favourably received. Canada has opened legations and embassies in nearly all Latin American countries, and trade offices. Recently ambassadors were appointed to Colombia, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The stage is set for cordial and expanding relations with Latin America. Mr. Howe has gone down to raise the curtain.

New Rift In The Kremlin

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

IT IS A VERY LONG TIME since anything so dramatic and revealing has happened in the Soviet Union as the strange case of Suslov versus Fedoseyev. For a member of the Kremlin's inner circle publicly to denounce a distinguished Soviet figure is itself, in these days of apparently stable government, unusual. For him to draw back in so doing the corner of the veil over one of the most puzzling episodes of post-war Soviet history is something quite extraordinary.

But although in some ways the episode is seen revealing, in other ways it is still very largely obscure.

✧ ✧ ✧

ON CHRISTMAS EVE Mikhail Suslov, the chief ideologist of the Soviet Communist Party and a member of the presidium of the central committee which recently superseded the Politburo attacked in Pravda over his own name the economist Fedoseyev, who had recently contributed to Izvestia two articles expounding Stalin's latest pronouncement on Soviet economics. The particular interest of the attack lay in its being quite clearly only a pretext for the opening of a campaign on a much larger and important subject than Fedoseyev's articles.

✧ ✧ ✧

FEDOSEYEV'S CHIEF SIN in the past was that he was editor-in-chief of the lawgiving, theoretical journal Bolshevik at a time (way back in 1949) when the whole editorial policy of the paper was condemned by the Central Committee (i. e. by Stalin) and the whole editorial staff dismissed. Nobody outside the Kremlin knew about this at the time. The Central Committee decree was kept secret, and has only now been published by Suslov—three-and-a -half years after the event. The chief crime of Bolshevik was that it actively supported and propagated the views of N. A. Voznessensky. This was not surprising. Voznessensky was until early 1949 a deputy Prime Minister, a member of the Politburo, and chairman of the State Planning Commission. One of the youngest and most brilliant members of the Soviet inner-circle, he was, as chief planner, virtually the economic dictator of Russia.

✧ ✧ ✧

BOLSHEVIK, as the official mouthpiece of Party line, took its cue from him. He was the author of a book called "The War Economy of the U. S. S. R. during the Great Patriotic War," which was generally regarded as the standard commentary on the Soviet economy. It was quoted constantly in Bolshevik and it had the official approval of Stalin, winning for Voznessensky a Stalin prize. Suddenly, without warning, Voznessensky fell. It was the first time since the purges of the 'thirties that a member of the Kremlin's inner-circle had fallen from grace. But the action was carried out with the minimum of demonstration. It was simply announced at the spring session of the Supreme Soviet in 1949 that Voznessensky had been removed from the State Planning Commission and the Council of Ministers. After that no more was heard about him. He never appeared again with his late colleagues of the Politburo. Nobody knew why. No explanation was ever offered.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN OBVIOUS deduction was that there had been some vital quarrel about the basic functions of planning in the Soviet society. The subsequent reformation and down-grading lent colour to this view, which was also supported by the fact that, after the completion of the fourth five-year-plan in December, 1950, its successor was not published until nearly two years later. Suslov's attack makes it clear that there was, in fact, a conflict about planning in the very highest circles. What we still do not know is whether it has been finally resolved or, indeed, precisely what the conflict was about.

✧ ✧ ✧

STALIN'S elaborate and oracular pronouncement on the eve of the 19th Party Congress in October last year gives us a clue. He attacked bitterly a group of economists who, he said, were misleading the people and upsetting the balance of the Soviet economy by proclaiming, in effect, that in the Soviet Union the economic laws which govern society everywhere else in the world had ceased to apply. Stalin was at great pains to point out that economic laws are natural laws, which must obtain in all forms of society. They cannot, he said, in the nature of things, be abolished. The supreme achievement of Marxist-Leninism was that it had analysed and understood these laws for the first time, so that they could be harnessed to the welfare of the people instead of being allowed to operate blindly and crushingly.

✧ ✧ ✧

EXACTLY WHAT STALIN had in mind is still not clear. But he was at much pains to emphasise the inevitable slowness of economic development and the long distance Soviet society had to travel before it could claim to have achieved true Communism, that it was clear that his pronouncement was intended as a defence and as a warning: a defence against criticism that the Kremlin was not taking drastic and revolutionary action to raise the standard of living, and a warning that even the Kremlin, in spite of all the ballyhoo about transforming nature, could not defy the universal laws of supply and demand.

✧ ✧ ✧

STALIN DID NOT MENTION Voznessensky But Voznessensky, who had written a panegyric in praise of the miracle-working Soviet economy, encouraging the reader to imagine that miracles could be had for the asking in the Soviet Union, was plainly the influence Stalin had in mind. And Suslov's apparently unprovoked reversion to the case of Voznessensky, whose book he called "anti-Marxist," is an indication of how deep the cleavage goes.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT MAY BE that Suslov's intervention is simply intended as a sharp and (for Fedoseyev) drastic way of calling attention to Stalin's view. It may be one move in a quarrel still going on. Or it may be a prelude to a dramatisation of a past quarrel— that is to say, it would be quite in character for Voznessensky (and others who have more recently vanished from the scene) to be made the victim of a show trial to illustrate the wickness of those who preach the line which the Kremlin as a whole was preaching four years ago. We do not know. But at least this episode brings home very sharply the fact that behind its monolithic facade there are still fierce conflicts inside the Kremlin, which is not so single-minded as it looks.

Letters To The Editor

LIKES EXAMINER.

Sir: That fellow that wrote those insulting remarks about your paper is either a danged liar or a poor judge of paper. And I want you to know that your paper is the best by a long shot. It's a whole lot better than even those Toronto papers and a darn sight better than those slippery magazines

Me and my family have all read and liked it for years.

Yours truly,
A.S., RR, Peterborough

POLICE PROTECTION FOR SMALL MERCHANTS.

Sir: It is our hope, that providing you see fit to publish this letter, the parties responsible will take some steps toward providing protection, at least, somewhat comparable to that enjoyed by the up-town merchants.

We have during the past two years been broken into seven times, and are quite sure that no convictions against the responsible parties have been secured.

The most recent break-in which occurred at the Chamberlain Street store was perpetrated during the time the store was closed last Saturday evening and when it was discovered by the proprietor Sunday at approximately 1 p.m.

When the detective assigned to this most recent robbery was asked what inspection could be expected, he stated that the best that was possible with the available men and equipment was occasionally twice per night, with probably only one, and that some nights it was impossible to make any routine check.

It is small wonder that sections adjacent to the city strongly resist annexation if services paid for by the taxpayer are going to be concentrated in the down-town area with apparently utter disregard for the needs of the small man.

We would appreciate hearing from the parties responsible for either the apparent need of more men and equipment or for better distribution of what is at present available.

Signed: E. S. Doxsee, Grocer.
A. E. Doxsee, Grocer.

THANKS PUBLIC AND PAPERS.

Sir: May I, on behalf of the postmasters of Canada and the postal staffs generally, express our appreciation of the very great assistance extended to us by the public in mailing early during the Christmas season which has just passed.

According to reports already received from many of the offices across Canada, the co-operation given by the public was greater than ever before, and as a result most offices were able to complete their deliveries by Christmas Eve.

There is a great satisfaction in being able to record such a result. For many years, the volume of Christmas mail has been steadily increasing and this was again the case this year, when more than 250,000,000 individual items were handled. Careful planning and greatly augmented staffs are, of course, necessary to cope with such a flood of mail. All of our own efforts, however, would have counted for little if the public had not co-operated by observing the suggested mailing dates. The public, therefore, deserves the credit for what we have been able to accomplish. To one and all I wish to say "Thank You!"

The help also generously accorded, as in other years by the newspapers is also deeply appreciated. By publicizing the various mailing dates and other pertinent information, the newspapers assisted greatly in assuring the public support which was so helpful to us.

My very best wishes for 1953,

Yours sincerely,
W. J. TURNBULL,
Deputy Postmaster General.

ANOTHER OPINION ON THE EXAMINER.

Sir: In your issue of the 8th inst. you print a letter signed "A Reader," under the heading "Lavender and Lace."

Surely "A Reader," if she has any sense at all, must have blushed when her letter was printed.

Please note I regard "A Reader" as a woman; with my limited knowledge of human nature I cannot conceive that any man could or would write such a letter. But perhaps she cannot blush. As Kipling says —"the blush that flies at seventeen is fixed at forty-nine." Hmn! I wonder!

Now dear reader let me tell you something. For thirty years I lived in Montreal. You have heard of the place? Good! For those thirty years I read the editorial pages of the two great English dailies and with the help of a friend frequently read the editorials of the two great French dailies. I also read the Manchester Guardian, The London Times and the New York Times. Often have I read the editorials of the Winnipeg Free Press when Mr. Dafoe was editor.

(No dear reader, I did not buy all these but borrowed from various editorial writers.)

That, I think you will agree with me, would give one with ordinary intelligence a fair measure of what a newspaper should be.

Nine years ago I came to live in the vicinity of Peterborough. A very polite boy came to my house one evening and asked if he could supply the Examiner. I never had seen the paper. So I said "yes." I scanned the paper rapidly— told my wife that the people around must be a very religious lot as every gathering they had was opened with prayer —and then settled down to read the editorials to her. She, being an intelligent woman of very good taste in all things, enjoyed them very much. One in particular she said must surely please me as "the editor expressed your own ideas." I replied, "No, my dear, you mean the RIGHT ideas."

Ever since I have enjoyed the editorial page of the Examiner. That's the page one reads to judge a newspaper.

Now my dear Reader put on a dress of sackcloth and put a generous amount of ashes on your head, then sit down and write the editor telling him you're sorry. He'll forgive you.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved . . .

Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul. (Ps. 66: 8, 9, 16.)

Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength . . . Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee. With my soul have I desired thee in the night, yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness . . .

Lord, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us. O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name. (Isa. 26: 4, 8, 9, 12, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding . . . Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour. . . . She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her. (Prov. 3: 13, 16, 18.)

Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ. (Col. 2: 8.)

Judge Reserves Decision In Trout Case

PARRY SOUND (CP)—Judge Walter Little reserved judgment Monday on the appeals of four Ontario men convicted of having possession of 127 lake trout when stopped last May near Algonquin Park by a provincial conservation officer.

The men are George Laver of Cooksville, Dr. William Stubbs of Caledon, Dr. James Thomas of Caledon and Lockwood Stubbs of Alton. They had been fined $200 and costs by Magistrate F. C. Powell.

Defence counsel H. F. Parkinson of Toronto said the crown was trying to make "dreadful individuals" of the accused. He said that under Ontario fishing regulations set by order-in-council under the authority of the Federal Fisheries Act, the possession of more than 10 fish a man is not illegal because the regulation exceeded the authority and intention of the act.

LAW OVERREACHES

He claimed that the governor-general-in-council was authorized only to regulate the catching of fish and the law restricting their possession does not directly affect the number which are caught.

Crown attorney E. D. Wilkins of Sudbury said there was "proof to the hilt" that the men were in possession. "They said at first they had only 50 fish. When the rest were found, they declared they belonged to other members of the party at their camp at Time Lake."

The new board of directors agreed. Mr. Anderson and three others were named a committee to investigate organization to promote the idea of a winter fair at Queens Park.

Chief Fined $10 For Drunkenness

LINDSAY (ENS)—The 22-year-old chief of the Curve Lake Reserve, James Coppaway, pleaded guilty in magistrate's court Monday to a charge of being drunk in a public place.

His brother, Edward Coppaway, 27, RR 1 Peterborough, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving.

The brothers were charged following their arrest Saturday night by Constable Percy Mark, who found them in a truck that had slid into a ditch just inside the east limits of the town. They had been heading home.

Edward Coppaway was sentenced to seven days and $15.50 costs and his licence was suspended for three months. The chief was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Magistrate E. A. Gee said he wondered how the people of Curve Lake who elected him, would feel when they learned that the chief had been in court.

The truck was not confiscated because it did not belong to either of the brothers. It was owned by Louis Cadesky, Harvey township.

Jack Buchanan Carving Out New Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Buchanan, long the top musical star in Britain, is carving out a new career.

Buchanan has won fame and fortune in England. Now he's taking a long-postponed whirl at Hollywood movies, with some TV tossed in for good measure.

"There's an entirely new generation which doesn't know me," said the musical star. "I'm designing my new career to suit them."

In the 1920s he appeared on Broadway with Gertrude Lawrence and Beatrice Lillie in "Charlot's Revue." He remained in England during the war, entertaining troops and operating his theatre, the Garrick, through the worst bombings.

After the war, he was tied up in England with commitments, except for a six-week replacement of Frank Fay in "Harvey" during the Broadway run.

NOW FREE

Buchanan now is free to pursue his career on this side of the Atlantic.

His first assignment was a movie "Bandwagon," with his old friend Fred Astaire. Set onlookers predict he'll walk away with the flicker, and producer Arthur Freed wants him to stay here for more films.

Buchanan hasn't done a British film musical since before the war. The English have had scant success with their tunefilms, except for arty efforts such as "Re Shoes" and "Tales of Hoffman." How come?

"One reason is the music," he commented. "I'd say the score is responsible for 60 per cent of a musical's success. Some British composers may get angry with me, but I must say that we just don't produce the scores that American shows do.

VERY COSTLY

"For another thing, musicals are costly. They require maintaining a staff of musicians, directors, choreographers, designers and so forth. The English studios can't afford that."

Buchanan scored a hit on his first big-time TV debut last week. He co-starred with Bobe Hope on a comedy hour, teaming with Hope and Bing Crosby in a musical number.

Freedom Of Thought For Scientists Makes Canada Great Arsenal

MONTREAL (CP)—Freedom of thought and flexibility of outlook and method in Canada's national research council long ago stamped the country as the "arsenal of the democracies" in radar for North American defence, Sir Robert Watson-Watt said Monday.

The British scientist addressed the Canadian Club and counselled against an unwise distribution of scientific ability between universities and defence services.

Sir Robert, generally referred to as the "pioneer of radar," was the first man to effect radar in an operational form.

Basic research, the imaginative open-mindedness of the air staff and the vigor of the radio industry brought about the rapid progress of radar in the United Kingdom, he said.

CHOOSE OWN LINES

Research workers, rather than developers, were under the radio research board of the department of scientific and industrial research. They were able to choose their own lines of investigation, to design their own instruments of observation and measurement, and to test the provisional working hypotheses "which are the scaffold ing of research. . . ."

Because the national research council of Canada had the same kind of outlook, a close and productive collaboration in radar between the United Kingdom and Canada began before the outbreak of war.

Revamped Petes Victors Over Stouffville, 7-3 In Speedy Senior Game

Trimming Stouffville Clippers 7-3 before a goodly gallery here last night, the Petes served notice that they would be OHA senior "B" group playoff contenders the rest of the schedule. Coach Jim Ellis iced a full team for the first time in weeks, adding three former Eagles' stars, Bill Crowley, Freddy Mortimer and Bert Hill. This trio helped consideraly in the conquest of the Clippers in a speedy, exciting and clean contest. The winners drew four of the six penalties, one of the sentences being a misconduct late in the game to Frank Stephenson of Stouffville for arguing too strenuously over a minor penalty.

HAD REVENGE

It was sweet revenge for the trouncing the Clippers gave the shorthanded Petes on Stouffville ice in their last meeting. The loss kept Stouffville back in third place behind Belleville and Oshawa, with the tailend Petes moving up to within a game and a half of Orillia and two games of Kingston. They must pass either Kingston or Belleville to make sectional playoffs late next month.

Ellis used Mortimer between Floyd and Collins, and the smooth play-making Freddy looked good on this line, though he appeared a bit overweight yet. Crowley and Hill were on a line with Hunter and this combination turned in a fast-breaking and close-checking game, being particularly effective when the side was a man short. The Petes' orginal first line turned in its usual solid effort. All four defencemen labored hard and effectively against the speedy visitors, and Ray Harding sparkled in goal with a good team in front of him again to help out.

MORE OF PLAY

Figuring the Petes a soft touch, Stouffville used their spare goalie and at that he made some brilliant saves. The score might well have been several goals higher for the homesters as they were robbed of some great chances, having more of the play in every period. Nick Bangay missed the game, his wife being in hospital, but the veteran Bob Bangay proved as heady as ever, and the whole crew kept hustling right to the finish. Some smart hockey was shown by both teams in this fast fray.

Petes led 2-0 in the first period, had a 2-1 scoring edge in the second and outpunched the visitors 3-2 in the closer third chukker. Even when a man short on several occasions they kept the Clippers down to hardly a shot on goal and in turn nearly notched a few themselves. It was easily their best showing of the season against a good club. The Petes play in Belleville on Friday.

LED THE WAY

Bill Crowley and Toodie Greenlaw each scored two goals, with singles marked to Bert Hill, Keith Montgomery and Chum Fryia. Two assists each went to Gus Leonard, Doug Hunter and Hill, with an assist apiece earned by Dean Wasson, Montgomery and Freddy Mortimer. Several of them were picture goals, and several near-goals were pretty pattern plays, also, at top speed.

Bob Bangay, Polly Minton and Ron Bell were the Stouffville marksmen. An assist each was chalked up to Jack Watson and George Stark. In the third period, Bob Bangay was winded in a collision but recovered shortly and remained in the game. Teams:

Stouffville: Goal, Stunden; defence, Rose and Baker; centre, Bell; wings, Stark and Watson; alternates, G. Lewis, Minton, D. Lewis, Stephenson, Chard and R. Bangay.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Montgomery and Armstrong centre, Leonard; wings, Fryia and Greenlaw; alternates, Collins, Floyd, Mortimer, Crowley, Hill, Hunter, Wasson and Legrow.

THREE FORMER EAGLES, Bill Crowley, Fred Mortimer and Bert Hill, joined the Petes Monday night in their drive for a playoff position. They more than did their share as the Petes trimmed the Stouffville Clippers 7-3. The threesome, Crowley (extreme left), Mortimer (second from right) and Hill (extreme right) joke with Coach Jim Ellis prior to the game. They carried this jovial mood into the game where all helped pile up the seven-count.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Links Beat Oshawa, 5-3 In Junior "B" Joust To Climb Closer To Top

Oddfellows, to a man, displayed their best flying form in a great two-way hockey duel at Bowmanville Monday night, as they defeated Oshawa Buzzers 5-3, in a bristling junior OHA hockey battle. It was the second straight victory for Doug Mortimer's boys away from home; their first triumph over the tough McCloskey band, and places the peppy locals firmly in second place with 22 points, seven up on Kingston Vics who will furnish the opposition Wednesday, at Civic Arena.

Aside from the first period, when Referee Maurice Walsh meted out eight penalties, the game was very clean and hard-fought with good hockey and close-checking throughout. In victory, Oddfellows outplayed their game rivals over the route, particularly in the second and third frames; but Buzzers made it close all the way.

Tricky Paul Doris who played an outstanding game, opened the scoring in a fairly rough first period, when he poked home a neat pass from Dick McCracken, husky centre-ice star, midway in a session studded with minor penalties. Near period's end, after a ding-dong struggle that saw the teams short-handed much of the way, Woodnisky broke with Boneham through the Links' defence to hit the open side, on a fast close-in drive, to tie the score. Oddfellows had more chances; but Buzzers capitalized on the one good one.

A NEAT MARKER

Husky Gord Coyle opened a fast second frame with a neat marker to the open side, as he, Ferguson and Twist broke fast to outguess the Oshawa defence; and Gord made no mistake as he flipped the cake past Mike Chicka. Steaming back, seconds later, Tom O'Connor pumped a fast return shot unassisted as he gave Delahaye no chance at the doorstep. A fast rush saw O'Connor hit the twine. Then at 11:40 a beautiful rush by McCracken, Doris and Gardner bore fruit, as the former belted home Doris' fast pass out front.

Seconds later, the two repeated the dose, in reverse, as Oddfellows stormed around to completely outplay Buzzers; and Doris forked home number four amid loud applause for such sparkling play, with the teams at even strength.

The midget line of Gary Kearns, Bud McDougall and Kenny Floyd continued hard; but were fruitless on goals as MacDonald, O'Connor and Joe Pionchik checked well. The Mortimer lads however, enjoyed a wide edge territorially throughout the period as their passing plays clicked better than heretofore this season; and Delahaye proved impregnable in the cage, save for O'Connor's lone tally.

WERE DANGEROUS

MacDonald alone in the final, blasted a 15-footer past Delahaye to open the sizzling frame. Twist took the gate; and Buzzers waxed dangerous. But Mortimer's defenders, led by Jerry Frizzelle, the game's outstanding defence stalwart, and ably supported by Rocky Wilson, Coyle and Clare Ferguson, held the fort. Dick McCracken, another outstanding performer, had to retire after a fearful collision that involved half-a-dozen; but later returned despite a charley horse.

At the three-quarter mark, Coyle fired an insurance tally from 25 feet out that whistled to the upper left corner, a small one beside Chirka, following a blazing drive in and power play led by big Bill Twist, whose play glittered. In the mixup the puck reached the flying Coyle—and that was it.

IOOF Goal, Delahaye; defence, Frizzelle, Wilson; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle, Ferguson alts., McCracken, Doris, Gardner, Floyd, Kearns, MacDougall; Byrne, Sullivan.

Oshawa Goal, Chirka; defence, A. Myles, Chant; centre, MacDonald; wings, O'Connor, Woodnisky; alts., Boneham, R. Myles, Zeddic, Woodcock, Lowe, Davis, Piontik, Lawrence.

Maglie Signs New Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Sal Maglie, New York Giants' right-handed pitching ace, came down from his Niagara Falls home for the New York Press Photographers Association dinner Monday night and stayed to sign a contract for a reported $32,000.

Maglie, who said in an interview before the dinner that he planned to see Giant officials about a contract today, was as surprised as anyone at the turn of events.

"But I'm as happy as I am surprised," he said as Giant officials beamed. It was announced that the right-hander, who won 18 games and lost eight for the second-place team despite an aching back, received the same terms as last year. The best guess seemed to be about $32,000.

Purpose of the dinner was to present Maglie, Brooklyn Dodger shortstop Peewee Reese and New York Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto plaques as the athletes who were most co-operative with photographers.

City Carpetball

Schedule for the week of January 19: Legion 5 vs. Legion 12; Fire Hall 4 vs. Orphans 2; Legion 7 vs. LOL 6; Legion 10 vs. SOE 8; Glens 1 vs. Fire Hall 9; Red Patch 11 vs. Legion 3.

Results of last week's play: Fire Hall 4 were hosts to Legion 5, but proved poor hosts as they captured all points. The first game saw No. 5 leading 4-0 going into the third frame, but the Fire-Fighters overcame that lead and went on to win 19-7. The second game was a loss for the Legion team as No. 4 seemed to get onto the "kitty" first and as a result No. 5 was behind by a 3-21 score.

The Red Patchers fell before the attack of Legion No. 7 by scores of 16-3 and 22-13. In the first game No. 7 went into the lead and were never threatened. The second game saw No. 7 leading 13-1 going into seventh frame, then No. 11 scored a four, one and six in the next three ends; but No. 7 came back with a five and a four to put the game on ice.

At the Orange Hall, No. 6 captured the first game easily from Orphans No. 2 by a 21-2 score. The second game was close. While King Billie started off with a five and No. 2 kept plugging away until going into the final end, they were leading 12-11—but No. 6 made it 12-all by scoring a lone one in that deciding frame.

The Christmas turkey and trimmings proved too big a handicap for the Sons to overcome when they dropped both games to Legion 3, and at the Old Citadel, too. The scores were 19-4 and 13-9. At the Legion, No. 10 met Glens No. 1. The Legion team swept to an 18-9 victory in the first game. The second was close; every end was very important throughout the game. It was 11-all going into the final end—then the Glens put one ball square on the kitty and that is the way it ended, 9-8 in favor of No. 1.

The card for the game played at the Legion Hall between Legion No. 12 and Fire Hall No. 9 is not at hand. The games went to No. 12 by scores of 18-8 and 12-5.

The President's Cup draw will be printed next week.

Completion of first half:

Edmonton Plans Golf Tournament

EDMONTON (CP)—Regardless of the weather, two Edmonton golfers will take part in a "world's championship" tournament here Feb. 15.

The temperature is likely to be well below zero and the municipal course deep in snow.

The competitors are Stew McKay and Toby Cantwell.

McKay has constructed a "secret weapon" club, an iron-pipe driver.

Supporters of Cantwell have also prepared a "secret weapon" but it is still cloaked in secrecy—even Cantwell doesn't know what it is.

Balloons are to be tied to the golf balls so the golfers can locate them in the snow.

The match, an oil man's gag being staged by the publisher of an oil magazine and participated in by the magazine's advertisers, is being staged to further the publicity for Alberta's oil.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Some of the lacrossers in St. Catharines can't wait till summer to play, they're hiking across the border for the odd gutted-stick game now. Getting pin money and exercise weekends over at Olean, N.Y., with hopes of getting the indoor game going in Rochester and Geneva, we see by the St. Kitts paper. Bill Nelson is coach for the Olean team, which plays exhibitions with squads around and about. Three of the Saints are imported each week by Olean: Pat Smith, Stu Scott and Jim McMahon going last weekend. Most of the other players on the squad are Indians from the Cheektawaga reserve nearby. Apparently a few American fans enjoy the spectacles.

* * * * * *

St. Kitts columnist adds: "A different team goes down each week to provide the opposition for the American team in Olean and, if nothing else, it gives players in this area an opportunity to remain in at least partial physical condition for the summer season ahead. The club to make the trip this weekend is a combination of junior and senior players under the direction of Fred Conradi. Some players like Don Frick, Ken Croft, Jim McNulty and Doug Smith play hockey one night and scoot over the river for lacrosse the next." This midwinter training by lacrossers of St. Catharines isn't likely to upset the local Timbermen unduly. Or other teams in the senior group, either.

The Moaner Is Fed Up.

Ted Reeve, who speaks at the CGE foremen's dinner here Friday, wonders why you cannot get 25 Canadians together near a table without having a public speaker. Says: "After 20 years of the hotel's hand-painted peas or the church basement potato salad and tne old familiar call of 'please reserve your applause till the head table is seated,' some 60 times per season, we have stuck our lapel mike where it belongs and now make all our speeches to the cat and the airdale. They doze away while we are talking but they at least don't keep looking at their watches." We quite agree with the Moaner, but our special hate is the unsure or thoughtless chairman who calls upon man after man to say a few words—afraid he'll hurt someone's feelings by missing him — and thus putting unprepared chaps who hadn't expected to speak right on the w.k. spot.

Jim Ellis finally signed three of the former Eagles he's been wanting for some time, Bill Crowley, Freddy Mortimer and Bert Hill, and the Petes look like they may well make the playoffs yet. Can't tell on just one showing of the complete team, but they looked right impressive in their 7-3 win o'er Stouffville Clippers here last eve. They brought that old dash and in-corner-fight business with them, and it perked up the whole squad, so the team was rolled properly for the first time in many weeks. While the Petes could certainly have used this trio earlier, and they miss fellows like Wade and Dugan, still there's time yet to hurdle Kingston or Belleville— and next Friday would be a good time to start with the Glens on Quinte ice.

Could Have Been Higher.

Hill led in scorers with three points, two each going to Crowley, Greenlaw, Leonard, Montgomery and Hunter. Single points were gained by Fryia, Mortimer and Wasson. Some fine checking was seen by all the locals in this speedy and smart struggle, and the Petes did that last p.m. to outplay 'em each period. Might well have run up several more markers on the night's play. The boys are just two full games back of Kingston now and there's plenty of time to overhaul the K's if they keep driving like they did here last gloaming. Curly Mason may be ready for action again by Friday, and soon Coach Jim will have more players than he needs, for the love of Michael!

Doug Mortimer's scrappy young Oddfellows turned back Oshawa Buzzers 5-3 in Bowmanville last night in a four-point junior "B" puck game. That halted a recent Oshawa drive cold and boosted the IOOF-ers up to within two games of the leading Belleville squad, and seven points ahead of the third-place Kingston Vics, who come here for a fixture tomorrow evening. Doris, McCracken and Coyle carried the main scoring punch for Oddfellows, but all the Links went okay against a batttling bunch of Motor Citizens in a fairly clean contest. Kingston Vics may extend them considerably in the Wednesday tilt at Civic as they try to creep up the ladder. Locals are idle after that one till Lindsay comes this way next week.

BRUINS RETURN FISHER

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Bruins sent winger Dunc Fisher, borrowed during the National Hockey League club's recent wave of injuries, back Monday to their Hershey farm team in the American League.

Fisher and Red Sullivan moved up from Hershey after injuries sidelined Dave Creighton, Johnny Peirson, Ed Sandford, Bill Quackenbush and Hal Laycoe. Sullivan is still with the Bruins.

The black-and-white magpie seen regularly in western Canada is only an accidental visitor to the east.

Arcaro Chosen To Get Award

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Arcaro has been selected by turf writers at Santa Anita as the fourth jockey to receive the George Woolf Memorial Award.

The presentation of the award, a miniature of the life size bronze statue of Woolf that stands in the Santa Anita paddock, will be made Feb. 12.

Arcaro's choice was by an overwhelming majority of the 19 writers eligible to vote. The awards in previous years have gone to Gordon Glisson, Bill Shoemaker and Johnny Longden.

The award is based on Arcaro's riding at Santa Anita last year. He has been the leading U.S. stakes rider seven times since 1940.

The award is named after the famed Canadian jockey who was killed at Santa Anita in 1946 when thrown from his horse. Woolf, often called the "Ice Man," was a native of Cardston, Alta.

Grove Victorious

Grove seniors of the school hockey loop blanked Queen Elizabeth 2-0 yesterday at Civic. R. Wood and Patterson counted for the winners, Merrett drawing an assist. Copping, R. Wood, Davy in goal and Merrett on defence stood out for the victors, while Welsh went well in goal for the losers. Teams:

Grove: Davy, Merrett, R. Wood, Patterson, Casey, Copping, L. Wood, Simmons, Griffin, Keene.

Referee, L. McNeill.

Red Sullivan Continues Set Scoring Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — George (Red) Sullivan continued to set the pace today in points and assists in the American Hockey League's scoring derby.

Sullivan, called up recently from Hershey Bears by the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, left the Bears five games ago with a record of 10 goals and 36 assists for 46 points.

Since his departure Hershey's Lorne Ferguson has crept up on his erstwhile teammate and today he is one point shy of tying Sullivan's figures. Ferguson has scored 15 goals and amassed 30 assists for 45 points. Ike Hildebrand of Cleveland Barons is third with 41 points and also shows the way in goal-getting with 23.

Johnny Bower of Cleveland enjoys a slight edge over Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh in the battle for net-minding honors. Bower has 2.54 goals-against mark to Mayer's 2.56.

Bower also has recorded the most shutouts, five.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

One of the fine sporting gestures of 1952 was, in our humble opinion, made by an Olympic girl champion. This is an era in which the great ice shows offer amounts almost fabulous to international title winners, and there is nothing wrong nor unethical in these possessors of unique natural talents selling their wares to the highest bidders. Sonja Henie, Barbara Ann Scott, Jacqueline de Bief, the great Dick Button are notable figures who have led the vast parade of ice stars into the monied ranks.

To all this, there's one notable exception. Because she believed her future lay in other, far less glamorous roles than the great ice shows provide, Britain Jeanette Altwegg, the queen of the last Olympic winter games, hung up her skates, refused a huge offer, choosing to devote her life to charitable work that involved menial and tiresome duties.

After she had stolen the head-lines at the Oslo show, Miss Altwegg announced she was through with competitive skating. Few believed that she was serious. It was felt that when the "big offer" came along, Britain's girl champion would succumb, as had most of the stars of her time.

The "big offer" came, an offer of 2,000 pounds, or around $6,000 per week from the Music Corporation of America. But still this 21-year-old daughter of a British naturalized Swiss declined. She replied simply that she was not interested, no matter how high the offer. "I'm just not cut out for the bustle and whirl of showmanship and it would make me unhappy to do so," she said in effect.

Today Jeanette is doing something that is making her very happy. She is in Switzerland at the international "Pestalozzi" village at Trogen. There she is helping in the British dwelling to look after orphaned children who come from a dozen different nationalities. Her self-imposed tasks for payment, less in a year than she was offered per day by the show magnates, include the hundred and one daily domestic chores involved in looking after children who, if it wasn't for such organizations as this, and such self-sacrificing persons as Jeanette Altwegg, would be thrown helpless upon the world.

This isn't intended to criticize, by inference, those who have followed the dictates of a practical era, and decided to capitalize on the skill they developed through long and arduous hours of practise. They're entitled to their rewards, just as Jeanette Altwegg is entitled to the rich satisfaction she undoubedly gains in her more humble sphere of life.

Gallinger Centre Of New Row In Senior OHA

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The past rose up and slapped Don Gallinger in the face during the weekend.

Gallinger, a player with Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, was accused, with Billy Taylor, of taking part in gambling activities in the season of 1947-48. Taylor was convicted of placing a bet and expelled from the league for life by NHL President Clarence Campbell. Gallinger was given an indefinite suspension because he "knowingly associated with and communicated with James Tamer, a criminal and known gambler."

Recently Gallinger was invited to give Bob Rafferty, coach of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, a hand with his duties. He accepted.

Last Saturday the Dutchmen trounced Sarnia 5-2 and the Sarnia manager immediately announced he would protest the game because of Gallinger's presence in the dressing room.

DROP WHOLE THING

Manager Punch Scherer of Kitchener resigned and the club decided to drop the whole thing after they were accused of trying to force a reinstatement of Gallinger.

Gallinger now owns, manages and plays for the Kitchener entry in the Intercounty Baseball League senior series. They were Ontario senior champions last season.

In spite of front office difficulties, the Dutchmen took a firm hold on third place by defeating Hamilton Tigers 3-2 Monday night in Hamilton.

Ott Heller, who recently gave up the coaching reins of the team to concentrate on playing right wing, scored two goals and assisted on the third. Harvey Jacklin scored the third for Kitchener. Jim Brown and Stan Ritchie scored Hamilton goals. The Tigers now have lost 30 of 31 league games.

Recognize List Of 10 Contenders

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Association Monday recognized a list of 10 contenders to participate in an elimination tournament to determine an American middleweight champion.

After the tournament the survivor is to meet the European champion, determined by a bout between Randy Turpin of England and Charles Humez of France.

The 10 middleweights in the American tournament are: Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu, Norman Hayes of Boston, Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N.J., Paddy Young of New York, Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., Walter Cartier of New York, Lee Sala of Donora, Pa., Pierre Langlois of Paris, Joey Giardello of Philadelphia and Eugene Hairston of New York.

The only bouts set at this time are Olson-Hayes in Boston, Feb. 7 and Castellani-Langlois in New York, Feb. 6.

Howe Still Way Out Front In Scoring Race In NHL

MONTREAL—(CP)—Except for top and bottom positions, the team standing in the National Hockey League comes up different with every roll. The scramble for individual point-scoring honors, hectic enough in itself, is less productive of such violent and sudden changes.

The league's official statistics, released today, show Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings still out in front and maintaining a five-point lead over little Wally Hergesheimer of New York Rangers.

Howe has 25 goals and 23 assists for 48 points and is making a convincing bid to crack the record of 50 goals in one season. That mark was set in the 1944-45 campaign by Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens, although it was a 50-game schedule then compared with the present 70-game.

MAJOR FACTOR

Howe's play has been a major factor in keeping his team on top by a six-point margin. Between the Red Wings and the cellar-dwelling Rangers, the other four clubs are swapping places faster than a horse trader.

A week ago Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks were tied for second. The Hawks took over alone, were shoved back to third when beaten by Canadiens and finally bounced back into second by defeating Boston Bruins while Rangers were manhandling Canadiens 7-0.

It was much the same with the Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs. They were tied, but during the week Boston lost three games and Toronto won one of two the Leafs played. The big one was at the expense of the Bruins, so Toronto now is fourth and Boston fifth.

The driving Red Wings won both their games. The sixth-place Rangers lost one game, but in the next two looked anything but lowly, coming from behind to tie Canadiens in one and then smacking them down in the second.

KEEPS PACE

In the individual race, Howe scored three goals and two assists last week but Hergesheimer kept pace with two goals and three assists. Big Gordie's goal count of 25 tops Hergy's 19 comfortably, but the Ranger wingman leads the league in assists with 24.

Ted Lindsay of the Red Wings and Montreal's Richard are third and fourth in the individual standing, the same positions they held a week ago. Lindsay scored two goals and two assists and now has 41 points. The Rocket also had two goals but collected [illegible] assist to trim the margin a trifle and now has a 14-23 count for 37 points.

Paul Ronty of the Rangers moved up from seventh to fifth place by scoring three goals and two assists, giving him a 13-21—34 record. He moved [illegible] Kennedy of the Leafs, who is out possibly for the season with an injury, and Metro Prystai of Detroit. Prystai had 32 points and Kennedy 31.

IN EIGHTH PLACE

Alex Delvecchio of the Red Wings held t eighth place. His 29 total is one better than that of Cal Gardner of the Black Hawks, who moved up from 11th place to ninth by counting one goal and three assists.

Two Montrealers, Bernie Geoffrion and Bert Olmstead, climbed from 13th to a 10th-place tie with George Gee of the Hawks, who slipped back a peg. Geoffrion, far down in the race early in the season, has been moving steadily up. He had one goal and two assists in his team's three games last week.

The goal-tenders' feuding showed little change, but Terry Sawchuk of the Red Wings bettered his leading position with help of substitute Glen Hall.

Sawchuk sliced his goals-against average under the 2.00 point and now has 1.95. Gerry McNeil of Montreal lost ground under that 7-0 pasting he took from Rangers and has a 2.23 average, compared with 2.06 a week ago, but is still in second place. Jim Henry of Boston is third with 2.57, slightly higher than last week.

Harry Lumley of the Leafs and Al Rollins of the Hawks were tied at 2.66 a week ago. Now Lumley has 2.67 and Rollins 2.73. The average of the Chuck Rayner-Lorne Worsley combination of the Rangers is practically unchanged at [illegible].

Ted Lindsay, Detroit, is still the most penalized player, with 82 minutes, and Toronto Leafs the most penalized team, with 522 minutes.

Jack Kramer Nips Sedgman Comeback

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Jack Kramer Monday night nipped Frank Sedgman's comeback in the bud with a 6-2, 6-1 trouncing in just 33 minutes.

The king of the pros vanquished the former Australian Davis Cup ace who Sunday had come back to score a three-set victory in their pro tennis exhibitions in New York.

Like Pancho Segura, who handed Ken McGregor his fifth defeat in as many meetings, 6-3, 6-4, Kramer broke his opponent's service four times, once at love.

The Americans also took the doubles, 6-1, 6-4.

Chavez Upsets Jimmy Carter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eddie Chavez, 138-pound youngster from San Jose, Calif., scored an upset 10-round split decision over lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York in a non-title battle here Monday night. Carter weighed 136.

Referee Fred Apostoli scored the fight 56 points for Chavez and 54 for Carter. Judge Ray Flores had the San Jose boy ahead 55½ to 54½. Judge Billy Burke saw the fight 56 for the champion and 54 for Chavez.

The Associated Press scorecard had Carter ahead 56-54.

Carter went into the ring a 6-5 favorite. The champion appeared to have all the better of the action-packed bout, but he suffered a cut over his right eye in the fourth round. It bothered him the next two rounds.

Chavez fought in spurts, throwing punches with both hands to Carter's face and body.

1,064,600 H.P. Added In '52 To Electrical Output

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada, building electrical power capacity to meet increasing demands of expanding industries, dded a record total of 1,064,600 horsepower during 1952.

Resources Minister Winters, reviewing 1952 progress, said the new power facilities brought Canada's total installed capacity to 14,304,230 horsepower, eight per cent above 1951 but still only 22 per cent of known waterpower resources.

New plants and extensions scheduled for operation in 1953 total 860,000 horsepower while other developments under way or planned for later years exceed 2,000,000 horsepower.

STEAM BIG FACTOR

The minister said that though hydraulic sources still provide the major portion of industrial and domestic power consumption, steam plants are playing an increasing part.

"In the country as a whole," said the minister, "power production facilities were sufficient to meet the present demand, but little reserve capacity was available."

The greater number of new installations in 1952 were in Quebec. Construction also was active in the field of power distribution, with new main transmission lines being completed or under way in many sections of the country.

Good progress in rural electrification was made, particularly in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba.

The minister gave this province-by-province picture of 1952 developments:

British Columbia

The B.C. Electric Company completed its powerhouse at Wahleach Lake, 15 miles east of Chilliwack, with operation of the single unit of 82,000 horsepower.

The B.C. Power Commission brought into operation its two-unit, 4,000-horsepower Clowhom Falls plant at the head of Salmon Arm, designed for an ultimate capacity of 12,000 horsepower. In its John Hart plant on the Campbell river the commission has installation under way of two additional units of 28,000 horsepower each with operation planned for early 1953.

The Aluminum Company of Canada has made good progress on its Nechako-Kitimat development, with work well up to schedule for 1954 initial operation. The program calls for 420,000 horsepower in three units to be completed in 1954, but ultimate capacity of this development is estimated at more than 2,000,000 horsepower.

Yukon

The Northwest Territories Power Commission brought into operation its Mayo river development near Mayo Landing. The plant consists of one 3,000-horsepower turbine driving a generator. Provision has been made for a second similar unit.

The Yukon Hydro Company Limited plans to increase capacity of its Porter creek plant near Whitehorse from 500 to 1,440 horsepower.

Alberta

No new hydro-electric plants came into operation during the year, but Calgary Power Limited began preliminary construction on the 22,000-horsepower Bearpaw development west of Calgary.

Canadian Utilities Limited completed installation of a steam turbine unit with 7,500-kilowatt capacity in its Drumheller plant to bring total capacity to 20,000 kilowatts.

More than 1,000 farms were given service in 1952 to bring the total to 3,700.

The city of Edmonton is adding to its steam plant for 1953 operation a new turbo-generator of 30,000-kilowatt capacity, to bring total capacity to 92,000 kilowatts.

Saskatchewan

The provincially-owned Saskatchewan Power Corporation increased the capacity of its thermal generating plants by 37,565 kilowatts. Principal additions were 25,000 kilowatts at Saskatoon, 10,000 at Prince Albert and 1,865 at Unity.

The total capacity of the corporation's plans now is approximately 134,000 kilowatts.

Manitoba

The Manitoba Hydro-Electric Board completed its 114,000-horsepower Pine Falls development on the lower Winnipeg River with installation of four units. The board began preliminary construction of the MacArthur Falls development on the Winnipeg river which will have a capacity of 80,000 horsepower in eight units. Operation is slated for 1955.

Winnipeg Electric Company completed installation of the sixth and final unit of 37,500 horsepower in its Seven Sisters plant on the Winnipeg river. The plant has a total turbine capacity of 225,000 horsepower.

Sherritt-Gordon mines Limited brought into operation its 7,000-horsepower Laurie river plant and Winnipeg Hydro-Electric System now is operating its first unit of 15,000-kilowatt capacity in its new steam plant.

The Manitoba Power Commission's rural electrification program brought service to 5,000 farms and to 33 towns and villages. A total of 34,000 Manitoba farms now are on line.

Ontario

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission reported the first seven of eight units were placed in operation at the Otto Holden generating station on the Ottawa river near Mattawa. The plant will have a total turbine capacity of 264,000 brake horsepower. Construction is well advanced at the Sir Adam Beck-Niagara generation station No. 2 on the Niagara river which will have 12 units totalling 1,260,000 brake horsepower on completion in 1956.

Another unit began operation at the J. Clark Keith steam generating station, Windsor, which finally will have four units and a 66,000-kilowatt capacity. The third unit of the four-unit Richard L. Hearn generating station, Toronto, was placed in operation. This plant will have a total capacity of 376,000 kilowatts.

The commission extended its transmission and rural line facilities by more than 2,500 circuit miles and the total number of farm service was expected to reach 129,000 by the end of this year.

Quebec

Quebec continued to lead in hydro development in Canada, bringing a total of 597,000 horsepower into operation during the year.

In its Beauharnois No. 2 powerhouse on the St. Lawrence river, the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission increased capacity by 222,000 horsepower to a total of 555,000 horsepower. Construction of a new plant at Rapid II on the upper Ottawa is going ahead.

The commission in 1953 plans to lay a 31½-mile submarine cable in the St. Lawrence river from the Manicouagan peninsula on the north shore across to Les Boules on the south.

The Aluminum Company of Canada and the Manicouagan Power Company are completing 275,000-horsepower developments on the Peribonka and Manicouagan rivers respectively.

New Brunswick

Installed capacity in New Brunswick was slightly increased by replacement of 2,400-horsepower unit by one of 5,000 horsepower in the plant of the Maine and New Brunswick Electrical Power Company, Ltd. on the Aroostook river. 3 Justices Uphold Dismissal Of Suit

TORONTO (CP)—Three justices of the Supreme Court of Ontario Monday upheld the dismissal of a $400,000 suit brought by a son against his father's estate.

Mr. Justice W. T. Henderson said a finding in favor of John Joseph Clements would constitute finding that over a period of years his father, a wealthy Sudbury brewer, was a thief or forger. Mr. Justice Henderson was presiding judge.

The case, an appeal against a dismissal of the suit by Mr. Justice Wilfred Judson, hinged on the middle names of the father and son. The son claimed 3,300 shares of International Nickel stock which he said had been put in his name.

Evidence showed the father was baptized John Joseph Clements.

Kelsey Refuses To Testify Against Brother

WELLAND (CP)—James Alfred Kelsey, 29, under sentence of death for the slaying of a Welland taxi driver, refused to testify Monday at the trial of his brother, Lloyd Frank Cross, 33, charged with the same crime.

Originally sentenced to be hanged Jan. 6 for the murder of Sam Delibasich, Welland cabbie who was bludgeoned to death Dec. 9, 1949, Kelsey is awaiting the outcome of an appeal to be heard by the Supreme Court of Canada. A stay of execution until March 10 has been ordered. The Ontario Court of Appeals last December upheld Kelsey's conviction.

READ EVIDENCE

When Kelsey refused to testify Monday, crown attorney T. F. Forestell sought permission to read to the jury evidence given by Kelsey at a preliminary hearing for Cross March 10, 1952.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence ruled that the evidence could be used and it was read. It consisted of Kelsey's story of how the brothers had hired the Delibasich cab in Welland on the night of Dec. 9, 1949, for a trip to St. Catharines. Only a few miles out of Welland, the taxi driver was ordered to turn down a side road where he was attacked with a hammer and an ice pick, Kelsey's statement said. The taxi driver's body was found nine days later in a field by rabbit hunters.

Kelsey later repudiated his confession.

Examination Season Opens Near Front

WEST SECTOR, Korea (CP)—The examination season opened Monday not far from the United Nations' front line when 19 Canadian lieutenants tried the exams for promotion to captain. Another 16 candidates got cold feet and defaulted.

Examinations for promotion from captain to major begin Wednesday.

The candidates try exactly the same papers as those writing in Canada despite the difficulty of getting time to study while fighting a war and the limited number of prescribed texts.

Stepinac Certain Church Remain Firm Against Tito

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

KRASIC, Yugoslavia (AP)—Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac said Monday night the Roman Catholic Church "is going to remain firm" and will never yield to dictation from Premier Tito's Communist government.

Cardinal Stepinac was wearing the scarlet-edged gown of an archbishop when he received a reporter in the study of his little parish house a few hours after the Vatican consistory had elevated him to the College of Cardinals.

He had declared he would not go to Rome to receive the symbols of his new office because he feared Yugoslavia's government would not let him come back.

He said Monday:

"If at any time I have the opportunity I will try to visit the Holy Father and thank him for everything he has done and is doing as head of the church for the whole of humanity in the struggle between the spirit and the brutal and materialistic aspect of world affairs."

He had little to say about Yugoslavia's action three weeks ago in breaking off diplomatic relations with the Vatican on charges that his elevation to the College of Cardinals was part of an anti-government propaganda campaign.

"Time will prove the answer to that," he observed.

Cardinal Stepinac made it clear he expects little to materialize from the meeting last week of Tito with seven Yugoslav bishops and archbishops. From that conference came a government announcement of an agreement to set up a joint commission to study church-state differences.

Two Tires On Transport Burst, Start Fire Load Of Flour, Service Station In Danger

Two rear tires of a transport trailer burst in Fraserville today and started to flame as the driver turned the truck into the service station of Willis Cunningham.

For a time, the flames threatened the 20-ton load of flour and the gas pumps and store beside which it stopped.

But Cunningham, with the help of the unidentified driver and neighbors, managed to put out the fire before it did too much damage. They used a handy garden hose and fire extinguishers.

Some of the flour was damaged and the floor boards of the trailer were partly burned. The Millbrook fire brigade responded to a call, but when it arrived, the fire was out. It took about an hour to get the flames out.

The transport was owned by McKinley Transport Co., of Toronto and Watford.

REV. FRED. W. CRAIK

Former Minister Of St. James' F. W. Craik Dies

Minister at St. James' United Church here for 15 years, the Rev. Fred W. Craik died Monday at Alliston. After an operation a year ago, he never fully regained his health. He was 64.

Mr. Craik went to Alliston in 1951, exchanging churches with the Rev. H. D. McCormack, who is at St. James' Church.

A popular and well-beloved figure in the city, Mr. Craik was one member of a team of two ministers who interviewed parents of servicemen killed during the Second World War.

Other ministers and elders of St. James' Church reacted today in much the same way on the news of his death. They spoke of him as a man who went beyond the bounds of his congregation to give help and who was a good and valued friend.

IDEAL MINISTER

The Rev. E. W. Rowland of George St. United Church, a friend of Mr. Craik for 15 years, said that Mr. Craik was "an ideal minister, not just as a preacher, but as a pastor."

"I have not known in all my ministry a man more beloved by his people. He never refused a call for aid, and he loved to serve people."

A. E. Prest, secretary of St. James' session for many years remarked that "I don't suppose that any minister in the history of St.

North Monaghan May Allow New Cemetery

Possibility of a cemetery being permitted in North Monaghan township seemed stronger Monday as representatives of a private cemetery company from Kitchener spoke to council.

The company has available 25 acres on the south side of Highway 28 about three miles west of the city. The land is part of the Lillico property and adjoins a new housing subdivision.

Opinion in council is believed to favor the cemetery.

Councillors Monday took their declarations of office, the new member, Roy Locke, taking his for the first time.

A petition was heard from residents of the North Monaghan-Smith boundary road, who asked that some action be taken to improve the condition of the road. North Monaghan council considered paving the seven-eighths of a mile entering the city.

Smith council's stand was that they would oil that portion of the road in 1953.

ACCOUNTS PAID

Accounts totalling $1,176.97 were ordered paid. They were: council attendance, $25; roads and streets, $57; Christmas baskets, $47.37, relief and welfare, $95.91; hospitalization, $90.20; roads and streets, $203.79; postage, printing, etc., $21.20; grant to Hospital for Sick Children, $25; and salaries, $600.

This last item was made up of $200 and $400 paid to tax collector Donald Richardson and assessor Walter Rowles respectively in advance of salaries.

Correspondence was received from the Department of Travel and Publicity, informing council that the department's Peterborough office would take over licensing of tourist homes and motels with more than five rooms available for rent.

Court of revision for added assessment was set for January 26 at 2 p.m. in the county court house. Edward Humpage was appointed auditor for the township.

Cheese Supply Down In 1952

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada cut her cheese production sharply during 1952, but boosted both her production and consumption of creamery butter, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Margarine output was just slightly higher than in 1951.

Cheddar cheese factories cut production to 65,221,000 pounds, down more than 20,000,000 pounds from 85,260,000 in 1951. This probably resulted from a drastic shrinkage of Canada's export markets.

But even with this drop there still were almost 40,000,000 pounds of cheddar in storage on Jan. 1, up from 32,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1952, the bureau said.

Output of creamery butter jumped to 280,970,000 pounds from 257,604,000 in 1951, while consumption rose to 274,694,000 from 268,978,000. Stocks on Jan. 1 were 10,000,000 pounds higher at 54,803,000 pounds compared with 44,817,000 in the previous year.

Hydro Bought $22,500,000 In Goods Here In 7 Years For Canada's Expansion

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission has paid approximately $22,500,000 in the last seven years for equipment manufactured in Peterborough, Robert H. Saunders of Toronto, chairman of OHEC, said in parenthesis in his address as guest of the Rotary Club Monday. "That is an average of more than $3,000,000 a year for that period at this Peterborough plant alone. These purchases, of course, brought many benefits to your workers and to your merchants."

Obviously referring to the Canadian General Electric Company, Mr. Saunders brought home to a Peterborough audience a local aspect of the vast importance of the Hydro enterprise in one of its effects within this community.

Otherwise, it was a minor fact inserted perhaps for closer identification of Peterborough in the numerical superlatives with which Mr. Saunders liberally sprinkled his review of the amazing years of Canada and this province of Ontario since 1939 as a convenient and present span. Actually, there were too many of them for passing comprehension, but together they heaped up evidence of the vast proportions of hydro in the industrial achievements of this country during and since the Second World War.

ST. LAWRENCE

That tremendous story looked directly at the present, but for the future Hydro is vitally dependent on the potential St. Lawrence River power, not only Ontario, primarily, but even the United States in its military program of defence.

"Let me again repeat," Mr. Saunders said toward the close of his address, "it is absolutely necessary to get on with the St. Lawrence without further delay if we are to provide an abundant supply of power at low cost. If we are forced into the position where we have to expand our steam generating facilities, this would, very definitely, have an adverse effect upon large industries in Ontario—industries producing highly strategic materials for both the civilian and military needs of Canada and the United States."

With Bob Maybee, president, at the head table were: Warden R. R. Stewart, Fred Hills, Dr. G. R. Langley and Dick Raine of this year's Utilities Commission; Gordon S. Matthews and George A. Macdonald, former commissioners; Mayor Hugh Waddell, Hon. H. R. Scott, C. C. Maguire, Belleville, R. T. Bogle and Ald. H. T. Rehill.

Visiting Rotarians included: D. A. Scott and Ernest Garnett, Belleville; L. H. Matthews, Schenectady, N.Y.; Paul F. Lathrop, Scotia, N.Y.; Fred Ansett, Belleville.

Introduced by Mayor Waddell, Mr. Saunders quoted Prime Minister Churchill in his tribute to Canada about a year ago.

"We have a great country," Mr. Saunders said, "and it is our duty to protect its future for our children by making the necessary preparations now."

WORLD INFLUENCE

And from Time magazine, this encomium: "Though still dwarfed by the productivity of the United States, Canada's growing industrial muscle has expanded her world influence to an extent never before achieved by a country of 14,000,000 inhabitants."

Statistics of this surge in industrial development and prosperity were supported by Mr. Saunders' figures:

Gross value of manufactured products in Canada in 1939 was $3,474,783,528.

And the gross value in 1952 (estimated) $17½ bilions. Looking from the whole nation to the province of Ontario, Mr. Saunders quoted gross value of manufactured products:

In 1939 ..... $1,745,674,700

As compared with an estimated $8,627,000,000 in 1952.

"This tremendous increase was accomplished during a period when the average time worked per week decreased in Canada from 47.2 hours in 1939 to 41.8 hours in 1951; and in Ontario from an average 46.9 hours per week in 1939 to an average of 41.3 in 1951.

During that same period, the average weekly wages in Ontario increased from $24 to $54."

2 Davies' Plays To Be Presented At Drama Festival

OTTAWA (CP) — Little theatre groups from Eastern Ontario centres will present three plays by two Canadian authors among productions in the Eastern Ontario regional drama festival which starts here tonight.

Robertson Davies of Peterborough has two plays and Elda Cadogan of Durham, one among the eight productions to be staged during the five-day festival. The best productions in this and similar festivals in other regions, picked by adjudicator John Allen of England, will compete in the Dominion drama festival finals at Victoria in May.

Mr. Davies himself will produce his three-act "King Phoenix." The Peterborough Little Theatre is acting this play of England in Druid times before the Roman conquest. He describes the play as a comedy with tragic overtones.

The second Davies' play is "Overlaid," a one-act comedy-drama produced by the Community Theatre of Port Hope. This and two other one-act plays will be staged Saturday afternoon.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

The other one-act plays are Miss Cadogan's comedy, "Rise and Shine" and Sir James Barrie's "The Twelve Pound Look," a sentimental comedy. The first is a production of the Ottawa Little Theatre Workshop and the second of the Knox theatre group of Peterborough.

Modern drama of France is represented by two plays in translation by Jean Anouilh and Jean Giraudoux.

The Ottawa Little Theatre which played host to the first Dominion drama festival here 25 years ago will launch the regional festival with a production of Anouilh's tragedy "Point of Departure."

This play, like Giradoux' "The Madwoman of Chaillot" which will be staged Thursday night by the Ottawa Little Theatre Saturday Players, draws its theme from Greek mythology but is placed in a setting of modern France.

MYSTERY STORY

"Laura" is a mystery story by the American authors Vera Caspary and George Sklar which will be produced Wednesday night by the Brockville Theatre Guild. In similar vein is the Agatha Christie play "Ten Little Indians" which the Cobourg Opera and Drama Guild will stage Friday night.

"King Phoenix" which will conclude the regional festival Saturday night and the two one-act Canadian plays are eligible for the Sir Barry Jackson trophy, awarded for the best Canadian play in a regional festival.

Awards which will be presented Saturday night by Mr. Allen include a $100 cash prize for the best play in the festival, the Fulford Trophy for the best one-act play and local awards for the best actor and actress.

Skid Into Intersection Causes 3-Car Crash

Icy streets were to blame for a three-car collision Monday evening at Romaine and Aylmer Sts.

Elmer Sweeting, 78 Sophia St., was driving west on Romaine St., and his car skidded when he braked for the intersection, where it was struck by an auto driven by Elwood Doxsee, 470 Hamilton St.

The Sweeting car was knocked against a car parked on the south side of Romaine St., driving it back 43 feet.

All three cars suffered more than $100 damage each. Constable William G. Scott investigated.

Land Fill Method For Garbage Urged At Council

A method of garbage disposal which converts wasteland and unsightly areas into sites for parks, buildings and housing areas was discussed by council meeting in committee of the whole Monday night.

Several cities in Ontario are using the land fill method of disposal which enables municipalities to reclaim land that is useless and often unsightly.

Speaking at the annual Rotary municipal luncheon a week ago, Ald. Harold Rehill warned that extensive repairs would have to be made to the city's incinerator this year. In view of the expansion that has taken place in the area and population in recent years, a new incinerator with greater capacity would soon have to be purchased he said.

Ald. Rehill suggested the land fill method as an alternative and he repeated his warning to council Monday night that major repairs would have to be made to the incinerator this year.

$13,000 REPAIRS

He pointed out the more than $13,000 was spent on the incinerator two years ago and now some of the arches are in bad shape.

"It is a question of how long they will hold together." Ald. Rehill said that the same repair job that was done two years ago will have to be done again this summer.

A $350,000 plant such as was recently installed in Kitchener would be required to handle the quantity of garbage that has to be burned here if it is decided to continue using an incinerator. If it is decided to switch to the land fill method, the only capital outlay would be $20,000 for a 15-ton caterpillar tractor which digs a deep trench to bury the refuse, then bulldozes a covering of earth several feet deep over it.

City clerk A. E. Outram mentioned that Oshawa and Kingston are two municipalities in this part of Ontario who are using the land fill method. Kingston he said had abandoned the use of two incinerators, one much bigger than the Peterborough plant 16 years ago in favor of the land fill method.

Other centres where this method is used are Ottawa and Brantford. In North York township, both the recently completed municipal buildings and the hospital are built on land reclaimed from a swampy waste by filling the area with garbage and building it up with an earth covering.

City Council Offers Reward Of $500 For Identity Of Hit-And-Run Driver

Police Still Search For Driver Of Car Which Struck Henry Corbin; Died In Hospital 12 Days After Accident

A $500 reward is being offered by city council for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the hit-run motorist who struck and fatally injured Henry Corbin, 36, Christmas Eve. It is the first time within the last 20 years, that the city has offered such a reward and it is believed that it is the first time in the city's history that council has posted a reward. Mayor Hugh Waddell proposed that the reward be offered when council met in committe of the whole Monday night and the suggestion won quick approval from all aldermen.

DIED IN HOSPITAL

Left lying critically injured on Western Ave., Corbin died 12 days later in Civic Hospital from the effects of shock, two broken legs and undetermined head injuries.

William Estabrook, 899 Western Ave., heard the crash and saw a car stop, then drive off, leaving Corbin lying on the street.

Within minutes, city police were alerted to be on the lookout for the car, believed to be a late model Mercury.

The car was too far away for Mr. Estabrook to get the licence number but the sketchy description was radioed to provincial police.

Despite the intensive search, and investigation of tips which have been received from citizens since, neither the car, nor the driver has been tracked down yet.

Corbin was employed in the laundry at Civic Hospital and his death has left his young wife and three small sons ranging in age from five months to four years in serious financial circumstances.

Neighbors of the Corbin's who felt something should be done for the family took up a collection in the vicinity around Western Ave. and a total of $100 was collected.

However, this amount will not be of much assistance in continuing to provide for a family of three: Edward, 4, Gerard, 3, and Patrick, five months. With a five-month-old baby to look after as well as the other two small boys, Mrs. Corbin has a full time job and would find it difficult to take on another job to help support her family.

OBTAIN JUDGMENT

If the driver who it is believed may have been drinking and

Urge Polls Put In Hospitals For Elections

People in the city's two hospitals are unable to vote in the municipal elections; so something should be done about it.

The Peterborough and District Labor Council (CIO-CCL) came to this decision at their January meeting Monday night. They put through a resolution that the Ontario Federation of Labor ask the Ontario government to amend the Election Act so there can be polling at all hospitals.

Alfred Barber of Local 210, UPWA, brought in the executive committee recommendation and said: "It's not only people confined to hospitals who can't vote but also some others who work at odd hours."

MUST BE AT WORK

He said that one shift at Civic Hospital begins at 10.30 a.m. (before the polls open) and ends at 7 p.m. (too late to cast a ballot). There is no provision for these people either.

The resolution to the OFL dealt only with people in hospitals but later Mr. Barber introduced a motion, seconded by William Whibbs of Local 524, IUE, that the municipal committee draw up a brief on the subject asking city council:

1. Change the polling hours.
2. Give city employees working at odd hours time off to vote, and encourage firms in a similar position to do the same.

Mr. Barber said that there is now an advance poll to accommodate people who have to be out of town on election day. This could be extended to include people in hospitals. And if this proved feasible some time in the future a mobile poll might be set up to accommodate sick people in their homes.

Privy Council Clarifies Petroleum Rights

LONDON (CP) — The Privy Council has clarified the position of Alberta farmers owning land where petroleum rights belong to other persons.

The effect of a Privy Council decision permits those entitled to petroleum to remove it, even though natural gas — owned by the farmer — is extracted unavoidably in the process.

Clarification came Monday when the council dismissed a cross-appeal — brought by an Alberta farmer, the Canadian Pacific Railway and Imperial Oil — against a judgment of the Supreme Court of Alberta.

Farmer Michael Borys owns 160 acres in the Leduc oilfield south of Edmonton. It was purchased by his father from the CPR in 1906. When the land was sold, the CPR reserved rights to petroleum that might be found on the land.

Later the CPR sold these petroleum rights to Imperial Oil.

ASKED INJUNCTION

But when Imperial Oil began to drill for petroleum, Borys asked the Alberta Supreme Court to grant him an injunction stopping the drilling.

Borys argued the word "petroleum" did not include natural gas and that the company must not remove any oil if, in the process, it removed natural gas as well.

The trial division of the Alberta Supreme Court agreed with Borys and granted the injunction May 9, 1951.

The companies appealed the decision and Feb. 6, 1952, the appellate division of the Alberta Supreme Court — holding that Borys owned all the gas except that in solution with the oil — ordered the injunction lifted.

The court said the CPR and Imperial Oil could go ahead and extract the oil, even if it involved wastage of some or all of the free natural gas belonging to Borys.

The Privy Council Monday affirmed this decision.

The case came to the Privy council when Borys appealed the court order lifting the injonction, and the companies appealed the court's interpretation of "petroleum" to exclude free natural gas.

GIVEN LEAVE

The parties were given leave by the Alberta Supreme Court to appeal to the Privy Council, by-passing the Supreme Court of Canada.

The council held that:

1. Petroleum and natural gas are two different substances.
2. Reservation to petroleum rights includes the right to work those rights.
3. The companies are under no obligation to conserve Borys' gas.

In recent years land titles reserving petroleum rights to others have specifically mentioned oil and natural gas in reserving mineral rights.

Although appeals to the Privy Council now have been abolished in Canada, this appeal was allowed because it started in November, 1949, before the Supreme Court of Canada became the highest court for Canadian matters.

Samuel Stinson, 26, of 403 Lansdowne St pleaded guilty Monday to driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. He collided with another car on London St. late on Christmas Eve after turning east on London St.

He was fined $75 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, with the alternative of spending two months in jail.

Eldon McDonald, the investigating police constable, said there was about $150 damage to the front end of Stinson's car and about $50 to the rear end of the other car.

"He smelled strongly of alcoholic beverages," said Constable McDonald. "When I questioned him as to how much he drank, he said seven bottles of beer and a drink of whisky from 4 p.m. to 11:40 p.m."

Stinson put the time when he commenced drinking at earlier in the afternoon.

Moslem And Negro Revolts Threaten Supremacy Britain, France In Africa

(Arthur Gavshon, an AP diplomatic correspondent in London and Edrope, counts Africa as his news beat, too.—He is a South African national who has travelled extensively over the big brooding continent, and here he gives a size-up of its troubles ahead.)

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP).—Simmering Moslem and Negro revolts against the white man's rule today threaten to change the form of the great British and French Empires in Africa.

At the same time they are endangering a key continental redoubt of the West.

Tensions have risen in two main regions: in the Africa of 40,000,000 Moslems who look suspiciously across the Mediterranean at Europe and in the Negroes' Africa that bulges below the equator down to Prime Minister Daniel Malan's bailiwick in the south.

Fierce and furious clashes against authority have taken place this year in Morocco, Tunisia, Egypt, Kenya and South Africa. Although the Moslems and Negroes want different things they have in common a quickly-rising nationalism which has set them agitating for change.

Their nationalism could become a dagger in the heart of the Allies, trying to build up barricades in the region. Africa is more than a platform for a chain of Allied strategic bombing bases facing Russia. It is a reservoir of fighting manpower and scarce materials; it could become again, as once it was, the granary of food-short Europe.

To the outside world the dark continent was little more than a coastline on the map; then it became a hunting ground for slaves; next it was parcelled up as the property of West European powers and its people regarded as cheap workers.

Realizing this today the native peoples have begun to set a price on their co-operation.

What price are the two Africas asking?

Moslem inhabitants of the French North African empire that sprawls along the Mediterranean rim and the East Atlantic have begun to insist on independence. Rampaging riots, strikes and pistol-shot politics in Morocco, Tunisia and some times in quieter Algeria have kept step with the quickening beat-beat of the deeper turmoil pulsating through the Arab world.

WANT EQUALITY

The Negroes of black Africa who have discovered the outside world seem to want something else agani—equality with the white man. In equatorial and more southern lands, independence is a rainbow even for the white man. The jungle and death-dealing diseases are the real bosses.

The black man believes equality could bring with it a sharing of the white man's science and skill and a strong partnership to beat malignant nature.

Meantime for the West which is developing new, urgent economic and strategic interests in Africa, a clear danger is a rising:

Communists have started to link their own struggle against the Allies with the natives' fight for independence and equality.

Already the Communist whirlwinds which swept part of Asia have sent more than just breezes to disturb the longtime surface calm of Africa's 200,000,000 primitive peoples.

The non-whites' awakening in the two Africa's was hurried by the emergence of such lands as India, Pakistan, Jordan and backward Libya as independent nations. In particular Negroes of British Africa watched enviously as Britain turned over limited self-rule to the Gold Coast on the western seaboard.

In Hong Kong 3 Missionaries

MONTREAL (CP)—The Rev. L. Bouchard, superior of the Canadian Jesuit missions here, said Monday he has received word from Hong Kong that three Canadian Jesuit missionaries have arrived there after having been given the choice of leaving Communist China of their own free will or facing violence and jail.

Father Bouchard said he had received a letter from the Rev. Jos. Caron of Ste. Prosper, Que., and the Rev. A. Demers of Ste. Hyacinthe, Que., saying they arrived in Hong Kong with "nothing but the rotting clothes they had on." Everything they had, even their fountain pens, had been taken from them by Communist soldiers before they left their mission at Hsuchow, 2,000 miles north of Hong Kong.

The letter said they had been kept prisoner in their mission for two years up to Dec. 20 last.

Father Bouchard said he had also receved word that the Rev. E. Cote of Quebec had arrived in Hong Kong from the Hsuchow district and expressed belief he had received a similar choice.

Hit Parked Car 3rd Car Blamed Not Drinking

A charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol, laid against Carl Pollock, 31, of Oshawa, was dismissed Monday in police court.

"The accused is entitled to the benefit of the doubt," said Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC.

Pollock admitted that he sideswiped the parked truck of Harold Lancaster of RR 7 Peterborough on Christmas Eve. The truck was parked on the west side of Rogers St., facing south, some 75 feet north of Hunter St.

PULLED TO LEFT

Pollock said he turned north onto Rogers St. and was confronted by a car coming down the wrong side of the road, dead ahead of him. So he pulled sharply to the left to avoid a collision and sideswiped the Lancaster truck.

Nobody was injured but there was property damage to both the truck and car.

Constable Ed Niziol said Pollock was unsteady on his feet and there was a strong odor of liquor on his breath. And Lancaster, who caem out of a nearby house after the crash, testified that the accused man's eyes were glassy.

However Pollock claimed he had only drunk one bottle of beer that night and this was confirmed by two witnesses, both passengers in his car.

Auditor-General Says Defence Dept. Use 8 Different Accounting Systems

OTTAWA (CP)—Auditor-General Watson Sellar reported Monday that the defence department has at least eight different systems of accounting and that the way is open for inadequate and inefficient men to get into responsible positions.

The defence department later issued a statement taking issue with many of Mr. Sellar's comments. It said differing accounting systems are made necessary by essential differences in branches of the services but that the basic principles in all the systems are the same and "there appears to be nothing to be gained by changing them simply to attain uniformity." Of Mr. Sellar's statements about inefficiency, the department said there are safeguards to see that qualified men got senior positions.

FOUND FLAWS

In his annual report to Parliament, he said he investigated only the general subject of defence accounting and found various flaws. He did this after he found the RCMP had moved into the Camp Petawawa case where irregularities led to 14 court cases and to the Currie report. The auditor-general's report is bound to throw new fuel on Parliament's current battle over the Currie report which described a general breakdown in control of the army works services.

Before the Mounties moved in, Mr. Sellar said, his men had discovered at Petawawa "practices such as to necessitate further examination." They didn't pursue the Petawawa inquiry further.

Mr. Sellar called for quick action to rectify the army's pay accounting system because he said the size of the force has outdated it.

CITES CASES

He cited cases in which a brigadier drew double pay for three months, money was paid out for the "wife" of a soldier who wasn't married, and in 35 construction projects costs ran to $53,100 although only $17,565 had been appropriated for them.

The defence department said the case of the soldier whose nonexistent "wife" was assigned $508 was "an instance where a man's record failed to keep pace with his movements." The man enrolled in the special force in 1950 and was discharged in four months. An assignment was made out to a woman who it was found later was not his wife but who "went under the name of his wife." Efforts have been made to find the man—presumably to try to get the $508 back—since his discharge but without success.

The case of the brigadier who was paid double was explained by a government treasury board ruling that an officer transferred from the forces to the civil service should not be deprived of his normal retirement leave pay and allowances.

Professor G. Ross Lord Supervises Experiment On Seaway Models

By NORMAN ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Experiments with scale models now starting at the University of Toronto will play an important part in the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The experiments will be under supervision of Professor G. Rose Lord of the mechanical engineering department. In the big laboratory of the university's modernistic engineering building, miniature scale models of the St. Lawrence river and the proposed seaway will be built of wood, plastic and tin.

The models actually are from 10 to 50 feet in length. By building them true to the originals engineers will know how their theories and plans will work in actuality. Stress and strain, water currents and pressures can be accurately determined and tested in advance.

RECOGNIZED PRACTICE

Professor Lord, a professional engineer, says scale models, of course are not new. The first miniatures of modern types were made in Europe around 1900, but were not introduced to Canada until the 1930s. Large-scale experiments have been carried out before now at the University of Toronto.

Miniatures of several giant projects are already spread around the huge laboratory. Two of them have served their purpose and await dismantling. They're replicas of two sections of a new water tunnel being built under the city of Niagara Falls, Ont. The Ontario hydro commission knows now, before the tunnel is finished, how successful their new scheme will be to supply more electricity—thanks to the miniatures.

Another river model is set up to duplicate a section of its prototype in Quebec—the Manicouagan. There a large pulp and paper company wants to know what type of log boom it can build on the river.

VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

"During the school season," explains Professor Lord, "some students, grads, and the staff carry out experiments on the models. Invaluable experience and knowledge is thus attained. The interested company then pays for the floor space."

In 1947 he personally planned and built a miniature section of the St. Lawrence river where the freighter Milverton sank following a collision with the tanker Translake. The accident occurred near Morrisburg.

By building a copper scale-model of the freighter and submerging it exactly like the Milverton he determined how and where lines could be put aboard her; how the vessel could be pumped dry, and how to salvage her.

A Statement by CANADA'S FIRST BANK...

To those who want to get ahead

It's good to go into debt... to yourself

It's the streamlined way to make financial progress. Some of our most successful customers use this system. It's the very heart of Personal Planning — the B of M's method of family-financing which Canadians from coast to coast are finding practical and stimulating.

It means putting yourself on your own pay-roll... making up your mind that you yourself have a claim on your income just as much as the landlord, the butcher and the tax-collector.

You'll do this, of course, because you have a definite objective — a strong reason for saving. It may be a general goal like family security... or it may be something specific like a new refrigerator, a house, or even a place in the country.

You can go into debt to yourself in two ways — by saving and by borrowing.

Saving comes first, of course... so much a pay-day owing to yourself.

A bank balance gives you personal confidence as few other things can. It gives you a good foundation for your financial plans... and it makes it easier for your B of M manager to lend you money when you want to realize an objective sooner than you otherwise could.

When you have a sound financial program, but need money for some useful purpose, borrowing at the B of M is just as sound as systematic saving. Indeed, it is another form of saving. And it is the B of M's business to lend you money, when it's good business for you to borrow.

A B of M Personal Loan simply enables you to enjoy sooner the things you plan for... and you pay it off in regular instalments just as you have built up your savings balance.

Why not make up your mind to get what you want this streamlined way — and open your special-purpose savings account at "MY BANK" tomorrow. And while you're in the Bank, have a chat with the Manager or Accountant. You will find them ready and interested to discuss your plans and problems.

NHL Contract Anti-Climax For Le Gros Bill Beliveau

By BARRY WEST

QUEBEC (CP)—When big Jean Beliveau finally signs a National Hockey League contract it will be an anti-climax for him.

For Le Gros Bill, colorful 21-year-old centre of Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior League, it will mean little more than a change of locale, uniform — and somewhat more cash. He already gets all the publicity, adulation and about as much money as major league stars at their peak.

In a three-game lend-lease whirl with Montreal Canadiens just before Christmas, he convinced even the most die-hard skeptics that he belongs in the big time.

He did it with five goals in three glittering displays. In the first, a home game with New York Rangers, he scored three goals. In a second home game against Boston, he went scoreless, but at Boston the next night, he scored two and was credited with packing the highest attendance of the season into Boston Garden.

SHY, DISCREET

Beliveau is big in everything except talk. A shy guy, he talks in a montone and is discreet.

A typical remark for the six-foot, two-inch 210-pounder is the one he gives to questions about signing soon with Montreal:

"I'm under contract with Quebec."

President Jack Latter and coach George Imlach of the Aces are more definite.

Beliveau will finish out the season with Quebec, they say.

There are several reasons why the Quebec management wants him to stay. From the management viewpoint, he's the main drawing card for a sixth-place team in a seven-team league.

He was almost solely responsible for the sale of 6,000 season tickets, and the Aces draw an average of 10,000 fans a game. Some of the other clubs are happy to see 2,500 in their rinks.

GETS $15,000 YEARLY

Beliveau has little cause for personal complaint. He gets about $15,000 yearly. Unofficial figures place his salary at $7,000, plus $5,000 from the Coliseum where Aces play home games and $3,000 as a public relations man for a dairy.

But the big reason he stays out of the NHL is that it can't draft him until next August, when he is 22.

Canadiens are said to have tried to lure him with $53,000 for three years—$20,000 for signing and successive yearly salaries of $10,000, $11,000 and $12,000.

Lynn Patrick, Boston coach, said in Montreal recently that Beliveau's box office power makes him worth $25,000 a year.

But Le Gros Bill is comfortable in Quebec. He rooms in a private home run by three elderly ladies in a swank residential district and drives a $5,000 car.

During the hockey season, he makes hundreds of public appearances, doing little but autograph hockey sticks or tickets to Aces' games. He also has a Saturday morning show for children, sponsored by his employers. Part of it is broadcast.

Beliveau was born in Three Rivers, Que. His family moved to Victoriaville and it was there Jean started hockey on a rink made by his father in the back yard.

STARTED AT 15

At 15, he played with Victoriaville Panthers in an intermediate league where there was no age limit. Other players were as old as 30. Three Rivers Reds of the Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association offered him a contract for the next season, but Papa Beliveau wouldn't allow him to sign because it would have meant leaving school.

He went on to the JAHA for the year after with Victoriaville Tigers. When his team disbanded, he joined Quebec Citadelles and played with them for two years before moving up to the Aces last season.

TOP GOAL-SCORER

And despite his three games with Montreal Canadiens and two missed because of a hip injury, he is the top QSHL goal-getter with 25.

Beliveau's style has changed little since his junior days. He's been accused of being a "one-way" player—not given to back checking—and some say he's slow

In his play with Canadiens this year, he exploded both statements. His rink-long sorties showed plenty of speed and once he came back to catch Milt Schmidt of the Bruins on a breakaway

Coach Imlach of Quebec has no complaint about Beliveau's style. Neither has Dick Irvin of Montreal.

He isn't excited about the big time and showed no nerves in any of his NHL appearances. But he keeps a big scrap book of all newspaper stories in which he or the team is mentioned.

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Yankees, who won their fourth straight American League flag and then blasted their way to an iredible fourth consecutive World Series triumph, were picked Monday as the outstanding team of 1952 in United States sports. It was the third straight year the Yankees had been accorded the "team of the year" honor.

In a point battle with the unbeaten Michigan State Spartans, the No. 1 college football team last season, the Yankees won oht in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Wilderspin, a West Australian engineer, caused a sensation here in the second round of play by eliminating Lewis Hoad, young Aussie Davis Cupper.

Scott's Corners Win In Bush League Fray

MILLBROOK (ENS) — Scott's Corners and Bailieboro midgets played a curtain-raiser to the Bush League opener on Friday night. The classy Crichton-coached crew from the Corners had little difficulty in taking the less experienced Bailieboro squad by a 14-1 score. Adams, in the losers' nets, may have found inspiration for a switch on the old favorite and hummed a few verses of "Rubber—Stay Away From My Door" for he was on the receiving end of a barrage of gutta percha all evening. Even though opposition marksmen lit up a dazzling array of lights on the scoreboard he turned aside enough shots to keep the score out of box-car figures. Outplayed and outscored by a wide margin, the Bailieboro boys weren't outgamed and were trying just as hard at the finish as at the first face-off; there is nothing wrong with this team that coaching and practise won't cure. The well-drilled Corners team turned in a beautiful display of hockey that was an eye-opener to the large crowd in attendance.

In the Bush League encounter Scott's Corners took an 8-7 win over Bailieboro in a fast, clean evenly contested affair. The South Monaghan squad struck early with two quick goals by Halligan which Alberico got back a couple of minutes later. This set the pattern of play with never more than one goal separating the teams. Play was maintained at a torrid pace throughout with the scrambly play usually associated with early season games completely missing. For Bailieboro, the line of Cook, Halstead and Sidey was flying and Johnston in goal turned in a nice performance. The well-balanced Scott's Corners team played nice hockey with Alberico leading the goal getters.

Scott's Corners: Goal, Hehn; defence, Conroy, Shaughnessey; forwards, Alberico, Larock, Galley; alternates, Little, Hall, Minnie, Crichton, Stevens, Blodgett.

Bailieboro: Goal, Johnston; defence, Jewison, Hogg; forwards, Cook, Halstead, Sidey; alternates, Clement, L. Jewison, Harris, Carruthers, Halligan, Whitfield, Gray.

Ken Watson's Curling

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOUR BACKSWING?

The point on the ice from which your backswing commences is not always the same. Nor do I use the term "point" loosely. Although a curling stone is 10 to 11 inches wide, the line on which it must be aimed is an imaginary line from the skip's broom (at which you are aiming) through the centre of the stone and extending to the top of the arc of the backswing. Therefore, if your stone does not exactly split that imaginary line at the start of backswing, the odds are that your swing will be off-line and you will be wide or narrow of the target.

Only when the skip holds his broom on the centre line does your stone split the centre line in front of the hack at the commencement of your swing. When the broom you are aiming at is to your left, off centre, then your stone must be adjusted to the left accordingly, and the further off centre the broom, the further to the left you start your rock. Mind you, your stone will always have some portion of it on the centre line because the angle deviation is very slight.

If you can, through practice, develop a true, unhurried and rhythmical swing without any pushes or last-second twists of the handle, this one point, if observed carefully, will spare you many moments of mental agony. You will gain the confidence necessary to play wicks and rolls for position instead of merely being satisfied to hit any part of a stone you are wanting to remove.

Not until after I had been curling for twenty years did I learn that this had been the reason why I was consistently a little narrow on in-turns and tended to be wide on out-turns. Unconsciously, too, I preferred an out-turn to an in-turn, due to this little idiosincracy. To my mind, this one is so important it is worth sleeping on tonight, and every night from now to the end of your curling days.

Overemphasis On Sport Develops Rat Race In Colleges–Director

TORONTO (CP)—A prominent university athletics director asserted Monday that overemphasis on sports has created a "rat race" for top-flight athletes. A number of athletic officials across the country agreed with him.

Ivor Wynne, athletic director at McMaster University, Hamilton, told a service club in London, Ont., that no college athlete should receive special consideration and that sports should be kept as an extra-curricular activity.

Members of a London high school football team were present at the meeting. He said college athletic directors were "supposed to encourage you boys to leave your homes. If you want to take engineering we're supposed to discourage you and suggest other courses available . . . only because you are athletes."

Professor Bob Osborne, athletic director at the University of British Columbia, said he concurred "in general principles 100 per cent" with Wynne.

STUDIES FIRST

"A boy should make his choice of studies, then make his choice of athletics. If they don't agree then the athletics should suffer."

The UBC official said he didn't think encouragement of students to change universities or subjects was widespread in Canada as in the United States but added:

"That does happen. It's not desirable, but it does happen."

The director of athletics at the University of Manitoba, Professor Frank Kennedy, said it sounds as if Wynne is "sounding off against athletic scholarships."

"I don't believe in these (scholarships) since they usually backfire and the boy often suffers."

He said the problem doesn't affect the U. of M. because there is little sports competition with other universities.

Frank Tindal, head football and basketball coach at Queen's University, Kingston, said Queen's is agreed that sports should be extra-curricular and the emphasis should not be on winning. He added:

"Two of our outstanding basketball players were declared ineligible in mid-season last year because their academic records were not up to the requirements of the university for those engaged in intercollegiate sports. After all, that's what college is for—to obtain a degree."

DOESN'T AGREE

However, another coach of the Senior Intercollegiate Football League which embraces Western, McMaster, Toronto, Queen's, and McGill, didn't agree with the McMaster mentor.

John P. Metras, head football and basketball coach at the University of Western Ontario, said: "That's such a stupid statement to make that it would be stupid to even attempt a reply."

Warren Stevens, athletic director at the University of Toronto, said "I've heard all that before" and added: "No comment."

Hec Creighton, chief referee for the Intercollegiate Football League declined to comment on most of Wynne's remarks but disagreed when the McMaster official said: "If the team doesn't win the public cries for dismissal of the coach."

LIKE TO HEAR IT

Creighton, also well-known as a high school football coach, said "if he can tell me of any college coach losing his job because his team failed to win a high percentage of games I would very much like to hear about it."

Vic Obeck, director of athletics at McGill University, said there is no doubt colleges are constantly fighting to get athletes. He added: "I don't see where it affects me or McGill. The only thing we had to attract athletes was a loan fund which was outlawed last year."

Maury van Vliet, athletic director of the University of Alberta, said the problem discussed by Wynne was strictly an eastern one.

"It isn't a Prairie problem because we haven't got that kind of competition."

Alfonso Given Fifth Round TKO On Wallace

TORONTO (CP)—Kid Alfonso of Warren, O., was awarded a fifth-round technical knockout over Gordon Wallace of Brantford in a scheduled 10-round bout at Maple Leaf Gardens, Monday night.

The end came at 1:40 of the fifth round when referee Billie Burke stepped in to save Wallace from further punishment. In that round Alfonso's blows to the face and head had sent Wallace down for two automatic eight counts, and he was sagging against the ropes and absorbing more punishment from a two-fisted attack when the bout ended.

Alfonso weighed 163½; Wallace 165¼.

Wallace had previously been knocked out only once before in his professional career. That was last March when Alfonso scored a third-round knockout. It was Wallace's third loss since turning pro.

4th ROUND COMEBACK

The end followed a fourth-round comeback by Wallace. Behind on points, and with Alfonso forcing the fight, Wallace caught the Ohio battler with a swinging right to the face. He followed it with a glancing right off the stomach and a left to the jaw. The kid went down, then stood up to take an automatic eight-count.

In the fifth round, a sneak right to the head started Wallace's downfall. Alfonso hammered rights and lefts and Wallace went down on his knees and took an eight-count. He took another eight-count seconds later from a flurry of rights and lefts and was absorbing terrific punishment when the referee stopped the fight.

Reject Two Referees

MONTREAL (CP)—A motion to use two referees instead of one during Quebec Senior Hockey League games was defeated at a meeting of the executive Monday night. The motion was to have two referees and one linesman on the ice, instead of one referee and two linesmen as at present.

McBURNEY TO HAWKS?

GALT (CP) — Jim McBurney, leading scorer in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, may get a trial with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, Bob Wilson, chief eastern scout for Chicago, said Monday.

McBurney, currently with Galt Black Hawks, farm team of the NHL club, is to be taken to Toronto for a practice with the Chicago team today. If his performance warrants it he will play with Chicago against Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday.

OZONE DEFENCE—Dr. H. C. Carlson has a University of Pittsburgh basketball player inhale oxygen. Scientific research indicates that inhalation of oxygen by athletes immediately after periods of physical exertion is beneficial in relieving strain on the heart and respiratory system.

Robinson Signs For $38,000 May Be Last Year With Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—This may be the last year for Jackie Robinson, highest salaried player in Brooklyn history and the Dodgers' greatest drawing card.

Although he said: "I hope to have another year after this one," the brilliant second baseman indicated he might call it quits after the 1953 season.

He made this statement during a press conference Monday. The conference was staged by the Dodgers to announce the signing of Brooklyn's "big three"—Robinson, Peewee Reese and Roy Campanella.

"I'm certain I have one more good year left," Robinson said after putting his signature to a contract calling for an estimated $38,000. "I hope to have another year."

Dodger vice-president E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi declined to disclose the figures but admitted Robinson was the highest paid player on the club and that the salaries of the trio totalled just under $100,000. It was estimated that Reese would draw $35,000 and Campanella $25,000.

BUSY MAN

Robinson, who is spending a busy winter operating his own department store in New York's Harlem district, heading a housing project and serving as a radio executive, said he has no designs to stay in baseball once he is through as a player.

"I have a goal," he said. "I want to build a boys' club in Harlem. That will take a lot of money. I'm trying to do this through my store. If the store is successful, then my future is secure."

Asked whether he would accept a baseball job as a manager, Robbie replied: "I'd have to consider it. Of course, it would have to be in the big leagues. I might go back to Montreal for one year in appreciation for the wonderful treatment the Montreal people gave me during the one season I played there."

SEVENTH SEASON

Robinson, who'll be 34 on Jan. 31, will be playing his seventh consecutive season with Brooklyn this year. He joined the club in 1947.

Getting back to his future as an active player, Robbie said he was hopeful of playing in 1954 but the possibility was still there that he might have to hang up his spikes at the end of this season.

"It all depends on my physical condition during the coming season," he said.

Thedford, a Lambton county town of approximately 600 residents 30 miles northwest of London, has organized the spiel to raise funds to equip its arena with artificial ice. Closing date for entries is Jan. 21. Date of play will be set after that.

Eliminations will be held on various rinks throughout the province.

BECAUSE THERE'S A SOFTER, more feminine look about the new spring fashions, there's a trend to fabrics that will flow and drape with ease. Such fabrics best express the return to the ladylike look. They suggest the leisurely charm of afternoon tea or the pleasure to be found in donning a flattering dress for dinner or theatre-going. A very soft, pale pink appears (left) in this delicate crepe dress with shirring to encase the ribs and a roll collar to flatter a pretty face and neck. Sleeves suggest gentle ease; the skirt has a modified fullness. Icy blue crepe (right) is shaped and fluted so that it seems entirely fluid, an opaque substance poured over the figure. The pleating is fine and narrow with rippled edges that seem to spring from within the fabric. This is pure line, simple and quite unadorned. Accent comes from crystal buttons at the surplice neckline and fake hip pocket.

Hand-Painted Shirts Added Normal Family Production

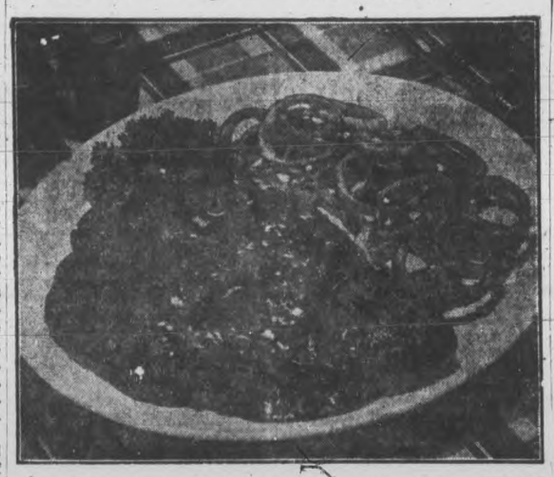
CALGARY (CP)—A family from Britain is working here and adding an artistic touch to normal western production.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ottewill, among other articles, turn out hand-painted western shirts of striking and beautiful design and coloring. One of these shirts was worn by Calgary's "Miss Stampeder," Pat Dinnigan, at the beauty contest in connection with the Grey Cup final at Toronto last November.

The Ottewills have added several lines to their productions. Mrs. Ottewill makes shimmering stoles, on which her husband paints delicate and detailed designs.

They say the largest demand is for "signature ties," on which the signature of the purchaser is reproduced with a mirror-image to make a curious, symmetrical design.

BUSY FAMILY



Mr. Ottewill is employed as a mechanic during the day, and does his painting in the evening. His wife, who was a singer in Britain, works alongside him on a battered sewing machine.

The whole family is talented. Janice, at 14 the oldest of three girls, is following the same artistic medium as her father. She had her first painting hung in the Guildhall at London when she was seven, and repeated the success the following year.

Dorothy, 12, is a tireless student of ballet and practices nightly at one end of the living-room. She has already appeared in several Calgary shows, and before she left London had been offered an audition with the famous Sadler's Wells Ballet Company.

Youngest is four-year-old Carole, who already shows signs of following in the light-footed steps of sister Dorothy.

Tomato Soup As A Sauce In Cooking Swiss Steak

Want to say, "Let's celebrate", to your family! Then put dinner into a celebrating mood with a platter of Swiss steak cooked in a savory tomato-soup sauce.

The tomato soup, plus onion and garlic, gives flavor dash to this dish. And with round and chuck steaks quite plentiful—and sometimes at a special price—it's a good time to feature this meat.

You can cook the Swiss steak either on top of the stove or in the oven. If you use the oven, have a complete oven meal. Tuck in a casserole of scalloped potatoes. And bake dessert too, either a pineapple-upside-down cake or crunchy Cranberry Betty. Time it so all dishes come out of the oven at once. Just let the oven do the work while you go about other business until mealtime.

The recipe for the steak with tomato-soup sauce is as follows:

Tomato Swiss Steak

2 to 2½ pounds steak (round or chuck cut 1½ inches thick)
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup shortening, melted
1 cup chopped onion
2 large cloves garlic, minced
2 cans (2½ cups) condensed tomato soup

Pound flour and seasonings into meat with the edge of a heavy saucer until flour is absorbed. Brown steak in hot shortening in an oven-pan or skillet. Add onion and garlic; cook until limp. Blend in soup; cover. Cook over low heat or in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Serves 6.

SOUP SCOOPS

Combine Mushroom and Beef Soups: For an extra-rich soup, combine 1 can each of condensed cream of mushroom and beef soups. Stir in 1 can of water or milk. This makes a meaty soup that is sturdy eating. Serve it with toasted crackers spread with cheese.

Use Spaghetti and Dried Beef in Casserole: A can of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese adds up to a grand lunch or supper dish when teamed with a little dried beef. Pour spaghetti into a greased casserole; stir in about ¼ cup of chopped dried beef. Dot the top with butter. Bake at 400° F. until hot and slightly brown on top.

Soup Boosts Milk in Family Meals: Condensed soup, prepared with milk, contributes all-round food value to your family meals. And it's wise to serve creamed soups (with milk) often because recent surveys show that calcium is the nutrient most frequently lacking from the average diet.

Use Popcorn for Garnish: Light puffy popcorn is a perfect garnish for several soups. Pass a bowl of the buttered popcorn to go with tomato or vegetable soup. Let each one help himself and sprinkle it on soup so it can be eaten while crisp.

New YW Director In Food Service By Unusual Way

Miss Lillian Eastwood, new food service director in the YWCA cafeteria, has come into this line of work in an unusual way. She gained her initial experience as a voluntary worker in the kitchen of the Active Service Canteen on Adelaide St., Toronto, during the last war.

Of course, all work at the canteen was voluntary, but Miss Eastwood took her shift on Sunday, the only day she had free from her industrial office work where she was filling a man's job. Besides that she took the early shift, preparing breakfast to be served from seven-thirty on, and staying through the luncheon period till mid-afternoon.

On her very first day at the canteen, she and another person were set to clean and prepare 70 chickens for chicken pie. Miss Eastwood says, "I never wanted to see another chicken pie after that." But she evidently did not get such a job again as she progressed with the kitchen work until the last year of the war in charge of the early Sunday shift, including recruiting her staff for that period.

This experience only increased Miss Eastwood's interest in food preparation which she had perhaps inherited from her mother, Mrs. Lillian Eastwood, of 221 Engleburn Ave., Peterborough, a woman who took pride in serving her family very good meals.

So, when VJ Day came, Miss Eastwood had decided office work was no longer for her, and hastened to her employer to tender her resignation. Her next job was as receptionist in the upstair dining room of the Park Plaza Hotel, Toronto, and in spare time she worked on food costs and budgeting Later she went into the kitchen and worked in the dessert section.

After a year and a half the opportunity came for her to go to Kress Hotel, Preston, as food service director, and she was pleased. This hotel was noted for its good meals, especially Sunday dinners. But the Toronto hotel manager evidently did not relish loosing a good thing, for he prevailed on Miss Eastwood to come back and take charge of the new Plaza Room where special dinners, weddings, teas, cocktail parties and service organization dinners are catered.

WANTS CATERING WORK

Coming to the Y from this atmosphere, Miss Eastwood is anxious to take on special catering for Peterborough people. For small parties she would prepare menus to their order and provide table service in the cafeteria. She also hopes for the opporunity of catering to afternoon teas and evening affairs in the Y and seems to have a number of tricks of this sort of trade "up her sleeve."

Miss Eastwood has engaged a completely new staff for the cafeteria, choosing Mrs. Fred Deyarmand as head cook and Mrs. Switzer as second cook. Mrs. Deyarmand was the cook at a Stony Lake summer hotel for two seasons. She and the director have a common aim, "To provide good food—food that tastes like food—at the lowest price possible," and they are striving together on the problems of both.

They invite the public to come and eat, and to offer their criticism, whatever the nature may be, so that improvement and progress may be made.

What's Right?

You call a person at his home and the member of the family who answers says he is not there and asks if he may take a message.

WRONG: Say: "I'll call later," refusing to tell who you are.

RIGHT: Say "This is John Smith" and then either leave your number or say that you will call later.

Selwyn Women Vote $80 For Minister

SELWYN (ENS). — The United Church Woman's Association met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald for their January meeting. The Rev. D. P. Morris led in prayer, and Mrs. George McIlmoyl, the newly elected president, had charge of the meeting. Mrs. Reg. Bell acted as secretary in the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. Elton Miles. Mrs. Melville Crapp read the Scripture lesson and the topic entitled "The New Year" was given by Mrs. William Elliott. The treasurer, Mrs. E. Blewett reported $136.80 on hand. The ladies decided to donate $80 towards the minister's salary and also to pay the hydro bill.

A vote of thanks was given to James McConkey, Donald McConkey, and George McIlmoyl for donations of wood to the church and hall and to all the other men who helped to cut and haul the wood.

A thank-you card was read from Mrs. Neil Blewett for flowers received from the WA while she was ill in hospital.

Beginning with the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Nichols, a birthday box will be on hand, and any member having a birthday in that month will deposit a penny for each year of their age. A committee was also appointed to have a meeting place ready for each meeting ahead of time. During the meeting, the ladies heard a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Morris.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Boiled Beefsteak Puddings Tops In Flavor, 'Indigestible'

Oh how wonderful it is to have sprung from English ancestors when Steamed Pudding and Suet Pudding time of year rolls round. And here it is. We are smack in the middle of it and I'm the gal who knows how to produce them.

I've given you Steamed Puddings for Christmas, but have I ever gone into my Boiled Beefsteak Pudding routine before?

When I was a pig-tailer in public school, our mother used to send us to the butcher shop before school, for skirt steak and kidneys and suet. We'd rush back, throw the package in the door and dash off to school, and barely make it before nine o'clock. But all of the rush was worth it for we knew what was abubbling all morning on the stove for dinner at noon. Meat Puddin's we called them. Our doting father would gloat and grin over my mother's cooking talents when meat puddin's were for dinner. His mother had taught her how to make them and she was an apt pupil.

Today I have to backtrack on my perennial health campaign. These puddings are tops for flavor—but shades of burp—are they ever indigestible. So, if you have the digestion of a goat, read on. We have just had them for dinner. Peter and I are still alive and active, but Marianne's a bit groggy. She's a shade on the sensitive side.

BOILED BEEFSTEAK PUDDINGS

To those who are unfamiliar with this traditional English main course dish I should say that these consist of beefsteak and kidneys with seasonings, sealed into a suet crust in the form of a cylinder about six inches long and two and one-half inches in diameter. These are each wrapped in a pudding cloth and boiled in water until meat is tender.

English cooks line a small bowl with the suet crust too, and fill it with the meat filling and top with another crust to seal it. It is also tied in a pudding cloth and boiled.

Meat Filling (quantities to serve 4): One pound skirt or flank steak or shank beef, ½ pound kidney (beef or pork) 2 small onions, chopped, 2 small potatoes, chopped, salt, pepper, butter. Chop meat into about 1-inch cubes—removing veinous portions from kidneys, and soak meat in cold water to cover while you prepare the Suet Crust (quantities to serve 4): One-half pound finely crumbled suet (your friend the butcher will do this for you), 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, about ½ cup cold water (the dough should be soft enough to roll out readily). Sift baking powder and salt with the flour into a bowl. Add crumbled suet and mix in exactly as you would for pie pastry—with the finger tips or with pastry blender. Add water to make a stiff dough, but not too stiff to roll readily. Divide into 4 portions and roll each portion out to make a round about 9 inches in diameter, and ¼ inch thick.

Lift a quarter of the meat mixture out of water, let it drain a little then place it just off centre on pastry. Add a quarter of chopped onions and potatoes, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Wrap in crust by folding longer end of dough over filling and quickly sealing all edges, moistening edges to seal. Fold outside edges over well, pressing firmly. Wrap each pudding in cotton cloth or cookery parchment, about 18 x 24 inches. Tie with string, circling pudding several times over its length with string or heavy thread. Tie. Drop wrapped puddings into a large kettle of boiling water. Cover. Boil gently for 3½ hours, making certain that puddings are immersed in water throughout cooking.

To serve, lift puddings from water with long-handled spoons, taking care not to puncture crust. Cut strings, roll out of cloth and deftly transfer to serving plates.

Meat Puddings are an entire main course and may be accompanied by a salad or celery and carrot sticks.

I'd love to hear the reaction of my English reader-friends to this —our family version—of Boiled Meat Puddings.

DOROTHY DIX

Waits 14 Years To Tell Confused Story

DEAR MISS DIX: Eighteen years ago, I was a very attractive, shy girl of 16. That particular summer my sister was away at college and I was very lonely. Desire for companionship took the form of romance and, thinking I was in love, I married a man of 21. I tried my best to make the marriage a success but my husband used to disappear for weeks at a time, while my parents supported me and the baby, born a year later. We made another try at living together, but he refused to work, and negelcted me, so we parted again, this time for good. I obtained a divorce and custody of my child. I wanted to take up my education where I left off, and continue on to college, but my father wouldn't let me. I guess he didn't trust me.

When I was 20, my father's business took him to another state and I felt I had a chance to put the past behind me. I began to go out again, meet new people and make friends. One of these friends was a young man with whom I fell in love at first sight. The feeling was mutual, although he had been going with another girl for sometime. He gave her up, and devoted all his time to me. Soon after our engagement was announced my fiance went into the hospital for an operation. That's where trouble between us began. I didn't know whether it would be right for me to go to see him or not. Not knowing his parents, I didn't know what their reaction would be, so I stayed away. However, when he came home, a mutual friend suggested that I go to see him, and we went together.

His mother was very pleasant to me, but I didn't go back. After his recovery, my fiance came to see me, and I guess he expected my to explain my absence, but again, I didn't know what to do and offered no explanation. I was never asked for another date. Of course, the engagement was broken, and in my hurt pride I accepted a date with another boy. In due course, I married him, and we've been married 13 years. I have never been happy. My husband is selfish, has a bad temper, and is careless about his appearance. I don't get along with his family. Now I've been reliving the past, trying to see where I made my mistake with the boy I lost. He lives in a nearby town, and is married. What bothers me most is that he still has never had a reason given for my behavior when he was sick. I'd like him to know why I acted so and wonder if I should get in touch with him.

CONFUSED

ANSWER: You certainly are a confused person. Your very long letter, which I had to shorten so much that I hope you recognize it, showed one thing clearly. You are, and always have been, either living in a romantic past or a future of day dreams rather than facing the present squarely. I doubt if you have ever tackled a problem at hand and worked it through.

You have gone from one mistake to another with your difficulty at present being whether or not to pursue a romance of your youth. There is absolutely nothing in life so futile as this. For a woman of 34 to go back 14 years in an effort to resurrect a lost love is utter folly. You really aren't worried about what your ex-fiance thinks of your past actions; you are much more concerned with the hope that seeing him will rekindle his former interest—yours, of course, has never died. You have evaded responsibility all your life, and it is high time you faced the fact that you are no longer a love-sick teenager.

LIFE SPENT YEARNING

You are the mother of two children—although you failed to mention what happened to the child of your first marriage—and you certainly should be setting for them an example of adult living. You've spent your life yearning, and it's about time you achieved fulfillment of something. At 16 you yearned for romance, and contracted an unhappy marriage, later you yearned for a college education which you had forfeited, then you botched a second romance, and contracted a second unhappy marriage. Quite a galaxy of mistakes, and admitted ones. By facing, even at this late date, the cold facts of present-day living, you can still emerge from the confusion of your life with happiness.

In view of your marked tendencmy to color facts, I doubt if your husband is quite the ogre you picture him. I am sure, with a little co-operation on your part, something can be salvaged from your marriage. Make the effort, and forget the past!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Last year I went with Paul, who was continually promising to do things for me, then breaking his promise. Finally, he said he didn't love me, and we broke up. Now I have met Richard, who is a fine young man, but I find myself distrusting him because I can't forget the way Paul treated me.

ELLA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Don't make one young man pay for another's lack of courtesy and consideration. Accept Richard at face value unless he proves unworthy of your trust.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We have been married 10 years, and were very happy until two years ago, when my husband disapeared with no reason. He left a note, but no explanation. Later he returned, and I took him back as if nothing had happened. He apologized, but still gave no reason for his action. Two months later he left again and returned as before. Things were fine for a year, then one morning I awoke to find him gone again. I love my husband dearly, but since taking him back the third time I have been a nervous wreck. Every time he is later than usual coming home I wonder if he's coming at all. I don't think I can bear the suspense much longer. He doesn't like me to talk about it and I still know nothing of his disappearances. What must I do to stop this dreadful feeling?—MRS. L. T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since your feeling of apprehension is completely justified and, in fact, about the only way you could feel under the circumstances, there really is nothing you can do to control it. It's practically certain that your husband will repeat the pattern of disappearance, so resign yourself to the fact and be agreeably surprised when he returns at night.

GIVE WANDERER AN ULTIMATUM

Why have you been so foolish to take him back time after time with no explanations? By now the man is convinced that he can come and go at his pleasure disregarding any obligation to offer reasons or excuses! The situation as it now exists would make a nervous wreck of anyone.

Whether your husband likes to discuss the matter or not, make him listen while you tell him that the next disappearing act will be the last. And stick to it. When—and to give him the benefit of a very slim doubt, add if—he goes, consider him gone for good and see what you can do to make a new life for yourself.

It would be a fine thing if you could induce your husband to see a psychiatrist in an attempt to uncover the cause of his restlessness.

"Operation Squirrel"

WE KNEW ALUMINUM was used for artificial limbs, crutches and other aids to the fractured human frame. Now word comes from England suggesting still wider horizons for this versatile modern metal. Seems an animal lover of Twickenham found a squirrel with a broken leg and fixed it up with a pair of wooden splints. These his furry patient immediately ate. So he made two more, this time of aluminum. No more trouble.

It's just one more example of the seemingly limitless uses of aluminum. And it helps explain why Alcan is increasing its aluminum-making capacity in Quebec, and building a new smelter in British Columbia. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Find Natural Foods Improve Dental Health of Children

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—The youth welfare association of Australia reports after a five-year trial that children who eat natural foods have much less tooth trouble than other children.

In a report on children at the association's homes, the institute of dental research says that 22 per cent of them have dental caries compared with 96 per cent of other Sydney children. The average number of damaged, missing or filled teeth in children at the home is one-half tooth per child, compared with nine in other Sydney children.

The association says the small amount of tooth trouble is because half the children's food is eaten in its natural state in the form of milk, salad, vegetables, fruit, nuts, dates and honey. Cooked food is mostly confined to porridge, molasses, prunes, eggs, unpolished rice and such.

PRE-NATAL EFFECTS

The directors of the association's homes say there would be no dental decay in the orphans and abandoned children in their care if their mothers had had "rational and balanced nutrition" before the babies' birth, and if the children could be completely protected from "contamination by the detrimental dietary habits of their school mates and the community generally."

The hit at the community is justified by the fact that Australians have about the worst teeth in the world. Dentists say the most immediate cause is the excess of carbohydrates in Australians' diet —too much sugar, white bread, biscuits and sweets — and not enough fruit or vegetables. Added to this, they say, is a serious shortage of dentists.

Walsh Defends Canadian Unit

MONTREAL (CP) — Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, former commander of the Canadian 27th infantry brigade in Germany, took time out today while on his way to Ottawa to defend the morale of the troops he led in Europe.

Reports that all was not well with the soldiers drew angry comment from the 44-year-old St. Catharines, Ont., officer, who shortly will take over new duties as director-general of military training. He has just returned from Germany.

"Proof that such reports are false are plain enough," said Brig. Walsh. "You can't have an army second to none in Germany built on low morale. And that is just the kind of army Canada has in that country now."

He charged that some persons were doing the troops "an injustice." There had been some complaints about leave and food but these had been met.

Brig. Walsh, who was succeeded as head of the 27th brigade by Brig. E. J. Pangman, arrived by train from Halifax, where he landed Sunday from the liner Franconia.

Freed Two Ships Locked In Ice Field

TOLEDO (AP) — Two ships imprisoned eight hours in a large ice field in Lake Erie outside the Toledo harbor light were freed last Monday night by the tug Atomic, summoned from Detroit.

The Blue Comet, an oil tanker owned by the Blue Line of New York city, was following the heavier Carl Meyers, a coal ship, through the ice field when both were trapped about 11 a. m. EST. The ships were en route to Toledo from Detroit.

The tug Atomic broke through the ice sheet, several miles square, and cleared a path to Toledo for the ships.

Simonds Strikes Back At Criticism Of Army Setup

OTTAWA — (CP) — Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff struck back at critics of the army today and called on his 49,000 soldiers "not to be discouraged or depressed by criticisms which are neither founded on truth nor justified in the light of our positive achievements."

In an eloquent and strongly-worded Message to the Army, published in the monthly Canadian Army Journal, Gen. Simonds conceded that in several respects the force "falls far short of the standards which I hope and believe we can attain."

He asked all ranks to work for improvement and said: "Dishonesty, lack of integrity or indifference to sound administration are intolerable and will continue to be ruthlessly removed . . . as diseased flesh from its body."

He did not identify the critics, who, he said, have been making "unremitting attacks on the army in recent weeks and months."

They would almost inevitably include, however, clergymen who have described morale among troops in Germany as "very bad" and the Curire report, which described a breakdown in control of the army works services, a hast-before-cost attitude and an indifferne to administration among defense "higher-ups."

FEELING OF PRIDE

The 500-word message continued:

"There are few national activities of our country in which Canadians ought to take greater satisfaction than in the record and achievements of the Canadian army. To serve it has always been my greatest pride and I believe that every solider who has the privilege to belong to it should share that feeling.

"I believe the Canadian army today is fulfilling its duty to Canada in a manner fully in keeping with its high record of service in the past. If I did not hold that conviction, I would not continue as its head. The high tributes paid to Canadian troops serving in Korea and Europe have not come from me or from any other Canadian officer or civilian. They have come unsolicited from supreme commanders and a number of highly responsible observers, whose impartiality is beyond a doubt. Canadian soliders serving at home are every bit as good as the Canadian soldiers serving abroad. Many have already served in Canada, Korea and Europe.

"In recent weeks and months the army has been the target of unremitting attacks from many sources. We have been criticized for the indiscipline of Canadian soldiers. We have been criticized for too much discipline. We have been criticized for extravagance and criticized for not providing a whole host of things which cost a very great deal of money. We have been criticized for lack of morale and accused of complacency and arrogance when we have shown or proclaimed a pride in the Canadian army.

NOT PERFECT

"We must expect and welcome constructive criticism. No one of us would claim that the Canadian army is perfect and the expansion of the last two years has accentuated faults and weaknesses. These faults and weaknesses call for our full attention and the application of corrective action and improvement. Dishonesty, lack of integrity or indifference to sound administration are intolerable and will continue to be ruthlessly removed from the Canadian army as diseased flesh from its body.

"None of this should give cause for any discouragement or depression. The only justification for the existence of the Canadian army is to defend democracy of which free public criticism is an essential element.

Hydro Bought $22,500,000

The increase in productivity has been accomplished not by working harder, but by constantly inventing machinery to supplement human energy with mechanized power.

Between 1939 and 1950, the net output per worker in Ontario increased from $2,428 to $5,416, or by more than double.

REAL INCREASE

"Allowing inflation and bearing in mind what the economist calls "constant dollars", the increase per worker in output would still be in order of 23 per cent over the 11-year period."

The number of people engaged in manufacturing in Ontario in 1939 was 318,871; and 539,036 in 1951.

The Ontario picture in brief between 1931 and 1951:

Gross value of manufactured products [illegible] per cent.

Increase in number of employees 69 per cent.

But, decrease in average hours worked of 12 per cent.

"This was accomplished because our people had available to them electric power in abundance at low cost."

Ontario Hydro's billion-dollar expansion, begun eight days after the end of the war with Japan "has already increased out dependable capacity by 73.1 per cent, or 1,415,600 kilowatts, with 13 new power sources now being in service."

14TH SOURCE

"By 1954, when Hydro's giant 1,200,000 h.p. generating station No. 2 on the Niagara River comes into operation, we shall have brought in the 14th power source since August 1945."

This program, Mr. Saunders said, was a big factor in maintaining employment at a high level, not only the people engaged in building new power plants, but the thousands of others in Ontario factories where the Hydro materials and equipment for these power developments are manufactured.

"Since the end of the war we have spent a total of $764,294,000 on capital expansion. This money was provided largely through the sale of Hydro bonds guaranteed by the province.

"Since 1945 we have raised $788 million by the sale of Commission bonds, of which $688 million were sold in Canada. To keep pace with the amazing industrial growth we have been forced into steam generation. As you know I announced on October 29 a rate increase for 1953. It is necessary because we estimate that during the present year approximately 24 per cent of the cost of power will be accounted for by steam generation as compared with one per cent back just two years ago.

The steam power is fed into the whole system. It is for the protection of all our peole, and, that increase must be paid for by those who are protected.

"Whether we are able to supply power at a low cost in the years ahead depends very largely on the success of our fight for the St. Lawrence Development. This will bring to our people energy equal to 28 million men working eigth hours a day for 300 days a year.

"An early decision on this development its without doubt of paramount importance from the standpoint of Hydro, the people of Ontario and the people of Canada, at this time. The St. Lawrence is our all-important objective this year.

NEED U. S. BOARD.

"We are hopeful that a U S entity to work with Hydro in building the power development will be named by the Federal Power Commission within the next few weeks, possibly during the first part of February.

Mr. Saunders cited outlook for power supply, without the St. Lawrence, but "unless we build more steam plants:

1957—108,000 kilowatts as a deficiency increasing to 18 per cent deficiency or 883,00 kw. in 1961.

With the St. Lawrence, the Hydro estimates a continuning condition of reserve power.

In 1957— 211,000 kilowatts, reserve, or 5.1 per cent, half the minimum for efficent operation.

In 1959— 467,000 kw. or 10.4 per cent reserve, which is the minimum for efficient operation.

In 1961— 74,000 kw. or 1.5 per cent; 15 per cent of the minimum for efficient operation.

"These anticipated deficiencies and reserves show in a very tangible way the tremendous importance of getting on with the St. Lawrence this year, remembering always that it will take from 4½ years to 5 years before power is available from the St. Lawrence."

EXPORT TO U. S.

Emphasizing the dependence of the U S on certain Ontario industries for materials in the re-armament program. Mr. Saunders listed eight companies in this province whose production, for the most part is exported to the United States.

Those companies have a combined electric power load today of 417,326 kilowatts, or 50.89 per cent of Canada's share of the St. Lawrence installed capactiy.

The expected load of these companies in 1956 is approximately 500,891, which equalls 61 per cent of Canada's share of the St. Lawrence.

"As I said, these compaines are in the Hydro-St. Lawrence grid and the bulk of their production is exported to the U. S."

Mr. Saunders remarked that for the various reasons he submitted the U. S. should take an unselfish view of the St. Lawrence power project in so far as Canada is affected and also a selfish view in respect to their own interests to be served from that power through Ontario industry.

Thanks of Rotary was conveyed to Mr. Saunders by Mr. Bogle.

City Council

panicked when he struck Corbin, can be arrested and convicted, then it is possible Mrs. Corbin could obtain a judgment against him in court.

Strong rumors that a reward would be posted have been circulating for several days now, and crown attorney John A. Bradshaw told the Examiner that citizens "are to be praised for their fine co-operation."

He said that between 60 and 75 tips have been turned into city police. "They have all turned out to be blind alleys. Howeyer, the public is to be thanked and it is hoped that with the offering of a reward, this co-operation will continue. Any information that comes forward will be duly investigated," he promised.

Inspector of Detectives Bud Clarke has joined Mr. Bradshaw in urging anyone who thinks he may know something that may be helpful to contact the city police.

"We don't want them to stop and don't want people to think we are not paying attention to them (the tips) and continuing the investigation," Inspector Clarke emphasized. "As long as we have anything at all to work on, we wil continue," he added.

Urge Application On Power Bid Be Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The counsel for the U. S. power commission says a Trenton, N. J., firm's application to help build the St. Lawrence river power project is haphazardly drawn and suggests that it be denied.

Willard W. Gatchell, the commission's counsel, made the suggestion Monday as hearings on the Trenton company's application were resumed before the commission.

"The time has long gone by when this applicant should have further consideration," Gatchell told the commission.

A witness for the New Jersey firm, the Public Power and Water Corp., was scheduled to testify on the company's financial status Monday, but did not show up.

Public Power's lawyer said the witness, Dudley G. Luce, president of J. G. White Co., New York city underwriting firm, couldn't appear because of pressing business in Detroit.

Competing with the New Jersey firm for a licence to join with Canada in constructing the big project is the power authority of New York state. The power commission already has heard direct testimony on the New York group's proposal.

Gatchell said Luce had admitted he was not qualified to discuss proposed financing of the $300,000,000 project for Public Power because he was not acquainted with the details.

The FPC attorney also quoted Luce as saying he had advised the president of the Trenton firm, Hugo A. Spalinski, that neither he nor his underwriting company had "any interest" in pursuing the matter.

Gatchell said "confusion and inaccuracies" in essential parts of Public Power's application "make it impossible to place any reliance on the economic showing."

Public Power has claimed that, if issued a licence, it could conclude negotiations with Canada within two weeks. Gatchell attacked this contention.

He quoted from the testimony of Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario hydro-electric power commission in which Saunders said he once conferred with Spalinski but that he, "could see no useful purpose to be served in our again seeing one another."

Counsel for the Canadian government, Gatchell said, had stated at the hearing that "any proposal from the Public Power and Water Corporation would be unacceptable" and that the corporation "would be unacceptable as a partner' 'to the government of Canada.

The next hearing in the case is scheduled for Feb. 2.

Former Minister

James' endeared himself to the people as Mr. Craik did during his 15-year pastorate."

Mr. Prest referred to Mr. Craik's work in interviewing bereaved parents during the Second World War when the former minister of St. James worked with the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Murray St. Baptist Church. Mr. Sutcliffe is at present chaplain of the penitentiary at Batavia, N. Y.

He was a wonderful pastor and a great friend of the ordinary man," said the Rev. B. S. Morwood of Mark St. United Church.

"I had very personal respect for him as a man of God, and valued his counsel in the Ministerial Association," said the Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

NONE HIS EQUAL.

William Rose an elder of St. James' Church for a number of years, said that "as a man, I don't think he had an equal in his field of work. He lived what he preached. It hurt when we heard he was gone."

Mr. Craik was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Craik. He came to Canada in 1913, the year of his father's death, and attended Montreal Theological College.

His ordination came in 1914 at St. Mary's Church in Middlesex County, and in 1915 he married the former Myrtle E. Peterkin of Montreal.

After his ordination, Mr. Craik served at Walton, Putman, Gorrie and Goderich. He came to Peterborough in 1936 after serving in Goderich. During his time in the city he was chairman of the missionary and maintenance fund, the settlement committee, and was appointed a delegate to the general council of the United Church.

While he was at St. James' Church, the sunday school and church auditorium were redecorated, and a new pipe organ was installed.

Surviving him are his widow, in Alliston, one son Norman and three grandchildren at Leaside, Toronto. Funeral service will be held in St. John's United Church Alliston, on Thursday at 2.30 p.m. Burial will be Saturday in Mount Royal cemetery, Montreal.

Drugs Doubled

GENEVA (AP) — The United Nations permanent central opium board reported gloomily today that the number of narcotic drugs has almost doubled in the last five years. It called for a tightening of drugs control through the world. The world manufacture of morphine reached a record total of 72 tons in 1951, the board reported.

More Typhoid Cases

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — Twenty-six new cases of typhoid fever were reported in this southwest German radion today, bringing the total to 246. The epidemic has caused two deaths.

Questionnaire For Children Brings Startling Answers

TORONTO (CP)—A questionnaire on Canada, submitted by The Canadian Press recently to a group of school children in England, brought some startling answers.

The same questionnaire—with the word "Canada" substituted for "England"—has been submitted to a group of children of a similar age in a Toronto school. The answers were just as startling.

Thirty - seven students ranging in age from 10 to 12 years were given the following questions:

1. What is England?
2. Where is it?
3. What language is spoken there?
4. What nationality are the people?
5. Name four towns in England.
6. What does England send to Canada?

The majority of students classified England as a country, three called it "our motherland" while four others called it only the motherland. Four called it an island.

VAGUE IDEA

Most of the English children knew that Canada is a country, though one said it was a continent and one said it was "a part of America."

Most of the Canadian pupils were able to locate England with reasonable accuracy. One said logically enough that it was "in England," another in Eastern Europe.

The English children were not sure where Canada is. Sixteen put it as in or near the north of America while five said it was in the United States.

The Canadians were virtually agreed that English is spoken in England, though one thought the language was Canadian and another said the "people spoke with an English accent." The English, however, were less certain. Only three specified English and French as the languages spoken here. Eight called the language Canadian, seven American. Two thought the language was Indian.

VARIETY IN SPELLING

All the Canadian children agreed that the people of England are English or British, and the English pupils knew that Canadians lived in Canada but spelled the term with diversity: Canadon, Canadin, Canadeun, Canian, Candolean.

Only seven Canadians listed four names of English towns, and in only one case were these all correct. London was the most popular choice, with Liverpool second. Sandringham was the third most popular town.

Clothes, China and toys were the English exports most frequently chosen by the Canadians, but among the more surprising exports listed were ballet dancing examiners, men for war, tourists and English calendars. One pupil wrote: "They just sent us Mr. Churchill."

Why Should Old Unable To Work Be Sent To Jail?

Why should an elderly man have to go to jail just because he is past working age and can't draw an old-age pension?

This social problem was discussed briefly Monday night at the January meeting of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CIO-CCL).

Last week a 74-year-old former resident of the Peterborough district was given a two-month term for vagrancy. The man, Albert Hawkins, no fixed address, was found wandering about the city—poorly clothed, hungry, and no place to go.

He was picked up by city police and given his first meal in 24 hours. When he appeared in court Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, QC, explained the circumstances and said Hawkins could not get a pension because he had returned from the United States just 15 months ago.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, realizing the old man was destitute, gave him a two-month sentence. That would see him over the hump of the winter; during that time he would get his clothing, food and lodging provided.

AN INSTITUTION

"Why can't he be looked after by a charitable institution in Peterborough?" asked William Gunn, of Local 293, UPWA. "An aged man shouldn't have to be put in prison because he can't work or help himself."

Mr. Gunn suggested it would be a good idea to send him to one of the old people's homes.

"If they did send him to a home he'd become a public charge on the city of Peterborough," said E. Lorne Bebee, also of Local 293.

"He's a charge now," said Mr. Gunn. "Is this the usual procedure—sending an old man to jail?"

"The Community Fund is opening soon and the working people of Peterborough will be asked to contribute towards it . . . I thought it was the job of some of these institutions to look after the poor and needy."

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—William L. Houck, Liberal member of the Ontario legislature for Niagara Falls, said Monday night he has offered to stand for the Liberals at the next federal election for the new Niagara Falls riding, half of the Welland county riding.

Mr. Houck said it will be up to the convention, the date for which has not yet been fixed. The convention for Welland riding, now represented by Dr. W. H. McMillan of Thorold, Liberal, is scheduled for Friday.

Twins' Survival Still Uncertain

CHICAGO (AP) — The Brodie Siamese twins are nearing the end of their first month as separate individuals, but their chance for survival still is a big medical question mark.

Rodney Dee, the stronger, is responding well after two plastic procedures to build a skin cover over his exposed brain. However, about a quarter of his brain top still is bare and he will remain on the critical list until it is completely covered, and the danger of infection is removed.

Roger Lee has been unconscious since the 15-month-old head-joined twins were separated in a day-long operation Dec. 17. Doctors have expressed amazement that he continues to live.

Doctors found only one membranous brain cover and one main brain drainage vein serving both twins and they gave them to Rodney in the separation operation because he was the stronger.

Roger's entire brain top is unprotected by living tissue, but a plastic cap is serving as a substitute.

Blame Labor Minister For Long Strike

TORONTO (CP) — Labor Minister Daley of Ontario Monday night was charged with "complete irresponsibility" for not bringing the union and company together in the 26-week strike at Durham Furniture Company in Durham.

The charge was made before the Toronto Labor Council (CIO-CCL) by J. M. Bedard, international representative of the International Woodworkers' Union (CIO-CCL).

Labor Minister Barrette of Quebec had called the company and union together in the 10-month strike at Louiseville, said Mr. Bedard. "I think we should expect as much from the Ontario government."

The key issue in the strike is the demand by the workers for a signed contract. Mr. Bedard said the strike was important because it involves the right of workers to have a union wherever they live.

Honesty Costs Hunter $100 Fine In Court

Honesty failed to save Ceylor Gifford of Canton Post Office from a fine of $100 and $2.50 costs imposed by Magistrate W. R. Philp in police court today.

The magistrate ordered Gifford to pay the fine when he pleaded guilty to shooting a moose out of season in Chandos township on November 11.

Gifford claimed he shot the animal when it was more than 100 yards away and did not know it was a moose. He made no effort to get away with it, but informed conservation officer Robert Trotter that he had shot the moose.

The penalty however was the same as if he had deliberately shot the animal, and been charged as a result of investigation by officials of the department of lands and forests.

Community Fund Sets Objective Of $95,000

The 1953 objective is $95,000 for the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund.

This objective was set at the fund's board of directors' meeting Monday afternoon. The increase was decided necessary following a review of the amounts asks for by each of the participating agencies. Also taken into consideration was the addition of a new agency this year—St. John Ambulance.

The dates for the 1953 campaign were also set. The opening campaign dinner will be held March 6 and the actual campaign will take place March 9-18. This is an increase of three days over campaign periods of former years.

Waters, Retail Division— Ford Warren and Woodrow Roberts, Special Names Division— Samuel Whitehouse, Industrial Division— to be appointed. Claire Collins will again be in charge of the Penny-A-Day collection to be held in city schools.

Pleads Innocent In Smuggling

WINDSOR (CP)—An alleged contact man for a ring smuggling aliens into the United States, Paul Elliott, 55, pleaded innocent in Detroit to aiding and abetting the smuggling of aliens.

Elliott, operator of the Windsor Macedonian Club, was arraigned Monday before federal Judge Frank A. Picard.

He was described by immigration examiner Joseph Surek as a contact man whose club quarters were used to arrange for the alien smuggling.

The specific charge, however, was related to the smuggling of an alien into the U.S. on Aug. 19 in the trunk of an automobile driven by a former Canadian customs officer.

He is further charged with being contact man in the smuggling of a second alien by boat on Nov. 5.

Authorities allege he received a fee of $150 in the first case and $100 in the second. He was arrested while crossing to Detroit Dec. 4.

Release Man In Fraud Case

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—A man who faced 14 charges in connection with an alleged home-building fraud here last year was released from custody Wednesday. A court ruling was that it had not been shown he was anything more than an employee of the company.

Ernest Carrie, 37, was arrested after seven people complained they had lost $10,000 in down payments made to a firm called Donlorrie Housing.

Each contract, however, was signed by another man who still is sought by police. The contracts were drawn up in Carrie's home.

Some of the homes were started, but none were completed. Carrie and the other man left town suddenly last spring. Carrie was arrested in Hamilton last November.

Complainants testified they were promised homes on low down payments and long-term mortgages. Later, liens were placed by contractors against the homes that had been started and the owners were forced to pay additional money to retain their properties.

Arrested As Drunk Dies Of Skull Fracture

TORONTO (CP) — Arrested Sunday on a drunk charge, Victor Brennan, 58, died today in hospital of a fractured skull.

Police Inspector Bert Mace said an investigation will be opened immediately into how Brennan suffered the injury.

Other officers said Brennan was arrested by an officer who found him lying on the sidewalk. A desk sergeant, not sure the man was drunk, sent him to hospital for examination. Later he was taken to jail, where he became ill.

Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said an inquest will be held.

Slept On Park Benches Now Heads Make-Up Studio

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Charles Parker of Sydney, N.S., is in the money. At 42, he heads a studio make-up department. He has his own home and an automobile and he's on first-name terms with stars like Gene Kelly, Ingrid Bergman, Robert Taylor, Clark Gable and Joan Fontaine.

It's hard to believe that 20 years ago he was down and out.

Looking at him now, with his quiet, assured manner, you'd scarcely guess that he once slept on park benches and in London flop-houses, taking any old job—soap salesman at a shilling a day, sidewalk artist, poultry dealer's assistant, truck driver, cigarette maker, farm hand, tug boat stoker, lumberjack.

DEPRESSION ERA

Times were tough in Britain in the 1930s. Parker, who went to high school in Guysborough, N.S., was in London on a scholarship. When his money ran out he sent his father a one-word telegram: "Distressed." Parker Sr., whose flourishing lumber business suffered in the depression, wired back that he, too, was distressed.

That led to a string of part-time jobs, culminating in 1937 when Parker went to work "in the attic of a hut" in London's Mitcham district. His job was to transform scruffy old chickens into what the dealers called blood-testing breeding fowl.

Parker soon quit, but the apprentice street markets, buying the most battered birds he could find at the cheapest prices. The young Canadian, a trained artist who kept up his art lessons at the height of the depression, then went to work with olive oil and other emollients, restoring a health glow to beak and comb of the most jaded bird.

Parker soon quti, but the apprenticeship revealed such skill that he applied for a job as make-up man in the film industry, got it and rose swiftly to the top of his new trade. He worked with Sir Alexander Korda's organization, was associated with J. Arthur Rank's production of Sir Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet" and then joined Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

DIRECTS DEPARTMENT

Now he is MGM's £70-a-week make-up director. He has worked on such films as "Under Capricorn," "The Miniver Story," "Quo Vadis," "Ivanhoe" and "The Devil Makes Three."

He's just finished what he considers his most interesting assignment—Gene Kelly's "Invitation to the Dance," a ballet film without dialogue in which a new type of sponge plastic make-up is being used. Parker says he thinks it's in advance of any other technique but is chary about details.

The transplanted Canadian likes his job. It's certainly an improvement on the old days when he slept with other down-and-outs in a crypt at St. Martin-in-the-Fields, waiting for the weekly visit of the "Silver Lady," a society woman who drove up in a carriage and distributed cheese or jam sandwiches, one cigarette and one article of clothing to each unfortunate.

The rags-to-riches Parker now lives comfortably in Elstree with his English wife Muriel and their two children. Some day soon he'd like to go back to Canada, preferably to Vancouver which he has never seen but which has always appealed to him.

"I want my children to have the same sort of happy childhood I had in Nova Scotia," he says.

Canadian Troops To Be Relieved As Units Now

By BILL BOSS

WEST SECTOR, Korea (CP)—Commanders of Canadian units here were told Monday they will be relieved as units and not piecemeal by companies, The Canadian Press learned.

First to be relieved will be the 1st battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, whose responsibilities will be assumed by the RCR's 3rd battalion early in March.

Toward the end of March, the 3rd battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, will relieve the 1st Vandoos. The 2nd battalion of the Highland Regiment is scheduled to relieve the 3rd battalion of the Princess Patricias next November.

Presumably the 1st battery of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery will be relieved in April by the 81st field regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, and A squadron of the Lord Strathcona's Horse will relieve C squadron in May.

The new policy represents the first time since the 2nd battalion of the Princess Patricias arrived in Korea in December, 1950, that the Canadian Army has moved units here in their entirety and not in successive series of companies.

Court Reduces 2-Year Sentence

TORONTO (CP)—A Burwash reformatory prisoner who was chasing a ball in an "honor" baseball game and kept on going into the northern bush was obeying "a natural impulse," the Ontario Appeal Court held Monday.

The appeal court reduced his two-year penitentiary sentence for escaping jail to six months. Gordon Rooke, the prisoner, had been sentenced at Oshawa to two years in reformatory for possession of housebreaking tools.

Magistrate W. J. Golden at Sudbury added the two-year penitentiar term on the escape charge. The criminal code provides that escaping jail sentences must be served after completion of original sentences.

Kenneth Perry, 23, of Guelph, sentenced by Magistrate F. Watt to two years in reformatory for stealing meat and beer from a parked car, had his sentence reduced to six months determinate and six months indeterminate.

Finds Canadians Not Excited

LONDON (CP) — Canadians aren't as hot and bothered about getting to the Coronation as some other nationalities, says a London travel agency director.

Mrs. Rosemarie Graham, back from a two-month world tour "stimulating Coronation travel," rated Australians tops in enthusiasm and Canadians at the bottom.

But Mrs. Graham hastened to add that she doesn't mean Canadians are cool to the Coronation.

"I got the impression that Canadians have so much more variety in holiday travel than, say, the Australians, that the lure of the Coronation is less for them."

Mrs. Graham, pretty 29-year-old mother of two, visited Victoria, Vancouver, Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal. Her 35,000-mile trip also took her to the Far East as well as Australia and the United States.

Americans, she says, think of the Coronation as a "big show" rather than a historical event.

Wales To Have Capitol Can't Agree On Which Town

By JOHN DUDMAN

LONDON (Reuters) — Wales, boasting a history as rugged and romantic as its wild countryside, is going to have a capital to call its own.

Four determined Welshmen, armed with brief cases and masses of documents, Monday asked Britain's home secretary, Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, to decide which town should be given the honor.

Should it be industrial Cardiff in the south? Or quiet Caernarvon in the mountainous North? Or perhaps the select coastal resort of Aberystwyth?

Wales has never had a capital—not even before 128 when King Edward I conquered the little country.

DON'T NEED CAPITAL

Not that there is any real need for a capital. Wales is governed as a regular part of Britain. It elects its own members to Parliament in London and there is no separate government for Wales.

But about three years ago Welshmen decided they should have a capital, even if there was no government to put in it.

Ever since they have been hotly divided over the issue. At first five towns set their sights on the honor. Then two dropped out, leaving Cardiff, Caernarvon and Aberystwyth to fight it out.

The four envoys were the mayors and town clerks of Cardiff and Caernarvon. The mayor of Aberystwyth wired he was sending a deputation.

But there is talk of a "deal," which would enable Cardiff to become capital. Cardiff would get Caernarvon's support in return for boosting Caernarvon's claim to become a royal borough.

Credit Over-Buying Dangerous Bank Head Gives Warning

MONTREAL (CP) — A reasonable use of credit is commendable, but its abuse is dangerous, Charles St. Pierre, president of La Banque Canadienne Nationale (National Canadian Bank) said today.

Addressing the bank's annual meeting, he recalled abolition of credit restrictions last May, and commented:

"As soon as this restraint disappeared, credit and installment buying experienced a rapid expansion which still is going on. . .

"Easy terms offer obvious advantages, but sometimes they induce people to acquire goods for which they are unable to pay and to undertake engagements which, perhaps, they will be unable to keep without upsetting their budgets. It is a good thing to look twice before mortgaging future income."

Mr. St. Pierre said that despite a trend towards lower prices, "several inflationary factors are still at work, notably the growing expenditures on behalf of national defence and social security, and the tremendous investments for development of natural resources, as well as extension of the country's financial equipment."

Last season, said Mr. St. Pierre, was favorable to agriculture as a whole, "but the price curve is turning to the farmers' disadvantage."

"The farmer, whose produce has undergone in a year a price decrease of about 15 per cent, is not paying lower prices for the things he has to buy. Hence there is a gradual curtailment of his purchasing power which very frequently forces him to cut down even his legitimate expenses."

Mr. St. Pierre said the foreign trade picture towards the end of 1952 showed it is "more timely and more urgent than ever to diversify our outlets" and congratulated Trade Minister Howe "for his initiative in sending a commercial delegation to South

Noting revival of competition from countries which had been out of trading markets because of the war, Mr. St. Pierre said:

"Federal legislation protects national industry against unfair competition. . .but the lower price of certain imported articles is not always the result of dumping. . .

"When we find ourselves faced with foreign exporters of good faith whose competition we cannot meet, should we, by means of customs duties, equalize prices?

"Such a protective measure would doubtless raise objections at a time when the United Nations are agreed to lower tariffs as far as possible with a view to fostering resumption of world trade. Moreover, this would only be a short-range solution, seeing that the Canadian manufacturers concerned obviously would have to face these same competitors on foreign markets."

As a result, he added, "revision of cost prices is perhaps one of the most difficult and most urgent questions demanding the attention of all Canadian industrialists. . ."

Mr. St. Pierre said economic activity cannot be kept at a maximum indefinitely and "it would, therefore, be timely, in 1953, to endeavor to put our house in order so as to be in a position to provide for all contingencies."

Northern Saskatchewan Wants To Save Its Historic Sites

SASKATOON (CP)—A movement has started in northern Saskatchewan to save for posterity as many as possible of the historic sites connected with the days of settlement and the Riel rebellion of 1885.

The Historical Society in the area of Duck Lake, Batoche, Fish Creek, St. Louis, St. Laurent and Carlton is backing the campaign.

Historic recognition recently was granted the old rectory at Batoche, where Louis Riel made his headquarters in 1885.

Recognition now is asked for the old St. Laurent church, founded in 1873 by Father Andre, Roman Catholic missionary. A number of Riel's relatives are believed buried in the churchyard.

Recognition also is asked for the Stobbart store, founded in 1874; the guard room where the Indian chieftain Almighty Voice was imprisoned; and the huge buffalo pit where, in the early days, buffalo herds were driven to their deaths over a 150-foot cliff.

1885 TRAIL

The Historical Society wants the historic 1885 trail winding along the South Saskatchewan river to be marked and publicized for visitors and tourists. Even today, Metis homes—dating back to 1885—may be seen along the trail. Some still have thatched roofs and out-door ovens.

The society has been advised to interview district pioneers and record their relics, pictures, letters and documents. A Metis family recently presented Father A. D'Eschambault of Winnipeg, Manitoba representative on the national sites board of Canada, with a revolver used by Riel about the time of the shooting of Thomas Scott, the incident that set off the rebellion. The revolver now is in the St. Boniface, Man., museum.

Oppose Demand For 20% Import Duty

OTTAWA (CP)—The revenue department Monday opposed demands for a 20-per-cent duty on imports of anti-freeze raw materials. The items now come in duty-free.

J. S. Deachman, dominion customs appraiser, asked the tariff board to dismiss the tariff requests made by Dow Chemical of Canada Limited, Sarnia, and Dominion Tar and Chemical Company Ltd., Montreal.

The case, which attracted some 60 representatives from Canadian and American anti-freeze industries, developed out of the revenue department ruling that ethylene glycol, an anti-freeze ingredient, did not have to be absolutely pure to be allowed in duty-free.

Spokesmen for Dow Chemical and Dominion Tar—big producers of anti-freeze ingredients—contended that large quantities of low-priced American glycol blends are being shipped into Canada under that tariff ruling and this was not in line with Parliament's intentions.

The tariff allows free entry of ethylene glycol when imported for manufacture of anti-freezing compounds and explosives. The two companies argued that imports allowed in free contained mixtures of diethylene, triethylene and other glycol blends.

Ask Petition For New Trial

HAMILTON (CP)—A group circulating a petition here asking for a new trial for Harry Lee, convicted of murder, said Monday it felt the trial jury may have been prejudiced because "it seemed like a clear cut case of a colored man going out with a white woman."

J. H. Cheshire, head of the group, said he thought there is a possibility of prejudice on the part of the jury.

"We do feel there is a grave doubt as to this man's guilt," he said. "Many of us have known him for 15 years or more and we know he would not do such a thing. We are asking for a new trial."

Lee, seriously wounded by two rifle bullets, was found in his car near Galt last June with Mrs. Mary Rosenblatt dead beside him.

The attorney-general's department has applied for a two-week stay of execution from Jan. 20 because the hangman cannot be here on that date.

Second Offence Drunk

Hubert Allen, 47, Douro PO, on Monday pleaded guilty to two second offence drunk charges. He was fined $50 on each charge and the alternative was two one-month sentences to run consecutively.

Allen was picked up drunk on Howden Ave. December 8 and before this case was disposed of he was picked up drunk again, this time December 20 on King St. He was previously convicted last February 29 on a first offence.

2 Plead Guilty Stealing Liquor

Two young women pleaded guilty in police court Monday to stealing a bottle of liquor from Henry Wong, another roomer at 390 Queen St.

Margaret O'Reilly, 30, was committed for an indefinite period, but not exceeding two years, to the House of the Good Shepherd.

Her accomplice was Marion Butcher, 16, who also lives at 390 Queen St. She will be sentenced today. The delay was caused by a doubt in Magistrate W. R. Philp's mind as to all the conditions attached to a committal to Mercer Reformatory.

Both women were charged with breaking and entering Wong's bedroom and stealing a bottle of liquor on January 4. Evidence was that there had been considerable talk about drinking and a third party provided the two women with a skeleton key to get into the bedroom.

They first stole a glass of the liquor and finally walked off with the remains of the bottle.

Neither Miss O'Reilly nor Miss Butcher gave any explanation for their act.

Pleads Guilty

OTTAWA (CP)—William Graff, 26, of no fixed address, on Monay was remanded until Jan 19 for sentence when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate Glenn Strike to four recent safe-cracking attempts. Graff was arrested Saturday night after he fled from a warehouse where police fired several shots.

Swiss Aware Of Cold War Potentialities

By MICHAEL KING

GENEVA (Reuters)—The Swiss are keenly aware how easily "the cold war" between East and West could turn "hot" and are carefully assessing the strength of both sides to know best how to defend themselves should war come to Europe for a third time this century.

Typical of this Swiss attitude was a lecture given to an audience from all parts of the country by Col. Karl Brunner, instructor in military science at the Swiss Federal Institute, in which he analyzed the military strength of East and West and warned:

"Each side declares that it is only arming for defensive purposes, but history has shown that increased armaments mean increased danger of war. . ."

"From a military point of view, the main difference between the Eastern and Western powers is that the former—constituting something between a federation of states and a single federal state—form a geographical unit not separated by oceans, which enables them to concentrate and centralize their armaments.

NO DANGER

"The single party system enables production to be accelerated without any danger of disputes with producers or employees."

But, since the countries of the West are neither a political nor a geographical unit and are separate, independent and sovereign states, "the process of integrating them is necessarily slow."

The Swiss position he put this way:

"This country, as it has been for 150 years, is still in a flank position, and even though the boundary still lies to the east of our frontiers, present-day mechanization of foreign armies makes it possible that fighting might develop in our immediate neighborhood."

Switzerland now is taking elaborate measures to reorganize her army, with emphasis on light brigades and anti-aircraft and anti-tank defences.

In 10 years, more than 2,000,000,000 Swiss francs ($466,664,800) have been spent on fortifying the frontiers and natural fortresses in the Alps.

POPULAR CARTOONIST.—Cartoonist Archie Dale of the Winnipeg Free Press has been poking fun at the foibles of mankind—particularly politicians—for more than a half-century. The Scottish-born veteran newspaper man, now 70, started cartooning on the Courier of Dundee in his native city. The cartoon has him at his drawing board with some of the well-known personalities and characters who have been his favorite subjects. They are: top row, left to right: former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett; John Bracken, former premier of Manitoba; the late J. S. Woodsworth, founder of the CCF party; the late William Aberhart, first Social Credit premier of Alberta; former Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Second row, left to right: Lord Haw Haw; Big Business; Old Man Manitoba, and The Little Fellow. Around Archie are two sprites he calls the Doo Dads.

Cartoonist Has Outlasted Almost All His Characters

WINNIPEG (CP) — Cartoonist Archibald Dale is known around the Winnipeg Free Press as "the indestructible man," a title gained by outlasting almost all the characters which have sprung from his acrid pen and drawing board.

Now 70, he gives no indication of ever quitting the Canadian political scene from which most of his themes are taken. For more than 50 years, government officials, their foibles and policies have been the subjects of his lampooning. He signs Arch and is called Archie.

Some older Canadians will remember his work from their childhood, especially Doc Sawbones, Old Man Grouch and other immortals of the Doo Dads who first appeared in the old Grain Growers' Guide.

A WITTY SCOT

Most of his cartoons, conceived in an atmosphere of cigarette smoke and sharp Scottish wit, have centre on Western Canada.

A short thick man with spectacles and green eyeshade, he started his cartooning at 17 on the Courier of Dundee, his birthplace in Scotland. In 1908, after a spell on a Glasgow paper, he left for Canada and a homestead in the Touchwood hills of Saskatchewan.

Hands blistered by the plow handle changed his mind about homesteading. He came to Winnipeg and worked two years on the Grain Growers' Guide, then moved to the Free Press.

TRIP HOME

A windfall from the real estate boom of 1910 provided a trip home where he worked for the Manchester Guardian. At the end of the First World War he left for the United States and put his Doo Dads into a syndicated strip. After five years he returned to Winnipeg and moved his drawing board into the Free Press. He has been there ever since.

Of all the political figures to appear in Archie's cartoons, he liked best to draw the late R. B. Bennett. Another favorite was Mackenzie King.

Agriculture Minister James Gardiner still is one of the most-caricatured figures on the Free Press editorial page. But Archie has never forgiven the person who "did him in", on one Gardiner cartoon.

MECHANICAL MIX-UP

Archie showed Mr. Gardiner in the cartoon standing on his head when all around him was right side up. Through some quirk, the cartoon got in the paper upside down, indicating that Mr. Gardiner was right and everyone else wrong.

Despite an occasional ferocity in his cartoons, Archie is a peaceful man. It always surprises him when someone reacts violently and starts calling him names over the telephone. So far he hasn't been harmed physically but he's had some close calls.

Long experience has given him an effective technique for dealing with callers. As soon as the caller—who usually refuses to leave a name—stops for breath, Archie reminds him at least he had the courage to put his name on his cartoon.

Then he hangs up, rolls a cigaret and goes back to the drawing board.

Socks Keep Vanishing Find Cat Culprit

PRESCOTT (CP)—The mystery of the missing socks has been solved.

For the last four weeks socks of members of a local family disappeared during the night.

When they took down the Christmas tree the socks were discovered—hung on the rear branches.

Every member of the family pleaded innocent.

Then the father got up during a cold night to tend the fires and the mystery was solved.

He met the family cat coming down the stairs with a pair of nylons in its mouth.

Cross-Country Freight

HALIFAX (CP)—A huge refrigerated truck left Halifax Monday to start a 4,200-mile trip to Vancouver and open Canada's first coast-to-coast highway freight service. The truck is carrying enough lobsters to feed 750 veterans in Vancouver's Shaughnessy Military Hospital, compliments of the Toronto trucking firm which is starting the service. The lobsters will take about 7½ days to reach Vancouver.

Absolved In Shooting

DETROIT (CP)—Two police officers were absolved of blame Monday in the fatal shooting Sunday night of a 10-year-old boy whom they pursued after the boy attempted to break into a restaurant. Patrolmen Harry Duby and Robert Emery said they fired several warning shots into the air during the chase. Another bullet struck the boy, James Brown, in the back. He was dead upon arrival at hospital.

Milk Drivers Ask $8 Raise

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Milk Drivers' Union (AFL) submitted a proposal for an $8 increase for its 1,800 members to the Toronto Milk Distributors' Association Monday.

The dairy operators will meet this week to consider the proposals.

J. E. Houck, secretary-manager of the association, said restricted deliveries would be discussed at the meeting. Restricted deliveries were rejected by the union last year because they would mean heavier loads and fewer drivers. At that time the men received a $3 increase and the companies were willing to make it $5 if restricted deliveries were adopted.

The drivers want $8 this year with a $7 to $10 increase for inside workers. The boost would bring the basic wage for drivers to $59 a week plus a commission for volume sales. The existing agreement expires Feb. 28.

Mrs. W. Everett Elected President 6th Time

APSLEY (ENS).—The Ladies' Guild of St. George's Anglican Church held the annual meeting at Mrs. W. Everett's home.

Their outstanding work of the year was purchase of new carpets for the church aisle and the chancel. They had two collections of cast-off woollens to be sent to have blankets made; had cared for and cleaned the church parish hall and kitchen.

The Guild sponsored a Sunday School picnic and gave Sunday School pupils a supper and Christmas tree at Christmas. Two prizes given for perfect attendance in both classes were won by Jackie Nelson, Sharon Younge, Bennie McFadden and Brenda Everett.

The officers for 1953 were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. W. Everett for her sixth consecutive year; vice-president, Mrs. B. R. McIlmoyle; secretary, Mrs. O. Montgomery; treasurer, Mrs. N. Reddick.

Sewing committee, Mrs. B. McIlmoyl, Mrs. C. Cmith, Mrs. M. Reddick.

Following election of officers Mrs. Chesel McColl on behalf of the members presented a pair of towels and wash cloths to Mrs Everett as a token of appreciation of her work as president for the past five years.

The hostess served lunch.

Oil From Coal Plant Built At The Pithead

By A. J. CLASSEN

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters)—On former maize fields 15 miles from Vereeniging, the "Birmingham of South Africa," huge steel and concrete structures break the skyline of what nine months ago was bleak, flat countryside on the banks of the Vaal river.

Hundreds of immigrant artisans from Britain, Denmark, Holland, Germany and other countries are flinging up the structures, pouring concrete at the rate of 4,000 tons a day. Trains bring equipment and materials over a newly-built railway line at the rate of 100 trucks a week.

The men are building South Africa's government-sponsored oil-from-coal plant, which, when completed, will be the biggest of its kind in the world. It will use more than 2,000,000 tons of coal a year and about 8,000,000 gallons of water a day.

Due to come into production in the middle of 1954, it will not only add to the Commonwealth's supply of gasoline and diesel oil, but will also be an important source of raw material for organic chemicals, and in time of war would have a strategic as well as an economic value to South Africa and the rest of the Commonwealth.

IMPORTED EQUIPMENT

By March or April, most of the concrete foundation work will have been completed and the installation of plant and equipment will come into full swing. Most of this equipment is being imported from the United States and Germany, and the plant will have two systems of producing oil from coal, one American and one German.

The plant will produce a gasoline and diesel oil, with a minimum of by-product chemicals, but it has been so designed that with small alterations, the proportion of chemicals can be increased to suit the requirements of the market.

The government holds the controlling interest in the venture.

Coal for the industry will be mined at the site. Six months ago shaft-sinking operations began at Coalbrook, where the plant is being erected, and late in December coal was struck in the first of the vertical shafts. The top coal seam was struck at a depth of 325 feet.

From the pithead, the coal will be carried by a mile-and-a-half long conveyor belt to the oil-from-coal plant.

Ex-Wehrmacht, Luftwaffe Men Form Strong Unions

By HEINZ WEISSENBERGER

FRANKFURT, West Germany (Reuters)—The one-time soldiers of the Wehrmacht, former Luftwaffe aviators and men who served in U-boats and pocket battleships are banding together in ex-servicemen's unions.

The older generation—who remember the disgruntedly former corporal who plunged the country and the world into war—is afraid of history repeating itself

Key men in the new unions are few able generals seeking to weld the many organizations into a coordinated whole.

Their success is striking, for the unions already are a considerable political factor even though they started with none of the popular support enjoyed by their predecessors after the First World War.

Most Germans were bored. They had had enough of war. All they wanted was food, clothing and a roof over their heads.

Today, however, economic recovery and Western Allied encouragement to rearm have revived the old Prussian pride of many ex-servicemen, especially the regulars. They talk nostalgically of the "good times with the army" and of how they fought for six years against "almost the whole world."

IRON CROSS

Among the unions are former members of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa Korps, "Green Devil" parachutists, Waffen S.S. men, "frogmen," pilots, members of the "Legion Condor" of the Spanish civil war, alpine troops, members of Hermann Goering's pet unit "Grossdeutschland," and, the latest and most glittering, bearers of the Knight's Cross of the Iron Cross, most coveted German military award for bravery.

The most powerful of all is the Union of German Soldiers. Its membership is not known. Its leaders are in contact with the government and they influenced its decision to restore to former professional soldiers most of their pensions, abolished by the Allies after the war.

Pleads Innocent To Attempted Murder

HAMILTON (CP)—William Ropcean, 31, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of attempted murder of Sulvia Rymsza, who suffered severe hatchet wounds last November, and to three charges of wounding with inteht.

The wounding counts concern Miss Rymsza, her mother, Mrs. Violet Rymsza, and Fletcher Brown.

J. Edward Okuloski, appearing for Ropcean, asked for a remand for another medical examination of the accused. The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday. Ropcean will be examined by doctors at Woodstock.

Would Rehire Idle Men

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), decided Sunday to ask Ford of Canada to employ some 310 workers now idle rather than ask present employees to work overtime. The overtime schedule is expected to go into effect in th final assembly plant eithe rJan. 19 or Jan. 26.

Ship Building In Clyde Yards Set New Record

GLASGOW (CP)—Despite increasing foreign competition, shipbuilding yards on the Clydeside in 1952 enjoyed the highest production record of new tonnage since the end of the Second World War.

Latest statistics show that all Scottish shipyards during the year launched a total of 107 ships with an aggregate of 523,000 gross tons. This was 16 vessels less than in 1951 but 8,625 more tons. The figures, however, were far below the all-time high of 377 ships and 766,500 tons in 1913.

Tankers accounted for the bulk of the output with the largest being the 32,000-ton British Sailor, built for the British Tanker Company.

Although new orders, estimated at more than 600,000 tons, are less than half the total placed last year, 1953 opened with about 2,000,000 tons of shipping under construction or still to be laid down. The program will keep men on the Clyde employed for at least four years.

5 Tons Of Carpet For Coronation

LONDON (CP)—Some of the world's most impressive carpet will cover the ancient stones of Westminster Abbey at the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth next June.

Altogether 2,250 square yards of carpeting will be needed, weighing nearly five tons. Twelve Scottish girls in the factory of James Templeton and Company of Glasgow will spin the six-ply worsted wool, and five will weave the carpets.

For the "Coronation Theatre," as that section of the abbey where the ceremony takes place is called, the carpets will be of gold. The annex where the processions will assemble—and the nave down to the "theatre" will be carpeted in royal blue with a wide border of dark blue. The total width will be 17 feet.

Transportation Strike Paralyzes Philadelphia City

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—By train, auto and taxi, and in droves of weary-footed pedestrians, Philadelphia straggled to work today in the grip of a city-wide transit strike. It was catch-as-catch-can for travellers in and to the third-largest city in the United States. Tens of thousands were late; thousands more didn't get to work at all. All public transportation in this city of more than 2,000,000 was stalled at midnight. Members of the Transport Workers' Union CIO walked off the job after rejecting a new contract which union officers had recommended they accept. The rejection came at a stormy union meeting only hours after union negotiators and the Philadelphia Transportation Co., a privately-owned firm, had reached the agreement in 11th-hour efforts to avert a walkout.

Buses, trolleys, elevated and subway trains were taken to their terminals and parked for the duration of the walkout. At least two trolleys abandoned on the streets at the midnight deadline had to be picked up by company supervisors.

To meet the extraordinary crush, railroads and taxi companies added to their facilities and motorists got the family car out of the garage to pick up friends and fellow-employees on their way to work.

Industrial firms rushed company trucks into service and the joint committee of the armed forces in

Domestic Market Seen Best Cattle Outlet

HAMILTON (CP) — The domestic market will continue to be the best and more profitable outlet for Canada's cattle and dairy products, A. C. Kirk of Sarnia, president of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario, predicted today.

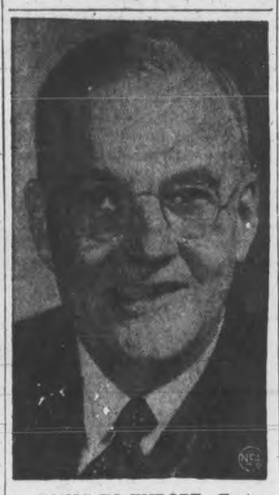
Speaking at the opening of the association's 86th annual convention, he said the export market "does not warrant too much optimism" at present.

"Canada, and Ontario particularly, is becoming highly industrialized and a rapid expansion program is in effect," he said in his address prepared for delivery to the 250 delegates and vistors. "As the population increases, so will the demand for dairy products. Everyone engaged in the industry has a part to play."

BETTER SALES METHODS

Mr. Kirk suggested improving sales methods while keeping prices within the consumer's ability to pay. Every possible effort should be made to acquaint the buying public with the merits of dairy products.

This association, he said, is the oldest dairy association in Canada, if not the oldest on the continent. Since it came into being in 1887, many changes have taken place within the industry. At that time cheese was the only product manufactured commercially. As Canada developed, other products—butter, concentrated milk, powder, ice cream began using a portion of total milk supplies, and fluid milk sales increased as towns and cities grew. Today, some two million people are engaged in producing milk and manufacturing and distributing dairy products, and the industry is one of the largest and most important in Canada.



In the cheese exhibition at the convention, five firsts in the seven classes were won by T. S. Aicken, of Belton, the other two going to David Dean, of Delta. Mr. Aicken also took the highest score in the exhibition; the best finish cheese; the highest aggregate score. In addition, he was awarded the Frank Herns Memorial Trophy for the best record in the 1952 season at all major exhibitions.

'Quake Jolts Resort Residents Terrified

AUCKLAND (AP) — An earthquake today jolted New Zealand's colorful resort region of Lake Rotorua. Some residents were terrified when a hillside appeared to move forward, but damage was confined to broken crockery and glass in lakeside resorts and homes.

Campers along the shores of Lake Rotoiti, one of the smaller lakes in the region, saw a rift of boiling water break the surface over a length of 200 yards. The water frothed and bubbled for an hour after the quake.

A small wave arose and moved across Lake Rotoma nearby. A hill backing on the lake appeared to move forward. Power poles swayed and parked automobiles or widespread damage were reported. The quake appeared to centre in the vicinity of Lake Rotoma.

GOING TO EUROPE—Foster Dulles, U.S. foreign affairs expert, is going to Europe to make a survey of conditions at Eisenhower's instigation.

Seek To Get Flogging Back

LONDON (AP) — A bill to reintroduce flogging of British criminals in an effort to check crimes of violence was made public today.

The bill, introduced in Parliament by 10 Conservatives, calls for the private whipping with a birch rod of men convicted of crimes of physical violence.

Courts would have the power to specify how many lashes each prisoner deserves.

The bill amends the 1948 criminal justice bill, which banned flogging for all except grave offences against prison discipline. The amendment, due for a second reading in the House of Commons Feb. 13, still forbids the use of the cat-o'-nine-tails — a leather-thonged whip.

Gets Thundering Ovation

Premier Tito Elected First Yugoslav President

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Premier Tito was elected Communist Yugoslavia's first president today by Parliament acting under a new constitution. The wartime partisan leader promised in an acceptance speech to step up industralization and improve living standards.

Tito, who has headed the government since the defeat and withdrawal of Nazi forces in 1944, was the only candidate. He will wield about the same powers under his new title as he did formerly.

His election set up a steady chant of "Hero Tito" inside the Parliament building. Approximately 100,000 persons outside took up the chant in a thundering roar, Cannon boomed a 21-gun salute.

Tito's election came as a climax of an uphill struggle which began when he was a teen-age Communist in his native Crotia at a time when Yugoslavia was divided and largely under Austro-Hungarian domination.

He was born Josip Broz of peasant heritage and assumed the name Tito as a guerrilla leader against the German invaders. As prime minister he led his Communist regime along an independent path. He split with the Kremlin in 1948 and Yugoslavia was ousted from the Soviet-led comminform.

Tito, who already heads the Yugoslav Communist party, was named chief of state in accord with the new constitution adopted by Parliament Tuesday night.

A total of 568 lawmakers present endorsed Tito's candidacy in a secret vote. One lone ballot was cast against him.

Tito was given a 10-minute tumultuous ovation when he entered the chamber after the vote was counted. He was sworn in immediately as chief of state.

The members of Parliament had three choices on the single ticket. They could mark yes, no, or record an abstention by dropping an unmarked ballot in the box before the speaker's rostrum.

The election of Tito to the presidency makes little difference in the powers he has wielded since 1944.

In addition to setting up the presidency, the new constitution provides that Parliament's 40-member praesidium, which has had little authority in the past, will take over executive affairs from the cabinet.

Eisenhower Holding Policy Talks

Dulles and Stassen Going To Europe To Study Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower called in the new administration's national defence and foreign policy chiefs today for a global strategy conference on security against the threat of communism.

Asked to attend the session were Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defence-designate; John Foster Dulles, who will be secretary of state; Harold E. Stassen, chosen to head the mutual security agency and Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who will be under-secretary of state and who now is chief of the central intelligence agency.

The conference was arranged after Eisenhower decided Tuesday to send Dulles and Stassen to Europe at the end of this month —within two weeks after Eisenhower takes office next Tuesday— for an on-the-spot survey of problems facing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

SIZE UP REQUIREMENTS

They also will size up future requirements for U. S. economic aid for western Europe, under the program Stassen will head.

The decision that Dulles and Stassen will go to Europe was made shortly before the conclusion of two days of Eisenhower conferences with his full cabinet and other top officials of the new administration.

Today's session with Wilson, Dulles, Stassen and Smith probably will deal to some extent with the forthcoming mission to Europe but it will be concerned primarily with defence and foreign policy problems on a global basis, Eisenhower aides said. They added that the central theme will be the idea of security against communism.

Dulles declined to say which European countries he and Stassen intend to visit, pending arrangements through diplomatic channels.

Asked whether he would look into the "lagging NATO armament program," Dulles replied "this is not a technical mission." But another top official of the new administration said concern about troubles besetting NATO was a main reason for the trip. That official asked not to be named.

Phone Service Nearly Restored

TORONTO (CP) — Three-quarters of the 10,000 telephones put out of service by the weekend ice-storm in the Calledon-Orangeville and the Guelph-Palmerston area have been restored.

The others are expected to be working again by Saturday. Linemen working around the clock in the rural areas have been gradually chipping ice from lines weighted to the ground.

Some communities in the Caledon area 35 miles northwest of Toronto, have one or two long-distance lines back in service.

Rural lines suffered heaviest damage in the storm that swept the district between 25 and 50 miles northwest and west of Toronto. Many citizens in small centres drove miles to reach phone services.

Keep Indictment Strict Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sealed seven-page indictment, believed to involve an alleged violation of espionage laws, remained under seal today while federal agents sought the person or persons named.

The justice department refused to talk about the indictment, returned late yesterday by a federal grand jury. One official did say, however, that the reason it could not be discussed was that it affects national security.

At the request of justice department lawyers, District Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who received the indictment, ordered it sealed pending the arrest of those named.

The grand jury heard about a dozen military officers, whose identities weren't disclosed, before returning the indictment. There were indications that the accused were civilians, since courts - martial would have jurisdiction over military personnel.

Truman Predicts Danger Of Depression

Cautions New Congress Against Any Reduction In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told the United States today it can achieve production of $500,000,000,000 annually within 10 years — if it beats a potentially serious threat of depression after this year.

In his last major message to Congress, the annual economic report, Truman pictured today's "unparalleled prosperity," high employment, and stable prices as being good throughout 1953. But he said that:

"We may face in the future, particularly when defence spending can safely be reduced, more serious tests of our ability to avoid depression than those which have occurred since World War II."

Truman cautioned his successor, President-elect Eisenhower, and the new Republican Congress against reducing foreign military or economic aid "sharply or prematurely." Effect of such action, he said, might be to force the U.S. to abandon its own future domestic gains.

"For if Communism should gain abroad, we would have to become an armed fortress at terrific cost.

"The prerequisite of a free, strong and prosperous America is full participation in the effort to create strength and prosperity throughout the free world."

The President ignored a 2-to-1 split within his council of economic advisers which has disagreed on the outlook for deflation in the next three years when defence spending is due to slacken off.

The clash was disclosed in the council's economic review, sent to Congress along with the White House message. Chairman Leon Keyserling and the newest member, Robert C. Turner, called for a start on private and government measures to prevent possible post-defence unemployment and slack markets from spinning into "a more serious deflationary spiral."

FORESEES NO CHANGE

Vice-chairman John D. Clark dissented. He foresees no changes in business conditions which are "threatening enough to require new counter-deflationary action by the government."

The President did not deliver the 15,000-word message in person, but sent it to Congress to be read by the clerks.

Truman stuck to his policy of making no specific recommendations to the new Congress.

He said within 10 years it is feasible to increase U.S. consumer income by 40 per cent, providing an average income of $2,000 for each man, woman and child.

"Ten years from now, a labor force of 76,000,000 to 80,000,000, working more effectively with better tools but somewhat fewer hours per week, could produce annually about $475,000,000,000 to $500,000,000,000 worth of goods and services—measured in today's prices," Truman said.

"This is about 40 per cent above the present level, and represents an average increase of slightly over three per cent a year."

Truman said national output now is $435,000,000,000 annually.

2 People Killed In Crash At Rail Crossing

SUDBURY (CP) — Two people were killed Tuesday night when their car was struck by a train at the CPR crossing in nearby Coniston.

They have been identified as Leo Raymond and Lauretta Brunet, both of Garson, nine miles northeast of here.

The car apparently was proceeding towards the Coniston smelter when hit by the eastbound Montreal train. Miss Brunet was brought to hospital here but was pronounced dead on arrival. Raymond was killed instantly.

The accident was at the same level crossing where nin persons were killed in a bus-train crash Feb. 9, 1951.

Mary Calendino, an eye-witness, said she saw Raymond's car pass two other vehicles standing at the crossing waiting for the train to pass.

CARRIED 700 FEET

The car was carried some 700 feet down the right-of-way after the collision. Raymond, 20, was flung from the vehicle and landed between the rails. The train passed over him.

Miss Brunet, 17, was pinned in the wreckage of the car. She was still alive when taken from the vehicle but died in hospital at Sudbury.

Police said Raymond's car was in the middle of the tracks when the locomotive struck it.

Britons Soon To Get Extra Sliver Of Meat

LONDON (Reuters) — Britons will get an extra sliver of meat on their weekly rations starting Jan. 25, but their bacon will be cut to a quarter of a pound a person a week.

The news came from the food ministry Tuesday night along with figures indicating that if estimates pan out 1953 will be Britain's best meat year since the Second World War.

The meat ration will be raised from 1s 8d worth a week to 1s 9d. Bacon goes down from five ounces to four.

The price-based ration amounts to a medium-sized steak, about three lamb chops or—for a family of four—a small pot roast once a week.

Destroy 8 MiGs In Savage Battle

SEOUL (AP)—The United States 5th air force said U.S. Sabre jets destroyed at least eight Communist MiG fighters today in a series of savage air battles over North Korea. The air force also said eight Red war planes were damaged. The air battles came after U.S. B-29 Superforts and fighter-bombers smashed home two more trip-hammer blows against the key Communist transport centre at Sinanju. The one-two assault marked the sixth straight day of a relentless drive to knock out a main Red supply route from Manchuria to the frozen front.

The sustained air blows apparently stung the Red fighters into action after six days of relative quiet in MiG alley, deep in northwest Korea.

HIGHEST SINCE SEPTEMBER

The day's toll of MiGs is the highest reported since Sept. 4 when 13 were destroyed and four were damaged.

B-29s plastered the Sinanju area with 110 tons of bombs this morning. Almost before the smoke and debris settled, 150 fighter-bombers made another pulverizing attack.

The fighter - bombers swooped in at low level and virtually laid their bombs on railroad bridges across the Chongchon and Taeryong rivers. Pilots reported gaping holes were blasted in the bridges.

On the ground, patrol actions flared all across the war-torn peninsula. No major engagements were reported.

The smashing air blows against the Sinanju area are designed to check Red attempts to build up their front-line ammunition and weapon supplies. Full extent of the damage to the vital bridge network can't be assessed, the U. S. 5th air force said, until "sufficient reconnaissance of the area has been made."

Today's raids were the eighth and ninth since the aerial assault on Sinanju got under way Friday night.

Huge Stove Explodes

LANCASTER, PA. (AP) — A six-storey-tall stove used to cure linoleum exploded today at the Armstrong Cork Company burying one man under tons of brick, steel and concrete. The blast caused an estimated $500,000 damage.

Cocker Spaniel Has Only One Show Trick He Can Open Jail Doors For His Master

LIMA, O. —(AP)— Ruff, a black cocker spaniel with soulful eyes, floppy ears and abiding love for his master, can't talk, find lost boys or walk on his hind legs. But he can open jail doors.

He turned that trick for Walter H. King, 35, his beloved owner. Besides which, he collected $21, some food, some clothing and disturbed the rest of a judge.

King, fined $9 Monday for stealing a ride on a freight train, had only 80 cents. So he went to pail. This made Ruff sad. Ruff wouldn't eat. Police took him to a Lima amimal shelter, where a newspaper photographer toook his picture.

Ruff gave his all to the camera, looking so sad and so cute Lima pet lovers bombarded Municipal Judge J. Rockey with telephone calls Monday night.

Judge Rockey, unable to sleep, released King Tuesday with a blessings, $21, clothing and food for Ruff, who gets to ride to Muncie, Ind., in a nice clean baggage car. King will be sitting on cushions in the coach.

Numbers Racket Said Smashed

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — A series of simultaneous police raids Tuesday afternoon are believed to have broken up a half-million dollar numbers racket in the city.

Under the direction of Sergeant Gilbert Ouellette, plain clothes squads from the special investigation branch entered five city homes at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Four men were arrested and summons are to be issued for at least six more persons living at three of the homes.

Seized during the raids were books of betting slips, detached betting slips, dream books and money in a quantity to suggest these were the headquaters for a city-wide operation.

Arraigned before Magistrate J.A. Hanrahan this morning on charges of keeping betting houses were Wilfred Harris and Mason Jasper, the latter alleged by police to be the "kingpin" of the operation.

Top-Scoring Forward Has Broken Wrist

GUELPH (CP) — —Ron Murphy, top-scoring forward of Guelph Biltmores junior A hockey team, may be lost to the team for the rest of the season as the result of an injury suffered in Tuesday night's game in Montreal against the Canadiens.

Murphy, whose right wrist was broken, returned to Guelph with the team today. The loss of Murphy will be a blow to the Bilts. They are already without the services of Bill McCreary, who entered hospital a few days ago to undergo an appendectomy.

Stormy Session As MPs Demand Thorough Inquiry

OTTAWA (CP)—A revival of Parliament's fight over the Currie report was climaxed Tuesday night with a charge that the government has improperly threatened M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader. Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) threw that accusation at Defence Minister Claxton in objecting to government efforts to get from Mr. Coldwell, while he was in hospital, the name of the person who gave the CCF leader an advance copy of the report.

He said a letter from Mr. Claxton to Mr. Coldwell contained a "veiled threat" that unless Mr. Coldwell gave the information, the RCMP would be put to work to dig it out.

His charge came after Mr. Claxton disclosed that the RCMP since have been directed to seek that information and that George S. Currie, the Montreal accountant who signed the report, had said he wanted such an inquiry.

For the first time since the Christmas recess, the Commons warred over the report through most of the day on a government motion to refer it to the defence-expenditures committee. Both the Progressive Conservatives and CCF sought to open the way for a far wider investigation of the defence department as a whole.

ONLY ONE SIDE

The Currie report was related only to the army works services. In that branch, it described a general breakdown of control and a serious lack of security.

An amendment by the Progressive Conservatives seeking a wider inquiry was declared out of order by the Speaker, Ross Macdonald. The CCF amendment was not formally introduced, but Mr. Knowles read it and said he will move it Thursday when the debate resumes.

The day also brought the government's main rebuttal in an hour-long speech in which Mr. Claxton said there will be no scapegoats; that he accepts responsibility for the situation, and that it is being rectified as fast as possible. Shortages of skilled personnel, however, were largely responsible both for the situation found by the Currie firm and for slowness in correcting it.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC—Nanaimo) came back for the official opposition with a charge that the government is trying to

Churchill Trip Said Important

TOWER ISLE, Jamaica (AP)—There is increasing talk here that Prime Minister Churchill's long journey to the Western hemisphere may concern some development of vast importance in London and Washington relations.

The fact Churchill absented himself from London at a time a new and not unexpected crisis arose in Anglo-Egyptian relations served only to stimulate talk that some unusual urgency brought him to the new world, particularly to New York to see President-elect Eisenhower. Churchill himself ridiculed such an idea in New York. There is no denying, however, that he showed unusual haste in rushing to see Eisenhower, even before the general got into the White House.

Put bluntly, the thought pretty general here is that Churchill came to get United States help. What kind of help is wanted or how much it would cost is not clear. He hinted at one type of assistance —fewer restrictions on U. S. imports of British goods to help Britain regain her economic strength.

Seven Victims As Fire Sweeps Nursing Home

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — Two elderly women, a man and four children were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed an isolated 14-room nursing home near here.

The victims were Mrs. Nettie Clark, 80, who died minutes after she was rescued; Mrs. Maude Stroupe, 75; Merle Nourse, 70, and the following nieces and nephews of Mrs. J. A. McCoy, operator of the home:

James Durlin, 12; his brothers, Thomas, 10, and Joseph, 14; and a sister, Jo-Ann, 16.

The four children, Mrs. Stroupe and Nourse were cremated by the flames. The children were the sons and daughter of Guy Durlin, of Bear Lake, who killed his wife and himself in September, 1951.

Patricia Durlin, 15, a sister of the young victims, climbed down a fire escape to safety.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started on the first floor where two coal stoves were used to heat the 14-room building.

Boy 14, Sent To Pen 3 Years

MONTREAL (CP) — A 14-year-old boy was sentenced Tuesday to three years in penitentiary after pleading guilty to six charges of robbery.

Police said the boy had already faced criminal charges in court and had involved his nine-year-old brother in carrying out a series of purse-snatchings from Montreal women doing Christmas shopping.

Police said it had taken several weeks to discover the thief. They had been watching for adult pickpockets.

Judge Gerald Almond, in sentencing the boy, said it was apparent he was beyond help of the social welfare court and it would do no good to send him to reformatory.

He warned the boy he was giving him "one last chance" by sending him to penitentiary where there was a school of rehabilitation.

London Critics Praise Bowmanville Pianist

LONDON (CP) — Canadian pianist Ray Dudley was described today as a lively and intelligent musician "with a robust general technique and a good sense of style."

The appraisal came from the Daily Telegraph, whose critic particularly liked Dudley's playing of a Haydn sonata. The critic also praised Dudley's rendition of some studies by Liszt and four improvisatory excursions by Samuel Barber, but said the Canadian lacked the necessary command of tone and rhythmic ease for Schubert's "Wanderer Fantasy."

The recital was given Tuesday night at Wigmore Hall. Dudley, a native of Bowmanville, Ont., entered the Royal Conservatory of Music at Toronto at 15 and recently won the Eaton Award, Canada's highest musical prize.

Doctors More Encouraged

Twin Has Good Chance Of Being Normal Child

CHICAGO (AP) — The Brodie twins remained on the critical list today, but barring complications, doctors give Rodney a "good chance of becoming a normal kid."

Roger, the weaker twin, suffered brain damage from blood confusion, and doctors say the chances are "mighty remote" that he will recover.

A member of the surgical team that separated the head-joined twins four weeks ago gave a detailed report on their condition at a press conference Tuesday.

He said that if Roger should regain consciousness, the chances that he would be normal mentally "seem remote but we don't know." He said Roger could "die in 15 minutes" or live in a coma for years.

The doctor said both 15-month-old twins have suffered numerous infections of the brain and skin since their separation, and that antibiotics have been used to keep them alive.

They have suffered from intermittent fever and pulse irregularities.

Doctors found only one membranous brain cover and main blood-drainage vein serving both twins. They gave them to Rodney because he was considered more likely to survive.

Farmers Union Not OFA Rival, Don't Like Charge

TORONTO. — The Canadian Farmers' Union is still smarting from remarks of Ontario Federation of Agriculture officials at last week's meeting here.

But President P. E. Crawford, of Midland, said Tuesday night he hoped his farm group would not have to come out as a rival to the CFU to represent agriculture.

"We feel" said M
"that the federation has done a lot for the farmers socially, but it has neglected the economic side. Economically, we feel, the federation is not militant enough."

Mr. Crawford and the 14 directors of the organization, which started in 1947, were displeased by remarks of V. S. Milburn, secretary-manager of the federation, who termed the CFU "left wing."

"Terms like 'left wing' and 'radical' are swung around a bit too easily," he said. "We certainly don't want to be called that. Our program calls for building up Canada for Canadians; for action that will be satisfactory to business, to labor and to the farmer, because all are necessary."

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES

The CFU also favored supporting independent candidates in elections, he said, so farmers and labor would have representation in parliament. He insisted that the Farmers' Union did not plan to back any party or form a new one, but rather to support candidates unhampered by party affiliation, who would be a voice for farmers and labor.

In the western provinces, there are also farmers' unions, but there is no definite link between them and the group here, Mr. Crawford said. However, the groups have exchanged correspondence.

"We don't care about the name," said Mr. Crawford. "If the federation can do the job for the farmer, that's fine. We feel that if our program had the organization and membership behind it that the federation has, perhaps the government would listen to us."

As in the case of the western group, Mr. Crawford said his organization was made up of grassroots or back concession farmers.

He favored support prices to a degree, when prices of agricultural produce dropped to certain levels, and felt some of the $200,000,000 set aside by the federal government to stabilize farm prices should be used from time to time.

"Farmers must be taken care of or our whole national economy will suffer," he said. "You can see evidence of that today. Farm prices are going down, while prices of farm machinery are going up. This, of course, causes unemployment when the farmers are unable to buy machinery."

Government buying of raw materials had brought about scarcities, he said, with resultant high prices and demands for increases by labor.

Take New Step In Map-Making

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada is taking her first step in the science of photographic map-making, a Canadian expert today told a society of United States mappers.

T. J. Blachut, head of the national research council's photogrammetry research section, in an address prepared for the American Society of Photogrammetry here appealed for closer co-operation between Canadian and United States map-makers.

Canada, he said, has a research laboratory and facilities capable of investigating any photographic map-making problem. Tests of instruments and methods, begun last year in the area between Montreal and Ottawa, were continuing.

He also reported on the use of radar in map making. New radar pictures have been taken over the test area in hopes of reducing the errors of this method by using it in conjunction with other methods.

"I believe that the radar profile method can be very useful in photogrammetry and already it offers a quick and convenient, and in some cases the only, solution to many mapping problems."

Lakefield Youth Jailed One Year

Ernest Graham, 18, of Lakefield, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and was sentenced to one year definite and four months indeterminate in reformatory by Magistrate W. R. Philp today.

Graham was charged with breaking into Wannamaker's shoe store in Lakefield the night of January 2 and stealing several pairs of shoes and rubber boots.

A tip-off to city police when an attempt was made to sell some of the loot a week ago Tuesday resulted in the arrest of Graham on a vagrancy charge.

One of three men who were in the car in which the man was apprehended who tried to sell the footwear was also arrested and charged with vagrancy.

He was held until today, when the charge was dismissed. Investigation of the break-in and the following-up of information obtained after the arrest of Manley and Graham has resulted in recovery of the stolen articles.

Graham has a record of previous convictions for theft and breaking and entering.

In 1950, he was sentenced to three concurrent sentences of three months each on three charges of shopbreaking. Last September he was convicted of theft and served a month in county jail. A month later, he was placed on suspended sentence for two years when he was convicted of another theft charge.

10-Year-Old Holstein Sets Butterfat Record

DUVALL, Wash. (AP)—Carnation Homestead Daisy Madcap, 10-year-old Holstein-Friesian cow, set a world's annual butterfat record Tuesday, bettering the average cow's yearly output nearly seven times.

The cow was milked three times daily.

The cow gave 36,414.1 pounds of milk containing 1,511.8 pounds of butterfat during the year. Russell L. Pfiefer, general manager of the Carnation Milk farms, announced. The annual U.S. average for all cows is about 5,000 pounds, with about 220 pounds of butterfat.

Daisy Madcap also had held the previous record of 1,413.5 pounds, but bettered that figure last month.

CBC Drama Supervisor Rupert Lucas Dies

He left Canadian radio in 1943 and was for a time editor-in-chief of the March of Time series of films on current events. During the last few years he has been doing special productions with the CBC.

Hastings Boys Drop Game To Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Campbellford's TVL pucksters continued their winning streak by defeating Hastings in the community arena here on Tuesday evening, before a large crowd.

The local lads have yet to be beaten in the league, and tonight meet Havelock on Campbellford ice.

The game Tuesday night was not as fast as most previous games, due to the condition of the ice, which was soft. During the third period, passes were difficult as the ice was wet and the puck would not slide.

The teams were fairly evenly matched, with Campbellford scoring four goals in the first period, and the visitors netting three.

Each team netted one counter in the second period, with Campbellford finishing up with two goals in the last frame. A few penalties were handed out, but these were all minors.

The following is the summary:

MORE ABOUT—
Stormy Session

"belittle and ridicule" the Currie report. He said the blame for the situation described in the report lies on the government's doorstep since it had slashed the armed forces to far-too-small a size after the war.

GIVE PRIORITY

The two opposition amendments came during a storm provoked by an unusual government move. The debate was based on a government motion for establishment of the defence expenditures committee. At the end of his speech, Mr. Claxton moved that the motion be amended to instruct the committee to give priority to the Currie report.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, objected that this was a move to block the opposition's traditional right to move amendments. Mr. Knowles also objected that the government was getting away with something the opposition had been denied for years.

Mr. Knowles said either the amendment extended the powers of the committee or it was unnecessary. In either case, it should be ruled out.

Prime Minister St. Laurent argued that the House has the right to tell a committee what to consider first.

ALLOWED TO STAND

The Speaker allowed the amendment to stand. The Progressive Conservative sub-amendment he later threw out would have eliminated the Claxton amendment and asked that Mr. Currie be reappointed to make a far wider inquiry into the defence program.

The CCF amendment read by Mr. Knowles also urges consideration of the appointment of Mr. Currie to make a far wider probe into expenditures covered by the original resolution, that is all defence spending since 1950.

Mr. Knowles' accusation that threats were amde against Mr. Coldwell was based on a letter Mr. Claxton sent the CCF leader Jan. 8 in which he quoted Mr. Currie as saying he would welcome further investigation of how the CCF got hold of a draft copy of the report.

Mr. Claxton added: "The RCMP are being instructed accordingly. Before, however, they start, it would be of assistance if you could make available to me any information that you may have bearing on this."

Mr. Coldwell previously had declined to tell how he got the copy and in replying to Mr. Claxton again declined to do so, arguing that "for me to divulge this information now would have the effect of deterring members of parliament in the future from bringing to the attention of the House matters in the public interest because they were not in a position to disclose the source of their information."

OUT OF ORDER?

Mr. Knowles retorted:

"I thought threats by one member of Parliament to another were out of order."

Yet here was a "veiled threat" to use the Mounties unless Mr. Coldwell told what he knew.

He contrasted this situation with one which broke in the British Commons in 1938 when a member came into possession of information which made him liable to a charge under the Official Secrets Act.

One leading British parliamentarian after another — including Winston Churchill and Clement Attlee—in a major debate had agreed that the member could be charged but that he should not be because this would strike at the independence of Parliament and the principles of democracy.

In the CCF case, it was not a government document his party had obtained. There could be no charge under the secrets act. It was a copy which belonged to Mr. Currie.

"The government," said Mr. Knowles, "has no right to question Mr. Coldwell as to how he got it."

In Britain, he added, Parliament is concerned to protect its rights. In Canada, there are threats to use the police.

RENEWS CRITICISM

Mr. Knowles renewed criticisms of Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, and said his conduct raises the question of whether the armed forces or the government are running the country.

He said Gen. Simonds has improperly asked that a memo of his objecting to the Currie report be tabled in the House; has instructed his army not to discuss the report, and then issued a message to the army in effect striking back at parliamentary critics.

Such "arrogant and domineering" conduct was not in keeping with democratic practices.

Mr. Claxton, in his speech on the Currie report findings, said wrongdoing must be expected in the armed forces but that it is no more widespread, comparatively, than in any large civilian undertaking.

The loss at Camp Petawawa through thefts and fraud amounted to $50,000 and most of the things stolen had been recovered. Mr. Currie had not uncovered those irregularities and he had not been able to find others in a coast-to-coast study.

The army works services had had troubles for two main reasons. They had had to expand tremendously after Korea and they had been unable to get the skilled manpower needed for expansion.

BEING IMPLEMENTED

Most of Mr. Currie's recommendation had been or are being implemented. He himself had approved the accounting system devised for the works branch. The only reason it didn't work was because there weren't the people to work it. Even laborers had had to be used to do accounting jobs.

Mr. Claxton disclosed that it was he who proposed that a draft copy of the Currie report be submitted to the defence department to be checked for the accuracy of its facts, a check which led to some changes. He said Mr. Currie had agreed to this after initial disinclination to do so.

Mr. Claxton defended his action on the grounds that "I wanted the truth" about a "bad situation."

"I wanted the kind of report nobody would question. I did not want errors in fact. . .which would discredit the report and make it more difficult to implement recommendations."

FEW IN NUMBER

Gen. Pearkes said the government cut the armed forces to skeleton proportions after the war and laid the foundation for what happened in the works services.

"It is no disgrace to men in the works services that they were few in number."

He said his party welcomes reestablishment of the defence committee to study defence spending generally, but argued that there remains a need for a wider study by Mr. Currie "into all aspects of the organization, accounting and administration" in the defence department.

Both Gen. Pearkes and Mr. Knowles said the defence committee could do little but whitewash the government when the big majority of members were Liberals.

Strike Paralyzes Trains In Italy For 24 Hours

ROME (Reuters)—Italy's Communist-led railroad union's brought the national rail system to a virtual standstill Tuesday with a 24-hour strike to demonstrate Red strength before the spring federal elections.

The state rail administration admitted Tuesday: "The strike has practically paralyzed the system."

The unions called out the men for 24 hours, ending at midnight Tuesday, after the breakdown of wage negotiations. Non-Communist unions, though they supported the wage claims, refused to support the strike which they claimed was "political."

Only about 600 train services ran Tuesday compared with the normal day's timetable of more than 6,000. Many of the trains that did move left hours behind time and were manned by makeshift crews of army engineers and non-strikers. Armed police and military guards travelled on the trains but no incidents were reported.

ORGANIZE FLEET

The government, which has described the railmen's demands as unreasonable, organized a fleet of about 1,000 buses to help move travellers.

The Communist-backed unions Tuesday seemed to have shown that though they no longer have the vice-like grip on organized labor they had in the immediate postwar years, their hold on the 200,000 railmen is strong enough to be an effective means of putting pressure on the government.

The Communist Party is the second largest single party in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, holding 129 of the 753 seats.

In another pre-election move in South Italy, Communists staged widespread demonstrations against current government proposals to alter the election law.

the Philadelphia area brought every available bus and truck into play to meet the emergency.

WALKOUT SURPRISE

The walkout came as a surprise to some. They went to bed under the impression an agreement reached by union and company negotiators would stand up

The agreement was announced jointly earlier in the day by Michael J. Quill, international president of the Transport Workers Union (CIO), and Albert M. Greenfield, principal company negotiator, after a day-long session in the city hall office of Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr.

The proposed pact called for three pay increases, totalling 21 cents an hour, spread over the next 18 months, coupled with a gradual reduction in the work week from the present 48 hours to 40. PTC employees now average $1.67 an hour. The union had been seeking 48 hours pay for a 40-hour work week to become effective at once.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

After that meeting, Quill left for New York, where he is directing a two-week-long walkout of operators on nine private bus and trolley lines.

Terms of the agreement were submitted Tuesday night to the rank and file members of the TWU's local 234. In a stormy mass meeting the PTC workers voted on a standing count to reject the agreement and strike at midnight.

That hour was chosen because it marked the termination of a no-strike injunction issued on PTC petition by Judge Joseph L. Kun of common pleas court 30 days ago when the old contract expired.

Seasonal Unemployment Found Up During December

OTTAWA (CP) — Seasonal unemployment crept up slowly in early December, a government survey showed today.

The monthly employment review of the labor department and the Dominion bureau of statistics said 132,000 persons were out of work and looking for jobs in the week ended Dec. 13. This compared with 114,000 for the week ended Nov. 22.

The figures, based on a "sampling" of the labor force by the bureau of statistics, showed 5,017,000 at work full or part time during the week under study, compared with 5,047,000 in the earlier week.

Since this type of survey started only last fall, no comparable figures were available for a year earlier. However, statistics on job applicants registered with national employment service in early December were virtually unchanged from December, 1951.

At last Dec. 11, there were 237,193 applications on file with NES, compared with 237,131 a year earlier. The total at last Nov. 20 was 179,355. The NES applications do not reflect unemployment accurately, since many applicants are just trying to change jobs.

The employment report said that during the period under review winter layoffs continued in the construction and transportation industries, partly offset by Christmas hirings in business and services.

Logging employment in Eastern Canada was declining, but jobs in consumer durable goods manufacturing and in defence industries—particularly aircraft, shipbuilding and electronics—were picking up.

Veterinaries Urged To Be On Guard

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Orlan Hall, assistant veterinary director-general, appealed to Ontario's 600 animal doctors today to guard against the possible introduction of serious virus diseases in the province.

The president of the Ontario Veterinary Association emphasized that Ontario's livestock industry is big business, with the value of cattle and other animals amounting to more than $500,000,000 last year.

WANT BEST SERVICE

"The people of this province have a right to expect the best in veterinary services to protect them from consuming meat and milk from diseased animals which are likely to harm them," he said in his presidential address prepared for delivery at the opening of the association's three-day annual convention.

He aimed his "on-guard" appeal especially at the private practitioner, who in most instances is the first to be consulted when an outbreak occurs.

The Ontario livestock owner had a right to expect the best in veterinary service, because he had contributed along with others through taxation to maintain the only English-speaking veterinary college in Canada.

Police Charge Woman Concealed Childbirth

A charge of concealing the birth of a child has been laid against 25-year-old Ruby Phillips of Albert St., Hastings.

Miss Phillips, already the mother of two children, is at present under her doctor's care.

The body of a dead male baby was found last Friday at her home in the village. She did not register her baby's birth.

Crown Attorney Harry Deyman of Cobourg said today that the charge had been laid but her appearance in court is being postponed until she is in fit health.

OPP Constable Lyle Erskine of Cobourg is investigating.

Russian Doctors Employees Of Government

MOSCOW (AP) — The arrest of nine doctors on charges of wrongfully treating the ailments of Soviet leaders calls attention to the position of medicine in Russia.

Seven of those arrested are identified as professors. A professor of medicine is highly esteemed, receiving an excellent salary, living in a good apartment and usually having servants and a private automobile with chauffeur.

No doctor here has only a private practice. All receive an income from the state. They begin receiving pay when they start studying medicine. Once they become doctors, they join the staffs of hospitals, clinics or institutions — or to go to special projects.

HAVE PRIVATE PATIENTS

After a professor of medicine puts in the required hours for the state, he can receive private patients. Many do. The doctors' hours are limited to six a day, with one day off in every five. Thus most find time away from their state jobs to carry on a private practice.

No figures are available, but a guess is that about one-half the doctors are women. The doctors work indirectly under the ministry of public health.

It would be a mistake to say that a majority of the doctors, or anything like a majority, are Jews. The official announcement on the arrest of the nine accused doctors said most of them had Jewish ties.

The Moscow press, which prominently played the arrests Tuesday and editorially called for death to the accused, was silent today regarding the case.

According to police, Tuesday's accident occurred when a motorman became ill at the controls of his tram and was unable to halt it before it crashed into the rear of another, halted at an MTC stop. Only one of the injured was kept in hospital after treatment.

Cobourg Mayor Lists Town's Plans For 1953

COBOURG —(ENS) —Listing council's plans for the coming year, Mayor Jack Burnet at last night's inaugural meeting declared that first and foremost would be the objective of holding the tax line if at all possible.

Business and problems now evident for 1953 were as follows, said the mayor:

Civic celebration to commemorate the Coronation; the world plowing match to be held here in the fall; securing of land for schools in west and north ends of the town as township pupils helping to overtax the capacity of present schools; extension of semi- permanent hard-top surfacing of streets; provision for unloading space for the large tonnage coming in by water for the new ordnance depot; consideration of the completion of the west end sewage disposal system in accordance with earlier plan; repairs to town hall; formulate policy for extension of municipal services to new housing developments; rental housing scheme to be considered; complete repairs to market building; consider separation of assessment and taxation departments.

The following standing committees were struck for the coming year:

Rolph, chaffman; John Erskine, Otto Curtis; fire, water and light, Johnston, chairman; Mrs. Richards, Richardson; market and license, Caine, chairman; Mrs. Richards and McKinnon; bylaws, Richardson, Rolph and McKinnon; health and sanitation, McKinnon, Rolph and Johnston; finance and harbour, Curtis, Richardson and Erskine; court of revision, McKinnon, Mrs. Richards, Caine, Rolph and Johnston.

Alnwick Council Names Officers

ROSENEATH (ENS). — Inaugural meeting of Alnwick township council was held in the township hall on Monday. Reeve James Thompson was in the chair with Silas Sherwin as clerk. The members of the council are: Earl Braithwaite, Edwin McCleary, Harold Taylor and Hector Winkworth.

The Rev. J. R. Wheeler, pastor of Roseneath United Church, delivered the inaugural address. In part, he compared the members of the council to fathers of families, where troubles were minimized by the fact that they were doing their share in making life better for others.

Reeve Thompson, in a brief address, asked the council members for their co-operation for the coming year and gave a special welcome to Hector Winkworth, a newcomer to the municipal field.

The following officers were appointed:

Mr. Silas Sherwin was re-appointed clerk-treasurer. Mr. Sherwin is beginning his 24th year in council work. He served two years as councillor and 21 as clerk. Last year he also assumed the duties of treasurer. In the 23 years he only missed one council meeting, while on a trip to western Canada.

Other officers are: tax collector, Douglas L. Coyle; assessor, William J. Robins; caretaker of hall, Robert Nichol; caretaker of street lights, Isaac Herrington; school attendance officer, Alvin Rosebush; constable, Fred Norris; road superintendent, Fred Murphy; stock valuator, A. J. Campbell.

Members of the council and the clerk were guests of Reeve Thompson at dinner at Maple Lodge, the tourist home of Mrs. Leslie Sherwin.

Ask Conciliation In Wage Dispute

COBOURG —(ENS)—Union rejection of the town council's wage offer in the negotiation for a new contract between the employees and the corporation, has resulted in the decision to refer the matter to the conciliation board of the Dept. of Labor. A letter from the union, read at Monday night's council meeting, advised the council that the wage dispute was being referred to the labor dept. board.

The union had asked an across-the-board increase of 18 cents an hour which would boost general utility workers to $1.25 an hour and street cleaners to $1.21. The council offered five cents an hour. Mayor Jack Burnet told the council that replies to 15 letters sent to municipalities about the same size as Cobourg had revealed that except in two cases, and these two were in busy car construction areas, the town of Cobourg paid considerably higher wages to its employees.

A request for a street sign permit from a company located in a business section corner building was delayed while the town engineer investigated whether the sign might be distracting due to its proximity to the traffic lights.

A letter from the volunteer firemen asked a raise of $45 per year in order to bring the annual pay up to $255. Last year the firemen asked for $100 increase but got only $55. The addition of $45 would bring the amount up to the original figure asked for. The request was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The mayor pointed out that one of the items on the programme in connection with the World's Plowing match to be held here in the fall, was a complimentary banquet for about 1,000 people. Two hundred would be buying tickets the rest would be complimentary. The mayor said that it had been suggested to divide the cost among the municipalities of Cobourg, Port Hope and Northumberland and Durham Counties Council.

A by-law was passed authorizing the borrowing of up to $150,000 pending the collection of taxes.

Council was addressed by a representative of the local insurance companies who outlined a liability policy for the town which would be much broader in coverage than the current one.

Say Zhdanov Died Of Cancer

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (Reuters) —A Swedish newspaper said today that Andrei Zhdanov, Soviet leader whose death in 1948 is being blamed by the Communists on "medical murder," actually died of incurable cancer.

The newspaper Aftonbladet said that was the diagnosis of Prof. Elis Berven, Stockholm specialist who went secretly to Moscow in 1948 to treat Zhdanov.

"The case wos hopeless," Aftonbladet said, "and Professor Berven is reported to have been much surprised at being called to a patient whom no doctor in the world could save.

"The prominent Russian doctors who had treated Zhdanov the whole time could never have been in doubt about the nature and gravity of the case.

"Before Prof. Berven left Moscow the Russian authorities requested—according to our informant—a certificate testifying that Zhdanov's disease was incurable and that no Russian doctor had committed any mistake in his treatment."

Winter Clinics On Immunization

COBOURG (ENS)—The Health Unit's winter clinics commence today and continue until March 19. During this period, immunization will be offered to elementary school children in Campbellford, Brighton, Colborne, Cobourg, Port Hope, Newcastle and Bowmanville. The clinics are so arranged that in the winter, when travel is difficult on rural roads, the clinics are held at urban centres.

Complete records of the immunization status of school children are on file at the Health Unit and from these records it is determined whether or not a child should receive an inoculation and what the antigen should be. A written consent is obtained from the parent before the child is immunized and no child is done unless this has been received.

School children may receive protection against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox. Diphtheria and smallpox are diseases which, because of the protection afforded by immunization, have almost been eradicated. However, the Health Unit points out, complacency should be guarded against, for as long as these diseases exist, there is always the danger that they may be transmitted to someone living in this district.

Parents are invited to bring their infants and pre-school children to the clinics in Brighton, Colborne and Newcastle. In the other centres, weekly clinics are held in conjunction with the Child Health Conferences in Health Unit offices. Protection against whooping cough is offered to these children in addition against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox. It is a well-recognized fact that whooping cough can be a serious illness in the young child. Statistics show that 95% of deaths from this cause occur under five years of age.

Parents are urged to see their family physician or to attend a Health Unit immunization clinic, so that their children may receive maximum protection against these preventable diseases.

Naval Officer Blows $38,000

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A U. S. naval officer accused of taking his ship's $38,000 payroll and spending most of it on a coast-to-coast trip with a six-foot showgirl and other women Tuesday was sentenced to five years in prison.

The defendant, Ensign George McClelland Snyder, 28, did not testify. The only defence witness was his father, John J. Snyder, who attributed his son's trouble partly to war nerves. The elder Snyder, a lawyer, said his son had survived ship sinkings in the Second World War and more recently in Korean waters.

Snyder, disbursing officer on the destroyer Greenwood, was charged with taking the ship's payroll with him when he went on a 10-day leave last Oct. 17. A month later FBI agents arrested him in a hotel in Balboa, Calif. He had about $2,000 left.

Since Snyder's arrest, the FBI has recovered an estimated $10,000 including the value of two cars Snyder bought on his spending spree.

Laid Off Work Man Suicides

LINDSAY (ENS). — George Garwell, 56, Kirkfield, was found dead on a concession road just outside the village Tuesday by a Hydro line crew, after they had heard a gun shot. He had apparently committed suicide with his own shotgun.

According to Provincial Constable John Williams, who investigated, Garwell came to Kirkfield three years ago to work at the stone quarry, and had been laid off at Christmas. He had become despondent. His foreman, Jack Parker, noticing his behaviour notified his sister in Toronto. She was on her way to visit Garwell when the incident occurred. Garwell reportedly drove in his light truck to the quarry Tuesday morning, and then drove out of the town on the 9th Concession. He took his shotgun, a piece of wire, and a metal weight. Apparently he attached the weight to the trigger of the gun, a 12-gauge model and held the gun towards him. He was a bachelor and a veteran of the First World War. The coroner, Dr. E. J. Anderson, of Kirkfield, has indicated there will be no inquest.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A Czech newspaper said today the food shortage has become so critical in some rural areas of Czechoslovakia that housewives have to walk 12 miles to buy a loaf of bread.

Cyclone Damages

PARIS (Reuters) — A cyclone Tuesday night partially wrecked the town of Majunga, on the west coast of Madagascar, and killed five persons, a report reaching here said today.

Demand Minister Resign Job After Sinking

PUSAN, South Korea (Reuters)—Members of President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party today demanded the resignation of Transport Minister Kim Suk Kwan as public protests mounted over the sinking last Friday of a ferry boat with the loss of at least 246 lives.

South Korean newspapers reported today that the ferry boat, limited by police to a passenger load of 100, belonged to a son of Kim Suk Kwan.

Only 10 persons were rescued, including the captain, when the vessel foundered in heavy seas six miles off Pusan.

UNDER ARREST

The Pusan prosecutor's office said the captain and two surviving members of the crew were under arrest and charged with murder. They had earlier been detained on a charge of overloading the vessel.

Police said an investigation indicated the death toll may reach 300. They said they were unable to determine the number of passengers without tickets — such as soldiers and children.

Public resentment against the transport minister was heightened by the head-on collision of two South Korean trains 60 miles north of Pusan Tuesday night. Six persons were critically injured.

Hoping For Amnesty

LONDON (Reuters) — Convicts in Britain's jails are hoping for an amnesty to mark the Coronation June 2. About 11,000 prisoners were freed in 1911, when King George V was crowned, but there was no amnesty at George VI's coronation in 1936.

Laundry Airlift

SEOUL (Reuters) — Commonwealth forces in Korea are starting a "laundry airlift" to Japan because fire destroyed the division's laundry last week. About 65,000 pieces of clothing were lost in the blaze, but a spokesman said replacements were available.

Should We Permit The Sale Of Game?

In an interesting and provocative editorial the Ottawa Journal raises this question: should we permit the sale of game, subject to regulation and safeguard? There is a great deal of poaching in our forests and streams now, and a considerable quantity of game is sold illegally. Would we be better off to permit the sale of game, and control it?

* * *

The fact that an Ottawa paper raises this point suggests to us that a good deal of game from Quebec is smuggled across the provincial border and sold in the Ottawa area. The Quebec game laws are not precisely the same as ours in Ontario, and Quebec hunting and fishing seasons, in some cases, are longer. It is impossible to put enough wardens in the the woods to catch all the poachers, and though the wardens who are on the job now do their very best, there is always a lot of poaching. Would it be more honest to allow some retail selling of game?

* * *

Ottawa's situation is not comparable to ours, and we live in a large and important hunting and fishing district. No game is brought into our area to be sold, as far as we know, though there is poaching here and illegal game can usually be bought by those who want it. But we fear that to make the sale of game legal would put too great a strain on our forest resources; what safeguards could be devised which would prevent our streams from being fished out, and our deer and birds from being slaughtered in perhaps ten years? Further, as fish and game are protected by the government, would not the government have to take on the job of retailing? Would it be possible to sell fish and game through ordinary retail stores, as the goods sold are in fact public property?

* * *

We are interested in the Journal's desire to put an end to poaching, but we are not convinced that the plan is practical. We should like to hear more about it, and it may be that some of our readers have opinions which would be of widespread interest.

Toronto Needs Its Folly

We are glad that so many people in Toronto have opposed the suggestion of Building Commissioner Gillies that Casa Loma be torn down. It is not for a provincial paper to express opinions about what Toronto does with its own property; nevertheless, we may be allowed to hope that the castle on the hill will stay where it is.

Casa Loma was built by the late Sir Henry Pellatt; the story goes that he hoped to entertain royalty and wanted a house on a royal scale for that purpose. He had to abandon his project because its cost ran far beyond even his ample means, but the castle and its remarkable stables still stand and thousands of tourists visit it every year. It needs repairs which will cost about $70,000, and that is why its demolition was suggested. But we think Pellatt's Folly is worth $70,000 to any big city. There is not so much folly in Toronto that it can spare Casa Loma.

The castle is a folly on a large scale. It took a man of vast ambition and personality to conceive of such a house, and to build it. There is something intensely appealing in Sir Henry's grandiose dream; he was trying to escape from the caution and ingrowing good sense which are characteristic of Toronto and Ontario in general. He made a mistake, but it was a glorious mistake.

Casa Loma is not precisely an architectural nightmare; it is not hideous. Indeed, seen from a distance it looks like a castle in a fairy tale. It is only when viewed close at hand that the absurdity of combining medieval outlines with modern comfort is revealed. People like to look at it, for in the minds of many people there lurks a dream of living in a castle—of being free from the confines of even a generously-proportioned modern home. Sir Henry's desires soared beyond the confines of Rosedale and Forest Hill, and his castle is a reminder that a man may dream, even if his dream cannot quite come true. We hope Casa Loma may be spared, for it is a superb monument to imprudence, and has its place in an excessively prudent city.

The Government Discourages Architecture

It is with real regret that we learn that an architect has been chosen to design the National Library in Ottawa. We do not know who the architect is to be; we do not care how fine his plans may be; we feel very strongly that there should have been a public competition for so important a building, and that by choosing an architect without such a competition the Government has struck a heavy blow at the advance of architecture in this country.

In the Massey Report two suggestions about public buildings are made; one concerns the need for community planning, and the other concerns public competition when a great building is to be erected. This is what the Report says: "All important buildings should be designed in open competition; such a procedure would help to avoid the mediocrity which so easily besets government architecture and would at once provide an example to private enterprise and a stimulus to the architectural consciousness of the public. It would have the added advantage of encouraging the able young architect who too often must spend his early years executing the plans of others."

The Canadian Government, however—the one now in power and its predecessors—has never, so far as we recall, shown any interest whatever in matters relating to the arts, unless something on the CBC has offended somebody. Its influence on the arts, so far as that influence exists, is repressive and discouraging. The Massey Report was undertaken, presumably, with a view to changing this attitude. Now, when something important is to be done, the Report is forgotten—forgotten by the Government, that is to say, but not by people who truly want Canada to be a great country.

The new National Library building will no doubt be a nice, safe building that nobody will dislike very much, and that nobody will greatly care for. A competition might have revealed a set of plans which were touched by genius. But the Government does not like or want genius. No wonder Professor Lower says that we Canadians are second-rate.

Hail To Thee, Blithe Doodad!

We present our respectful compliments to Archie Dale, the cartoonist of the Winnipeg Free Press, who is now seventy, and who has for 44 years delighted and astonished the Canadian public with his work. His cartoons of statesmen and his topical comments are remarkable for their energy; it is questionable whether Archie Dale has ever drawn a political figure who was not in such a profuse sweat that beads of moisture were being projected from his pores like bullets from a gun.

We hope it will not embarrass him if we say that we liked his curious little people, called the Doodads, best of all. When we were very young we used to see a paper regularly which carried the Doodads every Saturday; their adventures were amazing, light-hearted and improbable, and we loved them, particularly Flannelfoot, the Cop. We have mentally thought of all cops as Flannelfoot from that day to this; it is no small thing to have made such a mark upon the mental processes of even one fellow-creature, and we think that Archie Dale has influenced hundreds of thousands. Upon this anniversary we wish him many, many years of happy days. Hail to thee, blithe Doodad!

The Queen In C

The other evening we heard a radio station closing its day's program with "The Queen," a usual practice. What made us sit up and take notice was the arrangement and key. Usually the National Anthem is pitched around G and is arranged with a heavy bass, the whole blaring into pomposity in the second half following the da-da-da-da thump up to "SEND her victorious." The version of the other evening was in the key of C, above middle C—a fourth higher. The arrangement was right though strong, the middle parts singing and the bass near the top of the bass range, yet fundamentally clear and firm. It had the quality of a National Anthem for a young Queen, dignified yet gracious and, surprising in that old, humped-about tune, a sparkle. "The Queen" cannot be transformed into an Elizabethan madrigal yet it can be delightfully transcribed into an instrumental song in keeping with the new Elizabethan age.

Latin-American Problems For U.S.

By J. HALCRO FERGUSON

WHATEVER CHANGES there may be in United States foreign policy as a result of the recent Presidential elections, the State Department will be left with one headache almost unchanged— relations with Latin America.

Latin America's fight for independence against Spain was largely inspired by the French and American revolutions, but since then there has been little love lost between the two parts of the continent.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE "BIG STICK" policy of President Teddy Roosevelt, the marine occupation of Haiti and the U. S. intervention in Nicaragua, the somewhat dubious means by which the U. S. acquired the Panama Canal, and, more recently, North American economic penetration and the establishment of North American bases on Latin soil, have none of them endeared the "Colossus of the North" to her neighbours. Reports of discriminatory treatment of Latin American minorities in the North have added to the resentment.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE NORTH AMERICANS, for their part, deplore the prevalence of dictatorship, revolution, and political violence in the Southern Republics; U. S. business firms feel they are often unfairly treated by the governments of these countries; there is general apprehension about the unreliability and instability of Latin American administrations; and the North American man-in-the-street has an exaggerated idea of the supposed shiftlessness, immorality and backwardness of "greasers" and "dagoes".

✧ ✧ ✧

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT'S "Good neighbour Policy" improved understanding and co-operation, but old problems still remain and have been supplemented by new ones. One of F. D. R's principal achievements was the renunciation by the U. S. of "intervention" in the affairs of the smaller Republics; but the State Department's problem today is to reconcile this policy with the anti-Communist drive implied by the Cold War, and with the traditional U. S. policy of opposition to dictatorships which exist today, in more or less open form, in Venezuela, the Dominican Republic, Paraquay and elsewhere.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN GUATEMALA there was until recently a Communist-dominated regime, now somewhat subdued by economic necessity; in the Dominican Republic there is one which could almost be described as fascist, but the State Department must maintain relations with both, to the dismay of democratic elements in both countries. Even more does this situation apply to Argentina, whose Government is disliked throughout the continent, although it does represent a "Latin sister-nation." The State Department's traditional distaste for a regime such as Argentina's is in turn opposed in the U. S. by businessmen and by military chiefs who see Peron's forces as a powerful element in continental defence and who are not particularly interested in ideologies.

✧ ✧ ✧

RECENT EVENTS in Persia and Egypt have also had repercussions among the American family. If Persia can nationalise its British-owned oil and Egypt can claim its international canal, then Colombia, Peru, Ecuador and above all Venezuela can ask about their oil, and the Panamanians can demand their canal —with the Colombians, of course, insisting that it is just as much theirs. This is all very embarassing to the U. S. Government, since American public opinion, accustomed to view "British Imperialism" with disfavour, does not like its own country to be tarred with the same brush.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER FACTOR in inter-continental relations, as in U. S. relations with many European countries, is the existence in the U. S. itself of racial and cultural minorities with voting-power — or at least the ability to form pressure groups. Policy towards Mexico is bound to be affected by the existence of two-and-a-half million Spanish-speaking American citizens in New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Colorado and California. Policy in the Caribbean brings a sharp reaction from solid blocs of U. S. —domiciled Puerto Ricans. Relations with Haiti cause thirteen million U. S. negroes to take notice.

✧ ✧ ✧

ADD TO THIS THE VIEWS of the Catholic Church, powerful on both sides of the border, the loudly-expressed interests of U. S. business firms, and the sometimes impracticable advice of United Nations bodies, and it is obvious that the Latin American Division of the State Department is often bound to act from helpless expediency rather than conviction.

The same is true of most Latin American foreign ministries, who are exposed to similar pressures and prejudices. Even in the more dictatorial countries it is impossible to ignore the views of large sections of the population— despite the fact opinion in both halves of the continent tends to be narrow and ignorant, or ill-informed by interested parties. Until this situation changes, the State Department and its opposite numbers to the south will continue to walk, on a tight rope.

Churchill As Economist

(Calgary Herald).

Man of many talents though he is Prime Minister Churchill has never made any great claims about being an expert economist.

However, when he arrived in New York the other day he set forth Britain's views about economic relations between his country and the United States just about as simply and clearly as it could be done by anybody.

He stripped away all the technicalities and the complexities and got down to rock-bottom forthrightness when he said "Our views are very simple. We don't want to live on you. We want to earn our own living. But if you shut the door and won't take anything that we want to make, it is hard to see how the unsatsifactory situation can be avoided or how we can find our real strength. That's what we mean by trade, not aid."

We think that in these words Mr. Churchill spoke for all Britain, and that even his Socialist political opponents would agree with what he said.

AN AMERICAN OPINION

Letters To The Editor

DISAPPROVES OF CHRISTMAS GREENERY.

Sir: I noticed in your paper of Wednesday, January 7th, of four thousand Christmas trees going to the dump every day to be burnt which I think is a sin. They should wrap them up with their carol singing and tieing them up on poles which is lost time and money. Could they not give that money to some poor people and do some good?

In Millbrook they have cut a tree down with 15 years growth or more; in 15 more year they could have got some lumber out of it, but now a half dozen sticks of firewood.

CHRISTMAS TREES.

CHEESE IT!

Sir: This is an open letter to the author of an article printed in the second column of the editoral page of the Examiner on Dec. 23rd, 1952, under the heading

WALTZING TO ONTARIO CHEESE

The part of the article I wish to declare in error is, quote. (in the past, Ontario shipped to the U. K. yellow rubber, stamped Ontaria cheese. Unquote.

Even if by yellow rubber, you mean coloured, or inferior quality cheese, the statement, no matter how many times you repeat it, is false.

If you knew anything about the subject, on which you set yourself up as an authority, you would know why it is false.

First. Ontario has never shipped cheese to the U. K.

Second. No one has ever shipped cheese regardless of colour or quality, stamped Ontario cheese.

In support of my statement I refer you to.

The Dairy Branch, Ont., Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

Dairy Products Division, Marketing Service. Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The Dept. of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

And last but not least, to the representative in Canada of the U. K. Ministry of Food, Sir Andrew Jones.

When you have consulted the above named authorities, if you still feel there is a grain of truth in your statement I will be glad to discuss it further with you. Either in private, in public, or through the columns of The Examiner.

In the meantime I suggest that you confine your editorial eloquence, to subjects which you may know something about, and quit making slanderous back handed passes at people who are too busy minding their own business, to pay much attention to anything you say.

Yours truly,
FRED M. CROWE,
Warsaw.
President, Peterborough Co., Cheese Producers Association.

(Ed. Note: The Ontario cheese exported to Britain is not of course stamped in blue ink "Ontario Cheese." If it is stamped at all it would probably be labelled Canadian. But since 1865 when Ontario cheese won a silver medal at the world exhibition in Paris, until the present time, Ontario has been the principal producer of Canadian cheese. For instance, in 1949 Ontario factories produced 85,138,000 pounds of cheese; all of the rest of Canada together produced only 32,896,000 pounds. (Our figures are supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics). By midsummer of that year Canada has completed its contract to deliver fifty million pounds of cheese to the United Kingdom. If Ontario did not supply the bulk of that exported cheese, who did?

The Bureau of Statistics gives no information about the colour and texture of the cheese perhaps like the finest Canadian whiskey, the best Ontario cheese is kept for home consumption and not exported. We have eaten Ontario-made cheese in Britain in pre-war and wartime years, and refuse to withdrew our comparison to yellow rubber.

The cheese men should pool their views. Shortly after our "editorial eloquence" took up the causce of the surplus Ontario cheese, the inspirer of it, a cheese promoter in Toronto, came in to thank us and compliment us on the very same editorial which the Warsaw cheese man says was a "slanderous back-hand pass".)

Unconsidered Trifles

Two women were chatting over tea.

"Yes," said one, reminiscently, "I fell desperately in love with my dear husband at first sight. I remember it just as though it were yesterday. I was walking along the front at Brighton with my father, and he suddenly pointed to him and said, 'There, my dear, goes a man worth $200,000'"

"I hardly feel like a stranger," he said to her. "You see, when we were overseas together, John couldn't resist reading out extracts from his darling Betty's letters."

"Really," said the bride, icily. "My name happens to be Joan."

Two sisters had lived together for many years. Then, when one was 98 and the other 96, the elder died. The doctor who undertook the task of breaking the news to the survivor feared that the shock might have serious results.

But the old lady bore up wonderfully. "Ah, well," she said, "now I suppose I shall be able to have my tea made the way I like it."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version).

And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old; wherefore I was afraid, and durst not shew you mine opinion. Great men are not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgement. (Job. 32: 6, 9).

Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words .... The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life .... Behold, I am according to thy wish in God's stead: I also am formed out of the clay ....

Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying, I am clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me. Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy, he putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.

Behold, in this thou are not just; I will answer thee, that God is greater than man. Why dost thou strive against him? (Job 33:: 1, 4, 6, 8-13).

✧ ✧ ✧

Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of? (Isa. 2: 22.)

✧ ✧ ✧

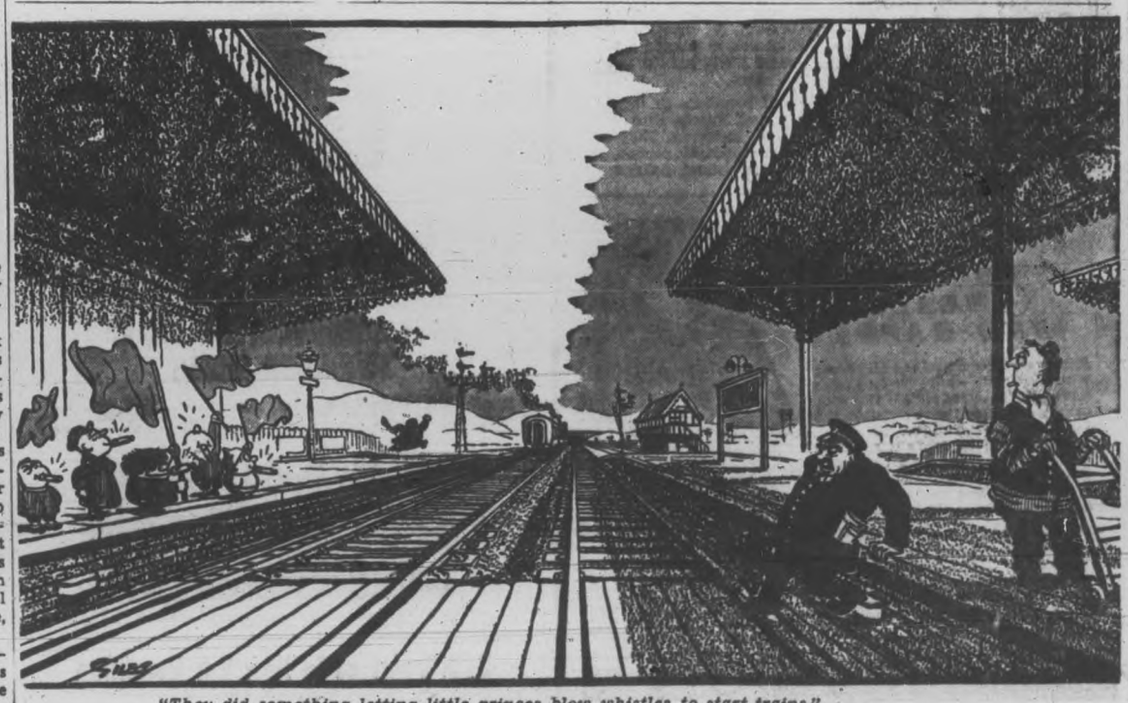
Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. (Ps. 100: 3.)

They Should Join Forces

(Winnipeg Tribune)

Recently an English writer expressed gentle melancholy over the playtime antics of small boys in London. He commented that it was disconcerting to watch young gentlemen of five or six leap from behind a tree or shrub, pull out a six-gun from a bejewelled holster and order passers-by to "Reach!" or "Stick 'em up!"

But it was even more disconcerting to observe that no one seemed to think that cowboys going that-a-way were somewhat out of place in London parks. Robin Hood or Dick Turpin might be expected — but Tex Snakeye from Dry Rot Gulch was surely a forced growth.



Somehow we think that his campaign to return the small boys of London to Robin Hood and Dick Turpin will not be crowned by much success unless he organizes.

We have similar misgivings about the campaign of The Beaver, that excellent publication of the fur trade and the North, against coon-tail hats. The Beaver comments:

"We often wondered who was the first man to hit upon the idea of wearing a racoon's tail dangling from the back of a fur hat. Whoever it was, he certainly started something. Nowadays the idea that all trappers wore these fancy bits of headgear is as prevalent as the impression that all Indians wore large feather headdresses. That may be all right in the good old U.S.A., where the fashion was presumably started by Dan'l Boone, or some such; but why drag it into Canada?

"More and more trappers' conventions and outdoormen's get-togethers in this country are featuring this model, and even the new production of the Winnipeg Ballet, "Shadow on the Prairie," sports one. Yet there's not a shred of evidence that Canadian trappers of old ever wore them. Just stick to the plain fur hat, men, if you must wear one, and let's have no more of this coontail nonsense!"

We suggest that the English writer and The Beaver should join forces. A society for the Elimination of Coontail Hats and the Return of Robin Hood to London Parks might be the answer to everything.

"They did something letting little princes blow whistles to start trains."

Report Welland Canal Traffic In 1952 Top In 123-Year History

ST. CATHARINES, Ont (CP)—Great Lakes ships in 1952 carried more cargo and made more trips through the Welland canal than in any other season in the 123-year history of the waterway built to bypass the turbulent Niagara river.

Bigger ships played a significant part in setting the record superintending engineer J. H. Ramsay says.

But that's not the whole story.

"The real reason is that there was a huge tonnage to be moved and all the vessels were kept busy all season moving it," he said. "It had to be moved whether we had big ships or small ships."

TWO RECORDS

Figures for the shipping season from April 1 to Dec. 15 showed total tonnage of 17,738,515. The previous record, set in 1951, was 16,009,953 tons. Total passages, up and down, were 9,347 compared with 8,235 last year.

Ore, grain, coal and oil—leading cargoes in lake shipments — all showed record tonnages. Only the miscellaneous group decreased. Figures were: ore, 2,363,000 tons, up 246,877 tons; grain, 4,933,000 tons up 782,503 tons; coal, 5,360,088 tons, up 524,725 tons; oil, 2,862,880 tons, up 118,495 tons; miscellaneous, 2,219,537 tons, down 165,181 tons.

The Welland canal — back-door route around Niagara Falls between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie and a key link for inland transportation—was first conceived about 1820 by William Hamilton Merritt.

Merritt thought a few locks, some digging and the use of existing rivers and creeks could produce a passage from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie by cutting through the 29-mile-wide peninsula.

FINANCING DIFFICULT

He raised some money in the Niagara district, in Toronto and in Quebec, but most people were reluctant to invest in his proposition. The government, remembering the war of 1812, thought the canal too close to the frontier.

Merritt then went to New York and raised almost as much money as he did in Canada.

Work on the canal started in 1824 and five years later Capt James Voller took the schooner "Annie and Jean" through the first canal and sailed into Buffalo.

The first canal, like two of its three successors, used natural waterways as well as man-made channels. The original canal had 40 locks, measuring 110 feet by 22 feet by eight feet deep to overcome the 326.5 foot drop between the lakes.

Today's canal, the fourth and only one completely man-made, has eight locks, seven lift locks 860 feet by 80 feet, with sill depth of 30 feet and permissable draft of 23 feet, and a guard lock at the Lake Erie end 1,380 feet long, the longest lock in the world. The twin flight locks at Thorold have a combined lift of 139.5 feet.

COMPLETED IN 1932

Work on the present canal was started in 1913 and was completed in 1932 at a cost of $130,000,000 and several hundred lives. The point of entry at Lake Ontario was named Port Weller in honor of H. Weller, chief engineer of the construction project.

It takes a vessel about eight hours to travel the canal's 27.6 miles. Along the route 20 bridges—14 highway and six railway—have to be raised, providing a major irritant to speed-minded drivers and to ordinary motorists on the city of Welland's main street, cut by the canal.

Large Hoop Increase Seen In Peterborough Sport As Two New Gyms Added

Peterborough's three collegiate gyms are buzzing with activity daily this week in preparation for the largest high school basketball season in the city's history. The addition of new gyms at St. Peter's High and Kenner Collegiate has resulted in collegiate basketball teams being nearly triple the number of 1952's teams. Already several leagues have started, in particular the city midget (operating for the first time) and the Ontario Catholic conference. But the season for the boys really starts this Friday and continues for the next two months. Bev Goulding's senior quintet opens its high school schedule this Friday at PCVS, playing Oshawa CVI. Besides PCVS and OCVI, there's a second Oshawa entry, Central Collegiate, in the "A" grouping which includes the larger schools.

Also in the "A" grouping but in junior, the collegiate will open Friday against OCVS. Zoltan Temesey's Garnet and Greys are grouped with OCVI, Oshawa Central and Lindsay. The Lindsay collegiate juniors have been practising in the Lindsay armouries but will play all their games away, counting as four-point games.

PLENTY OF ACTION

St. Peter's High students will see the most basketball this year. Johnny Lynch's seniors will play exhibition games until the COSSA playdowns for "B" schools begin late in February. But the same team is also entered in the Ontario Catholic Conference (this time in "A") against St. Michael's of Toronto, St. Jerome's of Kitchener and DeLaSalle of Toronto.

Lynch's junior COSSA quintet plays home and home games with Kenner Collegiate which is also classed as a "B" school. The SPS junior Saints will play in the OCC in the same grouping as the seniors, playing doubleheaders weekly.

This week both Saints, seniors and juniors, play Friday night at St. Jerome's.

Kenner Collegiate has its battery of cage teams. Besides the junior "B" COSSA entry, it has a team in the bantam school play which in this district includes PCVS, St. Peter's High, Lindsay and Kenner Collegiates.

With Peterborough considered an OABA district this year, the city schools have agreed to form midget, and bantam leagues, the first ever organized. The midgets started play on Tuesday night, but the bantam league won't begin until February.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Mats fans of the city and district got a big bang out of the furious action dished up here a week ago by Whipper Bill Watson, Toronto's gift to pro grappling. Well, he went from here to Chicago to start a series of TV wrestling shows and this is what a Chicago news dispatch said of him the other day: "Whipper Billy Watson of Toronto scored a sensational victory over Mike Padousis in six minutes and 20 seconds in a nationally televised wrestling match here. The Whipper's rapid technique and aggressiveness electrified a sellout crowd at Marigold Gardens." Hm, just a week earlier he performed before more than 15,000 fans in New York City. Local fans can't say they aren't seeing mat talent when the Whip comes here.

Latest NHL bulletin to reach our desk shows that youth must be served. Rocket Richard isn't a serious threat this season as Gord Howe goes after another scoring title. Howe has 48 points, followed by Wally Hergesheimer with 43, and then teammate Ted Lindsay with 41. The Rocket is 11 off the pace — and we predict a bigger gap as the campaign wears on. After five games back in the National League again, Red Sullivan from this borough has a goal and an assist, along with one minor penalty. Of course he was leading the AHL scorers when drafted by the Bruins because of Boston injuries. If Red had more weight he'd be an NHL cinch.

Those Vics Have Ideas

Max Jackson's fighting Kingston Vics think they can take over second slot in the OHA junior "B" group standing from Doug Mortimer's speedy young Oddfellows. They've thought so all season but haven't hurdled the local IOOF-ers yet, and we doubt if they'll yank out a win o'er the Peterborough puckists here tonight. It could be a hot tilt, but Oddfellows have been plenty warm lately and are just a few games back of the leading Belleville Hawklets, and safely (for the time being) ahead of the third-place Vics in the six-club group race. In case you fans wonder where good senior "B" players like Dean Wasson and Roy Armstrong come from, it's the junior Odfellows. These are the senior stars of another year, and they dish up some dandy fast hockey. They'll be flying again tonight 'gainst Kingston here.

* * * * * *

Jim Ellis has a few days to work on his revamped Petes ere they trek to Belleville on Friday for an important senior "B" fray. They could make real headway in their drive for a playoff spot by knocking off the second-place Glens right on Quinte ice. With the addition of three more former Eagles—making five on the team now —the 1953 Petes are presenting a new look. Late enough, but not too late to upset a lot of rival squads which thought the last-place Petes were pushovers. They won't be any longer in this campaign which goes more than a month yet before playoff time. If they can beat the improved Glens in Bella Villa this Friday, then look out for 'em. But it isn't a soft assignment, at all.

* * * * * *

Red Still Leads 'em

Though he's been up with the NHL Boston Bruins for two weeks, George (Red) Sullivan is still listed as the top AHL scorer to date with 46 points in 32 games, and he leads the loop in assists with 36. Lorne Ferguson of Hersey is next high with a 45 total, and Ike Hildebrand is third with 41. The Timbermen's classy little forward has served but 10 minutes in penalties in 35 games, being a strong but clean player on the ice or lacrosse pitch. Ike actually leads the American League in goals with 23 so far. Haven't heard anything lately of Don Ashbee with Syracuse in this loop, nor Nip O'Hearn with the so-called amateur Troy team.

* * * * * *

Some basketball results to hand on the local front. PCVS lads opened the midget circuit last e'en with a hard-fought 43-33 win o'er Kenner. Paul Davis sparking the winner's attack. Oilmen won 54-41 from Marines in the city league setup, Dibben and Edger being top marksmen in this tussle. The intermediate OABA Marines take on Belleville in a men's exhibition at eight p.m. this Saturday in the YMCA here. Girls' YW games Friday: Civic vs. Lindsay, and Collis vs. Black's. LOBA team is being lined up for exhibitions and later playdowns in lasses' circles. A story elsewhere explains the high school hoop setup for ensuing weeks.

Date Of Preakness Has Been Pushed Back

BALTIMORE (AP)—The date of the 77th Preakness was pushed back today to May 23 at Pimlico, three weeks after the Kentucky Derby.

It will be the longest interval between the first two of the triple-crown classics. Recently, there have been two weeks between the two three-year-old events. The 1953 Preakness also will be three weeks before the Belmont Stakes, windup of the crown.

The Maryland Jockey Club announced the change in dates was caused by a recent shift in the Maryland racing schedule

Montreal Edges Guelph In 4-2 Triumph

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Are Montreal Canadiens the team to beat for the Memorial Cup?

The Quebecers are highly rated at home where the experts claim if they can get past Quebec Citadelles they will have clear sailing to the Canadian junior hockey championship.

Ontario observers don't agree. They say the Quebec enthusiasts have forgotten the indomitable Hap Emms of Barrie Flyers, "the best team money can buy." Toronto Marlboros aren't to be counted out either. They are nine points up on the second-place Flyers in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race and still going strong.

Guy Rousseau scored two goals Tuesday night as the Canadiens spoiled Guelph Biltmores' second start in their current interlocking schedule tour of Quebec with a 4-2 trimming.

Three Rivers Reds bowed 7-3 to St. Catharines Teepees at St. Catharines. Coach Jacques Toupin of the Reds bellowed his outrage at official decisions so boisterously that he was ejected from the bench in the first period

IN SIXTH PLACE

Windsor Spitfires' 2-0 victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts vaulted them over Guelph and Oshawa into sixth place.

Quebec Citadelles tallied four goals in the last period to defeat Montreal Royals 5-3 in a Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association game at Montreal.

Besides Rousseau's two Les Lilley and Claude Vinet scored for Canadiens. Chuck Henderson and Birley Dimma notched Biltmore goals in the final period

St. Catharines led all the way as Ron Murphy scored two and single goals were fired by Charlie Marshall, Ken Schinkel, Joe Kastelic, Hugh Barlow and Billy Haas. Guy Gendron, Jean Cossette and Norman Grise rapped in markers for the Reds.

Windsor scored both their goals when Kitchener was a man short. Bob Brown drove in the first and Pete Huggard, a Windsor boy playing his second OHA game, added the other. It was Dennis Riggin's third shutout of the season.

Roland Leclerc sank two goals for Quebec. Others were by Raymond Cyr, Aggie Kukulowicz and Gabby Alain. Kenny Naylor and Ross Watson gave Montreal an early lead. Claude Beaupre scored in the second for the Royals.

Cobourg, Port Hope Minors To Clash

COBOURG.—Cobourg and Port Hope Minor Hockey League heads embark on their most ambitious program of recent years here tonight when they stage Young Canada night at the Cobourg Recreational Centre. Six teams will compete in what is hoped to be the first of an inter-town interlocking schedule, comprising the Cobourg Church League and the Port Hope Minor League.

The hockey clashes will feature bantam, midget and juvenile games, with both St. Michael's unbeaten midget and bantam teams forming a nucleus of the Cobourg clubs and the best teams in Port Hope meeting them.

It is thought that the night will be returned to Port Hope's Peter Campbell Memorial rink before the season closes. A move to include the peewee teams has so far met failure since the league heads feel that this would involve too much time and an extra cost at the rink.

SMART TOP DRIVER

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Wayne (Curly) Smart was harness racing's top driver of 1952, the universal driver rating system reports. The 28-year-old Delaware, O., reinsman posted an average of .469, with 62 wins, 53 seconds and 35 thirds in 220 starts. He finished eight percentage points ahead of Louis Huber Jr., of Mt Healthy, O., who averaged .461.

Apsley Triumphs

APSLEY (ENS) — Before more than 300 fans here last Saturday night, the Apsley arena was opened for hockey in the East Peterborough League as the Apsley Aces made a fine comeback—after an earlier loss to Hiawatha—to beat Hiawatha by a 7-4 score.

Lacombe, Jim Murray and Harris scored for Apsley in the first period, an assist each going to McCagherty and Watson. Stock, Gooley and Smith tallied for the visitors, Stock and Cowley getting an assist apiece. Watson got a pair in the second and Brown one, with Houle having an assist and Harris two. For Hiawatha, Gooley counted. In the third period, Houle got the only one for Apsley, aided by Harris. The winners drew three of the five penalties.

Hiawatha: MacDonald, Stock, Cowie, Gooley, Thompson, Anderson, Musgrave, Steenburgh, Close, Howard, Smith, Cowley, L. Sellaby, G. Sellaby, Paudash.

Apsley: McKendry, Watson, Harris, Houle, Delahaye, Murray, Lacombe, Brown, McCagherty, Jeff, Jacobs, W. Tucker, D. Tucker, Batten. Referee, W. Flint.

Additional Sport On Pages 7, 22

THE ARTIST—Goaler Al Rollins of the Chicago Black Hawks seems to give the expression of futility on this play, as Elmer Lach, of Canadiens, pots the rubber with the deftness that is his trademark. Bill Gadsby, Hawk defenceman, also is left nonplussed by the Lachian artistry, which was good for two goals and as many assists at the Forum Saturday.

Warsaw Takes EPL Game Over Hiawatha

LAKEFIELD (ENS).—Warsaw flew to an 8-4 puck victory over Hiawatha on the former's ice Monday night in a fast, fairly rugged game on good ice before a fair-sized crowd. The losers drew seven of the 12 penalties.

Clements counted two for the homesters in the first period, Watts and Davis having an assist each. Paudash and Cowie hit the mark for the visitors, Sellaby aiding on one. Cowie added one next period, but Patterson scored a pair for Warsaw and McMillan and Smith one apiece, as an assist each went to McMillan, Evans and Paterson. Paudash scored from Stock in the third for Hiawatha, with Warsaw clinching matters on goals by Clements and Paterson, aided once each by Darling and Berry. Teams:

Hiawatha: McDonald, Anderson, Thompson, Paudash, J. Stock, Cowie, Close, Musgrave, Cowley, Steenburgh, G. Stock, J. Sellaby, T. Sellaby.

Warsaw: Payne, Crowe, Paterson, McMillan, Evans, Hamilton, Berry, Darling, Mathews, Smith, Ferren, Clements.

Referee: E. Woodcock; linesman, A. Menzies.

Vote Slaughter Great Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Enos Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinals outfielder, made the greatest sports comeback of 1952—but not without a tough battle with the Notre Dame football team.

The 36-year-old Slaughter got the nod over Notre Dame by three points in the annual year-end Associated Press poll.

Notre Dame had the most first-place votes, 24 to 23, but the Cardinals' rightfielder picked up enough second and third-place ballots to edge the Irish, 103 to 100.

In 1951, Slaughter was benched for weak hitting. He hit .281, his worst year in the majors.

But Slaughter started 1952 more like the Slaughter of old and finished the season with an even .300. He drove in 101 runs.

Notre Dame, usually dominant in U.S. college football, got off to a slow start but finished the 1952 season with the same won loss-tied record as 1951, 7-2-1.

Los Angeles Rams football team was third with 59 points.

Remember When-

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bob Fitzsimmons won the world's middleweight boxing title way back 62 years ago today by stopping the original Jack Dempsey, "the Nonpareil," at New Orleans. Fitzsimmons moved into the heavyweight division and won that crown with a knockout over James J. Corbett in 1897. He lost the heavyweight title to Jim Jeffries in 1899.

FRANK TAYLOR, above, who tackles Joe Christie in the opening bout of tonight's wrestling card at the Brock Arena. Chief interest centre in the main event, a Canadian Tag Team Championship match bringing together Sky-Hi Lee and Frank Valois (the Unmasked Marvel), against the champions, Dick Raines and Lou Plummer. With four toughies in the ring together there will be plenty of dynamite. The semi-final finds Chief Big Heart opposing Man Mountain Dean Jr.

May's Get Win

May's juniors took a 1-0 school hockey win over Queen Alex at the arena yesterday. Trevor Grant got the only marker of the close tilt, both sides coming up with a close-checking display and getting fine goaltending in clean play. Teams:

May's: Park, Grant, Hamilton, Armour, Hutchinson, Bell, Burfield, Snelgrove, Hopkins, Johnston.

Queen Alex: Ross, Millar, Macklin, Monks, Forsythe, Welsh, Black, Wilson, Hamilton.

Referee, J. Watson.

Keene Victors Over Apsley In EPL Game

KEENE — (ENS) —Finishing strong here Tuesday before a good-sized crowd, the Keene EPL puckists yanked out a 7-4 victory over Apsley Aces. It was even in the first period as Batten and Lacombe scored for Aces (Harris aiding on one) and McFarlane and Colby counted for Keene, Davidson getting an assist. Batten banged in two in the second, Lacombe helping once. Keene drove in the third for five, Davidson hitting the mark twice, Whalen, McCarthy and Colby getting the others. Whalen aided on two, Davidson and Locke having an assist each.

It was a lively tussle with Aces drawing seven penalties to six, and Colby and Delahaye getting majors in the third for fighting. Davidson and Batten starred on the attack, and Mackness was smart in the home net. Keene is at Apsley on Saturday. Teams:

Apsley: Hendry, Delahaye, Murray, Watson, Harris, Brown, Lacombe, D. Tucker, Jeff, W. Tucker, Batten, McCagherty, Jacobs.

Keene: Mackness, Adamson, McCarthy; Whalen, Davidson, Colby, Lockey, Steenburgh, Burns, Kempt, McFarlane, Kimball, Shearer.

Referee: K. Bell; linesman, S. Heffernan.

Oilers Triumph In Hoop Tilt Over Marines

Oilmen downed Marines 54-41 last night in a men's City Basketball League fixture in the YMCA. They racked up a 21-10 lead at the halfway mark, but Marines were driving furiously toward the finish and whittling down the count rapidly. The winners had but six men and the losers four, while MacPherson and Ryan of Oilers along with Frise and Gillespie of Outboards were tagged with four personal fouls each.

Dibben was the big scorer for the winners with 25 points in a smart showing of hoop marksmanship. Gavlin was good for 11, Burns eight, MacPherson seven, Butcher two, and Ryan one. For Marines, Edger was the big shot with 20 points, Frise having eight, Brown and Richardson five each, and Gillespie three. Teams:

Oilmen — Dibben, MacPherson, Butcher, Galvin, Ryan, Burns.

Marines— Edger, Frise, Brown, Richardson, Gillespie.

PCVS Midgets Take Win From Kenner

PCVS boys defeated Kenner Collegiate 43-33 on the former's floor last evening to open the Midget Basketball League schedule. It was a fine fixture all the way to start off the season. Kenner plays at St. Peter's next Wednesday.

The uptowners had a good edge the first half, but Kenner made it even on play in the third and finished stronger, as the top three PCVS snipers on the night were lost late in the game via the foul route. The count was 13-8 for PCVS at the quarter, 22-15 for them at the half, and 29-22 for the ultimate winners going into the fourth stanza of a fast tussle. The victors drew 44 fouls to 23 in a game marked by good officiating.

Paul Davis starred for PCVS with 24 points in a nifty effort, Bell and Allan being next high with six and five points respectively. Hawkins clicked for three, Brown and Beck two each, and Sparrow a free toss. For the Southenders, McKinney led the way with 11 points, Malby getting 10, Ward six, Floyd four, and Pearl two. Teams:

Kenner — Allen, Ball, Floyd, Frise, Hancock, Howden, Malby, Lawrence, Linsey, McKinney, Pearl, Ward.

PCVS—Bell, Allan, Long, Davis, Morton, Brown, Beck, Hawkins, Sparrow.

Leafs, Rangers Wearing Air Of Pre-Game Optimism

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

There was an air of optimism in the ranks of New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs as the two National Hockey League clubs prepared for duty tonight. And for a couple of clubs whose troubles have been migraine through most of the season, it's a balm to jagged nerves. The lowly Rangers are still heady over their success with Montreal Canadiens last week. They tied the Habs 4-4 last Thursday and then whipped the third-place Montrealers 7-0 Saturday.

Tonight they face the league-leading Detroit Red Wings, whose current power is a stumbling block. Detroit has lost only one of its last 18 games and has not been beaten on the road in six.

Tonight's game will be the last appearance for the Rangers in Madison Square Gardens for two weeks. They have nine games on the road before Jan. 28 when they are home to Canadiens.

SHOT IN ARM

Conn Smythe's Leafs were given a shot in the arm Tuesday with the return of rookie rightwinger George Armstrong. The big chief, who has been out for three weeks with a knee injury, will be in the lineup against Chicago Black Hawks in Maple Leaf Gardens.

Armstrong's return reduced the Leaf casualty list to four regular forwards—Ted Kennedy, Rudy Migay, Howie Meeker and Max Bentley. Bentley is due to return this weekend after an absence of more than six weeks with a strained back.

Leaf officials will decide before game time on which of two junior players will be in uniform. Wally Maxwell of Toronto Marlboros and Jack Caffery of Toronto St. Michael's practised with Leafs Tuesday.

3 AMATEURS NOTED

Three amateurs were on display at the Hawks' practice Tuesday, but playing-coach Sid Abel said he doesn't plan to use them tonight. They were defenceman Jack Price of Chatham Maroons in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, leftwinger Murray Costello of St. Mikes and Jim McBurney, leftwinger for the junior Galt Black Hawks.

Hawk defenceman Gus Mortson will be in the line-up despite a broken nose. The former Leaf plans to wear a weird-looking plastic mask. His nose was broken during a game with Detroit a week ago last Sunday.
